Mounting Returns Emphasize Defeat Of Tammany Hall

CIO MAN LOSES DETROIT RACE

LaGuardia Only "Reform" Candidate To Defeat Tammany Hall Twice in Succession; Democrats Regain Governorship of New Jersey With Election of Senator Moore

(By Associated Press)
Mounting returns emphasized today the defeats absorbed by Tammany Hall and the C. I. O. in two of yesterday's principal elections.

Old Tammany took its second successive beating when New York voters re-elected Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia by a record-breaking total and selected racket-smashing Thomas Dewey for district attorney of New York County.

The C. I. O. in its first major bid for direct political power, lost the Detroit mayoralty to Richard R. Bevan, an unaffiliated candidate with American Federation of Labor support.

Because of the dominance of local issues, party leaders found few clues to national political trends in the scattered off-year election. Late returns showed today:

Senator Harry Moore, of New Jersey, won back for the Democrats the governorship he has held twice, leaving the Republicans with only six governors out of 48.

Bruce Barton, advertising executive and author, was elected to the House from New York's "silk stocking" district, replacing a Democrat and increasing Republican strength in that branch of Congress. Three other congressional elections to fill vacancies developed no party switches.

James H. Price, Democrat, was easily elected governor of Virginia. Foremost in general interest was LaGuardia's striking victory in New York. He was the first "reform" candidate ever to beat Tammany twice in a row. He received a margin of 451,425 over Jeremiah Mahoney, Democrat.

Reuben Vines, Negro, convicted of drunkenness was fined $10 and costs, with judgment providing a 30-day sentence if the fine and costs were not paid.

Lyman Allen, convicted of drunkenness was ordered to pay the costs of court or serve a 30-day road sentence.

Jack Taylor was fined $5 and costs upon conviction of exceeding the speed limit.

H. R. Hilliard and Mary Cox were convicted of selling clothing without a license. Hilliard was ordered to pay $25 and one half of the costs of court and the woman was fined $5 and one half the costs.

Heads TB Assn.

J. H. Waldrop, local banker, has been named president of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association, succeeding J. W. Holmes of Farmville, who resigned from the position. Announcement of the election was made today by Secretary N. Thomas Ennett.

GROUP ELECTS J. H. WALDROP

Banker Named President of Tuberculosis Association

The Pitt County Tuberculosis Association, through its secretary, Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, local health officer, has just announced the election of J. Herbert Waldrop to the position of president of the association, succeeding J. W. Holmes, of Farmville, who found it necessary to resign.

Mr. Holmes had served the association most acceptably and it was with regret that his resignation was accepted, declared Dr. Ennett.

Mr. Waldrop is a prominent local banker and is well known for his interest in all civic affairs. He is especially well known for his interest in the control of tuberculosis, having had much to do with providing the first "Burr" cottage for the segregation of advanced cases of tuberculosis in Pitt County.

He has also been a strong supporter of the Christmas Seal Sale campaign, which, of course, is for the purpose of raising funds for use in the control of tuberculosis.

The directors of the association feel that they are extremely fortunate in securing for the presidency of the association a man of Mr. Waldrop's character and ability.

N. C. Parole And Welfare Go Hand In Hand In Work

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Nov. 3.—In North Carolina parole and welfare go hand in hand, in the opinion of Edwin Gill, commissioner of paroles.

"No feature of the parole program has attracted as much attention as the close relationship between the parole office and the 100 county superintendents of public welfare," said Mr. Gill in the Public Welfare News Letter, issued through the North Carolina State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

"At the recent session of the American Parole Association in Philadelphia, this phase of our system was much discussed and widely commended," he continued.

"This intimate relationship is no accidental association. It is the natural partnership that is in harmony with modern tendencies in the treatment of crime."

EFFORTS MADE TO NEUTRALIZE FOREIGN AREA

Negotiations Started To Remove Shanghai Warfare

CATHOLIC PRIEST ORIGINATES PLAN

Under Proposed Plan Both Chinese And Japs Would Agree To Suggestion

Shanghai, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Negotiations were underway today to move Shanghai warfare away from the fringes of the French Concession, where many Americans make their homes.

A Japanese spokesman told the conversations to neutralize the Nantao area, just south of the Concession. He declared representatives of a neutral power had approached Japanese with a plan designed to avoid further endangering of foreign and Chinese non-combatants.

Coincidentally, foreign military observers reported Chinese lines extending west from the International Settlement were thinning and added they would not be surprised if the Chinese withdrew from the area immediately around Shanghai within the next few days.

It was disclosed the plan for neutralization of Nantao, the Chinese quarters which Japanese on several occasions have threatened to bombard, was originated by Father Jacquot, the Catholic priest who heads the international refugee committee.

Under the proposed neutralization plan, both Chinese and Japanese would sign separate agreements with Father Jacquot providing demilitarization for purely humanitarian reasons to avoid danger to thousands of civilians flocking to the area from outlying districts.

The negotiations, considered the first definite move to push the warfare away from Shanghai, would place the final issue of the struggle with Chinese and Japanese armies in the interior.

VANCE CITIZEN WRECK VICTIM

Fatal Accident Near Henderson Early This Morning

Henderson, Nov. 3.—(AP)—R. C. Brake, 36, manager of the Southern Ice Cream company, was killed instantly early today in an automobile accident four miles west of here on the Oxford highway.

Officers said he was thrown clear of the car when it was overturned, but was crushed about the chest. They said a blowout apparently caused the accident.

Surviving are his widow, a week-old son and a 10-year-old daughter, Barbara.

