SEC. WALLACE OUTLINES U. S. COTTON POLICY

Declares Country To Retain Place In World Market

SIX-POINT PLAN IS MADE PUBLIC Emphasizes Administration's View Govt. Should Supplement Market Price

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace made public here today a six-point government cotton policy designed to "serve notice to the world that the United States intends to keep its place in the world cotton market."

He emphasized the administration view that the government should supplement the market price with payments to cooperating farmers on an allotted production goal, probably financed by a "reasonable" processing tax.

Pointing out that the south would "find it difficult to get large subsidies from the general treasury year after year," he declared "it may be that the farmers of the south may want to ask Congress to go back to the principle of letting the commodity itself bear the load of providing the needed funds."

"The processing tax on cotton, in effect, under the agricultural adjustment act," he added, "made the cotton program nearly self-financing for two and a half years up to the time the Supreme Court nullified the tax and handed millions of dollars of tax money over to the processors."

The permanent solution of the complex cotton problem, Wallace told a meeting attended by agricultural officials of nine cotton growing states, lies in a "middle course" which would continue "such moderate adjustment to production as would preserve and build up fertility of the soil and still allow production of at least as much cotton as the markets of this and other countries have been accustomed to take."

His "middle course" he said, would: 1. Continue "such moderate adjustment of production as would preserve and build up the fertility of the soil" and still allow production of at least as much cotton as the market could take. 2. Encourage greater consumption of cotton in ways that would raise the standards of living of all our people. 3. Provide for increased production. (Continued on Page Six)

Farm Bureau's Cry Of Reorganization Been Looked For

No Surprise at Federation's Demand for Eliminating Duplication of Effort in Experiments

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—No surprise was felt in the Department of Agriculture or anywhere else in informed circles here when the Farm Bureau Federation called for a reorganization of state agricultural agencies to eliminate the "duplication of effort" in farm experiments.

The quiet calm with which the "call" was met came by reason of the fact that the federation has for a long time been alternately sniping and firing lusty broadsides at Commissioner W. Kerr Scott and his attitude toward test farms — their location and control.

So unconcerned, at least outwardly, was the department that, Louis H. Wilson, press relations officer, smilingly said there would be no comment on the federation's action. Mr. Wilson would not even express any opinion about what the federation's secretary, E. F. Arnold meant when he said that the organization's objective is "single effort under dual management."

Discussing the matter only in response to persistent questioning, Mr. Wilson said that there has been the closest harmony and cooperation between the Department of Agriculture and the State college extension service. As for federal aid granted through the U. S. Department of Agriculture, he said there was no duplication of effort as the state simply puts up certain funds to match those granted by the federal government.

Mr. Arnold did not grow very specific in his criticism of "duplicate" or "double-header" activities, but it is recalled that while the 1937 legislature was in session, he continually called for consolidation of activities at the test farms, insisting that it would be good policy for the Department of Agriculture to turn over practically complete control to federal agencies.

Average of $28.20 Set During Week On Local Market

Weekly Report Includes Sales Through Yesterday Declared To Be Best in History of Greenville Market

WEEKLY SALES CARD table with columns for Pounds, Amount, and Average. Rows include Sales for week, Sales for season, Same week last season, and Sold this date last season.

What was described as the best weekly report ever issued on the Greenville tobacco market was released today, showing that more than a million and a quarter dollars were paid to farmers selling their weed here during the five days ended yesterday.

Compared with last year's figures, the report pictures an unusually bright outlook. The weekly average of $28.20 per hundred pounds, believed to be the highest for a corresponding period in several years, compares with $21.86 for the same week a year ago. Offerings for the five days ended yesterday totaled 6,244,304 pounds, compared with 4,446,536 during the corresponding period in 1936. During the five days, $1,760,644.59 was paid farmers as compared with $972,256.17 for the same week last year.

The season's figures compared to last year are almost as encouraging. So far this year 27,230,210 pounds have been sold for $6,244,304 for an average of $22.94 per hundred pounds. Offerings sold to this date last year totaled 17,325,970 and brought $3,749,600.12, an average of $21.64.

SET UP OF PWA TO BE CHANGED

Field Organization to Be Shifted to Regional Basis

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes announced today the field organization of the PWA would be shifted November 1 from a state to a regional basis "to achieve economies."

Ickes, PWA administrator, did not announce details of the new regional set up, but said it would be patterned after the "natural geographical sub-divisions of the nation frequently proposed by the national resources committee and embrace impending conservation legislation."

The PWA now has underway a $1,986,592,702 construction program embracing 2,980 projects either under construction, under contract or allotted.

The transfer of work from the present state offices to regional offices November 1, Ickes said, "will permit marked savings in overhead, supplies, equipment and personnel."

He said no new persons would be employed and regional staffs would be selected from present employees. Meantime the United States circuit court of appeals granted a temporary restraining order to prevent start of construction of the PWA $37,500,000 Santee-Cooper power and flood control project in South Carolina.

The order entered by the court with consent of counsel for both sides, allowed construction to be held up provided a total of $750,000 not to be withheld from the South Carolina service authority by Secretary Ickes and the PWA.

Lumberton Firm Gets Permission Run Line

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission has authorized the Ratley Transfer company of Lumberton, N. C., to operate a common motor carrier from points in Florida and between points in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York City, Akron and Cincinnati.

The application of John Dame Enright of Williamston, N. C., for a motor transportation brokerage license has been dismissed at his request, the commission reported.

Injury Proves Fatal To Parachute Jumper

Farmville, Va., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Glenn Allen, 17, of Batavia, N. Y., died today of injuries suffered last week in a fall with a ripped parachute. The pretty professional chute jumper died at a hospital here without regaining consciousness after a relapse last week-end.

