DEBATE HEARD ON FARM BILL IN TWO HOUSES

House Leaders Abandon Hope for Vote By Week-End

END OF 3RD WEEK, NOTHING IS DONE

Backers of Wage-Hour Bill In Fight To Save Measure From Revision

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Congress neared the end of the third week of its special session today, without completing any part of President Roosevelt's program.

Debate on the farm bill continued at a leisurely pace in both chambers, causing House leaders to abandon hope of a final vote there this week-end.

Nor was the conclusion of talk by Senators in sight. Senator Borah (R-Idaho) unleashed his oratory against the bill at the opening of the day's session.

In a lengthy speech he said the measure would complete "bureaucratic control" over farmers and would entail "the reduction of crops at a time when there are millions of hungry and needy persons in the country."

Backers of the wage-hour bill, a second item on the President's special program, began a new fight to save the measure from revision. Critics were plotting to modify or defeat it.

A House sub-committee meanwhile considered a constitutional amendment or act of Congress to permit Federal taxing of $14,854,300,000 of state and municipal securities and state and local levies of $35,548,000,000 of Federal issues.

At present state and local securities are exempt from Federal taxation and Federal securities cannot be levied upon by the state and localities.

Other developments: Republican party leaders, declaring that the mathematics favor them, are looking forward to the 1938 senatorial election with high hope of picking up some seats.

A record breaking group of 30 Democratic Senators must face the voters next November, where only four Republican seats will be at stake.

Large Sum Stolen From Post Office

Lockport, Ill., Dec. 3.—(AP)—A gang of gunmen ransacked the post office today, shot a clerk in the leg and fled with a company payroll, reported to amount to about $25,000.

The three reported robbers escaped in a truck. Lockport is about 30 miles southwest of Chicago.

The clerk wounded in fire from pistol was John West, Police Chief Fred Lindner was assaulted by the robbers.

The payroll stolen was reported to have been that of the Texas Company.

Author - Lecturer To Be Heard Here

The evening program at which Kirby Page will speak Saturday at the College has been scheduled for 8:15 o'clock in the Austin building for the especial convenience of the people outside of the College who wish to hear this noted man.

Known as a man of versatile talents, Mr. Page is able to draw on a wide experience with people in many walks of life and in many countries.

His activity as a writer is shown in the long list of thought-provoking books he has written, and many contributions to periodicals on problems of the day.

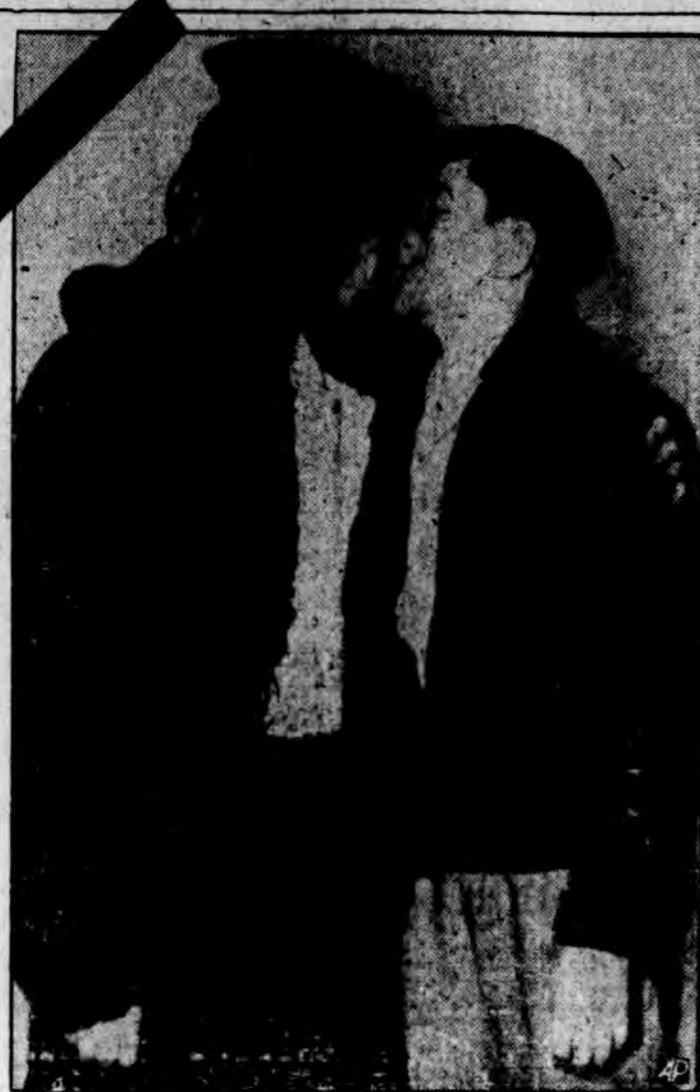

From his many books the following are found in the College library: Living Creatively, Living Triumphantly, Living Courageously, Dollars and World Peace, and Christianity and Economic Problems.

The College Y. W. C. A. extends a cordial invitation to Greenville people to hear Mr. Page.

The average rent in New York City is $34 per month. Manhattan shows the largest percentage of those paying both maximum and minimum rentals.

18 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

ANNA HAHN GOES TO DEATH CELL

With little show of emotion on the part of either, cool, calm Anna Marie Hahn, condemned to die for the poison death of a aged man, gave her son Oscar a goodbye kiss as she left Conzatti en route to the death cell in the Ohio State prison at Columbus.

Italian Press Attacks 'Big Three' Democracy

TOBACCO

With only one more week remaining before the Greenville tobacco market is scheduled to close, figures released today show offerings to date of $2,580,875. So far this year $16,534,949.87 has been paid farmers selling their tobacco in Greenville. The figure represents the largest amount ever paid out here in any one year.

TEEL ON TRIAL IN COURT HERE

Charged With Operating House for Immoral Purposes

The State was hearing the completion of its evidence in the case charging Medius Teel with the operation of a house for prostitution as the luncheon recess was taken in the special criminal session of Pitt Superior court this afternoon.

The case was started yesterday afternoon and the entire day is expected to be needed to complete the hearing and arguments.

At the conclusion of the State's evidence counsel for the defendant announced he would not offer any testimony and arguments in the case were started.

Teel is accused with maintaining cabins on the Old River road for purpose of immoral relations.

Sitting on the jury are J. E. Overton, P. S. Rasberry, J. H. Bundy, Fred Cox, A. C. Gay, J. C. Whitehurst, Sr., George M. Taylor, Elbert Moore, G. H. Highsmith, A. W. Bobbitt, Z. M. Whitehurst and Floyd Thomas.

At the afternoon session yesterday William Jones pleaded guilty to driving drunk and was sentenced to a term on the roads of three months.

Grant Hines entered a plea of guilty to gambling and was given a four-months sentence.

Law And Order Meet Planned For Arthur

Citizens of the Arthur community will have their own Law and Order mass meeting at the school building Monday night at 7 o'clock. Judge Dink James of the county Recorder's court will address the gathering.

An announcement declared that the meeting will be devoted to law and order and every person in the community is invited to attend the session. The meeting is being sponsored by the local Grange and light refreshments will be served.

Even before the advent of the talking picture sound rights to many properties sold to the motion pictures were reserved. Companies refilming such stories have to pay an additional amount for the talking rights.

State Delegation Is Undecided On Wage-Hour Bill

General Opinion is That Measure Will Pass, But Representatives Adopting Wait and See Attitude

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A cross-section poll of the North Carolina House delegation disclosed today a "wait and see" attitude toward the wages and hours bill.

The general opinion among the representatives was the bill would pass, but whether with their support, they said, depended on the shape of the measure when it came up for final action.

Only two of the 11 North Carolina representatives signed the petition to bring up the bill, despite failure of the House Rules committee to give it right of way.

