DEFEATS MOVE TO LAY ASIDE LYNCHING BILL

Senate Rejects Proposal of Senator Glass, 52-34

OPPONENTS STILL ARE CONFIDENT

Meanwhile Recommendations of Little Business Men Laid Before President

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The Senate refused today to lay aside the anti-lynching bill, against which Southern Senators have filibustered a month.

The vote, 52 to 34, came on a motion by Chairman Glass (D-Va.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee, to pierce-hole the anti-lynching measure and take up the $1,400,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill.

Despite today's vote, opponents of the anti-lynching measure expressed confidence a projected new move to sidetrack it would be successful next week.

Glass moved consideration of the appropriation bill as soon as Senator Borah (D-Idaho) had completed an attack on constitutionality of the anti-lynching measure.

A joint congressional committee concluded action, meanwhile, on a compromise "ever-normal granary" bill, which, members said, would be ready for House consideration Tuesday.

Twenty-three recommendations to combat the recession were placed before President Roosevelt in another part of the Capitol by a committee representing the small business men's conference. White House officials declared afterward the President thought a large majority of them were constructive and possible of fulfillment.

The recommendations, which included repeal of the undistributed profits tax, private and federal loans (Continued on page three)

Treasury Of City Swelled By $1,500

The city treasury will be swelled by $1,500 as soon as the franchise granted the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company is executed and delivered.

The long wrangle over the franchise was brought to an end last night when the Board of Aldermen adopted on final reading a proposal to grant the company the right to operate here for the next 20 years.

The $1,500 will be a rebate on telephones paid for by the city since the old franchise expired in 1933. The new agreement provides 15 free telephones for use by the city. In addition to other concessions, the city has withheld payment of telephone bills for the past several months, pending an agreement with the company.

Clark Cites Need For Larger Force

Chief of Police George Clark last night presented a formal request to the Board of Aldermen for additional policemen.

"We should have an officer at each school when the students are dismissed, but it is impossible now with our limited force," declared the chief, who said he wanted to be on record as requesting more men.

Members of the board expressed themselves as being in hearty accord with the suggestion and a larger police force for Greenville appears a good possibility in the near future.

The need of extra officers to prevent the streets from being used for "race tracks" also was discussed.

Only Three Fires Here Last Month

During the first month of the year Greenville had only three fires with loss in excess of $5, Chief George Gardner disclosed today in his monthly report.

The total loss from the three fires was estimated at $1,422, most of which was a result of the fire at the home of W. M. Jones, at which the damage was estimated at $1,400.

Proposed Athletic Field And City Recorder's Court To Be Decided At Election

Delegation asks Board Right To Decide On Park

ELECTION CALLED FOR MARCH 7TH

Proposal Calls for Issuance of Bonds Not To Exceed $35,000 For Project

The proposed athletic field and playground for Greenville became a step nearer reality last night when the Greenville Board of Aldermen passed a resolution calling for a bond election tentatively set for March 7.

The decision was taken after a group of prominent citizens appeared before the board and requested that the people of the city be given the privilege of deciding for themselves whether or not they wanted to spend funds for this project.

Members of the board expressed the opinion that they would only be following the principles of democracy in allowing the citizens to decide the question for themselves. They made it plain that the body was not going on record either for or against the proposal, but merely calling the election so the citizenry could decide for itself.

Under the resolution the people would vote on whether or not to sell bonds, not to exceed $35,000, to purchase a site and erect a stadium and playground facilities. About a year ago the movement created much interest here and an option was secured on 10 acres of the old fair grounds site. If the election carries, it is tentatively proposed to exercise this option and proceed with further plans.

After the resolution calling for the vote had been passed the board selected a committee to see if PWA funds could be secured to help pay for the project and otherwise further the movement. Named on this committee were G. V. Smith, J. H. Rose, A. E. Hobbog, W. H. Dail, Jr., and H. H. Duncan, non-members of the board, and J. M. Taft, Jack Spain, J. A. Watson and Mayor M. K. Blount of the board.

Mr. Smith was the first to speak in behalf of the proposal, declaring that he felt the progress and growth of the city demanded such a project. He reviewed efforts on the part of a number of citizens to secure an athletic field and playground and added that practically all persons contacted had endorsed it. He recalled that interested parties had started a canvass of the city to raise private subscriptions and had met the suggestion on many sides that, since the project would be owned by the city, all residents should have part in its development and the proper procedure would be for the city to call an election and see if a majority of the people favored the proposal and if so sell bonds and develop the field, with the citizens themselves to pay for it.

Mr. Dail then spoke briefly, saying that he was "delighted to be here in the interest of the children." He added that in his opinion that it was "absolutely necessary" and paying for it would be a small matter.

Hobbog declared that his only regret was that "we did not push the project when it was up about a year ago." He added "we want a bigger and better Greenville and this is one step toward it."

H. H. Duncan then presented a petition bearing the names of a large number of citizens asking that the board call the bond election. He related that the petition had been in circulation only a day or so, but that it bore names representing from 50 to 75 per cent of the taxable property in the city. He stated that he would rather see an athletic field and playground here than any thing else.

Vernon Parrish, the third member of last year Aldermanic board to support the proposal, declared as he saw it the petition merely asked the board to give the people a right to decide the question for themselves.

The $35,000 mentioned in the petition was derived at after investigating a similar project at Rocky Mount. Mr. Smith explained. Tentative plans call for a stadium here with a seating capacity of 1,800, while the one at Rocky Mount seats 2,700 and cost more than is proposed for the local project.

GETS POOL ROOM PRIVILEGE

City aldermen last night granted S. J. Roberts, Jr., the privilege of operating a pool room at 941 West Fifth street provided he pays the customary levies in advance.

J. W. H. Roberts, local attorney, appeared in behalf of the would-be pool room operator. The privilege was granted upon condition that the applicant is to be sole proprietor of the establishment.

'I Shot My Daddy'

Detained in jail at Greenville, S. C., on an open charge is 13-year-old Charles Stockman, (above), who is quoted by a deputy-sheriff as saying, "I shot my daddy after he abused my sister and pulled her around and slapped my mother." The father, Ernest W. Stockman, was shot in the thigh and died of blood poisoning which developed, hospital attaches said. This picture of young Stockman was made in jail.

WAYNE NEGRO GOES TO DEATH

Dies in Gas Chamber For First Degree Burglary

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—James Marshall, 30-year-old Wayne county Negro, was executed at State's prison today for first degree burglary.