JAPANESE DESTROY SHANGHAI'S CIVIC CENTER

Japanese bombs and artillery shells have destroyed the great Chinese civic center which housed the municipal government of greater Shanghai. Administration buildings, hospitals, library, museum and the athletic stadium were among the structures shot to pieces. Among those who inspected the ruins shortly after the shells stopped falling was James A. Mills, Associated Press war correspondent, who is seen standing (right) in front of the bomb-wrecked building.

TO OPEN DRIVE AT BREAKFAST

Plans for Community Chest Move Ahead Smoothly

Plans for the Community Chest campaign, which begins on Monday morning, are moving ahead smoothly, steadily and satisfactorily.

Beginning with a breakfast for workers at 8 o'clock Monday morning in the Woman's Club building, the work of raising funds for the social agencies participating in the Chest program will go forward to completion. How quickly and efficiently the task will be carried on depends upon two factors: those who will serve as workers and those who give. The first group should have in all persons willing to give from an hour to a week to this important work. The second group should include all persons in the city who are able to contribute from a dime to a thousand dollars for the work these sharing agencies will carry on.

It cannot be too strongly repeated that those who support this work with their gifts must remember that this year they are making one contribution instead of four and that they make their gifts with this in mind. On every hand are heard expressions of endorsement of this more satisfactory way of meeting social needs and indications that citizens are preparing themselves to share adequately in the program.

With the services of busy people being freely given and with the facilities of newspapers and theaters, as well as other organizations, ready to be used, those directing the campaign are enthusiastic about the outlook for a fine response to our First Community Chest campaign. Our slogan is "LET'S GO! and LET'S GIVE!"

Applicants To Take Marine Corps Exams

Examination of 50 applicants for enlistment in the Marine Corps will be held at the Marine Corps headquarters, Post Office Building, Savannah, Ga., during the month of October. It is announced by Captain A. C. Small, officer in charge. The Savannah office considers applicants from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and South Georgia. Application blanks and information relative to enlistment in the Marine Corps will be furnished upon request.

A Good Yarn Even If It Was a Joke

It was a good story, even if it did turn out to be just a gag. Reports were going the rounds today that the great "Mystini" who escaped from a vault and did other amazing stunts at a show here last night, accidentally locked himself in a bathroom last night and had to call for help before he could get out.

The story had it that "Mystini" was staying at a local hotel when he locked himself in the bathroom, but a check at the hotel disclosed that he was not registered. It was understood that he stayed in his house trailer parked behind one of the hotels, but whether or not he locked himself in and had to call for help could not be learned.

Arthur Farmers Plan Meeting For Monday

County Agent R. R. Bennett will discuss the nine-cent cotton loan by the government at the Arthur school Monday night. Also to be emphasized at the meeting will be the proposed farm bill and efforts will be made to have farmers express their opinion at session and also go to Winston-Salem for a meeting of the Senate Agricultural committee this month.

President Enjoys Sightseeing Tour

Lake Crescent, Wash., Oct. 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and party awaking after a night of torrential rains, found the sun breaking through and the storm blowing out, and made plans today to resume a motor trip around the Olympic peninsula.

On the morning program before reaching Lake Quinalt, near the southern end of the loop for a midday luncheon, was a 12-minute stop at Camp Snyder, CCC center nine miles west of here at Satho Sapho farther west a brief stop was to be made during which a crack logging crew was to "top" a big tree in view of the Presidential party.

SCHOOL TRUCK STRUCK BY CAR

None of Children Injured in Wreck Yesterday, However

An automobile driven by William R. Buttry of Chocowinity collided with a Pitt county school bus between Grimesland and Greenville yesterday afternoon, but none of the occupants of the bus or truck was seriously injured.

Two small girls on the truck received minor injuries on the head, but the injuries were not serious to warrant medical treatment. According to an investigation by Corporal L. L. Jackson of the State Highway Patrol, the school truck had parked to allow some children to get out when the automobile crashed into the side of it. The automobile was meeting the bus and Corporal Jackson said Buttry would be charged with reckless and careless driving. He declared the man must have been traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

Witnesses said the automobile ran off the highway to the right when the driver applied the brakes and then cut back to the left and struck the school bus. A fender, the gas tank and a tire of the truck were damaged, while the entire left front of the automobile was smashed.

The school bus, hauling children from the Grimesland school, was driven by Artis Hardee.

Noted Newspaper Writers Accept Bids To Tour N. C.

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Oct. 1.—The largest number of newspaper writers, editors, and magazine publishers ever to visit North Carolina at one time will tour the state on the 12 days travel tour of the Department of Conservation and Development. Twenty-six have already definitely accepted invitations for the tour beginning in Asheville October 22 and ending in Charlotte October 22.

Among press representatives will be Walter B. Pitkin, editorial director of The Farm Journal, New York; Dr. Clyde Francis Lytle, editor of Travel and Transportation, New York; F. H. Dietz, publisher of the American Traveler, New York; M. W. Burlingame, manager of the travel department of The National Sportsman, Boston; Mrs. R. E. Cochran, editor of the Highway Traveler, Cleveland, Ohio; and George Fort Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, Chattanooga, Tenn.

The Associated Press is sending Ted Gill from New York; the United Press its travel editor, George Mack Johnson.

CIVIL SESSION IS COMPLETED

V. A. Jackson Given Judgment Against Lumber Co.

This week's session of Superior court was completed before noon today after two major cases had been disposed of any number of divorces granted.

The first three days of the court was taken up in hearing a damage suit brought against the Atlantic Coast Line Railway by H. L. Tetterton, who alleged that his crops were damaged over a period of three years by highwater, caused by inadequate drainage facilities provided by the railroad. The plaintiff was awarded $1,185.

