WORKERS GAIN EVERYTHING IN THIS CONTEST

Daily Reflector 'Cash Offer' Awards Await Winners

BIG COMMISSIONS ALSO TO BE PAID

Contestants To Get Credit for Both Old and New Subscriptions to Reflector

After one fully considers and realizes the possibilities to make real money in spare time in the "Cash Offer" Campaign that has just been launched by The Daily Reflector, there is little doubt that the decision will be to get busy at once and begin an active campaign for subscriptions and votes.

After one fully considers and realizes the possibilities to make real money in spare time in the "Cash Offer" Campaign that has just been launched by The Daily Reflector, there is little doubt that the decision will be to get busy at once and begin an active campaign for subscriptions and votes.

If only one award was offered and no cash commissions paid to those who are not awarded prizes, the proposition might not be so attractive. But there are five awards running into hundreds of dollars, all of which will be paid to folks living in this section in exchange for well directed effort on their part in their spare time during the next few weeks.

All of the awards are in cash—the one thing everybody can use. The first award is $600 CASH. This amount will be won by the worker in the "Cash Offer" Campaign who secures the largest number of votes for the sale of both old and new subscriptions to The Daily Reflector during the period of the campaign.

Second award of $400 will be won by the worker having to his or her credit the second largest number of votes for old and new subscriptions during the campaign. The third award offered is $150. Fourth award $75. Fifth award $50. In addition to this wonderful list of cash awards every other active candidate will be paid extremely liberal commission of twenty per cent in cash upon all money collected and turned in by them, provided they do not win one of the regular awards. This plan assures everyone who takes part that their efforts will bear fruit to the fullest extent and that all will be paid for the part they take in direct proportion to the amount of work they do.

The Daily Reflector through this "Cash Offer" Campaign offers you the opportunity—whether you live in Greenville or elsewhere—to earn extra money, in exchange for your effort during the next few weeks in helping to increase the circulation of this newspaper.

The Daily Reflector extends you a cordial invitation to join in the ranks and share in the distribution of the awards. It is a case of everything to gain and nothing to lose. The "Cash Offer" is a sure thing from the beginning as you are assured of a liberal commission in case you are not among the five biggest campaign workers who will be awarded one of the big regular awards.

The first step toward winning one of the biggest awards offered is the nomination coupon appearing elsewhere in this issue. Clip it right now and bring or send to Campaign Headquarters, secure a receipt book and all data relative to beginning an active campaign. Do this today.

LEAF GRADING APPEAL HEARD

Lower Court Ruling Appealed by Secretary Wallace

Charlotte, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Fourth United States Circuit Court of Appeals heard arguments today on the constitutionality of a tobacco inspection act passed by Congress August 23, 1935, empowering the Secretary of Agriculture to designate markets, upon the favorable vote of growers, at which government agents should inspect and grade leaf tobacco offered for sale.

The case came before the court on an appeal of the Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and others from a District Court ruling enjoining the Department of Agriculture and the District Attorney of Eastern North Carolina from enforcing the terms of the act.

Counsel for D. T. Curran and other tobacco growers, appellees, contended the act did not provide a valid regulation of interstate commerce; that inspection and grading on only three of 40 North Carolina markets violated the "due process" clause of the Federal constitution; that the act unlawfully delegated authority to the Secretary of Agriculture and to growers; and that it wrought irreparable injury to the appellees.

Attorneys for the Department of Agriculture argued that growers on the three markets where inspection was established had favored the move and the injunction prevented it being established at the others. They contended and cited authorities in support of their argument that the act did not unlawfully delegate authority to agriculture officials. (Continued on Page Six)

Hancock Partisans Seek Profit By Bailey Snub

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Jan. 11.—Partisans of Frank Hancock are seeking to turn to their advantage the so-called "snub" which Oscar L. Chapman, assistant secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission, delivered to Senator Josiah W. Bailey at Saturday night's Jack and Jill dinner here.

Likewise at least two political commentators of considerable statewide renown—Carl Goerch, radio man and publisher of The State and Tom Best, dean of Raleigh's reporters and correspondent of the Greensboro Daily News—have expressed the opinion that the studied omission of Senator Bailey's name by the speaker was a political boner.

Whether or not it was remains to be seen. As Best pointed out in a lengthy article, there has always been a tendency on the part of North Carolinians to resent "outside" interference in their politics; but whether Hancock can cash in

BIG BUSINESS CHIEFS ASKED TO MEET F.D.R.

Five Leaders Invited To White House Conference

NEEDS FOR RURAL RELIEF INCREASE

Wallace says Demand for Subsistence Help Greatest in the Great Plains States

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked five industrial chiefs to confer with him at the White House late today on the business recession.

Those invited for a five o'clock conference in the President's study were Alfred Sloan, chairman of the Board of General Motors Corporation; Ernest Weir, chairman of the Board of the National Steel Corporation; Lewis Brown, president of Johns-Manville; M. W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; and Colby Chester, head of the General Foods corporation.

Meantime Secretary Wallace told the senate unemployment committee that pleas for Federal financial aid from farmers, particularly from the Great Plains region, had been "rising steadily" since July.

Wallace said demands for subsistence grants averaging about $20 a month per family had more than doubled rural relief spending since mid-summer.

The areas where needs are greatest, he said, are Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Nebraska.

He said 108,000 rural families received direct subsistence grants in December, adding there was little likelihood that this number would decrease before the next harvest season. These were in addition to families receiving rehabilitation loans.