Newton, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Three Catawba county deputies sheriff were injured, two seriously, when their car plunged down a 20-foot embankment near Plateau, west of Newton, early today.

Deputies J. A. McRee and Howard Willis were critically injured and chief deputy George Gilbert received less serious hurts. Boyd Caldwell, also in the party, received minor injuries.

Officials at the sheriff's office here said the deputies were searching for a bootlegger.

WINDSORS' FORERUNNERS SILENT

Shown as they arrived in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux, friends of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, were non-committal on plans for the Windsors' forthcoming tour of the United States. Bedaux has been in charge of arranging some details of the tour.

Sand Pit Caves In Killing One Man

Eddie Langley, 22-year-old married man who lives two miles from Fountain, just across the Pitt-Wilson line, was instantly killed this morning when the wall of a sand pit in which he was working gave way and buried him beneath tons of dirt.

Langley and two other men of the same section were hauling sand from the pit originally dug by the Highway and Public Works Commission to secure sand for road construction. Both of Langley's companions, whose names were not learned, escaped as they were far enough away from the slide not to be trapped.

One of the two, however, was declared to have been only a short distance from the place where Langley was trapped under the sand slide.

The bank of the pit gave way as Langley was putting the last few shovels of dirt in his wagon. He was almost directly against the wall and was trapped before he could run for safety.

The sand pit is located one mile from Fountain and is known as the R. I. Jefferson pit.

Langley is survived by his wife and two children. Funeral arrangements were not known here this afternoon.

WILSON COURT FARM PRODUCE TO BE DECIDED PRICES LOWER

Raleigh, Nov. 3.—The State Supreme court announced today it would review the case of Rosa Lee Barnes, in which the validity of the Wilson Recorder's court was questioned.

The woman was convicted in the Recorder's court of illegal possession of whiskey. She sought a writ of habeas corpus to test the constitutionality of the recently established court but it was denied after a hearing. The Supreme court granted a writ of certiorari to bring the case before it for review during the week of November 20.

The court set for arguments during the week of December 14 the appeal of Milford Exum from a death sentence imposed in Wayne county for the murder of Jim Williams. The case had been set for arguments yesterday, but a continuance was granted.

Late this afternoon the court was so hnd down decisions.

THREE MORE DAYS

The Reflector's special offer of a full year's subscription to the paper for $3.50 will close on Saturday of this week, after which time no subscription will be accepted below the regular price of $5.00 per year. Many subscribers, including many new ones, have taken advantage of the special offer, but there are many more who must act quickly if they want to benefit by the $1.50 saving.

After Saturday there will be no further reduced prices on the paper, for in view of the steadily increasing cost of producing the newspaper there will be no repetition of this offer. It is our desire for as many of our subscribers as possible to benefit by this generous price reduction, but after this week it will be too late to do so.

FDR PREPARES LEAVE N.Y. FOR CAPITOL HILL

Today Set Aside For Rest Period After Election

TREASURY GIVES INCOME FOR YEAR

Receipts Up to November 1, $2,007,652; Expenditures, $2,624,836,822

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt after the excitement of a state and local election, set aside today for rest and relaxation at his country home.

He arranged no appointments before his departure for Washington tomorrow, ending an 11-day visit here.

At Washington, meanwhile, the treasury reported its income for its fiscal year, which began July 1, had passed the $2,000,000,000 mark on November 1.

On that date $2,007,393,652 of the $6,650,410,000 receipts estimated by President Roosevelt for the complete fiscal year had been collected.

Expenditures by November 1 amounted to $2,624,836,822 of the $7,345,655,000 estimated for the year by the President.

Other capital developments: Observers looked in vain for any signs of a general political upheaval in the results of the off-year election in 15 states.

Although evidence of party trends were rather scattered, they showed with some exceptions the Democrats were holding to their gains of recent years.

Republicans, however, gained one seat in the House of Representatives by Bruce Barton's election to fill a Democratic vacancy in New York city's "silk stocking" district.

Charles Hosford, Jr., chairman of the Coal Commission, said he would resign and return to private business about the first of the year.

MAP PLANS FOR ROYAL COUPLE

American Itinerary Takes on More Definite Shape

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor's American itinerary took more definite shape today as their American representative announced they will spend "two or three days" in New York State's Mohawk Valley and "about 10 days" in the "Deep South" before proceeding westward.

The day-to-day itinerary has not yet been compiled, it was explained, but an effort has been made to chart the royal couple's journey through the states.

The couple will go to Washington and then continue into what the representative termed the "Deep South." He said he was not able to state exactly what states would be included in this section, although he did intimate that Windsors would visit Richmond, Va., industrial towns he did intimate the Windsors would

Daily average sales of variety stores in the United States for September were about 2 per cent above those of September, 1936, and higher than any corresponding month since 1929.

PREFERS FOES DEVISE MEANS

Appeal Made for Direct Negotiations Between China and Japan to End Conflict; Representative of Mussolini Asserts There Can Be No Question Of Sanctions

Brussels, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A concerted appeal for direct negotiations between China and Japan to end their sanguinary conflict marked the opening session of the Brussels conference today, with Italy asserting there can be no question of sanctions.

Delegates of the United States, Great Britain and France joined in an appeal for the Chinese and Japanese to settle their conflict "by peaceful processes."

Count Adrovandi - Marescotti, Premier Mussolini's representative, went further. He said the conference could not speak of "arbitration" of one or the other of the fighting nations. This was seen as a reference to President Roosevelt's Chicago speech.

