Anti Communism Accord Heightens National Rivalry

New Anti-Comintern Front Composed Of Germany, Italy And Japan Provokes Ominous Series of Repercussions; Soviet Union May Break Relations With Tokyo

CHINA TO KEEP SOVIET TERMS

Will Not Renounce Russia to Join Group Of Powers

London, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The underlying significance of the new "World Triangle" against Communism heightened national rivalries today all around an already war-ridden world.

Brussels, Nov. 9.—(AP)—China will preserve her friendship with Soviet Russia—not renounce it to join any group of powers dominated by a particular philosophy, Dr. Wellington Koo, China's representative here, said today.

The week-end conclusion of the superficially simple accord whereby Fascist Italy joined her Nazi diplomatic ally, Germany, and militaristic Japan for joint action on "necessary defense measures" against International Communism, brought an ominous series of repercussions.

Such was China's answer to reports from Berlin that a more satisfactory peace between Japan and China might be achieved if China would adhere to the German-Japanese-Italian Anti-Comintern pact (A source close to the German Chancellor Adolph Hitler also diplomat, would be interested with the task of persuading other nations, including China, to participate in the anti-comintern alignment).

Perhaps chief among these was the possibility the Soviet Union would break diplomatic relations with both Tokyo and Rome.

China recently signed a non-aggression pact with Russia, Koo said it contained no secret clauses. China, he added, wants to keep the friendship of all nations, particularly her neighbors.

The afternoon session of the Brussels Far Eastern Conference was postponed until tomorrow when officials announced British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden would not reach Brussels in time for the scheduled meeting.

The withdrawal of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo "triangle" in Brussels diplomats of the United States, Great Britain and France were expected to take advantage of tomorrow's resumption of the Far Eastern peace conference to discuss implications of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo "triangle."

Adolf Hitler, speaking last night in Munich in celebration of the Nazi's "beer cellar putsch," proclaimed the power of the "great world political triangle."

Mrs. Haydn Dies After an Illness Of 11 Weeks At Home

Funeral Services For Member Of Old, Distinguished Pitt County Family Tomorrow Afternoon

Mrs. Elizabeth Haydn, 74, died at her home, 508 West Third street yesterday afternoon at 3:30 from a critical illness of 11 weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Worth Wicker, Rector. Burial will be in the family plot in Cherry Hill cemetery besides her late husband.

Mrs. Haydn was one of the oldest members of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and was a member of one of Pitt County's old distinguished families. She was the daughter of the late John Foreman and Emma McCluer Boyd.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Bessie Haydn, of the home; two step-children, G. L. Haydn of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. J. L. Vandenberg of Washington, D. C., and the following brothers and sisters: John F. Boyd, Joseph C. Boyd, Miss M. Louise and Miss Sue McB. Boyd, all of Greenville.

Transparent photographic film first was used in 1883.

Labor Decision Regarded As Muzzle For Employers

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Recent ruling of the National Labor Relations Board in the Mansfield Mill, Inc. case has aroused nation-wide fear among employers that the board is embarking upon a venture in censorship.

The ruling ordered reinstatement of discharged employees on the grounds they had been dismissed by the Lumberton concern because of union activities.

In the opinion of the United States Chamber of Commerce the N. L. R. B. has asserted the right to pass upon any comment on the labor relations act circulated among employees by employers and to hold the employer guilty of violating the act if such comment is judged by the board biased or prejudicial.

"The board's decision," says a bulletin of the U. S. C. of C., "raises the question as to whether an employer may not run the risk of being held guilty of committing an unfair labor practice whenever he makes available to employees any information about the National Labor Relations act."

"As yet the board has not seen fit either to put out itself a simple and unbiased explanation of the act suitable for distribution to employees, or to agree to give its stamp of approval to such a statement prepared by anyone else."

In the Mansfield case the board cited two leaflets circulated among employees as proof of the company's hostility to labor organization and held that the circulation of such views was an attempt to discourage union organization.

Charges against the mill do not include any allegation that the distribution of literature to employees was an unfair labor practice. Instead the complaint charged that the company dismissed employees because of their union activities.

Settle Labor Dispute At Lumberton Mills

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Benjamin Schaffner, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, announced today a complete settlement of a labor dispute at the Mansfield mills, Lumberton, N. C.

He said company officials informed him the cotton textile manufacturing concern would "comply in every respect with the labor board's order issued October 30. To order, he said, required the company "to cease and desist" discriminating among employees and to reinstate 10 discharged workers.

The statement shows that the institution, with the home office in Greenville and branches in Greenville, Bethel, Belhaven, Elizabeth City and Snow Hill, Washington and Williamston, has deposits of $9,282,248.01, and total resources $10,007,567.30.

Leaders Plan For Farm Bill

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A thin, laconic Texan and a South Carolina Senator of the old school will share the major responsibility for directing farm legislation in the special session of congress.

They are Marvin Jones, chairman of the house agriculture committee, and Ellison Smith, who holds the same position in the senate. Both naturally are Democrats.

Two Men Held After Fatal Auto Accident

Wilson, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Records Charles McLean, at a preliminary hearing today, ordered Roger Wilson of Wilson and Melvin Danning of Benson, held under $500 bond each to face manslaughter charges in Superior court. The charges resulted from an automobile accident here last Friday night in which Felton Hudson of Benson was fatally injured.

'GOSSIP SLAYING' GIRL CONVICTED

Convicted of manslaughter for the "gossip slaying" of Mary Elvin Allen, 17, her former chum, pretty R. Jessie Pepper, (right), is shown on the courthouse lawn at Coahatt, La., with a friend just after her release on $3,000 bail pending appeal. She is under sentence of six to 18 months in prison. Witnesses testified the girls quarreled over gossip that Miss Allen had gone away to "have a baby." Jessie denied spreading such reports.

