Drive Made On Liquor And Vice

MORE THAN 50 WARRANTS OUT

True Bills Returned By Grand Jury Friday Afternoon

A round-up of persons accused of dealing in liquor and vice was underway throughout the county today following the Grand Jury's action late yesterday afternoon in finding true bills against 42 persons charged with illegally selling whiskey and 11 with operating houses for prostitution.

The bills were presented the Grand Jury following several weeks of undercover work by special agents employed by the Pitt County Alcoholic Beverage Control board.

The campaign against illegal liquor traffic in the county was inaugurated some time ago and since then a number of stills have been located and destroyed by the special under-cover agents, working in conjunction with the two regular ABC law enforcement agents.

The special term of Pitt Superior court called by Governor Hoey, to be held the week of November 29, was sought primarily for hearing cases brought to trial by the special agents.

The men were later employed by county officials to clean up vice conditions.

Although the Grand Jury returned the true bill of indictments yesterday afternoon, the names of the defendants were withheld until the officers make the arrests. The officers started a round-up of the defendants early this morning and it is expected to be Monday before they complete the task.

A number of defendants arrested by the special agents already have been brought to trial in County court here but the majority of the accused offenders were not taken in custody until the drive which started this morning.

Mrs. Hahn Facing Ohio Death Chair

Thirty-One Year Old Blonde Mother Convicted of Killing Gardner to Collect Insurance

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn, 31-year-old blonde mother, was convicted of first degree murder today in the poison death of Jacob Wagner, 68-year-old retired gardener. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory.

The jurors spent about two and a half hours in actual deliberation since receiving the case last night. Mrs. Hahn would be the first woman ever executed in Ohio.

She appeared in the court room nervous and distraught, her blonde hair disheveled.

John Granda, lone male member of the jury, read the verdict. As Mrs. Hahn heard the death decree she made no move except to lower her head slightly and pursed her lips.

To Devote Time To Conference With Leaders

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt settled down today to putting his congressional program in shape.

He arranged to devote most of his time before the special session begins November 15 to Conferences with house and Senate leaders and to preparing his opening address.

Among his conferees probably will be Senator Borah (R. Idaho) who will discuss anti-trust legislation, one of the five points on the President's program.

Congressional committees already preparing for the session have been working largely on two subjects likely to figure in much of the debate, crop control and tax revision.

Preparation of farm legislation has stirred up an argument between those who want to compel regulation of production and those who favor a voluntary program. President Roosevelt has not disclosed his views.

The chief executive did not list tax revision on the special session program, but a widespread campaign has developed both in and out of Congress to modify quickly the corporate undistributed profits tax.

A view point held by many legislators was carried to the White House by Senator Byrnes (D. S. C.) yesterday. After a talk with the President Byrnes told reporters the corporate tax should be modified or repealed. He said it hurt fall business and did not produce sufficient revenue.

EFFORTS FAIL BRING RESULTS

Doubtful Japan And China Will Agree on Mediation

(By Associated Press) Widely divergent attitudes of China and Japan toward participation of outsiders in any negotiations to end their undeclared war presented a major obstacle today to collective efforts to get the warring nations together to talk peace.

Spokesmen declared it was highly doubtful Japan would accept mediation from the conference at Brussels, the Chinese government announced it would not deal directly with Japan until every other effort had failed.

However, delegates to the Brussels conference drafted a new offer to Japan of their friendly office in an effort to bring peace to the Far East. Japan has declined to attend the Brussels conference, called under the nine-power pact of 1922.

China's statement today in which she refused to enter direct negotiations was interpreted as the Central government's reply to President reports that Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany might initiate negotiations for an armistice.

Chinese government officials tempered the statement, however, by saying they might agree to an unconditioned truce on two grounds: 1 That it be guaranteed by a powerful third power or a group of powers.

2 That China's sovereignty and territorial integrity be held inviolate in Rome, Italy joined Japan and Germany in a pact against the Comintern, Communist International Organization centering in Moscow. The protocol stipulated Italy was to be considered an original signatory of the pact entered into by Germany and Japan a year ago.

Court May Review Sit - Down Strikes

Nation's Highest Tribunal, Undertakes to Decide Whether to Rule on Constitutionality

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme court undertook today to decide whether to review litigation involving constitutionality of sit-down strikes.

The administration urged the Supreme court, meantime to reverse previous decision and hold that utilities should be valued for rate-making purposes on a "prudent investment" basis.

A brief, submitted by the federal power commission argue the tribunal should abandon its "doctrine" that fair value should be determined by original costs and reproduction costs.

