Chinese Continue Withstand Attack Japanese Army

'Big Push' Yielding Virtually No Progress

COMBINED UNITS AIDING IN DRIVE

Jap Infantry, Air Artillery and Naval Bombardment Hurl-ed Against Chinese

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Japan fought with virtually no essential progress today in a terrific offensive against Shanghai over an area of approximately 100 square miles.

Chinese lines sagged, but did not break under the combined force of charging Japanese infantry, air artillery and naval bombardment.

The battle area spread all the way from the edge of the international settlement to Woosung, about 12 miles north of Shanghai.

The Japanese contended that their operations were aimed only at wiping out Chinese machine gun nests and joining broken Japanese lines.

From the Yangtze Poo district of Shanghai to Woosung and to Paoshan and Luho on the Yangtze shore Japanese naval, land and air bombs swept the countryside with the fire that took a toll of non-combatants' lives.

Chinese batteries answered with a ceaseless barrage of hand grenades, trench mortars and machine guns. Chinese at Woosung, who offered a stubborn stand, continued to surprise military observers as they foiled a Japanese effort to land reinforcements.

Two Beaufort Men Convicted Here on Speeding Charges

Drivers of School Buses En Route to Neighboring County Taxed With Costs of Court

Two young white men driving school buses for Beaufort county schools were arrested here Saturday on charges of speeding and were taxed with the costs in city police court this morning by Mayor Pro-tem L. B. Fleming.

The two were Mayhu Allgood and Robert Morgan. They were taking new trucks to Beaufort. They said they were not regular school bus drivers this year.

Grady Lee Parker, Negro, was ordered held for county court under bond of $200 to face charges of false pretense by trickery. The Negro is alleged to have been operating the old "greasy pig" game in tobacco town.

Willie Hemby, convicted of engaging in riotous and disorderly conduct, was taxed with the costs, William Smith, Negro, was ordered to pay a $10 fine and costs of court or serve a 30-day term on the road upon conviction of drunkenness.

Beulah May Haywood and Jack Tateen, Negroes, were freed of a charge of living together as man and wife, and the prosecuting witness, husband of the woman, was taxed with the costs.

Curtis Yarrall, Negro, was convicted of drunkenness in public and taxed with the costs; and similar judgment was meted out to Jesse Battle, Negro, for the same offense.

Grange Lays Plan To Present Views

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The State Grange announced today that it had asked several scores of its farmer-members to appear before the Senate agriculture committee at Winston-Salem October 18 to present views of North Carolina farmers on proposed crop legislation.

"We will not have any meetings to adopt resolutions," said Harry Caldwell, Grange lecturer, today. "We want the farmers to present their own case and every Grange member in the state is invited to go along with the agriculture committee."

The committee members are Ben Wilson of Mebane, Master; and Don Matheson of Hillsboro; and the following men are among those who speak for the counetts: Pitt, M. H. Smith; Robson, Joseph Page and Burns Ward; Svotland, A. L. McKenzie; and Wayne county, W. W. Andrews and C. T. Sutton.

The more intelligent you are, according to some megicians, the more easily are you fooled by "magic" tricks.

Japanese Shatter Native Quarters In Peiping

This scene of ruin was a part of the price Peiping's native quarters paid for the Chinese resistance to invading Japanese. Destitute Chinese are seen searching the debris in hopes of salvaging any personal belongings that might have escaped the terrific shelling from the Japanese guns.

JAPS REPLY TO BRITISH NOTE

Answer Reported Not Contain Apology or Guarantees

London, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The British foreign office announced today Japan had made an "interim" reply to protests against the machine gunning of Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Huggessen, British ambassador to China, from a Japanese airplane.

The text was not disclosed, pending consideration of its contents by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Authoritative sources expressed concern over this development in the Anglo-Japanese incident. They said that the interim nature of the reply apparently indicated that Great Britain would refuse to accept it unless it satisfied British demands.

Report of Japanese Foreign Minister Koki Hirota's speech to the Diet casting doubt on what Britain had regarded as the established fact that a Japanese plane was responsible for the attack, caused public indignation here.

Tokyo, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Japan has replied to Great Britain's note of protest over the wounding in China of British Ambassador Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Huggessen, the foreign office announced tonight.

The Japanese note will be made public first in London. Earlier Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, while declining to discuss contents of the reply, told the Diet that "so far no tangible proof has been produced to show that the automobile in which British Ambassador Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Huggessen was riding was attacked by a Japanese plane."

The Domei (Japanese) news agency said it had learned unofficially that the note did not reply directly to the British demand for apology, punishment for or guarantees. Instead it stated the Japanese investigation of the incident should have arisen.

Great Britain strongly protested the attack as an apparent example of Japanese assaults on non-combatants in China.

Philadelphia—A fourth inning batting rally, which produced five runs, gave the New York Yanks a six to three victory over the Athletics in the first game of a Labor day double header today.

Brooklyn—The Brooklyn Dodgers shaded the Boston Bees 2-1 in the 10th inning in the first game of a twin bill today.

Boston—Lefty Grove won his 14th game of the season today when the Red Sox defeated the Washington Senators with Wes Ferrell pitching 6-2 in the first game of a holiday double header.

Cleveland—Old Ted Lyons pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians today in the first game of a double header. Lyons held the Indians to five hits. Earl Averill hit his 18th home run of the season in the first inning.

Local Legislative Body To Face Serious Problem

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 6.—When appointed the commission to examine the possibility of a Constitutional amendment further restricting local legislation will face many legal difficulties involved in drafting effective restrictions.

The commission, too, will have available for its consideration statistics showing that approximately two-thirds of all legislation passed in North Carolina is local in scope.

According to data compiled by Henry Brandt, Jr., and published in "Popular Government," organ of the Institute of Government there were introduced in the 1937 General Assembly 1,044 local measures (representing 58 per cent of all introductions) and 813 were passed (representing 66 per cent of all new laws).

Even these figures were reductions from the 1935 Assembly when 1,270 local laws were introduced

ARREST NEGRO FOR HOLD-UPS

Several Robberies and Kidnappings in Goldsboro

Goldsboro, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Sheriff Paul Garrison announced today the arrest of a negro he listed as James Morris, 34, as a suspect in connection with a series of daring hold-ups and kidnappings near here.