Campaign Against Vice Brought To Court Stage

COURT ROOM TAXED TO CAPACITY BEFORE OPENING TIME

With court room taxed to capacity by defendants, witnesses and spectators what was considered one of the most significant sessions of County court in its history was opened here this morning.

Ministers and other representatives of the Greenville Law and Order League were in the court room as Judge Dink James opened court and Solicitor Charles Whedoe began to call cases for trial.

Most of the spectators apparently came to the court room to hear cases brought to trial by recent activities of special undercover agents working to stamp out illegal liquor and other vice in the county. However, only one such case was tried at the morning session. John Hester, white man, charged with having liquor for sale in two separate warrants, was given 18 months on each, the sentences to run concurrently.

Other cases tried at the morning session follow:

Tom Bell, driving drunk, $50 fine and costs of court and license revoked for 12 months; George Johnson, Negro assault with a deadly weapon, judgment suspended; George Johnson, still to manufacture whiskey, $25, costs to be deducted, and still confiscated and turned over to A. B. Davenport, liquor for sale, transferred to Superior Court for trial by jury; Desaire Miller, Negro, driving drunk, $50 fine and costs and license revoked for 12 months; Hanna Morris, Negro, liquor for sale, plea of guilty to possession accepted by State but sentence not passed immediately.

The State took a nolle pro in the case charging Ola Lee James with driving careless and reckless. When court convened after lunch (Continued on Page Six)

LEADERS PLAN FOR FARM BILL

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A thin, laconic Texan and a South Carolina Senator of the old school will share the major responsibility for directing farm legislation in the special session of congress.

They are Marvin Jones, chairman of the house agriculture committee, and Ellison Smith, who holds the same position in the senate. Both naturally are Democrats.

Jones said today he still was hopeful a broad crop control bill could be prepared in the early days of the session which begins next Monday.

His committee voted yesterday to extend the tentative coverage of crops to such items as barley, cheese, powdered milk, flax, butter, and soy as well as major crops.

Some of Senator Smith's committee arranged meanwhile a conference with President Edward O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation to get his groups reaction to legislative needs.

THANKSGIVING IS PROCLAIMED BY ROOSEVELT

Cites Abundance Of Harvest and Stable Employment

CALLS ATTENTION TO WORLD STRIFE

Declares, However, United States Holds No Selfish Designs Against Others

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called upon the country today to give thanks on November 25 for "abundant harvests and the blessing of stable employment" to many people.

In a Thanksgiving day proclamation he called attention also to strife and war threats in many parts of the world while the United States enjoys peace and cherishes no "selfish designs against other nations."

The President said in a message to the young Democratic clubs of America, meanwhile, that the interest its members are showing in government "is one of the most hopeful signs of the times."

The message was sent in connection with a series of "Roosevelt fifth anniversary dinners," sponsored by the young Democrats in a membership campaign.

Other developments: Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general, told the Supreme Court the Aluminum Company of America had contributed toward retarding business recovery early this year.

The company, he said had raised the price of its products and thereby "had discouraged the building industry in so far as aluminum was used in that industry."

Jackson, in charge of the justice department's anti-trust division was arguing in support of the government's efforts to prosecute its dissolution proceedings against the company in the Southern New York federal district court.

William Smith, attorney for the Aluminum company, contended if any proceedings are brought they should be filed before the federal district court at Pittsburgh, where a consent decree against the Company was entered in 1912.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the meantime reported American farmers received about $743,000,000 more from sale of principal farm products and from government payments during the first nine months of 1937 than during the same period last year.

It estimated receipts for the 1937 period at $6,175,000,000 compared with $5,432,000,000 for 1937 period.

Additional Sum Paid State Bank & Trust

In the six years the State Bank and Trust Company has been in operation here it not only has carried out its contract with depositors of the old National Bank of Greenville, but in addition has paid them an additional dividend of 4.01 per cent.

In yesterday's story on the rapid progress made by the local banking institution, it was stated 0.01 per cent had been paid depositors above the contracted sum. The sum should have been 4.01 per cent.

Chinese Warriors Retreat Toward Nanking Positions Leaving Shanghai To Japs

MISSING IN CHINESE WAR ZONE

Relative in Washington, D. C., expressed anxiety for the safety of Miss Isabel Hemingway (left) and her mother, Mrs. Mary W. Hemingway (right), American missionaries believed to be in the vicinity of heavy fighting between Japanese and Chinese in the Shansi province of North China. Dispatches listed Miss Hemingway as missing but no mention was made of her mother.

DESERT STAND AFTER 88 DAYS

China's Greatest Seaport Metropolis Left Entirely in Hands of Japanese; American and Other Foreign Residents Relieved Following the withdrawal

Shanghai, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Shanghai fell into Japanese hands today with the retreat of General Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese warriors who had held out 88 days against the combined Japanese army, navy and air forces.

The city was asleep and unaware of its fate when shortly after midnight Chinese forces began an orderly, quiet, retreat toward their "winter line" protecting Nanking, the nation's capital.

Japanese apparently did not learn of the retreat until 8 A. M. EST Monday.

The withdrawal enabled Japan to place a ring of steel around China's greatest port, cutting off the Metropolis from the rest of the nation and bottling up three million Chinese residents, one million refugees and many thousands of Americans and other foreigners.

Railroads and highways in all directions were cut or blocked by Japanese, leaving only a few foreign and Japanese vessels as the only connection with the outside world.

