WILL PROCEED ON PLANS FOR ORGANIZATION

Speakers Stress Need For Sponsoring Organization

OTHER PROJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Group of 50 Representatives Enthusiastic at Meeting Held Here Last Night

Adopting a slogan suggested by J. C. Lanier, "the boys of yesterday are the men of today," a group of approximately 50 business and professional men gathered at the Rotary Club building last night and endorsed a movement for the establishment of a "sponsoring organization" for Greenville.

Each of these who expressed their views were of the opinion that such an organization was essential to the progress of Greenville.

After two hours of enthusiastic discussion, it was decided to meet again next week, tentatively set for 7 o'clock Wednesday night at the Rotary building. Sponsors declare that should there be any change in the time or place of meeting the public will be informed through the press and otherwise.

Three major topics were discussed—possibility of having the proposed $1,500,000 veterans hospital located in this community, operation of a baseball organization and establishment of a Chamber of Commerce or some other sponsoring organization.

Those few persons who have provided baseball for Greenville for the past several years declared "what we want to know is if Greenville wants a baseball club and if so will you give it your support."

Every person present voted in the affirmative and it appears that a local team is assured, although for a while the situation appeared gloomy since the citizenry in general had evidenced little interest.

Last night's meeting grew out of a casual discussion by a few of the city's most public spirited citizens who proposed such a session be held to get the views of representatives of the city's business and professional men. Their efforts appear to have been well rewarded and the enthusiasm displayed indicates that the movement for an organization to promote Greenville is definitely going ahead.

Two previous mass meetings, attended by approximately 200 persons, resulted in the decision to go ahead with the formation of a Chamber of Commerce, but both times the movement died almost at birth.

Instead of devoting the discussions to any one topic, talks made were along various lines, all of which however, had the same idea—making a bigger and better Greenville.

The meeting was presided over by J. B. Kittrell, who called on several of those present to speak on anything they wished to discuss.

Among those speaking were J. C. Lanier, J. W. Waldrop, K. W. C. '90, J. Nat Harrison, Clifton Edwards, R. C. Deal, Julian White, Gus Forbes, J. G. Clark, R. S. McInure, Mayor M. K. Blount, G. V. Smith, M. O. Minges, W. W. Lee, H. H. Duncan.

SIX FATALITIES DURING MONTH

Additional 25 Persons Injured in Highway Accidents

Six persons were killed on the highways of Eastern North Carolina during the first month of the year, the monthly report issued by Lieut. Lester Jones, head of Troop A of the State Highway Patrol revealed today.

In addition to the fatalities 25 other persons were injured in the 39 accidents investigated by the patrolmen.

An even 400 arrests were made during January, 48 of which were on charges of driving drunk. Of the 400, 383 were found guilty and only 17 acquitted. Sentences meted out as a result of these convictions totaled 15 years, four months and 10 days. Fines amounted to $5,202.09 and costs $2,536.82.

The patrolmen recovered stolen property valued at $3,775 and collected $11,848.49 in revenue for the state.

During the period 1,132 applicants were examined for drivers' licenses, 1,033 of whom were issued the permits.

The entire force traveled 123,235 miles during the 12,914 hours on duty and used 750 pints of oil and 6,990 gallons of gasoline.

Other activities included: Vehicles inspected 1,494; lights corrected 2,019; warnings issued 33; courtesies extended 400; cars recovered 7; vehicles stored 19; complaints investigated 215; citations made 231.

New Policies For Patrol Announced

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—The State Highway Patrol, under the supervision of Major Arthur Fuik, is inaugurating three new policies, according to announcement of A. J. Maxwell, Commissioner of Revenue.

The policies are listed by Mr. Maxwell as:

- 1. Patrolmen are required to spend the major part of their time on highways outside municipalities.
2. Patrolmen are required to observe the same regulations in parking streets and roads, they are expected to impose on others.
3. Patrolmen are expected to prosecute without fear, or favor all reckless drivers and all important violations of traffic laws.
The Commissioner announced these policies in a signed article in "A North Carolina Week" in which he pointed out that the state's death rate on the highways is more than double the average of the ten best states. He cited figures to show that North Carolina's death record is worse than forty-two other states slightly better than the seven worst states.