Norman Davis, United States delegate, sounded the keynote of the conference in proposing direct negotiations between China and Japan. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos and Adrovandi-Marescotti agreed such a course was preferable.

Eden proposed the creation of an executive organ of the conference which should concentrate on seeking peace quickly.

The speaker, while referring to horrors in the Far Eastern conflict, refrained from arraiging Japan.

It was evident the state was clearing the way to induce Japan to change her mind and come to the conference—to which she refused an invitation—or to accept direct negotiations with China.

Two Stills Added To Destroyed List

One still was located and destroyed this morning and another yesterday afternoon in Pitt County by J. M. Ward and J. L. Taylor, special ABC law enforcement officers.

Both of the plants were of the steam type, but neither was in operation and no one was at either still.

Eight hundred gallons of beer were found at the plant located this morning and the officers declared that the plant was operated last night.

At the still located yesterday the officers found 500 gallons of beer. The beer and other equipment were destroyed.

Conservatives Pleased At Hancock Announcement

By HENR AVERILL
Raleigh, Nov. 3.—North Carolina conservatives (economic "Tories," if you will) chuckle to themselves every time they think of Frank Hancock's candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

Not that they are particularly fond of the Fifth District's capable congressman who has gone after bigger game; for the fact is that they don't like him even a little bit. What they are chuckling about is the "heads I win, tails you lose" situation which his candidacy has brought about.

As the situation unfolds itself to them, there isn't a thing under the sun they can lose, while they may be big winners if the cards fall just right. At present there is a liberal New Dealer in the Junior Senate seat, and there is almost as pronounced a liberal and New Dealer occupying the Congressional post assigned to the "Fighting" Fifth. The worst that can come to pass is that the same situation will exist after the elections of 1938, looking at things from the conservative viewpoint.

On the other hand there is the possibility that by putting a third starter in the Senate sweepstakes the Old Guard can conceivably beat both Reynolds and Hancock. Even if they can't and don't, however, there is a lighter prospect that they can one of their breed to the District House seat.

In fact, such a consummation is more probable than otherwise. For instance, A. L. (Lon) Folger seems at present to have the inside track and very few folks have ever accused the current Democratic National Committee man of being a rip-roaring radical. He has played plenty of ball with the Bailey faction.

Following the example of Idaho, France recently enacted legislation requiring certain of its middle varieties to utilize wood gas or other fuel substitutes produced within the country.

After the show the entire group went to Lautares' for refreshments.

Athenium Club.
Entertaining at her home on Fifth street, Mrs. S. M. Crisp was hostess to the Athenium Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. D. M. Clark, president, presided. Mrs. B. B. Sugg came before the club to present announcements concerning "Book Week."

After routine business was attended to the meeting was turned over to the program committee. As we entered the music room a spotlight (a beautiful silver bell) drew our eyes to the piano. Having as the background a lovely white silk shawl we found a most interesting and unique arrangement of perfume bottles on display.

Mrs. Crisp read for us her paper on perfume entitled "Bottled Romance." She traced the history of perfume from early Bible to the present. From time beyond history perfume has been regarded as something precious. Man has always known that odor exerts a powerful influence upon his nervous system. Kipling says "Smells are surer than sights or sounds to make the heart-strings crack," so for centuries men and women have used perfume to create about them an atmosphere that is lovely and desirable.

In Exodus two recipes for anointing oil, rich in perfume, were given to Moses. Kings and queens took gifts of perfume when they went visiting and among the first and most famous Christmas presents ever given were frankincense and myrrh, laid at the feet of the Christ Child. Nobles had a different scent for each part of the body. Nero spent $200,000 on roses for one festival. Shakespeare had Cleopatra sailing down the river to meet Mark Anthony in a barge with sails so perfumed that the winds were love-sick with them.

This glamorous age passed away and the dark ages of history were the dark ages of perfume. Perfuming had its rebirth in Europe, in

"The Mysterious Mr. Mason."

The fourth and final entertainment in a series of four being presented here by the Kiwanis Club for the benefit of underprivileged children will be a play entitled "The Mysterious Mr. Mason," a comedy in high finance. A scene from the play is shown above.

Italy. The kings of France, luxury loving as they were, drew the Italian masters of perfume to Paris and soon France was started on its way to supremacy in perfume making. Today France remains the greatest growing and manufacturing center of perfumes in the world, but other, far away and romantic places furnish sweet scents.

There are two classes of perfumes: the animal and the plant. The process of extracting the oils and delicate flower fragrances is a most interesting one. We are told an acre of roses yields a ton of petals which makes only nine or ten ounces of oil.

How are you sure which is your perfume? Rub a drop in your hand, sniff it from time to time. Do you breathe it with pleasure? If it gives you a thrill it is your perfume. Know your perfume, use them with art and they will work enchantment about you.

After this interesting literary program we were seated at the dining room table for delicious refreshments which were served to the club members and the following guests: Mrs. J. P. Nowell, Ahoskie; Mrs. L. A. Perry, Mrs. L. D. Perry, Mrs. Clarence Beasley, Mrs. L. A. Nowell, mother of Mrs. Crisp of Coleraine; Mrs. Winnie T. Barnes of Raleigh, mother of Mrs. J. J. White, and Mrs. Norman Warren. —Reported.

Miss Gwynn To Speak.
On Friday afternoon at 3:30, Miss Permelia Cobb Gwynn, well-known figure in the southern art world, will make a gallery talk on the Art Exhibit at the Woman's Club.