Also Attorney General Cummings asked the Supreme court to rule that the government need not pay interest on gold bonds called for redemption in advance of the maturity date.

Other cases before the justices at their weekly meeting included two appeals by the National Labor Relations board requesting compliance with orders issued against (Continued on page three)

DUKE DECIDES TO FORGET U.S.

Proposed 'Industrial' Tour of America 'Postponed'

Paris, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A member of the Duke of Windsor's suite said today the feeling within the Duke's entourage that United States officials took a "lukewarm attitude" toward his proposed American tour as one of the reasons for the decision to "postpone" it.

Close advisors of the former English king were said to have felt there was a "lack of enthusiasm" on the part of Washington officials. This coupled with American Labor leaders' criticism, was considered to make it advisable to call off the journey.

A spokesman for the American Embassy said Ambassador William Bullitt already had called on the Duke and Duchess to say goodbye before the postponement decision (Continued on Page Eight)

Tobacco Farmers Earn High Yields

Raleigh, Nov. 6.—Cash registers are playing "Happy Days Are Here Again" in stores and business houses of eastern and central North Carolina as the largest tobacco crop in history pours gold into the pockets of growers.

This year may bring as big a cash return as did 1919 when the crop, at 49.15 cents per pound, brought $153,893,172.

This year's crop, estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at 573,275,000 pounds, while it may reach 600,000,000 is expected to bring between $130,000,000 and $150,000,000 by the end of the season. Already farmers have marketed 231,515,016 pounds for $58,297,303 and the cream of the crop is still to be sold.

Prices up to October 1 averaged 22.32 cents per pound, but since the poorer grades are almost always sold first, the average for the season is likely to be 25 cents per pound by the time the marts finally close next February.

So the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, and particularly the automobile dealer are all very happy now that the first of this $150,000,000 stream has started flowing. For tobacco, or the money put into circulation as a result of its sale and manufacture, is vitally the lifeblood, of business and industry in a large part of the state, as well as of its government. Without this "tobacco money" business could not long thrive in the eastern and central belts.

Accordingly the long-song, mumbo-jumbo of the politician has become as sweet to the business man as to the farmer, for the cash does not linger long in the jeans of the grower, but finds its way into the regular channels of trade in a hurry.

First cash that the farmer gets, goes to pay taxes, accounts at "time merchants" and notes at banks.

A majority of the farmers have no trouble obtaining credit for practically all their needs, fertilizer groceries, clothes, farm machinery etc, because they are known as good risks even though they pay (Continued on page nine)

Mayo-Wiggins.

Tarboro, Nov. 6.—Howard Memorial Presbyterian Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Thursday evening at half after eight o'clock when Miss Julia Nettles Wiggins became the bride of Mr. Cary Burwell Mayo, Jr., of Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

The church was artistically decorated with white chrysanthemums, lace ferns and cathedral candles.

A program of nuptial music was rendered prior to the ceremony by Mr. Robert M. Rawls, organist, and Mrs. Ashley Speir, pianist. Their numbers included "L'Amour Toujour L'Amour," by Friml; "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance; "Indian Love Call," from "Rose Marie," Grand Aria by Oemarest. The vested choir entered singing "O Perfect Love."

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Ed Brown of Washington, N. C., sang "Thou Art So Like a Flower," by Chadwick.

Reverend Chester Alexander, pastor of the bride, was the celebrant, using the impressive ring service, the ring being the one used by the bride's maternal great-grandmother, Mary Eliza Burbank.

The bride, a petite brunette, entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, wore a gown of white silk net over satin, made high neck basque style with full skirt finished at the hemline with rows of small ruffles. The basque was fastened in the back to the waist with small satin covered buttons, and was trimmed in rows of ruffles in bertha effect, which dropped off the shoulders forming puff sleeves which were lengthened to the wrists with mittens of silk net. A spray of orange blossoms caught the ruffles of the basque together in front. The train was formed from an overskirt of net which was cut up in front and finished with rows of small ruffles. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Mayo had as her attendants Mrs. James Beebe Hawes of Charleston, West Virginia, as dame of honor; Miss Harriet Howard Holderness of Tarboro, as maid of honor; Misses Jackie Wiggins, her sister; Anna Stamps Holderness, and Madeline Jenkins of Tarboro, and Mildred Joyner of Rocky Mount, as bridesmaids. All of the attendants wore identical dresses of rose taffeta sheered princess style with puff sleeves and short trains. They carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses and Gerberas tied with a lighter shade of Talisman ribbon.

