CROP CONTROL ON VOLUNTARY BASIS FAVORED

Majority of Committee Members For Such a Plan

CHAIRMAN JONES DISCLOSES VIEWS

Declares Penalties for Control Would Tend To Encourage Foreign Competition

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A majority of members of the House Agriculture committee seem to prefer a voluntary farm program for most commodities, Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) asserted today.

In his first formal statement on the position of the committee, Jones declared penalty for compulsory control would tend to curtail our markets both here and in foreign countries by encouraging foreign competition and domestic substitution.

Advocating the voluntary method, Jones said:

"By using Soil Conservation payments and adding additional funds secured through tariff equalizing taxes, premiums can be paid to the farmer as an offset to the tariff. He will then have a better income and at the same time his products can flow into the markets at home and abroad."

The chairman proposed a "middle course" for a general farm bill, to provide a fair price and yet permit production of all that the market, domestic and foreign, will absorb.

Other capital developments included:

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of a special House Agriculture subcommittee considering cotton legislation, announced the committee would seek to determine whether Secretary Wallace favored compulsory or voluntary control for cotton.

Fulmer said the committee would confer with Wallace tomorrow.

Meantime at New York President Roosevelt's conference with Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia, fresh from a decisive triumph over Tammany Hall, aroused new apprehension in the city's already disorganized Democratic machine.

The subjects to be discussed in the President's town house were not announced, but in the past both men have moved in virtually the same liberal path.

Link Trio Robbers With Other Cases

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 4.—Police Chief W. H. Rawlinson said today two of the three alleged professional safe robbers arrested here had been tentatively identified as having been in Sharon the day before the $5,500 bank robbery there.

He said since the arrest of the trio Tuesday night they had been confronted with an increasing mass of evidence which authorities will link them with a series of robberies in various parts of the country.

The men, Rawlinson said, have been identified as Al Hill, 67; James Morgan, 54; and George Mandell, 37. Hill and Morgan, he said, gave assumed names when arrested.

The chief said they already had fingerprint records of the first two and are expected to get later information on the man giving the name of Mandell.

Announce Program of Local Kiwanis Meet

Joe Alexander, boys' athletic coach, and Miss Lucille Norton, girls' athletic coach, at East Carolina Teachers College, will be the principal speakers at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Woman's Club building tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

The program will be in charge of Kiwanian Ralph Deal, a member of the Program Committee.

The Annual Election of Club Officers and Directors will also be held at this week's meeting, and President Bostic urges every member to be present.

Kiwanian Fred Stokes and Secretary Moore attended the Seventeenth Annual Convention of the Carolina Kiwanis District at Charlotte last week, and they will make a brief report of the convention.

CHURCH MEET AT GOLDSBORO

Christians Of State Gathered in Annual Session

Goldsboro, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The gospel of Christ "will successfully combat atheistic communism and military dictatorship," Dr. S. J. Coorey of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the United Christian Missionary Society, told the 93rd annual convention of Christian churches of North Carolina here today.

Annual reports on church activities took up much of the convention's second day's sessions.

Dr. Coorey spoke on "The Church and the Kingdom."

"The only power to break down suspicion and difficulty is the gospel of Christ," Dr. Coorey said. "It will successfully combat atheistic communism and military dictatorship."

Newton Robinson of Raleigh was selected president of the Christian Ministers' association at a session of the ministers yesterday. Lonnie Scarborough of Bath, vice president, and F. W. Wiegman of Dunn, secretary treasurer.

It was decided to hold the mid-winter retreat at Bayview, near Bath, February 8 to 10, inclusive.

Special Session Of Criminal Court Set

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Governor Hovey ordered today a special one week term of criminal court convene in Pitt county and a two weeks term in Franklin county on November 29 for the trial of criminal cases.

Judge J. H. Clement was assigned the Pitt court and Judge N. A. Sinclair that in Franklin.

Two Labor Units To Talk Troubles

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis' rebel CIO agreed today to discuss the question of which industries should have industrial unions.

Cows on Track Declared to Be Cause of Accident

Batesville, Miss., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Illinois Central's "Panama Limited" was wrecked near here early today and its fireman, James White of Memphis, was killed. His mangled body was found beneath the wreckage of the locomotive several hours after the accident.

The engineer, Charles Barnett, also of Memphis, was seriously injured, his right arm and left leg being severed. None of the passengers was hurt.

The engine and two express cars carrying race horses to New Orleans overturned, blocking rail traffic. Three of the horses were killed. Other cars on the train, en route from Chicago to New Orleans, with exception of a buffet car which did not overturn.

Conductor Joe Benson of Memphis said cows on the track caused the accident. The crushed body of a cow was found in front of the engine which was thrown crosswise of the track.

Deputy Sheriff Dead As Result Of Wreck

Hickory, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Deputy Alvin McRee, 48, is dead and Deputy Howard Willis of Jacob's Fork township is still unconscious in a Hickory hospital from injuries received when their car plunged down an embankment at Pleateau near here Wednesday.

A third deputy in the car, Geo. Gilbert, who is Catawba county jailer, is recovering, physicians at the hospital said today. He was the least seriously injured.

Daniel Caldwell of Newton, who accompanied the deputies, escaped with minor injuries.

Chinese Reported Be Considering Evacuating Shanghai

Shanghai, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Japanese forces trying to drive Chinese south of their Soochow creek positions today bombarded the Jessfield Park area near British army outposts.

As Shanghai skies started to clear, Japanese planes took the air to drop a number of small bombs on the right flank of the Chinese line extending westward from Shanghai.

The Japanese drive suffered a set-back, a Chinese Spokesman declared, when Chinese artillery destroyed two or three bridges Japanese engineers had thrown over Soochow Creek. He added, however, severe fighting was in progress on the south bank beyond Rubicon village.

There were persistent reports that Chinese were on the verge of withdrawing from the entire Shanghai peninsula, but the reports were without confirmation.

American and foreign observers said the first Japanese objective apparently was an air drome three miles southwest of Rubicon. They said the Japanese were making only slow progress.