To Allow Agent To Visit Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Soviet government acceded today to a request that a United States official be permitted to see Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens, American citizen incarcerated in Russia on suspicion of espionage.

Charge d'Affaires Loy Henderson cabled Secretary Hull that Moscow had agreed to the long-standing American demand.

Henderson has asked that he or Second Secretary Angus Ward be allowed to visit Mrs. Rubens this afternoon or tomorrow.

Soviet authorities previously had informed the United States they would not permit an American diplomat to see Mrs. Rubens until Russian police had finished investigating her case. State Department officials said today that the inference is they have now completed their investigation.

This was taken to mean Russia had not accepted Hull's principle of right to visit "without delay" a principle on which he insisted soon after Mrs. Rubens' arrest became known.

Hull emphasized the principle in his formal note of January 25. It involved the general right of American diplomatic representatives to visit Americans jailed in Russia.

Hull declined to comment today when asked whether or not Russia's accession at this time meant in effect agreement with the principle.

Winslow Leaves For Washington Parley

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Edward O'Neal, American Farm Bureau president, and J. E. Winslow of Greenville, State Farm Bureau president, will confer with Senator Pope (D. Idaho) at Washington tomorrow on the farm conference bill E. F. Arnold, executive secretary of the State Bureau said today.

Winslow, one of a committee of 18 appointed last fall to draft farm legislation, will leave for Rocky Mount late tonight.

"It seems that we are doing everything that can reasonably be done except to cultivate the patience and consideration to become safe drivers" he said.

In discussing the "new policies" for patrolmen, Mr. Maxwell and Major Fuik said they thought the severest indictment of the patrol in the past has been that its members spend too much time in towns and cities and that they are not seen on the roads. They believe that strict adherence to a schedule of regular patrol of the road will do much to stop this criticism as well as to make the patrol more valuable as a safety agency.

Of the patrol Mr. Maxwell said: "It is my impression that the patrol is a fine group of capable and serious-minded officers and men who are giving the best they have in this important service. The problem of (highway safety) is bigger than any hundred and twenty-one men; it is big enough and serious enough to enlist the active interest and cooperation of every good citizen."

Barkley Indicates Anti-Lynch Bill To Be Laid Aside

Majority Leader, Who Yesterday Voted Against Shelving Act, Unwilling For Whole Session to be Wasted

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky indicated today he would move to lay aside the anti-lynching bill next week.

"I am unwilling that this whole session should be wasted or consumed in futile discussion," he said.

Barkley voted against shelving the measure when Southerners failed by a 52 to 34 vote to pigeon-hole it yesterday.

Both senate and house were in recess today. Southern senators arranged a caucus to map next week's strategy against the anti-lynching bill.

Agriculture Department opposition to last minute changes in cotton provisions of the compromise farm bill raised the possibility meantime of a prolonged floor fight over the measure.

The controverted item was an amendment inserted at the behest of Senator Smith (D. S. C.) to speed up payment of part of the $130,000,000 bonus Congress has voted for 1937 cotton growers who complied with 1938 program.

ENDS STUDY OF JUSTICE DEPT. MASS MEETING IS SCHEDULED

Finding of Committee Now in Hands Of Gov. Hoey Women and Ministers Especially Asked To Attend

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The study of the proposed State department of justice by Professor Paul Sanders of Duke university was in the hands of Governor Hoey today, but he had no comment upon it.

In a letter accompanying the report, Major L. P. McLendon, of Greensboro, chairman of the commission studying the proposal, said: "In transmitting the material to you I do not wish it to be understood that I am at this time endorsing the proposed department or any particular method of establishing it. Primarily it is our hope to give information and evoke constructive criticism."

Hoey explained the report was not official.

The advertisement elsewhere in this issue announces a public mass meeting to be held in the court house Wednesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, by a committee which states it is "anxious to see the law enforced by reputable authorities whose integrity is unquestioned."

The statement announces that the presence of women and ministers of the county is especially requested.

The advertisement asks the taxpayers "do you know?" That a detective agency is being paid out of tax money and that a contract reputedly provides that the firm is to continue its services as long as they are needed, in the opinion of the head of the organization?