Mr. Mayo had as his best man his father, Mr. Cary Burwell Mayo of Greenville. The ushers were Haywood Dall Holderness of Tarboro, Charles Woodward of Greenville, William Wright of Eagle Springs, and James Wright Wiggins, Jr., brother of the bride, of Wilson.

Mrs. Mayo who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wright Wiggins of Tarboro was educated at Salem College.

Mr. Mayo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Burwell Mayo of Greenville. He was educated at Washington and Lee University and has been for the past few years connected with the George W. Helme Tobacco Company of Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Wiggins, mother of the bride, wore a model of blue lace with a corsage of Russell roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Mayo's gown was of black chiffon velvet, with which she wore Russell roses and valley lilies.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on St. Patrick street.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayo left later in the evening for a wedding trip and will be at home in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, after November fifteenth. The out-of-town guests for the wedding included:

—Reported.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming Hostess.

One of the prettiest of the social functions of the season was held Friday afternoon when Mrs. J. L. Fleming entertained the George B. Singletary chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy. The colors of the organization, red and white, were beautifully carried out in the use of white chrysanthemums, red candles and red trailing foliage.

Mrs. R. C. Deal, the new president, was in the chair. Chapter reports were encouraging. Mrs. F. C. Harding, the treasurer, reported a small balance after all obligations are met. Mrs. L. A. Randolph reported one Cross of Military Service received, which will be presented on November 11th. Mrs. J. H. Anderson of Raleigh, division president, urged the Daughters to cooperate in every way with the schools in celebrating November 9 as North Carolina Historical day.

Mrs. Fleming in a very happy vein, presented Mrs. James Edward Woodard of Wilson, late president of the North Carolina Division United Daughters of the Confederacy and at present chairman of education in the general organization, also chairman of finance in the North Carolina Division. Mrs. Woodard's address was inspiring, informative and educational. The scholarships, the tubercular work, the Old Ladies Home at Fayetteville, the relief work and Memorial, all were presented in a forceful, appealing manner. Following this Mrs. W. L. Hall sang a group of old southern favorites which were received with enthusiasm. In this she was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fleming.

The hostess then invited the guests into the dining room. Mrs.

W. I. Wooten and Mrs. Curtis Perkins poured tea, while Mrs. J. L. Winstead and Mrs. W. S. Evans assisted in passing attractive refreshments which also carried out the color scheme of red and white. Besides a goodly number of local guests, out of town guests included Mrs. J. E. Woodard, the speaker, and Mrs. Clark Hughes of Wilson.

Birthday Dinner.

Wednesday, November third, Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall entertained in honor of her mother, celebrating her 74th birthday, at her cottage at Atlantic Beach, with a three-course turkey dinner. They went to the beach the night before and a fire in the grate to keep off the autumn chill, kept burning by her son, Claude Tunstall.

The dinner was served by her daughters, Misses Mamie Ruth and Katie Tunstall and Mrs. Minnie Tunstall Jones.

Those present were Mesdames G. E. Harris, T. A. Person, W. B. Wilson, H. Bentley Harris, R. W. King, James H. B. Moore, James Long, Guy T. Evans, W. B. Tilghman and W. H. Woolard.

Mrs. Tunstall received many gifts of remembrance in honor of the day.

After dinner, games were played. Mrs. Person, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Jones won prizes.

Mrs. Tunstall came to Greenville when it was a village, with her husband, the late J. S. Tunstall, who was a merchant and later was in the tobacco business. She is one of the few remaining charter members of the Greenville Christian Church. Mrs. Tunstall has been a subscriber to the Daily Reflector ever since coming to Greenville, and has had the same telephone number ever since telephones were first installed in Greenville.

Her friends wish her many more happy birthdays.

OUTLINE STEPS IN EDUCATION

Two Important Measures Taken Up At Conference

Two important steps were taken by the North Carolina College Conference at its recent meeting in Greensboro, from which President L. R. Meadows, Dr. M. J. McGinnis, and Dr. E. L. Henderson, of the College, have just returned.

At the request of the Southern Association of Colleges, the Conference decided to request the State to allow students from three high schools in this state to graduate and enter college without having met College entrance requirements as to prescribed units in the various fields.

Then the record made by these students in college will be compared with that made by students who have taken the prescribed units in the different fields of high school work.

This experiment will affect only one high school in Winston Salem, one in Charlotte, and one in Goldsboro.