Spirited fighting was underway on all fronts of China, but neither Chinese or Japanese was able to achieve clear cut gains toward major objectives. From first hand observation and from communiques of the two factions appeared a temporary stalemate had developed.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY IN COURT

True Bills Found In Three More Murder Cases

This week's session of Pitt Superior court continued to work at a steady pace today and a number of cases have been removed from the docket despite the fact it was Wednesday before the term got started.

After two murder cases had been disposed of yesterday, the grand jury today brought in true bills charging three more defendants with murder. True bills were found against Willie Manning in the death of Buck Jordan, Herman Mason in the death of Ed Laughlin, and Leroy Mayo in the death of Nathaniel Edwards.

Two defendants were tried on charges of driving while under the influence of whiskey and in each case they were fined $50 and costs and had their driving licenses revoked for a period of one year. The two defendants were Randolph Parker and Alex Lloyd.

Lloyd, along with Jack Lloyd, also was charged with forcible trespass. Each defendant was fined $25 and costs and given a suspended sentence.

Henry Strong was given six months, Lonnie Stewart 6 months, Johnnie Edwards eight months and Robert Coleman eight months for larceny.

Sam Jones was sentenced to a term of four months on a charge of assault on a female.

Willie Williams, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, and resisting arrest, was given a sentence of two years, to begin at the expiration of a two-year sentence imposed upon conviction of carrying concealed weapons.

Albert Banks, charged with larceny, was acquitted.

Henry Barker tendered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering and was sentenced to the roads for three years.

FAVORS TRADE BARGAIN WITH GREAT BRITAIN

Suggestion Comes Before Foreign Trade Council

THINK CHANCES ARE VERY GOOD

Early Development on Treaty with United Kingdom General Expectation

Cleveland, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A suggested trade bargaining treaty between the United States and Great Britain came before the National Foreign Trade Council for discussion today, with President Eugene Thomas expressing belief "chances of such an agreement are very good."

"The general expectation is there may be early developments in the line of a treaty with the United Kingdom," Thomas of New York, who formerly was a vice president of the U. S. Steel corporation, said.

"We believe the chances of such an agreement are very good. High British officials have viewed it with favor. When the mechanics will be completed is another matter."

Dr. Henry Grady, vice chairman of the U. S. tariff commission, declared the American tariff adjustment program is going to move (Continued on Page Two)

ABANDON IDEA OF INVITATION

Message to Japan Would Be in Form of Letter Answering Communication Declining Bid to Participate in Brussels Conference and Asking Officials to State Peace Terms

Brussels, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A committee of the Brussels conference will send an appeal to Japan to open peace negotiations with China.

Such a decision was reached today at a private meeting of leaders of the parley and must be ratified by the full conference—at this afternoon's session.

At the same time the leaders decided to send a message to Germany asking her to reconsider her Brussels, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Brussels conference of nine nations today decided to empower a sub-committee to offer its aid to Japan and China in effecting peace between the two nations and reliable indications were that the United States, Britain and Belgium would be on the committee.

Italy and France also probably would be represented.

The committee, in effect, has a double mandate—to offer its good offices for the restoration of peace and to reply to Japan's refusal of an invitation to attend the conference here.

rejection of an invitation to the conference and to decide to participate in the effort to end the Sino-Japanese conflict.

The project to address a new formal invitation to Japan to participate was abandoned on the ground more practical results probably would be achieved through a committee which really would be a committee of mediation.

The Italian delegation said the message to Japan would take the form of a letter in reply to Japan's communication declining to participate in the conference.

The idea is to assure Japan that the Brussels conference is a sovereign convocation under the nine-power treaty and has nothing to do with the League of Nations—as Japan, not a league member, contended in refusing to join the deliberations here.

The message to Japan also would try to induce Tokyo to state general terms upon which she would be ready to open peace discussions.

The full conference, after approving institution of the committee, must carefully draw its mandates.

The appointment was made by the Board of County Commissioners and Board of Health and Education.

Britain Takes Note Of Spanish Insurgent Rule

Agents, However, Without Any Diplomatic Status

London, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today the British government and Spanish Insurgents were negotiating for appointment of commercial agents.

This did not mean, he declared, de facto diplomatic recognition for insurgent General Francisco Franco.

"These agents will have no diplomatic status," the premier said. "There is no intention on the part of the British government to make any variation in the attitude it has adopted toward the contending parties in Spain, which is governed by the international non-intervention agreement to which we have subscribed."

"They are, however, bound to take account of the responsibility for protection of British nationals and British commercial interests throughout the whole of Spain, including those large areas in the north, west and southwest parts of the country as well as the Spanish zone in Morocco, of which Gen. Franco's forces are now in effective occupation."

Confirmation of the rumored negotiations for commercial agreement with Insurgent Spain came as the Spanish non-intervention committee convened to authorize Britain to solicit cooperation in Spain toward withdrawal of foreign troops.

James Stephens, famous as the author of "The Crook of Gold," signed several of his early articles "James Esse."

The Arawak Indians, who inhabited the island of Jamaica when it was discovered by Columbus in 1494 had skulls so hard that they broke or bent the blades of Spanish swords wielded against them.

Kinston Man Dies. Kinston, Nov. 4.—(AP)—D. Carlier Turner, 37, died at midnight of injuries he suffered Sunday in the wrecking of his new delivery truck. His widow and children survive.

(The advices said the raid was of terrific intensity, but lasted only a few minutes. Twelve tri-motored bombers swooped down on the city in fashion similar to that the previous day when nine planes dropped explosions on Merida, about 30 miles from that city.)

(The death toll at Merida was officially set at 235 dead and more than 700 injured.)

Dispatches reaching the frontier said three of General Francisco Franco's crack commanders were directing the lower Aragon campaign.

Voluntary Tests to Be Held on Monday and Tuesday

Corporal L. L. Jackson of the State Highway patrol, who is handling details for the driver test clinic to be held here Monday and Tuesday, beginning each morning at 8:30 and continuing throughout the day, declared that arrangements had been made for conducting the experiment at the new Armory building, in which the highway patrol offices are located.