The sheriff said the Negro made no resistance when taken late yesterday near Wallace. The suspect was held over night in the jail at Mount Olive. Arrangements were made to bring him here today for questioning.

Sheriff Garrison said the Negro held up Luther Daniels, a filling station operator Saturday night, robbed him of $12 and then marched him and his two sons down the highway and told them to run.

Further on a Negro stopped at a grocery store, robbed Robert Walker and his brother of small change and forced them to walk with him to another store.

There he told them to "scat" and robbed Mark Corbett of $151. Corbett and his small son were forced into a truck and made to drive the Negro at gun point to Rose Hill.

Orthopedic Clinic Sets High Record

The regular monthly orthopedic clinic conducted at the Pitt county health offices Friday set a record for number of patients. Besides the 12 old cases, 18 new patients attended, making a total of 30, the highest for any clinic day thus far.

The clinic is conducted every first Friday in the month by Dr. Hugh A. Thompson of Raleigh. Sponsored by the Rotary club, the work is financed in part by funds derived from the Roosevelt Birthday ball.

One interesting case Friday was that of a 20-year-old Negro girl who has been forced to walk with one hand on her knee since she had infantile paralysis when a small child. Dr. Thompson declared he hoped the proper treatment would enable the girl to walk without stopping and therefore make her able to engage in gainful employment.

Numerous cases have been added to the docket since the last hearing day and Judge Dink James and Solicitor Charles Wheeler are expected to face a busy day.

Resume County Court On Tuesday Morning

Pitt county court will be resumed here tomorrow morning after having been idle two weeks while terms of Superior court were being conducted here by Judge W. C. Harris of Raleigh.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Edgar Zergen-Charlie McCarthy-Judy Canova situation was cleared up considerably today when Zergen said "it was a terrible blow to me that Judy Canova should break our engagement without me being informed of the engagement or even becoming acquainted with her."

Enrollment Shows Noticeable Gains

Greenville City school opened this morning with a large increase in enrollment. Particularly noticeable was the increase in the first grade and sixth grade enrollments and in the high schools. The elementary schools were in session only an hour, and the high schools were dismissed at 11:15. Tomorrow all the schools will run from 8:30 to 12:30, being dismissed at that time for the day.

Free basal textbooks, furnished by the state, will be distributed to the children of the elementary grades tomorrow. The state does not furnish the supplementary textbooks nor the workbooks. Neither is the state furnishing the books in the high schools. In order to furnish the supplementary workbooks and reading books and other material which the state does not furnish, the children of the elementary grades are asked to pay a fee of one dollar and a half. This is practiced in all city school systems in the state. The teachers for the schools for the coming year are as follows: Junior and Senior High Schools—V. M. Mulholland, principal; Mrs. Maude B. Bowen, English; Miss Deanie Boone Haskett, English; Mrs. Herbert Utley, mathematics; Miss Evelyn Buchanan, mathematics and Latin; Miss Imogene Rad-dick, French; Mrs. Nettie B. Herr-ing, librarian; Miss Jessie Schnopp vocational home economics; Miss Evelyn Rogers, vocational home economics; E. R. Robinson, physics; chemistry; Miss Laura Bell, commercial subjects; T. C. Bryan, history; Herman Dally, social science, coach; Durwood Stowe, natural science, coach; Thomas P. Field, industrial arts; Miss Lucille Minton, English; Miss Estelle Greene, mathematics; Miss Mozelle Jones, social science, music; Miss Ona Shindler, (Continued on Page Two)

Heavy offerings were on the floors of the Greenville tobacco warehouses as the second full week of sales began here this morning. The quality of the weed was believed to be about in line with that offered last week when much of the tobacco was declared to have been low.

Although Kinston topped ahead of the local market in offerings, the average on the Greenville market was greater than that at the Lenoir capital center.

For the first seven sales days on the Greenville market 6,151,502 pounds were offered, bringing $1,280,783.21, for an official average of $20.82 per hundred pounds.

The Kinston market has sold 6,639,364 pounds for $1,311,238.76, an average of $20.58, approximately a quarter of a cent a pound below that paid thus far on the local market.

Averages on practically all markets in the belt dropped last week from those paid the first two days of sales. However, officials described the offerings as low quality, the larger markets especially being flooded with poor grades.

Growers throughout the belt sold approximately 28,000,000 pounds in the seven days they have been open.

MOSCOW ASKS SHELLS FIRED ITALY TO PAY NEAR STEAMER

Rome, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Soviet government tonight delivered a protest to Italy against the sinking of two merchant ships in the eastern Mediterranean. The protest said Italy was responsible for the sinking.

Hitherto losses of Russian ships in the Mediterranean have been ascribed to attacks by "unidentified" submarines.

The Moscow note formally demanded that Italy pay reparations and punish the guilty offenders.

The Italian government flatly rejected the protest and demand.

LEGAL HOLIDAY FAILS TO INTERRUPT BUSINESS

Most of Greenville citizens went about their business today hardly aware that it was a national holiday. Labor Day, the only two places to close being the post office and the ABC stores.

The banks, which usually observe every legal holiday, followed their usual custom of remaining open every day that the tobacco market is operating.

Chapel Hill, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Alcohol and the Habit-Forming Drugs," a book written by Dr. G. L. Donely of the University of North Carolina Medical school and illustrated by Mary deB. Graves, Chapel Hill artist, has been adopted by the state of Georgia as a school textbook.

This is the second state besides North Carolina to adopt it. Others may be added to the list, for Alfred Williams and company, the publishers, have received favorable comments on the book from school people all over the country. Thus far about 115,000 copies have been printed.

Orange is said to be the color which attracts the most attention to billboards in outdoor advertising.

Allen Taking No Chances On Last Minute Opponent

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 6.—Arch Allen is taking absolutely no chances on a last minute insurrection or surprise attack which might deprive him of presidency of the Young Democratic Clubs of North Carolina.

Despite the fact that his only formidable rival, Miss Mae Oliver of Sanford, has been disposed of by her appointment to a jury political "plum," the young Raleigh lawyer and legislator plans to open his headquarters at the Robert E. Lee hotel in Winston-Salem today and will conduct an active drive right down the stretch.

