THREE SEASON RECORD SET ON LOCAL MARKET

Average of $30.54 Per Hundred Paid During Week

OFFERINGS ALSO SAID BE RECORD Poundage, Average Price and Money Paid Well Ahead Of Same Period 1936

What is believed to be a record for the past three seasons was established on the Greenville tobacco market this week when farmers were paid an average of $30.54 for their offerings on the floors of the ten warehouses here.

An all-time record as to offerings was set Monday and if the poundage sold during the five days was not a record, it was close to one. During the week 7,481,854 pounds of the golden weed was sold on the local market.

With such figures, it also stands to reason that the money paid out during the five days, $2,284,816.49, was something of a record.

This week's figures look especially encouraging when compared with the corresponding five days a year ago. The nearly seven and a half million pounds sold this week compared with 5,518,142 pounds offered the similar week last year and the more than two and a quarter million dollars paid out compared with $1,348,233.25 for the corresponding period in 1936.

The official price average, however, showed the most favorable comparative figures. The $30.54 paid out last week compared with an official average of $24.43 during the similar period last year. Figures for the season poundage, money paid out and average, are running ahead of last year. During the 31 selling days this season 31,712,064 pounds of tobacco have been sold on the Greenville market.

These offerings have brought farmers $5,532,446.04, an official average of $24.58.

During the same period last season 22,843,212 pounds were sold, bringing $5,097,833.47.

So far this year 11,868,852 pounds have been sold in excess of the offerings during the corresponding period a year ago and the money paid out this year has exceeded the figure for the same date last year by $3,434,612.57.

The high prices paid this week brought the official average to a mark above that set last year, the difference in favor of the current season being 15 cents on the hundred pounds.

Prisoners Escape Jail In Florence

Florence, S. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two convicted burglars and another prisoner slipped out of the Florence County jail this morning and disappeared before attendants knew of their escape.

They were J. V. Bair, given 15 years yesterday on a burglary charge and already under a ten year sentence imposed for a bank robbery at Elmore and J. A. Russell, sentenced to three years here yesterday for burglary. Herman Workman, a federal prisoner being held to await trial on charges unknown to the county authorities.

A jail attendant said the three escaped by using the "penney and soap trick." This he explained, was operated by sticking coins on the door facing with soap so that the bolt of the cell latch would not go home when apparently locked.

Must Pick Cotton Or Face Charges

Fayetteville, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cumberland county farmers had cotton pickers galore today and the plucking went on apace.

The abundance of field labor was the result of a campaign by farmers in cooperation with County Welfare Superintendent G. L. Hauser at the request of Mayor Scott McFayden.

Police Sergeant Roy Godwin and Hauser toured sections of the city where apparently idle Negroes had been seen and questioned every man at leisure they found. If those queried could not show they were employed, the official said, they were given the alternative of accepting a cotton picking job or facing vagrancy charges.

CITY FATHERS HOLD SESSION

Little More Than Routine Business Taken Up at Meet

Little more than routine business was taken up at the regular monthly meeting of the Greenville Board of Aldermen last night. Much business had been transacted at special called meetings during the past month.

It was revealed that the Works Progress Administration had approved a project for construction of approximately 7,000 square yards of sidewalk in Greenville. Under the contract the Federal agency will provide the labor, figured to cost approximately $5,946.

The property owners will pay for the materials, estimated to cost $5,234. Under the plan a person will get his sidewalks for only 46.8 of the total cost, the WPA paying the remaining 53.2 per cent.

Letters will be mailed to property owners advising them of the plan. If the owners prefer, the city will go ahead with the paving and charge it up to the individual citizens.

The board also voted to petition the State Highway and Public Works Commission to pave a connecting link between Fifth and Tenth streets. The link would provide a street between the Washington highway Tenth street extension which is now being constructed to connect with the highway beyond the cemetery. The link requested (Continued on Page Six)

Little Oglesby Girl Is Claimed by Death

Little Alice Ray Oglesby, 15-day-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oglesby of Winterville died at 12:30 o'clock this morning. Services were conducted at the graveside in Winterville cemetery this afternoon by Rev. T. A. Sykes of Ayden.

Western Union Boy Not Critically Hurt

Tommy Ippok, Western Union messenger boy, who was injured when his bicycle and an automobile driven by Thomas E. Venters of Ayden collided at the intersection of Evans and Fourth street Wednesday night, was reported today by hospital attendants to be getting along satisfactorily.

No bones were broken and the messenger boy was understood not to have been critically injured.

Chest Fund Drive Now Over $2,000

The steady rise of the contributions to the Community Chest indicates the continued interest in and support of this better method of handling our community social work.

The figures reported at noon today were $2,105.25, which is most assuring.

There is no longer any question as to the raising of the amount needed—merely a matter of how many days we shall take to do it. Additional women to canvass the residential sections will relieve the demand upon those now giving time to this and hasten the closing of the campaign. All workers are requested to report to Miss Jabe Hall, at 326 Evans street, next door to Blount-Harvey's shoe department, for assignments of territory and to report on work already finished.

