At Least Six, Possibly 10, Jap Planes Downed

CHINESE PURSUIT PLANE WRECKED

Nipponese Attackers Drop More Than 10 Bombs in Great Aerial Battle

Hongkong, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Death-defying aviators fought today the first great aerial battle of the Sino-Japanese war over Canton, south China city, 100 miles to the north of this British-occupied city.

At least six, possibly 10, Japanese planes crashed in twisting, diving dog-fights. One Chinese plane was seen to crash in flames. Others also may have fallen.

A bomb demolished the Tingo aviation school administration building. A number of civilians were reported killed.

A fleet of 21 Japanese raiding ships started the battle, appearing at early morning in an offensive directed against the far south China city.

Ten planes made a second attack shortly after noon.

Residents along the Canton river front had a thrilling view of the combat.

Only half of the squadron of 21 actually reached Canton itself, Chinese said. Others were brought down by defending Chinese pursuit planes and artillery fire from forts in the Canton area.

One raider diving and twisting to ward off attackers, crashed to the ground. The plane exploded and the crew of two was killed.

Another Japanese ship fell near White Cloud mountain. Three occupants died. The one Chinese plane which residents saw falling went down in flames. The pilot, wounded and burned, landed by parachute.

The Nippon attackers dropped more than 10 bombs in the morning raid, directing their aim at Chinese airbases. The bombs fell, however, into surrounding fields and several farmers were injured.

Farmers Required To Keep Receipts If Subsidy Asked

Application Forms For Requesting Payments To Be Available To Cotton Growers Soon

County Agent R. R. Bennett today advised all cotton farmers to keep their receipts issued by ginners and others purchasing the product in order to have the necessary information to execute government forms of application for cotton subsidy payments.

The receipts should record the date of sale, name and address of producer, number of bales sold, total weight and the name and address of the purchaser.

Mr. Bennett declared that it would be necessary for a farmer to have his receipts to fill out an application for the government subsidy payment of three cents per pound.

The application forms are not available as yet, but farmers will be advised when and how to secure them, the county agent said.

Hardy Edentonians Drank Toasts To Constitution

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Edentonians of 1789 were evidently of a very hardy race, characters who could take it when gathered round the festive bowl, if an account of the celebration staged there after North Carolina had ratified the Constitution is authentic.

According to this account, published in the State Gazette of Thursday, December 3, 1789, under the heading "Laus Deo"—"A large company of gentlemen dined at Mr. Egan's tavern" and drank no less than twelve toasts.

Further on, the account says that "in the evening the cup of a of the court house was beautifully illuminated." It does not say so, but very likely the cupola was not the only thing thereabout which was "illuminated."

Says the Gazette, a copy of which is in the office of the State Historical Commission here: "On Tuesday list the happy even

RECORD SET BY LOCAL MARKET

Both Offerings And Price Average Reach New Highs Here

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday experienced the best day of the season, both as to poundage sold and the average price paid for the offerings.

The sales and average price both exceeded first day figures. Monday's offerings of 1,592,910 pounds brought farmers a total of $382,223.01 for an official average of $24 per hundred pounds.

So far this season 18,377,162 pounds have been sold on the Greenville market, bringing $3,985,985.98, or an official average of $21.64. The season's average has continued to climb recently and exceeded the $21 average for the first yesterday in several weeks.

Today's sales will bring the season's offerings above 19,000,000 pounds and the money paid out so far this year will exceed $4,000,000 by the close of auctions.

With the season's sales being estimated up to 70,000,000 pounds, probably more than 25 per cent of the crop already has been sold.

The Greenville market continues to compare favorably with others in the belt and farmers from a wide area are bringing their tobacco here to be auctioned off on the ten warehouse floors.

Calls Conference At Church Tonight To Discuss Chest

Persons Interested in Putting Social Welfare Work on Business-Like Basis Urged to Attend

All persons interested in getting Greenville social welfare work on a better and more business-like basis are requested to attend the meeting to be held in the Eighth Street Christian church tonight at 8 o'clock.

This meeting is being called by the Greenville Ministerial association for the purpose of organizing a Community Chest for Greenville.

When the organization is perfected it is planned to have it take the place of the various financial drives conducted each year and to centralize the directing of social work in the hands of a board of citizens who are interested in the community and the work being done by the various social organizations serving the people.

All community organizations have been requested to send representatives and agencies which have been conducting drives or otherwise soliciting funds from the community have been asked to have accredited representatives in attendance prepared to present tentative programs and needs. It is expected that this effort will receive the enthusiastic support of the community.

NEW YORK SURRENDERS TO AMERICAN LEGION

Without an argument, New York surrendered to the American Legion as an estimated 250,000 former soldier boys gathered in Gotham for their 19th—and greatest—convention. This picture shows what happened to Times Square when the doughboys of 1918 started showing, marching, pushing in an out of traffic, risking their necks under taxi wheels and "painting the town red." Note one Legionnaire who sat down on the street car tracks, tying up traffic.

FDR SUPPORTS ICKES' ORDER

Rejection Of PWA Projects Endorsed As Sound Policy

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Announcing approval of final allocation under the 1937 public works extension act, President Roosevelt today endorsed as "sound public policy" Secretary Ickes' rejection of a large number of projects because it was found the applicants could finance them without federal aid.

In a statement released by Secretary Marvin McIntyre, the President said he had taken this stand in view of the "need to curtail the federal budget and the improved financial status" of many communities throughout the country.

The statement also said there had been a "decreasing need" for the stimulation of employment through PWA construction "with the passing of the economic extremity" and the President felt the administration had "fulfilled its obligation under the present law."

The final projects were not detailed, but were described as a few of the "border-line" variety. They brought to 1,253 the number of projects under the new program, with grants of $113,034,735 and loans of $58,005,700.

Since the PWA began in 1933, the statement added, allotments have been made for 10,605 non-federal projects, costing $2,759,172,739. Of these 7,845, costing $1,208,539,612 have been completed.

The bureau of labor statistics, it was said, had found for each hour of employment at the site, two and a half hours are created in industry.

To Talk Finances Of Research Farm

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The State Board of Agriculture will meet here Thursday to discuss financing work in peanuts and provision of $5,000 and land for the Oxford tobacco test farm in an effort to secure $80,000 in federal funds for tobacco research there.

R. G. Deyton assistant director of the budget, will meet with the board.

Money must be allocated to carry out the board's decision to purchase additional land at the upper Coastal test farm in Edgecombe county for peanut work, as well as to purchase or lease "land farther over in the peanut country" for research purposes.

The federal department of agriculture has recommended an $80,000 appropriation for the Oxford farm if the state will provide $5,000 and land, Commissioner of Agriculture Scott said.

Justice Black Sails On 'City Of Norfolk'

London, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Justice Hugo Black of the United States Supreme Court has departed for home, still declining comment on American newspaper accounts that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The justice made a dash by automobile to Southampton last yesterday and boarded the small ship, "City of Norfolk" two minutes before she sailed.

He cancelled reservations aboard the Manhattan when news of his departure became public and booked passage on the smaller vessel.

National Capital Activities Varied

Washington, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The justice department said today it would ask a federal grand jury at Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 29 to indict "certain Harlan county coal operators and other individuals" on charges of interfering with the civil rights of Kentucky coal miners.

The decision to seek the indictments follows completion of an investigation by federal agents in Harlan county which Attorney General Cummings ordered May 18 after he received complaints from chairman of a senate labor subcommittee, and John Lewis, leader of the CIO.

The department declined to disclose how many persons would be involved.

Other Washington developments: John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, asserted his party workers were reporting a "trend away from Roosevelt."

He made the statement at a strategy conference of GOP leaders.