They were Representative Bulwinkle from the Textile manufacturing Tenth district, and Umstead of the Cigarette manufacturing Sixth.

Bulwinkle came out in favor of the bill while he was in North Carolina before the special session convened.

Umstead, although he signed the petition, aligned himself with the "wait and see" majority among the delegation.

Others who said their vote on the measure would depend on its final shape included Representatives Hancock, Cooley, Barden and Kerr.

Barden, a member of the House Labor committee, said he hoped "the considerable confusion about the bill would be cleared up in committee before it is brought out on the floor."

Although the measure already has passed the Senate, where it received the support of Senator Reynolds of North Carolina, Senator Bailey, Reynolds's colleague, served notice he would be against it until the end.

CITY FATHERS ONE CAPTURED HOLD SESSION AFTER ESCAPE

Instruct Means Be Taken To Collect Back Taxes

The Board of Aldermen, in regular monthly session last night, instructed the city tax collectors to proceed with the collection of all back personal and poll taxes through garnishee, levy or otherwise.

Tax Collector J. O. Duval and Assistant Tax Collector W. L. Patrick declared this morning they would start Monday morning on these collections and advised that any person who has not paid his back taxes and wishes to avoid being embarrassed should attend to the matter at once. Letters were sent out to delinquent tax payers some time ago and netted some results, but it was explained that there were a large number of local citizens who were behind in their taxes.

Several other matters were taken up at the meeting. The much-discussed telephone franchise request by the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company came in for much discussion. It was decided to invite Dr. John Bauer of New York and I. M. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, to appear before the board in an advisory capacity regarding the franchise.

The new PWA paving project was discussed and it was decided to proceed with work around the school houses as soon as the money was available. Other requests for paving were heard.

S. B. Underwood, who declared he was appearing for John Warner, asked moral and financial support for plans to make a series of pictures for Greenville. A committee was appointed to consider the request.

T. L. Matlock and Company was awarded the contract for the annual auditing for the city at a price of $400.

B. B. Sugg and J. E. Winslow were elected to succeed themselves as members of the school board.

A request from the school board asking suggestions for providing better playground facilities for the West Greenville school was presented.

City Engineer H. L. Rivers called attention to the drainage situation in West Greenville and the Street Committee was instructed to look into the problem.

Pitt County Grand Jury Upholds Drive On Crime

The report of the Grand Jury, submitted to Judge J. H. Clement, presiding over the special term of criminal court here this week, expresses approval of the action of the ABC board and county commissioners in their efforts to rid the county of the illicit whiskey traffic and other forms of vice.

A report by a special committee named to make a thorough investigation of the County Home declared that conditions in general were found "very satisfactory." A copy of the committee's findings was included in the Grand Jury report.

The Grand Jury recommended that "whereas we have information that there are a large number of criminal cases pending in the Superior Court of Pitt county wherein costs and fines, imposed by the courts, have not been paid. We, therefore, recommend to the court that an order be made by the court that a capias be issued in each of said cases, returnable to this term of court."

R. L. Little, foreman of the Grand Jury signed the general report and the special findings on the County Home were signed by the Special committee, composed of W. B. Cannon, Leslie Harris and Marshall Joyner.

"We, the Grand Jury, have passed on all bills presented to us and have rendered our decisions according to the evidence.

"All County offices and the jail were inspected at the recent term of regular court, beginning November 1st, 1937, therefore we do not deem it necessary to visit and inspect them at this term.

"A special committee was appointed to make a full and thorough investigation of conditions at the County Home both as to food and sanitary conditions. A complete report of which is attached hereto, and find same in excellent condition. We wish to commend Capt. Jacobs for his very capable and efficient management.

HUNTSMAN GARNER MAKES A KILL

Vice-President Garner emerged from the woods on his first northern hunting trip near St. Mary's, Pa., with a 125-pound, four-point buck over his shoulder. "I just wanted to show you I could carry it," he told his hunting companions—nine senators and five government officials.

Director Declares FBI Paying Huge Dividends

More Than Cost Of Operation Returned To Public

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, today announced "dividends" to taxpayers of seven dollars for every dollar spent on the bureau.

He said during the last four years the cost of operating the F. B. I. amounted to a little more than $18,000,000 while it was able to return in "savings, in fines and in recoveries of stolen goods a total of more than $135,000,000, or more than $116,000,000 above what it cost to operate the bureau."

Hoover addressed the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. He took occasion to attack parole systems (excluding the Federal), the failure of police units to cooperate in the collection of statistical data and criminal records, jail conditions, shyster lawyers "kid-glove treatment" of criminals and other weak spots in the American scene of police and court activity.

He said during the last four years an average of 100 persons charged by G-men and tried, 94 were convicted.

"The records of the F. B. I. show that 55 per cent of all criminals arrested have been previously arrested," he said. "The records also show that approximately 50 per cent of all prisoners now are being released on parole."

He declared the "criminal army of America" was composed of 4,300,000 persons.

Final Rites Held For A. C. Williams

A Carl Williams 47, died at his home in Washington, N. C. last night at 8:00 after a illness of three years. Funeral services were conducted from his home at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. M. McManis, Presbyterian minister of Washington, assisted by Rev. Blarance Patrick of Greenville. Burial followed in Greenwood Cemetery in Greenville.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Arthur Williams of Phoenix, Ariz. and Philip Williams; and two daughters, Catherine and Nell of Washington; two brothers E. C. and Robert of Greenville; five sisters, Mrs. T. L. Moore, Mrs. Alfred Fletcher of Greenville, Mrs. Lester Baker and Mrs. Preston Gardner of Fountain and Miss Louannie Williams of Farmville.

Active pallbearers were Guy Evans, Walter Johnson, Swanson Graves, Mr. Stowe, D. L. Cox, Key Norris, W. L. Patrick, J. R. Russ, R. F. Butler, M. P. Jefferson and J. B. Johnson.

Funeral Tomorrow For A. L. Sumrell

Lill Sumrell, 65, life-long resident of Ayden, who died yesterday while visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. R. Pruette, in Charlotte, will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Ayden Methodist Church. Rev. T. A. Sykes of Ayden, will conduct the services.

Active pallbearers, all nephews, will be Howard, Dixie, Marion, Reginald Guy, Jr. and W. O. Sumrell. Besides his daughter, Mr. Sumrell is survived by two sons, Lester of the U. S. S. California, and Cleo of New York City; five brothers, Heber, Hugh, Ralph, Clarence and David Sumrell; three sisters, Mrs. Tobe Moye, Mrs. Wilbur Tingle of Ayden, and Mrs. Claude Christopher of Greenville.

JAPS RESPECT ORDER OF U. S. CHINESE FORCE

Withdraw From American - Guarded Shanghai Area

COMMAND COMES AFTER INCIDENT

Chinese Youth Hurls Hand Grenade, Momentarily Breaking March of Japanese

Shanghai, Dec. 3.—(AP) Japanese troops bowed to the United States Marine command today and withdrew from American-guarded sections of the International Settlement after a grenade explosion had interrupted a victory march celebrating Japanese domination of Shanghai.

A Chinese student hurled the hand grenade and momentarily broke ranks of the 6,000 marching Japanese as they neared the wing of a department in Nanking road, but the parade was reformed and the troops completed transfer from a park on the west to Hongkew, Japanese sector east of the settlement.

Immediately after the explosion Japanese troops, with gleaming bayonets, surrounded and cleared an area of about 30 blocks around the scene. Because a part of the American marine sector was included a vigorous American protest came immediately. The Japanese yielded and withdrew from that section.

The grenade thrower was shot dead by a Chinese policeman, member of the settlement's force.

Three Japanese soldiers, one Japanese consular policeman and a British police inspector, were injured.

Amid a flurry of panic a Chinese threw himself from a tall building into the street in patriotic martyrdom.