"That the county has a solicitor, the district a solicitor, and a county attorney, yet $150 of tax money was spent for private prosecution in County court at one sitting?"

"That the County Commissioners are holding secret meetings as if they are afraid for the public to know what they are doing, which meetings are not advertised as provided by law and are not legal?"

U. S. Confers With Japs On Size Of Battleships

To Build Larger Ships If Japan Intends To Do So

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The United States asked Japan today whether she is building, or intends to build warships larger than 35,000 tons.

If so, a note to the Tokyo government said, the United States will build larger ships herself, but is willing to discuss limitation of their size.

Secretary Hull, announcing this action, said it was taken after consultation with Britain and France, signatories of the London Naval treaty of 1936, who are taking similar steps.

The United States has built no battleships in excess of 35,000 tons, in accordance with the London treaty.

"This country meantime took a long step away from China by ordering its armed forces there reduced by more than half."

Firemen Kept Busy Here Last Night

Firemen were kept busy from shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the first of four alarms came in, until after 10 o'clock.

The first fire was at the intersection of Fourteenth and Pitt streets, where several junked automobiles burned. Fire Chief George Gardner said no loss was caused by the blaze.

About 7 o'clock last night firemen were summoned to a Negro home at the end of Cotanche street, occupied by Bunyan Taft. Loss from this fire was said not to exceed two or three dollars.

About an hour and a half later the third alarm called firemen to the home of John A. Radcliff at 1006 Evans street. The fire, which was started by a kitchen oil stove caused damage estimated not to exceed $10.

The fourth alarm was false.

Big Decrease In Votes Next Week

Tonight ends the second Big Bonus Vote Offer in The Daily Reflector "Cash Offer" Campaign which is just now getting under way. The more determined workers are fully realizing that instructions given from Campaign department early in the Campaign were well founded and that profitable results have been realized from following these instructions.

The interest in the campaign to date is most gratifying as most of the workers who are competing for the valuable awards offered by The Daily Reflector in the race which lasts only a few weeks, seem to have at this time an equal chance to win the $600,000 best award and first honors, so coveted by each worker.

Up to this time in this particular Campaign most of the vast territory covered by this newspaper has been worked hurriedly and the Candidates who are aware of this fact will cover the territory again carefully and systematically, and will find that thousands of winning votes can be secured by reworking this territory more thoroughly. On The Job The public is naturally watching closely to see just who is on the job really trying to be a winner, therefore it is very important to make as many calls each day as is possible in order to get the subscribing public boosting for you. All persons wishing to give votes naturally want to be with a winner and invariably give their strong support to the worker who goes about the work with greatest enthusiasm, determination and self confidence. If you would be a winner work your best now.

$30.00 "Clubs" The second Big Bonus Vote Offer of 282,000 Extra Votes on each $30 Club of subscriptions ends tonight. The wise Candidates will round up all promises possible and turn them in tonight as the votes are rapidly decreasing, and workers who get their subscriptions in now, will have a better chance of winning the best awards as next week brings lower votes and last offer of Big Votes on $30.00 Clubs.

MOVE MADE BY HITLER HAILED BY MUSSOLINI

Acclaims Assumption Of Control Over War Machine

REST OF EUROPE IS APPREHENSIVE

Grave Fears Expressed in London That Nazis Might Attempt Austrian 'Putsch'

Rome, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini today acclaimed Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's control of Germany's war machine as "destined to reinforce the friendship between our two armed forces and the relations between our regimes."

Mussolini sent Hitler a congratulatory telegram, "expressing my satisfaction that the Italian people are for Your Excellency's assumption of effective command of all armed forces of the Reich."

Germany's government shake-up, especially Hitler's assumption of army control, found wide official favor in Italy.

London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—An apprehensive Europe watched today for signs that sensational nazification of the German army and diplomatic corps may lead Fuehrer Hitler to steps abroad.

Grave fears were expressed by diplomatic circles here that the strong German military machine, driven by Nazi impulse might contemplate a putsch in Austria—to further the scope of national socialism.

Britain and France, pouring their warships into the Mediterranean to fight molestation of merchant shipping, also watched anxiously for any indication the German army reorganization with Hitler in supreme direct command, might involve Spanish affairs.