Thursday and Friday were taken up in hearing a $15,000 damage suit brought by V. A. Jackson against Coopersmith and Company, a lumber company, alleging the defendant breached a contract. The plaintiff was awarded a total of $6,200.

The will of the late Gray Corey was set aside, no opposition having been offered. Several divorces were granted during the term as follows: Z. M. Dixon vs. Syble Ray Dixon; Simon Tyson vs. Annie Tyson; Cinda Jones vs. William Jones; Lillian Pou vs. Sam Pou; Helen Best McBryde vs. Barney Venable McBryde.

The next term of Superior court is scheduled for the week of October 25 a civil session, followed by a week of criminal court the following week. Judge W. C. Harris, who was ill and unable to preside over this week's session, is expected to be back in the chair. Judge Hubert E. Olive to Lexington, made his first appearance here since he was appointed as a special judge at this week's session, substituting for Judge Harris.

A special civil term is scheduled for the week of November 22, with Judge Luther Hamilton of Morehead City presiding.

China Flatly Asks Action By League

Geneva, Oct. 1.—(AP)—China today flatly asked the League of Nations advisory committee on the Sino-Japanese war on which the United States is a consultative member, to declare her a victim of Japanese aggression.

The request embodied the draft resolution submitted the committee by Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the League, and demanded that the committee: 1.—"Condemn the violation of international law and contractual obligations" of which the resolution accuses Japan. 2.—"Condemn the illegal blockade of the Chinese coast." 3.—Declare the facts "constitute a case of external aggression."

Suspect Held After Spring Hope Murder

Spring Hope, Oct. 1.—(AP)—At the order of Coroner R. A. Bobbitt, 25-year-old Otis Moore was held on a technical charge today while authorities investigated the killing of Wilson Sykes, 20.

His skull crushed with a blow with a blunt weapon, Sykes was found dead in the yard of his home near here yesterday, a few hours after the coroner said, he had had an argument with Moore.

Britain And France Map Demand on Italy

London, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Britain and France today phrased the final draft of their implied demand on Italy for a show-down in intervention in Spain's civil war.

Admiral Yarnell In Condemnation Of Jap Bombings

CRUSH TERROR IN HOLY LAND

Great Britain Strikes at Arab Higher Committee

Jerusalem, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Britain struck with an iron fist today to crush a new wave of terrorism in the Holy Land. In a sweeping offensive mandate authorities outlawed the Arab higher committee and started rounding up its influential members.

With telephone communications from the city suspended and roads heavily guarded, police carried out their large scale operations before dawn.

Silently they surrounded houses of Arab leaders and searched them one after another. Dr. Khalidi, the mayor of Jerusalem, and Fuad Saba secretary of the higher committee, were reported seized and taken aboard the British cruiser Sussex.

The Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, head of the higher committee, was deprived of his office and rumor was that he had been arrested. (There was a Cairo, Egypt, report that the mufti had fled to the mosque of Omar and defied authorities to enter and arrest him.)

Decided Increase In Enrollment At Teachers' College

Two-Day Formal Registration Completed With More Than a Thousand and Students on Roll

The two-day period of formal registration at the college ended last night with over a thousand students enrolled, a decided increase over the figures for the same days last year.

The many additional students who are expected to enter during the next few days will push the total toward the eleven hundred mark. This number is even more significant in the light of the fact that all students enrolling now are entering college for a four-year course, as East Carolina Teachers College no longer offers the two-year course.

Freshmen make up over 300 of the total number registered. Friday found classes getting under way with many classrooms taxed to the limit.

The opening assembly of the term also was held today, with Dr. Carl Adams presiding. The ministers of the town had been invited to be present and be introduced to the student body.

The Rev. W. A. Ryan, chairman of the Greenville Ministerial Association, introduced each with a few apt words, and each responded briefly.

The Norman Gordon concert, scheduled for next Tuesday night, also was announced to the students.

The chapel committee, in charge of chapel programs, is composed of Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, chairman, Dr. Carl Adams, and R. C. Deal, faculty members; and a number of representatives to be chosen by the students.

Wilson Man Slain By Hit-and-Run Driver

Wilson, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Harvey Craft, 50, was fatally injured today by a hit-and-run driver, the fourth such death here in as many months. Coroner V. C. Martin said no inquest would be held.

Sharply Protests Attacks on Hankow September 25

SAYS FOREIGNERS STILL IN SECTION

Denies that Ambassador Had Declared Americans Had Left the City

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—(AP) Sharp condemnations of Japanese bombing of Hankow and the Hankow-Canton railway on September 25 came today from Rear Admiral Harry Yarnell, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet.

A Japanese spokesman had said the Japanese navy was informed by United States Ambassador Nelson Johnson that all Americans and other foreigners had been evacuated from Hankow and surrounding territory by noon of September 26. This Admiral Yarnell flatly denied, saying Ambassador Johnson issued no such information, but instead told the Japanese that foreigners would be evacuated from Hankow and the territory nearby after September 26.

"There are in the Yangtze valley several thousand foreigners, 1,900 of whom are Americans," Yarnell said. "Many of these persons will wish to leave China at various times and it is imperative that a safe route to reach one of the seaports on the Yangtze valley be agreed upon."

Meanwhile the Chinese defenders of Shanghai reported they were holding their own all along the line and in some sections sharply counter-attacking.

In the area of Kiangwan the Chinese reported their counter-attack resulted in a virtual rout of Japanese troops. The Japanese admitted Kiangwan's civic center buildings had been "evacuated" but contended their lines in the rear were unshaken.

The Chinese told of surrounding and annihilating 500 Japanese soldiers in that sector. A Japanese army spokesman said Japanese casualties in the last five weeks of fighting on the Shanghai front totaled 7,530 men.