The second step was voting, at the request of State Superintendent Erwin, to make a careful study of the training schools in all North Carolina institutions that are training teachers.

This study will be made by the Standards Committee under the leadership of President W. P. Few, of Duke, who is Chairman of the committee.

Dr. Meadows is a member of the Executive committee of the Conference.

The conference had as its central theme Good Teaching.

It heard addresses on various phases of the subject from President Frank Graham, University of North Carolina, Dean Mildred Thompson, Vassar College, State Superintendent Clyde Erwin, and that famous exemplar of good teaching, Dr. W. H. Kilpatrick, Teachers College, Columbia.

Final Payment.

Washington, Nov. 6. — (AP) — Treasury officials forwarded a check for $1,950 to Rockwell Kent last night, completing payment on his murals in the new postoffice building so that they would be free to change a controversial inscription.

Five out of six pedestrians injured in motor car accidents are struck before they reach the middle of the street they are crossing.

College Band.
The newly organized band of the college, in existence only three weeks entertained the college assembly Friday under the leadership of their director, Dean Tabor of the public school music department.

Among the instruments played by the members of the young band are clarinets, a bass horn, a B-flat saxophone, a bass drum and a snare drum, trumpets, a trombone, a baritone and alto saxophones.

Mr. Tabor had each instrument displayed and then demonstrated for the audience. Though the musicians had practiced only a few times, they were able to play one number in harmony.

Director Tabor showed the students how anyone can begin to play after only a few lessons.

Accompanied by Miss Dormer, Mr. Tabor gave two trumpet solos, which were received with enthusiasm, though he modestly declared that he had not practiced on the trumpet for some time.

Entertains Wedding Party.

Torboro, Nov. 4.—Miss Anna Holderness, who will act as one of the bridesmaids in the Mayo-Wiggins wedding tonight, entertained the wedding party and out of town guests last evening at a beautifully appointed buffet supper. The supper was held at the Holderness home on St. Patrick street prior to the rehearsal in the Presbyterian Church. The home, which was decorated throughout with lovely flowers, presented a charming scene for the affair. The dining table was centered with an exquisite arrangement of white flowers, and at either end of the table white tapers burned in handsome silver candelabrae. The beauty of this arrangement was emphasized by corsages and buttonholes for each guest being placed on the table. Mrs. George Holderness and Mrs. A. C. Speir presided over the table and served a delicious buffet supper.

HIGH SCHOOL OPERATTA

Members of the glee club of Greenville high school, under the direction of Miss Ona Shindler, are perfecting their fall operatta, "The Gypsy Rover," which they will present in the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon, November 10, and Friday night, November 12.

"Gypsy Rover" is a musical comedy centered around the romance of Gypsy Rob and Lady Constance, played by Norman Wilkerson and Jean Abeyounis, respectively.

Other members of the cast are Helen Bunch, Jack Moye, Robert Earle Clark, Robert Musselwhite, C. B. Allen, Clara Dudley, Norwood Conway, Francis Oakley, Dallas Feele, Wilbur Brown, and Ella Frances Evans.

Also appearing in the production are two dancing and singing choruses made up of other boys and girls in the glee club.

Farmer Loses His Arm.

Tarboro, Nov. 6.—Elmore Lovegrove, 30, of Route 3, Scotland Neck lost his right arm in a peanut picker on his farm early yesterday.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Nov 6.—North Carolina banks not only have felt no direct effects of the recent stock market declines, but would be only remotely affected by anything the market might do, according to Commissioner of Banks Gurney P. Hood.

Although the law permits banks to own a relatively small amount of stock in proportion to their total assets, he said, there is almost none at all held by any of North Carolina's banks.

"We do not consider stocks the best kind of investments for banks and so there isn't one bank in twenty that owns any stock at all," said Mr. Hood.

What's this if it isn't taxation without representation, a principle for which history tells us our Revolutionary fathers fought, bled and died?

The tax law general has recently ruled that every male between the ages of 21 and 50 is liable for a poll tax, even if he has served a term in the penitentiary and has not had his citizenship restored.

During the three months of July, August and September the Commodity Distribution Division distributed a total of 2,252,769 units valued at $278,972 to members of 69,650 families at a cost of $36,566.79 or 13.28 per cent of the value of commodities distributed.

Charlie Jonas, North Carolina G. O. P. national committeeman, is trying to get "Tickless Joe" Tolbert who holds a similar position in South Carolina. Our idea of the only thing more worthless than Charlie's job is Joe's.

Youngsters of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association apparently enjoyed themselves immensely at their convention here.