American and foreign communities breathed more easily as if a long siege suddenly had been lifted.

While the loss of Shanghai undoubtedly will affect China's morale at least temporarily, China declared today Shanghai operations were purely local.

The warfare, the general said, will be transferred at present to the great delta land of the large region west of Shanghai.

Although it was impossible to determine precisely the financial loss and casualties of the two belligerents, neutral observers summarized cost of the conflict in the Shanghai and the north China area thus far as, roughly:

Expenditures: China $250,000,000; Japanese $600,000,000; property loss Chinese $200,000,000.

Casualties, dead and wounded: Japanese 125,000; Chinese 300,000; trade loss, Japanese $250,000,000; Chinese $100,000,000.

Griffin, Jr., of the homeplace; 85 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews; also one half-brother, Ruffin Richardson of Kinston.

Law And Order League To Hold Mass Meeting

Called To Support Anti-Vice Crusade In County

A preliminary meeting at the High School library last night of the Greenville Law and Order League made plans for a general mass meeting to be held at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Wednesday night of next week.

The meeting will be called at 7:30 o'clock. The session is to be held in the Methodist church at the invitation of the pastor, Rev. T. McE. Grant.

Heads of all law enforcement officers, both city and county, will be invited to attend the meeting, as will other city and county office holders and members of the Pitt Alcohol Beverage Control Board.

Last night's preliminary meeting was called by Mayor M. K. Blount after a resolution passed at a session of the Greenville Ministerial Association yesterday morning had been presented the mayor.

Approximately 50 persons, half of them women, attended last night's meeting, at which the ABC board was highly commended for its efforts in breaking up illegal traffic in liquor, and the Board of County Commissioners and local officers praised for attempting to break up other vice in the county.

A steering committee composed of Mayor Blount, Rev. Worth Wicker and Rev. W. A. Ryan was named to make arrangements for the general mass meeting next week, at which a program will be mapped to continue efforts toward creating better conditions and better law enforcement.

R. C. Deal and D. J. Whichard, Jr., were named on the publicity committee.

The aim of the mass meeting, as stated by one of the sponsors, was (Continued on Page Six)

LABOR CHIEFS RESUME TALKS

Agree On Industrial Organization For Certain Group

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Peace negotiators of the A. F. of L. and the CIO agreed tentatively today the industrial type of organization should prevail in a group of industries where the vertical unions have predominated.

As discussions of a settlement were resumed however, leaders of both camps said definite list of the fields where the CIO would have exclusive jurisdiction had not been prepared.

George Harrison, chairman of the American Federation of Labor conferees said "There is not much difficulty in spotting coal mining, for example."

Charles Howard, C. I. secretary, said the textile industry "presents a little different problem" because the conferees had to decide whether their agreement in that field would affect only manufacturing points or whether it would extend to producers.

Howard expressed the opinion if an agreement in all fields was reached it would be sent to a joint A. F. of L.-C. I. O. convention for ratification.

Mrs. Wohl May Be First Woman Seek Senate Post

By Henry Averill

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Senator Josiah W. Bailey's jesting remark that a woman ought to enter the United States Senate race next year may result in one's doing just that.

The only woman ever to run for a statewide office in North Carolina is giving deep and serious thought to the matter, and if she can get the backing of any sizeable organized group, Mrs. Helen Robertson Wohl will undoubtedly enter the primary, a field now occupied exclusively by incumbent Robert R. Reynolds and his only avowed rival, Congressman Frank Hancock.

Before any laughing is done at this suggestion, take a look at the figures from last June's statewide primary and you'll find that this same Mrs. Wohl polled more than 100,000 votes for State Treasurer, and that's a lot of ballots in a state the size of North Carolina.

Mrs. Wohl's program will be to avoid being laughed out of the race with glibber and studied propaganda to the effect that she hasn't a ghost of a chance and would not poll 5,000 votes. In order to avoid this fate she knows she must have some large group militantly behind her candidacy.

She has some thousands of friends who know her and will back her. There is a group, small but constantly on the increase, which feels that a woman should be chosen to fill a major office. She will get some votes from this class.

She is an ardent peedist and an arid dry. Therein lies her chance of getting mass backing. With the exception of the professionally patriotic societies, most women's groups are opposed bitterly to war. Mrs. Wohl may get them behind her. But her main hope lies in the United Dry Forces. Neither Reynolds nor Hancock is acceptable to them. If no outright dry of the masculine gender enters Mrs. Wohl may get them to back her.

Mrs. Wohl's home is in Guilford. She is a Quaker.

On Monday night at eight o'clock Miss Ramona Staples entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Dudley Simpson at a surprise miscellaneous shower at the Woman's Club. Prior to the arrival of the honorees, gifts were hidden all over the club house. Much fun and merriment ensued in the search for and opening of the gifts.

Refreshments consisted of mints, nuts, sandwiches, and all kinds of hors d'oeuvres. Those attending the affair were members of Miss Staples' dancing class and their intimate friends. Mrs. Simpson, nee Frances Rock, is the pianist in Miss Staples dancing school. About twenty-five young people enjoyed Miss Staples' hospitality.

Collegiate Press Convention.

The following students represented East Carolina Teachers College at the fall convention of the Collegiate Press, in Raleigh Nov. 4-5-6.—Miss Margaret E. Davis, Miss Mildred McDonald, Miss Marjorie Watson and C. Ray Pruetie, who is editor of the Teco Echo.

Seventy-two delegates, representing twenty North Carolina colleges and universities, were at the meeting.