He was the first person to die for burglary in North Carolina since February 13, 1931, though seven men received death sentences for the crime in the Ehringhaus administration and another was commuted by Governor Hoey.

The Negro entered the gas chamber at 10:30 and the gas was turned on at 10:30. He was pronounced dead 13 minutes and 27 seconds later.

As Marshall entered the chamber he waved to witnesses, then talked to prison officials.

Among the witnesses was M. C. Corbett of near Goldsboro, who said he was kidnaped and robbed of $150 by Marshall. He said he did not testify against Marshall as he was not in the state when the trial took place. He said his 16-year-old son, Alton Corbett, kidnaped with him, also came to see the execution, but was not permitted to attend.

Earl Davis of Goldsboro, also was a witness.

Marshall was convicted of entering the home of Robert Smith. He was the 197th person to be put to death in the chamber here and the 26th victim of gas. (Continued on page six)

LIQUOR GROUP DECLINES BID

State Commission Refuses to Join Association

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The State Liquor Commission refused today to join the Monopoly State's Association, an organization of liquor boards of states having laws similar to this state.

A special committee from the State Association of County Boards met with the State Commission and suggested that joint monthly meetings of the state and county boards be held. No formal action was taken.

Chauncey Jones, a member of the Wake County Board, told the State Commission a special squad of officers soon would "crack down" on bootleggers in the county.

Commissioner Webb Williams of Elizabeth City, moved that the State Commission join the Monopoly State's Association. Chairman Culler Moore declined to second, on the ground it would be an expense, so the motion failed in the absence of Commissioner T. J. Murphy of Greensboro.

City Court With Higher Authority Up to Citizens

VALID LAW SAYS SUPREME COURT

Officials Express Belief Plan Will Prove Beneficial to all Concerned

The question of whether or not Greenville shall have a recorder's court with jurisdiction to dispose of a majority of the cases which come before the present police court will be decided by the citizens at an election tentatively set for March 7.

This decision was made by the Board of Aldermen in regular session last night.

At the present time the city court, held each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday morning, has power to act only in cases which carry a sentence of 30 days or a fine of $50 or less, the same as enjoyed by justices of the peace.

Should the voters favor establishment of the higher court, the board would have to name a recorder, solicitor and clerk. Funds realized in costs, however, would more than exceed the extra cost and the city would realize a profit, those familiar with courts declare.

Oak Grove Farmer Dies of Pneumonia

C. M. Wynn, prominent farmer of the Oak Grove community, died at his home Wednesday afternoon following an illness of paralysis which developed into pneumonia last Saturday. Funeral services were conducted at the home Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. J. M. Perry, pastor of the Robertsonville Christian church. Burial was in Taylor cemetery nearby.

Surviving Mr. Wynn are two sons, M. L. and J. L. Wynn of the home, and four daughters, Misses Dallas and Selma Wynn of the home, Mrs. J. H. Taylor of the home community and Mrs. Clarence Hardy of near Williamston. One sister, Mrs. Willie Ann Teel, of Akron, O., also survives.

He was married in 1906 to Miss Lela May Pierce of Martin county, who died 20 years ago. He was a member of the Cross Roads Christian church and took an active interest in community affairs.

Active pallbearers were C. A. Robertson, J. C. Taylor, Hubert Roebuck, Frank Bailey, Gus Williams, Roy Coburn.

Honorary: S. A. Wallace, H. N. Gray, Joe James, David House.

'Infatuation' Slayer

Honora Miguez, former employee of the Louisiana State highway department, is shown on trial at New Iberia, La., for the "infatuation" slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Allen Crawford, 23, formerly of Asheville, N. C., who was shot to death while dining with her husband in a cafe at New Iberia last September 21. Witnesses testified he met her on a sight-seeing trip the day before, immediately professed his love and threatened to kidnap her unless she agreed to run away with him.

REPRIEVE FOR SMOAK SOUGHT

Member of Defense Counsel Asks For 30-Day Stay

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—W. L. Farmer of Wilmington, one of the attorneys who defended E. L. Smoak, asked Governor Hoey today to grant a 30-day reprieve to Smoak, who faces death February 18 for the murder of his daughter, Annie Thelma Smoak.

Farmer said Clayton Grant, chief counsel for Smoak, was ill in a New York hospital and said he based his request for a reprieve on the necessity of conferring with Grant about the case, or having Grant handle the fight for executive clemency.

Meanwhile an unofficial notice of an appeal for Wiley Brice, which would indefinitely stay the execution set for February 11, was received today, Warden H. H. Wilson of State's prison, said.

"I have received a letter from the Alamance clerk of court saying Brice's attorneys gave notice of appeal in open court," said Wilson. "This notice would automatically stay execution of the sentence, pending decision on the appeal, but (Continued on page six)

Trio Murdered By Infirmary Inmate

78-Year-Old Giant Runs Amuck Spreading Death

Tewksbury, Miss., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Three inmates of a state infirmary were slain and two others critically wounded early today, state police charged, by a 70-year-old giant inmate who ran amuck with a revolver and was at large for three hours before being captured in nearby Lowell.

The dead were: Michael O'Keefe, 70; Edward Mercier, 70; and James Magee, 78. Joseph O'Donnell, 55, and John Lewis, 76, were in a critical condition.

The alleged assailant was John Mack, 70, of Chelsea, six-foot-three inmate who fled the institution after the shooting. Nearly three hours later he was picked up in Lowell by two Lowell policemen after squads of state troopers and city police had concentrated on the area around the institution here.

Mack was immediately placed in a cell at police headquarters. He offered no resistance and was unarmed when captured.

Patrolman Thomas Nelson said Mack was booked on a murder charge.

Captain James Kennedy said Mack admitted shooting the five men. He did, Kennedy quoted him, because they called him a "bad name."

Decide To Go Ahead On Drainage Projects

Drainage projects occupied the attention of the Board of Aldermen last night and after hearing recommendations from H. L. Rivers, city engineer, and the chairman of the street committee, voted to proceed with the work.

Approval was given a recommendation that drainage pipe be installed on Third street, beginning at Pitt and running west, with the idea of laying sidewalks chiefly for the convenience and protection of school children going to Third Street school.

It was also decided to proceed with a drainage project on Fourteenth street.

It was explained, however, that much progress had been made in this connection during the past 12 months.