LOYAL FORCES CRUSH REBELS

Two Insurgent Battalions Reported Annihilated

Madrid, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Annihilation of two insurgent battalions was reported today from the far southern war front, midway between Cordoba and Badajoz, where government forces thrust forward in important gains.

Government dispatches said one insurgent battalion was destroyed at Sima, in a government counter attack after an insurgent advance, ported by a heavy artillery barrage.

A second battalion rushed up to reinforce weakened defenses of Granja de Torrehermosa was wiped out where the government battle lines ballooned outward to within 100 miles of the Portuguese frontier.

Strategic government gains were reported in the region where war activity has been relatively slight recently, while government and insurgent forces concentrated on northern battlefields.

Government gains were disputed, however, by an insurgent communiqué that declared government counter attacks had been repulsed in that sector and in nearby mountains.

Government troops were reported to have taken heights dominating the vital east-west railway and houses on the outskirts of Granja de Torrehermosa.

Lenoir County Clerk Succumbs To Illness

Kinston, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Jesse Thomas Heath, 77, clerk of Lenoir county superior court, died at home here today after a long illness.

He was recognized as the dean of county officials by virtue of his more than 23 years as clerk of the court.

The funeral will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Surviving are his widow and a son.

BUSY SESSION COUNTY COURT

Score of Cases Disposed of Before Luncheon Recess

The wheels of justice turned fast in Pitt county court this morning and before the tribunal recessed for the luncheon recess a score of cases had been disposed of.

Charges of removing crop against Larry Hardee and of larceny against Bob Baker were transferred to Superior court for jury trial.

Five defendants were convicted of driving drunk and in each case, with one exception the defendants were fined $50 and costs and had their licenses revoked for 12 months. The four fined and ordered to pay the costs were Herbert McLawhorn, Robert Glenn Bland, white men, Irk Davis and John Upchurch, Negroes, Alex Lloyd, white man was sent to the roads for a term of six months, the sentence to run concurrent with a similar sentence given him for trespass warrant and he, too, was given a six-months sentence.

Beatrice Sugg Williams, Negro, was fined $25, costs to be deducted, following a plea of guilty to larceny.

Viola Jones and Bernard Smith, Negroes, tendered pleas of guilty to assault and were ordered to pay $25, costs to be deducted, the balance going as a fine.

Calman Brown and Daniel Brown and Ola Roberson, Negroes, tendered pleas of guilty to assault and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs of court.

Richard Tyson, Negro, was given a 60-day road sentence upon conviction of possessing illegal whiskey.

Dave Knight, Negro, was adjudged guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and given a two-year sentence. The defendant appealed to (Continued on Page Six)

Lautares Opening Jewelry Business

Lautares Brothers will open formally tomorrow morning their new and modern jewelry store on the West side of Evans street, across from the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

The store is equipped with latest show cases and other equipment and is declared to be one of the finest stores in Eastern North Carolina.

The store will be decorated tomorrow and favors will be given away. The public is invited to attend the opening.

The establishment will carry a complete line of standard products. A watch repairing service also will be maintained.

Gets Prison Term For Murder In 1916

Trenton, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Nick Collins, through his counsel, entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder in Jones county Superior court here today and was sentenced to 20 years in state prison by Judge Frank Daniels, presiding.

Collins went on trial today on a first degree murder charge in connection with the death 21 years ago of Abe Collins, but soon after the trial got underway, defense counsel, Jesse Jones of Kinston, entered the plea of second degree murder. Collins took the stand and admitted the killing, but maintained it was in self-defense.

Fellowship And Finances Discussed At Civic Club

Fellowship and finance were the subjects under discussion last night at the Greenville Rotary club.

W. A. Ryan of the Eighth Street Christian church briefly addressed the club on the subject of Fellowship and how its benefits could be found in having the Rotary club back up the Community Chest idea as being promoted by the Ministerial Association.

He emphasized how the adoption of the Community Chest would eliminate so many pestiferous solicitations and secure a better community service for all agencies involved. He was practical in his exhortation for cooperation in stating that the preachers' talking about it would not secure a Community Chest, but the backing and cooperation of civic clubs would do it.

ITALY TO JOIN IN SEA PATROL

Reportedly Granted Parity with France And Britain

Rome, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Italy agreed tonight to join Britain and France in an anti-piracy patrol of the Mediterranean.

Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano advised the British and French governments of Italy's readiness to join the patrol on the basis of parity with those two nations.

Britain and France, the Italian government said, have agreed to satisfy this demand.

Italy previously had refused to join the patrol, set up by nine powers at Nyon, because she was offered only a comparatively minor role as guardian over the Tyrrhenian sea just off her coast.

A communique stated Britain and France, through conversation by their charges d'affaires had made clear they recognized fully the position of Italy as a great Mediterranean power.

The British and French representatives proposed a meeting of naval experts of the three countries to determine modifications of a practical nature to the present Nyon plan, thereby permitting full Italian participation.

This meeting will be held shortly in Paris.

Brothers Of Slain Woman Accused Of Murdering Suspect

Question Of Whether Comely Mrs. Verna Taylor Slain by Brig.-Gen. Denhardt Unanswered

Shelbyville, Ky., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The three brothers of comely Mrs. Verna Taylor were charged today with the murder of Brigadier General Henry Denhardt after venal bullets had taken forever from a jury the question as to whether the portly 61-year-old veteran of three wars had killed his 41-year-old fiancée.

The former Kentucky lieutenant-governor and adjutant general was to have gone on trial for a second time today at nearby Newcastle, charged with her slaying. His first trial last April ended with a deadlocked jury.

With that case wiped off the court record, Kentucky law that brought the general to justice moved against the pretty LaGrange, Kentucky widow's brothers, Roy, Jack and Dr. E. S. Garr, who waived the processes of the law fully and non-committally in the Shelby county jail here on charges they killed the general last night.

The murder warrants sworn to by County Attorney Coleman Wright, who said arraignment before the county judge was deferred until Friday to allow Rhodes Myers, chief of Denhardt's counsel, time to return the general's body to Bowling Green, Ky.

Terms Crusades Excuses for Invading Other States

CREATES STIR IN EUROPEAN CRISIS.

Commissar Declares Campaign Against Communism Merely Aiding Facists

Geneva, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, communist Russia's foreign commissar, bitterly attacked anti-communist crusades of Germany, Italy and Japan before the League of Nations assembly today, terming them only excuses for "invasion of other states and breaches of international treaties."

He called on the assembly to "call a spade a spade and aggression aggression, or whatever slogan it decorates itself with."

The heavy-jowled Russian oratory created a fresh stir in the cross-play of European rivalry in the Mediterranean—a situation which had been relieved by the prospect of a face-saving formula to win fascist Italy's participation in the international piracy patrol.

Obviously referring to the three anti-communist powers, Litvinoff declared:

"In a burst of inexhaustible love for the near and distant peoples, they proclaim their mission to be the freeing of those peoples from communism."

"To carry out their self-appointed mission of conferring great blessings on other nations, they are ready to spare no energies and resources of their own people, they are ready to reduce to the minimum its most elementary material requirements and leave it on hunger rations only to have sufficient arms to root out communism in other countries."

The League of Nations' special advisory committee, seeking a formula to curb the Sino-Japanese war, was called into session today, with a representative of the United States sitting in to give his government's view.

Potato Producers Ballot Wednesday On Setting Goals

Every Farm Yielding 200 Bushels or More Entitled to Vote in Referendum on Quotas

R. R. Bennett, Pitt county farm agent, today declared there were 258 commercial potato farms in this county which entitle the landlords or both landlords and tenants to vote in the referendum on establishing crop goals for 1938.

The referendum will be held at Griffon, Bethel and Greenville tomorrow and farmers unable to go to the polling places tomorrow may cast their vote at the county agent's office on Thursday.