Highlights of the program were a speech by Carl Goerch on Friday night and one by Governor Clyde R. Hoey on Saturday morning. The governor's speech was broadcast over WPTF.

One of the activities planned for the Collegiate Press for the coming months is a "college news broadcast" every Monday night over WPTF, Raleigh, which will present the news from college campuses of the state as it happens.

Student Performance Thursday.

A special performance of "The Gypsy Rover," the high school opera will be presented tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. This performance is primarily for students of the high school and grammar schools.

Jean Alvey and Norman Wilkerson take the leading roles of Lady Constance and Rob, respectively, and are ably supported by other members of the cast and chorus.

"The Gypsy Rover," a three-act musical, is centered around the character of Rob, later known as Sir Gilbert Howe, of the English nobility. When an infant, Rob is stolen by his nurse, Meg, who later becomes the wife of Marto, a gypsy.

He grows to manhood among the gypsies, believing Meg and Marto to be his parents. It happens that Lady Constance, while riding with her fiancé, Lord Craven, wanders to the gypsy camp where she and Rob meet and fall in love at first sight.

Lord Craven objects to Rob's attitude, but later, in a very humorous scene, is forced to tell Sir George Martendale, father of Constance, that he is a fine fellow.

In the second act, Rob goes to the home of Constance and they plan to elope. Sir George is informed of the plot, however, and Rob is seized and thrown in prison, but later escapes.

Two years elapse and Rob has come into his estate, his identity having been disclosed by Meg. He becomes a successful composer and a social lion. Constance has remained true in her love for Rob, and on his return to England he weds and wins her for his wife.

There are beautiful love scenes between Nina and Captain Jerome, English character in the play, and Zara and Sinfo, members of the gypsy band. Many humorous incidents between Marto and Sinfo enliven the production throughout.

Brian Aherne maintains that no actor achieves professional majority until he is past 40. Aherne is in his thirties.

40 YEARS AGO

On top is a drift of warmer surface water, coming always down from the equatorial regions.

The last forty years has wrought tremendous changes in our lives—our mode of thinking, our way of living. The World War has come and gone leaving us its scars and unhealed wounds; the automobile and airplane have revolutionized our mode of travel; the telephone and radio have invaded our homes and there is little privacy or peace left for us.

IT'S ODD—
But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(By Science Editor)
New York — The great dinner pail of most of the oceans is the deep, cold water of the Antarctic.

This source of life for sea creatures, on which much of human food depends, has been found by the "Discovery." Great Britain's oceanographic ship. At the bottom of the Weddell sea, in the Antarctic, scientists found the richest waters in the whole world.

They abound in nutrient salts phosphates and nitrates, which are scarce in warm waters, but which are necessary for the "plankton" life which furnishes the primary dinners of all fish.

At the very bottom, three miles down, the heavy, cold Antarctic waters flow north.

Above them, just under two miles deep, warm water flows south. Over that layer is a colder one, half a mile down, springing from the ice-diluted water of the Antarctic continent. This water is so cold it sinks, but lacking weight in salt, does not go far under the surface.

COST OF CROPS IS BIG FACTOR

Heaviest Yields Do Not Always Return Most Profits

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—The heaviest farm crop yields do not always return the most profits, said T. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College.

Keeping production costs down is as important as increasing crop yields, he continued. Backing up this statement, he pointed to results secured in a corn growing contest held this year in Mitchell county under the direction of farm agent J. C. Lynn.

One of the farmers, J. H. Davis, produced a yield of 121.9 bushels of corn on an acre of land. At $1 a bushel, the corn was valued at $121.90. Production costs amounted to $47.60, leaving a profit of $74.30.

Another of the contestants, Bill Conley, did not get as big a yield, but his production costs were lower and in the end he made a bigger profit than Davis. Conley produced 103.6 bushels on his measured acre. With this production costs figured at $25.22, his profit was $82.88.

In the contest, farmers counted the cost of seed, fertilizer, nitrate of soda, manure, and the labor required to produce the crop. Blair added a comment that one of the main objectives of the agricultural conservation program is to encourage farmers to build up their soil so that it will produce more crops at less cost.

Fertile land not only keeps production costs down and makes higher profits possible, he continued, it also means that less work is needed to produce a crop.

It's Nice to Have some Clothes that don't go out of Fashion

They are the ones you prize the most, the ones you seldom part with once you own them. But they are not easy to find, as you know. It isn't enough that they be simple. They must be intrinsically good. Call them "classic." Call them "country clothes." Call them "the English sort of thing." Call them anything you like. But look for them at Forbes. For we adore them, and understand them, and feature them in great variety throughout the year.

Of course these clothes cost more than ordinary clothes (silver has ever been more costly than plate). Ordinary clothes don't make a fetish of quality, ordinary clothes care nothing for handwork, ordinary clothes must usually sacrifice something to meet a price. When you buy your clothes at Forbes you are assured of quality and good taste—

WHAT WILL WE DO ABOUT IT?

A group of citizens in meeting last night rightly endorsed the action of the county ABC board and the County Commissioners in their campaign against bootlegging and vice in this county and pledged support to the law enforcing agencies of the city and county in their efforts to keep crime and vice in this county at a minimum. These sentiments as expressed by this small group of citizens are most commendable but it must be remembered that one mass meeting or one word of mouth endorsement will not rid this community of the evils that exist here. If our good citizens want a cleaner, better community, eternal vigilance is necessary, and they must be willing to do their part in bringing better conditions about.