The Japanese withdrew from the American section of the British-American guarded International city at the insistence of Colonel Charles Price, commander of the United States Fourth Marine.

While the conquerors paraded, the war went on. Chinese asserted their troops still held Kiangyin forts, the Yangtze river barrier. Japanese must take in order to bombard Nanking from naval vessels.

UAWA SEEKING UNION AGENCY

Asks To Be Certified as Ford Plant Bargaining Agency

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The UAWA petitioned the National Labor Relations Board today for certification as the collective bargaining agency of the Ford Motor Co.

The union, which called a strike at the plant November 24, claimed a membership of 814 Ford workers or a majority of the largest number ever employed, some 1,100.

The Labor Board consolidated the petitions for hearing December 16 with a complaint it issued last Tuesday citing the company to answer charges preferred by the union of unfair labor practices in dealing with its employees.

Milton Johnson, the plant manager, had denied the charges and had likewise disputed the union's contention it represented a majority of the workers.

The plant operated as usual today, Johnson said, despite one of the heaviest picket lines since the day the strike began. He announced 821 employees were at work.

Union officials said about 1,000 men were on picket duty this morning, many of them UAWA members from the General Motors plant which was not operating today. The picket lines dwindled rapidly after the last of the workers entered the plant.

The following began the general solicitation this morning: Mrs. J. J. Perkins; Mrs. Bruce Warren; Mrs. D. M. Clark; Mrs. E. E. Rawls; Mrs. H. H. Duncan; Mrs. Bill Drum; Mrs. E. C. Wilkerson; Mrs. Lee Folger; Mrs. Vernon Parrish; Mrs. W. E. McGowan; Mrs. A. F. Harrington; Mrs. Hugh Cox; Mrs. J. C. Waldrop; Mrs. Wagoner; Mrs. Tom Wilson; Mrs. Worth Wickler; Mrs. Eugene Wilcox.

Mrs. Wyatt Brown; Miss Helen Spangler; Miss Mary Council Horn; Miss Geraldine Harris; Mrs. E. W. Harvey; Mrs. W. H. Woolard; Mrs. Hogue; Mrs. M. E. Herman Duncan; Miss Bessie Brown; Mrs. Jonathan Overton.

Social Calendar

FRIDAY
6:30 p. m.—Kiwanis Club will meet.

7:00 p. m.—Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Blount will be hosts at dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Barrett.

7:30 p. m.—T. E. L. Class of Immanuel Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. H. C. Haynes at her home on Ninth street.

SATURDAY
1:00 to 2:00 p. m.—Mrs. J. H. Blount and Mrs. Burke Stancill will entertain at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Blount honoring Mrs. Roy Barrett.

8:00 p. m.—Miss Mary Harding will entertain at bridge honoring Mrs. Roy Barrett.

Sans Souci Book Club.
Mrs. F. M. Wooten was hostess to the Sans Souci Book Club Tuesday afternoon at one of the most delightful meetings of the year. The home was attractive with decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and ivy.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. W. E. Hooker and in the absence of Mrs. W. I. Wooten, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop served as secretary.

The program was in the very capable hands of Mrs. W. L. Hall, who in her usual happy manner, gave a review of "How To Win Friends," by Dale Carnegie. This book is a modern version of the old rules of courtesy and kindness that have come down through the centuries and have been paramount in the lives of those who have striven for and attained success and the finer things of life. Mrs. Hall's interpretation of her subject was most interesting and informative, leaving with us the age old lesson that "He who loses his life shall find it."

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hooker served a delicious salad course with coffee.—Reported.

The Chatham Club.
On Tuesday afternoon the Chatham Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Harvey Clayton at her home on Student street. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Clayton, vice-president, presided.

During the business session tuberculosis Christmas seals were distributed to the members of the club.

Mrs. W. S. Tyson had charge of the program for the afternoon and read a most interesting paper on "Home Crafts of North Carolina." The story of Jugtown located in Moore county, is most interesting.

Supper Club.
The Monthly Supper Club of the Eighth Street Christian Church will meet Tuesday night at 6:30 instead of the usual time, due to the busy Christmas season.

Bicycles and Skates Wanted.
On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be an all-college bicycle and roller skating party on the college campus. The street from the dining hall to Wright Circle will be roped off for the convenience of the participants. The Woman's Athletic Association of the college is sponsoring the affair. Due to the scarcity of bicycles and skates the W. A. A. is asking everyone who is willing to lend their bicycle or skates for the afternoon to bring them to the college campus at two o'clock Saturday afternoon or call Miss Lucille Norton in Ragsdale Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Honored.
Last night at eight o'clock in Ragsdale Hall, Misses Lucille Norton and Helen Spangler entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barrett, a recently married couple. The hall was decorated with white 'mums and greenery, making a very attractive setting for the gala occasion. Various and sundry games were enjoyed. Among them were bridge, monopoly, checker checks, etc. The guests circulated from game to game.

Refreshments consisted of hors d'oeuvres, sandwiches, and drinks served buffet style. Miss Rosalind Ivey assisted the hostesses in serving. About twenty-one guests enjoyed Misses Norton and Spangler's hospitality.

Jugtown was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Busbee and organized for work in 1917. Mrs. Busbee was born in Raleigh. Mr. Busbee has many talents. He did the first landscaping at East Carolina Teachers College and painted some of the portraits in the Austin building.

Weaving in mountain homes near Marion was revived thirteen years ago. The making of silver, copper and pewter is a very profitable industry at Beaver Bridge. Mrs. Tyson gave us a more vivid insight and appreciation of the work of the mountain folk in their making of baskets, brooms, furniture, quilts and coverlets.

After timely topics the hostess served a delicious salad course with coffee. The club will meet December 14 with Mrs. R. S. Neal and Mrs. E. R. Conway.—Reported.

Hunsucker-Abbott.
Winterville, Dec. 3.—Mrs. R. L. Abbott entertained at her attractive home in Winterville on Tuesday evening, honoring her daughter, Miss Lucy Bett Abbott, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Wayland L. Hunsucker was announced.

The reception hall and drawing room were lovely with their decorations of ivy and white pompon chrysanthemums. Here were arranged nine tables for bridge. The guests' places being marked by tiny corsages of white pompon chrysanthemums and the tallies carried out the bridal motif. After several spirited rubbers of bridge, high scorer, Mrs. R. W. Gorman, was presented cut glass bell. Floating prize, a compact, went to Miss Alice Graves Hunsucker, and low score, a sandwich board, to Miss Jane Blair Cox. Mrs. Haywood McLawhorn, a recent bride, was remembered with a bath room set, and the honoree was presented exquisite lingerie.

The announcement came with the serving of refreshments, a miniature bride and groom marking the place of the bride-elect and the ices in green and white wedding bells, and the cakes on which the announcements read "L. B. A. to W. L. H., December 15, 1937."

Scout Teachers Have Outing.
At the first outdoor session of the Scout leaders training course which was held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, about 28 men braved the cold weather to eat turkey in a Scout cabin at Sheppard's Mill near Stokes. This group of men were the guests of Stokes Scouters.

Dr. Hildrup, chairman of leadership training, introduced Dr. E. T. Henderson, chairman of scouting in the Greenville district. He praised these men highly for coming to this meeting on such a bad day.

John J. Sigwald, Scout executive of East Carolina Council, gave the main address on the subject "Why Boys Drop Out of Scouting." After a few games were played and a closing ceremony, the meeting adjourned until next Thursday, Dec. 9, at the Boy Scout cabin near Greenville.

Errors Made in Names In Story Of Funeral.
An account of the funeral services for Jesse Mumford yesterday listed the initials of several of the pallbearers incorrectly.