The two nations particularly were alert for any signs that Hitler, with Premier Mussolini of Italy, might be planning increased Spanish intervention to help insurgent General Francisco Franco, whose war machine presently appears bogged down after a year and a half of fighting.

The two democracies meantime kept their eyes on Mallorca, Mediterranean Spanish insurgent base, which both nations regard as a threat to security in the great seas.

Local Man Injured In Auto Accident

David Hardy, young Greenville man, was reported by patrolman William Thompson of Washington today to be in a serious condition in a Greenville hospital with a broken spine suffered in an automobile collision about 1 o'clock this morning two miles east of Grimesland on highway 17.

Hardy was injured when the automobile in which he was a passenger allegedly sideswiped a Greenville taxi, headed toward Washington and operated by Marvin Powers of Greenville.

Neither Powers nor Douglas Butner, Greenville employee of Swift and Company, who was said to be driving, was injured.

The patrolman indicated this afternoon the cause of the accident was not immediately known.

Shoe was arrested in Edgefield, S. C., a few days after the chief was slain as he approached a stranger on his beat.

A GREAT SUCCESS
Was The 'Sub Rosa' Masquerade

Thursday night Gerngma Hall presented a fantastic picture. It was the occasion of the masquerade given by the Sub Rosa society and its success proved that the young ladies know how to get up and manage such an affair.

A large number of spectators gathered in the hall while the masquers met in the office of Mr. H. A. White just opposite.

About a quarter past nine o'clock the hall door was thrown open and the masquers entered keeping step to a lively march rendered by the Italian band. L. I. Moore acted as leader and the grand march was interesting and well executed.

The masquers and their costumes were the best ever seen here and the personality of the wearers could be detected only in rare instances.

At ten o'clock Manager Moore drew them up in a circle and gave the order to unmask. Among those unmasking were:

G. J. Woodward as the Yellow Kid was just out of sight. The yellow journal's original article never cut more capers than did George.

Miss Helen Perkins charmingly represented Kate Greenway, while Miss Annie Perkins was little Miss Muffet right over and over.

Arthur Gary was a broken down sport, but he kept in the swim just the same.

Miss Saile Lipscomb represented a notice, but it would not do to take her for one unless you wanted to get left.

Ernest Forbes was an up-to-date bloomer girl with the exception of having no wheel along.

W. J. Corbett was Willie Few Clothes, and he looked like he had borrowed a few from his bud.

Miss Margaret Lauby was a Sister of Charity ready to do good and lend a helping hand.

Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson was a Yellow Rose of Texas, but there weren't any Texas ways about her.

Miss Rosa Hooker was very charming as the Admiral's daughter.

Mrs. Stokes Improving. Mrs. C. A. Stokes is getting along nicely following a serious operation in Pitt General Hospital.

Mrs. Newby Improving. Friends of Clyde M. Newby will be glad to learn that he is rapidly improving following an appendix operation which he underwent in Pitt General Hospital some time ago.

Ambassador Troyanovsky is the first Soviet Union envoy to this country to which he came in 1934. Although he was born in Tula on December 20, 1882, he celebrated his fifty-sixth birthday on the first of last month. The reason for this postponement of the Ambassador's birthday was the Revolution. Shortly after the Julian calendar was removed also. In its place adopted the Gregorian calendar which accounts for Troyanovsky's birthday celebrations on the first of last month although he was born on December 20.

College Play Has Packed House.

"The Patsy," social comedy given as the annual senior production at the college last night, played to a packed house, with every seat taken long before the curtain went up.

Miss Fannie Brewer, as Patricia, the attractive and natural younger daughter of a family in which the mother and older daughter are social climbers and snobs, captivated the audience.

Especially well done were the scenes between Patricia and her adoring father, played by Joe Braxton, in which the two created error and maintained consistently the illusion of the father-daughter relationship.

Miss Nancy Spurling, as the hysterical and fault-finding mother, took a difficult part well.

The play hinges on the attempt of "Pat" to make herself attractive in the eyes of her sister's former suitor, with whom "Pat" has long been secretly in love. He has been discarded by her sister for a wealthier man. She tries to accomplish it by the use of a book of "wise and witty sayings for all occasions"; and her effort to practice her "sayings" on her family almost convinces them that she has lost her mind.