For thirteen years Miss Gwynn was superintendent of art in the Danville city schools and at some time during this period she was president of the Danville Art Club. She is also a past state officer of the Art Club of Virginia. Of more interest, perhaps, is the fact that Miss Gwynn has had her own paintings exhibited in Washington, Richmond, and Danville. Furthermore, Miss Gwynn studied in New York last winter and is teaching in the local college for the first quarter. At the end of this quarter she will return to New York for further study. Miss Gwynn is slated to appear on the program of the State Art Club at their Richmond meeting Thanksgiving week.

This talk and exhibition is open to the public and admittance is free. It is hoped that a large crowd will manifest their interest in art by attending both the lecture and exhibition.

Sans Souci Book Club Meets.
The Sans Souci Book Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. L. C. Skinner at her home on Fifth street. The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Elizabeth Skinner.

The president, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, being absent, Mrs. W. L. Hall, vice-president, presided.

After a short business session, J. S. Picklen gave a brief talk on his visits to Holland and his happy acquaintance with the Schull family of which Miss Magda Schull, the speaker for the afternoon, is a member. Mrs. Picklen then introduced Miss Schull. Her talk was the highlight of the afternoon.

Miss Schull opened her subject by asking her audience to imagine themselves as passengers on a liner approaching Holland, giving a vivid word picture of what one would see coming into harbor at Rotterdam: dykes, canals, lovely meadows flled with cattle and a port crowded with ships from the four corners of the earth.

She described Rotterdam, her home, as being a modern business city, busy in trade with the outside world, then compared it with the Hague, home of the World Court, a quiet, social, easy-going place to which those who have served their country in the sweltering East Indies retire and spend a calm, happy life.

She named among the chief exports of Holland candles, cheese, herrings, and of course, tulip, hyacinth and narcissi bulbs, with which every American is acquainted.

Miss Schull, in revealing a little of the home life of her people, told of the tea hour at four when the family gathers for a happy time until dinner at eight. This description gave a glimpse of the real life of these warm home-loving people.

At the conclusion of the program the members were invited into the dining room where rare colored chrysanthemums and lighted tapers added an air of festivity to the lovely room.

Mrs. E. B. Ferguson seated at the table, served a buffet luncheon, assisted by Misses Elizabeth and Colleen Skinner, daughters of the hostess.

This was the second enthusiastic meeting of the Sans Souci and was well attended. —Reported.

King's Daughters Meet.
Tuesday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock, the King's Daughters held their regular meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Hortense F. Moyer. This was a "Home-coming" of all members, both past and present. Quite a large number attended. After the regular routine of business the nominating committee presented the new officers:

President, Mrs. W. R. Jones; vice-president, Mrs. Virginia Perkins; secretary, Mrs. E. W. Harvey; treasurer, Mrs. Bessie J. Williams; chaplain, Mrs. Emma Bryan.

Mrs. Moyer, president, also stated installation service which was quite impressive. After her charge to the officers each one lighted their candle of Faith, Hope, Love, Service, and the chaplain for all four, each responding as she lighted her candle.

Miss Helen Settle and Miss Mary Woodard accompanied by Mrs. Settle, sang several numbers which added life and merriment to the meeting.

Mrs. Wiley Brown then gave us several readings. Mrs. Brown needs no further comment, when it comes to her readings. Mrs. W. L. Hall enjoyed a talk by Reverend Lowell F. Sodemman.

Mr. R. H. Forrest, principal, opened the exercises by having all stand and sing "Jesus Loves Me." He then asked Rev. Davis to introduce the speaker, Rev. Sodemman. Before Mr. Sodemman began his talk he played a selection "Abide With Me," on a hand-saw, accompanied by Miss Theima Taylor.

Mr. Sodemman told the story of two young brothers, one wanting to take half his brother's punishment due for disobedience, bringing out at the end of this story that Jesus not only took half of our punishment, but all of it.

After Mr. Sodemman spoke, Mr. Davis asked the children to come to the evening services at the church bringing their parents. He drew a promise from Mr. Sodemman to play the hand saw for them some evening.

At request of Mr. Forrest prayer was said by Rev. Sodemman, followed by dismissal of pupils by the principal.

Almost every day there are reports of some other prospective candidate for the Senatorial toga now held by Bob Reynolds but no sooner do the rumors start than denials of the candidacies follow. So far there is but one avowed candidate to oppose Reynolds and that is Frank Hancock. Evidently there are a lot of folks who are seeking to get some more candidates in the field or else they are trying to tickle somebody's vanity by getting them mentioned in the press of the state as Senatorial timber.

WHAT THE SCOUTS OF GREENVILLE ARE DOING

On Thursday, November 4th, there will be a Boy Scout Board of Review held in connection with the Scout Leaders Training Course in the Austin building at East Carolina Teachers College, all Scouts wishing to advance are asked to be present in uniform.

Troop 37 has changed its meeting night from Thursdays to Monday of each week.

The eight Scouts passing the most tests at the Board of Review Thursday will be admitted to the show free Saturday, November 6th.

The following items are a few of the civic service projects done by the Greenville Scouts during the month of October:

Distributed Community Chest material to every home in Greenville.

Conducted a First Aid and information booth at the Pitt County Fair, probably saving a man's life on the night of the 21st of November. The troops rotated in this service, Troop 36 being on duty that night.

Built shelves for the new Thrift Shop.

They acted as a Safety Patrol at the city Halloween party on Friday, October 29th.

