MADRID SHOOK BY INSURGENT BOMBARDMENT

Former Capital Again Forced to Dig Out From Debris

SHELLING CLAIMS UNCOUNT'D LIVES

Hotel Housing Foreigners Struck for First Time During 11-Months Siege

Madrid, Oct. 14.—(AP)—With pick and shovel, stricken Madrid today dug herself out of the debris of another disastrous insurgent shelling, while ambulances hauled uncounted scores of dead and injured.

The former republican capital resumed its "normal" life after a night of abject terror in which some 700 artillery projectiles poured into the heart of the city.

The bombardment caught Madrid just as after-theatre crowds were streaming homeward and the casualties probably were higher than on Monday night. That attack, claiming more than 100 lives, was unleashed when most of the inhabitants were within the protection of their homes.

Scores of bodies were dragged from demolished houses in the early morning darkness. The hotel, where Madrid foreign visitors are housed, was hit for the first time in the more than eleven months of the insurgent siege. Many buildings nearer the ministry of state, were caught by the projectiles.

The two-story ministry building itself was hit squarely by four shells. Apparently this structure was the main target of the insurgent gunners. Most of the foreign newspaper news work there, glass was shattered and coruscating explosive fumes filled the building. Screams welled from the streets nearby, but as far as known no one was hurt in the government building. Charles Nutter, chief of the Associated Press bureau, was at the ministry telephone on an account of the attack to London when the fourth shell shook the building and broke the connection.

Forester Holmes Explains Method Plant Pine Trees

Declares Best Results Gained When Seedlings Planted in Rows From Six to Eight Feet Apart

Raleigh, Oct. 14.—Pine seedlings should be planted in rows from six to eight feet wide and about the same distance apart, if best results are to be obtained, according to State Forester J. S. Holmes of the Department of Conservation and Development.

The best distance for loblolly and short leaf pine is seven feet, Mr. Holmes believes, unless the landowner wants to get an unusual heavy stand, when they can be planted in rows only six feet apart.

To get the best results in the planting of long leaf and slash pine seedlings, the rows should be eight feet apart and the seedlings spaced at intervals of eight feet, Mr. Holmes said. The long leaf pines should be planted only in those sections of the state where they grow naturally or where they originally were indigenous. Mr. Holmes said, and which includes virtually all of the coastal plain region. Slash pine also grows well throughout this same region.

Due to the growing interest in reforestation to prevent erosion and to provide timber crops for both sawmills and pulp plants, more and more farmers and landowners are sending in applications for seedlings from the State Forest Nursery near Clayton, in Johnston county, where more than 2,500,000 seedlings, most of them pines, will be ready for distribution when the digging and planting season starts late in November. Since the orders for these seedlings are filled in the order in which they are received, those desiring some of these seedlings are urged by Mr. Holmes to send in their applications as soon as possible.

Because of the growing demand for pulp wood in the state as a result of the establishment of new pulp mills and heavy buying of both pulp wood and timber by pulp companies outside the state, a large number of landowners are showing interest in the planting of timber plantations, Mr. Holmes said.

93,000 Jews Leave Berlin, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Jewish emigration from Germany since Adolf Hitler came to power in 1933 totals 93,000 persons, according to the Jewish Agency. Of the total, 38,500 Jews have gone to Palestine.

BABY BORN 'DEAD', REVIVED!

Fifteen minutes before his birth in a hospital at Jersey City, N. J., the heart of Mrs. Isabel Garry's baby son stopped beating, doctors said, and he was delivered without sign of life. But adrenaline injections and artificial respiration started him to breathing 15 minutes later and now he is thriving normally, as the picture at left shows. Mrs. Garry, wife of a shipyard worker, is shown (right) getting the good news.

BANKERS TOLD BUSINESS NOW FAIRLY BRIGHT

Noted Economist Declares Credit Collapse Impossible

STATES REASONS FOR DEPRESSION

Sudden and World-Wide Drop in General Price Levels Given As Cause

Boston, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Leonard Ayres, internationally known economist, told the American Bankers Association today no credit collapse like that of the great depression "is now possible."

Ayres declared the prospects for profits in the banking business are "fairly bright." The speaker said the crisis of five years ago resulted from the sudden and world-wide drop in general price levels which drastically reduced the values of securities, real estate and commodities.

"Under those conditions business men could not pay their debts as they fell due and the value of collateral behind loans became utterly inadequate," he said. "As a consequence bank depositors everywhere hurried almost simultaneously to withdraw their funds."

"No collapse of general price levels on a similar scale is now possible for the simple reason that we had the collapse several years ago. It is an anomalous fact that bankers should now be worried about inflation while shaping their policies to guard against a great deflation. This is particularly appropriate in view of the federal guarantee of deposits."

Chest Drive Fund Now Totals $3,524

Every day brings the Community Chest nearer its goal. This morning's receipts brought the total up to $3,524.15. The revised budget, set up after the withdrawal of the Red Cross, should be reached by Saturday, when it is hoped all assigned territory will have been recovered and final reports made.

Those who have not been solicited will help if they would leave their contributions at 326 Evans street, where the headquarters are located, or call Mr. Ryan at 545 or 731, and subscriptions will be called for.

Since the burden of carrying on the campaign falls upon a comparatively few persons, the time required for completion has been longer than otherwise would have been necessary.

European Tension Eased; Sino-Japanese Conflict Still Remains Menacing

WAR RUINS FRAME INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT

Weeks of steady bombardment from Japanese guns has reduced the Poolung industrial area of the city of Shanghai to ruins, as this picture shows. Just across the Whangpoo river is the International Settlement which has escaped a similar fate. The building with the pointed tower is the Cathay Hotel which Chinese fliers accidentally bombed in the conflict.

STIFF BATTLE AHEAD FOR JOB

Plenty of Political Candidates to Succeed Hancock

Raleigh, Oct. 14.—(AU)—The Raleigh Times said today it had learned "one of the three Surry county Polgers—John H. A. D. ('Lon') or Fred, a powerful trio in their district—is likely to announce for Congress from the fifth district "within a short time."