In the active list it should have been J. S. Moore, instead of J. G. Moore. In the honorary list it should have been O. H. Lemmons, not O. J. Sermons, and J. Ludlow Williams, instead of J. L. Williams.

Personals
L. I. Moore went to Bethel on business today.

R. L. Smith and A. Savage returned from Richmond Thursday evening.

Notices
The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will have a supper in Germania Hall on Wednesday night, 8th.

The Town Council has ordered the building of two more cisterns for fire protection.

For Rent:—New 6 room dwelling house, all conveniences, desirable location. Apply to J. W. Higgs.

There will be an old fashioned "candy stew" in the Masonic building tonight. Misses Sophie Jarvis and Dot Flanagan, managers.

Pete Plummer, a colored man, had a fit at the meeting of the Town Council Thursday night and just about broke up the meeting. It was some time before he got over the fit.

An Interesting Address.
Mr. John E. Ray of Raleigh, Superintendent of the school for the deaf, dumb and blind, reached Greenville Thursday evening and delivered an address at night before the B. Y. P. U. in the Baptist Church. His subject was Helen Keller, the most remarkable girl living today. She is deaf, dumb and blind, and although only 17 years of age she has accomplished more than thousands of persons who possess all their faculties. Mr. Ray's address was exceedingly interesting and was based largely on what he ascertained from a personal acquaintance with her.

Mr. Ray also sang two songs, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Nearer My God To Thee," in the deaf and dumb language. This was very impressive.

A large congregation was present and everyone gladly enjoyed hearing and seeing Mr. Ray. We hope he will visit Greenville again.

MODES of the MOMENT

By ADELAIDE KERR

PERSIAN INSPIRATION—Persia's precious silks inspired the fabric pattern for this blouse and toque to wear with winter suits. Wine-red and ivory white are its colorings. The toque is draped in a manner suggestive of old Persian turbans and the blouse, designed by Creed, has a neckline tied with a slender bow.

JUSTICE DEPT. ELASTIC TERM

Opinion Expressed By Albert Coates After Study

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Dec. 3.—The words "Department of Justice" under North Carolina's proposed Constitutional amendment is a very elastic term, in the opinion of Albert Coates, director of the Institute of Government, after making a thorough study of the matter.

"They will mean whatever the General Assembly of North Carolina makes them mean," says Mr. Coates in an article published in the November issue of Popular Government, Institute of Government monthly magazine.

"It can write these words into a statute and under that statute give the Attorney Gen. completely centralized supervision of all the agencies involved in the administration of criminal law or give him partial control, or give him a title of sound and fury, signifying nothing," he writes.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Coates concludes, the General Assembly has the power to do most of the things possible under the amendment even now, without any amendment whatever. There are cases, he points out, in which there is some doubt just how far the legislative branch can go in giving the A. G. powers, and the amendment would remove these doubts except in the instance of pardons and paroles, where it is thought the Constitutional provisions would still give full and undivided control to the Governor.

The General Assembly can now, Mr. Coates contend give the Attorney General supervision (1) over most, if not all, city, county and state agencies for the investigation of crime and apprehension of criminals; (2) over city, county and state prosecuting attorneys, though the extent of this power is somewhat in doubt; (3) over the machinery of probation and the staff of probation officers; (4) perhaps to a limited extent over penal and correctional institutions, though this is doubtful, and (5) perhaps to a very limited extent over investigations preliminary to pardons and paroles, though this might be held an encroachment on the Governor's constitutional power of pardon and parole.

Chapel Hill, Dec. 3.—An illuminated Persian manuscript has recently been added to the Hanes collection on the history of writing at the University of North Carolina Library. It was announced today by Librarian R. B. Downs.

The manuscript, which carries a 1566 date, will be put on exhibition in the near future along with several similar examples of illuminated writing in Italian, French, German and English.

The writing, in the Arabic language, is all done by hand. Capital letters and a flowered border are painted in gold. The paper, made through a special process and rubbed down by hand afterwards, is also an example of perfection.

Although the Library has quite a number of manuscripts of this kind, the new acquisition is the first Persian one that has been obtained.

The Department of Commerce estimates national lumber consumption for 1937 to be 24,000,000,000 feet, a gain of about 5 per cent over the previous year.

Consumption of limestone for soil improvement use has increased from 12,000 tons in 1933 to an estimated million tons this year.

The writing, in the Arabic language, is all done by hand. Capital letters and a flowered border are painted in gold. The paper, made through a special process and rubbed down by hand afterwards, is also an example of perfection.

Although the Library has quite a number of manuscripts of this kind, the new acquisition is the first Persian one that has been obtained.

Rochester, Minn. — It is going to be hard to prove there is not "something new under the sun" in the case of sulfanilamide.

This stuff is the extract of a red dye which has been turned into a sensational remedy for blood poisoning and a number of serious diseases. As a dye it is 30 years old. As a medicine is some years old.

But as a sunburn trouble it is new. The facts were brought out in a report to a Mayo Clinic meeting by L. A. Brunsting, M. D.

Among many persons to whom it was administered, a few came down about a week later with painful skin troubles.

They did not look like sunburn. They were what medical men class as "eruptions." Bheeking back, Dr. Brunsting said, showed that the eruptions appeared only where hot sunlight had fallen on the skin.

There were several cases of eruptions on hands and faces. One man had a bad outbreak on his left arm, which he exposed to the sun while driving his car.

Another man who liked sun baths erupted all over his body.

All these outbreaks were painful, but none fatal. The cause, Dr. Brunsting said, was "photosensitivity." The dye made the skin sensitive.

Raleigh, Dec. 3.—For the week ended November 13 the ABC stores of New Hanover county sold $2,305.75 worth of liquor. For the week ended November 20, the same stores sold $9,437.55 worth of liquor, an increase of more than 13 per cent.

For the week ended November 13 the ABC stores of Wake county sold $18,918 worth of liquor. For the week ended November 20, the same stores sold $20,222 worth of liquor, an increase of more than 6 per cent.

During the week ended November 20 a Methodist conference was in session in Raleigh, county seat of Wake.

Both the Baptist convention in Wilmington and the Methodist conference in Raleigh adopted resolutions condemning liquor.

Southeastern Governors will not confer with President Roosevelt on his current fishing trip south, Governor Clyde R. Hoey says. Certain political columnist have recently written at some length of Hoey's alleged plans to "bargain" with Southern governors on the Ways and Means bill to which they are represented as bitterly opposed. So it appears that even the "big shot" political prophets don't always know what they're talking about.

North Carolina's Harold Cooley is getting plenty of publicity with reference to his part in the crop control legislation now under debate in Congress. The Fourth District representative seems to be doing right well by himself in the matter of getting his name in the papers.

A Chatham county delegation consisting of County Agent H. M. Slaughter, W. R. Perry and J. E. Clark has conferred with Dudley Bagley, head of the State Rural Electrification Authority regarding right of way difficulties in getting a line from Siler City toward Fittsboro. The line has been approved and the Carolina Power and Light is ready to proceed with construction, but is being held up by failure to get rights-of-way from certain out of the state land owners. Mr. Bagley has promised to help them to his fullest ability.

Importance of the line is increased by reason of Chatham's development as a dairy section. Under present state milk regulations use as a refrigeration agent is worthless as it will not produce low enough temperatures. Chatham farmers are now selling largely in Durham, where the present ordinance is not so strict, but there is a strong likelihood that the Bull City will soon come under the state ordinance which would make it imperative for the Chathamites to have electric refrigeration.

A joint meeting of the State Literary and Historical Association and the Society of the Mayflower Descendants tonight will be featured by the announcement of the annual Mayflower Cup award. The award, made annually since 1931 has been won five times by University of North Carolina professors, never by a Duke professor. Maybe it will be the Durham University's turn this time. At any rate, three of the five judges are from Duke.