The clinic is being sponsored by the North Carolina Division of Highway Safety, the Harvard Bureau for Street Traffic Research and the automobile industry.

Officials are insisting that commercial and taxi drivers take the test. It was explained that the tests are educational in character and have nothing to do with a person's driving license.

The clinic tests a driver as to braking reaction, steering, vigilance, timing estimation, vision and hearing, etc. It is designed to show a driver in what respect his ability as a motorist is weakest and will serve as a personal check-up for the driver himself.

It was pointed out that the tests are not required, but merely for those persons desiring to learn what their weak points are and how to correct them.

SATURDAY LAST DAY

The Reflector's special offer of a full year's subscription to the paper for $3.50 will close on Saturday of this week, after which time no subscription will be accepted below the regular price of $5.00 per year. Many subscribers, including many new ones, have taken advantage of the special offer, but there are many more who must act quickly if they want to benefit by the $1.50 saving.

After Saturday there will be no further reduced prices on the paper, for in view of the steadily increasing cost of producing the newspaper there will be no repetition of this offer. It is our desire for as many of our subscribers as possible to benefit by this generous price reduction, but after this week it will be too late to do so.

The offer is open for both new and renewal subscriptions.

Insurgent Troops Massed For Drive

Hendaye, Franco Spanish Frontier, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Spanish Insurgent troops in southern Aragon offensive were reported today to have captured a strategic mountain position in the Fuentes sector.

Thousands of reinforcements were massed behind the insurgent lines to continue the push as soon as the weather permits.

(Dispatches to Madrid from a Catalan city about 100 miles west of Barcelona, said an estimated 80 persons were killed and an undetermined number injured in an insurgent air raid there yesterday.)

(The advices said the raid was of terrific intensity, but lasted only a few minutes. Twelve tri-motored bombers swooped down on the city in fashion similar to that the previous day when nine planes dropped explosions on Merida, about 30 miles from that city.)

The Clio Club

The Clio Club met with Mrs. Jack Spain Tuesday afternoon, November 2.

Mrs. Judson Blount made an announcement of the plans the Library Commission had made for Book Week, Nov. 14 through 19. The club agreed to cooperate in the observance of Book Week.

She urged members to attend the lecture by Dr. P. P. McCain of Sanatorium on childhood tuberculosis.

The program for the afternoon was the life and works of Audrey Wurdemann whose book of poems "Bright Ambrush," won the Pulitzer Prize award in 1934.

Mrs. James Johnston read an interesting paper on Miss Wurdemann's life.

Mrs. Dink James read a delightful paper on her works prepared by Miss Agnes Fullilove who could not attend the meeting.

After the exchange of books the hostess served delicious refreshments.—Reported.

Entertains For Miss Gaylord

Last night at her home on Second street, Miss Helen Fleming entertained at bridge in honor of Miss Mattie Moye Gaylord, bride-elect of November.

On arrival the guests were met at the door by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. V. C. Fleming. Placed throughout the house were the loveliest of chrysanthemums, marigolds and dahlias. Directly after arriving to guests were served hors d'oeuvres by Mrs. Staunton Harvey while coffee was poured by Mrs. W. H. Taft. Bridge was played at four tables.

Mrs. Reynolds May won high score prize, a bottle of Dorothy Gray toilet water, and Mrs. Ed Wilkerson won a string of gold beads for second high. Miss Gaylord was remembered with crystal in her pattern. The hostess then served an ice course.

Mrs. White Entertains

Last Saturday Mrs. S. T. White entertained at a charming five-course luncheon at her home on Seventh street in honor of Miss Carrie Wiggins of Tarboro, bride-elect of November.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by the hostess, her daughter, Mrs. James Hawes, and Miss Wiggins, honoree. The house was attractively decorated with pink chrysanthemums. On each of the seven tables was a lighted pink taper. The place cards were little baskets of pink mints.

Among the out-of-town guests that attended this delightful affair were: Misses Nina Way Credle, Carolina Waters, and Lillah Bragaw of Washington; Misses Pat and Anna Hadenness, Mary Howard, Martha Simmons, Madeline Jenkins, Jacksle Wiggins, sister of the honoree, Mrs. Aubrey Shackell and Mrs. Jenkins, all of Tarboro; Miss Marty Pierce of Weldon; Miss Mildred Joyner of Rocky Mount, and Mrs. Alex Allen of Farmville.

End of the Century Club.

Mrs. Charles A. White was a gracious hostess to the End of the Century Book Club at her home on Ninth street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. James S. Ficklen, president, presided and before the business of the afternoon, presented Mrs. J. H. Blount who made announcements to the club concerning "Book Week."

Following the usual routine of business, the meeting was turned over to the program committee.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming presented Mrs. J. H. Rose as the guest speaker for the afternoon.

Mrs. Rose delighted the club with a most charming and effective reading of Paul Green's play "The Lost Colony." In a vivid word picture she brought the background and setting of the play into the view of each member of her audience. Then they followed with her the adventures and trials of that brave group of English men and women who made a vain attempt to establish an English colony on little Roanoke Island in the New World. The accomplishments, hopes and fears of the colonists, and the tragic uncertainty of their fate lived again for each listener.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. White, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Little, served a delicious salad course to the members and Mrs. William W. Michaux, Jr., a guest for the afternoon.—Reported.

Peace Action

The Greenville Council for Peace Action held its first regular full meeting on November 2 at the home of Mrs. H. R. Rivers. The meeting was called to order, and presided over by Mrs. Rivers, who served in the absence of Mr. W. A. Ryan.

The treasurers report was submitted.

The council voted to send a letter to the secretary of the Ministerial Association requesting all local ministers to have special Armistice Day services in the local churches on Sunday following Armistice Day, stressing peace instead of war.