Farms producing 200 bushels of potatoes or more are eligible for votes under the program. If a landlord produces a larger quantity of potatoes, each tenant growing 200 bushels or more is entitled to a vote.

The golden text was from Leviticus 19:4. "Turn ye not unto idols, make not to yourselves molten gods; I am the Lord your God."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Heb. 11:3).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "A material world implies a mortal mind and a creator. The scientific divine creation declares immortal Mind and the universe created by God."

Eastern Carolina Farmer Recommends Ruma-Ban

Prominent Merchant and Planter Declares New Treatment Ideal for Rheumatism and Neuritis

Read what Mr. Clarence L. Hardy, of Maury, N. C., one of North Carolina's outstanding citizens, has to say about RUMA-BAN. Mr. Hardy is a well known farmer, business man and bank director, and we feel certain that a large part of the people in Eastern North Carolina know of him.

Gentlemen:

I take pleasure in saying that your RUMA-BAN helped me very much and I gladly recommend it to any one suffering from Rheumatism or Neuritis.

Yours very truly,

CLARENCE L. HARDY, Maury, N. C.

Since RUMA-BAN has brought relief and comfort to Mr. Hardy and thousands of others in every walk of life, suffering with Rheumatism or Neuritis, certainly it should do the same for you.

Your physician will tell you that your rheumatism, neuritis or lumbago is probably caused or aggravated by excess uric acid or other poisons in the system. This being true you will find that one safe prescription is RUMA-BAN. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast and in a short while the poisons will be out of your system. You will experience again freedom from those nagging, torturing aches and pains because you will have gotten to the bottom of the trouble.

RUMA-BAN is on sale at your favorite drug store. Try a bottle today.

In these days of false bargains and cut prices on jewelry merchandise of unknown value, we again declare our principles, as a note of reassurance to the people of this community.

1. This is a reputable jewelry store, owned by a professional jeweler.

2. We sell only merchandise that belongs in the jewelry store—precious stones, precious metals, fine watches, etc. Every article must pass rigid tests before we offer it to you.

3. We do not offer you "bargains." For the only true bargain is full value for your money.

4. Our prices are fair. But we will not lower our standards to meet low prices of inferior merchandise.

5. Our expert advice on any purchase costs you nothing. We would rather tell you the truth and lose one sale than lose you as a customer for good.

—OUR DAY—

By EDW. W. HEARNE

(With Apologies to Mrs. Roosevelt)

New York City, Sept. 19 (midnight). We thought when we first glimpsed the skyline of New York, upon our arrival from France that we would never again see anything so beautiful. . . but, after spending two weeks on a bus last night, it looked even more beautiful than before.

We arrived at eleven-forty daylight saving time (ten-forty eastern sensible time) and by the time we had registered, secured a room, ect, ect, it was well on toward 2 p. m.

Every bus, every train, every motorcycle brought veterans by the score—by five o'clock every available nook was crammed—and still they poured in—one contingent from Los Angeles came all the way on motorcycles—forty three of them. New York has gone wild—every conceivable prank is being played—it makes us feel sorry for the traffic cops and those in charge of the upkeep of law and order who are trying their best to be regular fellows even at the breaking point of a super-human's patience—we believe in being temperate even in joking—and we are proud of the fact that in all of the uncalled for demonstrations not a North Carolinian cap has been seen among them—do not get the idea that the North Carolinian delegation are "sissies"—far be it—we are having our fun . . . but within reason—we are proud of the state whose name appears on our cap and we want the stranger we meet to become friends of the greatest state in the greatest nation in the world.

The theatrical district from the young fifties to the old thirties (52nd street to 38th street) was blocked at 7:30 p. m. owing to the throng that lined Broadway—all motor vehicles were forced to detour to 8th and 6th avenues—for the sidewalks along Broadway and Seventh Avenue were so jammed that walking was impossible—by nine o'clock it was impossible to move even in the street—bands from every state pushed their way through the mob . . . playing the old songs of "In-18"—thousands on Times Square sang the words—"Beautiful Katy," "Pack Up Your Troubles," "Long Long Trail," and "Over There."

What tomorrow will bring forth is uncertain for surely they will not be able to think up any new stunts over night.

As we passed through Washington at 2 a. m. we thought of our beloved president and hoped that he was sleeping peacefully between the tribulations of yesterday and the trials of tomorrow—

We will tell you more Monday night when the convention will be one day old.

Raleigh Has Two Budding Ace Reporters Who Are Like to Make Star News Hawks in Few Years

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—Here's a hot tip to managing editors and publishers. Raleigh has two budding ace reporters and cameramen who are likely to make the stars news hawks of the celluloids look pikers in comparison.

They are Worth Lewis and Billie Weathers. Neither is more than 12 so this tip should be filed for reference some years hence.

Late one afternoon recently, this bureau's correspondent visited the governor's office in the capitol; found that "Governor Hoey is down street getting a Coca Cola, he'll be back in ten minutes," loitered about waiting for his return.

In the corridor were two small boys, one clutching somewhat nervously, a small kodak. Almost awesomely they peered into the governor's office, jumped back when they thought someone was looking. Queried by the correspondent, one volunteered "We're going to get out a newspaper and we want a picture of the governor."

"We're going to be reporters," proudly announced the other, "We've been riding around all day on our bicycles, looking for a wreck, or something to happen." Then rather sadly, "But it didn't." The correspondent assured them he'd see that they got a picture of the governor. They fairly glowed with gratitude.

Shortly the governor came strolling back. With characteristic affability he gladly posed for the youngsters outside the capitol; took them into his office; sat himself down at his desk, assumed exactly the busy pose they wanted; allowed them to snap him again; shook hands heartily; congratulated them on their initiative; sent them on their way two very happy youngsters.

They've made a fine start. They ought to become good newspaper men.

The population of Maine is 99.7 per cent white.

the dark ships

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

SYNOPSIS: Neill, a young federal agent, finds his beloved Janet, a gun and Prescott Fanning's freshly shot body locked in a cabin on Fanning's yacht at Abalom's Harbor, Md. Neill hides her nearby in a disused liner, then joins Mark Bonniger, local investigator. When Neill learns Janet didn't shoot the flashy swindler, he suspects queer little Eyster, who hated Fanning. Also on hand are Kettering, a Baltimore lawyer, and Ira Buckless, a tough who trails Neill. The dark ships are searched, but Neill and Janet cleverly dodge the searchers. Neill is having a friendly chat with Bonniger when they are hailed from the yacht. They row out.

Chapter 32

Buckless Talks

THEY went aboard. The lights were off. Their electric torches revealed that the doors of the forward hatch, the dining saloon and the after companionway had all been forced. Down below, the yacht was a scene of wreckage. At first glance it appeared as if somebody had wantonly torn and smashed his way through the cabins, but upon closer examination it was clear that there had been a painstaking search for something. Neill thought: Buckless!

"What was he looking for?" asked Wilson.

"Some loot that Fanning had or that the murderer thought he had," said Bonniger. "Judging from the general ruin, he didn't find it. That's all to the good."

Bonniger was only one step from the truth.

"He was scared off on the night of the murder," Bonniger went on, "and tonight he came back to look again for it."

Forsythe said: "I think I scared him off this time too, sir. When I was rowing out I heard oars up the inlet. But by the time I had got aboard, he had landed."

Longcope, Wilson and Trueman rowed back to the shore, the sergeant to spread what men he had to search through the village. Bonniger and Neill remained on board to make a closer examination. It was evident that the man had worn gloves because there were no fingerprints to be found anywhere. He had torn up the carpets, slit the mattresses and cut open the pillows. He had even gone down into the bilge under the cabin floors. Here he ran into some grease, for they found the print of a whole hand under a hatch cover.

"He was wearing gloves, sure enough," said Bonniger examining it. "Pigskin gloves of all things!"