The paper said "a veritable dog fight for the fifth district Congress seat" looms as a result of Representative Frank Hancock of the fifth announcing for the Senate against Senator Robert Reynolds.

The Times also said "other likely candidates include R. L. Harris of Roxboro, Speaker of the 1933 State House of Representatives, and Fred Hutchins, one of the best known lawyers in Winston-Salem."

Marshall C. Kurfess of Winston-Salem, has already announced his candidacy and others mentioned include Solicitor Allen Gaym of Reidsville, Mayor W. T. Wilson of Winston-Salem, George Coan, Jr., a former Winston-Salem mayor who is now WPA administrator, and Hamilton Price of Leaksville.

Ethiopians Slay Italian Officers

Rome, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Forty-one Italian officers and 17 soldiers have been killed in attacks by "Ethiopian bandits," an official announcement said today.

The announcement was the Fascist government's reply to repeated rumors of Ethiopian massacres. It did not mention the number of native forces killed, but sources believed it may have been large.

NEW PROGRAM EACH FAIR DAY

Special Events Planned for Pitt County Exposition

The new and greater Pitt County Fair which opens next Monday at the new fair grounds will feature special events for each day.

Monday will mark the opening of the fair with one of the world's outstanding thrill attractions, the Great Siegfried, who does a ski jump down a greased slide and leaps a gap of 50 feet, scheduled to appear in the afternoon and night.

Tuesday is to be Farmville Day. Residents of Farmville are making plans to attend in a large party to show their interest in the fair as the Farmville Post of the American Legion is one of the co-sponsors.

To impress the children with the fact that the Pitt County Fair is their fair, Wednesday has been designated as Children's Day and all Pitt county children will be admitted free. There will be reduced prices to the shows and rides for the children, so that after they have visited the exhibits they can visit the midway and enjoy themselves.

The great Siegfried will make his appearance twice daily and each night there will be a display of fireworks.

Kaus United Shows will furnish the midway which should be called "Funway" as there are shows and rides to please the children from 6 to 60.

Buying New Uniforms For Two Departments

Greenville policemen and firemen were being measured today for their new winter uniforms, the Board of Aldermen having authorized the purchase at its regular October meeting.

Each of the officers on both forces will don a new uniform in the near future.

30.10 AVERAGE ON WEDNESDAY

Prices Continue Good On Greenville Tobacco Market

Prices continued strong on the Greenville tobacco market, the average remaining over the $30 per hundred pound mark for the third successive day of the week.

Although poundage was lighter than on the first two days of the week, sales brought offerings for the year above the 40,000,000 mark and money paid in excess of the $10,000,000 figure.

Yesterday 715,016 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Greenville market for $215,188.26, an official average of $30.10.

So far this season 40,147,854 lbs. have been sold here, bringing farmers $10,213,649.95 to establish a general season's average of $25.44.

The more than 40,000,000 pounds sold here during the 36 days the market has been in operation this year indicates that offerings this year will be the heaviest in the past several years. Greenville still holds a record with 60,000,000 lbs. sold in 80 days with four sets of buyers, established several years ago. The market now has five sets of buyers, but the average days sales is far in excess of a million pounds.

Hancock Announcement Received With Surprise

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, Oct. 14.—Announcement by Representative Frank Hancock that he will oppose Robert Reynolds in next year's senatorial primary was received in Raleigh with an apparently very genuine surprise, as virtually none of the district's representatives to enter the lists.

For one reason or another practically nobody in places of importance would have any comment whatever to make except to express that surprise. Even "Off the Record" comment was very guarded. Apparently everyone wanted a chance to analyze the full meaning and implications of the Greenville man's candidacy before talking.

Even at first blush, however, there were certain things that stood out fairly clearly among them:

(1) That Mr. Hancock's residence in Granville county (he recently made it a point to stress the fact that he is "from the Fifth District and not from any particular part thereof") will be used against him, with the Reynolds forces assigning him to the East, which isn't entitled to a Senatorial candidate this time.

(2) That no real evaluation of his chances can be made until there has been a breathing spell during which the probable lineup of important factions can be determined.

FRANCE SEEKS AVOID STRIFE

While French Ministers Approve Plan To Isolate Spanish Conflict, Projectiles Exploding in Shanghai's International Settlement Cause New Concern Over Far Eastern Situation

(By Associated Press)

France lessened European tension today to some extent by agreeing that the Spanish civil war volunteer question be submitted to the non-intervention committee as demanded by Italy, but on the other side of the world the Sino-Japanese conflict remained as menacing as ever.

While the French council of ministers was approving a plan of isolating the Spanish war so it would not cause a general European disaster, giant projectiles were exploding in the Shanghai international settlement, killing and injuring more than 100 civilians.

In Geneva, China lodged a strong protest with the league of nations against alleged use of asphyxiating gas and dum-bum bullets by the Japanese army.

The shell explosions in the international settlement were the latest of the incidents in the conflict, which have menaced civilians, foreign and native, and aggravated the difficulties of obtaining a peaceful settlement.

An American sailor aboard the United States flagship Augusta was slightly wounded by Japanese shrapnel during the Shanghai engagement. Aerial bombs also endangered United States marines, causing them to take cover behind sand-bag barricades. One marine was wounded in the arm.

France's council of ministers approved a three point program drawn up at a preliminary meeting yesterday to ease the Spanish situation.

The plan in brief: France agrees to submit the volunteer question to the non-intervention group, but demands consideration of a definite plan within six or 10 days. France and Britain will maintain a common stand on the question. France reserves the privilege in the event the 27-nation committee fails to agree on a method of getting foreign troops out of Spain, or scrapping the neutrality pact and resuming open munitions shipments to government Spain.

First Program Of Kiwanis Festival Scheduled Tonight

Four Weekly Entertainments Being Presented Here For Benefit Underprivileged Children

The first in a series of four weekly entertainments will be presented at the High School auditorium tonight under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club for the benefit of underprivileged children.