Elsewhere in the capital the national emergency council reported North Carolina had been allocated $92,776.51 from relief funds appropriated by Congress in 1935, 1936 and 1937.

Of this amount, the report showed $84,492.656 actually had been spent in the state with the rest expended as of December 31, 1937. More than half or $46,312,237 was spent during 1935-1936, with the 1937 fiscal year spending totaling $29,428,705.

Twelve Injured In School Bus Wreck

Chester, S. C., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Twelve high school pupils were injured, none seriously, today when State Highway Patrolman Legare Ansel reported, a kerosene truck struck their bus at Evans, three miles south of here.

Ansel said he had arrested the driver of the truck, whom he listed as Laverne W. Pitt, 34, of Columbia, on a charge of failing to stop as he approached the bus, which, according to the officer, had come to a halt to take on more pupils.

The driver was reported as saying his brakes skidded when he put on brakes on seeing the oncoming bus and an oncoming passenger bus through a dense fog.

Farmville Delegation Asks For Wider Road

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A Farmville delegation headed by George W. Davis conferred today with Highway Engineer Vance Baise asking that a mile of Route 258 in Farmville be widened and that curbs and gutters be provided on 2,700 feet of the project.

It is a bit difficult to figure out what Mr. Chapman could have said about Mr. Bailey without laying himself open to a charge of insincerity; for North Carolina's senior senator and the speaker are universally known to be as far apart politically as the poles. Even those who agree with Bailey would have realized that anything nice Chapman said about him was entirely "pro forma," while the New Dealers, who dislike the distinguished Raleighite would positively have frothed at the mouth.

an alleged insult to a third party and, perhaps inferentially to him, it is another question. There is no disputing the fact that a considerable number of North Carolina Democrats are more in sympathy with Senator Bailey than with Senator Reynolds and the New Deal, but there is also no disputing that Frank Hancock's record is almost as much on the New Deal side as is Our Bob's.

MORE ARRESTS IN DYNAMITING AT INSURGENTS

Four Persons Arrested in Asheville Allowed Bond

Elizabethton, Tenn., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Sheriff J. M. Moresland said today 17 persons were in jail here or were under bond in connection with the dynamite death of three children last Friday.

The sheriff said six persons from Pikeville, Tenn., were taken into custody last night at material witnesses, two at Elizabethton and four others at Asheville, N. C.

Those detained at Asheville, he said, were permitted to make bond for appearance here Saturday when eight men and a woman charged in connection with the blast, are scheduled for arraignment.

Moresland would not disclose the names of those detained as witnesses, among them a Knoxville man.

Sheriff W. L. Walling of Besseco county, was to be arraigned today. Walling, Sheriff Moresland said, was arrested yesterday on a charge of being an accessory after the fact in connection with the blast that wrecked the home of Harmon Gouge and killed his three daughters.

Three of the others, Crave and White Tollett and Lee Walker, all of Pikeville, Tenn., Sheriff Moresland said, were charged with murder. Five men and a woman were charged with aiding and abetting.

OFFICERS BALK TEN KILLED IN MOB VIOLENCE PLANE MISHAP

Negro Accused of Attack on White Woman Jailed

Greensboro, Ala., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Sheriff Calvin Hollis said today mob violence was balked here probable when a few officers held at bay a mob of about 250 men while a Negro was taken from his home and hurried to jail at Selma.

The sheriff said the mob formed while officers were going to the home of Lee Jones, 31-year-old veneer mill worker, to arrest him in connection with an abortive attack of Mrs. Robert Greene, prominent West Alabama matron.

Some of the deputies met the advancing mob about a block from the Negro's house, the sheriff said, and held the muttering men at bay while Jones was rushed out a rear door and hurried 60 miles to Selma, where he was booked on charge of attempted kidnaping.

Mrs. Greene was recovering today from contusions received when a Negro choked her last Saturday night. She is the wife of a former Resettlement Administration executive.

BYRNES WAGES FILIBUSTER ON LYNCHING BILL

Declares Negro In Control of Democratic Party

ACCUSES NORTH WITH DESERTION

Joseph Daniels Appeals For Southern Support of Wage and Hour Measure

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.), continuing a filibuster against the anti-lynching bill, said today "The Negro has not only come into the Democratic party—but the Negro has come into the control of the Democratic party."

The South "may just as well concede," he said, "it has been deserted by the Democrats of the North."

"One Negro whose name has heretofore been mentioned in the debate, Walter White, secretary of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has ordered this bill to pass, and Mr. President, it must pass," Byrnes shouted to the Senate.

The South Carolinian, his voice mounting in volume as his speech progressed, said that "if Walter White, who from day to day sits in the gallery, should consent to have this bill laid aside, the advocates would desert it as quickly as football players unscramble when the whistle of the referee is heard."

If the present anti-lynching legislation is passed, Byrnes said, White will make further demands on Congress.

A joint congressional committee, meanwhile, reported agreement on what provisions of the "ever-normal granary" program.

Senator Pope (R-Idaho) a committee member, said the wheat agreement was a "direct compromise" between the separate bills passed by the House and Senate.

Meantime, Senator Smathers (D-N. J.) made public an appeal by Joseph Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico, to Southern Congressmen to support Federal wage and hour legislation.

Daniels, publisher of the News and Observer at Raleigh, N. C., wrote Smathers congratulating the New Jersey Senator, a native of the South, for urging Southern Congressmen to support the wage and hour bill.