The following motions were voted on and accepted:

1. Request local college and high school to assist in a peace program at a chapel period.

2. All women's organizations of all local churches to be requested to participate in a union meeting for women concerning Christian missions and world peace.

3. An application to be made for cooperating membership in the National Peace Conference.

It was suggested that the Washington information letter, which is published weekly while Congress is in session, be inserted in local papers for the benefit of the public. This letter carries information as to Congress' action on peace and neutrality laws and suggests methods which may be used to contact the congressmen concerning same. This suggestion was adopted in order to create a better public peace conscience.

The meeting was then adjourned.

COLLEGE-TRAINED CHIEF PUTS TRIBE IN SADDLE

Crow City, Mont. (AP)—Soft-spoken Bob Yellowtail, leader of the once powerful Crow Indians, is striving to make his hard-working tribesmen economically independent.

Yellowtail, a college graduate, has devised a "rehabilitation program" which includes building up of the tribe's buffalo and other herds, stock raising and diversified crops.

He also hopes to restore to the Crows he proficiency in horsemanship for which they became famous throughout the West. With a view of making the Crows "the best mounted tribe in the world," he has imported stallions and brood mares, and gathered the best technical information.

Yellowtail is the first Indian to become superintendent of a reservation.

Dr. McCain Speaks At Meet Tonight

The Health committee of the Woman's Club, headed by Mrs. Hortense Moye, declared today that everything was in readiness for Dr. P. P. McCain's address before the club tonight at 8 o'clock.

Dr. McCain, who heads the tuberculosis work in North Carolina, will have as his subject, "The Prevention of Tuberculosis." His talk will be illustrated by a moving picture, "Behind the Shadows."

The state will soon have increased sanatorial facilities for the indigent and near indigent patients. The state legislature made an appropriation, authorizing the erection of a tuberculosis sanatorium to be located in the western part of the state. A site near Black Mountain was selected.

Unquestionably, Dr. McCain will bring news concerning this new sanatorium which, it is understood, is to be opened within a few days.

Talk By Governor Climaxes Festival Staged At Enfield

Halifax County Farmers and Business Men Pause from Work to Join in Gals Celebration

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—North Carolina's newest harvest celebration, Enfield's Cotton and Peanut Festival, reaches a climax today with the visit of Governor Clyde R. Hoey, who will address Halifax county farmers, business men, and visitors after a parade through Enfield.

With the arrival of the Governor, the giant peanut pickers in the fields, surrounding Enfield will come to a stop, the great trucks stacked high with fat bags of peanuts will halt; and the old-fashioned farm wagons, laden with both peanuts and cotton, will hitch up while Enfield puts on the biggest celebration in its history. All business will come to a stop as local citizens join their farmer friends in listening to Governor Hoey.

Governor Hoey praised the federal soil conservation program as he urged continued "coordination of agriculture and industry and the proper development of each in North Carolina.

North Carolina, he said, ranks twelfth in the union in population, fifth in agriculture as judged by value of all crops grown, and third in value of solely cash crops.

"The importance of agriculture in the life of the state is thus emphasized," said Hoey. "Half of our people are still engaged in farming and get their living directly from the farm.

"No activity of the government should prove more helpful to agriculture than the soil conservation program x x x

With a population of only some 2,200, Enfield claims to be the world's largest market where peanuts are bought directly from the farmer. The bulk of the peanuts brought to Enfield are handled by the Columbia Peanut Company. With a daily milling capacity of 900 bags, a receiving capacity of 6,000, and a warehouse capacity of some 80,000 bags, this firm is a ready market for this area.

Farmers are being paid an average of 31-4 cents per pound for peanuts on the Enfield market.

Local buyers at Enfield are of the opinion that this is the state's best cotton market. An average of 6,000 bales of cotton are sold on this market each year. The Enfield Bonded Warehouse has a capacity of 15,000 bales. Prices to farmers for this year's crop have averaged $45 per bale.

When Browning was asked what his "Sordello" meant, he is said to have replied: "When I wrote it, God and Browning knew; now only God knows."

The Characters

Nina impulsively married David and is trying to forget her intense love for her stepfather. Richard, the charming, well-tailored stepfather, shamelessly talks of love to Nina.

Honey, Nina's gay, plump, youthful mother, is wild about Richard, her newly acquired husband.

David, a bright young auto salesman, adores Nina and strives to make her happy on his small salary.

Chapter 28

'Lean On Me...'

IN SPITE of herself, Nina drew a sharp, shuddering breath between her teeth; but Hester just sat, as still as death. Over her pale face had come that look of numbness, that Nina knew so well... and with its return, she suddenly realized that Hester's face had not been pale a moment before... that she had looked happy... animated.

After a minute, her lovely new color came back. Her voice, when she spoke, was as calm as ever, and yet it had an undertone of excitement to it.

"You recognized my voice anyway, didn't you, Rian? And that's doing pretty well, after all these years..."

"How could I... forget? The last hunt ball you were wearing white. You had something soft and misty, over your shoulders, that floated."

"Tulle. It caught in your studs, while we were dancing..."

"Yes, I wanted to be careful, unfastening it, but you yanked... remember? I went about with a little wisp of it hanging there..."

Hester—yanking at her dress! Tearing it! Hester, who was so careful and precise..."

Nina looked at her, wondering, and then continued to look. That color in her cheeks... It might have come from the dancing, of course, and yet... And that lilted laugh..."

"You led the band, Rian... ad-for her... and she would have been so sure to come!"

Nina found that she was holding her breath.

The music started up again, and the Irishman stirred in his chair. He seemed to remember Nina's presence for the first time.

"Don't let me keep you ladies from the festivities, please... I was just about to push along, myself, anyway." His voice sounded dreadfully—flat, all of a sudden. "I wonder if one of you would be good enough to send for my man, Masters... I hired a car at the inn. He'll be outside waiting."

Nina said: "I'll go..."

But Hester cut in. "Don't bother, my dear." Her voice was not quite steady. "I'll go with Mr. McHugh to the car. Give me your arm, Rian. Lean on me..."