He probably has in mind the enigmatic statement of Tommy Gresham of Warsaw, the state Y. D. national committeeman, who said that "all real Young Democratic politicking is done in the last twelve hours." Mr. Gresham has declared himself for Mr. Allen, but there are

Richmond Citizen Receives Injuries

Mrs. H. E. Price of Richmond, Va., is in the Pitt General hospital with an injured back, allegedly suffered when an automobile driven by her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Radford, also of Richmond, ran over a valleygutter at the intersection of Ninth and Reade streets.

Full details of the extent of Mrs. Price's injury were not available. Chief of Police George Clark, who is head of the street department, said Mrs. Radford had complained to city officials but he said he advised her that she would have to bring any requests for amends up before the Board of Aldermen.

Government Lines Tightened Around Insurgent Forces

BROKERS MAY HELP FARMERS

Aim of Proposed Combine to Regain Cotton Markets

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 6.—Possible formation of an organization of New York brokers and southern planters to lead the south's fight to regain world cotton markets loomed today as an aftermath of a meeting here of the Association of agricultural commissioners.

The Commercial-Appel said today Col. Lawrence Westbrook, advisor to the association, confirmed reports of plans "for the formation of an American cotton committee, backed financially by New York brokers and southern producers."

Col. Westbrook was quoted as saying he "had received one telegram from an official of a New York cotton firm pledging $15,000 to the committee and support of 23,000 cotton men."

The commissioners met to draft a program for submission to a senate agriculture sub-committee which is scheduled to conduct hearings here next month and adjourned after agreeing on only "a reasonable curtailment in the production of cotton."

Rebel Troops Besieged in the Belchite Cathedral

SHELLS Poured INTO ARAGON

Insurgents, Preferring Death to Capture, Hold Out Stubbornly

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Government lines tightened today around the band of insurgents besieged in Belchite Cathedral, 20 miles south of Zaragoza, as government batteries poured shells into the cathedral tower to silence the vast opposition in the strategic Aragon village.

The embattled insurgents, preferring death to capture, held out stubbornly against the massed sources that government sources said totaled 80,000 soldiers.

Except for the cathedral and the nearby square officials said the government was in complete possession of Belchite and that its forces were pushing on westward to attempt severance of insurgent communications between Zaragoza and Teruel.

Belchite streets were reported to be strewn with insurgent dead and it was believed destruction was almost complete. In a large insurgent communication disputed government claims to possession of Belchite and said all government attacks had been repulsed.

1937 CAROLINA HANDBOOK IS DISTRIBUTED TO FRESHMEN

Chapel Hill, Sept. 6.—All approved applicants for the incoming freshman class of the University of North Carolina are receiving copies of the 1937 issue of the "Carolina Handbook," a pamphlet designed to help first year men find their way around the campus, get acquainted with class officers, professors and other prominent men around Chapel Hill with whom they will come in contact.

Published by the YMCA, the handbook was edited this year by Voit Gilmore, rising junior from Winston-Salem. Will Arvey of Shelby was managing editor and Jesse A. Lewis of Laurinburg, business manager.

TINY SOUTHERN BEETLE INFESTS PINE FORESTS

Wiburton, Okla., Sept. 4.—(AP)—A tiny beetle which feeds only on pine trees and thrives in drought seasons is threatening destruction of 15,000 trees in the Robbers' Cave state park near here.

Officials of the National Park Service said more than 1,000 trees—some of them over 50 years old—had been removed since the infestation began.

The voracious insect is the southern pine beetle, which has capabilities of killing pine trees of all ages and all species. It attacks the middle to upper portions of trees and destroys the soft inner bark through which the trees obtain nourishment.

The new firm will engage in general plumbing, contracting and repairing. It advertises that "no job is too large or too small" to receive the most careful attention.

Moving Targets Easier

Casper, Wyo. (AP)—A target on the run, such as a coyote loping across the prairie, is the best kind of a mark for hunters of the United States biological survey.

That fact was discovered when the hunters met in convention and held a rifle match. Ninety percent of them could hit a moving target more frequently than a stationary object.

Heavy Collections Made by Unemployment Commission

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—North Carolina's Unemployment Compensation Fund collections reached $6,877,204.93 through August 31, from which is to be deducted $3,965.90 in refunds to employers who overpaid or who were not due to pay to the fund. Chairman Charles G. Powell, of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, reported today.

The collections for the year 1936 have reached $3,437,612.50 of which $1,906.37 was refunded. The rate for 1936 was nine-tenths of one percent of the total payroll of covered employers. The 1937 payments through August 31 reached $3,819,592.43, less refunds of $1,759.53, which leave a balance in the fund of $3,817,832.90. These 1937 payments are at the rate of 1.8 percent of the total payroll of covered employers.

Division of the 1937 collections show that through August 31, the collections for the first quarter were $1,589,654.72; for April, $563,951.06; for May, $573,984.34; for June, $573,415.76; and for July, $538,585.74. With the closer collections from delinquent employers for the first six months of 1937, the total should approach the $4,000,000 mark, and the year's collections probably will be close to if not actually $4,000,000. This indicates a payroll of $444,000,000 in North Carolina in covered employments, and more than $500,000,000 in all employments for 1937.

Reports had been made through August 31 for 5,564 establishments covered in North Carolina. These paying establishments include 6,375 individual employer units and 1,712 branch establishments in the state. Operating in North Carolina are 475 firms with these 1,712 branch establishments, probably more than half of these firms having home offices outside the state. The remaining firms having branch establishments have their home offices within the state.

In the files of the Unemployment Compensation Division are names and Social Security account numbers of about 633,000 workers in North Carolina, but not all of these workers are covered by the Unemployment Compensation act. Employers in the state are now reporting on probably slightly more than 450,000 workers in the state who are protected by the Unemployment Compensation Act, Chairman Powell estimates. The actual number at any one time cannot be determined readily due to constant changes.

SYNOPSIS: Wealthy, flashy Prescott Fanning abducts Janet from Baltimore on his yacht. She gets word to Neil, a young federal agent who loves her. Rushing to Absalom's Harbor, he boards the yacht and finds, in a locked cabin, Fanning shot dead and Janet in a faint, a gun beside her. Neil hides her nearby in the disused liners. Back at the village, he watches developments and spots queer little David Eyster, who hated Fanning. Neil offers to help Mark Boninger, keenest investigator. They confer with Lawyer Kettering of Baltimore, who came to Ash.