Meantime Japanese were reported considering a further stringent warning to foreign powers to evacuate Nanking completely or face the danger of even more determined air raids.

Name Instructors To Head Series Of Safety Institutes

Conferences to be Held in Six North Carolina Cities Next Week To Emphasize Safety

Reflector Bureau of Columbia university, New York; Major Arthur Pulk, head of the Division of Highway Safety; and Miss Marion Telford, of the National Safety Council, will be instructors in a series of conferences or institutes of safety to be held in six North Carolina cities next week under direction of J. Henry Highsmith, director of the division of instructional service.

The state department of public instruction and the division of highway safety are cooperating in these institutes. Discussions will be based upon the state course of study; and as part of the program of safety principals and teachers will be acquainted with the plan for teaching pupils of legal age how to drive automobiles.

There will be lectures, discussions and demonstrations. The highway patrolmen will assist in every way possible. The institutes are designed for principals, teachers of physical education, agriculture teachers, athletic coaches and any teachers of social studies or any other subjects who are interested in this program.

The institutes will be held in Wilmington, Monday; Greenville on Tuesday, Raleigh on Wednesday, Greensboro on Thursday, Charlotte on Friday and Asheville on Saturday.

At each point the tentative schedule will be: 3:00 to 3:30 p. m.—Purpose of the conference — Dr. Highsmith and Major Pulk; Safety in the State Course of Study. 3:30-4:15—N. C. Regulations, Major Pulk. 4:15-4:30—The Safety Program, Dr. Stark. 4:30-5:00—What Other States are Doing to Teach Good Driving, Miss Telford.

American Legion Auxiliary.
The first meeting of the year of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Hicks Corey, with Mrs. Sudie Corey and Mrs. A. B. Corey assisting hostesses.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. W. R. Jones, opening with the Lord's Prayer, salute to the flag and reading the preamble.

Several members answered the roll call and minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

A very interesting report of the state convention held in Durham in July was made by Mrs. A. B. Corey and Mrs. J. Hicks Corey.

Each member present was given names to collect due from by our next meeting.

Mrs. Gray made a talk on the fair and urged everyone to help make the fair a success. Several members were given books of tickets to sell.

The Auxiliary voted to have another booth at the fair grounds this year for eating purposes. Mrs. J. Hicks Corey is chairman of this committee.

The following officers were installed for the coming year: President, Mrs. W. R. Jones; first vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Corey; second vice-president, Mrs. J. O. Edwards; secretary, Mrs. Geo. B. Reiman; treasurer, Mrs. J. Hicks Corey; historian, Mrs. D. M. Clark; chaplain, Mrs. Wiley Brown; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. C. F. Bland.

Plans for the year's work were discussed before the meeting adjourned.

The hostesses served ice cream, wafers and salted nuts.—Reported.

Scout Training Study Discussed At Session
The leaders of the Scoutmasters training course to be held on Thursday evenings starting October 7th met last night to plan the programs.

Every Scoutmaster and district Scoutmaster is urged to attend these meetings. Any Scout over 18 years old may take the course.

Leaders present at the meeting last night were Dr. R. L. Hildrup, chairman of leadership training; J. J. Stewart, Scout executive; George Thomson, assistant Scout executive; John Coward, Jr., assistant Scoutmaster from Ayden; Brassi Lanier, Scoutmaster of Greenville; and Roy Hardison, Scoutmaster from Stokes.

An interesting program was planned by these leaders.

HER MEMORY IS BETTER THAN HER EYESIGHT
Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—Belle Ryan, assistant superintendent of schools, confounded clerks in the automobile license testing bureau when she was asked to read an optical chart 25 feet away.

She did so rapidly and correctly, as the clerk learned when he walked forward and squinted at the letters.

"That's impossible," the clerk declared. "Human vision can't be that good. You're not supposed to be able to read the entire chart."

Miss Ryan walked out with an air of triumph, not revealing she could have recited the letters in total darkness with equal facility. Because of long experience in school work, she knew the chart by heart.

The saxophone is a combination of the clarinet mouthpiece with a single reed applied to a conical brass tube. It was invented by Adolphe Sax.

COOPERATIVE ASSO. SEEKS AID FARMERS

ing its travel editor, John P. Rhodes while the Cincinnati Times-Star is sending Kellogg M. Patterson from its Chicago Bureau. The Cleveland Plain Dealer, of Cleveland, Ohio, has assigned Harry W. Smith, its automobile and travel editor, to the tour.

The Boston Post will be represented by Howard A. Moulton, manager of its travel and resort department while the Christian Science Monitor is also going to send a representative.

North Carolina newspaper men on the tour will be Oscar J. Coffin, head of the department of journalism, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; Charles Parker, editorial staff, The News and Observer, Raleigh; Henry B. Martin, associate editor, The Journal and Sentinel, Winston-Salem and possibly others.

The purpose of this tour, according to the State Advertising committee, is to show the travel editors, writers, bureau executives, and travel counsellors just what North Carolina has to offer tourists in scenery, resorts, historical places, and recreational facilities, especially in the fall. The committee wants to convince the entire country that North Carolina's tourist season is not merely a summer season, but that it should extend through the fall at least until November 1.

A woman of 40 who is 5 feet 6 inches tall, should weigh around 146 pounds. A man of the same age should weigh about 150 pounds.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Grapes are very perishable. Do not try to break the bunches apart. Cut them with scissors.

Dip the tops of gift bottles of fruit and vegetable juices in bright-colored sealing wax.

Chilled soups require more seasonings than hot soups. Adding a slice of lemon to each serving helps.

Before adding batter to an ungreased cake pan rub the pan well with a cloth to make the surface smooth. That will make it much easier to remove the cake.