There was nothing more to be done aboard. Forsythe put Bonniger and Neill ashore in the dinghy and returned to his post. The news had spread around the village and a small crowd of men in various stages of undress was waiting on the wharf. Newspaper men and villagers. They fired questions at Bonniger. He led them across the road and into the store to look them over under the lights.

Kettering was in the thick of the crowd and on the edge slouched the uncouth figure of Ira Buckless. Neill edged around behind the latter without attracting his notice. Buckless was closely attending to the questions the reporters were asking and Bonniger's answers. Neill took note of a bulge in the right-hand pocket of his jacket, and with delicate fingers pulled the pocket open a little. Inside lay grease-stained pigskin gloves.

Neill moved away from him. He had no intention of passing on the tip to Bonniger. He could not risk a show-down until he had proof that Buckless was the killer.

However, Bonniger's keen glance picked Buckless out as the only completely dressed man in the crowd before him. "Hey you, whatever your name is—I mean the big fellow there," he said sternly. "I'd like to ask you a few questions. Come back into the office with me, will you?"

Buckless looked around scowling, made up his mind that escape was impossible and, pushing through the crowd, went with Bonniger. Neill remained in the background. Anxious as he was to keep in touch with what was going on, he knew that for him to be present at this scene would only precipitate disaster.

The Soiled Gloves

VIRGIL, uneasy about the fingers in his cracker boxes, was shepherding the crowd out on the porch. As the floor cleared, Neill saw a pair of soiled, trampled gloves lying there. Virgil pounced on them. "Here! Here!" he cried running to the office with them.

Neill went into the hotel and paced his room in a torment of suspense. What was going to come of this interview? During the last two days Buckless had had reasons of his own for keeping his mouth shut about Janet, but Bonniger was pretty sure to get him in a corner. And what then?

In a few minutes there was a knock on the door. When he opened it, Neill stiffened at the sight of the waiting constable. The man said: "Mr. Bonniger says he's sorry to disturb you, but will you please come down to the store?"

The crowd was still hanging around the store when Neill passed in, talking over what had happened in low voices. He saw Eyster in the group with the top of his pajamas tucked in his pants. Eyster grinned at him in his crazy fashion, and nodded to assure Neill that he could depend on him.

Neill entered the little office at the back. Bonniger was there with Sergeant Wilson, Kettering and the hulking Buckless. Bonniger's greeting was unchanged. So nothing serious could have happened yet. Buckless on the other hand was sweating and uneasy. Kettering's face wore its usual pleasant mask. The soiled gloves lay on the desk. Bonniger said:

"I picked up this fellow on suspicion of having broken into the yacht. He swears he has never been aboard her."

Neill coolly looked Buckless over. The big fellow showed his teeth.

"The gloves were picked up on the floor of the store," Bonniger continued. "Anybody in the crowd might have dropped them. I have no proof as yet that this is the man we want, but I have trapped him into an admission that he knew Fanning, and I have decided to take him into custody until I find out how much he does know."

"How can I help you?" asked Neill.

Bonniger smiled. "He has intimated that you know more about this case than you have let on."

"The usual red herring," said Neill easily.

"Sure. But I thought you wouldn't mind confronting him."

"Certainly not. Why does he pick on me?"

"Aah! you're a cool hand all right," growled Buckless. "You know what I know about you?"

There was nothing for Neill to do but brazen it out. "Well, spill it!" he said.

"This guy is a federal agent," Buckless said to Bonniger. "I don't know what his right name may be, but he goes in the department by the name of Neill Tryon."

"I know it," said Bonniger. "So what?"

"He knows the girl in this case," Neill laughed out. "That's a good one!"

Kettering led the laughter of the others. But support from this quarter only angered Neill.

Looking For Revenge

"SHE was his girl," Buckless asserted. "Fanning took her away from him, and he was looking for revenge!"

"How do you know all this?" asked Bonniger.

"Fanning himself told me."

"How did you know that this was the man called Neill Tryon?"

"I seen him in Fanning's company Monday night."

"Under what circumstances?"

"I went to Fanning's room to report."

"Just a minute. What were your relations with Fanning?"

"I worked for him."

"In what capacity?"

"Body-guard."

"That's what I said. Fanning was a slick business man, and when he felt out-smarted a man sometimes the fellow would get sore and lay for him, and it was my job to protect him, see?"

"Ask him what Fanning's business was," put in Kettering.

"You heard the question," said Bonniger.

Buckless turned wary. "I don't know. Fanning was a slick operator, and I was just his strong-arm guy. He never told me nothing about his business and I never asked."

"Which may or may not be true," said Bonniger. "Let's go back a little. You say you went to his room Monday night to report."

"Yeah. And he says, 'Ira,' he says, 'I got a guy here who's entirely too nosy and I can't figure what he's after. Take a look at him through the door. I takes a squint and I says: 'I never seen him before, boss, but I bet he's one of these college-boy federal dicks. I can smell 'em them buzzards. I can smell 'em them buzzards.'"

Kettering laughed heartily.

"And then what?" asked Bonniger.

"That was all at the time," said Buckless. "But I seen Fanning again couple hours later and he says to me: 'Ira, you was right about that guy. I been through his pockets since I seen you and had a look at his papers.' And I says to Fanning: 'What the hell have the federal got on you, boss?' And he says: 'Not a thing in the world, Ira! It's a personal matter with that guy. His doll has fallen for me. Is that my fault?' And he laughs. He showed me a picture of the doll that he had took out of Tryon's pocket."

All Buckless' hearers laughed together. Bonniger said:

"Have you any proof of this yarn?"

"Only what I'm telling you," growled Buckless.

"Well, as the self-confessed strong-arm man for a swindler, your word doesn't carry much weight."

CAN PEOPLE REALLY TELL THE DIFFERENCE IN CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

The Best Answer is This...

Camels are the Largest-Selling cigarette in America

Year in and year out, Camel pays millions more for finer tobaccos. And smokers do appreciate the added pleasure this means to them!

CAMEL'S use of choicer, costlier tobaccos has been the subject of much discussion. The question has often been raised as to whether or not people could tell the difference.

The way smokers feel gives the answer! Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in America... or the world.

If you are not a Camel smoker, perhaps you, too, would enjoy a cigarette with a richer, cooler taste. Turn, then, to Camels. Put them to the severest test—smoke them steadily. As you enjoy Camels, you'll realize how true it is that there is no substitute for costlier tobaccos.

ENJOY BENNY GOODMAN'S SWING BAND FOR A FULL HALF-HOUR!

Tune in Benny's popular swingsters—hear his famous trio and quartette. Tuesdays—8:30 pm E.S.T. (9:30 pm E.D.S.T.), 7:30 pm C.S.T., 6:30 pm M.S.T., 5:30 pm P.S.T.—WABC-CBS.

Costlier Tobaccos in a Matchless Blend

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. Skillful blending brings out the full flavor of these choice tobaccos.

EVELYN CHANDLER, figure skater: "What an asset good digestion is! I smoke Camels during meals and after. They do help to keep my digestion in order."

GENE SARAZEN, golf champion: "I've walked, I guess, thousands of miles around golf courses with Camels. They never throw my nerves out of tune."

JOANNA DE TUSCAN, fencing champion: "I enjoy smoking so much—and I find that with Camels I can smoke often. Camels don't give me ragged nerves."

FRED McDANIEL, Texas rancher: "Me and Camels have been getting along mighty fine now for over 15 years. I never saw the beat of Camels for tastiness."

HERB LEWIS, Detroit ice hockey star: "I go for Camels in a big way. After an exhausting game—extra periods and all—they give me a 'lift'."

IRENE SHERWOOD, shopper: "Noon-time is one of my busiest times. That's why 'for digestion's sake'—smoke Camels' means so much to me."