The action of the Board of Aldermen at its meeting last night was accepted by the leaders of the Community Chest movement as indicative of the general feeling in the community itself. The Board of Aldermen voted to allocate to the Community Chest appropriations usually made to agencies now participating in the Chest.

Another action taken was a unanimous vote to prohibit public solicitation of funds except by permission from the Mayor and Board of Aldermen; such permission to be granted only in cases of emergency and in cooperation with the board of directors of the Community Chest. This action gets at one of the basic reasons for the organization of the Chest—to protect the citizens from numerous (and sometimes unworthy) solicitations.

National Loop Champions Again Held To One Run

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 8.—The New York Yankees (American League) made it three in a row today by taking the third game of the 1937 World Series from the New York Giants (National League) by a score of five to one.

Monte Pearson, Yankee hurler, allowed the Giants but four hits, but was relieved for the final out in the ninth inning when he allowed one hit and walked two men, filling the bases. The two free passes to first base in the final inning were the only two granted by Pearson throughout the game.

Schumacher, starting pitcher for the Giants was relieved by Melton at the beginning of the sixth inning after the Yankees had scored their five runs in the four preceding frames. Leslie was called in to pinch hit for Melton in the eighth inning and Brennan finished the game on the mound for the Giants.

The Yankees received ten hits and six bases on balls while the Giants received but five hits, two bases on balls and made four errors. One game, play by play:

First Inning Yankees—Crossetti got a base on balls. Rolfe flied out to right field. DiMaggio up. Crossetti advanced from first to third on wild pitch by Schumacher. DiMaggio struck out. Gehrig out second to first. No runs, no hits no errors. One wild pitch, one base on balls.

Giants—Moore out short to first. Bartell flied out to center field. Out flied out to deep right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning Yankees—Dickey flied out to deep center field. Selkirk got base on balls. Hoag singled to left field. Selkirk stopping at second. Lazzeri singled to right field, scoring Selkirk. Hoag stopping at third. Pearson got base on balls, filling the bases. Crossetti grounds to third, forcing Hoag at home plate, the play third to catcher. Rolfe fouled out to catcher. One run, two hits, no errors, two bases on balls.

Giants—Ripple out at first, unassisted. McCarthy flied out to center field. Chiozza out to third base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Mayor Heads List Meet Travel Tour

A delegation of four prominent Greenville citizens will join the North Carolina travel tour in Plymouth next Thursday morning and accompany the travel bureau executives and writers into the Pitt county capital.

The Board of Aldermen last night designated Mayor M. K. Blount as the official representative and instructed him to pick three other men to join the party in Plymouth, tell the members of the advantages of this section and welcome the touring party to the city.

The party will spend only a short while here, leaving here for Kinston and Goldsboro. The members will have lunch in Plymouth.

Arrangements Completed For North Carolina Tour

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Arrangements are being completed for the travel tour of North Carolina which will start Sunday. More than 90 travel bureau executives, counselors, news writers, editors and publishers will be guests of the Governor's Hospitality Committee for 12 days.

Two large buses and several automobiles being provided without charge to the state are expected to arrive Saturday afternoon, as are the three baggage trucks. The State Highway patrol will furnish a patrol car to pilot the tour. The motorcade will consist of the patrol car, about seven touring cars and two large buses.

Sunday will be spent in Asheville and vicinity. The tour members will be the guests at a "get acquainted" luncheon and at a banquet Sunday night. Monday morning the tour will leave for the trip to Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

DISSENSION IN LABOR PARLEY

Convention Delays Seating of Printers' Union Delegate

Denver, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Dr. W. R. Trotter of the printers' union accused the American Federation of Labor's convention credentials committee today of giving his union the "run-around" in delaying the seating of Charles Howard, CIO secretary, as a delegate.

As president of the International Typographical Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, Howard presented credentials to the convention as a delegate.

The carpenters' union protested on the ground Howard had signed a CIO charter for Pacific coast numbermen.

The credentials committee announced this morning it would give Howard and the carpenters' union a hearing next Monday—the day the CIO meeting is slated to start in Atlantic City, N. J.

Meanwhile the American Federation of Labor moved to extend its sphere into the "white collar" workers' field, bringing it in opposition with John L. Lewis' CIO on a new front.

President William Green summoned leaders of the A. F. of L. office-workers' union, attending the convention, to a conference tomorrow. He said they would form a national council and eventually an international union.

The federation has until now sponsored only local organizations of office workers.

Burke County Sheriff Dies Near Charlotte

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Fred Ross, 51, Burke county sheriff for the last seven years, died near here early today at the home of a niece, Mrs. F. W. Dotger. He had been suffering from heart ailment and had been here several weeks.