Water at drinking temperature makes an effective remover for grape or grape juice stains. It should be applied as soon as possible.

If kitchen knives are to be kept sharp they must be stored properly. Fit them into a grooved box. Knives become dull by rubbing against other articles.

For a quick dessert cut cupcakes through the middle, cover the lower half with sliced peaches, replace the tops and cover with whipped cream. A little coconut may be mixed with the whipped cream.

Fill halves of hard-cooked eggs with a tart sauce or relish. Then gutline salad, chop or fish platters with the cases. The leftover egg yolks may be used in creamed fishes.

It's better to have several pairs of inexpensive scissors in the household—rather than one expensive pair kept in mother's sewing box. They may be hung on hooks in various places in the kitchen or bathroom.

price you get. It does not guarantee 11c, 12c or any set price. What you get for your cotton will have nothing to do with the subsidy you receive. If you sell your cotton cooperatively in such a manner as to get the highest possible price, you will stand to gain by such intelligent marketing.

"If, for instance, you have good cotton, and are able to sell it for 12c through the cooperative association and on the day you sell the average on the 10 spot markets should be only 9c, you could still get your subsidy payment of 3c a pound.

"All farmers should keep this thought firmly in mind and remember that it is only good business to sell their cotton through their own organization where they are sure of getting the highest possible price as well as full grade and staple premiums."

CLOSE BATTLE IS LOOKED FOR

Teachers Meet Guilford There Saturday Afternoon

Guilford College, Oct. 1.—Indications point to an interesting football contest when Guilford opens its season here Saturday afternoon on Hobbs field against the East Carolina Pirate at 2:30 o'clock.

With the advent of a new coach, a stimulation of interest among the students, and a noted addition to the number of Greensboro spectators who are expected to be present, the game will have an abundance of color. Besides this, the battle will be all the more exciting because the teams have an equal rating, which lessens the possibility of a one-sided scoring spree.

News from the Teachers states that Coach Joe Alexander feels confident his proteges will revenge the 6 to 0 defeat suffered at the hands of the Quakers last year. He has three lettermen and most of freshmen in addition to the reserves of last season. Carpenter, Shelton, Martin and Pittman are expected to bear the brunt of the burden for the visiting team.

Coach Block Smith spent part of the afternoon practice period today drilling the men on pass defense and punt blocking and sent them through a number of dummy scrimmage plays. The fellows need to smooth out a number of places, but on the whole the eleven will go on the field Saturday in better shape than ordinarily on a count of two weeks' practice.

There is still doubt as to who will be awarded starting positions for the game, for Smith continues to change the men about, giving each as much experience as possible with every phase of the game.

DUKE'S DEVILS LEAVE FRIDAY

Complete Work Today for Clash With Davidson

Durham, Sept. 30.—Duke's Blue Devils were to complete preparations today for their 16th annual clash with Davidson's Wildcats at Davidson Saturday.

The session today will be the final one before the game, as the Wademen will leave here early tomorrow afternoon for Statesville where they will spend the night before going to Davidson Saturday morning.

Pass defense and line charge, the two departments which were most evidently off key in the opener with V.P.I. last week, were stressed in the Duke camp this week and the coaches are hoping that improvement will be noted in these two departments.

Davidson will likely give the Duke mentors an excellent chance to see if the pass defense is better for the Wildcats have been working hard this week on their aerial offense as Duke has on its defense.

Saturday's game sizes up as a passing exhibition as far as the Wildcats are concerned and fans will undoubtedly see Teeny Lafferty fling more than he has in any game for many years.

The finest individual show of the game—which looms as one of the best duels of triple-threat backs North Carolina will see this season—will be that of Lafferty and Eric (The Red) Tipton, who started out against V. P. I. last week like he would carry on where his All-American predecessor, Ace Parker, left off.

The Davidson attack, as is generally known, is built around Lafferty who does practically everything to the Wildcats in a backfield way. Tipton is made even more effective in the Duke backfield by the presence of a pair of other thrats in Honey Hackney, the Durham Dasher and Irish Bob O'Mara.

But Tipton is slated to bear a

The 1937 Pittsburgh football machine is virtually the same one that rode roughshod over the Washington Huskies in the Rose Bowl. Three starters have been graduated, but Coach Jock Sutherland has fine replacements to plug the gaps.

Pitt possesses a team of seniors. They have been playing as a unit since their sophomore year, and should be at their peak this fall.

As usual, Pittsburgh has a bruising schedule, so it behooves the boys to be on their toes. Pitt will face Notre Dame, Duquesne, Fordham, Wisconsin, Carnegie Tech, Nebraska, Penn State and Duke. A hardy group, indeed, but it is conceivable that the Panthers can stalk through this fall without tasting defeat. That, is, of course, unless somebody catches the team off guard (remember Duquesne?)

Coach Sutherland has a flock of promising youngsters coming along. These replacements may prove just the tonic for a senior eleven which is inclined to feel that it knows enough tricks to get by without exertion. There is nothing like a battle for the starting berths to keep a team alert.
To offset some of the losses through graduation, Pitt has Paul Revere Shaw (the Bomber to teammates), a regular end in 1935. He was forced out of action last fall because of injuries. Paired with smashing Bill Daddio, he'll give Pitt one of the greatest pairs of terminals in the U.S.

Shaw literally stormed his way into the Panther lineup in 1935.