The Collins Festival, experienced by 18 years of entertainments of high type, will present the four programs. Each member of the Kiwanis club is actively supporting the move.

The first in the series, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and continue for about an hour and a half, will offer "King's Ambassadors Quartet," male voices at their best and superb bell ringing.

The second entertainment, scheduled for Thursday, October 21, will bring Harold D. Eide with a story of arctic exploration and adventure. The third weekly program, Thursday, October 22, will present Lucille Elmore and Company in up-to-date music and comedy.

The fourth and final program of the series, to be held Thursday, November 4, will offer a play entitled "The Mysterious Mr. Mason," a comedy of high finance.

The first feature, "King's Ambassadors Quartet," is on a mission of good cheer to music loving audiences. Four male voices will weave a musical spell that is enchanting in its smoothness and satisfying in its art. Unusual effects on a pedal of a hundred English bells is expected to round out an entertaining program for a "first night."

Anti-Lynching Measure May Prolong Congress

Bill Scheduled To Be Among First Business of Term

Washington, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Administration strategists seeking the swift approval of a five-point program at the special session of Congress next month, faced the possibility today of a prolonged jam over the anti-lynching bill.

The Senate, to get out of a parliamentary tangle in August, agreed formally to make the anti-lynching measure a special order of business immediately after a vote on farm legislation at the next session. This agreement, parliamentarians said, was so worded that it holds for the special session called by President Roosevelt.

Leaders expressed the belief the agreement would not endanger the wage-hour or farm legislation, but throw a serious obstacle in the way of the President's three other proposals, government reorganization, creation of regional planning authorities, modified after the TVA, and strengthening of the anti-trust laws.

Other developments: Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) balked at permitting the House ways and means committee quarters again to become the scene of the annual rush of interested persons to thumb the salary lists sent to Congress by the treasury every January.

Dr. L. R. Alderman, director of the WPA's education division, said the division's adult education classes were speeding up the decline of illiteracy in the south.

The adult education classes in the south are part of a WPA effort to reduce the total illiterate population of the United States by 1,000,000 by 1938.

A total of 160,455 has been set as the "quota" of 15 southern states in the attempt to reach the 1,000,000 mark.

The quota assignments for each of the 15 states included: North Carolina 16,876.

Broughton To Speak Here Sunday Morning

J. M. Broughton of Raleigh, former president of the North Carolina Bar association, and potential candidate for governor in the next Democratic primary, will speak at Immanuel Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Broughton will speak at the regular church hour. Members of other churches are invited to attend the service.

Grange Without Specific Program On Crop Control

Raleigh, Oct. 14.—The North Carolina Grange will present no specific plan for crop control to the sub-group from the U. S. Senate Agriculture committee which meets in Winston-Salem Monday, October 13.

According to Harry B. Caldwell, lecturer of the State Grange, the organization wants the senators to hear from "grassroots" and learn how the average farmer feels about proposals for crop control.

In a telegram to this bureau, Mr. Caldwell said: "The annual meeting of the state Grange to formulate our state program will not be held until October 27-28-29, consequently we will not endorse any bill at this time."

"We will insist that adequate protection and maximum benefits be given family sized farms in drafting any kind of new farm legislation."

Pension Proposed By Presbyterians

The proposed pension plan for ministers of the Southern Presbyterian church will be discussed at a dinner-meeting in the basement of the local church at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Presbyterian churches throughout the South are joining in efforts to raise $3,000,000 to be used in annuity payments to aged ministers or the faith.

J. Nat Harrison is chairman of the local group and will preside over the meeting tonight. All adult members of the church are invited to the meeting.

At the end of 1935, there were 10,891 postoffices in Japan.

TO SEEK PROBE OF MINE UNION

American Labor Federation Votes Make Request

Denver, Oct. 14.—The American Federation of Labor convention decided today to ask the Senate civil liberties committee to investigate the United Mine Workers of America.

The Federation's action followed a speech by Joe Ozanic, president of the Progressive Miners of America in which Ozanic accused United Mine Workers officials of a "reign of terror" in the Illinois coal fields.

Twenty-one progressive miner members have been killed during the five-year war between the unions, he asserted.

FORCES OF CIO ADOPT POLICY

Set About to Justify Claim of Dominant Labor Body

Atlantic City, Oct. 14.—(AP)—John L. Lewis CIO set out today to justify its claim of being the dominant labor force by accepting the challenge of opponents to assume "union responsibility."

Adopting a permanent national policy for the first time, leaders of 32 affiliated CIO unions unanimously approved a resolution yesterday to cooperate with employers in administering collective bargaining agreements which they said must be written contracts.

There were clamors from some delegates to the CIO conference, mainly from automobile and West coast maritime workers, "unwarranted" actions of employers made drastic union action—such as sit-down strikes—imperative.

But no opposing voice was raised when Philip Murray, chairman of the steelworkers' organizing committee, who supported the resolution called for a vote.

In the temporary absence of Lewis himself, Murray and Sidney Hillman, chairman of the TWOC, led the victorious fight.

Daily Dozen For Judges

Perleberg, Germany, Oct. 14.—(AP)—White-bearded judges, attorneys, clerks and all other employees of the district court here must start their work-day with 15 minutes of morning exercises. The president of the court said physical exercise was the best way to prepare for the monotony of court routine.

Students Visit Raleigh. Students of the seventh grade of the Training school went to Raleigh yesterday, visited the fair and other places of interest in the state capital.

Approximately 25 boys and girls made the trip. They were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Plumb, and three members of the student training school.

Thrift Shop Committee to Meet. There will be a meeting of the members of the advisory committee of the Thrift Shop on Friday afternoon. Plans will be made for the opening in the near future.

Attend U. D. C. Meeting. Among those attending the meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held in Wilson this week, were: Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Mrs. R. C. Deal, Mrs. W. B. Herling, Mrs. E. W. Moseley, Mrs. T. A. Person, Mrs. F. C. Harding, and Mrs. E. W. Harvey.