Chapter 19
Back To Janet
WITH the object of drawing a red herring across the trail, Neil said:

"My idea is that the girl's friend was an Absalom's man. The story had already gone around the village that there was a girl locked up aboard the yacht."

"Yes, I have been told that," said Boninger.

"The story was not generally believed, but I suppose there was one man who went out to see for himself."

"No Absalom's man is missing," Boninger pointed out.

"He furnished her with the skill. She then put him ashore and rowed away in it alone."

"Impossible!" said Boninger.

"The two sailors, the steward, the engineer all tell me that she was a gentle and elegant girl, not at all the type who could have saved herself by rowing away in a heavy skiff. You can depend upon it, her man went with her. Everything points to the fact that it was somebody she knew and trusted. He must have followed the yacht down here."

Neil set his jaw. If Boninger had deduced so much already, he and Janet were likely to receive short shrift next day.

"He was a cool customer," Boninger went on. "According to the crew, he took a rug out of the after cabin to keep the girl warm, a flashlight out of the saloon and all the cooked food there was in the refrigerator."

"Why couldn't he have shot Fanning?" suggested Neil.

Boninger looked at him with grim humor. "I'm surprised at that," he said, "from a man of your experience. Everything shows that Fanning was shot unaware. If anybody had burst in the door and attacked him, the cabin would have presented a very different picture."

Neil was silenced.

"We will know him when we catch him," said Boninger grimly. "Wilson got an elegant set of fingerprints on the refrigerator door. He photographed them this afternoon. He's developing it now."

Neil resisted the impulse to thrust his hands in his pockets. His fingertips tingled unpleasantly.

Packing The Purchases

WHEN Boninger had returned to the telephone in Virgil Longcope's office, and Kettering to his camp, Neil locked himself in his room upstairs and started to distribute the various articles he had bought for Janet about his person. He had not purchased everything in one place but had picked it up at odd times during the day in the different stores about the village.

Women's clothes were out of the question, so he had got her overalls, a shirt, a pair of sneakers. These he had to buy in sizes suitable for himself, and he grinned, thinking how Janet would look in them. In addition he had biscuits, cakes of chocolate, a couple of cans of meat, a bottle of soda water, a towel and soap, candles and batteries for the precious flashlight.

When all this was stowed, he appeared to have increased suddenly in weight. However, he had satisfied himself that the back part of the hotel was deserted. He went down the back stairs and out by the kitchen door.

Once he was on the road, he felt safe from observation for the street lights were feeble and far apart. The crowd was still hanging about Longcope's store and after he had turned the corner by the river, he met nobody. Aware that all his movements up to now had been watched, he walked with his head over his shoulder.

When he came to the last houses he watched his chance, and skinned over the fence into the cornfield between road and river. The motorcycle police had been ordered to patrol the state road all night. There was but this one road leading to and from the village of the point, thus it was an easy matter for the police to stop all who might try to leave by car. Neil lay out in the cornfield until he was very sure no one followed him over the fence.

He stumbled on over the ploughed field, climbed a couple of fences and found himself in the side road which served the landing used by the big ships. Coming out on the shore, he saw them lying huge, dark and threatening out in the stream. The captain's lights were out tonight. Since his car was not there, Neil judged that he had been drawn to the village by the general excitement.

Neil walked up the beach to the little pier below the old farm house. The skiff was tied to it and the oars were in her. He cast off and, making a detour, came back to the Abraham Lincoln from the middle of the river. Feeling his way along the hull, his hand met the twine dangling from above and he twitched it. A moment later the end of the rope ladder fell on his head, and he sprang to his feet with joy. Janet was all right! In a minute he would be with her!

Janet Dons Overalls
THE thin rope lay flat against the vessel's side, and he saw that it was not going to be too easy to climb up. He took off his boots so that his toes could grip the rope, and went up slowly. She was waiting for him at the window. When he jumped in, she flung her arms around his neck in a passion of relief and gladness, and for a little time neither of them could speak.

How good it was to hold her close!

Both felt as if oceans had parted them.

"Oh, Neil! The day was so long!"

"How good it was to hold her close against him! 'Honey! Honey! Honey!' It was hard to be away from you!"

Having lighted a candle, Neil held her away from him so that he could look at her. To find her in these strange surroundings was like seeing her for the first time. In the empty ship, her fragile beauty had an unreal quality like a dream. He drew her to him with a sudden fear of losing her.

"If we could only stay aboard here by our two selves and let the rest of the world go to hell!"

When they came back to earth, Janet began to pat him. "What did you bring me? You've covered all over with funny-shaped bumps."

He began to disgorge. She laughed at the curious array of stuff he had brought.

"I wanted those clothes badly. Everything aboard the ship is so dusty my dress is already a sight!"

She carried the clothes into the adjoining room and presently returned looking like a country boy in her rolled-up, hand-me-down overalls. She struck an attitude, sticking her thumbs through the gulluses and pursing up her lips to whistle. She looked more real now. He was obliged to seize her in his arms again.

"By God, you look good to me that way!"

"You're smothering me!"

He unwillingly released her.

Janet runs to give herself up tomorrow, after a quarrel with Neil.

Hollywood, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The two neighborhood urchins who had climbed the studio fence to see the fire wanted to know if it would be a real fire or just a fake.

It was real and if anybody who sees "In Old Chicago" thinks it wasn't I'm here to testify that my whiskers felt singed even at their usual safe distance behind the cameras.

$500,000 Fire
Most people love a fire when it isn't their own but Darryl Zanuck loves a fire enough to gamble $500,000 on the hot sequences alone of his production. When the movies play with fire it is serious play. Fire is one actor they can't mollycoddle into more than one "take." It accepts direction badly, and it has more temperament than Dietrich, Mae West and Garbo combined.

That is why Director Henry King, getting ready for a "take" looks like a man who can't decide whether going crazy would be better or going wrong. The firemen, unaccustomed as they are to fire fighting as Chicago did it in 1871, seem to be all thumbs in handling the antiquated equipment.

Real Panic
King goes to try it himself, then orders a rehearsal—without the fire. The scene becomes pandemonium but only mildly.