Ross was a merchant before election to the sheriff's office and had been chief of the Morganton volunteer fire department for 20 years. He was a Democrat.

The body will be taken to Morganton today and funeral services will be held there.

Arrangements Completed For North Carolina Tour

The first five days will be spent in the mountains. Monday stops will be made in Canton, Waynesville, Sylva, Cherokee, Newfound Gap and Clingman's Dome, in the National Park. The night stop will be in Bryson City. Tuesday the tour will stop in Franklin, Highlands, Cashiers, High Hampton and, for the night, at Hendersonville.

Wednesday's schedule is the least strenuous with lunch at Lake Oure at the summer home of Cleeman W. Roberts, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the tour and a member of the Governor's Hospitality Committee. The afternoon will be spent beating on Lake Lure and visiting Chimney Rock. Thursday the tour will go to Blowing Rock with stops in Rutherford, Marion, Little Switzerland, Linville, Banner's E.K. and Boone, with the night stop in Blowing Rock.

BIG INCREASE INDICATED IN COTTON YIELD

Census Bureau Forecasts Crop of 17,350,000 Bales

BASE FIGURES ON OCT. 1 CONDITION

Month Ago Agriculture Dept. Predicted Production Of 16,098,000 Bales

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast this year's cotton crop today at 17,573,000 bales of 500 pounds each, based on October 1 conditions.

The census bureau announced 8,259,455 bales of this year's crop had been ginned before October 1, compared with 6,031,950 to that date last year.

A month ago the agriculture department reported 16,098,000 bales were indicated from conditions existing September 1. Last year 12,399,000 bales were produced. Other big-crop years were: 17,978,000 in 1926 (the record), 17,095,000 in '31 and 161,05,000 in 1925.

Today's forecast was based on 33,735,000 acres in cultivation and a condition of 79 per cent of a normal on October 1, indicating a yield of 249.3 pounds of lint to the acre.

The condition of the crop October 1 and indicated production by states include: North Carolina, 74 per cent and 695,000.

The census bureau report showing cotton of this year's growth ginned before October 1, counting round as half bales, with comparative figures for last year by states include: North Carolina—217,845 and 119,093.

District Meeting On School Music Set For Saturday

Institute To Be Conducted At Greenville High School Auditorium One In Series Over State

The State Department of Public Instruction is sponsoring a series of district institutes for public school music teachers and classroom teachers in charge of the music program, one of which will be held in Greenville Saturday.

The sessions will be held in the high school auditorium, scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock and continue through 1 p. m. Institutes to be held on week days will be held from 3 to 9 p. m., with teachers off for the full day, however, the meeting here will start in the morning.

The institutes are planned to give practical help to teachers in becoming acquainted with content material in music; in making preparation for using approved methods of teaching; and in increasing the number and variety of songs for use in the school program.

Practically the same program will be followed at each of the twelve institutes. Questions may be presented as time will be given to consideration of problems related to more satisfactory progress in music throughout the public schools—grades one through eleven.

Assisting with the program will be: Miss Grace Van Dyke Moore of the Woman's College, Greensboro; Charles E. Griffith, Newark, N. J., and many local musicians and music teachers.

President's Peace Talk Hailed By Great Britain

Declared Real Contribution Toward Peace Of the World

London, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Foreign secretary Anthony Eden today expressed the British government's "gratification" over President Roosevelt's speech to the American Charge D'Affaires, Hershel Johnson, and told him Great Britain considered it a "real contribution" toward peace.

At the same time, informed sources said, Eden and Johnson during their meeting yesterday discussed the general implications of the United States president's call for cooperation of "peace loving nations." They also went over the procedure to be followed in the coming nine-power conference.

Informed sources hinted it was unlikely Washington, London or any other big capital would be chosen as the scene of the nine-power talk. It was indicated the Hague would be considered.

With these developments indicating the United States was increasingly talking over Britain's traditional role as the holder of international balance of power at least in the eastern situation, the British were suddenly silent on it.

FDR Silent About Major Questions

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told a largely attended press conference today he would make no important decisions on future policies until he had had a chance to talk with his leaders and advisors.

In reply to a series of questions, he said he was not sure whether he would make up his mind on a special session of Congress before he returned to Hyde Park Wednesday morning.

The President again told the newsmen he did not have any plans to confer with Associate Justice Black, whose appointment to the Supreme Court aroused a storm of controversy.

In connection with the proposed new surplus crop control bill, which would be considered at the special session, Mr. Roosevelt was asked if he would favor compulsory marketing quotas for major crops.

He replied there were too many constitutional issues involved for a snap judgment on that.

In response to other questions he said he expected to name soon an advisor for the new low cost housing division of the Interior Department.

An afternoon cabinet meeting was planned.