Kiwanis Entertainment Series. It is most appropriate that the series of entertainments being sponsored by the Greenville Kiwanis Club should open tonight, just 16 years ago, on October 14, 1921, the charter of the Greenville Kiwanis Club was presented, the ceremonies taking place in the dining room of East Carolina Teachers College. The welcome address was delivered by Burt James, the response by Lindsay Warren, charter presentation by W. A. Lucas, and the address of acceptance by President James Turner. Since that date 16 years ago the Kiwanis Club has been foremost in every movement of civic interest, concerning itself especially with Child Welfare.

To celebrate its 16th anniversary Kiwanis could have selected no more appropriate means than the sponsoring of a series of entertainments, the proceeds from which will be used for Child Welfare in this community.

Six of the charter members of the club are still active in its work. One of these six, Wm. E. Hooker, is chairman of the Child Welfare committee which has charge of the present program of entertainments which will continue for four Thursday nights, being presented in the high school auditorium. The Kiwanis Club is a community asset of which we may well be proud and its members have performed community services of incalculable value.

Entertain At Bridge. Winterville, Oct. 14.—Misses Mary Ida and Leckie McLawhorn entertained the Winterville teachers and friends at a lovely bridge party on Saturday afternoon at their home near Winterville, honoring Mrs. Haywood McLawhorn, a recent bride.

Twelve tables, attractively appointed, were placed in a colorful setting of zinnias, dahlias, marigolds, and other fall flowers arranged in a profusion of autumn shades.

At the conclusion of the game, cards were removed and a tempting salad course with coffee was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames L. W. Tucker, Coy L. Forbes, Obed Costelloe and D. T. McLawhorn.

A cross necklace was awarded Mrs. R. W. Gorman for high score, a bracelet to Mrs. J. R. Carroll for second high, and a handkerchief to Mrs. Leon Evans for low score.

Mrs. Haywood McLawhorn was presented a pair of embroidered linen pillow cases as honoree, and Mrs. B. A. Simpson sport handkerchiefs as guest prize.

The out-of-town guests were: Mesdames L. W. Tucker, Royce Hunsucker and W. S. Stafford of Greenville; Coy L. Forbes, Stokes, and B. A. Simpson, Oakboro.

Judge, 98, Still Sitting. London, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Alfred Dennis, 98-year-old justice of the peace of Weymouth, British south coast town, plans to sit on the bench to celebrate his hundredth birthday. "I don't intend ever to retire," he said recently.

Literature Department.

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the fall Tuesday afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Hyman at her home on Library street. At the close of the business session, program leaflets "History as Revealed in Literature," were distributed. Mrs. C. S. Lamb, in charge of the program for the afternoon, ably reviewed "King Edward VIII," by Hector Bolitho. Portions of this intimate biography showing how the government exploited the charms of its beloved Prince of Wales and the effect this had on his life, were read. Mrs. Lamb closed her paper with King Edward VIII's last speech.

Mr. Dean Tabor, of the college music faculty, delighted those present with three vocal numbers. In "EVEN KUBLEN GRUNDE," German folk song; "Wieniedel," by Mozart; "The Hobo Song," by Grace J. Brown. As an encore he gave "Shortnin' Bread."

Miss Gorrell, also of the college faculty, accompanied Mr. Tabor. During the social hour Miss Hyman, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Bradsher, served tasty sandwiches, cup cakes and tea.

The club was delighted to welcome three new members, Miss Matheson and Mesdames R. L. Hill and W. A. Brown.—Reported.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

That household nuisance—mildew—can be avoided in damp articles are never placed in clothes hamper. Dry all clothing and household linen thoroughly. Don't let it collect in damp basements, dark closets or other spots that are likely to be damp.

Mix seasonings in a large salt shaker. That will make it much more convenient to sprinkle them over foods broiled in outdoor places. Salt, pepper, paprika, celery and onion salts and chopped parsley made a good combination.

When tall candles don't fit their holders, dip the bases into hot water and quickly press them into holders. Hold them there firmly until they become imbedded in the holder.

Racks often are neater and more convenient than hooks for towels. They may be fastened to a kitchen door.

A generous-sized shoe bag hung on the inside of the downstairs hall closet door can serve for storing many articles—caps, mittens, rubbers, small brooms, hat brushes and the like.

Keep plenty of cleansing tissue in the bathroom. It will save much wear and tear on the towels—especially when the men folks learn to use it for wiping off razors and the women for removing lipstick.

To darken minor scratches on mahogany, maple or walnut furniture rub them with butter applied on a clean cloth. Then polish them with another soft, clean cloth.

Individual Ice Creams
Dainty individual molds of ice cream may be made by melting chocolate candy bars and pouring part of the melted chocolate into paper baking cups. Tilt the cups to coat the sides and bottoms and then quickly fill them with ice cream. Let the molds stay in the freezing tray of the mechanical refrigerator or in a mold buried in salt and ice for about an hour. Discard the cups before serving time.

Spicy Appetizer
Serve a chilled mixture of spiced peaches and seedless grapes, sweetened with maple syrup or strained honey as the first course of a meal.

Lime Juice Over Melon
Sprinkle honeydew and cantaloupe balls with lime juice. The result is a tasty combination to be served as appetizer or dessert.

ETIQUETTE

By JOAN DURHAM (AP Feature Service Writer)

It's the woman with poise who holds the world's attention today. Poise is to the 1937 woman what glitter was to the belle of the 90's and vitality to the post-war flapper.

Three Characteristics
Women in these troublesome days realize they must have more than glitter.
The Duchess of Windsor is only one of them.

A well-poised woman appears always to be at ease with herself and the rest of the world.
She has at least three outward characteristics: good posture, no waste movement, controlled speech. She doesn't fidget—with her fingers, her dress, or the pearls about her neck.

She doesn't have to resort to a cigarette or a cocktail to have something to do with her hands—as her grandmother had to resort to her knitting when the conversation died down.

She has learned what to say and when to say it—either through an innate feminine sensitiveness to people or through careful practice.
For poise is both born and made.