Just before the "take" the studio smokepots get going, belching black clouds over the scene. And then—the fire. All at once, like that, Mrs. O'Leary's house spits fire. From the neighboring roofs and windows great sheets of flame leap forth, hissing and roaring. A tree in the street, brittle and dry, joins the mad chorus of flame—and this time the panic is real—or looks it. The firemen are frantic, pouncing on their ladders while faint streams of water attack the inferno. The women and children are scurrying past the camera, fast as they can, to get out of the heat.

Kerosene Does It
It's all over in two minutes. With this breeze blowing and all, I've been backing away looking for quick exits in case the whole lot decides to play old Chicago. But while the movie firemen are collecting their extra's checks, real firemen are putting out the fire with modern equipment.

Apple Crop Increases
Washington.—(AP)—If you believe in an apple a day, you may be able to get two this year for the price of one heretofore.

The bureau of agricultural economics reports prospective price declines with the 1937 apple crop about 75 per cent greater than last year's and 25 per cent above the recent normal.

TODAY'S CONTEST

Tarboro at Snow Hill.

Tarboro, Sept. 6.—Snow Hill's Billies almost duplicated Saturday's game yesterday when they routed Tarboro's Snakes, 11-6, in the Coastal Plain league's championship series.

Over 3,000 fans witnessed one of those old-fashioned slugfests as Snow Hill "went to town". D. C. (Peahead) Walker, who piloted the Billies most of the year, was in the standings to see his boys take the Tarborians for a ride.

Tarboro claimed an alibi on two things—the loss of big Jim Tatum, who left last night to take up his job as assistant to Coach Carl Snavely at Cornell, and of the slugger George Rimmer, out with a bad leg. But then Snow Hill didn't have Joe Bistoff, regular backstop. Bistoff is out with a bad hand, which physicians had to cut last night.

Faced by Robby Robinson and Walter Latham, the Billies quickly turned in their old trick against the Snakes—gathering six runs in one inning. They did that in the second, aided by Robinson circuit clout over the right field wall with the bases "drunk".

That inning wrecked the Snakes. They never recovered fully, for although they awoke for a slight rally in the fifth, all their pep and fire went over the fence with that ball Robinson clouted.

Bernard Mooney started on the hill for the Snakes, but he was wild and hard hit. Big Bob Cassell came in during the second, in time to throw the home run ball to Robinson, and he was tagged for eight other blows over the rest of the route.

Johnny Hruska, who relieved Joyce—who got off to a shaky start—turned in a fine job of relief hurling. He allowed two hits in 4-2-3 innings.

Tarboro drew first blood, with a tally in the opening frame on a double by Frankie Ware, Joyce's wild throw, and Soup Campbell's infield out.

In Snow Hill's second Latham started the merry-go-round with a single. Small Zak followed suit, and Walter Rabb beat out a bunt. An argument followed on the next play, but the Billies got a run. Joyce bopped the ball over Mooney's head, and Ware trapped the ball and tossed Zak out at third, Latham scoring on the play. Despite contentions that Joyce's rap was an infield play, Umpire Cios ruled otherwise, and play went on.

Home Mewborn then singled to score Rabb with the second run, and Mooney retired for Cassell. Cassell issued a free ticket to Johnny Hyder, and the bases were full. Big Bob bore down at this point. He "rained" Wall, and had two strikes on Robinson when Robby knocked the next pitch out of the park.

Three runs in the fourth clinched victory for the Billies. Mewborn's infield hit his stolen base, Wall's single, a walk to Robinson, an infielder's error, and Latham's single did the trick. The Billies wound up with two more rallies in the fifth.

Walter Latham hit three for four to set the pace in Snow Hill's offensive. Mewborn and Robinson contributed two blows each. Manager Snake Henry, with a double, and a single, was the Serpent to connect safely more than once.

UNC GRIDDERS DOWN TO WORK

Begin Drills for Game With Gamecocks Sept. 25th

Chapel Hill, Sept. 6.—Refreshed by a Sunday layoff, the University of North Carolina football squad today began earnest preparations for the opening game with South Carolina here September 25.

It will be the second game for the Gamecocks, for they meet Emory and Henry in their opener at Columbia September 13.

The South Carolina game will open for the Tar Heels what is regarded as one of the hardest schedules in their history. Following the Gamecock test, they will meet N. C. State, NYU, Wake Forest, Tulane and Fordham in the order named. Tulane will be the homecoming game.

The gamecocks are reported even stronger than in 1935, what with 23 juniors, eight seniors and a flock of 20 sophomores, many of them top-notch performers.

Coach Don McAllister also has considerable reserve strength—something that Coach Ray Wolf and his assistants lack. The Gamecocks can put two teams on the field averaging 190 pounds, both carrying tremendous power and speed.

Coach Ray Wolf is leaving no stones unturned in grooming his charges. Already he has had one rough-and-tumble scrimmage and has done quite a bit of shifting in trying to size up his chief strength.

Only Andy Bershak, who received the second Associated Press All-American team at end last year, and Art Ditt, senior 200-pound fullback, appear to have clinched their posts. The fight for the other nine places is wide open.

It appears now that Bershak's teammate at end will be selected from Gene Brickley, senior, and Horace Palmer and Fran Gordon, juniors.

Henry Bartos, No. 1 tackle last year, has the inside track at right tackle. Bartos was injured last week but returned to action today. Steve Marone, junior, and Dan Desch, sophomore, are most frequently getting first call at the other tackle.

There's a hot scrap for the guard positions with Ed Palmer, senior letterman; Elmer Wrenn, senior reserve; Jim Woodson, junior, and Ed Mognon and Charles Slagle, sophomore, as principal claimants for the two berths.

Letterman Bob Adams and Pete Avery are head and shoulders in front of the field for the center berth. Both alternated at the pivot spot last season.

BOBBY CRUICKSHANK WIELDS A HARMONICA

Charlottesville, Va., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Bobby Cruickshank, the Richmond pro who won his fifth consecutive Virginia open golf championship, is a harmonica player.

At least, he is a fair hand with a mouth organ, although not so facile as he is with a driver.

Golfers, on hand to watch the little Scotchman defeat Ernie Ball, English born pro, in a playoff for the 1937 Virginia title, wanted a "Scotch eightsome reel." They were frustrated by lack of music.

Bobby produced a harmonica and the dance began.

Spot Slants

With 25 foreign representatives taking part in the national tennis championships, Forest Hills takes on a decidedly Wimbledonlike appearance. That's what a little thing like regaining the Davis cup will do.