EARLY VICTORY AIM OF JAPAN

First Official Declaration Since Start Of Invasion States Determination To Use Every Means To Subdue Opponents; Protection Is Promised Nationals

Shanghai, Oct. 8.—(AP)—General Matsuji, Japanese commander-in-chief on the Shanghai front, issued a proclamation today—the first official announcement of the Japanese invasion of China—which Chinese considered the equivalent of, if not a diplomatically formal declaration of war.

General Matsuji declared the Japanese army "is now prepared to use every means to subdue its opponents." In view of the previous declarations of Japanese army and navy spokesmen, observers considered this the verbal prelude of Japan's big push against the Chinese defense lines northwest of Shanghai.

Matsuji, in the name of the Japanese emperor, promised an early victory and peaceful future after scourging the "Chinese government army who have been pursuing anti-foreign and anti-Japanese policies in collaboration with communist influences."

He added the lives and property of nationals of third powers would be protected.

His announcement came shortly after army authorities made an implied threat to turn their land and warship batteries against Pootung and raze the industrial area across the Whanpo river from Shanghai unless Chinese batteries there ceased firing at Japanese civilian areas in the international settlement.

Questioned about the significance of the proclamation an army spokesman explained Matsuji, after gathering the necessary military units, now considered himself qualified to carry out the mission entrusted to him by the emperor.

Two ESCAPEES SOUGHT IN IND.

East Chicago, Ind., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two men believed to be escaped convicts from the Illinois penitentiary honor farm, were sought in northern Indiana today after they robbed and kidnapped a young woman and her escort.

Vencel Rouse of East Chicago reported to police he and Miss Mildred Champion, 28, were forced to accompany the men in his car after they robbed him of $100 and a watch.

Rouse said he was ordered out of the car at Valparaiso, Ind., and the men drove off with Miss Champion. A short time later they let her out of the car within a half mile of her home, warning her not to notify police.

The robbers were believed to be two of the three convicts, Jean Moorhead, 28; William Hanley, 37; and James Pogue, 36, who fled from the Stateville prison farm Thursday after slugging a guard with a rock and kidnapping another.

Merchants in the mill community's business district estimated the number of petitions at four or five. There were varying reports as to the reaction.

Roy Lawrence, Carolina administrator of the TWOC, said: "Such petitions are in line with the usual mill management strategy in strike situations and are doubtless company inspired. I anticipate that they will make little headway."

Horace Johnston, vice-president of the company, said: "I have no knowledge of the petitions and none has been presented to the mill management. The 750 employees walked out in protest of what they termed efforts to install the stretch-out system."

Six Fires Here During Month Of September

Six fires during September caused damage estimated by Chief George Gardner of the fire department at $300, bringing the total loss by fires for this year to $10,994.80.

During September last year the city had a perfect month, no fires having been recorded. For the first nine months of 1936 fires caused damage estimated at $2,176.56. The heavy loss for this year was partly accounted for by the Blount Fertilizer company factory.

SATURDAY

3:30 p. m.—Special meeting of Sans Souci Book Club with Mrs. W. I. Wooten.

The Sans Souci Club.
For the first meeting of the new club year, the Sans Souci Club met with Mrs. W. L. Best at her home on Evans street.

Eighteen members answered roll call. After an exchange of vacation experiences since last the members were together, as is customary, the entire meeting was given over to business and to the discussion of the program for the ensuing year. The new books were distributed and examined with particular interest since the club last year gave up their books in order to carry on a civic project in which they were interested. The books give promise of being unusually attractive this year, for which much credit was given to Mrs. Frank Wooten, chairman of the book committee, who made, during the summer, a rather exhaustive study of the new books as they came from the press, in order that she might select the best.

At the close of the meeting, a delightful social hour was enjoyed while tempting refreshments were being served by the hostess.

11-Year-Old Girl Sets Track Mark In Grand Circuit

Alma Sheppard Hates To Quit Racing for School

NEW STAR
Asked about her future, Alma Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., at 11, an amateur champion harness race driver, announced: "Gee, but I hate to go back to school."

Eleven-year-old Alma Sheppard, whose grandfather left Pitt county to go to Hanover, Pa., and found the Hanover Shoe company, expressed the opinion recently, "Gee, but I hate to go back to school," when questioned about her future. Miss Alma whose 90 pounds is made up of sheer courage and skill, coupled with a great trotting horse, recently shattered every world mark within either of their provinces at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association track at Lexington, where the finale of the 1937 Grand Circuit was launched before a crowd that cheered itself hoarse for the petite blonde, blue-eyed miss.