Winston-Salem, Jan. 11.—James S. Ficklen, president of the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company of Greenville, was today elected a director of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, the state's largest banking institution, which maintains offices at Raleigh, Winston-Salem, Asheville, High Point and Salisbury.

Mr. Ficklen is a leading citizen of Greenville and is widely known throughout Eastern North Carolina. For the past twelve years he has been a member of the board of directors of the Tobacco Association of the United States, and in 1937 was elected vice president of this association. He is president of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade chairman of the Library Board, a member of the Water and Light Commission, and a director of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

Hog-killings are big events in Dare County. Sadie Hendley, home demonstration agent there, said these events seem more like picnics, "but they get the work done and such dinners they have."

FREE MANY IN LIQUOR CASES

Defendants Released When State Takes Nolle Pros

A nolle pro was taken in five cases and a nolle pro with leave in 11 others in County Court this morning. Two of the cases involved charges of fornication and adultery and the others liquor.

Officers of a private detective agency, headed by A. S. Batson, which has been working in the county for the past several months, were listed as State's witnesses in each case. Members of the Greenville police department were listed as witnesses in several of the liquor cases.

A nolle pro was taken in each of the following cases: Louise Cook, alias Smith, fornication and adultery; L. P. Edwards and Lonnie Bell Allen, fornication and adultery; Bud Moore, liquor for sale; Roosevelt Jacobs, liquor for sale.

A nolle pro with leave was taken in each of the following cases, all of which charged liquor for sale: Dave Burnett, Frank Elks, James Henry Atkinson, alias David Joyner; Henry Lewis, Zeno Bill Allen, Claude Clemmons, Pearl Moore, Able Hemby, Willie Harper, Nancy Daniels, alias Latham; Babe Brown, Bedie Graham.

Other cases disposed of at the morning session: Jesse Johnson, Negro charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was found not guilty.

Homer McLawhorn, convicted of driving careless and reckless, was fined $25 and costs and had his driving license revoked for eighteen months, or until he has made satisfactory settlement with the prosecuting witness for property damage.

Seber L. Corbett was found guilty of being drunk on the highway and was fined $25, costs to be deducted.

Amos Wooten, Negro, was given a 90-day sentence, suspended on payment of the costs and $4.95 to the prosecuting witness, after conviction on a charge of larceny.

Simon Tyson, Negro, was given a 90-day sentence after having pleaded guilty to larceny.

Negro Sentenced For Firing On Policeman

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Judge N. A. Sinclair, in Wake Superior court, sentenced Beulah Dickerson today to five to seven years in prison following conviction of the negro on charges that she shot Detective Joe Lowe recently when officers tried to arrest her on theft charges.

Proper Tobacco Grading Insures Stronger Prices

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—The farmer who knows how to grade his tobacco properly is in a good position to take advantage of the higher prices paid for better grades.

But when various grades are mixed together, buyers will not bid as much for a farmer's offering as the different grades are really worth when sold separately, said L. T. Weeks, assistant extension tobacco specialist at State College.

The buyers must keep their bids down for their own protection, he explained, for an offering of mixed grades may contain a larger percentage of inferior leaf than it appears to have while lying on the warehouse floor.

And when mixed grades are dumped together, the company that buys it must make arrangements for sorting out the different grades and the expense of doing this must be taken into consideration when the buyer makes this bid.

And a farmer who knows his grades well is in a better position to determine whether buyers are offering him as much as he should get for his leaf, particularly on markets where there is no official grading service.

Improper grading, Weeks continued, is one of the weak points in the tobacco marketing program of many growers.

Special practice in grading leaf will be offered growers attending the tobacco short course at State College, January 25-28. Weeks pointed out.

The grading classes will be conducted by Dr. J. B. Cotner, professor of agronomy, and H. W. Taylor, marketing specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

AGENT ISSUES STATEMENT ON NIPPON POLICY

Declares Japan Ready for Next Operation If Necessary

NO EXPLANATION OF DECLARATION

Japanese Cruiser Apparently Hit by Chinese Shell While Trying Land Marines

Shanghai, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Japanese army spokesman announced enigmatically today that Japanese forces were "prepared for the next operation if necessary."

The spokesman's statement was made while an Imperial conference met with Emperor Hirohito at Tokyo to decide Japan's future policy in China.

China war fronts, the spokesman said, were quiet. Japanese planes rained bombs on the Hankow airfield and three newly discovered Chinese airfields in the interior. Japanese forces in Shantung province pushed westward from Tsingtao, which they occupied without resistance yesterday, and southward toward the Lungshai railway in a drive to trap thousands of Chinese troops.

On China's Southern coast a Japanese cruiser and destroyer exchanged shells with Chinese forces guarding the river approach to Canton, the Southern metropolis.

The destroyer retired, apparently hit, after trying to land a boat load of marines on an island. Four British-owned river vessels ran the gauntlet of shellfire to safety.

A Japanese push against South China to choke the flow of war supplies from the British crown colony of Hongkong to Canton and thence to Hankow has been expected several weeks.

Heavy movements of Japanese troops and artillery from the interior to the coast were reported in Shanghai. Since they did not arrive here it was believed the troops were reinforcements for Japanese trying to consolidate their gains at Hangchow for a drive to the west.

Carolina Reports Slight Fall of Snow

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Snowflakes descended on northern North Carolina, while elsewhere in the state rain fell early today.