Leading the foreign stars will be Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Germany's No. 1. The prospect of a reputation of the von Cramm-Don Budge matches played abroad intrigues tennis enthusiasts.

Naturally, playing on familiar courts and with the faster ball to which he is accustomed, Budge should have less difficulty in beating the Baron and establishing himself beyond all doubt the No. 1 amateur player of the world.

Von Cramm is not the only invader who threatens to upset Budge's appellation. The Baron's teammate, Henner Henkel, is improving and may cause an upset or two before he is eliminated. Then there is the Nipponese trio, Yamagishi, Nakano and Nishimura. Yamagishi is Japan's top ranking player and a Davis cup ace.

France sends the veteran Jacques Brugnon and the youthful Yvon Petra. England sends Charles Hare, Clarence Jones and Murray DeLoford.

A number of fair court stars from abroad will be on hand to bid for the women's national singles title, which Alice Marble will defend. Here we find Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland the outstanding threat. She has beaten Miss Marble four of the five times they have met this year and seems to have too powerful a game to be halted by any of the other entries. Kay Stammers heads the British Wightman cup team, which will be on hand for the championships. From Germany comes Mary Louise Horn; from Chile, Anita Lizana, and from France, Sylvia Henrotin and Jacqueline Horner.

HORNBY HITS HOMER AND HORNBY STRIKES OUT

Denver—(AP)—Rogers Hornby left Denver with a pair of shoes, $2 in cash and a case of ginger ale he didn't have when he arrived. The ex-St. Louis Brown manager was awarded those prizes for hitting a home run in the Denver baseball tournament. He smashed the round-tripper in his first time at bat in the tourney. He struck out in his final appearance.

Coach Obeyed City Manager

Dallas—(AP)—"I hope I don't get a ticket for parking too long," laughed Football Coach Homer Norton of Texas A. and M. after a long conversation with City Manager Hal Moseley of Dallas. "Just send it to me," joked Moseley, who vigorously opposes the "fixing" of tickets. Norton did. It cost Moseley $1.

Birling Good For Hips, Says Champ Girl Birler

ROPE SKIPPING

On a slippery log, in deep water, "is great for the hips and waistline." oYu have the word of Laura Marchand, national women's log-rolling champion.

Those Ignorant Easterners!

Miss Marchand won her title at Escanaba, Mich., where she ducked an imposing list of contenders.

Log rolling means mighty little to most folks. One touring easterner actually accepted birling as one sport.

But out here, where the big woods are making their last stand, this favorite sport of the old-time lumberjack has a large following. Contests prove great attractions in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Miss Marchand expects to do her sport by bringing up her son, 18-months-old Darrell Hebert, to be a birler—and a champion.

FOR BEGINNERS

This exercise consists merely of trying to stay on the log. Here Miss Marchand demonstrates how a novice will look when she first tries to log-roll.

Ex-Guard and Ex-Back May Gets Pists On 1937 Team

Durham, Sept. 6.—An ex-guard and an ex-halfback will probably be Duke's starting ends this fall. Not gently treated when graduation took his two regular ends last season and still more badly hurt when Bill Bailey, second string end last fall, was injured this summer, Wallace Wade has had to turn to other posts to get his flankers.

Charlie Fischer, only boy on the squad who has played end in a varsity game, was converted from a guard post in midseason of last year.

Herb Hudgins, who will probably be used at the other flank post, has been a reserve halfback for the past two seasons.

As is generally known, an end must do everything by himself that a lineman and a back do together. He must catch passes like the backs and it would be nice if he could pass like the backs. On the lineman's side, he must be able to rush passers and punters; he must be able to cover his team's punts and he must be able to block the tackle for end runs and off-tackle smashes.

Hudgins, while well-gifted with the part a back must play, needs experience on the lineman's side. Fischer works just the opposite way.

Another back—McCauley Clark, reserve fullback for the past two years—was shifted to a flank job at the start of fall training and the lanky youngster is trying hard to win a regular berth there. Others who are working hard are Joe DeVolentine, a freshman last year who comes to the varsity without much fan-fare, and Bob Carpenter, a non-playing reserve of last season.

funds for water and sewerage extensions into the newly incorporated areas of the city and for the paving of additional streets. We see no trouble ahead for the carrying of this bond election for Greenville is growing rapidly and it is necessary that facilities be extended. Too, Greenville's financial status is such that the city will be able to sell its bonds at a low rate of interest.

With the tobacco season now in progress traffic, especially at night, is heavier than usual in this section of the state. Each year there are several serious accidents in this section as the result of somebody crashing into an unlighted vehicle on the highway. Farmers bringing their tobacco to market are urged to see to it that their vehicles, whether motor driven or animal drawn, are properly lighted. The law requires the proper lighting of all vehicles on the highways at night, but even if the law did not require it, any person would be foolish to drive an unlighted vehicle on the road, for to do so is to endanger the life and property of everyone on the highway.

Now that our city schools have opened there will be more children on our streets at certain periods of the day traveling to and from school on bicycles, skates and on foot and motorists should exercise more care in order not to hurt some child. Of course the children should and probably do receive warnings both at home and at schools of the dangers of the city traffic but it is natural that at times the children in their hurry to and from school will not exercise the proper caution on the streets. The practice of a little more caution on the part of our motorists especially in the areas closer to the schools might mean the saving of some child's life.

At its last meeting the Board of Aldermen definitely ordered the holding of a bond election to secure

Caldwell conservationists who have started drive against illicit fishing might take warning from a story told by Sam Blount, genial representative from Beaufort county.
 As Mr. Blount relates, the warn, a popular Rockingham county man was arrested for illegal seining in that county, where a friend waxed exceeding indignant, finally sitting down and writing a letter to the Department of Conservation and Development about as follows:
 "You've put Joe in jail for using a little seine in the river here and we don't like it. If you don't call off your dern fish sberiffs, we're going to get a real seine and catch every fish in Rockingham—all six of them."
 So, gentlemen of Caldwell, the fish sheriff'll git ya, if ya don't watch out.