YES, AGAIN

Yes, we are again calling your attention to the Community Chest drive which begins next Monday morning. We are doing this because the success of this drive means much to our city during the coming year. Instead of several individual drives for funds by the various organizations of our city this fall, it has been decided to use the Community Chest plan of soliciting all the funds in one drive and then prorating the funds to the different organizations on the basis of their budgets adopted by the Chest committee. If you have been contributing to the various organizations in years past this year you will lump all your intended contributions into one sum and give it to the Community Chest knowing that each organization will receive its proper share. Under the Community Chest plan there will be one drive for funds this fall, and one only, and when you give to the fund you can do so with the knowledge that you will not be called on again by the various organizations for additional help. The Community Chest plan has proved to be the best plan where it has been tried, and it should be the best plan for Greenville.

The essential thing to make it a success is for our people to give liberally in order that the goal set for the drive is reached. The goal set by the chest directors is based on actual needs and on figures compiled from the drives staged in former years by the various organizations and is conservative and should be reached easily. The success of the whole movement depends upon the willingness of our people to each do his or her part to see to it that enough funds are donated to reach the goal. If the goal is not reached each participating organization will find itself handicapped with its prorata part of the shortage.

Let's see to it that when the drive starts Monday the goal is reached quickly. Other cities are taking care of their needs in this way and we are sure Greenville can and will do likewise.

COMING HERE WITH CIRCUS

Hoot Gibson, one of Hollywood's greatest stars, rides again. Gibson is not riding on the silver screen but actually is riding in person with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, coming to Greenville for afternoon and night exhibitions Monday. The circus will arrive early Sunday morning and will stay in Greenville all day Sunday waiting for the two performances.

The former cowboy champion of the world, who has made over 300 pictures will be astride his famous horse, "Rowdy." Gibson has appeared on many horses during the several years he has been before the camera, but he claims "Rowdy" has more intelligence than any other animal he ever possessed. Many a time "Rowdy" has rescued "Hoot" from the clutches of the bad-men or the scalping Indians on the screen right before your eyes.

Gibson is vastly different than the average Hollywood western star. He is primarily a cowboy, then an actor. He won the title of all-around cowboy of the world at Pendleton, Ore., roundup in actual competition with the best cowboys of the land. He has appeared at all the leading rodeos in the west and can do any feat, such as bulldozing, calf-roping, and riding the wildest of "brons" and do it much better than any other hand. Immediately at the conclusion of

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—There will be a senatorial primary in North Carolina in 1938. That fact has been confirmed by publication of the report that Colonel T. L. Kilpatrick of Charlotte, says he is "seriously considering" opposing Senator Robert R. Reynolds.

The good colonel, who won statewide recognition as a champion of good roads, has "seriously considered" entering every major political sweepstakes for which he was eligible ever since this correspondent became a resident of the state—and that's a matter of some eight years. But every time he has communed with himself and his friends he has decided against poking out his head to get it knocked off.

It's a bad publicity idea, however, as the populace is kept regularly informed that Colonel T. L. Kilpatrick is still amongst us, a fact which it could easily forget otherwise.

Leslie S. Baker, commissioner for the New York World's fair of 1939 speaking:

"This will be one World's fair that will start on time. The paint will be dry and the grass will be green."

Attention of the commissioner, who is here conferring with North Carolina officials relative to the state's possible participation, was called to the fact that Lloyds, London's great insurance gambling institution, is laying odds of 3 to 1

there will be no New York fair at all in 1939.

"That's because Lloyds thinks there is going to be a World war by that time. It's the only thing that can stop us," he said.

Today is the day on which Cutlar Moore, liquor board chairman, will grow red in the face if he sees any picture other than that of a bottle on liquor advertisements. Wilmington's Tom Cooper and R. B. Page have already riddled up about it, but despite their opposition censorship of liquor ads is supposed to go into effect October 1.

Governor Hovey in his odd moments is studying the report made to him by High Point editor Hilt McPherson on conditions at the Negro A and T college at Greensboro.

The report is confidential, the governor hasn't said anything about it, and is not likely to make any public announcement; but it's a fairly safe bet that no immediate shakeup is in prospect for the college. It's likewise worth waging a nickel, or two that there will ultimately be some changes in the official personnel. With the school year just opened an overhauling now would hardly be wise, but few situations like the one at A and T have ever been solved without giving somebody the gate, whether he deserved it or not.

There are likely to be fireworks next Friday (October 8) when the state school commission meets. Irate Garysburgers, intent on the political life-blood of State Senator Archie Gay, are planning to tell the school bosses just exactly how low an opinion they have of their law maker, whom they blame for making their children ride too far on a bus.

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

Chapter 41
Janet Under Arrest

TAKING off his boots, Neill crept up the ladder, letting his weight down gradually on each step. At the top he peeped over the edge of the deck. No lights; nobody stirring.

He made his way softly aft over the promenade deck and around the stern. As on the previous occasion, he leaped across from one vessel to another.

As Neill climbed to the boat deck of the Lincoln he saw the regular watchman's light over on the Monticello, and moving on the other way. No danger from him at the present. Neill hastened to the little door in the port engine shaft that he and Janet had so often used. Here a new obstacle faced him. Staples had been bolted through the steel door and its frame, and a padlock put on.

How could he get in? Useless to lower himself over the side when the window was closed. It couldn't be opened from the outside, and he couldn't break it because it was made of plate glass thick enough to withstand high seas. He and Janet had already satisfied themselves that there was no other way into the vessel except by this little door.

The huge ventilators that served the engine room gave him an idea. He had seen the outlets when he had been below. Each was greater than the girth of a man, and there was plenty of rope about. He picked up a strong light line and, fastening the end to the wheel that turned the ventilator, let it fall down inside. Climbing up on the wheel he entered the mouth of the steel tube and lowered himself hand under hand.

He came out in the engine room. He had no flashlight with him now and had to strike matches in order to find the bottom of the steel stairway. Once he was through the door that served the engineers' quarters on E deck, he knew his way. The interior of the ship was as black as a mine. Gropping his way through the galley, the pantries and across the great saloon, he ran up the stairway to D deck, to C deck with his heart in his mouth.