Lee Denison, in charge of the weather bureau here, reported .06 of an inch of snow here, which was melting. Snow fell also in Goldsboro, Henderson, Clayton, Garner, Wilson Mills, Wilson and Selma.

Flakes, the first of 1938 for North Carolina fell in parts of northern North Carolina and Virginia Denison said.

At Rocky Mount and Wilson shortly after midnight it was raining. A light sleet fell in Charlotte early last night and this morning the city was blanketed by a heavy fog.

Aid Offered For Burley Producers

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Jan. 11.—Services of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture's marketing division will be offered the burley tobacco producer "every day the market is open" in an effort to improve the grades of weed offered for sale by the growers.

W. P. Hedrick, tobacco marketing specialist with the markets division, who has been conducting grading schools for the past month in western North Carolina, informed the State Department of Agriculture today that "grades of tobacco in many instances have been so poorly arranged that several buyers have refused to offer bids."

"The need for grading tobacco in western North Carolina has never been greater than it is today," he said, adding that "poorly graded tobacco is bringing many growers only a small portion of the income to which he is entitled."

"Yet," said Hedrick, "the growers themselves are more or less responsible for the low prices paid for 'jumbled' piles of tobacco. The buyers refuse to touch many mixed tobacco offerings. And it remains for the grower to prepare his product generally in keeping with the demands of the market, if reasonable prices are expected."

Meanwhile Hedrick estimated that more than 8,000,000 pounds of burley tobacco will be sold by North Carolina growers on the Asheville tobacco market.

"Conservatively, 15 per cent of the burley crop has already been marketed," he said, adding that "it is expected that the market will be closed by January 21."

History Made By Former ECTC Man

The doctoral dissertation of Dr. Claude M. Simpson, who was formerly a member of the English faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, has just made history, according to a recent article in the New York Times Book Review by appearing in microfilm form as the first such dissertation in the field of humanities ever to be so issued.

The treatise, "Early Rhode Island Pronunciation, 1690-1700," as Reflected in Published Town Records," is considered a valuable contribution to its field.

To make the microfilm record the typescript was photographed page by page on a roll of film.

This roll will be preserved by the American Documentation Institute in Washington, so that libraries or individuals who are interested may obtain at any time "a positive of the film negative or enlargements on paper" at a reasonable price.

The manuscript reached the reviewer in "a tiny can that looked like an advertiser's sample of a patent salve."

As he could not read it without special equipment, he took it to the reading machine of a New York Public Library, and this machine enlarged the print to normal size and threw the magnified image of the printed page on a ground glass so that it could be read easily.

According to the treatise, the careful study of Rhode Island speech of the period showed remarkable similarity between it and the speech of London of the same day, and this similarity was taken to indicate that London and Southeastern England had furnished most of the early settlers in Rhode Island.

Dr. Simpson, who was at E. C. T. C. in 1935-36, is now a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin.

AVOCADO SEASON IS CUT TO THREE MONTHS

Santa Barbara, Calif.—(AP)—If you like avocados—alligator pears to some people—get your fill between now and March. The Growers Association announces that, owing to unusual crop conditions, a harvest that usually extends over the whole year will be confined to three months. During that period, however, the avocados will be plentiful.

History Made By Former ECTC Man

The doctoral dissertation of Dr. Claude M. Simpson, who was formerly a member of the English faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, has just made history, according to a recent article in the New York Times Book Review by appearing in microfilm form as the first such dissertation in the field of humanities ever to be so issued.

The treatise, "Early Rhode Island Pronunciation, 1690-1700," as Reflected in Published Town Records," is considered a valuable contribution to its field.

To make the microfilm record the typescript was photographed page by page on a roll of film.

This roll will be preserved by the American Documentation Institute in Washington, so that libraries or individuals who are interested may obtain at any time "a positive of the film negative or enlargements on paper" at a reasonable price.

The manuscript reached the reviewer in "a tiny can that looked like an advertiser's sample of a patent salve."

As he could not read it without special equipment, he took it to the reading machine of a New York Public Library, and this machine enlarged the print to normal size and threw the magnified image of the printed page on a ground glass so that it could be read easily.

According to the treatise, the careful study of Rhode Island speech of the period showed remarkable similarity between it and the speech of London of the same day, and this similarity was taken to indicate that London and Southeastern England had furnished most of the early settlers in Rhode Island.

Dr. Simpson, who was at E. C. T. C. in 1935-36, is now a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin.

PRINCIPALS IN REGULAR MEET

Jasper L. Memory Of Wake Forest College Speaker

Speaking on deficiencies in high school teaching as related to requirements in the liberal arts college, Jasper L. Memory, professor of education at Wake Forest college, last night addressed the regular meeting of the Pitt county principals club.

Mr. Memory quoted comments on the subject by various members of the Wake Forest college faculty.

He quoted Dr. C. S. Black of the chemistry department, as saying that the greatest difficulties freshmen encounter are poor preparation in high school mathematics and inability to express themselves.

Dean D. B. Bryan was declared to have concluded that "the most obvious deficiencies that I have observed in the preparation of high school students for college are in the fields of French and mathematics. The teachers of French have had relatively poor training. The difficulty in mathematics is perhaps not so much the instruction given as the interruption of a year or so, which many students suffer between high school and mathematics."