JAPAN'S DOUBLE SUICIDES CUT BY WAX IN CHINA

Tokyo (AP)—Statistics compiled by the metropolitan police board show that the number of double suicides in Japan this year is less than half of last year's total for the same period.

The practice is comparatively common in Japan. It is the traditional escape of frustrated lovers, and lately it has become common among poverty stricken married couples. But since the war in China began, it has dropped sharply.

One of the few western countries where men live longer than women is Sweden.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Ever since the World war, the nation's first rank soldiers have been debiting the value of an "army on wheels."
Recently, the army general staff got together a complete mechanized division, a miniature "army on wheels," and tested it out in Texas. The result amazed many an old soldier, including some of the nation's top-flight generals.

Preston Grover is a reserve officer with a thorough knowledge of military tactics, well qualified to describe the inside story of the modernization of the army. Here is the first of two articles by him on the subject.
Washington—The army is preparing for a situation in which the United States may be fighting its next war on American soil. It expects it—if and when—to be a war in which battles are won by maneuver instead of costly mass attacks straight into the enemy's teeth.

An army and navy for purposes of defense only has long been a tradition of the country, although during the last two wars not an enemy bullet fell on United States territory. But since the World War the American army has been organized on a basis of the experience of that war. And that it was a very "specialized" war, such as is not likely to be repeated if a foreign power should attempt to invade the United States.

In the World war there was a solid line of trenches from Switzerland across France to the English channel. There was no shoulder room for flanking maneuvers in which one enemy tries to get part of his force around to one side of the opponent and thus to put him at a disadvantage. The only sort of attack possible in the World war was straight ahead.

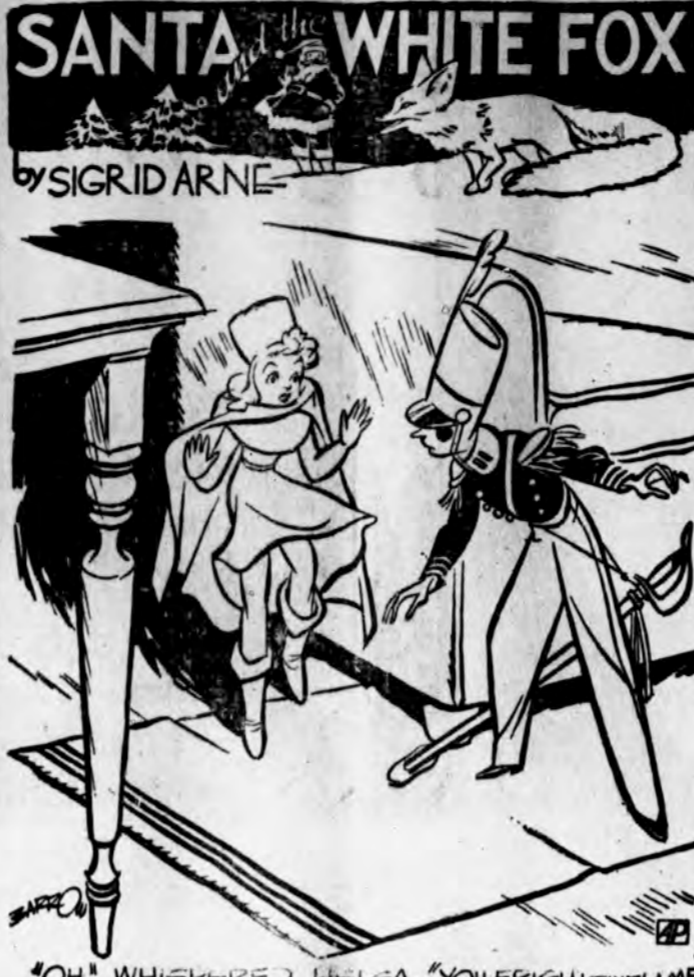

Bloody Business
Frontal attacks take a lot of men. So a division, if it were ordered to take a certain objective had to have a lot of men. One, two or three waves of men might be moved down by enemy fire before the way could be paved for a fourth wave to sweep on to the objective. That is bloody warfare.

Modern military minds now are preparing for a different type of warfare. They expect to strike quickly and hard.

America's pennyweight army of a maximum 165,000 men is not designed for a quick penetration of an enemy's territory. But under its new mechanization program, as worked out in the hard-hitting mechanized divisions in Texas, it plans to be able to concentrate stout resistance at a point of invasion.

Smaller and Faster
The new mechanized division first off, was reduced from the World War size of 27,000 men to a compact unit of 13,500 officers and men. But instead of the 18 miles a day that the old foot-slogging, horse artillery division could travel, the new division covered 360 miles a day and would up fit to split out an amazing curtain of death-dealing fire.

It could travel a long way to meet an enemy appearing at an unexpected point. It could take

"OH," WHISPERED HELGA, "YOU FRIGHTENED ME."
THE STORY SO FAR: When all the toys go skiing Helga, a doll makes friends with a dangerous white fox. Santa scolds her, but the white fox whispers he will come back.

Chapter Five
OFF THEY GO!
Santa couldn't frown at Helga very long after she ran off to ski with the white fox. She looked so happy.

She even asked Mrs. Santa if she could string together the neckties of tin, silver bells that Mrs. Santa ties about the necks of white woolly dogs.
Santa was so pleased he whispered to Mrs. Santa, "Well, I'm glad she's taking an interest. I was afraid of that fox."

"He's a bad one," said Mrs. Santa.
But they didn't even guess what Helga was thinking. As she strung the silver bells she thought, "I'll hide 12 of these and tonight I'll give them to the white fox."

And that's what she did. The day passed and Santa shooed all the dolls to bed at eight. Helga crept into her bed chuckling because under the pillow was hidden the necklace of silver bells for the white fox. Soon the whole toyshop was asleep. The flames in the fireplace died down.

A Warning
The clock in the corner kept saying:
Tick, tick,
I'm a lock.
Tick, tick,
I lock away
Every day.
Tick, tick.

The only one awake was Helga. She watched the moon climb over the Christmas trees, and up the sky. He peeked into the toyshop but Helga shut her eyes and pretended to sleep. Finally the clock boomed midnight. Helga's eyes flew open, and outside the window sat the white fox.

She slipped on her cape, put the silver bells in her pocket and started to tiptoe out. But in her path stood the tin soldier.

"Oh," whispered Helga, "You frightened me."
"You frightened me," said the soldier doll. "You're going skiing with the fox again. He'll steal you for his Christmas gift."

Helga giggled under her breath. Trip To The Sea
"Not me," she said. "I can ski as fast as he can run."

"Maybe so, but he has very sharp claws."
"But that's only from running so fast on the ice," said Helga. "Now go to bed and don't worry."

So Helga slipped out into the moonlight.

Lafayette Biggest Surprise As 'Minors' Go Unbeaten

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Feature Service Writer

New York—Maybe the absence of giant-killing aspirations explains why 10 "minor-league" college football teams went through their seasons unbeaten and untied.

While some of the little fellows were tackling the big boys—and generally getting soundly thrashed for their trouble—these teams kept punching away in their own class, and kept winning.

No matter what league they were in, the competition still was stiff for Cape Girardeau, Cornell (Ia.) Arkansas State Teachers, Hardin-Simmons, Augustana (South Dakota), Upper Iowa, Gustavus Adolphus, Alfred, St. Ambrose (Ia.) and Lafayette, Alabama, Colorado and Santa Clara the major teams with perfect slates (Hardin-Simmons had a December game to play).

Scored On—Once

One record is as good as another, but Hooks Mylin of Lafayette raises a big bow. His gridders won eight straight, and were scored on only once.

One remarkable angle of Mylin's record is that this was his first year at Lafayette. Coaches generally need a couple of seasons to get their style of play firmly established. And, furthermore, he took a team that won only one game last season for Coach Ernie Nevers and turned out a winner.