Outside the door of the royal suite, his courage failed him and he hesitated. When he tried the door, it opened in his hands. "Janet! Janet!" he whispered urgently.

Only silence.

He struck a match. The candles were still there and he lighted one. Janet was gone. Stealing his nerves, he looked around and tried to deduce what had happened.

The rooms were in disorder. Everything that he had brought her at different times—the rope ladder, the bucket, the remains of food and water—was still there. The boy's clothes lay in a heap on the floor of her bedroom; her own clothes were gone.

It was clear that the worst had not happened. If she had made away with herself, the window would be open. She had either given herself up, as she had threatened to do, or she had been taken. Anyhow, the bolts on the doors of the suite were all intact and there was no evidence that a struggle had occurred.

Immediately Neill's whole idea was to get out again. It was too slow to pull himself up through the ventilator. He ran up to B deck and, unfastening a window, let himself out on the promenade. It would make no difference now if the left evidences of his visit behind him.

On deck Neill thought of visiting Captain Bickel and demanding information, but decided against it. It was clear from the darkness and silence enveloping the four ships, that Janet was not being kept aboard. He got back to his skiff without any alarm being raised. Putting his back to the oars, he rowed on down the river.

The Crowd Threatens

REACHING the village, he tied his craft to a wharf on the river side and ran across to Longcope's store. There was plenty of excitement here. Though it was nearly two o'clock, there was a crowd around the porch, and more coming every moment. Men were calling to each other.

"The girl has been found!"
"The hell you say! Where?"
"She was hidden on the big ships all the time!"
"Anyhow, it was a relief to know she was there."
Neill was recognized as he came under the porch lights. "Here's the fellow! Here's the fellow!" they cried. A matter of rage swept over the crowd. Curses were flung at Neill from out of the dark. Those behind pushed forward and the circle around him narrowed dangerously. He put his back against the door and held them with his eyes.

"Well, what about it?" he said.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—The 1938 farm program devised by the department of agriculture and representatives of the industry proposes to bring farmers into compliance by offering a sort of bait instead of whipping them into line by taxation.

Doubters aptly believe that many farmers won't come in under the plan, but will go heavily into the production of cash crops which the administration is trying to control. If they should hit a year of high prices their large acreages would bring them far more than the government bounty offered for curtailing crops.

The department has computed the acreage it estimates should be planted to supply an ample crop of each major commodity, and yet not produce a surplus to beat down farm prices.

Take corn, for instance. The 1937 planting is estimated at 96,146,000 acres. For the 1938 program, the department has estimated 92,000,000 to 90,000,000 acres will produce enough corn. That amount is divided among states. Each state's quota is divided among counties. Within each county a committee of farmers usually advised by the county agricultural agent, determines the quota for each farm.

If the farmer doesn't like his quota, he can stay out. If he accepts it, he gets benefits. In the 1937 program if he complied half way, he received half benefits. But if a farmer steps over the line by an acre in the 1938 program, he will lose benefit payments for several acres.

Take a corn farmer with 150 acres of tillable land. The county committee may assign him a quota of 50 acres of corn, which may be more but probably will be slightly less than his average planting. Then it may assign him a quota of 60 acres of other "soil depleting" crops such as wheat, rye, oats and barley. That leaves 40 acres he must plant to "soil conserving" crops, such as alfalfa clover. Part of this land, say 10 acres, he may be required to cover with lime, as a land restorative.

With that as a basis, the farmer may expect these benefits:

He will get a bounty of about $1.50 an acre for his "general soil depleting" crops, such as wheat and rye. For 60 acres that brings $90. The $1.50 an acre varies slightly from farm to farm, depending on farm productivity.

For his own corn quota benefits, he will receive 10 cents a bushel. For an average yield of 35 bushels an acre on his 50-acre quota he would receive $175.

For his soil conservation acreage of alfalfa or clover, he will get 70 cents an acre, or $28 for the 40-acre quota.

That brings the total federal benefits to $293.

But if the farmer plants five acres too much corn, he will be docked five times the benefits due on five acres. On a crop of 35 bushels an acre he would lose five times, $3.50 times five, or $17.50. That is half the benefits due on his whole 50-acre corn quota.

Corresponding penalties are imposed for exceeding his quota of wheat and rye, or for falling short in his acreage of soil conservation.

This may sound complex to the average reader, but the average farmer is used to fiddling around with quotas. AAA has taught him some bookkeeping, among other things. The department of agriculture hopes that it has also taught him compliance.

Don't Sell Cotton Until You Know the Grade and Staple and Its True Worth—

Let us help you get the "high dollar" for your crop by grading it and telling you the price the mills are paying... then if you are offered more on the outside, you can get your cotton back and sell it where you please.

We are prepared to get you the government loan or if you prefer we will make you our own advance of 7 1-2 cents per pound with no restrictions.

Through the "Re-Purchase Pool" of the Cotton Association, you can quickly and conveniently sell your cotton on any day you wish... and furthermore, the Association will keep your records in such a way as to enable you to get your full subsidy payment with the least trouble.

What thinking man would not invest 75 cents a bale—the total charge for all these services—to be sure that he is absolutely getting the "high dollar" for his cotton?

See me before you sell a single bale of cotton—let the Cotton Association help you get the full value for your cotton this year.