More Time Provided on Sewer Connections

An ordinance requiring that all houses in the city have sewer connections, which for the past two years has met such stiff opposition the deadline was deferred one year in each instance, again has been made ineffective for another year.

The Board of Aldermen last night voted to extend the deadline, which expires April 1, another year, thereby, no doubt, heading off a delegation to ask that the action be taken.

It was reported that there are 300 or more houses, practically all in the Negro sections, which have no sewer connections.

FARMER MEET IS SCHEDULED

Farm Bureau Sponsors Session at Jackson Tuesday

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Matters of interest to peanut, tobacco and cotton growers will be considered Tuesday at Jackson, at a meeting of farmers from 11 Eastern North Carolina and several Virginia counties, E. F. Arnold, executive secretary of the State Farm Bureau, said today.

Arnold said the group would decide whether to push a separate peanut control bill or back the general farm bill. Also, it will consider possible tobacco and cotton referenda arrangements.

Saying some 2,000 "minute men" would be active in getting the vote out for such referenda, Arnold added tobacco referenda gatherings were conducted in Pitt, Wilson, Lehigh and Gates counties this week.

Weds Ned Parks

Ned A. Parks, 24, third principal in the North Carolina marriage drama of Basil (Pat) Ryan, New York copper heir, was married to Miss Dorothea Redman, 22, (above) of Washington, D. C. Parks recently settled out of court a non-support action brought by Marjorie Barkley, to whom a baby was born six weeks before her marriage to Ryan.

DEATH CLAIMS PITT ATTORNEY

P. R. Hines Succumbs After Six Months Of Ill Health

Peter R. Hines, 55, died at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. T. H. Bowen, near Ballard's last night at 10:30 o'clock from a lingering illness. He had been in declining health for the past six months and was confined to his bed since November.

Mr. Hines was born in Ayden March 4, 1882, the son of the late James S. and Elsie Bland Hines. He had spent his entire life in Pitt county. He attended preparatory school in Bethel under Professor McWhorter, later attending Richmond Medical college in 1903 and 1904. He graduated in law at Wake Forest college and was admitted to the North Carolina bar in 1916, coming to Pitt county to practice his profession. He was County Solicitor for two terms.

He was a member of the Pitt County Bar association and St. Peter's Catholic church of Greenville.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Charles Gable from the home. Burial will be in the Ayden cemetery.

Mr. Hines is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Fannie May Bowen of Ballard's and one son, George Stancill, five years of age; three sisters, Mrs. W. M. Carter, Mrs. Emma Alligood and Miss Lena Hines, all of Ayden. Also surviving are several nieces and nephews.

Active pall bearers will be: Julius Brown, John B. Barker, James C. Worsley, David M. Williford, O. V. Cannon and Edgar Dixon.

The list of honorary pall-bearers includes members of the Pitt County Bar Association, various county officials and a large number of friends throughout the county.

Officials Named For March 7th Election

Registrars and judges for the proposed elections March 7 to decide on establishment of a city recorder's court and on selling bonds to erect an athletic field and playground were chosen by the Board of Aldermen last night.

Mrs. J. C. Tyson was named registrar for the court house box, with C. F. Manning and J. W. Foley as judges, and C. A. Musselwhite alternate.

Mrs. W. W. Phelps will serve as registrar for the city hall box with Mrs. Sallie Jackson Evans and S. B. Curran as judges, and D. C. Moore, Jr., alternate.

France Joins Britain in Plans to Guard Neutral Shipping In Mediterranean

Barcelona, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The British freighter Alcira, trying to run the Spanish Insurgent blockade, was bombed by two planes and sunk today, 20 miles south-east of Barcelona.

Her crew of 25 and an observer for the non-intervention patrol, all British, were rescued by a Spanish Government sloop and fishing vessels and brought to Barcelona.

A Barcelona communique said the planes came from the direction of Palma, Mallorca, insurgent naval and air base.

Like the British freighter Endymion, sunk by an unidentified submarine off the Spanish East coast Monday, the Alcira was trying to carry a cargo of coal to a Government port.

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The British government aroused by the second sinking of a British merchantman off the Spanish coast within a week, today intensified forceful efforts to clear the Mediterranean of prowling airplanes and submarines.

The British ship Alcira sunk today in the Mediterranean coast off Barcelona Spain was attacked by two insurgent airplanes, the Spanish Government Defense Military reported.

France joined Great Britain in plans to guard neutral shipping on the Mediterranean by force if necessary. French Ambassador Corbin informed Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of France's acceptance of British anti-piracy proposals.

France and Britain together were reported reliably to have massed a joint fleet of 70 destroyers in their Mediterranean patrol.

Bone Enters Race To Retain Office

Rocky Mount, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Walter Bone, Nashville attorney appointed by Governor Hoey to the Superior court bench from the second judicial district last July to succeed Judge M. V. Barnhill when the latter was moved up to the State Supreme court, announced his candidacy today for election.

With one opponent, I. T. Valentine of Nashville, already in the field, Bone issued a statement in which he declared "the good of the office should be placed above personal ambition x x x I regard the office of Superior court judge as one of the highest and most responsible positions which a man can be called upon to fill."

Better Alarm System For Fire Dept. Needed

A representative of the Southeastern Underwriters Association, following a recent inspection of the fire department equipment here, recommended improvements to the alarm system, but reported other equipment in good shape.

The representative explained that a saving would be realized through improving the alarm system. He estimated that the insurance rate would be reduced five cents on the $100 if the recommendation was carried out.

Greenville May Enter Garbage Can Business

The City of Greenville is considering going in the business of selling underground garbage cans, but not for a profit.

City aldermen last night heard a representative of a firm manufacturing the product and expressed keen interest in purchasing this type of garbage containers and selling them to citizens at cost.

The proposal, it is believed, will provide an improved sanitary condition and also reduce the cost of collecting the waste, enabling the trucks to make rounds more often.

Senior Class Play Tonight
The lighted towers of skyscrapers and neon signs are seen through the windows of a New York City apartment which is the scene of "The Patsy" the play that is to be presented by the Senior class of E. C. T. C. in the Austin Auditorium tonight at eight o'clock.

The elaborate lighting effects were designed by John David Bridger, who is also in the play.

The roar of traffic, including the rush of the subway, and the medley of other street noises can be distinctly heard. The sound system was contributed by Adrian Ayres.

The interior of the apartment, with the windows arranged so that the sights and sounds can come through effectively was built by Roy Barrow, the president of the class.