The foundation of a better, cleaner city must begin in the homes where parents by their own conduct should set a good example for the younger people. Not only should the parents set the good example but they should warn their children of the pitfalls and dangers that surround them as they leave the home for outside entertainment and pleasures.

In addition to proper training for the children, especially those of high school age, our citizens, if they are in earnest about their desires to clean up this community, must be willing to help wage a campaign to this end. If we are to have good law enforcement the citizens must see to it that we have adequate and faithful law enforcement officers and when such officers are placed on duty we must back them to the limit. A willingness on the part of our citizens to report to the law enforcement agencies, evils which they know to exist, and then go on the stand or into the jury boxes and aid in seeing that justice is done, is one of the best ways to clean up Greenville or any other community.

The A. B. C. board and the County Commissioners started a good piece of work when they put on this campaign to rid our community of some of its evils but this one campaign has merely scratched the surface of evil in this community and if our citizens want to really clean up this community and keep it clean there can be no let-up in what has already been started. One short campaign can break up a lot of evil for a time, but unless the campaign is followed up by a day to day fight on the part of our citizens, we will soon find that the evil has returned with increasing menace to our community. The matter is one that rests entirely in the hands of the people of this community. We can continue to carry on this fight or we can do nothing and let the community drift quickly back into the same mess that it was in a few weeks ago before the undercover agents were brought here to wage a war on crime and evil.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Nov. 9.—The year 1937 marks the 35th anniversary of the American Automobile Association and also the 35th anniversary of the first arrest for speeding, according to Colman W. Roberts, president of the Carolina Motor Club.

"This historic unfortunate," Mr. Roberts said, "was Thomas H. Shelvin, who was fined $10.00 for exceeding the maximum speed limit of ten miles per hour in his new French car. Mr. Shelvin's plea that he was going in low gear at the time failed to bear weight on the judge's decision."

Two North Carolina counties reported no deaths at all from tuberculosis during the year 1936. They were Clay and Graham. Total T. B. deaths in the state were 2,104 with Buncombe leading with 129 resident deaths.

Getting the probation system of North Carolina set up has been no small job, not even in the amount of paper and ink used.

Since he began his job, Probation Director J. Harry Sample has put out more than 75,000 mimeographed sheets of paper from his office.

Revocation of 174 driver's licenses last week brought the state's total to 13,859.

"Federal expenditures for the fiscal year 1938 will average roughly $56.00 for every man, woman and child," says Senator Robert Reynolds in his column for weekly newspapers. "This is a tremendous sum," he adds, "and there is little wonder that people are demanding a dollar's worth."

Publication of an industrial directory of North Carolina, listing all of the 10,000 or more industries in the state, with detailed information as to location, size of plants, number of employees and other data is being planned by the recently re-established Division of Commerce and Industry of the Department of Conservation and Development, according to J. T. Anderson, industrial engineer and chief of the division.

The directory will be published as a result of several hundred requests which have already been received for information of the type which will be contained in the publication. It will probably be issued the latter part of January so that the information and data will be correct up to January 1, 1938.

Quiet of the profound sort has prevailed along the front occupied by would-be candidates for the U. S. Senate. George W. Coan, Jr., State WPA Administrator, seemed on the verge of announcement at the time of the woman's gathering here, but since then there hasn't been so much as a cheap out of him. The wise guys are saying that Greg Cherry, House Speaker, Democratic state chairman and "Iron Major" will have something to say along about the first of the year; but he isn't having anything to say just now.

State Treasurer Charlie M. Johnson obviously doesn't like the idea of federal legislation on the subject of municipal financing and refunding. He told the investment Bankers Association of America all about it in an address at their convention in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

It's Odd But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

Newark, Del. — The "talking word" — you don't have to look it up in the dictionary — is eting a trial in science.

An example is the "talking word" for the medical remedy, 606. The word contains 68 letters, four hyphens and two commas.

It is meta, meta-prime-diamino-para, para prime-dihydroxyarsenobenzenehydrochloride. That is the organic chemist's name for 606.

"It tells the initiated," says Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, "what the material is and a great deal about it, including several probable ways in which it can be prepared. The organic chemists have carried this matter of making a given word carry a maximum of ideas to a very high degree of excellence."

The sciences do this because there are so many new words coming into existence, through discovery of new things in matter, that it is difficult to remember them.

Dr. Whitmore, dean of the school of chemistry and physics, at Pennsylvania State College, offers the explanation at the dedication here of a new chemical laboratory of the University of Delaware.

ALL IN ONE WEEK!

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—Before we go into a tangle about the sweeping significance of labor's demonstration in the recent elections it might be well to keep in mind that the votes cast by the men who labor have been the "balance of power" numerically in many, if not all, elections in the United States in many years.

This year these votes were the balance of power in the important New York City election. They were likely the deciding influence in the Pittsburgh elections.

But what makes this "balance of power" stand out this year is that, for the first time, it can be measured numerically in the big city of New York. There Mayor LaGuardia was re-elected by a margin of 454,425 votes over his Democratic opponent, Jeremiah Mahoney.

LaGuardia was the Republican Fusion candidate but was supported as well by the American Labor Party—which delivered to him 482,459 votes. That was more than his margin of victory. Without those votes he would not have been elected.

But Look At Detroit

But to say, because of the New York victory, that labor can step out into the national field and exercise the balance of power in 1938 and 1940 would be excitingly hazardous, at least.

First off, there is the example of the Detroit election. There one faction of labor, the CIO, put up its own ticket and was beaten about two to one. In several Ohio cities, where the CIO endorsed candidates, the vote was against its candidates.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—Virtually unsung but surely deserving a tune is the band leader hall of the Messrs. Stewart, Logan and Swope.