CLUBS TO MEET AT CHARLOTTE

Carolinas District Convention October 28-30

Charlotte, Oct. 1.—Music will play a large part in the 17th annual convention of Kiwanis Carolinas district which will be held at Hotel Charlotte here October 28-30. Two noted singers, Miss Dorothy Baker, soprano, and Maury Pearson, baritone, will appear on the program at the three-day meeting. The far northwest — Seattle — claims Miss Baker as one of its successful sopranos. An extended series of concert appearances and radio broadcasts both in Seattle and in adjacent states, brought acclaim by the critics, and inspired her to go to Italy where she pursued her studies with some of the best teachers in Milan, later returning to New York City, where a wider professional field existed. Miss Baker has broadcast over the largest systems, has fulfilled many concert engagements in the east, and is now the soprano soloist of Saint Bartholomew's church, famous for its fine voices.

Many newspapers have praised her as one of the best sopranos in this country. The New York Sun says: "Dorothy Baker revealed a soprano of attractive timbre and flexibility." Said the Seattle Times: "The young soprano has a delightful tone quality and a gift of interpretation." Mr. Pearson, who makes his home in Spartanburg, S. C., a part of Kiwanis Carolinas district, is well known in this section where he has appeared many times. He has entertained several conventions in the two states with his boisterous men's songs.

Miss Baker and Mr. Pearson will be supported in their programs at the Kiwanis gathering by the Charlotte Male Chorus, which is composed of 24 voices.

A mixed quartet composed of Hollis Cobb and Janice Mason of Charlotte, Ruth Williams of Gastonia, and Will Neil of Winston-Salem, will render several operatic

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—Last night at supper our waitress said, "It will cost you an extra dime if you have a second cup of coffee. The order came through this afternoon."

This, I think, was a mistake. Coffee is such an intangible part of good fellowship that it should be held apart from the ordinary, rather matter-of-fact details of a routine meal. It is, in essence, something deep and satisfying, like a hand-clasp between friends, and should never be swallowed like buttermilk or a common champagne cocktail. Not good coffee. The drinking of it calls for a certain and very definite reverence. It should amount to a ritual.

Unhappily, the restaurants and cafes in New York don't seem to realize this important verity. The coffee here is generally vile, and most of the cafe owners labor under the belief that to make good coffee, all one has to do is to pour hot water through the grounds.

If I were commissioner of restaurants in New York I would insist on every restaurant owner establishing his right to the trade. If he made bad coffee I would certainly deny him a permit. For all beverages, and this includes tea, chocolate, goat's milk and wines, nothing can be so thoroughly exhilarating and by the same token so thoroughly disappointing.

Not long ago, on a private quest for the "one perfect coffee spot" in New York, we visited some 40 or 50 places. In only one was the coffee really good. Three taverns offered coffee that was drinkable. The others were so impossible that we listed them quickly in our private graveyard of places to be avoided.

So is had a rather milder effect on the evening when our waitress put a price tag on a second cup, right when we realized that the manager who gave that order must be some benighted soul who never learned the difference between coffee and, well, say coffee.

Why is there so much bad coffee in New York? Why are there so many bad paintings and bad novels and, you are perfectly right in adding so many bad columnists? The deficiency is by no means local. It is universal, a malady that afflicts 99 out of 100 cities. I know of only one sector where the coffee is almost always good—Louisiana.

I think, if I were commissioner of restaurants in New York, I would make it mandatory for all cafe owners to visit New Orleans and take a course in making coffee. That would be doing them a favor, for restaurants seldom fail if their coffee is of the best. On the other hand, one bad cup is enough to drive a customer away, and two bad cups will have him earnestly imploring his friends not to go there. That is, every place but New York. If you went around telling your friends not to patronize certain restaurants in this town you would do nothing else. Of the 113,000 places in New York where coffee is made, less than 20 know what they are doing.

TOLBERT SHOW IN CITY FOR THREE DAYS

The Milt Tolbert Show will be here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Boyd Holloway, Betty Edwards and others in the company.

The Tolbert Show is widely known. It is an attraction for whites, but it carries a colored quartet that has sung over the south for years, the Golden Gate Jubilee Singers. The singers are recording artists. They broadcast from Charlotte.

Well known comedians with the troupe are "Uncle Ezra" Newman, George O'Brien of minstrel fame, and Eddie Creed, clown. Home A. Briarhopper's brothers and sisters are in the company's featured string band. Slim Privette is in charge of a big apple revue.

The show will be under canvas on Dickinson avenue, Higgs lot, near the new underpass.

numbers at the banquet Friday evening, October 29, along with Miss Baker and Mr. Pearson.

Mr. Neil and Mr. Cobb sing a duet, as will Miss Baker and Mr. Cobb. Other musical numbers are also being arranged for various events during the convention.

Talented singers will not be the only ones taking part in the musical programs, however. All Kiwanians and their wives will join in group singing at several sessions during the convention.

New Bern To Open Department Store

New Bern, Oct. 1.—Planned as a new ready-to-wear department store for all East Carolina, the Coplon-Smith Company will open its doors in New Bern Monday, it has been announced by Charles Coplon, president, and Bynum Smith, secretary-treasurer and manager, in issuing a cordial invitation to the public to visit the store any time between the hours of 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. on the opening day, and also to shop for their fall and winter clothing. Small souvenirs will be given away on the first day.

For three months 40 workers have been engaged in renovations at the large building, and for three weeks 40 craftsmen, supervised by two expert factory finishers, have made the store interior one of the most attractive in the South. Nationally-known brands of ready-to-wear and accessories for men, women and children will be carried in sixteen departments.

Between 75 and 100 men and women will be employed at the emporium. Charles Coplon and his brothers, Harry and Abe Coplon, New York representatives and vice-presidents of the new firm, were formerly successful department store managers at New Bern, selling their interests to devote their full time to a large chain of mercantile stores that they organized. Mr. Smith was also associated with them. They sold their chain of stores last winter and decided to start a business again in their old home town.