For a moment he hesitated, and then reached out for her hand.

He must have said goodnight to Nina, and she must have answered him, but she was not aware of it. Her eyelids were tingling with tears.

She watched them wend their way, slowly, across the ballroom. Rian so tall and dark, so splendid, but for that rigid side... those blind blue eyes... And Hester, helping him. "Lean on me..."

The band blazed gaily. Couples began to crowd out on to the dance floor, and presently the two were out of sight.

David came up while Nina was standing there.

"Sweetheart! You'll never forgive me... I fell asleep in the coat-room. I sat down for half a second, and I was gone! Darling..."

But she wasn't listening to his apologies.

She put her hand on his arm. "David," she said softly, "the most extraordinary thing... and then she couldn't bring herself to tell him, it was so fantastic."

Nina had the feeling that it was the last she, or any one else there, would ever see of those two; that—as quietly as she did everything else—Hester had gone to spend the rest of her life at Glymrock...

that great bare castle, with its blind master, and its 56 empty rooms.

SHE WRITSS, CROCHETS, FOR CROWDS—WITHOUT LIMBS

Little Frieda Pushnik, 17-year-old girl who writes without hands or arms. Unbelievable as it may seem, she holds the pen between her cheek and shoulder and pushes it along the paper.

A limbless wonder, so talented in skilled arts that Robert Ripley has featured her in his Believe-It-Or-Not cartoon, is little Frieda Pushnik. The 17-year-old girl, able to write, crochet, and do normal tasks without the aid of arms, hands or legs, is one of the feature attractions, with the Mammoth Marine Hippodrome that will exhibit in Greenville for one day only, Wednesday, November 10.

She will demonstrate to the visitors of the exhibit, the feats that amazed the thousands of spectators who saw her at the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland, Ohio, where she appeared in the Ripley Odditorium last summer.

She proves that a girl can be happy in spite of a handicap that might discourage the best of us.

The Pushniks lived in Johnstown, Pa., where Frieda's father and brothers maintain the home until she and her mother return for the winter months. There Frieda was born without limbs, and her parents looked on her with pity as a helpless, unhappy creature. But they were wrong. When she grew old enough to realize her plight, she determined to attain normal accomplishments. She trained for long, tireless months until she mastered the tedious tasks that even her normal sisters could not do.

She learned to crochet and sew by holding slender, dangerous needles in her mouth. Nineteen-year-old sister Irma, who travels with her, says, "I ought to be ashamed of myself, I can't even do that."

Frieda doesn't stop there. She learned to write well and actually won a prize for penmanship. Her one ambition is to prepare herself to become a missionary.

The exhibit, on a specially constructed railroad car over 100 feet long, will be placed on a siding near the Norfolk-Southern station, and will be open to the public from noon until 10 p. m.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

To add a nutty flavor to oatmeal cookies sprinkle the oatmeal in a thin layer in a shallow pan and heat it for about five minutes before mixing. Be careful not to burn it.

Use a mild soap or powder for washing painted walls. Strong solutions are likely to remove the paint or streak the surface. Use quantities of clean water and plenty of clean cloths. Wash a small space at a time and then wipe it dry. If you use a prepared paint cleaner be sure to follow the directions.

After you have used a chamolis skin for cleaning windows or washing the car, rinse it out three times, shake it well and hang it up to dry. Pull and shake it several times while it is drying. (That will keep it soft.) Chamolis should be dried slowly—never directly in the sun or over heat.

Mix your spices to save time in cooking. Add four tablespoonsful of cinnamon to two tablespoonsful each of cloves, nutmeg, ginger and mace. Place them in a large salt shaker and keep it handy.

Grate raw carrots and use them with prunes in gelatin salad. The salad may then be served as a separate course or with roast fowl.

Rian so splendid, but for that rigid side—those blind eyes. And Hester helping him.

mit, now, you were just the least bit tight!

"I was quite drunk, Hester... drunk with... he hesitated, 'drunk with youth and life... Colored boys, they were. Just up from Baltimore. They were, the rage then, weren't they?'"

Hester Comes To Life

NINA had the strangest sensation, as though she were sitting on top of a volcano... or out in the open, just before a fierce electric storm, when nothing has happened yet, the leaves are just beginning to stir... and yet the air is so charged with something, that you know any minute, the heavens will open...

The old hunt ball, Hester's torn dress... the band... There was nothing of portent about their actual words, and yet Nina felt the thunder in the air.

Again that bright smile of Hester's. What was it?... Ah, yes, now she knew. It was warm, glowing, as though—after years of walking about in a trance—she had suddenly come to life again.

She only said: "Tell me, Rian, are you here for long, my dear?" But now Nina knew the whole story.

Hester was the girl. And now, she was lovely, not a beautiful cold statue, but a lovely woman. Warm... human...

Rian's words came back: "It would have been so easy to send

She never forgot the picture they made... walking away together... as the band played...

I SIMPLY can't believe it! Honey's eyes were round. "Hester, of all people! I feel as though I were dreaming," said Cordelia, in an awed voice. "Carl... poor Carl..."

They were all standing in a huddle in the middle of the upstairs hall, at Harmony. It was five in the morning.

Carl had come out and read them Hester's brief note, in a queer, strange voice, and then excused himself. Cordelia had gone to him and taken his hand. He had held on to it tightly.

"To do such a... a brave thing, she must care so very much, that I am not going to try and stop her," he said gravely.

He had looked stunned but not broken.

Honey and Cordelia and David and Pety, all said various things, in subdued voices... but Nina and Richard only looked at each other, saying nothing at all.

One thought beat, relentlessly, in Nina's brain.

"She had the courage to give up everything... to hurt people! She was brave enough to go away with the man she loved..."

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)

New York — The largest baby in the world is the blue whale — 21 feet at birth.

On the growth of this baby depends the hopes of the very old whaling industry. For at one year this baby measures 60 feet long and at a little over two years it is sexually mature.

The problem of the whaler is not to kill these youngsters until they have had one baby of their own. With guns, explosive bullets and floating factories the whalers are killing each year an undiminished number of whales.