Ten Candidates

Who are the American women with the most poise?

- Here's a list of ten to start on: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Herbert Hoover. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland. Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip. Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. Lena Madein Phillips, president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women. Maude Adams. Josephine Roche, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury and Colorado mine operator. Mrs. Vincent Astor.

KIWANIS MEET IN CHARLOTTE

Three Full Days Are Ahead for Carolinas Conference

Charlotte, Oct. 14.—Three days packed with entertainment are being planned for wives of Kiwanians who attend the 17th annual convention of Kiwanis Carolinas district, which will be held at Hotel Charlotte here October 28-30. A committee under the chairmanship of McAlister Carson, well-known Charlottean, has arranged several attractions for the ladies who attend the meeting with their husbands.

An official hostess will have a booth in the lobby of Hotel Charlotte, convention headquarters, to see that the wives are well entertained.

Kiwanians and their wives will have an opportunity for a round of golf at one of the local country clubs Thursday afternoon, October 28. An informal dance will be held at the hotel Thursday night.

The women may attend the various sessions with their husbands Friday morning, but at 1:15 P. M. Friday two separate luncheon meetings will be conducted for the men and women. The women will have a typical "Kiwanis" luncheon of their own. Mr. Carson said, and the Kiwanians will attend another luncheon in another part of the hotel.

The wives will hear Miss Dorothy Baker, famed soprano. There will be "club" singing, reports and shop talks in which it is planned to call on various women to tell "how I manage my husband"; "how I prepare meals" and other topics on the theme of running a household. Attendance prizes will be awarded as at Kiwanis gatherings back home.

A book of tickets which will admit them to any of the several theaters in Charlotte will be given to the ladies Friday afternoon.

Climax of the three-day meeting will be Friday night at the hotel when a large banquet and the governor's ball and reception will be held.

The ladies will have spare time to shop or go on sight-seeing trips Saturday morning while their husbands are attending the concluding sessions of the convention. Mr. Carson said.

Besides entertainment features for wives of Kiwanians, the Charlotte club is arranging for the appearance of several prominent speakers, a musical extravaganza and several important business sessions.

The Characters

Nina, a nice girl with flaxen hair, has fallen in love with her stepfather.

Honey, Nina's gay, plump, youthful mother, has brought home a new husband.

Richard, Nina's charming, well-tailored stepfather, pays considerable attention to Nina.

David, a young auto salesman, crashed a party, met Nina and his heart turned over.

Cordelia is Nina's closest friend.

Chapter 10

'You're Good For Me'

BUT Nina's reasoning had all been too convenient, too easy . . . too brief. The second stage came on at breakfast.

She had been quite wrong, she found.

As she sat sipping her chilled grapefruit juice, in her new American Beauty pajamas, she thought: "Now I must snap out of this schoolgirl lapse of mine."

But when her stepfather appeared in a black dressing-gown with dragons on it, she thought: "Oh, Lord! I can't!"

She loved him, and it couldn't be helped. But she loved him nicely and quietly, and nobody need ever even suspect it. Instead of gnawing inwardly at her vitals, like a cancer, it gave her a warm, glowing feeling inside. Something to be treasured rather than ashamed of.

The beautiful second stage lasted all of three days. She had thought it would last forever. She should have known better.

Nina soon found herself progressing to the stage where she wanted to talk about it . . . wanted people to know; and immediately, of course, upon the heels of this hideous discovery, came remorse, and self-reviling thoughts about loyalty to her mother.

Nina felt sick all over.

In the Plaza movies, one afternoon, Cordelia had said: "How are you and Richard making out, darling?"

That had been the beginning of it.

Nina had wanted to talk and talk about him; how marvelously they got on together; how marvelously he was to Honey; how marvelously he fitted into the household.

Cordelia had had to shush her, because the feature picture had started. And it was then that Nina had begun to be afraid.

Oh, To Laugh About It!

SHE went about then, in a paralysis of fear lest someone would suspect it . . . Honey . . . Richard, himself.

She dreaded goodnights, and good mornings, lest he should touch her, and the warm blood should come rushing into her cheeks. She felt that she walked awkwardly, talked in a peculiar constrained way when she was with him, in an effort to appear normal. Sometimes her lips felt as though she had been out in a cold wind . . . stiff and frozen almost, when she had to reply to some casual compliment. It was unbearable.

And it wasn't only the effort of trying to hide the signs of her, well, call it infatuation. It was trying to kill the germ at the root of the infection. And that she could not seem to do. It was as though Richard were launching a diabolical campaign to win her; to make her suffer, and hate herself the more.

One night he said to Carrie Van Alstyne, right in front of Honey and Nina: "I'm proud of myself, Carrie. There aren't many men who could keep their heads, with two such beautiful women in the house."

And Horseface had said, coquetishly: "Are you referring to Honey and me, young fella?" Honey had giggled.

Oh, to be able to laugh about it!

Nina thought with envy of the girl who had been herself only a few days ago, lying all unconcerned, between her peach-colored sheets, figuring it out on her fingers that she really didn't love him at all; who had been able to curl up, and go to sleep afterwards.

And she thought, with loathing, of the girl she was—now; admittedly in love with her own mother's husband . . . trembling at his approach . . .

She went out with Tom . . . and with every Dick and Harry who asked her. And she was so nice to David, when he came back from his trip and called up, that he appeared within an hour . . . with Button, and a happy gleam in his eyes.

She was inordinately glad to see him. He had interested her more than any young man in ages . . . before Richard Challoner appeared, of course . . . and she hoped against hope that his charm would help bring her back to normal again.

Not Pull A 'Fish Tush'?

"HEL-LO, David!"

"Gosh, Nina, I'm glad to see you. It's been 5 weeks, 2 days, and 13 hours too long!"

Richard invents an errand to be with Nina, tomorrow.