When the man she is in love with, a young real estate agent, played by Alvah Page, offers to give her lessons to help her win the unknown adored one, amusing complications at once arise.

The audience, in on the secret, was highly entertained by watching the unsuspecting young man teach the girl how to win him, as, of course, she did finally.

Miss Mary Anna Clifton brought out in the part of the elder sister the selfishness and snobbishness of the character.

The part of the wealthy young man, taken by David Breece, added to the play.

And Alvah Page, in his role of the lover, seemed very natural to an audience that had seen him last year in "Tweedles."

Miss Margaret McKinley, Miss Frances Perbee, and John David Bridgers took minor parts in the play.

With "The Patsy," the director, Clifton Britton, has added another success to an already long list. This is his 88th production.

Working with him on the technical effects were Roy Barrow, president of the senior class, and John David Bridgers, a freshman, from Greenville.

Barrow, as class president, spoke to the audience for a few minutes between acts on behalf of the class, thanking all who had contributed to the success of the play, and presenting Britton for his share of the applause.

Other senior officers are Eleanor Hardy, vice-president; Xylda Cooper, secretary; and Elizabeth Layden, treasurer.

Faculty advisors of the class are Miss Katherine Holtzclaw and Dr. R. J. Slay.

This campus production was a part of the entertainment series. The next number will be the appearance of a professional theatrical group, the American Repertory Theatre, in "The Queen's Husband" on February 17.

Entertainment Bridge Club. Griffon, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Eleanor Gower entertained her Thursday Contract Club and a few additional guests at her home on Queen street Thursday night. Four tables were appointed for play in the living room. Valentine tallies and decorations carried out the color note of red and white.

At the conclusion of play, Mrs. R. A. Nelson was awarded a crystal bonbon dish as prize for highest score. Mrs. H. P. Quinley received a similar prize for holding honors.

Mrs. Gower served a delicious dessert course emphasizing the Valentine motif.

Playing were Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Quinley, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. W. I. Blissette, Mrs. Jack Chapman, Mrs. Bryan Davis, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Mrs. Alton Chapman, Mrs. M. B. Hodges, Mrs. H. O. Ogleby, Mrs. L. D. McCotter, Miss Louise Mewborn, Miss Jean Harvey, Miss Marie Chapman and Miss Bertha Johnson.

Bridge Hostess. Griffon, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Cecil Cobb was hostess for her bridge club on a recent evening. On arrival, guests found their places by Valentine tallies at the card tables and a delectable two course supper was served.

The home was attractively decorated with bowls of first-breath-of-spring and red candles, carrying out the Valentine idea.

Following supper, bridge was played at three tables. High score prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ogleby. The floating prize went to George Sugg and the consolation to Brown Hodges.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ogleby, Mr. and Mrs. Sugg, Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nelson, Mrs. E. A. Moore, Mrs. W. I. Blissette and Miss Jean Harvey.

schoolroom sometime during the day.

On Thursday some phase of Scouting will be displayed either in a store window or at the court-house.

Friday is the day when the windows, which have been decorated by the troops will be judged by a committee who are in no way connected with the troops in this city.

Last but not least, is our out-of-door day, all the troops are asked to assemble at the A.C.L. depot in hiking clothing and prepared to spend a day in the open. We want every Scout in Greenville to take this hike and "treasure hunt," so be prepared.

Our week of celebration will terminate with our connection to the twelfth scout law—A Scout is Reverent. A Court of Honor and Scout program will be held at the Methodist Church in connection with the union service at 7:30 p. m.

All Scouts are asked and expected to be present, in uniform, at this meeting. The Scout troops of the county are to be the guests of the troops in Greenville at this meeting.

WPTF Program. Pitt county will have a radio program Thursday, February 10, over WPTF, at 1:45 p. m.

Littlefield H. D.—Friday 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Garris.

Each H. D. Club will have a plant exchange at the meetings this month.

Gingerbread Topping. Creamed cheese mixed with chopped dates and nuts makes a tasty topping for freshly baked gingerbread or it can be used as a filling for two layers of chocolate or spice cake.