"I do not feel that there is an great amount of gasoline tax evasion in North Carolina, but the North Carolina Petroleum Industries Committee feels that the legitimate dealers in North Carolina should always be on the alert and actively assist state and federal authorities in their endeavors to curtail gasoline tax evasion," said State Senator S. Gilmer Sparger, secretary of the N.C.P.I.C.

Raleigh's tired business men are so unhappy. They've just learned that the Ziegfeld Follies, booked to play here November 13, have folded up quite gracefully.

Apparently glomping the American girl was not so in the hinterland. In the "hick" town...

Washington Daybook

Washington — People who talk libly about "broadening the tax base" could well be reminded that more than a year ago the tax base was broadened with one quick gesture to nick a billion dollars from the incomes of persons once described flippantly as of "no particular importance."

It was accomplished through the social security tax. The income from that going into the old age and unemployment funds is estimated by treasury sources to be about a billion a year at its present level.
If the law is not amended the one percent levy now in effect climbs on up ultimately to three percent.

At present the employer and the employee each pay a sum to the government equal to one percent of the employee's salary. So in effect an item equal to two percent of each employee's salary pours in to the treasury monthly, by month.

The top limit of the tax at present is $30 a year, or $60 a year when the employer's share is included.
The reason for that is that even if you make over $3,000 a year, you cannot accumulate benefits based on more than $3,000 pay.

Yet even so, this $30 a year tax is decidedly more than the average wage earner has been paying to the government through the income tax. Of course, if your income is $1,000 a year the social security tax is not $30 but is $12. And if the income is $2,000 a year, the tax is $20.

His Tax Small

But we'll stick to the $3,000 a year man for several reasons. This $3,000 man likely enough never paid any appreciable amount of income tax, particularly if he is married and his wife is not working. Being married he gets an exemption of $2,500 a year outright. Then the government allows him a further deduction of 10 percent of his net earned income, which would be $300. Added to the $2,500 exemption this leaves him subject to a tax on only $200, at the rate of four percent. The tax is $8. If the man has a child he pays no tax at all, since a child brings $400 additional exemption.

Yet along comes social security, grants no exemptions and takes $30. This is no argument against the social security tax, because its use for old age and unemployment protection has stood up under a heap of attack. But the taking of this $50 does figure in when the treasury or other tax-minded parties begin calculating just how much additional taxes can be extracted wisely from the "low income brackets."

For a long time it has been estimated by skilled tax authorities that a fat lot of revenue could be extracted from the income brackets ranging from $1,000 to $50,000 now only partially extracted.

Since certain administration officials are known to be thinking seriously of reducing some of

Schools Of State Want Instruction In Highway Safety

Safety Division of Motor Vehicle Bureau Besieged With Requests For Books on Subject

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Nov. —North Carolina's schools want instructions in how to make highways safe.

Proof is found in the fact that Major Arthur Fulk, head of the Safety division of the Motor Vehicle section is being besieged with requests from schools for the textbook "Man and the Motor Car" of which 5,000 copies have already been distributed to approximately 200 schools.

So great has been this demand taxes in the higher brackets, both on individual and corporate incomes, the next place to look for tax revenue to replace that temporarily lost in the higher brackets is in this $2,000 to $50,000 group.

Vein Now Tapped

In pre-social security days, this "lower bracket" was looked upon as only partially developed as a taxmine. It had vast possibilities. But now the social security taxes have taken at least a part of the good ore out of that vein.

As a partial measure of the extent to which social security taxes have broadened the tax base, consider that year after year the number of individuals submitting income tax returns stays at about 4,000,000. In 1928 it was 4,070,851. Of these, only 2,523,063 actually paid taxes.

On the other hand it is estimated that as many as 26,000,000 individuals are paying social security taxes. And for all practical purposes the money is going into the same treasury pot as the regular that Major Fulk is trying to have a reprint, or second edition, of the book made.

"Man and the Motor Car" was distributed to the schools after a series of educational institutes over the state at which teachers were instructed and interested in safety education.

The textbook has been sent out for distribution only to those classes whose teachers have signed up and declared their intention to hold regular instruction classes just as in other school subjects.

At least one school in each county of the state has received some of the books, Major Fulk said. It is the hope of the safety division that ultimately highway safety will be taught in every school of the state.

"Man and the Motor Car" is a book of 256 pages, with 100 specially for use in high school good driving courses.

It is published by the North Carolina division of highway safety in cooperation with the department of Public Instruction.