The director of the play, Clifton Britton, is delighted with the ingenuity of the boys who worked out the scenery, lighting and sound effects, and says these have a great part in making the play a success.

He thinks it will be one of the most spectacular plays ever given at the college.

The play is a comedy and full of interesting situations that keep the audience interested. The actors will show tonight that they have been as busy on the play itself as others have been on the stagecraft.

ATTENTION MEMBERS OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH!

Next Sunday morning, February 6th, there will be placed in the vestibule of the church and in all departments of the school, receptacles for donations of clothing, food supplies, fuel and cash to be used for relief of unemployed and other needy people of our community. It is impossible for our local relief agencies to meet all of the demands which are made upon them and it is necessary that we lend what assistance we can in the meeting of present needs. Donations will be disbursed through regular agencies and not handled by separate groups, that we may cooperate in the efforts being made to avoid duplications and omissions. Officers and teachers of church school departments are requested to get in touch with members of their groups and ask that donations be brought in Sunday morning. Clothing should be in good condition and food stuffs non-perishable.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Rabbin Coon
Hollywood—The alleged "discoveries" of any screen star are myriad. Those who claim credit for first unearthing the talents of such as Chaplain, Shirley Temple, or Gable should be laid end to end.

Here's an instance of how the "Columbus business" works: Ann Rutherford.

Ann's mother, Lucille Mansfield Rutherford, was a film player in the old Biograph days, probably can be credited as Ann's "real discoverer." Ann worked in vaudeville and stock with her parents, later on the radio. Nat Levine (then at Republic) signed her from the air. In a year she played more than a dozen leads, had to take a rest. The short "Annie Laurie" was next, the lead in "The Devil Is Driving" and another short "Carnival in Paris."

Jack Chertok, Metro's short producer, was her second Columbus. Producer John Considine, looking for a girl for "Bonnie and Clyde," saw Ann's "Carnival in Paris" and decided she was the girl. Simultaneously, Director Clarence Brown saw her lurching in the commissary, selected her as his choice.

"I've found the girl we need," he told Considine.

"So have I" Considine told Brown. So Ann Rutherford has four—at least four—discoverers. Levine (now at Metro), Chertok, Considine, and Brown!

Old Inn Party
A dignified hostelry, peering perhaps amazedly through its protective palms at the smart-sleek rumble and roar of Hollywood boulevard, was 35 years old the other night. By coincidence, the Warner Bros. film, "Hollywood Hotel," titled after the air show and indirectly after Hollywood's oldest inn, was ready for release. Parties have been given for much less reason, and those sentimental Warners are not the ones to let a 35th birthday go uncelebrated—especially in these days of nation-wide hook-ups.

It was a very nice party, particularly because it brought the old-timers out in force. Flora Finch, and Jean Hersholt and Donald Crisp—two to whom the talkies have been most kind—and Bryant Washburn, Herbert Rawlinson, Jean Acker... and the one and only Queen of Sheba, Betty Blythe, looking prosperous and maturely pretty in furs and orchids. These, and many others, and there were sentimental reminiscences and tears for the old days when Hollywood hotels "Thursday evenings" were the social center.

New Generation
But among the younger guests, and perhaps among the old-timers too, there was more interest in Olivia de Havilland, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell, Marie Wilson, Rudy Vallee... The movie generations are friendly—and parted, the evening passing with no somber reflections (spoken at least) on the quick passing of fame.

I'll remember Hobart Bosworth, now the movies' grand old man, standing tall and fine and straight as ever, his white hair gleaming, remembering when pink-skinned "Indians" prowled for the early cameras outside those very windows

WAREHOUSE CHANGES

The Fifth Warehouse To Be Built For Next Season

There have recently been some important changes in tobacco warehouse circles here, that look to the enlargement and strengthening of the Greenville market.

Mr. G. F. Evans, one of the proprietors of the Eastern Warehouse, sold his interest in that house to Mr. G. E. Hughes of Tarboro. Later Mr. Hughes and Mr. O. L. Joyner both sold their interest in the Eastern to Mr. O. Hooker, leaving the latter the sole owner of that house.

Messrs. Joyner and Hughes have formed a new copartnership to engage in the warehouse business.

They will have a new warehouse built on the Munford property, just across Dickinson avenue opposite the terminus of Ninth street. This new house will be 100x200 feet in size, the largest on the market, and will be a modern constructed warehouse in every respect.

President of East Carolina Teachers College Endorses Educational Series

EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS COLLEGE
Greenville, N. C.
February 4, 1938

Home Building and Loan Association,
Greenville, North Carolina.

Gentlemen:
It seems to me that you are doing a very fine thing in opening up an educational series in your Building and Loan Association for the purpose of helping young men and young women through college. You are not only encouraging thrift in those who are saving the amount necessary for college expenses but you are also opening up an opportunity for the boys and girls to prepare themselves for greater usefulness in life.

I take pleasure in commending such a step to those who have children who are to be educated in the future.

Very truly yours,
LEON R. MEADOWS, President.

If Your Boy or Girl entered the First or Second Grade of the Greenville Schools this Year, under our Educational Series—

$0.68 per week will assure him of one year in College
$1.25 per week will assure him of two years in College
$2.50 per week will assure him of four years in College

A large number of Greenville people are daily taking advantage of this wonderful opportunity to assure their children of a College Education!

CAMPBELL FOE FOR TEACHERS

Pirates To Play At Buie's Creek Saturday

The E. C. T. C. Pirate basketball squad went through a strenuous drill last night in preparation for their coming tilt with Campbell College at Buie's Creek Saturday night.

The squad will be without the services of Big Jimmie Johnson, who will go to Durham with the E. C. T. C. boxing team for their tilt with the Duke Freshmen. An epidemic of colds has weakened the team to a considerable degree and it may be necessary to shift reserves into the starting line-up against the Camels. Wednesday night's scrimmage yielded several painful floor burns and bruises of a painful, though not serious nature.

Lewis Gaylord is being groomed for the center berth with the reserves and may step into the line-up. Baxter Eidenhour will probably start at forward in Earl Smith's place with Smith going into Johnson's place at guard. The Pirates are entering the Camel camp being on revenge for the one point loss in football which was inflicted upon them last fall. Every member of the basketball line-up except Eidenhour is a football player and everyone is still smarting over the Campbell defeat.

NEGRO CAGERS IN 34 TO 18 WIN

Locals Defeat Largest Colored School In State

The local Negro high school auditorium was crowded beyond standing room last night to help their team triumph over the largest Negro high school in the state.