At the Grand Circuit opening, Miss Alma, driving Jean Hanover, three-year-old son of Dillo-Awvor-for the fastest mile topped by a three-year-old and the fastest time for a lady driver of either a trotter or pacer. She also established a new all-time mark for amateur drivers of all classes, ages and sex. American Horseman, official publication of the track, described the feat as follows: "Veteran horsemen swallowed a suspicious lump in their throats as the tiny orange and blue-clad girl, with a sureness that would have done 'Pop' Geers proud, negotiated the sizzling track in the fractional times of :29 1/2, :58 1/2, 1:28 1/2 and 1:58 1/2. "Women in the stand along the rail also cried encouragement to the girl as she roared through the home stretch with a casualness bordering on nonchalance. Perhaps Alma's attitude, which so delighted the crowd, can be summed up in her words used when she spoke over the loudspeakers at the judge's stand following her exploit: "I'm tickled to death. I didn't think I could do it!" "Men old in the ways of the trotting turf were still slapping themselves on the back in ecstasy—as though they had, indeed, been in Alma's stirrups—an hour after the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Sheppard, of Hanover, Pa., had completed her spectacular circuit of the mile oval.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR NORTH CAROLINA TOUR (Continued from page one) The next three days will be spent in the busy industrial and agricultural Piedmont. Friday the tour will head for Charlotte via Lenior, Hickory and Gastonia. It will reach Charlotte in time to make a tour of the city and visit the Old Mint, now an art museum. Saturday the tour will stop in Concord, Kannapolis, Salisbury, Lexington, Thomasville, High Point, Sedgefield Inn, Greensboro, Guilford Battlefield and Kernersville before reaching Winston-Salem for the night.

YANKS DEFEAT GIANTS 5-1 IN THIRD GAME OF SERIES —ONLY ONE MORE NEEDED (Continued from page one) Hoag bunted to third and was thrown out at first, Selkirk going to second, Lazzeri got a base on balls. Pearson struck out. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one base on balls. Giants—Danning filed out to second base. Whitehead fouled out to first base. Schumacher struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ple in right center field, Hoag hits to pitcher who threw wild to first. Hoag going to second, Lazzeri deliberately given base on balls. Pearson hit into double play, the play being second to short to first. No runs, no hits, no errors. Giants—Ot filed out to second. Ripple singled to right field. McCarthy hit to left field for two bases, scoring Ripple. Chiozza out second to first, McCarthy going to third. Danning out short to first. One run, two hits, no errors.

Hoag lined out to Bartell at short. No runs, no hits, no errors. Giants—Bartell filed out to deep center. Ott singled to left field. Ripple forced Ott at second, the play being made by Crosetti unassisted. McCarthy got base on balls. Ripple taking second. Chiozza got base on balls, filling bases. Murphy relieved Pearson on pitching mound for the Yankees. Danning filed out to center field. No runs, one hit, no errors, two bases on balls.

The original inhabitants of present Manchoukou were nomadic Tungus, a race quite different from the Chinese.

Mr. Sheppard, master of Hanover Shoe Farms, where the colt was foaled in 1934, welcomed his daughter at the wire with a great hug and kiss which was duplicated by her grandfather, H. D. Sheppard. Mrs. Sheppard, Alma's mother, received the congratulations of scores of admiring friends in her box, where she, with her older daughter, Charlotte, witnessed her younger daughter's feat.

The next three days will be spent in the coastal plain region and the fourth and last day on the return trip to Charlotte. Tuesday the tour will stop for lunch in New Bern, then go on to Elizabeth City by way of Washington, Williamston, Windsor and Edenton. Wednesday the party will visit Roanoke Island and Old Fort Raleigh by way of Kitty Hawk, Nags Head and Manteo and return to Elizabeth City for a farewell banquet for those unable to make the rest of the tour. On Thursday morning the party will go to Plymouth for lunch, then on to Greenville, Kinston and Goldsboro. Friday the party will head back into Piedmont, stopping in Carthage, Albemarle, Morrow Mountain State Park and Camden before arriving in Charlotte in time to catch fast trains north.

Yankees—Crossetti filed out to deep center. Rolfe got base on balls. DiMaggio filed out to deep right. Rolfe holding first. Gehrig filed out to right field. No runs, no hits, no errors, one base on balls. Giants—Whitehead out third to first. Leslie (pinch-hitting for Melton) fouls out to catcher. Moore out short to first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

TAKE YOUR TIME

Tomorrow is Saturday, which means football games and increased highway traffic. If you are planning to attend one of the games our suggestion is that you leave home a little earlier and drive a little slower going to the game and in leaving the game take a little more time instead of trying to be the first out. The fall football season is always a dangerous period on our highways but the practice of caution and a little common sense by persons traveling to and from the games will mean a lot to cutting down the highway accidents.

CHEST DRIVE CONTINUES

While the response to the Community Chest drive has been good, the final goal is a long way off, not more than the amount asked having been subscribed to date. It had been hoped that the drive could be completed this week but in view of the inability of the workers to give the matter more time during this week it will be necessary to carry the drive over into next week. We are sure that once our people have become accustomed to this plan of doing all their giving at one time and then not being bothered again for a year, there will be no trouble in raising the necessary funds each year. The drive cannot be ended until the goal is reached and the co-operation of our people is necessary if the goal is to be reached without further delay.