But the sizes are getting smaller. This, according to the British colonial office, means that more and more whales are killed before having had time to reproduce. Discovery of the very rapid growth and maturity of the blue whale is a recent fact which experts say points to a limit on whaling. The limit is not so bad as expected, and the life of the blue whale seems to explain why all the whales were not killed long ago.

IN ARMY 45 YEARS, HE'LL BECOME U. S. CITIZEN

Norman, Okla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Sergeant Major Henry Janz has served in the U. S. army for 45 years and now discovers the government contends he isn't an American citizen.

He arrived in this country from Germany in 1891 and later obtained naturalization papers.

Recently he was notified there was a technical difficulty over the papers, that he should appear in district court. He will become a citizen in January, the judge said.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Nov. 4.—Gasoline tax collections for October indicate that there hasn't yet been any recession of prosperity in North Carolina. These figures, which indicate how much motorists are traveling, are usually pretty accurate indicators.

October gas tax collections were $2,040,159.44, slightly $200,000 more than in October, 1936.

The Department of Revenue isn't yet prepared to give a breakdown of beverage tax figures into receipts from beer and wine levies and receipts from liquor sales in the ABC counties; but it has a couple of auditors on the road busily checking invoices of all county stores against returns previously made to the department.

Prior to the fiscal year's beginning reports of county stores were simply made on the regular sales tax bills; the only state levy being the regular 3 per cent sales tax.
Since July the 7 per cent levy has been in effect and special forms have been provided for making returns. There have still been many returns made on ordinary sales tax blanks, however, and for that reason liquor receipts haven't yet been segregated completely from beer and wine taxes.

This correspondent was frankly anxious to get a breakdown in order to check tax receipts against the State Liquor Commission's report of sales in September. There have been many speculative hints that the counties were not reporting for taxation all the sales; they made.

Football expert and Governor's Secretary "Bob" Thompson is still doing business at the same old stand, despite the fact that he was one who picked Carolina over the Fordham Rams. Bob can take it.

The advice or suggestion of half a dozen cronies can easily be taken by a would-be candidate as a call from the people for him to run; but what most of these fellow who are dallying with senatorial ambitions are really waiting for is assurance that the long green necessary to make a state race will be forthcoming.

It's a well-known fact that a gov-ernatorial or senatorial campaign is bound to cost far more than the law allows—which is one year's salary for the office sought.

And so one backer willing to put up the mazzina in a quiet sort of way is worth almost any number of shouting well-wishers.

Word from the advertising department of the Department of Conservation and Development is that the two best stories about the state (from the standpoint of getting them used by prominent national papers and periodicals) are those dealing with cotton roads and the Cherokee fair.

Raleigh's ministers who are refusing to pray at American Legion Armistice Day celebrations probably weren't so unwilling back in 1917-18 to send up petitions that the same Legionnaires keep the big, bad Boche from our back door.
Times do change, though.

It never seems to make anybody mad (angry is probably the properly grammatical term) to continue him for some public office, even if he hasn't the slightest idea of running for the post mentioned and even less chance of getting it if he did.

THIS JUDGE SPECIALIZES IN TRAFFIC LECTURES
St. Louis, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A ten-minute educational lecture goes with the fine increased traffic violators by City Judge E. M. Ruddy.
First offenders often are released with just the lecture.
"Most humans are prone to lay the responsibility for careless driving upon the other fellow," he tells the violators, "but bear in mind you are the other fellow to the other motorist."
Judge Ruddy estimates he will deliver 50,000 "lectures" the next year.

GREAT BRITAIN FIND TURKEYS ACCEPTS GIFT ARE PLENTIFUL

To Be Sent Copy Of No Scarcity To Be Found On Tar Heel Tables
Raleigh, Nov. 2.—Having been notified through the Secretary of State at Washington that the British government "would be pleased to accept this gift for its archives," Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, will have framed immediately an official copy of the birth certificate of Virginia Dare, which he will forward to Ambassador Robert Bingham, in London, for formal presentation there.

The certificate will bear the signatures of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Clyde R. Hoey, and the frame used will be similar to those used with the certificates presented to the President and the Governor.

Inquiry as to whether His Majesty's government would accept the gift was made through Secretary Hull, who addressed the British Embassy at Washington on the subject. The State Department has forwarded Dr. Reynolds the following formal reply:

"His Majesty's Charge d'Affaires presents his compliments to the Secretary of State, and with reference to his Note No. 325 on the 28th September last, has the honor to inform him, under instructions from His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, that His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom deeply appreciates the proposal of Mr. Carl V. Reynolds to present them as gift of a framed copy of the birth certificate of Virginia Dare, signed by the President of the United States and by the Governor of North Carolina. His Majesty's government will be most glad to accept this gift which will certainly constitute a valuable addition to the archives of the United Kingdom."

Hunter Keck Honored At Richmond College

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—Eight University of Richmond men were tapped today into active membership of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity, and Pi Delta Epsilon, national collegiate journalism fraternity.

Pi Delta Epsilon also tapped two honorary members—Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the News Leader of Richmond and author of the Pulitzer prize-winning biography, "R. E. Lee," and Dr. Charles H. Wheeler, professor of mathematics in the University of Richmond and the Board of Publications.

Those tapped include: Hunter Keck, Greenville, N. C., treasurer student government, business manager of the Web, University year-book; Pi Delta Epsilon Kappa Sigma.

William Prynce, famous as the author of a book attacking actors and the theater, also wrote a volume entitled "The Unpleasantness of Love-Locks, or, A Summary Discourse proving the wearing and nourishing of a lock, or love-lock, to be altogether unseemly, and unlawful unto Christians."

CITES NEED OF FARM GARDENS

Farmers Could Save Money by Feeding Themselves

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—"In these days of eight and nine-cent cotton, it's a big help for the farm family to have a good fall and winter garden."

"Families with good gardens can practically feed themselves without having to go to the store for something to eat," said L. P. Watson, extension horticulturist at State College.