For the first few minutes of the game both teams appeared on about equal terms, but before the first period the locals had taken a 12 to 3 lead and as the game grew older the margin grew greater, at the half the score being 21-9.

The team from New Hanover county was one of the best dressed teams that has visited the local school. The visitors have always dominated most of the schools in the state in all sports and the final minutes gave the Greenville rooters a good chance to enjoy and feel proud of a team that is without a doubt one of the best in Eastern Carolina.

The remaining home schedule is as follows:

Feb. 10—Wilson; Feb. 15—Henderson Institute; Feb. 24—Rocky Mount.

Summary:
Greenville—Edwards 12; Mays 8; Daniel 6; Wilkins 6; Smith 1—Total 34.
Wilmington—Harris 8; Pennie 4; Cobbs 3; Goodman 2; Anderson 1—Total 18.

SMALL BUSINESS MEN SAY IT WITH YELLS

Swarming to Washington to discuss economic conditions and present their views to President Roosevelt, small business men of the nation opened their conference with a hectic, rip-roaring session. A goodly portion of the crowd sought to gain the floor and give vent to their personal views about this and that. With yells and roars of approval or disapproval of the shown storming the platform in an effort to be heard above the din.

HIGHS TO MEET WAYNE TEAMS

Both Boys and Girls Engage Goldsboro Here Tonight

The boys' and girls' cage teams of Goldsboro high school will come to town tonight to engage the teams of Greenville high in a double header in the high school gym.

The girls will play the first game tonight, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The boys' game will start at 8:45 o'clock.

The Lady Phantoms will be seeking revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of the Goldsboro sextet, in which they lost in the final minutes of play. This was the local lassies' first game, and they have improved greatly since then.

The Green Phantoms will be seeking their eighth Class A triumph tonight when they take the floor. They previously defeated the Earthquake five 29-13 in a very rough game. The Phantoms will be out to avenge the 28-0 defeat that Goldsboro administered them in football.

Contribute to Clock
College Station, Raleigh, Feb. 4—Members of the senior class at N. C. State College will contribute $1,000 for the installation of a clock in the school's Memorial Tower. The clock will cost $1,300, but A. F. Bowen, treasurer of the college, has agreed to raise the remaining $300. In order to raise their $1,000 the seniors will each contribute $3.00.

Ring Tourney Set For College Here

Coach Joe Alexander, of E. C. T. C., was advised today that his petition for holding the high school invitational boxing tournament had been granted and the date set for March 9, 10 and 11th.

Invitations are being prepared and forwarded to every high school in the eastern half of the state and a large entry is expected.

Coach Alexander hopes to make this event one of the biggest athletic drawing cards in this section and asks the support of all sports lovers in putting over this big undertaking. Arrangements and further details will be published at a later date.

One of the recommendations was for a permanent advisory council of small business men to consult with the President.

Secretary Early told newspapermen after the White House meeting the President personally did not want to name such a committee, but had asked Roth and his colleagues to advise with Secretary Roper with a view to setting up such an organization.

LIBRARIES FOR RURAL PEOPLE

Service Recently Established Growing Rapidly

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—County library services where farm people may avail themselves of good literature are mushrooming over the entire State, Dr. Jane S. McKimmon, of State College, declared today.

As an example, she pointed out the Cabarrus county library which was opened in 1934 by home demonstration club women. Beginning with 500 volumes, the shelves have now been swelled with an additional 500 during the intervening period.

The project began as a community collection at the White Hall club. Then the members of this club agreed to turn over their books to the Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs for a county library. One of the club members agreed to spend two afternoons a week at the club house where she served anyone who came for reading matter.

Each club has a librarian who is responsible for books while they are in her community. Magazines which have been contributed from town and county form a popular addition to home reading, Dr. McKimmon declared.

One of the unique features of the library service is that no one is expected to return a magazine. She is merely asked to pass it along to some one else.

"Brother Charlie" Ponders Comeback

Charles W. Bryan By E. E. MAKIESKY
Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—Charlie Bryan doesn't say yes and he doesn't say no, but the brother of the "Great Commoner" may be in the running again for governor in 1938. He retired as mayor of Lincoln last spring, hinted he was just about through with politics, the last of the Bryans to leave politics after approximately 50 years of representation by one member or another of the famous family.

Giving Up Farming
Now Charles W. Bryan, recalling he said on his retirement from the mayor's office he had "one good thing" left, thinks the occasion may be at hand to get that fight out of his system. He's campaigning to enact this "tax equalization plan."

To carry out the proposal, he says he has pledged his active support to place a slate of independent candidates for state offices in the field "if it is necessary."

He wouldn't say whether he'd be a candidate himself, but pointed out "I have never promised or pledged I will not again be a candidate."

"Brother Charlie," as he was dubbed when he was teamed with the distinguished William Jennings Bryan in the latter's political battles, is so enthusiastic about his tax plan he has announced he is giving up operation of his three large farms to devote more time to "special legislation in which I am interested."

Petitions Sought
Program of the man who was three times governor includes exemption of home owners from taxation on property up to $5,000 and enactment of provisions calling for a state income tax directed at persons investing their money in bonds and stocks; a tax on present tax-exempt securities; a sales tax on luxuries; a tax on the salaries of governmental employees; a reduction in state government costs which he claims are 30 to 40 per cent too high.

The homestead tax exemption proposal will be placed on the ballot as a constitutional amendment if sufficient petitions are obtained.

Court Side - Steps Merits In Ruling On Johnston REA

Highest Tribunal Hands Down 24 Decisions In One Day, Practically Clearing Docket

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Feb. 3.—The Supreme Court deftly side stepped any opinion or commitment as to the merits of the Johnston County rural electrification row, affirming Judge Henry A. Grady's dismissal of the action brought to restrain the Carolina Power and Light company and the Directors of the county Electrical Membership corporation from agreeing that the power company should construct all the power lines in Johnston.

Judge Grady held that the plaintiffs who brought the action were not entitled to injunctive relief because they were not members of the cooperative. The Supreme Court agreed with him and tossed the suit into the discard.

In point of fact, any contrary decision would have created all kinds of confusion as the power company has already the lines over which the controversy flared, and it is would under any circumstances have difficult to conceive that the court ordered these lines torn down.

As for Judge Grady's finding of fact that the power company and the directors acted in bad faith, the Supreme Court took the very easy course of keeping their noses out of the merits of the finding.