Cape Fear Log Rolling Association has invited Governor Hoy to address its convention. We thought the Legislature had gone home for two years.
 Revocation of 163 more drivers' licenses last week brought the total revoked under the Motor Vehicle law to 12,284.
 Beverage taxes collected during August increased much less than was expected over figures for the same month in 1936. With the hard liquor sales tax upped from 3 to 7 per cent, with a gallonage tax on wine and with about twice as many ABC counties this year, the collections jumped only from $112,000 to $129,000, in round figures.
 Officially this is explained by the statement that several counties made erroneous reports and that they were sent back for correction. Actually it would not be in the least surprising if "There's a Dead Cat on the Line" as the old phonograph record used to say.

 With a few unassessed "pending receipt of further data from taxpayer and counties," railroad values in the state dropped $157,337—from $159,087,871 to $158,930,534—in comparison with 1936. Atlantic Coast Line got a tax assessment reduction of $1,200,000 to make up for several increases on other properties including a doubling of valuation of High Point, Thomasville and Denton from $125,000 to $250,000. Winston-Salem Southbound was the only road other than A. C. L. to get a substantial reduction, dropping from $3,642,000 to an even $3,030,000.
 Values were assessed by the State Board of Assessment of which Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell is chairman.

Washington Daybook
 By Preston Grover
 Washington—Railroads in olden days gave passes to state legislators and congressmen and paid the cost of junkets to points of interest until the thing became somewhat of a national scandal. Laws put an end to that type of good will building. But now the colonies, Hawaii and the Philippines, have found a new wrinkle of the old game. They finance all-expense visits by members of congress, entertain them lavishly and seek to induce in them a sympathetic understanding of island problems.
 That view of it may be a trifle harsh on the islands. Weary members of congress and their wives, sons and daughters may be entitled to sue relaxations the insular possessions provide. What better contribution could the islands make, in that case, than to provide a sea cruise to soothe senatorial souls? Or the placid peace of an island beach to heal congressional scars? Perhaps the islands have no second string motives. It is easily remembered that the railroads insisted they had no motive other than to oblige when they supplied railroad passes to state legislators.
 Two score or more members of both houses made the tour of the Philippines 18 months ago, headed by Vice President Garner. This summer a dozen more are going to Hawaii. The Philippine government footed the bill on the first trip, and in keeping with this now established custom, the Hawaiian government will pay the way of the visitors headed for the white sands of Waikiki.
 At this point it is well to mention items of interest about the islands and their legislative problems. When gold was revalued in 1934, the Philippine government had about $56,000,000 on deposit in American banks as currency reserve. The Philippines claimed the $23,000,000 profit resulting from revaluing gold, although by law the family nest egg of the average American was paid back only dollar for dollar.
 Congress saw it the Philippine way in 1934 and approved payment but in 1935 refused to appropriate money to pay. Senator Adams of Colorado tried in 1936, the year of the Philippine tour, to put through an act repealing the Philippine claim. The senate agreed with him, although it was in conflict with administration wishes, but the bill was never taken up in the house, and the claim still stands. Adams won senate approval again this last session and the bill is still pending in the house, awaiting action next session. The island also are interested in sugar quotas and import taxes.
 Hawaii has a special interest in sugar legislation, hoping that next session congress will give the island refiners a lift by permitting them to ship to the United States a larger quota of refined sugar. These all-expense visits may have little or no effect in obtaining a friendly vote from congress. But if they do, why shouldn't Florida finance an all-expense trip for congress in an effort to get her canal? Or Maine put 'em up for two weeks at Bar Harbor in return for Passamaquoddy power?

 That is an entangling prospect.

 Reno, Nev.—(AP)—It was a good idea that Anton Rager had—up to a certain point.

 Rushed to Reno for medical treatment, Anton said he would buy a drill.

HE'S ALL LET DOWN from an awful build-up. Mad enough to eat his weight in wildcats was five-year-old Lawrence J. (Chunk) Rudy of Kansas City when his 110 pounds proved too much for his out-grown tricycle. And that ain't all. He starts to kindergarten in a few days.

GUARDIANS OF AN EMPIRE'S LIFE LINE, Britain's dreadnoughts of the deep sped to the defense of merchant vessels in the Mediterranean after submarines had torpedoed vessels without provocation. Warships of the world's mightiest fleet were ordered to scour the waters off the Spanish coast and send attacking U-boats to the bottom. Statesmen in London were roused to indignant action by the sinking of a merchantman and ordered reinforcements to rush immediately to the scene of recent incidents which threatened a new European crisis.

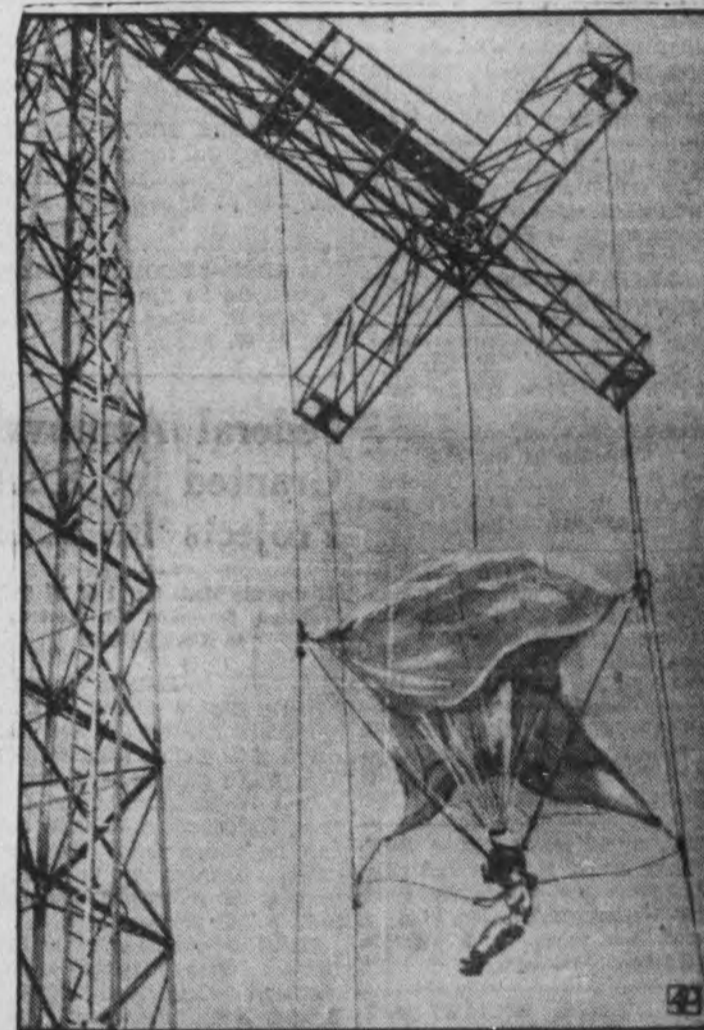

A WICKET SWING is lots better than setting up exercises for shapeliness and more fun, too, insists youthful Elizabeth Callahan, a leader of the south's revival of backyard croquet tournaments. Young and old are joining the mallet "swing" movement back to "pedestrian polo."