Over the State, he continued, many far-sighted farm families can count on their gardens for beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, turnips, collards, kale and spinach this fall and winter.

And there's still time in Eastern North Carolina to start lettuce in eral reports. Rhodes said that the reduction of the number of turkeys in the United States was general in all sections except the New England states where they are about the same as last fall.

"Reduced numbers are most pronounced, however, in the important, however, in the important North Central states and the Rocky Mountain regions," he added. "In these areas most states indicate decreases of from ten to thirty per cent below last year."

cold frames, Watson pointed out. The family with home-grown meat and fruits and a cellar well stocked with canned goods to supplement the fresh garden vegetables can set a royal table regardless of the price of cotton, he continued.

Watson also stated that growers who wish to have more fruit should plan to get their seedling trees set in the ground before Christmas. "Get your trees from a reliable source," he said, "and set them out in time to become well-established in the soil, and develop good root systems, before the period of heavy growth starts next spring."

Fruit trees set out about the home and over the farm not only supply food for home consumption and for sale, but also enhance the appearance of the grounds, he pointed out.

Enrollees Of CCC Gather Cones For Use As Seedlings

Thousands of Bushes Sent To Nursery Where They are Extracted and Prepared for Planting

Raleigh, Nov. 3.—Thousands of bushes of pine cones are being collected at the State Forest Nursery near Clayton, in Johnston county, where some 3,000 pounds of seed are being extracted which will be used in planting a new crop of seedlings in the nursery, according to assistant State Forester F. H. Claridge, in charge of forest management. The pine cones are gathered by the enrollees in the various Civilian Conservation Corps camps over the state and are then sent to the nursery, where the seed are extracted and prepared for planting.

One thousand bushels of pine cones yields approximately 1,000 pounds of seed, so that some 3,000 bushels of cones will be required to supply the amount of seed needed for planting in the Clayton nursery this fall. Some of this seed may also be used in the new nursery which will probably be established somewhere in the mountains, said Claridge.

A crew of men is now busy at the Clayton nursery extracting the seed from the several thousand bushels of cones which have already been received. It is expected that about one ton of seed will be obtained from these cones, of which about 1,000 pounds will be long leaf pines and about 700 pounds of loblolly pine seed. The balance will be other types of conifers, such as spruce, balsam, eastern hemlock and white pine. Some yellow poplar and black locust seed is also being extracted.

After the pine cones have been received at the nursery, they are placed on wire shelves in the seed house, where they dry out and open, the seed falling onto the floor, where they are swept up. The cones are then put into a "shaker," a revolving wire drum, which is rotated to extract the additional seed. The seed are then placed in a winnowing machine, which blows off the chaff and dirt. The loblolly seed are washed to remove the "wings" before planting.

When bees were first brought to this country, the Indians called them "white men's flies."

SING PRAISES OF BERLINSKI

N.C. State Star Praised By Numerous Sports Writers

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—Sports writers and commentators who have seen Eddie Berlinski of North Carolina State in action on the gridiron have expressed an opinion long held by followers of the Wolfpack—that Berlinski is one of the finest backs in the Southern Conference and perhaps in the nation.

Berlinski was in perfect shape when grid drills this fall and State's new head coach, Williams (Doc) Newton, took him in hand. Newton is noted for his ability to bring out the best there is in a football player. He found plenty of ability in Berlinski.

In six games this fall Berlinski has not been outplayed by any one or two backs. He has excelled as an elusive runner, a fine passer and pass receiver, a climax runner, a player who is dangerous with and without the ball, a dandy defensive player, and has one of the finest competitive spirits in the game.

In the opening game with Davidson, Berlinski attempted one pass and completed it with his backfield twin, Art Rooney, for 29 yards. He ran 14 times from scrimmage against Davidson and had a net gain of 73 yards to average more than five yards a trip. It was the best average and best yardage of any player on the field.

Sports writers and coaches who saw the State-North Carolina game said Berlinski turned in the greatest performance that afternoon of any back they ever saw on a losing team. State lost, 20-0. Berlinski was the outstanding back. He gained more yardage from scrimmage than any three North Carolina backs—142 yards—to maintain his five yard average for every time he ran. His defensive game that afternoon was even better than his offensive.

Berlinski punter once against Carolina and it was good for 55 yards. He returned a Carolina punt 45 yards for the best run of the day and completed a pass to Jess Tatum for 10 yards.

WILDCATS-TAR HEELS MEET FOR 34TH TIME

Chapel Hill, Nov. 4.—When Davidson and Carolina football elevens clash at Davidson Saturday, the two institutions will be meeting on the gridiron for the 34th time. Although the Tar Heels have a wide edge in the series—25 victories against four defeats and 4 ties—most of the games have been exceedingly close and highly exciting. Davidson's last victory came in 1930 and the score was 7-6. The Tar Heels won 26 to 6 last season.

PACK TO MEET LIGHT BRIGADE

Frequent Passes Expected in Saturday's Contest

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—The State Wolf Pack will mix frequent passes with its running offense in an effort to defeat the light, but dangerous "Light Brigade" from The Citadel here Saturday afternoon in Riddick Stadium. The game will start at 2:30.

The Wolfpack used passes effectively against Boston College last week. It completed six for 180 yards as compared to the 144 yards gained on ground plays.

One of the passes accounted for one of State's two touchdowns. It was good for 24 yards and was thrown by Art Rooney to Eddie Berlinski. Berlinski also scored the other touchdown on a 72-yard run.

Five of the Boston passes were thrown by Rooney, now considered the best passer in the Big Five and possibly in the Southern Conference. The other was thrown by Bob Sabolyk and was caught by Rooney.

State scored one of its three touchdowns against Wake Forest on a pass. It was thrown by Berlinski to Rooney and was good for 24 yards. Berlinski scored the other touchdowns on runs of 20 and 37 yards.

The one touchdown State scored to defeat Davidson, 6-2, was on a pass from Rooney to Jess Tatum, star right end. Tatum took it over the goal and it was good for eight yards.