The decision struck Judge Grady's findings from the record, but made no pretense that it was done because the Judge was wrong in his facts. The deletion was based solely on the fact that the finding "was immaterial."

"On their appeal to this court, the defendants contend that the findings of fact made by the court and set out in the judgment with respect to the motives of the defendants in entering into the agreement in writing—are not supported by the records."

"These findings of fact are immaterial and should be stricken from the record."

The court did refer, however, to the fact that the row was stirred up by the Federal REA by a statement that the records show that plaintiffs started suit on the assurance they would not have to pay any costs.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Feb. 4—Governor Clyde R. Hoey, Mrs. Hoey and Miss Isabel Hoey are planning to attend the concert by the famous Westminster choir at the Goldsboro High school auditorium next Wednesday night, February 9.

The Governor is familiar with the work of the Westminster singers through directors of music for his Shedy church were trained at the school. The chorus is being brought to Goldsboro by the Eastern Carolina Synphonic Choral Association of which L. S. Bullock, a Westminster graduate, is director.

This is a non-profit organization for the development of singing and the appreciation of good music. The Association has units in Snow Hill, Farmville and Ayden in addition to its headquarters in Goldsboro.

Opening its Spring term the North Carolina Supreme Court will here arguments in twenty-six cases next week beginning Tuesday. All except one are from the First, twentieth and Twenty-first Districts. One case (Jones vs. Warren) is specially set from the Tenth.

Tuesday only cases from the First District will be called, but beginning Wednesday cases will be called as docketed, regardless of the district from which they originated.

There are four criminal and twenty-two civil cases, ten of them from the First.

Merrill Evans, Hertford county, who is reported to be planning to enter for the State Senate from the First District, was in Raleigh Thursday. With Dudley Bagley, director of the state REA he saw Governor Hoey. Mr. Evans told your correspondent he has not definitely made up his mind about the campaign.

Transfer of Omega Powell, Negro, who won considerable notice when Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott found he couldn't fire her, to an elevator in the Revenue building will be halted with great rejoicing if it improves the service in Mr. Maxwell's building because it now is probably the world's slowest.

Representative J. T. Benton of Perquimans writes your correspondent that he will be a candidate to come back to the General Assembly of 1939.

M. B. Nicol of Nicola Farm, Essex, writes the Department of Conservation and Development an interesting experience with Scuppernongs.

"I found a semi-wild vine on the side of a woods road that had not been robbed. I gathered little more than a gallon of the grapes.

"I pressed out several quarts of juice in my crude way. Then I added sugar and water to them to make wine. A month later instead of finding wine, I poured off four quarts of delicious grape juice (never bought such) each quart a different color—from almost water color to deep red.

"I added more sugar and water, expecting to make wine, but made several more quarts of Good Juice. Then I mashed the grapes some more and made some more juice. Still expecting to make a quart of wine. Made some jelly of the first juice.

"Ten quarts from a gallon of grapes sounds so much, and I would not believe it if I had not done it."

Tobacco beds which have begun to dot the countryside have brought a warning from J. O. Rowell, State College extension entomologist, concerning possible fire beetle attacks.

PAUL WRIGHT SOBS ON WITNESS STAND

Paul Wright, on trial in Los Angeles for the slaying of Mrs. Wright and John Kimmel, is shown in this dramatic candid picture as he rested his hand on his arm and sobbed during the grueling cross-examination by Prosecutor Ernest Roll who pounded away at Wright's story until the defendant collapsed and had to be assisted from the courtroom. The case is expected to go to the jury Feb. 8.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—We have just been reading a story about holdout trouble in the baseball fields and can say that there is practically no holdout trouble in Washington.

It is true that there is a baseball club here which has not been much in the pennant race of recent years and there may be holdout trouble there. But there is a playing team of about 435 Congressmen who will be glad to sign two-year contracts at the same old $10,000 a year pay they have been getting for years past. They will ask the usual "extras" of 20 cents a mile for travel to and from the training camp back home but outside of that they will be glad to pay for their own meals and uniforms.

A Few Give Up

It is true that a few of the members have decided to give up the game for good and go into side lines such as the practice of law, which they think may prove more profitable.

Such a one is Senator Steiwer of Oregon who has resigned after nearly a dozen years in the Senate. But almost before he had turned in his equipment a substitute had been found out in Oregon who the administration claimed, was better for its purposes even than Senator Steiwer, since Steiwer, being a Republican, has not battled 300 for the New Deal.

You would think there might be holdout trouble among some of the first string players. All are getting the top salary the league allows so they can't hold out on that account. Yet there are little sweeteners in the way of patronage appointments for friends and appropriations for schoolhouses and tugboat landings for the home town and it seems that some of the boys who consider themselves indispensable should be asking a larger take before they sign up for spring camp.

Such is not the case and the only reason they ask for patronage and concrete dams is to keep the fans from throwing pop-bottles back home when election time comes around.

Senators Willing, Too

The same applies to the 32 senators who also will be up. No coaxing will be required to get them to sign six-year contracts. Traditionally senators play a header game than the more numerous players in the other house. They get longer contracts and they are more prone to ignore the boss signals. Some of them will grit their teeth and swing away for an attempted, home-run even though the boss whispered to them that a snappy sacrifice hit past shortstop would do the team more good.

But regardless of their independence, when contract signing comes around they are a fairly amiable lot and if the chief says to them: "Play away out" they will back far into the outfield and try to understand a play the likes of which they never heard of before.

There will be months at a time when the boys will insist on battling fungus to each other when the boss is trying to wrangle them into the field for a little serious playing. Yet when contract signing time comes around they will be there ready to play dumb or better ball as the case may be, and eager to wield a knife and fork at the training table.

Present to witness the demonstration Sausage, spare ribs and backbone were carried.

At a date fixed by the Negro county agent the representative (Mrs. Bertha Sawyer) will come to the county during the summer and give a demonstration in the canning of fruits and vegetables.

Mrs. Sawyer was assisted in the demonstration by Mrs. Dupree and Mrs. Mabel Wilson.

The agent visited the 4-H clubs in the county, taking with him new literature for the year. The clubs are doing just fine, and the boys and girls are proud to be members.

The agent is asking that all club boys and girls place their order with the county agent at once for pure bred chickens.

Don't forget the meeting of the 4-H club presidents in the agent's office February 19.

Judicial Contests Certain In State

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, Feb. 4—At least nine contests appear certain in the 12 districts which will elect Superior Court Judges this year.