SID WETZEL, tunnel engineer: "I work in the face of danger. My sentiments are—'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' Camels don't frazzle my nerves."

MRS. VINCENT MURRAY, homemaker: "Believe me, I appreciate how mild Camels are! Camels don't have any 'cigaretty' after-taste."

MRS. JOHN W. ROCKEFELLER, JR., society aviatrix: "I prefer Camels for steady smoking. I smoke as many as I please—they don't get on my nerves."

RAY WINTERS, radio announcer: "Camels suit me! And that goes for my throat especially. Can't remember when Camels ever scratched my throat."

a successful completion.
There is no better plan for taking care of the various activities of a community
than through the community
chest plan but efforts to set up such a plan in Greenville heretofore have met with failure because some of the agencies now making their own drives were unwilling
to come in under the joint
plan and take their pro rata
part of the proceeds from the same.

As a result of the individual activities here there has been much duplication in
the way of handling charities while other needy cases
have been overlooked or passed up. Along with the Community Chest movement
there should be a plan for the establishment of a central agency to act as a clearing house for the handling of all needy cases to avoid duplication and see to it that
each case is taken care of as far as possible according to its needs.

It is understood that the local ministers are assured
that some of the organizations that formerly blocked
the Community Chest idea
are now willing to come in under the plan and if this be the case the idea could possibly be put over in Greenville this fall. Experience of cities operating under the Chest plan has proven that it is the best way to procure
the necessary funds to carry on the community work.

If every civic club and
every other agency in the city will join the ministers in their present efforts to set up the Community Chest plan for Greenville the
movement can be put over.
It has proved to be the best
plan for other communities
and it should be the best plan for us.

Let's get behind it and
help to put it over.

MEXICAN SALOONS HELP HUSBANDS

Mexico City, Sept. 20.—(AP)—
Shop-owners and saloon-keepers
with their genius for selecting unusual names for their places of business, have performed a service
for stay-out-late husbands.

A common name given to bars is "mi oficina," or "my office." Thus any belated gentleman may inform
his wife, in all truth, that he has been at his office.

Another conscience saving name is
"reunion de los amigos,"—"get-together of friends."

A late arriving husband might find it hard, however, to get by
with "the dead rat," the name of one Mexico City beer parlor.

The average enlisted strength of the U. S. marine corps is about 16, 500.

IT'S YOUR FAIR!

(By Wm. H. Finkle)
The title of this article "It's Your Fair" should have the additional
sub-title "You Can Make or Break
It" and when I say make or break your Fair, I mean just that! But while you are making the Fair you are helping to make your community a better place to live in, for the Fair by offering prizes for better
grade farm products, cattle, horses
and the myriad of other things for which premiums are offered, help
to stimulate an interest in growing
better crops, raising better livestock,
enables the women of a community
to see what their sisters are doing
in the way of baking, canning, sewing and other handwork.

A farmer, seeing his neighbor win
a blue ribbon or cash prize for a product grown on land similar to his, thinks "If Jim can do that on his land—so can I," and next year
another exhibit is offered at the Fair.

A Fair makes your community a better place to live in for this reason.
Any city, town or village that is dependent on crop results for their prosperity, has a live interest in superior farm products. When the farmer has made a good crop
and receives a good price for it, everybody benefits. He has extra money to spend for the needed
things such as clothes for himself,
and family and also for the things
that are so-called luxuries but help
to make life bearable, automobiles,
radios, and hundreds of other things I might mention. The merchant is made happier by the fact that his merchandise is selling and
he in turn has extra money to spend.

Another factor to consider as to why a Fair helps the town in which it is held is this: Before the Fair,
billboards for a radius of 40 and 50 miles proclaim the news that a Fair is being held in, we'll say
"Greenville," because it is the Pitt County Fair, we are interested in.
That starts people talking and planning to visit the Fair as it is a break in the usual run of amusement fare and when a good Fair
is presented it impresses the visitors with the idea that the town is
a live community and also a good place to shop and also bring his product to market, as during the Fair week he fees the merchants at their exhibit booths and sees merchandise on display that in many cases he did not know could be bought in that town. He makes a holiday of his visit to the Fair by going to the shows that are offered
—the young folks go on the rides
and it is the one occasion when the amusement park is brought right to his front doorstep.

And right now I am going to ge-
down to the reason for this article
and also the title "It's Your Fair."

During the time that preparations have been under way for presented the "Pitt County Fair" it has been my pleasure as one of the assistants to Mr. A. J. Grey, the directing manager of the Pitt County Fair, to interview the merchants
of Greenville to ask their support
of one of our projects—a project that is important. Namely the Premium Catalogue which lists the prizes we will award for superior exhibits. Many of them pledged their support while others seemed absolutely indifferent as to whether or not a Fair was held. I know and you know that, previous to last year the Fair was a Fair in name only. I agree on that point, but—that's past and last year premiums
were paid as promised for the first time in years and that alone should have convinced the skeptics that a new era had arrived. This year
the premium list has been enlarged
and more prizes will be offered and awarded than last year. A new fairgrounds has been obtained, new buildings constructed and plans are going forward for the best Fair
that Pitt county has had in years.
And it is going to be a Fair! Agricultural displays will be featured
while the carnival will be secondary, and while we are on the subject of carnivals allow me to say this. It is needless to say that a Fair without a carnival would not be a real Fair—you will find carnivals
at every Fair in the United States. And we believe in obtaining the Kaus United Shows we have been fortunate in this respect
—the Kaus Shows enjoy the reputation of being clean in every respect and fair in their dealings
with patrons—no gambling devices
are allowed or tolerated.

The Pitt County Fair is NOT asking for cash donations for its support. Every dollar spent with us in the form of advertising—display
space, admissions, etc., we expect to
and will give value received, but we do ask your full hearted cooperation
so that we may have a bigger and better Fair each year and besides,
It's Your Fair!

RHEUMATISM STUDY PLANNED BY MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18.—(AP)—
A cure for rheumatism is being sought by the University of Michigan.

A clinic will be established in
which specialists in chemistry, dietetics, surgery and bacteriology will concentrate their efforts in a study
of the malady about which science
knows little.

Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, director of the department of internal medicine, says rheumatism is one of today's major medical problems.

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Sept. 21.—R. Grady Johnson, director of the penal division,
has a nice leather cushioned chair,
easy to sit in and just right to put
the feet on a desk; but he's not happy about things yet. He hasn't any office to put the chair in. At present he still to be found in the office here—store—and it's occupied by Oscar Pitts, superintendent of prisons.

Saving of some $14,000 to the state by reason of production of enough cans of tomatoes to feed
the 10,000 inmates of prisons and penal institutions was brought about largely through a systematic campaign initiated last year by Capus Waynick, then chairman of the State Highway Commission.

In 1937 the state produced approximately 40,000 gallon cans of tomatoes, just about half enough
for use by the prisoners. Mr. Waynick took the position that there is no reason enough tomatoes could not be grown on state farms by prison labor to make up the deficiency. He started a drive to that end, with the result that this year
the state prison farm grew and canned 95,000 gallons, more than enough to feed the inmates. Prices
being an average of $3.00 per dozen
cans, the saving pushes $14,000.

All decisions handed down by the Supreme Court Wednesday will be in cases argued before the new
seven-member bench since August 31. There were no cases left undecided when the court recessed this Spring term this year, according to Edward Murray, Supreme Court
clerk.

Two capital cases, involving three defendants, were argued at the first sitting of the Fall term, and decisions may be handed down in them. These life or death sentences will affect William (Pete)
Bell and Sam Rodman, Jr., Beaufort county negroes convicted of murder, and Thomas Madden, Surry negro, under death sentence for first degree burglary.