Saving Declared Best Way to Independence

A paragraph in an advertisement of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Greenville, appearing in Monday's Reflector, was jumbled and did not make sense.

The advertisement, quoting George Washington on economy, pointed the way to financial independence.

The paragraph which was jumbled should have read:

Economy . . . Thrift . . . spending a little less than you get . . . That's the first step. Saving, regularly . . . and investing wisely, that's the big second step on the road to financial independence.

The savings association offers a reasonable income on savings, invested through it.

HIGHS DEFEAT TARBORO TEAM

Score Two Touch- Downs in Final Quarter to Win

By EARL HELLEN

The Flying Phantoms of Greenville High scored two touchdowns on long passes in the final quarter yesterday afternoon to defeat Tarboro High School 12-8 in a thrilling gridiron contest at Tarboro. The Edgecombe eleven also made their 8 points in the last quarter.

After Tarboro had gone ahead 8-6, the locals returned the kick-off to their 35 yard line. Charles Futrell dropped back and heaved a beautiful pass which Captain Howard Hodges took over his shoulder on the Tarboro 35 yard line and outsprinted two opponents to cross the goal line with the winning points. The play came with only two minutes left in the game.

The Phantoms opened the final quarter with the ball on Tarboro's 39 yard stripe. A pass to Hodges and a 4 yard gain gave the locals a first down on the 31 yard line. Baxter Clark made a beautiful catch of a pass and fumbled, but Hodges recovered on the 20 yard stripe for a first down. After a penalty had sent the Phantoms back 5 yards, Captain Hodges leaped high into the air between three Tarboro backs to snag a pass on the five yard line. On the next play Harris fumbled and Tarboro recovered.

Tarboro punted out to the 32 yard line. The Phantoms gained a first down on the 22 yard stripe. Futrell then threw a long aerial to Hubert Roberts who caught the ball and stepped over the goal line for the first touchdown.

The Edgecombe eleven came back fighting. A 35-yard pass was completed to Strickland who nearly got away but was tackled from behind by Tyndall. Tarboro drove down to the five yard stripe where they fumbled and Hodges recovered on the three yard line. Harris was thrown back into the end zone for a safety and two points.

The Tarboro boys took the kick-off and cut loose a heavy aerial barrage. A pass to Strickland gained 20 yards to the 35 yard line of the Phantoms. Palmer then threw a long pass to Nicholson on the 5 yard line and he scored to put Tarboro ahead.

In the first three periods neither team could make headway and it was mostly a battle between the two forward walls. The Phantoms registered 6 first downs and completed 5 out of 11 passes. Tarboro made 7 first downs and completed 4 out of 10 passes.

Wayland Tucker, guard, and Captain Hodges played magnificent ball in the line. They were always in the Tarboro backfield smearing plays behind the line of scrimmage. Kittrell and Nobles also performed well. William Harris was the big gun of the backfield and was a constant threat in the game. The surprise player of the contest was Charles Futrell, a reserve back, who was given a chance when Tom Parrish was badly injured in the second period. Futrell's fine passing gave the locals the victory.

Strickland, Webb and Nicholson topped the losers.

AMBLING AMBROSE

—By Pap' DENNIS PILOTS
WINNING TEAM

Greenville Boy Making Good at Lake View, S. C.

A football team which has won six straight games, "piling up 136 points to their opponents' nothing" and which this week-end is competing for a district championship, was reported by their coach, Thomas Dennis, a Greenville boy and 1937 graduate of the College, in a recent letter to the Registrar.

Dennis is teaching in Lake View, S. C., in a new and well equipped building.

According to the letter, if the team is successful in its next three games, it will be scheduled to play for the lower state championship of "B Class" schools.

At Lake View, he says, they feature three sports: football, boxing, and baseball.

He reports a "real team" with a back averaging about 175 pounds, and a line averaging 160 pounds.

NEW BERN STOPPED

New Bern, Nov. 6.—New Bern High's first football defeat in fifteen games came yesterday — Grainger High of Kinston completed a last-quarter touchdown pass to get a 6-0 victory.

The pass, Evans to Quinn, came after the visitors recovered a New Bern fumble on the locals' 20-yard line.

Herring's blocking featured the visitors' play. Blow and Paul led New Bern.

The last defeat for New Bern came in 1935. The Bears played ties with Roanoke Rapids and Greenville this season.

Each Saturday afternoon new evidence is unearthed to strengthen the belief that the day of the invincible football team is over. With startling regularity, "underdogs" have upset highly favored elevens. No one can predict safely which way a football is going to bounce.