If you are a Scout and want to see a perfect Board of Review function, be present at the Training Course Thursday. The main speaker of the session is Wyatt Brown, his subject is "Putting the Out in Scouting."

E. E. Cummings, contemporary poet, is the author of a book without a title.

There is practically no market in Argentina for embalming fluids, as less than five bodies a year are embalmed there.

Although most lives of Shakespeare consist of two or more volumes, all that is known of him need take up no more than 10 pages.

Washington Daybook

Washington — From Germany comes word now that all who happen to be of German blood wherever they may be must preach and practice Nazi ideology and accept Nazi folk biology and race policy and all that it may imply.

Moreover, says Colonel General Herman Goering, "foreign nations and foreign statesmen must recognize that in the future fruitful relationships between German and other world peoples can take place only on the basis of the organized activity of foreign Germans as natural agents of German culture and commerce."

It so happens that there are a very great number of people of German blood in the United States. Herr Goering did not mention American Germans but his phraseology appeared to include all persons of German blood. "Germans abroad," said Goering, can be divided roughly into two classes, the conscious Germans and the unconscious Germans. The conscious Germans are those deeply aware of their German origin. There, he said, "must feel with the National Socialist ideology and eventually accept it wholeheartedly."

Many Included

In that group perhaps he would include the parading Nazi organizations in New Jersey and elsewhere. Among those who are not fully conscious of their obligations he might possibly include the large number of Pennsylvania Germans.

Although it seems likely the United States must harbor a goodly number of the 30,000,000 people of German blood who, Goering said, live outside of Germany. One out of every three Germans, he said, lives abroad.

Now a few months ago when

Foreign Minister Von Neurath loosed a similar sweeping claim upon the loyalty of all Germans, no matter where they lived, Secretary of State Hull answered. He explained that when Germans came to this country and took out citizenship papers, they were no longer German citizens but were Americans.

As such they could not be committing their services to Hitler. Von Neurath replied that of course Secretary Hull was exactly right.

For two days after the recent Goering outburst, we waited for the State Department to give a reply similar to the one given Neurath, and when none came, it seemed wise to learn why.

Unofficial Spokesman

An experienced gentleman in the State department who had spent many years in his diplomatic life in and around Germany, said this:

In the first place, Goering, unlike Von Neurath, is not the official spokesman for the Reich on foreign affairs. He is Hitler's Secretary Ickes. His business, while more inclusive than Ickes', is largely interior. So there was no reason for Secretary Hull to pay any attention to him.

Besides, said the experienced gentleman, Goering's words, and perhaps those of Von Neurath as well, were intended mainly for Germans in those countries right next door to the Reich. Each was a sort of fireside speech for the benefit of Germans in Poland, Alsace-Lorraine, Austria, Czechoslovakia, the City of Danzig and nearby points.

Cats Common Carriers Of Numerous Human Diseases

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Nov. 3.—Inasmuch as this correspondent has been impressed with the utter lack of knowledge about Fordham University by North Carolina football fans—that is lack of knowledge about everything except the Rams' ram-bunctious Wojciechowicz and other gallant gridders—the following "Facts About Fordham" are appended:

Fordham is located in New York City (not in Boston as at least three seem to believe. It is a Catholic school, of which the Very Reverend A. J. Hogan is the head. Its 1936 enrollment (partly co-educational) was 7,613. Its endowment, if any, is less than $2,000,000. It was founded in 1861. Its colors are maroon and white. No need to tell those who were at Chapel Hill last Saturday that it has a good band and a better football team.

What's happened to the formal opening they were going to have for the Highway Patrol's radio system?

Some of our North Carolina cities have unusual (to say the least) financial systems, according to an electric equipment salesman with whom this correspondent talked recently.

The company sent one small city a bill for equipment sold it recently and received payment therefor. The material wasn't quite what was wanted and so the city returned it to the company, which immediately sent a credit memorandum for the return shipment. Back very promptly came another check from the city, in payment of the credit memo.

There's another side, however, the salesman also telling how he once bid on a big job only to find when proposals were opened that he had left blank the space for the amount bid.

No breakdown is yet available at the Department of Revenue to tell how much of the revenue collected since July 1 under the general head "Sales Tax" was, in fact, accounted for by the new excise tax on building materials.

Dr. C. C. Crittenden, secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, will go to Kinston Thursday for the unveiling of a portrait of Arthur Dobbs, governor of the province of North Carolina during troublous Colonial days.

Time obviously softens—as shown when present honors for Governor Dobbs are compared with this extract from a letter written October 30, 1760, by James Moly to "The Secretary" (evidently of a church or diocese) whom he addressed as "Reverend Sir":

"Governor Dobbs was so sharply censured by the general assembly in the beginning of last summer that one would have thought he could not be so bold as to put into the commission of the peace for Edgecombe county another ringleader of the mob; and yet he did it. If no remedy is applied well disposed persons talk of leaving the colony."

Few folks know it, but skiing is one of North Carolina's sports. Already they have been using the funny locking "slats" up at Banner Elk, where three inches of snow on October 22 made it possible.

Partial List of Infections Transmitted Are Listed

The November issue of Veterinary Medicine features an article on diseases of cats in which it states that the veterinary called to treat cats must be acquainted with the role that the cat is capable as a carrier of diseases transmissible to man or to other animals.

It points out that though cats have a number of diseases peculiar to their species, they nevertheless are susceptible to certain diseases of other animals.

The publication states that cats are susceptible to both the bovine and the human types of Mycobacterium tuberculosis and frequently become infected from meat or milk of tuberculosis animals.