MORE U. S. MOTORISTS CROSSING RIO GRANDE

Laredo, Tex. (AP)—More than 100,000 American tourists entered Mexico through this border city during the first eight months of 1937.

In this period there were 1,000 more cars crossing the line at Laredo than during the entire year of 1936. Heaviest travel both years was in June, July and August.

MOLDING!

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—North Carolina is gaining recognition outside its borders as an indirect result of the advertising program and without any cost to the state. Governor Clyde R. Hoey believes.

The Governor cited two clippings recently mailed him—one an editorial in the Washington Herald, the other a feature story in the New York Herald-Tribune.

The Herald, a double-column heavily-leaded article, was headed "North Carolina Today." It gave the Old North State more than a modicum of credit for its accomplishments of recent years.

Among the achievements of the state cited for particular recognition were: (1) The Health Department's vigorous campaign against syphilis, (2) the State's advertising campaign, (3) establishment of a system of free textbooks for its public schools and (4) full cooperation in the Social Security program.

Judge Walter D. Siler, politician de luxe and representative from Chatham county, was in town yesterday in his usual good nature and as full as ever of witty anecdotes, political and otherwise.

His latest concerned a Chatham negro who had run into difficulty with the law over liquor dealings. He wanted Judge Siler to represent him in court.

Repeated questions brought out that the Negro had been convicted six or seven times on liquor charges—that he had served numerous terms on the road and that he was generally of extremely notorious character.

"What in the world can I say for you?" replied Judge Siler.

"Well," quipped the Negro after deep thought, "Jes' tell de judge I ain't never been on relief."

(Ed. Note: It is of record that the judge let the Negro off with a small fine.)

Department of Conservation and Development officials are a bit heated up over the protest of certain South Carolinians against paying non-resident hunting license fees in order to participate in the Pisgah National Forest deer hunt November 1.

"All other states, including South Carolina, require hunters from outside states to purchase non-resident hunting licenses, costing $15.25, and there are no states into which a North Carolinian can go to hunt without paying that much," said John D. Chalk, state game warden, "and so we see nothing unreasonable in requiring out-of-state hunters to get a license to participate in a hunt in this state."

"pull" companions will be decided next week at one of the State Fair's most interesting contests, on Friday and Saturday in front of the grandstand. Professor Earl H. Hostetler, professor of Animal Husbandry at State College, will use a dynamometer to determine accurately the power, endurance and courage of work teams set to pulling given loads.

More than eight out of every ten bales of cotton ginned in North Carolina this season have stapled 15-18 inch or longer and as such could command a premium, according to M. G. Mann, general manager of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association.

Currituck county has the hottest politics of any of the state's one hundred sub-divisions. In the opinion of Dudley Bagley, state REALTOR.

"Down there we don't raise anything but ducks, Democrats and the devil," says he.

Warsaw, Poland (AP)—A raid on a flop house has yielded a surprising trophy—the "trade journal" of Warsaw thieves.

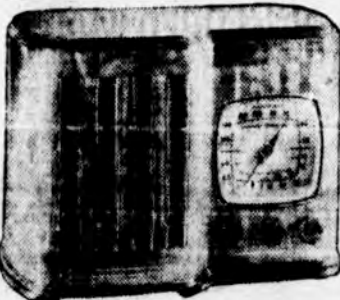

It is full of advice to thieves of all kinds and items from home and abroad of crimes interesting to the "boys." Queries on trade problems are answered under the head: "Among Ourselves."

Editors of the paper, called "New Life," have been arrested.

STATE RELIES ON BERLINSKI

"Little Buzzer" To Lead Pack Against Furman Eleven

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Eddie (Little Buzzer) Berlinski, State College's powerful little half-back, will head the Wolfpack against Furman University in Greenville, S. C., tomorrow night in a Southern Conference football game.

Berlinski is in top condition and Coach Doc Newton said today he would use the speedy, elusive senior at the tailback post, switching Art Rooney, sophomore star, to the No. 1 position.

At the tailback post Berlinski will have opportunity to show his real power as one of the South's best backs. He is considered one of the most elusive runners in the country and perhaps will be remembered after this year as one of the greatest backs in State's football history.

For his brilliant game last week against North Carolina, Berlinski was considered by the press as one of the finest backs in the State, if not the South. He kicked, passed, blocked, tackled, gained 142 yards from scrimmage, and returned a punt 45 yards.

YANKS RALLY IN FIFTH—WIN AGAIN, 8 TO 1

Rallying in the 5th inning of the 2nd game of the 1937 World Series the Yankees gained the lead and kept it. The final score was 8 to 1, the same as in the first game. Going to bat in the fifth, Yank out a double and then scored on Seikirk's single. Above, Hoag shown crossing the plate to tie the score. Shown also are Yank hat boy, Gio and catcher, Mancuso and Imps.

Squad of 30 Players Leave Tonight For Manhattan

Chapel Hill, Oct. 8.—Thirty members of the North Carolina football squad will leave from Durham by train tonight for New York City for their outstanding intersectional football engagement with NYU tomorrow afternoon on Ohio Field, home ground of the Violet.