Logan and Swope actually don't belong in a movie report, except that they happen to be associated in domestic enterprise with Mr. Stewart, whose name (James) is flashing more and more brightly in movie marquees.

The trio—Logan and Swope are sons of wealth and interested in stocks and bonds—have just moved again. They live in more or less close harmony; but they move because of it.

They have their own orchestra. Stewart is fairly convinced of his artistry on accordion, piano and clarinet. Logan prefers the saxophone and Swope is equally good on trap drum or half comb.

"You'd be surprised what harmony we get," as Stewart insists. "We've had neighbors come all the way across the street to tell us about it."

Now let us go back to New York City. There Mayor LaGuardia was tremendously popular. He had given the city an administration so handsome in contrast with racket-ridden previous administrations that vast conservative sections supported him in spite of his known radical leanings.

The Republican organization, which does not especially love LaGuardia, was glad enough nevertheless to nominate him because of what his popularity might bring them. It brought them several offices, and some prestige.

Power Not Yet Proved

There is no need to look for like reasons for the American Labor Party supporting LaGuardia. The answer there lies in another direction. LaGuardia was popular with labor for his corruption-fighting city administration and for his tender hand in dealing with labor difficulties in the city. The question arises, then, could the American Labor Party organization have taken 482,459 votes away from LaGuardia if it had tried? Could it have swung its "balance of power" to Mahoney so as to bring about his election?

The question does not leave much room for guessing. The answer is about the same as it was in 1936. Labor then supported President Roosevelt. But could its leaders have taken the labor vote away from Roosevelt?

Just how solidly labor could wield its votes to obtain specific labor ends is still a highly speculative problem. There is at least room for argument that it hasn't altogether proved its case either in Detroit or New York.

those guys," he said, "you've got to get used to them. I suppose I do some funny things, myself."

So he moved in his own seven-foot bed, and his dog, and—It seems a neighbor raises—or did raise—prize poultry. Stewart came home from the studio one night to learn he had seven prize hen corpses on his hands. Having bought them, he had a Scotch urge to make the best of things. There was a banquet. Now Jimmy doesn't care if he ever sees poultry, cooked or on the hoof, again.

Has Toys

One room in the Messrs. Stewart, Swope and Logan's bachelor hall is reserved for Jimmy's toys. He has a collection of model airplanes, electric trains and similar gadgets that beats all. Mr. Stewart proves, once and for all, that a fellow doesn't have to be a daddy to excuse an electric train. He also doesn't have to be a daddy to be a candid camera fan. Mr. Stewart, in his quiet way, goes about town with his sharp-shooting lenses and shots and shoots.

Movies, too. But that's a community effort. Logan writes the stories, Swope acts as cameraman, and Stewart, the actor in the family, plays all the roles. I don't know whether he thinks one actor in the family is enough, but probably Logan and Swope do. They've pioneered in a great movie discovery. Jimmy announces—

TEN TAR HEELS VERY ANXIOUS

Seniors Get Last Opportunity for Victory Over Duke

Chapel Hill, Nov. 9.—Ten University of North Carolina seniors will get their last chance to participate in a victory over Duke when the Tar Heels and Blue Devils, football teams of the Southern Conference clash Saturday at Durham in one of the nation's outstanding games.

Doubtless nothing would please these 10 boys more than to leave college with the knowledge that they were members of the first Carolina team to defeat Duke since 1934. Otherwise it must be said of them that they never played on a Carolina team that was able to beat Duke. And they would not like to have that said about them—not much.

Tar Heel players, who will be singing their swan song as far as Duke is concerned are Andy Bershak, Carolina's outstanding candidate for all-America, and Gene Brickley, the other end; Henry Barrios, tackle; Elmer Wrenn and Ed Palmer, guards; Pete Avery, center; Crowell Little, quarter; Tom Burnette, halfback, and Art Little fullback.

These ten men will be gunning for their first victory over Duke. As freshmen Duke was victorious by the scant margin of three extra points—21 to 18. As sophomores Duke blasted Carolina's national championship chances with a crushing 25 to 0 upset victory. As was expected last season, All-American Ace Parker and his Blue Devil mates romped over their neighbors 27 to 7.

Going into his senior and final year of competition Bershak and his teammates will enter the Duke game again on the short end of the betting, but Carolina seems to have some psychology in its favor.

With three consecutive defeats staring them in the face, the Tar Heels will be calling on all available resources in an effort to win. Duke's position Saturday is strikingly similar to Carolina's in 1935. That year unbeaten and untied Carolina met twice beaten Duke. The Tar Heels had been going great all season. Carolina hit a new low in performance; Duke a new high. The result—a 25 to 0 victory for Duke. Now undefeated Duke encounters once-beaten and once tied Carolina. The Tar Heels reached a pinnacle with a 13-0 victory over Tulane. They fell 14-0 before the Dixie invading Durham Rame. Carolina will be striving to regain the peak.

DUKE FAVORED BY STATISTICS

Blue Devils Given Slight Edge Over Tar Heels

Chapel Hill, Nov. 9.—Statistics covering seven games this season give Duke an edge in most respects over North Carolina as these arch foes grid lions for their annual clash before an estimated attendance of more than 40,000 in Durham Saturday.

The statistical survey gives Carolina an edge in rushing, number of first downs, and pass defense, with Duke holding an advantage in scoring, pass offense, punting and ground defense.

In scoring Duke has tallied 202 points against 25 for opponents compared to 119 for North Carolina, and 33 for Tar Heel opponents.