DUKE FACULTY MEN HONORED

Four Professors Considered as Pacific Experts

Durham, Oct. 14.—Four Duke University professors are listed among the 100 American authorities on the countries and the peoples of the Pacific cited by the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

They are: Dr. Paul Hibbert, Clyde, associate professor of history, author of "International Rivalries in Manchuria," "Japan's Pacific Mandate," "The Modern and Contemporary Far East," who has visited the Far East on several occasions. He is particularly familiar with Japan's foreign policy and the policy of the United States in the Pacific.

Dr. Homer H. Dubs, professor of philosophy, director of translation of Chinese dynastic histories for the library of congress, editor and translator, and an authority on ancient China and Chinese philosophy, who has lived in China for 12 years.

Dr. Paul M. A. Lineberger, instructor in political science; author of "The Political Doctrines of Sun Yat-Sen," "Government in Republican China," who has visited China, four times, and who has been connected with the office of the legal advisor to the national government of China for six years. He is particularly informed on modern governments and politics in the Far-East, the history of the Chinese republic, and the problems of China's internal administration.

Prof. James Cannon III, Ivey professor of history of religion and missions, who teaches courses on the relations of eastern Asia and on living religions of the world. Professor Cannon had made a particular study of the Soong family and its relationship to America, and cultural contacts between the

The Nebraska Cornhuskers had their moment when they upset Minnesota for the first time in 24 years.

Everyone believed that Major Biff Jones taking over the Nebraska coaching reins would do well with the veteran line left by Dana X. Bible. But few predicted he would halt Minnesota's victory march in the very first contest of his regime.

It wouldn't be fair to Nebraska to suggest the Gophers were due for a fall. The Cornhuskers did win largely because of Gopher fumbles that led to golden scoring opportunities, but those fumbles were caused by the fierce charging, the hard tackling and the rushing of Nebraska linemen.

The fact that the cornhuskers had the ability to take advantage of the opportunities indicated Nebraska had a real scoring punch as well as a most stubborn defense.

Nine Nebraska seniors went into the contest with a view to stop the Gopher victory march ringing in their ears. That was exactly what they did. They had given Minnesota a hard battle two years ago. Last year they had lost a heart-breaker to the Gophers. No one will begrudge the 1937 victory.

Anchoring the Husker line, and the entire team, in fact, was Rough House Charley Brock. Nebraska's candidate for center on the All-America team. He was a ball of fire backing up the line on defense. His alert ball following enabled him to snare a Gopher fumble and set up the first Nebraska touchdown.

Another Husker hero likely to be heard from again proved to be Lloyd Grimm. His hard tackle of Bill Matheny caused the Gopher back to fumble the ball Brock recovered.

Far East and America. He has written various articles on these subjects.

MISS CARR TO FILL POSITION

Succeeds Jane Adams As Head Famous Hull House

By LYDIA GRAY YSHAW
(AP Feature Service Writer)

NEW YORK.—The jovial, efficient woman destined to succeed Jane Adams as head of Chicago's famous Hull House came out of her inner office in the congested old municipal building and greeted us with a hearty handshake.

Without benefit of buzzers or secretaries, we—the photographer and I—found ourselves within a large map-lined room and in the midst of an informal interview almost before we knew it.

Charlotte Carr, chief of New York City's Emergency Relief Bureau, talked unhurriedly and readily—about her days as policeman in a New York industrial area, secretary of labor in Pennsylvania, and problem-solver for New York's covered Grimm's catch of a pass, four plays later, put Nebraska on the threshold of a score.

 Raleigh, Oct. 14.—The Fifth Congressional District, or at least the greater part thereof, promises to be the hottest spot, politically speaking, in North Carolina next year.
 Its present Representative Frank

 Add to this the fact that most of the feverish Fifth was included in

BARN USED AS 'EGG FACTORY'
Profit of $424 Earned By Farmer During Past Year

Brevard, Oct. 14.—A barn loft converted into an "egg factory" has earned a profit of $424.37 during the past year for W. T. Whitmire, Transylvania county farmer.
 In the spring of 1936, Whitmire purchased 500 high quality white leghorn chicks and placed them in a brick brooder that he had set up in a woodshed converted into a brooder house.
 Last October 30, after most of the birds had been sold as fryers and broilers, he put the choice pullets in a barn loft, which had been remodeled into a laying house.
 During the following 11 months he kept an average of 194 birds in his "egg factory" and gathered 44,822 eggs, said J. A. Glazener, farm agent of the State College extension service.
 The birds were kept in the laying house all the time. Over a 7-month period Whitmire fed them 3,250 pounds of grain. Mash fed during the 11 months amounted to 13,800 pounds, and 800 pounds of shells were fed also.
 The total feed cost was $430.60, and the eggs sold for $905.07, making an income of $424.37 above feed cost, Glazener pointed out.
 The average cost of feed per dozen eggs produced was 12-3-4 cents, while the average selling price per dozen eggs was 24 1-2 cents.
 The "egg factory" has been constructed as a modern hen house with good ventilation, plenty of sunshine, electric lights, and running water. The cost of remodeling was $5.

'UPSETS' TO DISAPPEAR COACH BACHMAN SAYS

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The "upset" in football will get so plentiful there soon will be no upsets.
 That's what Coach Charley Bachman of Michigan State says. Surprise scores will get to be matter-of-fact news, he predicts.
 The reason? The smaller colleges are getting better players from well-coached high school teams. Because the small colleges get the players, they are leaving the pushover class.
 style are being used on some of the Nali-head trimmings in cowboy smarter handbags.

the great detriment of the state's fishermen.

The Hatteras, special patrol boat, has taken up its vigil, according to reports received by R. Bruce Etheridge, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, from Captain John A. Nelson, fisheries commissioner. Captain Guy Gaskill of the Hatteras revealed there are no trawlers off the coast just now, probably because of a recent spell of unsettled weather.
 Funds for the patrol were provided by the 1937 assembly which appropriated $25,000 for the purpose.

After a lapse of more than two months during which there have been no executions at Central Prison here, there are eighteen prisoners on "Death Row" under sentence to die in the gas chamber.