He related that H. A. Jones of the mathematics department found that greater attention should be given in high schools to graphs word problems, the four fundamental operations in arithmetic and algebra, understanding of rules and the meaning of equations, etc.

Dr. H. B. Jones of the English department found the most obvious weakness in college freshmen impoverished vocabulary, lack of knowledge of the simplest grammatical terms and of sentence sense.

Dr. H. D. Paschall of the French department declared that French too often is taught in high schools as a side subject by teachers who are not capably equipped.

Dr. H. M. Polet, speaking from a Latin professor's point of view observed that many freshmen have not learned the vital lesson of accuracy, "and they know very little of the grammar, English or Latin, theoretically or functionally."

Dr. Benjamin Siedd of the English department declared that almost anyone can pass a -eing an educated man if he is a good oral reader, if he knows the simple rules of grammar and spells well, and is fairly well posted on history and current events.

Mr. Memory, after quoting the comments by the various professors, made recommendations to overcome the deficiencies listed.

Gets Appointment

New York, Jan. 11.—Announcement of the appointment of Mrs. J. B. Spilman of Raleigh as special representative of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women for the State of North Carolina, has been made by Miss Lena Madess Phillips of New York City, international president. Appointment of these international representatives, of whom there will be one in each state, is made with the approval and concurrence of the state president, who in this instance is Miss Elizabeth Conrad of Charlotte.

Duties of the international representatives are to acquaint the clubs throughout the state with the work of the international federation, to assist in the arrangement of programs for the observance of international night on February 25, and to stimulate interest and membership in the international federation which was founded by the national federation of the United States in 1930 and now has branches in 25 countries.

Mrs. Spilman is declared to be an admirable selection for international representative, since already in a brief term of service as member and vice-chairman of the North Carolina Unemployment Compensation Commission she has acquired the title of "North Carolina's Ambassador of Goodwill" because of her engaging personality and exceedingly likeable qualities.

The new international federation appointee comes of a long line of distinguished ancestors, her great grandfather, Patrick Monroe, having been a near kinsman and frequent companion of President Monroe. She was educated at Franklin Seminary in Virginia and Strayer Business College at Baltimore, and began her career as a teacher in the graded and high schools of North Carolina. While teaching history at the Greenville High School she married the late John Barham Spilman, bursar of East Carolina Teachers' College, and later served for 14 years as assistant treasurer of the college. She has been prominent in Democratic politics in the State and was elected vice-chairman of the State Democratic Committee in 1936, serving in that capacity until appointment to the State Unemployment Commission.

It's Odd But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

NEW YORK — T. Neugebauer, German scientist, has an explanation of ball lightning.

These balls of fire, ranging from the size of an alarm clock to the weatherman's sounding balloon, appear occasionally during thunderstorms. Their colors range from fire to lavender. They have been photographed.

They are probably, Neugebauer says, an electrical gas. Lightning in some manner unknown breaks up a mass of air particles into electrons and positive ions. This breakup is well known in laboratories, where an electrical discharge will break a good many air particles.

But no laboratory has enough power available to produce a sufficient number of the ions and electrons to imitate a ball of lightning. Neugebauer says the electrified particles form in sufficient numbers to act like a gas.

This electrical gas ball should disappear either by collapsing or exploding. The electrical fire balls in nature do both.

Washington — Notes on statemanship.

Under-new-management note: These stirring majority opinions that used to be written by liberal justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo may now be written by conservatives Justices McReynolds and Butler.

Net-yet-but-soon note: Semi-official sources which forecast the retirement of Justices Van Devanter and Sutherland are forecasting another retirement "with'n a year," although declining to be quoted by name.

Feb'ette On Canine
Oratorical note: Those who like their senators quiet should move to South Dakota, where they can be represented by Senator Bulow. Tradition has it that only once has he provoked a speech, and that was when he arose during the world court debate early in 1935 and said he must vote as his conscience directed him—which was against adherence to the world court. Rarely is he moved even to ask a question on the floor.

Dog note: Our pet community of Greenbelt, founded by Rex Tugwell on the outskirts of Washington, has deferred until spring its plebiscite on whether to have dogs or remain dogless. The 250 families now settled there decided the 600 families yet to come in should have a voice.

Utopia note: "I have never vexed the ears of the senate respecting 'budget-balancing,' because all of us are sent here to get all we can and thus unbalance the budget. Our constituents demand that we 'un-balance' the budget by securing appropriations. Only if and when Senator A or Senator X rises and says, 'Mr. President, as to that particular appropriation for my state, I must object thereto,' will we balance the budget. If only and when the senators from the state affected rise and object to appropriations for their state shall we have a balanced budget."—Senator Ashurst of Arizona.

McAfee Changes His Mind
Fame note: When a letter came to Washington addressed to "Hell-Raising Senator, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.," it was delivered to Senator Rush D. Holt of West Virginia. It was from West Alexander, Pa. We don't know what it said.

Backpat note: Senator McAfee of California, wartime secretary of the treasury, paying tribute to Senator Glass of Virginia, also a former treasury secretary, said this: "When I was a cabinet officer I felt, of course, that the senate was a distinctly inferior body, and I could not understand why Mr. Glass wanted to leave a position of such distinction as membership in the cabinet to become a member of this 'inferior' organization. I wish to say now that I am a member of the senate, that my views have entirely changed, and that my present conviction is that no cabinet officer should ever be considered superior to any individual senator, much less the superior of the senate itself."