ARMY'S ANTIDOTE FOR FLYING FORTRESSES is this twin-motored multi-seater fighting plane which passed its initial test flight with flying colors. A pusher plane with propellers behind the wings to leave the frontal area clear for machine-gun fire, this sky raider carries more powerful armament than any fighter ever built. A crew of five has six guns at its disposal and a supply of light bombs. With the tremendous speed of a racing ship, the craft is believed easily capable of overhauling the "Flying Fortresses" which themselves fly more than 250 miles an hour.

FOOEY FOR FORMULAS, farewell to fun is written all over the faces of these frowning urchins, typifying young America, as they get the bad news from a drug store window. No more fishin', no more trips to the old swimmin' hole, no more raids on the farmer's orchard or berry patch until next summer. For millions of youngsters school bells will soon ring out the sad tidings that it's time for classes.

PREVENTATIVE for the dread disease, infantile paralysis, this nasal spray is being used widely to halt spread of the malady in some sections.

GIVING HIS BLOOD for treatment of infantile paralysis is this youth who has recovered from the disease and wishes to do his part to aid others stricken. Health authorities reported a large number of cases in several communities and drastic precautions were being taken.

THE IRON LUNG, a mechanical device which assists the paralysis victim in breathing when muscles no longer perform their functions, has proven one of the greatest assets to medical science in achieving a cure for the disease. Patients can live for months inside the respirator.

PHYSIO-THERAPY is the technical name for one of the treatments of patients recovering from paralysis. At Warm Springs, Ga., famed center for combating the disease, this child slowly regains the use of his limbs, buoyed up by the 88-degree water of the swimming pool.

THE ROAD BACK finds this paralysis victim well on the way to complete recovery as he learns to walk again with the assistance of crutches.

Federal Approval Granted for REA Projects In State

Allotments Made for 11 of 25 Submitted, According to Records in Raleigh Office

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 6.—Federal REA approval and allotment has been given eleven of 25 projects submitted to it from North Carolina, according to records in the office of the State Rural Electrification Authority here. Of the eleven three have been either withdrawn by the federal group or the allotment has been refused by the proposed users.

The allotments made by the REA follow: Wilson County Electric Membership Corporation $161,000 on June 4, 1936; Tide Water Power Company, $142,250 on January 2, 1936; Edgewood E. M. C., $32,000 on June 1, 1936; Johnston E. M. C., $10,000 allotments totalling $300,000, June 1, 1936 and August 4, 1936; these allotments were refused by proposed users who, through their

BUSSES READY TAKE TO ROADS

The World's Largest Transportation Service in Shape

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 6.—By the middle of this month the state of North Carolina will again be operating the world's largest school transportation system.

For by that time all the state's schools will be open and school buses will daily be carrying approximately 300,000 children over a total of 128,000 miles.

To accomplish this, there will be approximately 4,200 school buses in use, an increase of about 100 over last year. Of these 800 will be new buses, 50 of them of all-steel construction; 700 purchased by the state to replace vehicles worn out in service, the other hundred bought by the counties to care for the increased child-load.

And so in all the North Carolina school buses will travel more than twenty million miles before the 160 school days end sometime next spring.

Last year the state did this tremendous transportation job at the cost of six lives, four of them in one accident. In no case of death or injury was the driver of the bus found at fault, and in the quadruple tragedy driver of the other vehicle was convicted and put behind prison bars.

This year school commission authorities are taking unusual pains to see that bus drivers are competent. Heretofore it has been necessary only for the driver to have a license to operate a motor vehicle. This year every prospective bus driver will be examined specially by a highway patrolman and will not be permitted to operate a school bus unless he passes.

In direct charge of this tremendous system is C. C. Brown, transportation engineer of the State School Commission.

NEGRO HEALTH WORK PRAISED

Program in State Cited as Outstanding by Journal

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The work of the North Carolina State Board of Health among negroes is cited as outstanding by the Journal of Negro Education, a "quarterly review of the problems incident to the education of negroes," published by the Bureau of Educational Research, Howard University, Washington, D. C.

"Particularly worthy of commendation is the program outlined and instituted by the North Carolina State Board of Health in 1936, under the immediate guidance of Dr. Walter J. Hughes, whose report of success is truly gratifying," the publication goes on to say. "Dr. Hughes reports, for instance, a total of 392 lectures for negroes during 1936, with a total attendance of more than 42,000. This educational program reached approximately 20,000 elementary school children, 7,000 high school pupils and 16,000 adults."

Dr. Hughes was the first negro doctor employed in his capacity by any State Health Board in the United States, said Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, who declared that he "is doing a nice piece of work among his people and there is every indication that they appreciate and are responding to his efforts which undoubtedly, are making them more health conscious." His services are made available through the aid of the Rosenwald fund, Dr. Reynolds said.

During the first nine years of living in London, George Bernard Shaw sold writings which brought him six pounds.

Mr. L. A. Stroud, Quinn & Miller Co., Greenville, N. C.

My dear Mr. Stroud:

Once again I have the pleasure of writing you that your firm has established a new high in the number of Karpen Inner-spring Mattresses and Box Springs sold so far this year by any one store in a community comparable with Greenville in size and buying power.

To my mind, this is indicative of two things: first, that Quinn & Miller have done a mighty fine promotional and selling job; second, that the citizens of Greenville and Pitt County generally have an appreciation of and desire for quality merchandise, considering especially the splendid business you did on the Karpen PiloRest...our finest mattress.

Accept my hearty congratulations, and also the thanks of S. Karpen & Bros. for this volume of business. Here's hoping you will continue breaking records year after year.

With kindest personal regards, I am,
 Most cordially yours,
 C. L. WEIL,
 Sales Manager.