Lafayette, after years of adversity, regards him as a miracle man. But a check over his record at Iowa, Lebanon valley and Bucknell shows he knew the winning signal there, too.

Has One Helper

While most coaches have several aides, Mylin had only one assistant, George McGaughey, who previously had coached only high school teams.

"Where did all these Lafayette players spring from in a hurry?" someone asked Graduate Manager Eskey Clark, when the supposedly weak Pennsylvania team was well on its victory path.

"We had them on our freshman team two years ago. But we had no luck last year and this season we've had a lot of luck," Clark explained. "Mylin did a great job of coaching."

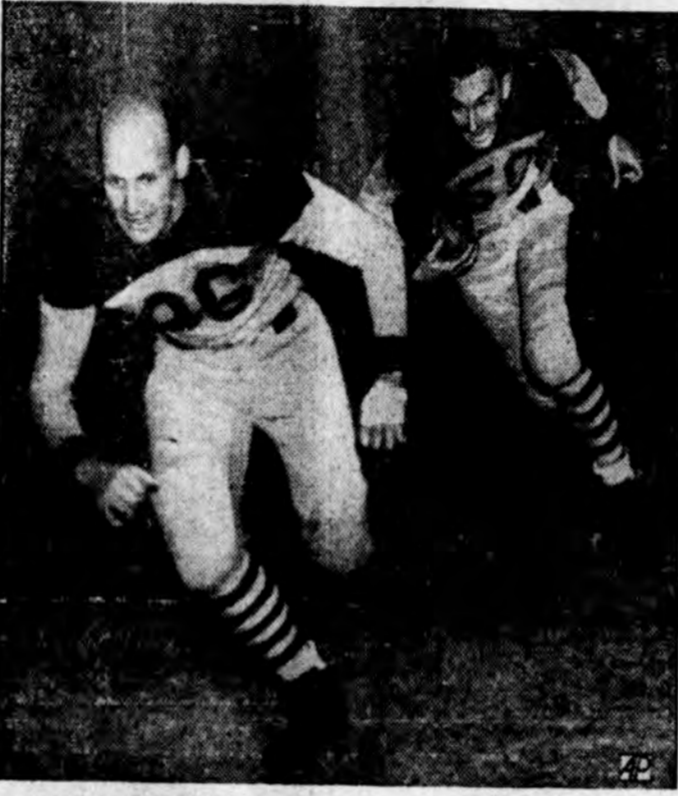

ling professors, joint sponsorship of distinguished visiting lecturers, joint participation in doctoral examinations, and the publication of books and articles are among the mutual endeavors cited by the report.

Among other instances of cooperation summarized in the report are the following: joint field trips in this and nearby states for students in the two departments of geology, lending of scientific apparatus between the chemistry and

AT LAFAYETTE

"Miracle Man" Hooks Mylin guided his team to an undefeated, untied season. Mylin's victory streak failed to have him smiling, even near the season's end. He gave a solemn pep talk before the final game to Lafayette players.

AT HARDIN-SIMMONS

Bald-headed Ed Cherry, fullback, ran interference for Burns McAnney, triple threat. The pair had sparked the team to a 2 year 15 game winning streak, with one 37 game to play. Cherry himself had scored 46 points before the final.

physics departments, certain members of the law and sociology faculties at Duke and North Carolina cooperated in bringing about installation of a more approved form of juvenile court in Durham; the two university art departments developing plans for regular interchange of slides, photographs and exhibitions.

Another interesting feature is the universities' cooperation between libraries. In 1934, with the aid of a special grant the two libraries had their catalogs copied. These were exchanged and have since been kept up to date by regular interchange of cards for new acquisitions. The exchange has resulted in a steadily increasing volume of inter-library loans between libraries.

STATE TO OPEN COURT SEASON

Begins Schedule With All-Star Team Tomorrow

Raleigh, Dec. 3.—State College will begin its basketball schedule tomorrow night with five monogram players composing the team to start against the McCrary All-Stars of Asheboro. The game is to be played at Asheboro.

Connie Mac Berry, center and captain, tops the State players this season. The lanky senior is one of the nation's greatest players and for the past two years has been the highest scorer in the Southern Conference.

Bill Mann and P. G. Hill will be the starting forwards. They were the regulars last year. Mann ranked among the best forwards in the loop although a sophomore.

Eddie Berlinski and Selby Jones will be the guards. Berlinski made his monogram last winter as a forward and Jones as a center, but a shortage of guards this season forced Dr. R. R. Sermon, coach, to switch them to guard positions.

Coach Sermon hopes to give every man on the squad a chance tomorrow night. The squad is composed of 17 men and it will be enlarged after Christmas by the arrival of Jas Rennie, monogram guard, and Roy Cromartie and Cader Harris, sophomore forward and center.

The other monogram player on the squad is Adolph Honeycutt, forward, who is scheduled to play lots of ball.

Reserves back from the 1937 varsity are Merton Yorke and Louis Satterfield, forwards; H. M. Van Oesen, center; James Hamilton and Cheres Beam, guards.

Up from the 1937 freshman team are Morty Crawford, forward; J. A. Sepp and H. W. Stroup, centers; W. M. Payne, G. B. Dewey and J. S. Maulsby, guards.

Lock of veteran guards worries Dr. Sermon. Nell Dalrymple, captain and star guard of the 1937 team is among those missing.

John Allen, the other first string guard of last year, also was graduated last spring.

The State coxers will play here Wednesday night, December 15, when they meet Roanoke College in Frank Thompson gymnasium. It will be the last game until January.

UNC DEBATING TEAM WILL PLAY HOST TO BRITISH

Chapel Hill, Dec. 3.—Debating teams of the University of North Carolina and Oxford-Cambridge will clash here Friday night when Sam Earle Hobbs, of Selma, Ala., and Clarence Jutz, Salisbury, will debate James A. Brown of Ireland, and Ronald V. Gibson of Scotland on the subject of American Isolationism. The debate will be held in Hill Music Hall at 8 o'clock.

Hobbs is president of the Debate Council and both he and Klutz president of public speaking, and have been coached by W. A. Oiseh, E. J. Woodhouse, professor of political science.

For the past several years North Carolina has played host to debaters from Great Britain. Two years ago Harry McMullan and Donald Seawell of Chapel Hill went on a debating tour of the British Isles as representatives of the University.

WHEN BIGGER BOMBERS ARE BUILT, Britain expects to be among the builders. Here are two giant new "Harrow" warplanes being inspected by the Parliamentary air committee at Radlett, Herts, England.

FATE MUST HAVE HAD ITS NUMBER when this plane landed at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, but despite any doubts the superstitious may hold, a mud hole and not the large "13" on the ship's fuselage caused the somersault. Pilot James H. Drummond was taken to a hospital for observation. Owner of the ill-fated craft is Jacqueline Cochran O'Blum, famed aviatrix and wife of Floyd B. Odlum.

SPANISH WORKERS TOLD TO CUT DOWN MEETINGS

BARCELONA, Spain.—(AP)—Catalonia wants fewer workers' meetings and more work in its industry.

In a circular to correct abuses in collective factories, Serra Moret, president of the Catalan government economy council, advised workers to observe the following:

Factory committees, councils and unions must meet after working hours except in extraordinary cases.

General workers' assemblies should be held in the factory one day a week and should be held only on days when work made up is necessary.

No case should workers be authorized to leave their jobs to attend union meetings not connected with their work. Time not used for work should be deducted from salaries.

The Characters

Nina, ex-debutante, impulsively married David, though fascinated by her stepfather. Now she loves David and loathes Richard.

Richard, the suave, handsome stepfather, tried to entice Nina into a secret love affair.

Honey, Nina's gay, childish mother who is wild about Richard, develops a serious heart ailment.