First scheduled to die are Alfred Puckett, white man from Richmond county, slated to die for the murder of Roy Rhyme, a filling station operator; and George Stevenson, Negro, under sentence of death for first degree burglary in Columbus county. Execution date is set for October 29.

One of the best wisecracks heard regarding the candidacy of Representative Frank Hancock against Senator Robert R. Reynolds was the remark:

"After the election North Carolina will have a new Representative in Congress and the same Senators."

Most discounted piece of news on record was Bob Doughton's Wednesday announcement that he would not run for the Senate.

WHAT A LINE UP!

IT'S ODD, But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)
 Pasadena, Cal.—It appears that science won't be able to grow giants, either plant or animal, until they discover one of nature's greatest unknowns—the "limiting factor."

This means the force or condition that limits growth. New examples of this limit are reported in the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences by James Bonner and Grice Axtman of the California Institute of Technology.
 They removed the embryonic plants from the seeds of perfection peas, the tiny plants were then made to grow in sterile solutions, distilled water mixed with salts.
 Vitamin B (one), which helps in the growth of humons, also speeded the growth of these pea plants when added to their food. Another of man's life essentials, vitamin C, also made the peas grow bigger.
 Two other chemicals had similar growing powers. One was foliculin, an essential of the sex cycle of women. Another was pantothenic acid, a new discovery.

 But adding all of these together did nothing more toward growth than one of them alone. Nature seemed to be able to get "enough" with any one, and after that there was no effect. No clue was found to the "limiting factor," which stopped these perfection peas after they had reached "normal" size.

4 QUESTIONS TO ASK WHEN YOU BUY A STOVE

- 1 Circulate heated air like a warm air furnace?
- 2 Radiate heat you can feel, like a fireplace?
- 3 Direct heat rays downward to warm the floor?
- 4 End ashes and drudgery by burning any one of a wide variety of domestic fuel oils?

Only SUPERFEX COMBINES ALL 4 COMFORTS

Superfex alone gives the fourfold comfort of modern oil heating with three kinds of heat: circulating, radiating and directed heat. Patented shutters on three sides are adjustable to throw radiant heat outward or downward at any desired angle. With shutters closed, heat rises and circulates.
 Do away with dirty ashes. Let your family enjoy the cleanliness, economy and convenience of SUPERFEX oil heating with its easy fueling, easy lighting and fingertip control. See modern SUPERFEX designs at your dealer's. Several sizes, porcelain enamel finish.

VIRGINIA TECH HAS HIGH HOPE

Much To Depend On Playing of Triple-Threat Star

Raleigh, Oct. 14.—Upon the triple threat ability of Mel Henry, the broad shoulders of Blackwell Davis, and the pass catching fingers of Lloyd Doxey, Virginia Tech has placed its hopes for a grid victory over State College here Saturday in Riddick Stadium.

Rated as the best all-round player in Virginia, Mel Henry will head Tech's offense against State and Coach Henry Redd could not have chosen a better man. Henry runs hard and fast, throws footballs like they were baseballs, and punts. Blackwell Davis is Tech's 227-pound left tackle who is probably the biggest man in the Southern Conference. Few gains have been made over him and Tech followers are depending upon him to check State's Eddie "Little Buzzer" Berlinski and Art Rooney.

Another big gun in Tech's offense and defense is Lloyd Doxey, right end, and one of the finest flankers to oppose State's 1936 Wolfpack. Doxey is a good all-around end and one of the best pass receivers in the game.

There are other stars on the Tech team anxiously waiting for a good scound crack at State's Wolfpack. Tech has been unable to beat since 1934, but topping the list are Henry, Davis and Doxey. Tech will play its best game Saturday night. The Virginian are working hard in their mountain home and dream at night of a win over State. They have beaten State 12 times in 21 games and think it's time for that 13th victory.

State's Wolves are ready to throw their best against the invading Virginians. They are in good shape, and with Louie Mark, center; Jess Tatum, end, and George Fry, tackle, to lead the defense, and Berlinski and Roney groomed to head offense, State expects to give Tech one of the hardest battles it has ever had to fight.

WFC PREPARES FOR UNC GAME

Things Moving Along Smoothly in Camp Of Deacons

Wake Forest, Oct. 14.—Things are moving along smoothly in the Wake Forest grid camp as Coach Peahead Walker, Murray Gresson, and Ellis Fysal drive their Deacons through the daily drills, preparing for the homecoming classic with North Carolina here Saturday afternoon.

Captain Boots Mumford, injured since the Tennessee contest almost three weeks ago, is taking his regular turn with the No. 1 club now and it appears that he will be ready to face the Heels this week. His return to duty has caused a new and determined spirit among members of the Wake Forest squad.

The only damper to the hopeful spirit of the Deacons is the injury to Wheeler Dale, center, who was carried from the field in the Eskine game last week with an injured ankle, and it is very doubtful that he will see any action Saturday.

From over at Carolina, Coach Ray Wolf has issued the report that he will have his entire club ready for the Baptist's homecoming game, and while his boys will be more or less dropping down from the tough competition they met in New York University and that they will encounter in the future at a week from Saturday, they are not taking the Wake Forest game too lightly.

Those lettermen on the Tar Heel club—Andy Bershak, Steve Maronic, Henry Barlos, Ed Palmer, Pete Avery, Bob Adam, Crowell Little, Tom Burnette, Randy Cooper, Geo. Watson and Art Ditt—all remember very well the scare handed them in 1936 by a supposedly weak Wake Forest club, and have warned their mates about the Deacs.

While Coach Walker's club this year is probably the greenest and lightest that has represented Wake Forest in several seasons, it has been showing steady improvement.

Running on the first club in drills this week have been: John Weaver and Roy Evans or Fred Hoyle, ends; Harry Beaver and Allen Powers, guard; Rupert, Paul and Rupert Bryan, guards; Howard Stogner or Captain Mumford, center; Dave Fuller, quarter; Billy Gustier, right half and Howard Anderson or George Wirtz, left half; Frank McCarthy, fullback.