New books just received by the State Historical Commission include
Annals of Lincoln county, North Carolina, by William L. Sherrill, Charlotte minister; The History of Old Tyson and Rutherford Counties, by Clarence W. Griffin, Rutherford county historian; Andrew Jackson, Portrait of a President, by Marquis James; Printing in the Americas, by John C. Oswald; Encyclopedia of American Quaker
Genealogy (Vol. 1 North Carolina)
by William Wade Hinshaw; Contri-

Addition to the list of counties
having ABC stores of Tyrrell makes 28 counties in which the sale of liquor is now legal in North Carolina. Reports from Greensboro, in officially dry Guilford, are to the effect that there was no great difficulty in buying it there before, dur-

State-Davidson football game last Saturday.

Boston Tea Party made History in Colonial Days
American Oil Company makes History
in 1937 with
Greatest AMOCO-GAS

The history of America is a story of courage . . . of an unconquerable spirit
that turned a colonial wilderness into the most productive country in the world.

It's a big jump from the small towns
of colonial days to the great cities of the present! And it's a big jump from the transportation of the eighteenth century
to that of 1937. The story of the automobile and of the development of better
motor fuels is an interesting chapter in American history. American Oil Company is proud of the major part it has played in this story!

American Oil Company revolutionized
the automotive industry—made possible
today's high compression motor—by introducing Amoco-Gas, the first and

original special motor fuel.

Amoco-Gas, for years, has held more world's records than any other motor fuel! Time after time it has been proved the world's best.

But recently new scientific developments made this world's finest motor fuel even better. New processes were invented and patented . . . new equipment perfected . . . the greatest and
most modern refining unit in the world
was made even more modern.

The result is that the new Amoco-Gas
is the greatest in our history! It gives even better performance, smoother operation than last year's superb Amoco-Gas! Always the best—now better than ever!

session on the 8th day of September, 1937, a quorum being present,
as follows:

1. That a special election shall be held on Saturday, the 16th day
of October, 1937, within the territory of the Hollywood-Cox School District in Pitt County, the boundaries of said district being a matter
of record in the office of the Board of Education of Pitt County, for the purpose of voting upon the proposition, "For annexation of the Hollywood-Cox School District to the Chicod School District with an annual tax levy at the same rate and not exceeding 50 cents on the one hundred dollars assessed valuation
of all property as that previously levied by the Chicod School District," and "Against annexation of
the Hollywood-Cox School District
to the Chicod School District with an annual tax levy at the same rate
and not exceeding 50 cents on the one hundred dollars assessed valuation of all property as that previously voted by the Chicod School District."

2. The following place is hereby designated as the polling place for said election: Hollywood School House.

3. That H. M. Stokes is hereby appointed Registrar, and M. K.
Porter and Lonnie McGowan are appointed judges of said election.

4. That a new registration of the qualified voters of the Hollywood-Cox School District is hereby ordered, and notice of said new registration is hereby given to all qualified voters of said district.

5. The books for the registration of voters will be open at the Hollywood School House on the following dates: Saturday, September 18, 1937; Saturday, September 25,
1937; and Saturday, October 2, 1937.
Saturday, October 9th, 1937, is designated as challenge day. On all other days, except Sunday, between September 18th, 1937 and October 2, 1937, the registration books will be open at the residence of the said
Registrar in said district.

6. That an annual tax will be levied against all property within
the Hollywood-Cox School District
at the same rate but not exceeding fifty (50) cents on the one hundred dollars assessed valuation of all property as that previously voted upon the Chicod School District for the purpose of paying its pro rata
part of the indebtedness previously incurred by the Chicod School District, the amount now owing by said Chicod School District being $32,500.00 with interest thereon at 4-1/4 per cent.

High Gridders Open Season with Nashville Team Friday

SCHEDULE HAS NINE CONTESTS

Howard Hodges Out For Present With Knee Injury

The Greenville High school football season will open Friday at 3:15 when the "Flying Phantoms" meet the gridiron eleven of Nashville High school.

The Nashville team is coached by J. M. Auman, who boasts an enviable record at that school. Other teams on this year's Nashville schedule include Tarboro, Henderson, and Methodist Orphanage school. Nashville has already played one game this year against Red Oak, winning 6 to 0. With this game's experience in their favor Nashville will probably give Greenville all they wish to handle.

No starting line-up has been announced as yet by Coach Dally. However, the backfield will probably be chosen from Kenneth Henderson, Baxter Clark, John Laursen, William Harris, and Thomas Parrish. Line-men probably will be chosen from the following: ends, Howard Hodges, Hubert Roberts, Peg Fleming, Charles Patterson, Charles Robert, Ernie Clark, Earl Kirtrell, Thomas Swain, John Vincent, guards, Wavland Tucker, Trotman Nobles, Jack Mose, Bertie Jover, center, Charles Williams and Du Bose Simpson.

A slight knee injury, sustained in practice last week may keep Howard Hodges, veteran end-out of the first game. It is thought, however, that the knee will be in good enough condition that Hodges will see some action.

The revised schedule for the season is as follows:

- Nashville (here) September 24
- Open (there) October 1
- Kinston (here) October 8
- Morehead City (here) October 15
- New Bern (there) October 22
- Farmville (there) October 29
- Tarboro (there) November 5
- Goldsboro (here) November 11
- Washington (here) November 24

ED CLARK CONTINUES FINE GRID EXPLOITS

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—One of the outstanding backfield performers on the South Carolina team, which plays North Carolina at Chapel Hill Saturday, is Ed Clark, junior. Clark, whose brothers have been known far and wide for their fine football performances at South Carolina for the past eight years, hails from Gaffney. He was one of the sparkplugs in South Carolina's 45 to 7 victory over Emory and Henry Saturday. Clark set the scoring fireworks with a pass to Ed Stillwell, netting 68 yards and a touchdown. Clark is a triple threat. He excels particularly in the role of "coffin corner kicker."

GAMECOCK "SUBS" HAD GOOD TIME SATURDAY

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—Three sophomore subs on the South Carolina team, which encounters North Carolina at Chapel Hill Saturday, had a big day at the expense of Emory and Henry last week-end. The three boys—Gene Robinson, Heber Stroud and Dick Little accounted for five of the seven touchdowns in the feature run of the afternoon. No doubt these three players will get a chance to demonstrate their wares against the Tar Heels Saturday.

NEW YORK CONTRIBUTES 48 OF 58 NYU GRID PLAYERS

Chapel Hill, Sept. 20.—Forty-eight members of the New York University football squad, which faces the University of North Carolina in New York City on October 9, are natives of the Empire state. New York City alone contributes 36 of the total 58 players. The state of New Jersey furnishes six, and Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Virginia, one each.

Maybe It's Fortunate For UNC.

Chapel Hill, Sept. 20.—Maybe it's fortunate for North Carolina that South Carolina isn't playing its first game of the season when the two teams clash here on September 25 in the Tar Heels' first game. The Gamecocks opened their grid season against Emory and Henry at Columbia Saturday. Don McAllister, South Carolina coach, who has been sending teams out for 11 seasons, has never seen one of his clubs scored on in an opening game.

Probable Pitchers

Probable pitchers in the majors today follow:

- American League: Cleveland at Washington—Hudlin (12-10) vs. Ferrell (13-18); Detroit at Boston (2)—Poffenberger (10-4) and Gill (9-3) vs. Wilson (15-9) and McKain (8-6); Chicago at Philadelphia—Dietrich (8-9) vs. Williams (4-1).

National League

- New York at Chicago—Gumbert (9-10) vs. French (14-10); Brooklyn at St. Louis (2)—Hoyt (8-8) and Marrow (1-0) vs. Krist (2-0) and Johnson (10-11); Philadelphia at Cincinnati (2)—Walters (14-13) and LaMaster (13-18) vs. Casarella (1-5) and Klehans (0-1); Boston at Pittsburgh—MacFadden (13-14) vs. Tobin (3-3).