(Supplemental note: Senators get $10,000 a year. Cabinet officers get $12,000 and outrank senators diplomatically and in the line Presidential succession).

Washington — Nations unlucky enough to be responsible for the deaths of Americans usually have to pay through the nose, but anybody looking for a pattern to guide this county and Japan in settling for the three Americans killed in connection with the Panay bombing can find a wide variety of precedent.

Two of the three Americans killed were members of the Panay crew and it usually comes high to kill an American sailor or soldier. Often the indemnity demanded for Americans not in the government is less—but not always.

As a matter of record, those zealous Yankees who insist one American is worth four or five "hurrin'-gans" would not be far off. There was a time 30 or 40 years ago when American miners and cowboys seemed to think Italians, Mexicans and Chinese were good mostly for targets, and killed numbers of them. Few paid for the crimes and the government established a price of about $2,500 a head as indemnity to the families of the victims. But in the same years if an American happened to be killed abroad the indemnity demands ranged into real money, $5,000 to $10,000 being not uncommon.

Episode In Persia
Robert Imbrie was a vice-consul in Persia in 1924. A mob injured him seriously in an attack near a fountain and Persia soldiers who were stationed to guard him in a hospital turned on him and murdered him.

This government demanded—and got—$50,000 indemnity for Mrs. Imbrie and exacted $120,000 for the cost of sending a cruiser to Persia to bring the body home. However, the $120,000 was paid as a fund to pay for education.

ALL SET FOR OLD-AGE SECURITY

Ray Eugene Curle, 4, is mighty proud of his social security card which the government issued him when he became a commercial announcer for a Memphis radio station. He is shown phoning the good news to a friend. Social security officials said he was the youngest person to whom a card had ever been issued from the Memphis, Tenn., office.

dozen Italians were lynched in Louisiana and California and the United States paid only $2,500 each or them. Similar sums were paid to survivors of several Mexican workers lynched in connection with murders.

In 1937 when Mexican soldiers killed a 22 year old American oil field foreman it cost Mexico $9,000 to crest the Chinese government $20,000 when in 1918 bandits shot Howard LeRoy O'Brien, chief engineer of the U.S.S. Monocacy of the Yangtze patrol. The Japanese government, in turn, had to shell out $15,000 because a Japanese sentry in Vladivostok, Russia, shot Lieut. W. H. Langdon, engineer of the U. S. S. Albany, in 1921 during the Allied occupation of Siberia. Yet when a drunken American sailor killed a Nicaraguan in 1930 the family received only $2,500.

sum based on what the Nicaraguan would have earned during the rest of his life. The sailor served two years in jail.

A Missionary Murdered
In 1888 Japanese natives killed 11 French sailors in a Japanese port and the French demanded $150,000 together with immediate execution of all guilty. All one afternoon Japanese officials beheaded their townsmen until the French, tired and fearful of reprisals, called a halt.

Persia paid heavily once before when fanatic Kurds murdered the Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree a Presbyterian missionary. Persia offered $9,000 but a U. S. consul demanded $50,000 together with execution of the ringleader and 13 participants. Persia, poor from loss of trade with war-torn Russia, agreed to the

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—The district solicitor may have to his heart's content Harriet county officers can file as much mud as Judge Henry A. Grady as they choose. Lawyers for and friends of the Godwin family can froth at the mouth all they want to about the fact that Mrs. Sina Pope Godwin, whose marksmanship with a pistol was responsible for her husband's sudden departure from this pleasant orb, has been put on probation.

But to Harry J. Sample, state Probation Director, it's "just another case" and he has no desire to get tangled up in it. He told this correspondent that Judge Grady has cooperated "splendidly" with the probation division, but emphasized the fact that he knows nothing about the facts of the Godwin case and has no opinion whatever about the merits. Judge Grady's decision to let the comely self-made widow off with payment of some $700 in costs.

Speaking of Judge Grady, it seems the Clinton Jurist may have opposition this year in the formidable person of Henry Stevens, of Warsaw. If the former American Legion National Commander does run, it will be interesting to see whether or not he will make an issue of the fact that Judge Grady sat on the Superior Court bench of North Carolina while an active and admitted official of the Modern Ku Klux Klan.

If he dies, North Carolina may have another Black case and there will be some curiosity to see what certain people who loudly denounced the Alabama Senator will do when confronted with the fact that a North Carolina jurist not only was a member of the Klan before he was a judge, but sat on the bench while bound by the oath of the notorious "Invisible Empire."

Reverting to Mr. Sample, the probation director, he has issued a report showing that 205 persons were placed on probation since November 1. During the two months, he reported, two probation orders were revoked, both being for failure to comply with the conditions of the probation prescribed by the judge.

Word from down Wilmington way is that Isaac C. Wright, one of the dryer dries of the state, plans to run for the judgeship which is to be relinquished by Superior Court Judge E. H. Cranmer, of Seatonport, and which is already being sought by Solicitor John Jay Burney.

Mr. Wright evidently doesn't care about the acid statistics which indicate that New Hanover, biggest voting county of the Eighth, has always and eternally been as wet as the Atlantic which washed its shores.

PREPARED PAY BENEFITS SOON

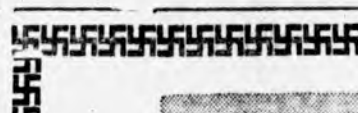

Weekly Payments Go To Unemployed During January

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—Extensive preparations are now in progress in the Unemployment Compensation Division of the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission for paying the weekly benefits to eligible unemployed workers meeting the requirements of the law when they become due the latter part of January.