It further states that cats have contracted anthrax from eating portions of the carcasses of animals dead of that disease. There are also observations to indicate that fowl cholera has been spread from farm to farm by cats dragging around the viscera of chickens that had died of that disease. Other diseases, like hog cholera, swine erysipelas, etc., may well have been spread in a similar manner, the article declares.

Bacillus bronchisepticus, a ruptured source of respiratory catarrh in cats is said to be a frequent cause of catarrh of children. It is generally accepted that there exists no relationship between cat diphtheria and human diphtheria, but cats may serve as the carriers of the Klebs-Loeffler bacillus in the nose or throat without suffering from the human type of the disease.

Of a group of 11 cases of tularemia in Minnesota, one appeared to be directly due to a cat, while the others resulted from human contact with rabbits, dragged home by cats.

The story points out that the cat ranks second only to the dog in the transmission of rabies to man. According to statistics of Pasteur, of 12,000 persons bitten by rabid animals, 11,000 were bitten by dogs and over 700 (5.8 per cent) by cats. From contact with rabid animals, especially dogs, cats may become infected with rabies.

The cat also is a common source of fava and ringworm infection in man. These diseases in turn, it usually acquires from infected mice.

Tapeworm infestation also is traced to the feline. The cat, being intermediate and final host to the tapeworm Echinococcus granulosus, acts as a reservoir of this harmful parasite of man. The cat harbors also Dibryophcephalus latius, the fish tapeworm, and Dipylidium caninum, the dog tapeworm. Infection of the latter is acquired by the ingestion of the fleas and lice harboring the intermediate stage of the parasite.

The article concludes that "the list of diseases and parasites, for which the cat is the potential source of transmission to man or to other animals, is thus an imposing and formidable one. Proper care and management of the house cat, and proper personal hygiene when in contact with cats will reduce the danger to human health considerably. With regard to the alley cat, caution in its handling is always a wise policy. The painless destruction of all stray and homeless cats loitering in a community should be demanded not only as a public health measure in every city, but as a humane act."

CITADEL TEAM TO PLAY STATE

Bulldogs This Season Declared Best In 17 Years

Raleigh, Nov. 3.—Let's take a look at the Citadel football eleven North Carolina State's Wolfpack has to meet here Saturday afternoon in Riddick Stadium at 2:30.

It is the lightest team that appears on the Wolfpack schedule. The backfield will average 150 pounds to the player. The linemen are heavier. The average there is 184 pounds.

Tatum Gressette, coach of the Bulldogs, gave his players a prescription to follow to off-set their handicap of light weight. It is: Willingness to battle, zeal for playing, and a "never give up" spirit.

The Bulldogs turned out to be unusually good patients and so well did they absorb Gressette's prescription that they now line up as the best team Citadel has had in 17 years.

Kookie Robinson, senior halfback, is the most noted of the Citadel Bulldogs. First of all, for his powers as a running and punting halfback. Second, for his diminutiveness.

Robinson tips the scales at a scant 134 pounds and is only five feet seven inches tall. Yet, he is Citadel's leadingscorer, best ground gainer, and ace punter.

Nat Smith, the right halfback, is the next smallest player. He weighs 146 pounds and is one inch taller than Robinson, and like Robinson is speedy and elusive. He is a senior.

The biggest member of the backfield is Frank McNeill, 190-pound quarterback who is an inch short of six feet. McNeill also is a senior.

Mutt Gee, the fullback, is the only lower classman in the backfield. He is a junior and weighs 165 pounds and is five feet eight inches tall.

Biggest man in the Citadel line is Andy Sabados, center, who weighs 202 pounds and stands six feet. Sabados is considered the best lineman in South Carolina although this is his first year in the front ranks. He was a blocking back last fall as a sophomore and received the Jacobs trophy as South Carolina's best blocker.

Orville Rogers, right tackle and alternate captain, weighs 200 pounds. Walter Aston and Roger Harshberger, guards, weigh 185 and 189. Hugh Rogers, tackle and brother of Orville, weighs 185. The ends, Captain Francis King and Walter Manley, weigh 169 each.

Citadel's first eleven men are capable of playing the full 60 minutes of every ball game and are called the "Sixty-Minute Men."

STARTING YOUNG

N. C. TAR HEELS DAVIDSON FOE

Teams Clash Saturday in Homecoming Day Program

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3.—Davidson's highly improved Wildcats and North Carolina's once-beaten and once-tied Tar Heels clash Saturday at Davidson in the Wildcats' homecoming day football attraction.

For Davidson it is the high spot in the 1937 schedule. The Wildcats and Tar Heels will be meeting for the thirty-fourth time. Although Carolina has a wide edge in the series—25 victories against four defeats and four ties—most of the games have been exceedingly close. History shows that the Cats always play one of their best games against Carolina.

The Tar Heels would like nothing better than to forget the Wildcat tussle and point to the Duke classic. They have the greatest respect for the scrapping Presbyterians. The 1934 and 1935 University teams, two of the best in the institution's history, had to use every available resource to turn back the underdog Wildcats by close scores of 13-2 and 14-0.

Carolina will catch Davidson on the rebound again. Although the Wildcats have lost five of seven games, the record show that four of these defeats came by margins of eight points or less. Davidson lost to V. M. I. (7-0), Centre (8-0), South Carolina (12-7) and N. C. State (6-0). Davidson's only bad luck this season was administered by Duke's conference leaders, 34 to 6.