David, a bright young auto salesman with a small salary, adores Nina but finally leaves her, thinking she has gone too far with Richard.

Chapter 53 Heart Attack

NINA awoke from a sleep that was almost like a coma, it was so deep, but the sharp ring of the telephone brought her instant alertness.

This could be David. This was the sort of thing he'd do—decide, suddenly, in the early hours of the morning, that he had made a mistake . . . that he did still want her . . . and call her, immediately . . .

But as she reached for the instrument, her eye fell on the clock by the bed and saw that it wasn't the early hours of the morning at all. It was nearly 10. It was gray and rainy—but it was late that it looked.

Somehow, the lateness of the hour lowered her hopes.

cally. With the physical effort, some of her spirit returned. "Richard—I swear that . . . that I will kill you, if you don't leave me alone!"

She looked around, wildly. If there had been a vase or an implement of any kind at hand she surely would have brought it crashing down on his head.

"Honey—is sick. Nina. Very." She stopped her wild efforts suddenly. For once what he said, had a true ring to it.

"You—mean that?"

"This time I do, my dear. I mean it. You must come with me right away . . . I have a car downstairs . . ."

"What . . . what . . . Oh, why didn't you tell me over the phone?" She forgot that she had cut him off persistently.

"I—tried to . . . It's an attack . . ."

"Wait here. I won't be a minute." Nina flew into the bedroom.

If it could be called a mercy, this new fear for Honey pushed her own sorrow into the background. She found that she wasn't dead, after all.

She could move her arms and legs and rush into her clothes, because she had to; and she could think, too.

She thought to leave a note, in case David should come home.

"David," she scrawled on the back of an envelope. "Honey really is sick, this time. Awfully. I'm going to ner now. Please call me, David . . . Please!"

And she ran to the house telephone fastening her dress, and called McDuff, the superintendent.

"If any wires or messages come for me, will you please send them over to my mother's house? She's ill! And say—if anyone asks—that they can find me there . . . I'm expecting something, Mr. McDuff. It's important . . . and will you take care of Button? Thanks."

She joined Richard in a minute after that, and they hurried down to his waiting cab.

He said: "It's a definite heart attack, Nina. That's all I know. I'm no good about the technicalities. There's a nurse there, and they've given her a sedative . . . she's resting more quietly, now."

After that, they didn't talk, at all.

But at the front door, he paused before putting his key in the lock. He looked tremendously—upset.

"Nina, I've been trying to tell you . . . I'm sorry. Sincerely sorry for . . ."

But she grabbed the key from him.

"Oh—let's just hurry, Richard. I'm not even thinking—of you!"

About NEW YORK
New York.—Unlike most stage comics who are weighed down with the Pagliacci complex and a desire to play Hamlet, Al Trahan prefers to spend his off-stage moments shooting left-handed golf and winning new trophies at the clay pie-oven traps to go with his ever-increasing collection. He has between 60 and 70 valuable sterling awards as a result of his ability to hold a steady hand and shoot straight.

This unscrupulous manipulator of shooting irons, ranging from gaudy modern bores to an ancient and rusty musket, is a man of many talents.

Green Mountain, has a wall filled with trophies. He also has an unpublished reservoir of hilarious reminiscences, the latest of which was an occurrence at the National Press club dinner in Washington.

Al went down to attend the dinner and to add a little merriment to the festivities, and with President Roosevelt the star guest, all eyes pointed to a satisfying evening. But Al did not reckon on the G-Men. Most of his foolery is centered around this ancient fowling piece which he uses in his stage comic-antics. When it was time for him to go on, an announcer bawled: "Al Trahan, the mad falconer."

Everybody waited expectantly, but there was no Al.

Where was Al? He was writing in the toils of a strong-arm guard which had apprehended him back in the corridor leading to the Back in Manhattan, in that ratty expanse of rooms which is his hangout in 72nd street, Prof. Trahan was chuckling over the incident and showing his mounted trophies of the chase—a cock pheasant here, a bear's head there, some stag antlers yonder . . . Suddenly an object loomed on the wall which caused everybody's eyes to pop out. It looked like a miniature deer's head—until Trahan suddenly exploded in laughter.

A closer examination disclosed it to be the head of a packrabbit to which a taxidermist had cleverly fashioned a pair of antelope antlers.

That's Trahan, a great comedian and a great hunter. He plays the piano for money and the clarinet for fun. But when he is asked to entertain at parties he seldom touches a musical instrument. He prefers to tear telephone directories to bits. And in New York, they are three inches thick.

FIRE MYSTERY of her late flame-spouting, vaudeville-acting father was offered to science when Princess All of Egypt came to the U. S. with his body.

What To Do— If You Can't Remember Names

1. If you are a chronic forgetter and being introduced to a new acquaintance, look the person in the eye and repeat his name immediately with emphasis.
2. If you have a strong memory—as nine-tenths of us have—but it's temporarily inhibited, stop trying so intently to remember the elusive name. It's more likely to come if you relax and think of something else.
3. If your memory really has grown weak, try to recapture the name by associating it with surrounding conditions.

(By the AP Feature Service)
This is the system of Dr. George W. Hartman, a professor of educational psychology at Columbia University's Teachers College in New York City.

Most cases are covered by No. 2. Chronic forgetters are rare. Mostly they're in the same situation as the college professor who has to forget the names of former students because others have come to take their places. It's not a matter of bad memory, Dr. Hartman calls it knowing what to forget. And that is permissible.

You can't separate memory from learning, he says. Memory fails where learning has been inadequate. That's why it's important to repeat the name of the person you're meeting. The more sensory channels you can employ in association with that name, the better, it is out loud.

People who never slip up on a name, says the professor are either good learners—or they're interested in people. A combination of the two is unbeatable.

PITT COUNTY GRAND JURY UPHOLDS DRIVE ON CRIME

"We wish to express our approval for the action taken by the County Commissioners, the ABC Board and all County and City officials, in their efforts to rid the county of the illicit whiskey traffic, and other forms of vice which now exist in the County. We realize that much good has been accomplished, and we ask all County and City enforcement officers and the citizens as a whole to cooperate in this fight to the end that we may have a cleaner and more wholesome community in which to live."

"In submitting this report we wish to express our appreciation to His Honor, Judge J. H. Clement, Hon. D. M. Clark and all Court officials for the courtesies extended to us and for their assistance during this term of Court."

"We, your committee, appointed to make a report on food and general conditions at the County Home

KING WINTER COMES TO CAROLINA MOUNTAINS

beg to submit the following report:

"We visited the Home on November 10th. We did not advise any one of our plans to visit the home. We estimate that there is on hand 1000 to 1200 pounds of cured meat. We had one ham, which we examined thoroughly. We had one ham, from a hog weighing approximately 400 pounds, cut and found it perfectly sound. We examined other large pieces with ice picks and we found all of it sound. We examined a barrel of pickled herrings and found them bright and sound. We have definitely found that statements made by some of the inmates "that some of the meat served was spoiled" is untrue and that the food served at the Home is not only good and wholesome but is as good as your Committee is able to have in their own homes.

We found in the store room a large supply of canned foods, grown and put up at the Home. We also found an ample supply of snuff and tobacco.

"We examined the sanitary conditions of the living quarters and the kitchen and dining room. We found the sanitary conditions very good, the food well prepared, the facilities ample, and the general condition of all the premises far better than we have ever seen them."

"We found the milk and butter supply, which is kept in an electric refrigerator, more than ample. We feel that commendation is due those in charge for providing a modern milking barn, which is kept clean and sanitary. We found the herd of six milk cows in good shape and well cared for."

"We found 60 hogs averaging fully 300 pounds each, which should when killed, provide 15,000 pounds of meat. There are also some 75 other pigs and shoats and nine brood sows. There has been recently added to the herd of hogs, 5 pure bred Duroc Jersey sows, and one registered Duroc Jersey Boar. We were informed that more than $400,000 has been received from sale of surplus hogs within the last 60 days."