Only three incumbents, so far, have nothing to worry about in the matter of the Democratic primary, and even this trio may find the going tougher between now and the primary. The three so far unopposed are Judge J. Paul Fritzel in the Fifth, Wilson Warlick in the Sixteenth and A. Hall Johnston in the Nineteenth.

Elsewhere along the line there is an abundance of would be Solicitors, and it begins to appear that Secretary of the Elections Board Raymond C. Maxwell is going to be kept busy collecting the $65 entrance fee which is necessary to qualify a judicial candidate to get his name on the primary ballot.

A survey of the situation shows that in the nine districts where contests loom, no less than twenty-two candidates have made known the fact that they intend to run. And there will be others, no doubt, before the lists are closed.

By districts, the roster of candidates runs something like this:

First: C. Everett Thompson has recently been named by Governor Hoey to fill the unexpired term of Judge Walter L. Small who retired because of illness. Judge Thompson will run for the full term. Solicitor Herbert Leary has already announced against him and there may be others. Leary is said to be a first rate back slapper and a vote getter of no mean ability. Judge Thompson is highly regarded among the lawyers of his district.

Second: Ilinois Valentine has filed for the post held by Judge Walter Bone, who went on the bench by appointment to succeed Judge M. V. Barnhill who was elevated to the Supreme Court.

Sixth: Judge Henry A. Grady has announced he will not stand for re-election. Solicitor J. A. Powers, Kinston, and Henry L. Stevens, Warsaw, former National Commander of the American Legion, have filed their fedoras in the ring, with rumors rampant that others will do a bit of flinging. There are also rumors without any definite confirmation that Emergency Judge Cooper of Kinston will retire on account of sickness and that pressure will be brought by Stevens supporters to have Powers named to the emergency bench in order to clear the way for their candidate.

Eighth: John Jay Burney, solicitor, and Clifton Moore, Burgaw, are hot after the robes to be relinquished by Judge E. H. Cranmen Southport, who will quit after a long active career.

Tenth: Judge Marshall Spears is retiring. Solicitor Lee Carr of Albemarle, Luther Carlton of Roxboro and Recorder Court Judge L. J. Phipps of Chapel Hill are in the race to succeed him. Carlton tried to run last time, but put his fling fee and application in the mails just a bit too late.

Ninth: Here an incumbent seems in for a real fight. Judge N. A. Sinclair wants to continue on the active list, but he will have opposition from his former law partner Robert H. Dye and from Q. K. Nimocks, Jr., both of Fayetteville. Others are expected to get into this free for all.

Twelfth: Reports have it that Judge Lewis E. Teague of the High Point Municipal court will run against Judge H. Hoyle Sink.

Fourteenth: Judge W. P. Harding is quitting and the merriest sort of a mad scramble looms for the post. J. L. Delaney, William H. Bobbitt and J. Frank Flowers, all of Charlotte, have already announced, while politicians are bandying the names of John A. McRae, P. Marion Reid, R. Marion Ross and A. C. Jones as likely entrants.

Twenty-first: Incumbent Judge E. C. Bivens will probably have to contend with Solicitor Allen H. Gwyn and former State Senator J. M. Sharpe, if with no others.

Vote Offer Ends Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night ends the biggest vote offer of the remainder of the campaign. The candidates who are in this campaign to win will lose no time in getting subscriptions while this offer lasts. Votes on subscriptions will take a greater drop after Saturday, February 5.

OPPORTUNITY APPRECIATED
With such a wonderful array of Cash Awards to compete for as The Daily Reflector has provided it is no wonder that the enthusiasm provoked has spread into practically every home in the large territory this newspaper blankets.

That "out of town" candidates are keenly alert to the unusual opportunities they have of winning a Big Award is evidence by the splendid interest manifested in the prizes. Every town should have a representative in the Cash Offer Campaign as all compete upon the same basis and persons residing even on rural routes have an equal opportunity with everyone else to win the very best prize.

OUTSIDE INTEREST GROWS
Towns outside of Greenville are now starting to line up their favorites with an eagerness that bids fair to make the race an interesting one. The importance of being earnest in everything one does whether it is work or play in order to obtain the most gratifying results is an exemplary idea that fits nicely into the policy that members can adopt to advantage.

A systematic canvass of one's oldest friends first will bring the most promising results. Then after one has seen their best friends and acquaintances, one should spread out to new territory, so to speak, and make a systematic canvass of the other fellow's friends and acquaintances.

BIG VOTE OFFER
282,000 extra votes will be allowed upon every $30 club of subscriptions secured and turned into Campaign headquarters, or mailed by Saturday night, February 5th. Out of town club members should bear in mind particularly that all subscriptions that are mailed sometime Saturday, and bearing a post mark to show that they were mailed that day, will be accepted by the Campaign department to apply on our BIG EXTRA VOTE OFFER.

This is positively the BIGGEST EXTRA VOTE OFFER that will be made and those who do their work now, will have much to be thankful for when the votes are counted. A very decided drop will be made in the EXTRA VOTES allowed for subscriptions after Saturday night, February 5th. Now is the time for one to put in his best efforts getting subscriptions.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A dragging recovery got under way in today's stock market after many leaders had tumbled to new lows since 1935.

Although the ticker tape shuffled along listlessly throughout, early losses running to a point or so generally were converted into gains of as much in many cases near the fourth hour.

Bonds were quiet and uneven.

JUDGE SCORES COURT RULING

Clarkson Firm Believer in Will of The People

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Feb. 4.—A ringing dissent in the case of Sing vs City of Charlotte discloses that Justice Heriot Clarkson, oldest member of the state Supreme Court, is a firm believer in a "will of the people" which the courts should be "slow to thwart."

Long noted for his pointed, cogent opinions he minced no words in disagreeing with his colleagues that the City of Charlotte has no power to levy a tax to improve its airport. His six "brethren" ruled that an airport is not "necessary" and therefore taxes cannot be levied for its improvement and upkeep without a vote of the people.

"Whether the judgment of the citizens of Charlotte in establishing this airport was found is not before this court," he wrote. "The citizens have made the investment and now ask this court for the privilege of protecting it without the additional expense of a special election each year to approve the allotment of funds for an enterprise which has the almost unanimous approval of the entire tax-paying citizenship."

"When the people have spoken," he warned, "the courts should be slow to thwart the popular will. The abiding and protective spirit which broods over the entire constitution is that the will of the people, as far as it may be determined, shall prevail; that which tends to defeat the express wishes of the sovereign citizenship is inimical to the spirit of the Constitution."