The Tar Heels took final drills early this afternoon and were pronounced in good shape. North Carolina and New York University will be meeting for the second time. In their only previous engagement—in 1936—the Tar Heels, thanks to the trusty toe of half-back Tom Burnette, nosed out the Violet 14 to 13.

General consensus is that the Tar Heels have the superior running attack but NYU has the edge in experience, weight and reserve strength. NYU's line averages approximately 193 compared to 189 for North Carolina. Both backfields will scale 183.

Co-Captains Andy Bershak and Crowell Little will lead the North Carolina contingent into battle. Bershak, who rated the Associated Press' second All-America last season, is the sparkplug of the Tar Heel defense. Little, triple-threat quarter, is key man of the running attack which has gained nearly 600 yards in two games.

Outstanding Game of South at Duke Stadium Saturday

Durham, Oct. 8.—Duke's Blues of 1937, a team whose coaches fear is not as good a club as represented the institution in 1936, will go against one of the greatest teams a Blue Devil eleven has ever faced when they meet Tennessee's Vols in Duke stadium tomorrow afternoon.

The kickoff will be at 2:30, but the stadium gates will open at 12 o'clock and officials ask all who can to come early. There were plenty of tickets left, Dayton Dean, Duke business manager of athletics, said tonight and they will be on sale at the gate tomorrow afternoon.

Three deep or more in every position, the Tennessee team is composed this year of one of the finest arrays of grid talent ever assembled by a southern institution and the Duke coaches see little hope that the Blue Devils will be able to cope with such an attack.

The teams have had two games each. Tennessee turned back Wake Forest 32-0 and then defeated V. P. I. 27-0. Duke opened with a 25-0 win over V. P. I. and last week turned back Davidson 34-6.

The only basis of comparison is in their games with V. P. I. Although the score was the same in this clash, the Vols showed a vast statistical advantage over the Blue Devils. Tennessee held to Gobblers to a net yardage through the line of zero while the team gained 113 yards through the Duke forwards. Tennessee rolled up 233 yards in the same way over the Gobblers while the best Duke could do was 135 yards.

Carl Voyks, Duke end coach who scouted the Vols in their first two games, says it is one of the greatest teams he has ever seen. He brought back glowing reports of the way the Vols blocked downfield, the manner in which the line charged, and the way the backs ran. Tennessee, like Duke, played its first two games under wraps but the Blue Devils, unlike the Vols, showed many weaknesses in fundamental departments of play.

GUESS WHO OUTVELLED THE BASKETBALL COACH

Milwaukee, Wis. (AP)—Coach Bill Chandler of Marquette university's basketball team feels bad these days. Bill was always proud of his lung capacity. At a recent picnic, however, an accurate instrument to measure lung power was produced. The university champion went not to Chandler, but to the Rev. Gerard Smith, S.J., of the department of philosophy.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, down three to six points on lower Liverpool cables and under pre-liverpool liquidation and hedge selling.

The government's crop estimate of 17,573,000 bales came as a complete surprise to the market.

When trading was resumed after reading of the figures, prices showed declines of 8 to 17 points from levels before the publication.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Stocks fell quiet recovery sorties in today's stock market, backed up by air-crafts, motors and specialties, but these frequently sell before profit sellers.

The list edged forward after a slightly lower opening and at best gains of fractions to two or more points per cent. Advances were later cut down or cancelled and there was an assortment of losers near the fourth hour.

Dealings were even closer than in the preceding session.

The Characters

Nina, a nice girl with flaxen hair.

Honey, Nina's plump, youthful mother, brings home a new husband.

Richard, Nina's stepfather, is charming, poised, dark-haired, well-tailored and Honey's junior by 19 years.

David, a young auto salesman, meets Nina at a party he crashes and drives her home. He has copper hair and an engaging manner.

Cordella, Nina's closest friend.

could tell that my wife has been having the most beautiful care." Nina thought: "I hand it to you, old man."

Bridget blushed and bobbed a little curtsy, looking immensely pleased. She went to the sideboard, gathered up a dolly and some flat silver, and proceeded to lay a place . . . at the head of the table. As she pulled back the armchair, invitingly, her glance at Richard was periously verging on the arch.

"Well, now I feel that I've been officially welcomed into the family. Thank you, Bridget."

'I Want To Like You'

THE maid went out, beaming, and this time Nina said it. "I hand it to you, Richard. Honey and Bridget . . . You've won something, when you've won those two!"

He looked at her, steadily, for a moment. It was impossible not to realize that he was appreciating her beauty.

"It would make me immensely happy to feel that I had won you over, too, Nina."

She gave a little laugh that didn't sound quite natural, somehow.

"Oh, me . . . Well, you'll just have to bear with me for a while.