Yet both Wildcat victories have been most impressive. They defeated Erskine, 21 to 6, and Furman, 13 to 0. In the Furman game Saturday the Wildcats upset the heavily favored Palmetto eleven by a brilliant fourth-quarter rally. Reserve Bill Davis flipped looping passes everywhere to Captain Bailey Williams and Ned Iverson, pass-smashing end artists. A 15-yard loss from Davis to Williams produced the winning touchdown. Davidson's victory was all the more spectacular in that it played without the services of Teoney Lafferty, triple-threat and one of the nation's best backs.

Davis, Williams, Iverson and Lafferty will provide the Cats' fireworks on Saturday.

The fine backfield of Crowell Little, on Burnette, George Watson and Art Pitt and its superb end, Andy Bershak, his team's outstanding candidate for All-American honors this season, head the Tar Heel invasion.

TAR HEEL END WINS PRAISES

Handy Andy Bershak Rated High by Opposing Coaches

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3.—Handy Andy Bershak, North Carolina's great end, who made the Associated Press' second All-America team last year and is an outstanding candidate for first place this season, continues to win the praise of sports writers and coaches.

Although the Tar Heels dropped their first game this season to Fordham, 14-0, last Saturday, Handy Andy won high praise for his performance.

Following the Fordham game, Coach Jim Crowley commented: "Although we had two men on him all day, Bershak was the fifth man in the thick of the fight was the superb defensive play of Handy Andy Bershak, co-captain and end."

Commenting on the same game, Arthur J. Daley, staff sports writer for the New York Times, said: "About all that kept Carolina in the thick of the fight was the superb defensive play of Handy Andy Bershak, co-captain and end."

Commenting on Andy's work in the North Carolina-New York University game, Al Loney, staff writer for the New York Herald Tribune, said: "Bershak was in the NYU backfield half the afternoon, breaking up plays before they formed, recovering fumbles, or tackling the runner so hard the ball flew from his hands."

The coach of every team the Tar Heels have played this season has given Bershak the highest sort of praise.

Andy's own coach, Ray (Dear) Wolf, says Bershak is the greatest end he has ever seen.

den, and the new colored troop at Stokes are planning to go.

Stanley Harris, interracial chairman from the national office, will be present during the camporee.

Let's have more boys from Pitt county go to Rocky Mount.

Sport Slants

The grizzled veterans who have held the trotting game in the palms of their gnarled hands sit back and wonder what the world is coming to.

Alma Sheppard, 11 years old and packing 90 pounds of skill and courage into a sulky seat, goes on clinching records.

The crown princess of the trotting turf was elevated to royalty when she drove Dean Hanover in a 1:58 1/2 mile—a world record for 3-year-olds.

In driving to this mark, Alma shattered every record previously held by any woman or girl driver.

She also beat every man and woman amateur who has ever raced against a watch. (Only six men have ever driven faster.)

Alma has been on horses at Hanover, Pa., ever since the age of 3. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Sheppard, encouraged her horsey activities.

She can bandage a horse's leg as well as any groom. She feeds the horses on her father's 1,800-acre Hanover Shoe Farm. (Shirley Hanover winning the 1937 Hambletonian and Hanover's Bertha winning the 1930 event made Hanover the only stable to grab this stake twice.)

Alma jogs the Hanover horses on the mile track as often as she can, getting up early and doing her stuff before being bundled off to school. She has a special small-sized sulky. Usually she wears a beret, green breeches and boots, and a coat or blouse as she speeds around the track behind a flying trotter.

DUKE'S DEVILS TO MEET WFC

Soph George McAfee May Be Ace in Saturday's Clash

Durham, N. C., Nov. 3.—Sophomore George McAfee, who rivaled the brilliant Honey Hackney and the great Eric Tipton in Saturday's game with Washington and Lee, will get another chance to climb toward stardom when Duke's Blue Devils meet Wake Forest in Duke Stadium Saturday.

Coach Wallace Wade will probably carry out the same procedure he used against the Generals last week and alternate his first two teams against the Deacons as the two teams meet for the twentieth time on the gridiron.

The No. 2 outfit, paced by McAfee and the veteran Silver Smith, outplayed the No. 1 club against Washington and Lee's hapless Generals to win much praise from Blue Devil followers.

McAfee did the signal calling, kicking and quite a bit of the running. Although he called himself but few times on scrimmage plays, he returned punts a total of 138 yards, including that 92-yard punt return for Duke's seventh touchdown—a run that will probably go into the record books as the longest punt return of the 1937 season.

The youngster, who made quite a splash on last year's freshman team, has played well in every game this season but the performance against Washington and Lee was by far his best. He was in action much during the two first games with V. P. I. and Davidson. He played little against Tennessee and Colgate but played a prominent part in Duke's 20-19 victory over Georgia Tech, especially his defensive work late in the game.

If McAfee comes through Duke will have another fine back to add to those two who have already gained national recognition—Hackney and Tipton who have divided backfield honors in every Duke game this season.

Saturday's game with the Deacons will be the Blue Devils' first home clash in a month and will be the final game before the Wademen go against North Carolina, defeated by Fordham but still one of the nation's finest grid machines.

OUTSTANDING ENDS CLASH IN TAR HEEL-WILDCAT GAME

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3.—Three outstanding ends will clash Saturday when Carolina and Davidson in the Wildcats' Homecoming Day football feature. They are Andy Bershak of the Tar Heels, and Ned Iverson and Captain Bailey Williams of the Wildcats. Bershak, who is Carolina's outstanding candidate for All-America honors this season, excels in pass receiving, blocking punts, recovering fumbles, making tackles and smashing interference. Williams and Iverson are noted pass grabbers. Williams also shines in the role of placekicker and Iverson in getting down under punts.