A top-heavy favorite in the pre-game selections, Minnesota was humbled by Nebraska. Cornell, after downing Colgate and Princeton by lopsided scores, fell before Syracuse, a team that few thought had a chance to score. Louisiana State —rated one of the strongest teams in the South on its early performances—was downed by a fighting Vanderbilt eleven. That's the way it goes on all fronts.

It is generally conceded that, on a muddy gridiron, most teams are equals. A number of outstanding upsets have occurred on wet fields this fall, just as they do each season. The defeat a dispirited Brown eleven (Harvard and Dartmouth had smothered the Bruins handed Columbia was a striking example, although it did appear that Coach Lou Little's Lion expected the Brown boys to roll over and play dead. Only Sid Luckman of Columbia was not engulfed in the let-down that followed an easy triumph over Pennsylvania.

Dr. Mal Stevens, coach of New York University, told of an incident that pretty well sized up the situation. His 8-year-old son expressed a desire to see his father's team in action, but stipulated that he wanted to be sure that N. Y. U. would win. The coach, feeling confident that his boys would defeat

Lafayette, give the boy a ticket for the contest. After Lafayette had trounced the Violet eleven, Dr. Stevens had to go home and face the youngster.

"Your team was awful," the pride and joy of the Stevens household said to his daddy. "And you ain't much of a picker, either."

About all I could say to him at the moment was: Please do not say the word 'and' the coach recalled.

was made known.

The Duke, it was said, sent a letter to the Department at Washington asking "suggestions" for his itinerary. The reply, which mentioned several public works projects, was said to have been considered by the Duke's advisors as "perfunctory."

Some members of the Duke's suite were represented as having felt the couple should have been offered a state dinner at the White House instead of the planned luncheon from which Mrs. Roosevelt was to have been absent.

The Windsors now are resolved to "forget America" for the time being, a member of their party declared.

COWS WRECK DELUXE TRAIN, FIREMAN DIES

A herd of stray cattle on the track near Batesville, Mo., wrecked the Illinois Central Railroad's fast train, "The Panama Limited," and Fireman J. T. White of Memphis was killed. The veteran engineer, Charles J. Barnett, was injured seriously. The overturned locomotive is shown in the foreground with one of the derailed cars standing on end.

COURT SESSION IS CONCLUDED

Another Term Scheduled to Start on November 29

A term of Pitt county Superior court for hearing criminal cases was concluded yesterday afternoon after numerous cases including several murder trials, had been heard. The court did not get started until Wednesday.

Eddie Tyson yesterday afternoon tendered a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the death of Will Knight and was sentenced to a term of five to seven years.

Columbus Knight was given four months, Ernest Knight three months and Walter Frank Knight six months on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Mamie Willis was given a one year sentence, suspended upon condition she pay the costs and not violate any laws, on a charge of larceny.

Sam Rogers Tyson was sentenced to 2 months on a charge of forgery, but the sentence was suspended and the defendant was placed on probation under the new state system.

Another criminal term has been set for November 29, with Judge J. H. Clement of Winston-Salem presiding over the special term. It will be the first court here for Judge Clement.

(Continued from page one) their bills but once a year, when the tobacco is sold. This also explains why the merchants, with whom the farmers deal, are as much interested in the price of tobacco as are the growers themselves.

In the fall, when both crop and price are good, the tobacco farmers' fancy almost invariably turns to thoughts of a new automobile—or at least another automobile. There is no denying the fact that a good tobacco crop, at good prices is God's gift to the automobile dealer of eastern and central North Carolina. It means that they sell automobiles by the thousands and tens of thousands, new and used taken together.

Up to October 1 of this year, 42,943 new automobiles and 12,892 trucks have been sold in North Carolina, despite the fact that the state already has 575,165 licensed automobiles and trucks in operation. Back in 1931, when the tobacco crop of 466,756,112 pounds sold at an average of only 8.86 cents per pound and brought farmers a total of only $41,354,591 automobile dealers felt the effects almost as much as the growers and buyers. That year, only 22,339 new automobiles and 5,335 new trucks were sold, as farmers, unable to buy gasoline for old cars, were forced to repair them, took the cars and made two-wheeled "cars" propelled by a gas which did not need gasoline. These have virtually disappeared from the roads now, and new automobiles rule the highways.

In addition to growing the largest amount of tobacco of any state (including seven-tenths of all flue-cured) North Carolina also leads in tobacco manufacture. Companies with factories here now manufacture about half a billion dollars worth of cigarettes a year. Nothing of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of smoking and chewing tobacco snuff. In 1935 more than $46,000,000 worth of cigarettes were made and it is estimated that this has increased to at least $50,000,000 a year.