He pointed out that Charlotte's electorate established the airport with only 119 dissenting votes and that there is danger that its investment will be wiped out if improvements are not made so that the airport shall remain of the first rank.

"It is apparent that the revenues from the airport are insufficient to maintain it in such a way that it would retain its status as an air-mail distributing center—Unless its revenues are supplemented by tax funds, the large investment of the city will rapidly depreciate—and that which was conceived as a far-sighted, advantageous and progressive enterprise will die for want of sufficient public support during the early years of the project."

would be able to dispose of all cases except those which must be tried in Superior court.

County court is held once each week, but when Superior court is being conducted it is in recess and cases necessarily must be delayed.

At the present time Ayden and Farmville have a recorder's court.

WAYNE NEGRO GOES TO DEATH

Warden H. H. Wilson said that Marshall had admitted his guilt and this morning had again expressed the feeling he was glad he had never killed anyone. In the death chamber, Wilson said, Marshall told the officials to "live right" and "don't do like I did."

REPRIEVE FOR SMOAK SOUGHT

there was no indication of such action on Brice's commitment papers. "I have written the clerk for an official notice," Wilson said.

Brice was convicted in Alamance of a murder committed in 1926 and was sentenced to be executed.

Shrimp Appetizer

Shrimp appetizers usually are popular on the buffet table. Select fresh uniform shrimps, clean and chill. Arrange them "hanging" on a small bowl in which is placed chili sauce, mayonnaise or any other relish. Serve wood picks for spearing the shrimps.

voted to establish the court, but at that time a case was pending before the State Supreme Court as to the legality of a similar tribunal in Wilson and city officials decided to wait until this case was settled. The Supreme Court in a decision recently handed down, upheld the validity of the Wilson court.

It also was decided to give the people of Greenville the opportunity to decide the question for themselves.

Supporters of the move point out that the chief advantage of a recorder's court for Greenville would be in the disposition of justice without delay. At the present time a person arrested on a charge over which the city court does not have jurisdiction has to appear before the mayor and if probable cause is found he held in jail or under bond until County court convenes. Under the proposed court the city tribunal

ETIQUETTE

By JOAN DURHAM
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Valentine's Day brings romance to the fore—and that turns the mind toward engagements. How long should engagements last, how should they be announced, what responsibilities does the engagement put on the couples concerned?

Six Months Long Enough

Mrs. Richard Boardman, head of the Bride's School in New York, believes in short engagements. "Make up your minds slowly—and then get married quickly," she advises. Three to six months, in most cases, is long enough to be engaged.

No girl should think of wearing an engagement ring until the engagement has been announced. If she does, she puts others in the embarrassing position of not knowing whether to wish her happiness or not.

A couple really does not become engaged until the betrothal has been announced to the public either by notice in the newspapers or at some function at which the news is made known. The announcement should come from the bride's family.

Walk Things Over

As many things as possible should be settled before the engagement is announced. For example, the problem of dates for the girl whose fiancé is far away for some length of time.

It's natural for the girl to continue to be friendly with old acquaintances. She and her fiancé should come to an agreement.

At parties given for the couple the young woman is seated at the right of the host and the young man at the right of the hostess.

At dinners at which they are not guests of honor, it's "natural and likely" he'll be placed next to her," says Mrs. Boardman.

At bridge parties it's a matter of courteous consideration that the girl be placed at the table with her fiancé.

By JOAN DURHAM (AP Feature Service Writer)

Students are streamlining etiquette at Oregon State College in Corvallis, Ore.

They've found that several time-honored rules won't work at fraternity or sorority house gatherings and at large gatherings of students. To prove their points these nicely-conscious students have organized an etiquette committee which puts on demonstrations in campus houses and halls. Teams of two or three girls travel from house to house at dinner-time to demonstrate modern collegiate etiquette.

Janet Hinkle, attractive junior from Portland, and one of the leaders of the program of common sense behavior, lists some of the advocated changes:

When everyone at the dinner table rises every time older persons come in, it causes confusion. Circumvent that custom by requiring standing on the part of only the persons on either side of the place the newcomer is to sit.

Always approach your chair from the left to avoid barked shins, when a long line of diners is being seated on the same side of the table. (Either side has been pronounced as correct by etiquette authorities.)

Let the hostess or house mother lead the way to the dining room—even if she goes ahead of honored guests. The latter is a practice that is tabooed by etiquette dictators. It will save embarrassing hesitancy.

Dates Up to Individuals

Other points touched on by the demonstrators are: How to hold a partner at a dance, proper introductions, being pleasant to and considerate of chaperones, opening doors for dates.

Miss Hinkle says the committee first inquires of the boys what they think is best, then confers with the girls and finally, "when we find general agreement on some practice we put it into our rules."

Asked how a girl should thank a boy for a date she said the committee hadn't gone into too much detail—and then added, "We leave a few things to individual initiative."

EXPLAINS NEW LEVY IN STATE

Intangible Tax Nothing New for North Carolina

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—North Carolina's new intangible taxes, though termed "experimental" by Commissioner A. J. Maxwell, are nothing new under the sun in North Carolina. It has been pointed out by Tom Alexander, head of the intangibles division of the State Department of Revenue.

The only "experiment" about them is in the manner of their being levied and collected, Mr. Alexander said.

In past years these taxes were supposed to be collected by counties and municipalities after they have been duly listed by the taxpayers. However, under the then-existing Constitutional provision for "uniform" taxation the rate was extremely high and it was a matter of common knowledge that few tax payers listed their intangibles for taxation.

As a result of the constitutional amendment permitting classification of taxes, the legislature adopted a policy for taxing intangibles which its members believed would result in a vast increase in the total amount of revenue derived from this source, Mr. Alexander said. It was also provided that the listing and collecting machinery should be in the hands of the state, though half of the resulting revenue is to be returned to counties and municipalities.

Rates much lesser than those in effect under the "uniform" plan were set in order to encourage an honest listing of intangibles and to discourage the widely prevalent evasion of taxes, Mr. Alexander said.

The intangible division has issued a resume of tax, its first paragraph of which reads:

"The new law of taxing intangibles is an important change in method and a radical change in rates of tax on intangible personal property."

The new rates of tax represent an average of not more than ten or fifteen per cent of the rates formerly applying to this class of property.

Tomorrow, "Classification" is not new in North Carolina.