... AND POWER TO SPARE is apparent in the backfield. Joe Agee, 178-pound fullback is tops as a line-plunger and ball carrier and good at passing on a team of many fine passers. Morrison, the master of aerial football, until this year used mainly running plays in his first two years at Vanderbilt.

BURNETTE AND LITTLE AVERAGE 40 PER BOOT

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3.—Tom Burnette and Crowell Little, Tar Heel backs, are averaging 40 yards (from the line of scrimmage) per punt this season. Burnette and Little were outdistanced, however, in the Fordham game last Saturday. They averaged 40 yards against 43 for Joe Woltkoski, booting ace of the celebrated Rams. Little and Burnette will be matched against Teoney Lafferty, Davidson's brilliant triple-threat halfback when the Tar Heels and Wildcats clash Saturday.

TAR HEELS AVERAGING 4.7 PER RUN SO FAR

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3.—In six games this season Carolina's backs are averaging 4.7 yards per run. Totals in the half dozen contests show that the Tar Heel backs have run 271 times for a total gain of 1,276 yards. Twelve backs have participated in the line-up. Carolina's next game is with Davidson at Davidson Saturday.

WPA GIVES SANTA GREAT BIG HEADSTART

Milwaukee, Wis. (AP)—Santa Claus is off to an early start here in filling one of his biggest toy orders. His helpers are 60 WPA workers.

Santa's order contains the names of 12,000 boys and girls under 12 whose families are on relief. The names were assembled by William L. Coffey, manager of county institutions, and Benjamin Glassberg, county relief superintendent.

The goal is at least one toy on Christmas eve for every underprivileged child.

Fifty Turkeys Are Ruled Out

Manhattan, Kas. (AP)—Thanksgiving Day turkeys should taste like fowl, not fish, says the Kansas State college poultry husbandry department. So the department has advised turkey raisers not to feed their flocks any fish products during the eight weeks before market time. There were complaints last year that fish food, upon which turkeys thrive, made the turkeys taste like halibut.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—In a dragging decline the stock market lost one to around four points in quiet trading today. Steels and motors were ring leaders in the recession. Brokers said that demand for steel and uncertainty surrounding the outlook for motor sales had put traders in a gloomy mood. Bonds were mixed.

Farmers To Meet On New Seed Loan

Farmers of Pitt County have been invited to meet at the Austin Building of the College at 7:30 p. m. Monday to hear representatives of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture explain the benefits of the new state seed law and how growers can help prevent poor quality seed dumping in the state. County Agent R. R. Bennett announced today.

"The Value of Using Seed of Known Origin" will be the theme of the meeting and plans are to show a motion picture illustrating the necessity of using pure seed. Summer meetings will be held in 26 other counties between now and November 15, and growers interested in better farming practices will find these meetings of vital importance," the county agent said.

Speakers on the program to be held here will be representatives of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. In addition to explaining the new law and brief talks on the prevention of seed dumping in North Carolina, the services offered the farmers by the Department of Agriculture's seed laboratory free of charge will be outlined. Under the present law, any farmer may send seed to the department at Raleigh and obtain correct information as to purity germination without cost.

"The program for the Department of Agriculture calls for the elimination of impure seed in North Carolina, insofar as possible and the individual complaints of the seed purchasers and seed growers will be aired at the meeting and the co-operation of all farmers will be asked looking toward the betterment of agriculture in North Carolina," D. S. Coltrane, assistant to Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott, said.

packed filed hearings conducted by the Senate agriculture committee of which he was a member. "I would say about 75 per cent of the witnesses," Frazier told reporters, "were administration spokesmen. County agents, soil conservation and farm bureau federation officials got their men out because they wanted to hold their jobs."

DO AMERICA'S FLIERS APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?

YOU bet they do! In aviation is one of the most loyal groups of Camel smokers in the country. For example, the famous trans-continental record holder, Col. Roscoe Turner, smokes Camels. So do test-pilot Lee Gehlbach, Capt. Frank Hawks, and TWA's chief pilot, Hal Sneed—to mention only a few. As Col. Turner puts it: "I guess you've noticed that men in aviation are great smokers. And, from what I see, most fliers share my regard for Camels. They need healthy nerves. That's one big reason why so many of us stick to Camels."

And many millions of Americans—more people than smoke any other cigarette in the world—give a hearty o-kay to Camels!

WINIFRED CASTLE works long hours at her editorial desk—smokes a lot. She says: "I can smoke as many Camels as I please and they never get on my nerves."

PETER KILLIAN is a news photographer. His slant: "Camels are always with me—especially at the table. Camels help my digestion to keep clicking."

ED GRAFFE, gym instructor, says: "Camels set me right—and that takes in a lot of angles. I can smoke all I please without getting jangled nerves."

WARREN PIAGET, crack salesman, drives 50,000 miles—and more—a year. "I get tired," he says. "And I think it's swell the way Camels give me a lift."

EDWARD HURLEY, busy architect, says: "To my way of thinking, a man doesn't really know what honest-to-goodness natural flavor means until he smokes Camels."

MARIE DRISCOLL, business girl, speaks for a good many stenographers when she says: "Camels have everything I like a cigarette to have."

GENE ENGLISH, radio engineer, notices what cigarette the stars like: "Camels seem the favorite. I smoke Camels. They don't make my throat feel scratchy."