Forty-five special state legislative sessions were called in 1936.

QUAKERS WORK IN SCRIMMAGE

To Meet Teachers In First Encounter On October 2

Guilford College, Sept. 21.—The first scrimmage of the season found the Quaker gridmen enthusiastic yesterday afternoon as Coach Block Smith kept two teams busy, alternating the players to get the idea of what each can do.

At one time the new Guilford mentor had a first team composed of all but two lettermen. Later the team included a number of new faces, so it is apparent that anyone who makes the team will work for it. And the competition has grown with the return in the last few days of the normal number of candidates. The latest addition is Jim McDonald, veteran tackle, who arrived this morning. There were a number of freshmen added to the squad today as the academic schedule got well under way.

Each day the practices will grow more difficult, for Smith is anxious to have the fellows in good physical trim for the opening contest here with Eastern Carolina Teachers October 2.

GAMECOCKS TO EXHIBIT POWER

South Carolina to Present Two Powerful Elevens

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—Two powerful lines and backfields, both heavy and fast, will represent the South Carolina team which will face North Carolina in the Battle of the Carolinas here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Gamecocks got off to a most auspicious start in their 1937 campaign Saturday by walloping Emory and Henry's Wasps 45 to 7. Don McAllister, Gamecock Coach, used four complete teams. Each outplayed the lighter Virginia eleven.

Tar Heel Coaches Johnny Vaught and Bill Lange, who had ringside seats at the slaughter, brought back glowing accounts of South Carolina's supremacy.

The two scouts thought the Gamecocks potentially strong in every department of play. They were particularly impressed with the blocking and running and jointly agreed that the Gamecocks are much stronger this season than a year ago. It looked more like a team playing in mid-season, said Coach Lange.

The South Carolina juniors had to take a back seat Saturday as several sophomores paced the attack. Five of the seven touchdowns were scored by sophomores. Best among the second year performers were Heber Stroud, Gene Robinson, and Dick Little.

Captain Jack Lyon and Ed Clary, only veterans in the No. 1 backfield did, however, keep pace with the Sophs. Clary's pass to Ed Stillwell, reserve end, netted 68 yards for the first touchdown. Lyon's passing and running was sensational.

The two Gamecock lines, averaging around 185 and 190 pounds apiece, gave little ground. Both were composed primarily of sophomores and juniors.

North Carolina's chief strength lies in its veteran backfield composed of Crowell Little, quarter; Tom Burnette and George Watson.

"No Game Today"

New York, Sept. 21.—The Yankees yesterday called off their game scheduled with the St. Louis Browns for today so as not to conflict with the American Legion parade. The game will be played as part of a doubleheader Wednesday.

SIX SETS OF BROTHERS NOW AT SOUTH CAROLINA

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—There are six brother combinations at the University of South Carolina: the Urbons, from Toledo, Ohio; the Craigs, from Central, S. C.; the Durhams, from Greenville, S. C.; the Stillwells, from Johnston, S. C.; the Hensons, from Chattanooga, Tenn., and the Makovics from Toledo, Ohio.

TAR HEELS WILL START SAME BACKFIELD GROUP

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—The same backfield that started the South Carolina game last season at Columbia will probably team for the Tar Heels against the Gamecocks here Saturday afternoon. It consists of Crowell Little, quarter; Tom Burnette and George Watson, halfbacks, and Art Ditt, fullback. Little is a triple threat. Burnette excels in punting and placekicking. Watson stands out as a blocker and broken field runner and Ditt is best at smashing or backing up the line.

THIS GAMECOCK HAS ALL-AMERICA NAME

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—If there's anything in a name, mark up an All-America guard for the University of South Carolina team which meets North Carolina at Chapel Hill Saturday afternoon at 2:30. He's registered under the cognomen: "Leonislaus Josephus Franciszeko Antonio Krotoszynski." And he added for the benefit of reporters, "187, guard, of Erie, Pa." He calls himself "Leo Krotz" for short. Says he finds he gets along better socially.

halfbacks; and Art Ditt, fullback. The Tar Heel line is strong in spots: Andy Bershak, right end; Steve Maronic and Henry Bartos, tackles; and Bob Adams, center. But there's considerable doubt about the other three posts which may be filled by inexperienced candidates: Gene Brickmeyer, left end; Jim Woodson and Elmer Wrenn, guards.

BACKS BILLED FOR DUKE GAME

Blue Devils and VPI Players to Engage In Duel

Durham, Sept. 21.—Those who like to see the ponies run—whether it be on the race track or gridiron—are promised a full evening of the latter variety when Duke's Blue Devils and V. I. clash in Greensboro's Memorial stadium on Saturday night.

The Gobblers, who issued storm warnings by easily taking Roanoke college apart, have three of the best prancers in Al Miller, triple-threat halfback, Mel Henry, the veteran who opened his final season so impressively against Roanoke, and Kinky Darnell, the sophomore fullback from Winston-Salem.

Duke's trio is also well-known—Elmore (Honey) Hackney, the Durham Dasher, Eric (The Red) Tipton, who steps into famous Ace Parker's shoes, and Bob (of the Stoneface) O'Mara, the battering fullback. Two more can be added to these three—Harwood Smith, veteran halfback, and George McAfee, sophomore, who has been showing promise recently.

And the lines of the two teams should play their parts in making the ponies go. They appear to be about evenly matched in experience and in size.

Saturday night's games looms as one of the toughest opening clashes Duke has ever had. Duke scouts report that the Gobblers' kept plenty undercover in defeating Roanoke Saturday, apparently saving most of their fireworks for the Blue Devils.

The Blue Devils are more than anxious to defeat the Gobblers' and then to add Davidson the following week in order to set the stage perfectly for the "battle of the south" with Tennessee at Duke stadium on October 9.

Coach Wallace Wade and his assistants are completing their part of the work in a rush this week in an effort to have the Blue Devils in the best possible shape for the encounter Saturday night.

NO LET-UP IN STATE DRILLS

Newton Starts Work For Carolina Game October 2

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—There was no holiday in the N. C. State football camp yesterday afternoon as Coach Williams (Doc) Newton began drills for State's game October 2 with Carolina—age-old grid enemy of the Wolfpack.

State opened its schedule last Saturday night with a 6-2 win over Davidson at Greensboro. It was the "Packs' first game under Newton and his two likable assistants—Bob Warren and Herman Hickman.

"I would like to have given the players a rest today, but with the Carolina game just two weeks off, we can't miss a day from work," said Newton yesterday.

"They played smart ball against Davidson and never let up," Newton said in referring to the Wolves game against the Wildcats, "but they will have to do much better if they stay in the game with Carolina."

Newton was pleased with the defense the Wolves set up to stop Davidson's ground plays, but worried over Davidson's ability to complete passes. He also would have liked better blocking and charging from the Wolves. Their tackling was all right, he said.

Winning that game meant much to State, the coaches, and the players. It gave the entire set-up a spirit of confidence and assurance that has been needed at State for years. State may not conquer Carolina, but there is a feeling here that the Tar Heels will have their

Pennant Parade

The Giants and Cubs stayed put yesterday—each club won and so New York's lead in the National League race remained at 2½ games. The Giants have 16 games to go; the Cubs 13.

In the American League the Yankees defeated the runner-up Detroit team and increased their lead to 11½ games. New York with 15 games to go needs only three victories to clinch the pennant—even should the Tigers take all their 14 remaining games.