Chapter Five
Bridget's Mistake

BRIDGET had been with the Staffords for 15 years, starting as kitchen-maid. She had been a very good kitchen-maid, too, and had had every idea of working herself up to replacing Margaret, the cook, who was old and rheumatic, until Honey had seen her on one of her days off, in a dark dress, and decided she would make a marvelous-looking waitress . . . with her shining red hair, and the black moire uniform and all.

So Bridget's career in the kitchen had been abandoned, and she had made a marvelous-looking waitress. Of course, in 15 years a few gray strands had crept in with the red, but she still had quite a presence.

This morning, for a second, when she first came in, the color of her hair made Nina remember David Day; then she noticed that the maid's expression was unusually severe.

"Good morning, Bridget." How to begin? "Er, you knew that mother got in late last night?"

"Yes, Miss Nina." Bridget's mouth was a thin, hard line. "I've been upstairs, already yet. I snuck in to lower your mother's window and turn on the heat, meself, because that Marie person says as how she's sick with the cramps, this morning." Nina began to bowl with laughter. "I don't like those gongs-on, Miss Nina, and I'm here by giving notice."

"Oh, Bridget, how funny!" she gazed. "Darling old Bridget, she's married to him! Get down off your horse."

"Well, glory be to God!" "I didn't dream you had such an evil mind, my friend."

"Well, the Lord save us! Married . . ."

"Day before yesterday, in Chicago."

"The day before yesterday!"

"Yes, Bridget. It's very nice. He's very nice, and what's more, you've got to be very nice about the whole thing, do you hear me?"

"Married! . . . The day before yesterday . . . and do we know him?"

"Well, I do, now. We sat up till after five. His name is Challoner, and he's a grand person. I'm very happy about it." She said it stoutly. "Very happy. Now you run along and tell Margaret, I'll tell you have the fun, yourself. And rouse Marie, cramps or no, and see if you all can't think of something nice to surprise the bride."

Bridget went out, looking important.

Richard Wins Bridget

THE sun, rather strong and healthy for October, shone through the southern windows onto Nina's fair hair. In the mornings she never bothered to brush the little individual curls over her finger, but combed it and combed it, vigorously, until it stood out like a halo of spun sugar. Her brown eyes—her father's brown eyes—looked more arresting than ever, with her blondeness, when she wore it this way. Honey used to say: "It's all right, darling, you'll make a success of marriage. You look too beautiful in the morning!"

Today, her pajamas were of soft green velvet, and she had a springy look to her, like a slender daffodil with her yellow top.

She was finishing her second cup of coffee, and was pulling, deliciously, on her first cigarette, when her stepfather appeared in the doorway.

He looked nice in the mornings, too, apparently . . . well-groomed and refreshed. The beautifully tailored suit was brown, this time. "Good morning, Er . . . do I just come in?"

"Of course. Good morning, Richard, how are you? Sit down."

The chair at the head of the table was empty, but he took a seat at the side. A bit of tact and nice feeling that Nina appreciated.

"What to say next? You couldn't ask, 'Did you sleep well?' of a groom . . ."

But the waitress came in then, and Nina said: "Oh, Richard, this is Bridget, who has looked after us for 15 years. She's practically a member of the family . . . Bridget, this is Mr. Challoner."

Richard rose, courteously, and held out a hand.

"I'm very glad to know you. I

Richard, you see, I feel more like a mother—or a Dutch uncle—to Honey, than anything else. I want to like you . . . and I do, so far."

"That's something, anyway. A starter." He unfolded his napkin. "You know, Nina, I like facing things that aren't too . . . easy."

She believed him. He had that look; but he also looked as though things usually dropped into his lap, like ripe fruit, so that he probably wasn't confronted with the problem, often.

"Tell me, where are you planning to take Honey for a wedding trip? And when, and for how long? . . . Or am I asking questions?"

"We thought, that is if you'd let us . . . we'd run down to the Hot Springs for a couple of weeks. Tonight, maybe."

She smiled.

"All right, I'll permit it." She pushed back her chair. "The bell's here when you need it. . . I'll just dash up and see Honey for a minute, if you'll excuse me."

(Copyright, 1937, Margaret Herzog)

David Day phones, tomorrow, and Nina unintentionally rebuffs him.

Not many over $10.50; Heifers $4 to $9; Cows $3.50 to $6; Bulls $4 to $6.50. Common and medium steers $5 to $8.50, good grassers, very few to go above a practical top of $10. Sheep: No receipts. Lambs quotable $7 to $10, as extreme top ewes $2 to $4. Weather clear, temperature 58.

Backing the Community Chest, the Board instructed the Ordinance committee to draw up a statute prohibiting any financial drive without special permission. Mayor M. K. Blount advised Rev. W. A. Ryan, Chest chairman, that city officials were of the opinion the Chest was the proper method for raising funds for charitable organizations and pledged the support of the city. The aldermen voted to turn over to the Chest an amount equal to