The spirit on Wake Forest's campus is running high for Saturday's game, even though there appears little hope for a victory over the Tar Heels. According to an announcement by Joe Bishop, Jr., head cheer leader, a mammoth pep meeting and bon fire will be staged on Gore Field with college officials, student leaders, coaches, players and local townsmen participating, Friday night.

Nash Car Dealers To See New Model

New Nash cars for 1938 featuring conditioned air for winter driving and other developments never before seen in automobiles will be introduced Nash dealers in this area at a special meeting at 118 East Third Street Friday.

A Factory official will be here to introduce new cars to dealers and salesmen and to describe Nash's merchandising program for next year, which is the largest in the company's history.

Ottawa, Kas., Oct. 14.—Sixty-four-year-old D. C. Monroe saw his first football game and then remarked:

"It's sorta like catchin' wild hogs. It reminds me of the time down on the farm when I roped a big calf. I threw a rope around its neck and it dragged me half a mile. Football is rough, too."

Monroe, filling station operator, "just didn't get around to going to a game" until recently.

HIGHS PLAYING DUKE TO FACE TERRIFIC FOE

Phantoms Meeting Roanoke Rapids There Today

The football team of Greenville high school will travel today to Roanoke Rapids where they encounter the team representing that school. This is the fourth game of the season for the "Green Phantoms."

Roanoke Rapids has the strongest team that Greenville has faced this year. Three weeks ago the Roanoke Rapids' eleven beat Rich Square 27 to 6. This is two points more than the Phantoms beat Rich Square. Last Friday Roanoke Rapids held the strong New Bern team scoreless. This indicates that the Greens will have their hands full.

The Greenville team is crippled for this game. Robert Earle Clark, star veteran tackle, is out of the lineup due to a sprained ankle. John Lautares, halfback, will not be able to play because of a lame knee. Captain Howard Hodges, who has shown up best so far this season, may not see action today because of a sore side.

CRIPPLED TEAM TO TAKE FIELD

Pirate Lineup Weakened by Injuries To Players

The injury jinx continues to wreck the Pirate lineup and Coach Joe Alexander is fearful of the outcome for Saturday's game with Belmont.

Yesterday's scrimmage added the fiery guard, Bill Merner to the crippled list, when a power play aimed at his position resulted in a severe shoulder injury that will probably keep him out of the game Saturday.

User Jim Johnson was back out yesterday but is far from well. With Primmy Carpenter, Joe Williams, Earl Smith and David Brece out of the line-up a complete revamping of the starting line-up must be made. There is possibility of shifting Bruiser Jim Johnson to end. In Wednesday's scrimmage session Johnson looked might good at the wing berth and may be the answer to Coach Alexander's prayer for an end.

Jack Nye showed symptoms of awakening and at times looked good in the backfield. Bill Seltzer is rounding into form and showed marked improvement in running and is getting off his passes faster. Francis Ferebee plunzed the reserve line for considerable yardage and directed a running attack that tore the reserve string to shreds.

Bill Dudash is blocking like a veteran despite this being his initial year in collegiate football. His hard driving blocks and smashing tackling is accounting for much of his team's gains.

Belmont has a big rugged line fact that they had a much easier time with Kentucky than Duke had in playing those legions of Tennesseans. Scoring in the first 30 seconds, and again in the first quarter, Tech took it just about as they pleased and will be at top speed for the Wademen.

The Duke coaches have been worrying all week for fear that Honey Hackney, the Blue Devils' dazzling quarterback, may not be at top speed for one game. He suffered a pair of injuries against Tennessee but carried on to play one of his best games. He has been receiving treatment all week but he cannot be at his best for the jackets.

George McAfee, Hackney's sophomore understudy, has been running at the post in practices. McAfee has shown promise in early games but he is not thought quite ready to step into such a responsible assignment as directing the team against such a powerful opponent. However, it is certain that he will see much action against the Jackets and may have to play the entire game.

and a powerful backfield combination of unusual versatility. Belmont is bringing a squad of thirty-five men to pit against the small Pirate squad and Pirate fans are dubious of the outcome.

HANCOCK ANNOUNCEMENT RECEIVED WITH SURPRISE

(Continued from Page One) ion that the Governor is glad he wasn't. (6) That the Hancock strength will be drawn from those elements usually lined up with the so-called "Administration Machine," altho the machine will not tear its shirt to any great extent. All in all, the announcement added spice to a political situation which was getting a bit boring. Whether or not things will begin to pick up at once remains to be seen. Nobody who knows Frank Hancock and his record doubts that he will conduct a rousing rip-roaring campaign, but there are many among his friends who are more than a little dubious of his chances. These folks feel that he missed his chance in 1936 by failing to enter against Senator Josiah Bailey. They believe he could have made the grade by championing President Roosevelt and his causes. As things now stack up, he will almost certainly be forced into the position of pursuing just exactly the opposite course in the coming race. He can call himself an "Independent Liberal" all he pleases, but it seems generally agreed that his sole chance of beating Bob Reynolds is to attract the Anti-Roosevelt and the Anti-New Deal strength to his banner while at the same time casting in on some of his purported liberalism. The Hancock record shows a general support of the President, but also indicates that he can, on occasion, stray far from the reservation of party regularity in his Congressional votes.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE Often drops most when it is highest to start with say eminent French Doctors French doctors tell of favorable results secured in many cases of High Blood Pressure with continued use of Garlic Essence given in small doses at prescribed intervals. They say there was often a definite drop in pressure and that this lowering of the pressure was generally most marked in those cases in which the blood pressure was highest to start with. This same experience has been reported by scores of scientists in all parts of the world. Recently, Dr. Frederic Damrau, a well-known medical man of New York City, reported favorable results in 22 out of 26 cases of High Blood Pressure. In many cases the pressure was lowered and kept lowered through the generous use of ALLIMIN. ALLIMIN is for sale at all good drug stores, but when you go to buy be sure to ask for ALLIMIN—and see that you get the genuine even if you have to insist.