"We found modern laying house for the flock of 150 Barred Rock pullets. There has been provided also a modern brooder house, with turnace type brooder."

"With respect to farm products, there is now being cured in the modern oil curer equipped curing house, 400 bushels of sweet potatoes. There is stored in another building 150 bushels of Irish potatoes, from the Spring crop, and a Fall crop not yet dug, which should yield about 75 bushels. In the main barn is stored 109 barrels of corn, and in the hog feeding barn about 40 barrels."

"Our investigation shows beyond question that the Home is clean and sanitary in every respect, and that it is operated on a high plane, with every reasonable attention being provided for the inmates. It is self-evident that there is a surplus of food and that the inmates are better provided for than many of us are able to provide for ourselves. We feel that those in charge and the County Commissioners are to be commended for the personal interest shown in the Home, and we know the inmates are extremely fortunate in being so well cared for."

"We particularly want to commend the Superintendent, D. C. Wilson, and the matron, Mrs. Rosa Taylor, for the deep personal interest which they have in the home and the welfare of the inmates. It is evident to us that the inmates and the public generally are extremely fortunate in having people of this type in charge of the home."

GOVERNOR OBJECTS TO WAGE-HOUR ACT BEFORE CONGRESS
of the Federal Power Commission in the Tuckertown power matter, Governor Hoey believes.

"In the power case, he pointed out the commission assumed jurisdiction of the subject matter under an obscure section of the law, which Congress probably never intended should give the commission any such authority as it has arrogated to itself."

Even if the original appointees to the board (who would be named by President Roosevelt) were entirely satisfactory, there would not be any assurance that the personnel would remain unchanged for any given length of time, Governor Hoey said.

As a result there would be constant interference with business and industry and a resulting uncertainty of mind among business leaders which could result in nothing but disaster, the Governor declared.

Substantial Gain Shown In Building Over State

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Dec. 3.—North Carolina has enjoyed a substantial building boom for the first ten months of this year.

Figures in the Department of Labor show that through October 31 building operations of all types in 21 cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants increased more than one-fourth over the corresponding period of 1936.

And in the matter of new residential construction the increase was even more substantial, reaching slightly more than one third.

For alterations and repairs the increase in expenditures was greater still, reaching 36 per cent.

In the matter of projects undertaken only residential construction showed an increase, as business construction and repair projects totalled substantially less than in the first ten months of 1936.

Residential projects through October 31, 1937, totalled 1,848, costing $7,031,854 against 1,579 projects to cost $5,324,242 in the corresponding period of 1936.

In non-residential, or business, construction there were 879 projects in 1937 against 906 in 1936, but this year's cost $4,255,782 as compared with $3,910,446 in 1936, and increase in cost of 8.3 per cent.

The 3,339 repair and alteration projects in the first ten months of this year called for an expenditure of $3,349,241 against $2,462,790 spent on 3,917 projects for the first ten months of 1937.

The grand total cost of this year's first ten month building of all sorts was $14,636,887 on 5,866 projects compared with $11,626,478 spent on 6,402 projects between January 1 and October 31, 1936.

Figures for November of this year are unavailable yet, but are expected to compare favorably with those for the penultimate month of 1936.

UNC GEOLOGY HEAD ACTING AS WITNESS IN MARBLE SUIT

Chapel Hill, Dec. 3.—Dr. W. E. Prouty, head of the University of North Carolina Geology Department, has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., where he will act as an expert marble witness in suit against the TVA by certain marble interests holding mineral lands in the flooded areas of Norris lake. Dr. Prouty was chosen as a witness on account of his extensive knowledge of marble deposits and marble quarrying.

Fleas? Never! Monkeys Are Just Nervous

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—So—you thought monkeys had fleas! You can take the word of Col. A. D. Dawson, who has trained monkeys for years, that they don't and all that scratching they do is just plain nervousness.

Even as the Colonel (he's a Kentucky colonel) blasted the monkeys—have-fleas legend, Jocko, a white-faced ringtail from the jungles of Brazil, sat back on his haunches and with a sly grin on his wrinkled face calmly did a very thorough job of scratching.

"Fleas won't stay on 'monkeys.'"

Colonel Dawson and Pal

Dawson continues. "They can't stand the monkeys and furthermore they won't get on anything that a monkey has handled," he adds emphatically.

(That's a tip for dog-owners, says Dawson. Just get a monkey to play with the family dog and end the flea menace.)

"Monkeys," he says, "are like children. Some are smart and others are stupid. Although some are not physically strong enough to do tricks."

"Once a monkey learns a trick," says Dawson, "it never forgets. You can teach it another trick and come back to the first one weeks later and he will remember it."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—About four years ago movie talent scouts raided the

New York musical "Roberta" and came back with two finds—a member of the orchestra named Fred MacMurray and an actor-hooper named George Murphy.

Both these boys now have a movie head-start on the show's leading man, Bob Hope, who belatedly makes a film debut in the new "Big Broadcast." As he has been signed for additional films, it appears he won't be long in catching up with the others.

Born in London, but reared in Cleveland, Ohio, Bob made his vaudeville and radio reputation telling Scotch jokes. And he was a canmy fellow, too, when the movies invited him out from "Roberta"—at $750 a week.

Rewarded For Waiting

He was doing well enough on the stage and air to be able to smile at the figure. If he came out at that price, he reasoned, he might sit around a long time with nothing to do in pictures. The more an actor is paid, the more careful the studio is to do right—and immediately—by him. He waited—proving that you don't have to be in Hollywood to know all about how it works.

Sidewalk Notice!

The town of Greenville has had recently approved by the Works Progress Administration a project for the construction of sidewalks. Recently the Town of Greenville has notified a number of property owners to construct sidewalks on their property. These property owners may avail themselves of aid from the Works Progress Administration in the construction of the sidewalks. It is estimated that with the free unskilled labor on the part of the WPA that there will be a saving in cost of about one-third. It is necessary, however, that in order for the property owners to avail themselves of this opportunity to get in touch with the City Clerk. The Board of Aldermen is desirous of constructing sidewalks on our main thoroughfares and improved streets. In many instances these sidewalks have been neglected and pedestrians have to walk in the Street. It is hoped that the citizens will cooperate with the Town in the construction of these sidewalks and thereby made it an inducement to our people to walk on the sidewalk rather than in the street. This may be the cause of saving a life or preventing serious injury to citizens and children of our City.

By order of the Board.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 3—(AP)—A brief, but speedy rally gave leading stocks another upward whirl today for as much as four points or more at the best.

The buying rush appeared after a desultory first hour and during the few minutes it lasted, put the ticker tape behind.

Plenty of stock came out on the upturn, however, and extreme gains were substantially reduced near the fourth period.

Bonds improved.

Daniels Selected President Of N. C. Literary Society

Association Adopts Resolution Urging Employment of Historical Research Worker

Raleigh, Dec. 3—Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, was this morning elected president of the State Literary and Historical Society. He succeeds Dr. W. T. Laprade.

B. B. Kendrick, Greensboro, professor of history in the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, was named first vice president; Mrs. Guion Griffith Johnson, Chapel Hill, was chosen second vice president; and Dr. C. C. Crittenden, Raleigh secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, was re-elected the Association's secretary.

Mrs. Johnson is a member of the staff of the Institute for Research in Social Science and an author of the recently published "Ante-Bellum North Carolina: A Social History."

Officers were chosen at a business session at which the association adopted a resolution urging employment by the state of a regularly salaried worker to conduct research work in order to continue effectively the task of marking historic spots throughout the state. In a "Whereas" to this resolution the association called attention to the fact that more than 100 histor-