In rushing Carolina has pushed the yardstick 1625 yards—or better—124 yards further than the Dukes. But on defense the Blue Devils have yielded only 696 yards while the Tar Heels have been taken back 727 yards.

Carolina and Duke share honors in passing. On offense Duke has attempted 82 passes, completed 33 for a total gain of 457 yards compared to Carolina's 32 successful heaves in tries for 390 yards. Duke's opponents have fired away 162 times, and have hit the mark 42 times for 495 yards. Carolina's foes have boomed out 105 aerials, completed 41 for a gain of 467 yards.

Duke has a slight edge in punting. The averages are 38.2 for the Tar Heels against 39.4 for the Dukes.

High point man in Duke's scoring this season is Elmore (Honey) Hackney, triple-threat quarterback. Hackney has tallied six touchdowns and nine extra points for a total of 45 points. Bob O'Mara, hard driving junior fullback, ranks second with 42 points (seven touchdowns).

The 49-year old Carolina-Duke rivalry rates on a par with any in the country in color, excitement and keenness of competition. The institutions will be meeting on the gridiron for the 23rd time. The Tar Heels lead in number of victories—12 against 8 defeats and 2 ties—although they have beaten their neighbor only once since 1929. That was in 1934. Excepting tie contests in 1930 and 1931, Duke has won the four other games.

HIGHS TO FACE HARD CONTEST

Goldsboro to Present Strong Eleven Here Thursday

Coach Norris Jeffrey will bring one of the most powerful teams in the state to Greenville Thursday when Goldsboro meets the strong Greenville High eleven in the Armistice Day classic.

The Phantoms have a task on their hands to defeat an eleven which has turned back seven high school teams this year without a defeat. Among these are three Class A elevens and two of the strongest Class B teams in the east.

Notable among the victories was a 14-0 win over the strong Wilson team, which is undefeated in Class A standings and a favorite to cop the Eastern title. The Earthquakes routed Fayetteville 26-0, a team which tied Wilson and Rocky Mount. Goldsboro also has won over Wilmington, 13-6; Morehead City, 32-0; Selma 26-0 and Whiteville, 26-14.

Last week they came from behind to defeat Roanoke Rapids 7-6 when a long pass connected. Roanoke Rapids handed the Flying Phantoms a 6-0 defeat, the only one suffered by the local team this year.

The Phantoms are enjoying a most successful season, having won 5, lost 1, tied 1. They have not been at their best in the last two games, and are due this week. They will give Goldsboro the toughest opposition yet faced and have an even chance to come out of the game victorious.

The game will be played at the Third Street stadium.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC LETTING OF FARM

All persons will take notice, That the undersigned guardian of Norman Tripp, infant, and Louis Tripp and Bell Harper, Bettie Tripp, joint owners, of the C. E. Tripp farm, in Winterville Township, Pitt County, containing approximately 18 acres cleared, and about 9 acres in the woods, the whole farm containing approximately 27 acres, will on the 15th day of November (Monday) 1937, at 12 o'clock Noon at the Court House, Greenville, N. C., offer for rent the above described farm, to the highest bidder for cash in advance for one year. If the high bidder fails to make cash settlement immediately after the sale is closed, the undersigned will immediately offer said land for rent on the same terms and to the high bidder, and the former high bidder will not be recognized as a bidder thereafter.

Only 2 More Games Remain On 1937 Schedule

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Games with the powerful Jaspers of Manhattan College and the Blue Devils of Duke University remain on State College's football schedule.

Manhattan will be met Saturday afternoon on Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, N. Y. Duke comes here next week and its game with State in Riddick Stadium will be one of the top grid offerings on that day. State and Manhattan clashed on Ebbets Field in 1935 and 1936. State won the first year, 20-0, to upset a favored Jasper eleven. Manhattan was favored again last fall. It won, 13-7, but was hard pushed. The Jaspers are favored again. They have one of the best teams in years. Last Saturday they defeated Detroit University 7-0, while State was beating a light, but fast and scrappy Citadel club, 26-14.

Two weeks ago Detroit defeated Boston College, 14-0, in a mud battle. The next week end, State met Boston in its home field and surprised the Eagles with a 12-7 victory.

These scores point to a close battle on Ebbets Field Saturday. State's brilliant backfield twins, Eddie (Little Buzzer) Berlinski and Art Rooney, will be the market players when State takes the field. They are the men the Manhattan scouts observed most closely at Boston and here Saturday.

Berlinski scored all points in the Boston game. He scored once and Rooney twice to lead the "Pack" in its victorious battle over the Citadel.

Other State players the Jaspers must watch are Louie Mark, speedy and powerful center; Bob Sabolyk, newest backfield star of the Wolf-pack; Jess Tatum and Mac Berry, ends, and a big sophomore tackle, Ed Coon.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Having this day qualified as administrator of the estate of James H. McLawhorn this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate to file them with the undersigned within twelve months from this date or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to the estate will please make immediate settlement.

Marine Hippodrome Arrives Tomorrow

The most spectacular and educational display of deep sea life ever presented in any inland city opens their engagement here tomorrow. It will be housed in a specially constructed railroad car over 100 feet long which will be stationed on the railroad tracks near the Norfolk-Southern Depot and will be open to the public from noon until 10 p. m.

The feature of this exhibit is a 68-ton sea monster over 55 feet long. The huge sea mammal which was harpooned off the coast of San Clemente a few months ago is said to be a most amazing sight.

Other features with the exhibit includes "Serpentina," nature's strangest living enigma, known as "the mermaid." Capt. David J. Barnett, veteran whaling commander, who for the past 30 years has been making whaling history, gives a gripping description of his many thrilling fights with these great sea mammals, and also gives an illustrated lecture on the habits, life and capture of whales.