MCALLISTER'S RECORD WAS BROKEN SATURDAY

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—Don McAllister, South Carolina coach, saw a pet record smashed Saturday. Prior to the Emory and Henry game, Coach McAllister held the distinction of never having had one of his teams scored on in an opening game. South Carolina walloped the Wasps 45 to 7. But Coach Don won't lose any sleep over those seven points. He brings his Gamecocks to Chapel Hill to do battle with North Carolina Saturday.

hands full in trying to check the spirited and fighting Wolves. Newton's team is one of action. Led in the backfield by two fiery halfbacks—Art Rooney and Eddie Berlinski—and paced in the line Saturday night by Jess Tatum, Carroll Conrad, ends, and Louie Mark center, it is a team that provides all the thrills fans pay to see.

The State-Carolina game will be played in State's Riddick Stadium before a Homecoming Day crowd. The kick-off has been set for 3 o'clock.

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Tickets for the N. C. State-Carolina football game here October 2, are on sale at the athletics office, State College. All seats are $2.50, tax included.

TRIO OF BACKS BEST GAINERS

Accounted For 209 Yards of 221 Made By Rushing

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Of the 221 net yards made on rushing in the N. C. State-Davidson game last Saturday night, 209 yards were made by three backs—Art Rooney and Eddie Berlinski of State and Teeny Lafferty of Davidson.

Berlinski topped the three with 74 yards made in 14 efforts to average better than five yards a trip. Berlinski also turned in the longest run of the game—a 42 yards sprint. He passed once and completed it to Rooney for a gain of 29 yards—the most yardage made on any of the eight passes completed.

Lafferty ran 20 times from scrimmage and picked up 69 yards net for an average of better than three yards a trip. He average 39 yards returned by Rooney for 28 yards. Lafferty completed four passes out of 15 for 36 yards. He also started a lateral that gained 18 yards.

Rooney gained 66 yards in 15 attempts for an average of a little more than three yards a trip. He averaged 37-5 yards on his kicks, but had only one returned—that by Lafferty for 27 yards. Two of Rooney's kicks went out of bounds inside Davidson's 20 yard line.

Rooney completed three passes out of 10 attempts for 28 yards. One was to Jess Tatum that scored State's winning touchdown. Rooney also intercepted one Davidson pass.

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 21. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, two lower to two higher with influences of steeper Liverpool cables offset by hedge selling.
December recovered to 8.68 with quotations generally one to three points higher shortly after the first half hour.
December advanced to 8.67 with the general market at midday two to four points net higher.
The market reacted in late trading under increased hedge selling and liquidation. Futures closed fairly steady, unchanged to two lower. Spot quiet, middling 8.93.

Scouting Leadership Course To Be Offered

An elementary course in scout leadership training will be offered at East Carolina Teachers college in October. It will consist of a study of the organization and management of the scout troop, and of the Scout's place in the community.
All white men, who are over 18 years old and interested in boys, are invited to attend. Scoutmasters and assistant-scoutmasters are urged to be present. Credit is offered for those who are working toward a Scoutmaster's key. A complete program, giving dates, speakers and topics, will be published later.

Crowell Retained To Head A. & N. C. In Spite Of Loss

In Fact, Head of State-Owned Rail Line to Keep Office Because In Last Report

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Most executives keep their jobs by showing profits for the concern they direct, but H. P. Crowell, head of the state-owned Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, is being kept in office because his road lost money during the last month for which a report was made; and is likely to show more red ink in its reports to come in the near future.
This paradox comes about by reason of the fact that the railroad is state-owned and as a result the powers-that-be must take into consideration the public's reactions as well as the efficiency with which the road is operated.
Governor Clyde R. Hoey hasn't said so—will not say so openly and you can lay to that—but one of the principal reasons he decided not to supplant Mr. Crowell is that July deficit, due, it is explained, to falling off of scrap metal exports to Japan through the port of Morehead City.
These deficits are very likely—almost certain, in fact—to continue as long as Japan does not use the port for scrap steel. The Governor knows that, and knows further that if he should make a change in the management of the A. and N. C. at the present time, he would get the blame for the deficits to come. This is particularly true in view of the fact that for the first six months of this year the railroad, under Mr. Crowell's management, showed a profit.
Backers of Mr. Crowell and opponents of whatever new head were named would immediately set up the cry "Now look what happened. Crowell was making money with the road, his reports showed it. The Governor put him out and so the road is losing money."
And so Governor Hoey is taking no chances on that. He's letting Mr. Crowell stay right where he is.

All Patrol Vehicles Equipped With Radio

Lieut. Lester Jones, head of Troop A of the State Highway patrol, said today all cars had been equipped with radio receiving sets and the system probably would be put into operation the latter part of the week. He added, however, he had received no instructions from Raleigh and did not know exactly when the radio would be inaugurated.
Several patrolmen from this group went to Raleigh today to return the roadsters, which have been equipped with receiving sets, just as the new coupes.

Negro Farmer Saving Land Thru Erosion

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Isaac Tonkins, Negro farmer living near Deep River erosion control area near High Point and first man in the area to sign a cooperative agreement to carry out the erosion control program, says that the only objection he has to the program is that he can't sell as much sand now as he used to sell before becoming a cooperator.
Isaac became a cooperator in the erosion control program in July, 1934 "for better or worse," as he says, and agreed to have 35 acres of his farm terraced. He helped the agronomist work out a complete cropping program which provided for an increase of 21 acres of legumes and small grain on his farm, the retirement of 5 acres to permanent pasture and hay, the construction of well protected terrace outlet channels, gully control work, the planting of shrubs, vines and smaller plants which produce food and cover for desirable forms of wildlife, and other good farming practices recommended by State College Extension Service.

FELLOWSHIP AND FINANCES DISCUSSED AT CIVIC CLUB

This run means children's lives are being jeopardized, not to mention those people who live in areas through which the run passes—which will include the new development on the Washington highway when it spreads wider along the highway.
Another impelling condition related by Mr. Swartz was the fact that the present dumping point for the sewage in Tar river is so little below the level that water is taken for the city's use that makes it dangerous. In fact during a recent drought it was observed when the river was at a very low level that the tide was observed affecting the level of the river at the local water and light plant. That meant only one thing—sewage was backing up to the place where water was being taken for the town's use.
Tobacco storage warehouses at the present time have an extra high insurance rate due to inadequate fire protection due to the inadequacy of water mains in those sections of the city.

The proposed handling of the situation, Mr. Swartz said, would be in a general way mean the building of two additional water standpipes the increase in size of mains where needed and the provision of adequate sewage disposal.
Not to be overlooked, Mr. Swartz indicated, is the fact that seventy percent of the money to be spent on mains and sewage will be for common labor and the work will be planned to take place during periods when Greenville has most people out of work and who, if not working on the proposed project, would have to be given money to keep them away.

Next most interesting figures were revealed: $142,500 for the water department, $91,500 for the light department, $118,000 for the gas department, and $39,000 for the sewage department is the present total bonded indebtedness for these purposes in Greenville.
Next Mayor M. K. Blount was called on for some remarks. He indicated a patent fact when he said citizens often do not know important facts about the town. But he said it was the intention of the city officials to keep the facts accessible to the citizens and all he asked was that the citizens would find the facts and offer suggestions and constructive criticism.
The Mayor compared Greenville's total bonded indebtedness with some progressive neighboring communities. The $911,000 total bonded debt sounded small in comparison with the millions of our neighbors.
In closing his remarks the Mayor said: "If the amount is voted that the Water and Light Commission is asking for, the tax rate will not be increased but the earnings of the commission will be increased and find its way in part to the city's general fund."
As County and City Health Officer, Dr. N. Thomas Ennitt said he could not resist, in view of the remarks already made, to urge cooperation for, in his opinion, a real emergency exists from a sanitation point of view. With the intake level of city water supply so near the disposal level, he said, the city is protected merely by a mechanical chlorination device, and its failure might mean a serious epidemic, and the use of Green's mill run to take off sewage endangered a large area. I sewage pipes and water mains had existed many less privies would be in use at the present time, Dr. Ennitt told the Rotarians.