The companies will this season pay growers nearly $100,000,000; they will pay the federal government nearly $250,000,000 in taxes; they will employ hundreds of thousands of North Carolinians.

So while tobacco may be just a weed to some people, it is the sweetest flower that grows to most North Carolinians.

Cost Of Operating Electrified Homes On Farms Figured

Thirty Dollars Per Month Would Provide Electrified Home from Fan to Oil Furnace

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, Nov. 6.—Cost of operation of a completely electrified rural home would amount to approximately $30 per month, according to figures of the General Electric Company on the consumption of electricity for various devices combined with the Duke Power Company's estimate of the average cost per kilowatt-hour for power.

Such a home would be indeed completely electrified, from fan and dishwasher to oil furnace with electric control and electric power for its water supply.

With all the equipment to be listed a bit later the average monthly consumption of electricity would be 596 kilowatt hours per month. The 1-3 per 100 pounds of grain.

Truck Occupants Killed; Trainmen Buried in Wreck

Lovejoy, Ga., Nov. 6.—Three persons were killed and the engineer and fireman pinned under the wreckage in a derailment of the Central of Georgia limited passenger train, "The Southland," after it struck a truck at a crossing today.

Pullman Conductor William Rankin said none of the 27 passengers on the four pullman cars was hurt.

Trainmen said the dead were occupants of the truck—a man, woman and small child.

Trainmaster R. E. Barnes of Atlanta said he had talked with Fireman Jim Henry of Macon, who was buried under the engine, but said he had received no response from Engineer D. C. Wall of Atlanta, and it was feared the latter was dead.

"The Southland" was headed from the Florida West Coast via Atlanta and Cincinnati to the middle west.

average cost per kilowatt hour is figured to be 5 cents, though the Duke Power Company estimate is 4.69 cents.

According to General Electric here's the electric consumption: Dishwasher 21-4; fan, 1 for each 8 hours operation; ironing machine 8; lighting 25 (including small household appliances), radio 8; range 128; refrigerator 30; sewing machine 1; telechron clock 2; vacuum cleaner 1-4; oil furnace with electric control 350 per year; washing machine 2; water heater 340; water supply 41-2 for shallow well or 11-2 for cistern.

Estimates of consumption for various kinds of farming use follow: Brooding 1-4 per 6 weeks for each chick; churning 1 per 100 pounds of butter; corn husking 5 per ton; cream separating 1-2 per 1,000 pounds of milk; dairy water heating 15 to 35 per 100 gallons; hay baling 3 per ton; lighting entire farm 25 to 30 per month; milking 2 to 3 per cow per month; silo filling 2 to 3 per 100 pounds of grain.

Jobs Left Up To Next Legislature

Raleigh, Nov. 5.—North Carolina's Supreme Court has made two jobs for the 1939 legislature.

To begin with the high tribunal this week practically issued the oft spoken of, but generally-believed non-existent "License to Steal" to all receivers of insolvent concerns.

Then it handed down an opinion which will make it, in the opinion of many high ranking lawyers, including Assistant Attorney General Harry McMullan, almost an impossibility to convict anybody of receiving stolen goods.

Nobody is blaming the court, whose decisions are called "sound from the legal viewpoint," but many can be found to agree with the old saying that "The law's an ass."

The Supreme Court reversed the conviction of Earl Miller, young Salisbury man, for receiving stolen goods on the grounds that the Superior court judge erred in charging the jury that the defendant could be found guilty if he "believed" the good to be stolen, when the statute says "knowing them to have been stolen."

The high court, in State vs. Whitehurst, held that there is no law in North Carolina under which a receiver who embezzles assets of the concern of which he is in charge, can be prosecuted. "Receiver" is not named in the embezzlement statute.

JAPANESE AIM ENCIRCLE CITY

Chinese sources acknowledged 3,000 Japanese had landed in the Hangchow Bay area and had met stiff Chinese resistance within five miles of Sungkiang, an important point in the Chinese defenses about 20 miles southwest of here. "Many more transports" had arrived in the bay, the Chinese declared.

With the departure of Southern Methodist missionaries after Japanese air bombs had destroyed half of Sungkiang, heavily damaging mission properties, no foreigners were known to remain in the city.

The Japanese reports of a swift drive north were believed to indicate a possible decisive battle was impending in the vicinity of Shanghai.