Anna-John Budd, strange dual-sex personality, a woman turning into a man, also accompanies the exhibit. The exhibit car will remain here for one day only—tomorrow.

HUNTERS TAKE TO NEW FIELDS

Bans on Mt. Mitchell Area Let Down For First Time

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Squirrels on the Mount Mitchell game refuge are in danger from hunters this week for the first time in the refuge's nine-year history.

Upon payment of a special license of $1.00 per day in addition to securing the usual resident or non-resident hunting license, as the case may be, hunters may this week, through Saturday, hunt squirrels with 22 calibre rifles. John D. Chalk, commissioner of game and inland fisheries, has announced.

They may hunt anywhere on 5,000 acres which have been specially designated from the 30,000 acre game refuge which includes practically all of towering Mt. Mitchell.

Originally the refuge was of 17,000 acre extent, but it has increased to its present size. It is located in the Pisgah National Forest, where for some days special deer and bear hunting have been allowed.

In the nine years the refuge has been in existence there has been no hunting at all allowed and it is now fairly teeming with game.

One of the principal occupations of the Mt. Mitchell foresters, game wardens and assistants is chasing out or catching dogs which have invaded the refuge.

Most of these intruding canines are beef hounds which have become lost after chasing big game into the refuge from other parts of the national forest. There are many bear and in regions outside the refuge they are hunted quite regularly. The bear, as in the case with all other game, have learned that they are safe in the "refuge" and it is there that they lead the dogs. Then the foresters have a job.

Scandal Chief Interest At Capital During Week

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Nov. 8.—Most colorful news break in Raleigh during the past week was the Jack White scandal—a break which painted most official faces in the capital a decidedly bright red.

It came to light that Mr. White has collected some $3,000 from approximately 600 trusting souls hereabout, but that no part of that tidy sum has been expended or is likely ever to be expended in publication of the book Mr. White so glibly assured his dupes would be a really official North Carolina Handbook, listing all the officials, with biographical sketches, pictures, etc.

Mr. White, it seems, has gone where the woodbine twined and the whangoodle mourned for its young, or to some other equally undetermined locus, carrying with him the $3,000 or such part thereof as he had not expended.

So far as can be learned, Commissioner W. Kerr Scott, of the Department of Agriculture, is the only department head in the capital who was not taken in by the persuasive Mr. White. Even the Governor wrote an highly complimentary "piece" for Mr. White, though it must be said for Mr. Hoy that he thought it was to be used only as a foreword in the published work and not as an inducement for others to pay Mr. White the sum of $5 each.

Otherwise there was nothing out of the usual run of mine routine. Politics was confined to speculation, quiet conferences and plain, unadulterated guessing on the part of commentators about possible entrants in the U. S. Senate.

Senator J. W. Bailey spent the week assailing the President and the New Deal from numerous New England hostings; Junior Senator R. R. Reynolds continued his gallivanting about the wild and woolly west, but served notice he would stop briefly in North Carolina before the special session. His rival, Congressman Frank Hancock, made political hay throughout the state.

In the early part of the week, Governor Hoy was in Shelby, his home town, to attend the wedding

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Favored stock market leaders advanced as much as two points or so today. Dealings turned extremely slow after a fast opening.

Coppers, utilities, motors and specialties led the upward reversal with several oils, rails and aircrafts finding support.

Secondary bonds improved.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST VICE BROUGHT TO COURT STAGE

(Continued from page one) the court room again was filled almost to capacity. One of the first cases tried at the afternoon session was on charging Dick Butts and Jennie Leggett, middle-aged couple, with fornication and adultery. Both defendants tendered pleas of guilty and prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of the cost, one-half by each defendant. Both defendants were also placed under probation. The two were arrested in the current campaign against vice.

Richard Jefferson, white man, entering a plea of guilty of driving drunk and was fined $50 and costs and had his license revoked for 12 months.

William R. Buttry, convicted of operating an automobile in a careless and reckless manner, was fined $25 and costs and had his license revoked for 12 months.

The Law and Order League was organized here early in 1936 and was instrumental in banning slot machines from the county. This is the first time since its initial campaign that the body has gone into action.

New York Cotton

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet, two to five lower with steady cables offset by moderate liquidation and a slow demand.

March moved up from 7.80 to 7.82 shortly after the first half hour, when prices generally were three to six points net lower.

The Luxury of A PILLOW TOP attached to a Karpen Inner-Spring Mattress

You Never Slept on a Mattress Like It! Unless It Was a Karpen Pil O Rest

When you stretch your full length on a Karpen Pil o' Rest you revel in a sense of well-being. No effort to hold yourself in a comfortable position. Just let down and the fluffy pillow-top—attached to the inner-spring mattress in large down tufts—conforms to the body and supports it perfectly from head to foot. No sagging softness to strain the muscles . . . just supreme comfort.

Star Points Of Superiority . . .

- * Luxurious pillow-top filled with extra fine quality felt.
- * Mattress made in muslin before pillow-top is attached.
- * Insulated with interlaced sisal pad above spring unit.
- * Abundant layers of felted cotton specially garmetted to prevent lumping.
- * Karpen patented hinged-type inner-spring unit encased in muslin slip. (The finest made, we believe).
- * Coils scientifically tempered and interlocked with helical springs.
- * Spring unit built to edge of mattress to prevent side packing.

Imported woven striped damask in pastel colors. Stitched in square tufts to prevent stretching. Stitched pre-built border, embroidered eyelets, screen ventilators and handles.