Rooney does most of the passing assisted at times by Berlinski. Berlinski and Rooney also are two of the best pass receivers. Other good receivers are two big ends—Mac Berry and Jess Tatum.

The Citadel is expected to use the air also as the "Light Brigade" is credited with one of the best passing games in South Carolina. Its ace hurler is Kookale Robinson, 134 pound left halfback, who also does most of the running and kicking.

The Citadel's pass offense was developed by Deke Brackett, backfield coach, and former quarterback at Tennessee and teammate of Herman Hickman, State's line coach. They played on the 1931 Vol eleven. Hickman was a senior and an All-American guard. Brackett was a sophomore, but was the first string quarterback and one of the best passers in the south.

Top among The Citadel receivers are Captain Francis King, right end, and brother of Dick King, all-American flankman at Army several years ago.

LIGHTER BACKS TO FACE U.N.C.

Davidson Outweighed By Some 10 Pounds Per Man

Chapel Hill, Nov. 4.—Admitting that North Carolina will outweigh Davidson some 10 pounds per man, the Tar Heels will go up against one of the gamest and fastest elevens in the Southern Conference when they take on the Wildcats at Richardson Field Saturday at 2:30 o'clock in the feature of the Presbyterians' Homecoming program.

The Tar Heels will have a four-pound weight advantage in the line—189 to 185, and will be 19 pounds heavier in the backfield—183 to 164. But the Wildcat quartet of Teoney Lafferty, quarterback, Fred Dennis, and Bob McClellan, halfbacks, and Bill Bolin, fullback, is one of the speediest pony expresses in the South.

And the Carolina team learned Saturday through bitter experience just how much damage a light, fast backfield can do. Fordham's sophomore backs, averaging just 168, struck with the viciousness of a thunderbolt Saturday. They ran, passed, laterally-passed and kicked all over Kenan Stadium and beat the Tar Heels 14 to 0. The backs were light in weight but they caused tons and tons of trouble all afternoon.

Teoney Lafferty, triple-threat field general and one of the nation's outstanding backs, is perhaps the most elusive and fastest of the quartet. Lafferty has been running all over Dixie's best gridirons with conspicuous success for the past three years. Against Duke's powerhouse he weaved, dashed, darted and drove for 192 of his team's total of 141 yards.

Dennis, also a senior, is perhaps the most under-rated back of the Davidson Club. He's had to take a back seat with Lafferty doing the steering. But with the Teoney one out a good part of the season due to injuries, Dennis has had to carry the brunt of play both offensively and defensively.

Bob McClellan, blocking stand-out, will probably be back in the line-up after several weeks absence. McClellan will set the interference stages for Mates Lafferty and Dennis to carry through. Reserve Bill Davis, star of the Furman game, another nifty passer and runner, Bolin, although weighing only 170, carries tremendous driving power and is a stalwart in backing up the line.

Local Negro Team To Play Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 3:15 P. M. the local Industrial High team (colored) will encounter the fast team from Bertie county.

This will be the second game played at home for the locals. The local team goes into this game slightly favored but it will be one of the best games played at the fairgrounds this season, it is believed.

Line up for Greenville Industrial High:

L. E.—R. Mays; L. T.—R. Payton; L. G.—Wm. Jones; Center—Red Eaton; R. G.—Ben Gibbs; R. T.—S. Payton; R. E.—J. Godette; Backs—Daniels, Foreman, Smith and A. Hill.

TAR HEELS UNDEFEATED IN CONFERENCE GAMES

Chapel Hill, Nov. 4.—Carolina will risk an undefeated Southern Conference record Saturday when it takes on Davidson's scrapping Wildcats. The contest heads the Wildcats' Homecoming Day reunion. The Tar Heels hold victories over N. C. State, 20-0; Wake Forest 28-0 and a 13-13 tie with South Carolina. Carolina's lone defeat of this season came at the hands of intersectional Fordham at Chapel Hill last Saturday.

LITTLE AND LAFFERTY ARE LEADING SCORERS

Chapel Hill, Nov. 4.—Triple-threaters Crowell Little of Carolina and Martin (Teoney) Lafferty of Davidson are the leading scorers of their teams this season. Little has tallied 30 points in six games and Lafferty 18 points in 4 games. Lafferty was held out of the V.M.I. South Carolina and Furman games due to injuries. When Carolina and Davidson clash Saturday in the Wildcats' Homecoming Day feature, Lafferty and Little will bear close watching.

YOUTH PREACHES WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Roland Nye is working his way through college by preaching the gospel.

At 22 he is a full fledged pastor at Immanuel Methodist Church here. He has had a regular parish since he was 18.

Between classes and sermons, the youthful pastor lettered in track and football at Jackson high school here and in track at Nebraska Wesleyan University which he attended before transferring to the University of Nebraska. He also sings in the university glee club.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Rallying food was scarce in today's stock market and leading issues after nibbling half-heartedly at a recovery around midday, settled into another downward drift.

Losses running to two or more points centered mainly in steel and auto, appeared at the opening. These were reduced or cancelled later, but trading dwindled and moderate declines were definitely in the majority near the fourth hour.

Trading also was the failure of secondary bonds to make any appreciable comeback.

Karpén "PIL-O-REST" MATTRESS

The "Pil-O-Rest" is a Karpén masterpiece in mattress comfort. The unique feature of this marvelous mattress is the fluffy pillow attached top and bottom. This feature, as well as the entire Karpén inner-spring unit, is fully patented and cannot be bought elsewhere. The hinged-type spring unit is double tempered—encased in muslin—insulated with sisal—surrounded with deep layers of felted cotton and covered with muslin. Then the mattress-size pillows are attached top and bottom and the entire mattress covered in a beautiful and durable imported striped damask in lustrous pastel shades. This is why the Karpén "Pil-O-Rest" conforms to the body with the gentle softness of a pillow and supports it perfectly from head to foot. See the "Pil-O-Rest" at our store.