One distressing condition exists—that of workers who are unemployed and whose employers have made no quarterly reports, or incomplete quarterly reports on their earnings.

'Come on!' The other struck out at Nelda. Liz made a grab at Nelda's hair, but desisted abruptly, and putting her hands to her back, gave a howl of pain.

'What about us? Don't you think we have any hopes?' Liz interrupted, but her tone was less militant.

until the Commission has obtained this data from employers. Field deputies have been instructed to proceed with prosecutions of employers who have not made their quarterly reports for the first three quarters of 1937, on the ground that they are obstructing the payments by failure to report on their employees.

We have been as lenient as possible on delinquent employers, but longer delay of these reports prevents the payment of benefits due their employees who become unemployed and throws the machinery of the court out of order.

Community Athletic Club To Be Organized Here

NEXT MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

All Persons Interested in Becoming Members Invited

Much interest is being manifested in a proposed Greenville Athletic Club and all persons interested in becoming a member of such an organization are invited to a meeting at the Armory next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

At a preliminary organization meeting last night, Charles Whedbee was named temporary secretary. Other temporary officers were named, but the club is expected to organize permanently at next week's meeting.

Although the club is in its infancy, it is hoped to have at least 100 members composed of Greenville men. The objective of the club will be to provide a means of exercise and recreation for men of the community.

Various athletic games, such as basketball, handball, etc., will be played. The club will be strictly a community and not a commercial affair. A small membership fee will be charged, however, to provide equipment and pay for lights, heat, water for showers and other requirements.

Sponsors declare they already have permission to use the armory. A campaign for members will be put on following next week's meeting. But anyone interested in becoming a member is urged to attend the session and join in the organization of the club.

ALL-SOUTHERN CAGERS MEET IN UNC-WF GAME

Chapel Hill, Jan. 11.—Two All-Southern basketball stars—Jim Waller of Wake Forest and Captain Earl Ruth of North Carolina—clash at Chapel Hill tonight in the feature individual duel of the Tar Heel and Baptist game. Waller scored 27 1/2 points as a sophomore last season. Captain Ruth ranked well up among the leading Carolina scorers. Waller is a forward and Ruth a guard. They may be opposite each other Tuesday night.

TAR HEELS WELL KNOW SPASSARD'S ABILITIES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 11.—When North Carolina and Washington and Lee basketball teams clash at Lexington, Va., Saturday night (January 15), the Tar Heels will need no introduction to the Generals' All-Southern center, Bob Spessard. Well do Carolina players and supporters remember Spessard's scintillating exploits in the finals of the conference tourney last winter when he scored 25 points to lead his team to a 44-33 victory over the White Phantoms.

EARL CARSON ANOTHER GENERAL CAGE STAR

Chapel Hill, Jan. 11.—Earl Carson, All-Southern forward, is another of the any reasons why the University of North Carolina basketball team respects the ability of Washington and Lee. Carson along with his buddy and teammate, Bob Spessard, All Southern center, are the star players of the 1937-38 season who will play host to the Tar Heels at Lexington, Va., Saturday night (January 15) in the first of two games this season. The teams meet again at Chapel Hill February 17.

THREE U. N. C. BOXING LETTERMEN IN LINE-UP

Chapel Hill, Jan. 11.—Three lettermen may be in North Carolina's starting line-up when the Tar Heel boxes open their season at Chapel Hill Saturday, January 15. They are Captain Joe Murnick, 125; Tom Bass, 135, and Joe Fisher, 145. Captain Murnick, who lost only one bout last season, may not make the 125 pound weight. During the off season he put on 15 additional pounds. In the event Murnick is overweight, he will compete in the 135-pound class with sophomore Cy Jones moving in the 125 weight.

UNC-WF Cagers Clash This Evening

Chapel Hill, Jan. 11.—North Carolina and Wake Forest basketball teams will start right where they left off last season on Tuesday (tonight) when they clash at Chapel Hill in the first of two regular scheduled games this season. The Tar Heels and Demon Deacons put on one of the best hardwood shows in the state last season with the largest margin of victory not exceeding two points. Wake Forest won the first game 24 to 23, while Carolina copped the second engagement 31 to 30. Meeting again in the semi-finals of the Southern Conference tournament Carolina nosed out the Baptists again 37 to 35.

PIRATES MEET Y.M.C.A. TEAM

Game to be Played in Wright Gymnasium Here Tonight

Coach Joe Alexander pits his E. C. T. C. Basketeers against the experienced Rocky Mount Y. M. C. A. team in Wright gymnasium here tonight.

The "Y" team has one of the strongest independent clubs in the eastern part of the state and will give the collegians a tough scrap.

The starting line up for Rocky Mount is not known but it is known that Manager Joe Savage will have a strong team against the Pirates. The Pirates have won two games and lost two in getting their schedule under way and are definitely cut to stay in the win column. It is expected that Coach Alexander will start his coach troops tonight and will attempt to wear down the more experienced visitors before turning on the steam with Smith and Spelton, forwards; Martin, center; Johnson and Cecil, guards.

The probable starters for tonight will be Dudash and Guthrie, forwards; Hinson, center; Eidenhour and Lyde, guards. Monday's practice session was spent in perfecting the offensive attack and in working the ball into the shifting man to man defense style of play which will face the Pirates tonight and in the games of Friday and Saturday night when they invade Virginia to play the U. S. Naval Base and William and Mary. Tonight's game will be called at seven-thirty and there will be no preliminary game.

DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO'S?

TED YOCHUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. Come round-up time—I'm in the saddle for hours, and not sparin' myself. A Camel sure hits the spot then. I get a mighty pleasant 'lift.'"

Yes, and to America at large, Camel's costlier tobaccos have such a special appeal that they are the largest-selling cigarette in this country!

AUTO MECHANIC Al Patterson says: "In the garage business you have to catch your meals on the run. I find that Camels seem to smooth the way for good digestion. The Mrs. smokes Camels too."

CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

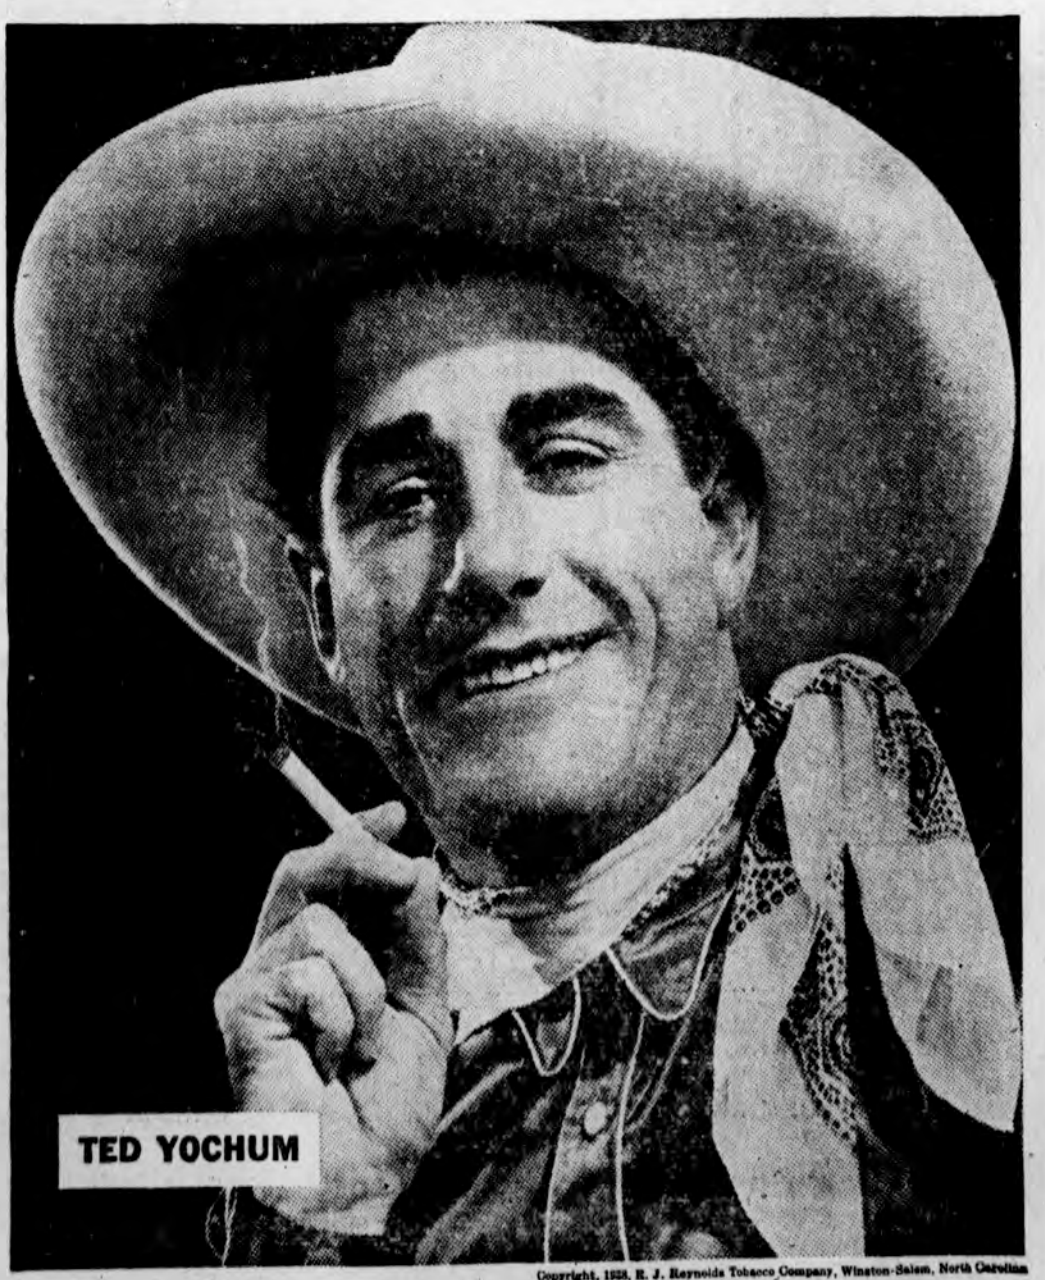

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher works in a department store. She says: "When the rush gets me to feeling worn out—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Sherwood says: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

PHARMACIST J. E. Bayus says: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking. And when I say I never tire of Camel's taste—it's experience talking."

CHAMPION TYPIST Remo Poulsen: "I enjoy Camels from one end of the day to the other. And Camels are so mild, they don't irritate my throat."