Quick Frosting. Sprinkle chopped dates, raisins, chocolate shot or grated sweet chocolate, nuts, coconut or candied fruit over the top of cake batter just before putting it into the oven. It will give the cake a tasty coating. Use half a cup of coating for the average size cake.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—Representative Arch T. Allen of Raleigh has written this bureau that he is still somewhat undecided about his candidacy for re-election but adds: "However, in all probability, I will be a candidate for the House in the approaching primary."

From Smithfield Representative F. H. Brooks writes: "I am weighing the question whether I shall enter the race for the House or become a candidate for Judge of Recorder's court."

Since Congress William Umstead announced his intention to retire at the end of his present term, politicians of the Sixth district are running round frantically trying to drum up support enough to get into the race for his seat.

One thing appears certain, if a quite logical line of reasoning is followed: If Cameron Morrison runs for the U. S. Senate, Mrs. Helen Robertson Wohl will run for the Sixth District seat.

Here's how that works out. Mrs. Wohl is dead set on running for something. If Morrison runs for the Senate she will not, as Cam would like her to do, vote on which she would then the next best thing would be to shoot at would be to run for the seat. She's determined to run for something or other and you can lay to that.

Critically inclined persons see some connection between the following items: Junius Powell of Wadesville is a candidate for District Solicitor in the Eighth, which includes Brunswick. Alex Powell is Highway Commissioner for that section. Alex Powell is related to Junius Powell. Brunswick county is getting assurances that some roads will be built down that way.

Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, assistant director of Health Education of the State Board of Health, has sounded a warning against marihuana.

Pointing out that use of the weed has spread to every state in the Union she says "the number of addicts is estimated to be more than 100,000 the majority of whom are of high school and college age."

"Fortunately North Carolina has a state law for the control of marihuana, but it was not until last summer when Congressman R. L. Doughton introduced and secured the passage of a law by Congress did we have a Federal law. One without the other was ineffective, while both, it is believed will be able to curb the traffic in the drug."

Dr. J. Henry Highsmith is in Charlotte for a dramatic and act meeting. He will be back in his office at the Department of Public Instruction Monday.

C. E. Rakestraw, regional director of the Federal Vocational Education division for the Southern states, was here Friday and attended a meeting of the North Carolina Vocational Education Committee.

D. B. Peering, director of the Roanoke Island celebration, was in Raleigh Friday primarily to confer with Highway Department officials regarding a proposed road from Ingletown to Stumpy Point. Incidentally he took the opportunity to spread the word that plans for a repetition of the Virginia Dore birthplace fête next summer are progressing well.

MAJOR MCLENDON TO SPEAK AT U. N. C. MONDAY NIGHT
Chapel Hill, Feb. 5.—Major L. P. McLendon, prominent Greensboro attorney, will speak on the proposed Department of Justice for North Carolina at the University here Monday night. The address will be given in Manning Hall at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity.

Major McLendon is serving as chairman of a state committee studying the Department of Justice question which has aroused much interest.

He will be the guest of honor at a banquet given by the fraternity prior to the address. A past Chairman of the North Carolina elections board, Major McLendon will discuss this state's election laws with fraternity members.

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

STORY BY ALAN LEAHY

It was a strange scene, carrying a gun-charge for Rajah Mantusen, we encounter a jungle war between the Dyaks and the Malays on Sumatung island. The besieged rajah is holding my uncle, James Clyde, prisoner, until I (Paul Thorne) can bring our fortified trading vessel, the Linkang, up-river to aid the Malays. Mantusen blames Clyde for the war, but a young English girl, Christine Forrester, is responsible. Her father planned the revolt, taught the Dyaks to shoot, and she is supplying the Dyak guns.

Chapter 17 Stalemate

"If those Dyak riflemen are as good as you say, and they're going to sweep the Malay stockades all the time, my uncle has a fine chance to get shot before I ever get to him again," I said.

"I think he's safe from that," answered Christine. "I don't think the Tenyalang sharpshooters will fire until he's out of there. Perhaps a few random shots—that's to be expected of these people. But the worst of it will hold off."

"So you think you control them as well as that?"

"No, of course not. They get their orders with their rifles, and I suppose they will obey them, in a general way. But I haven't enough communication with them, even if they were thoroughly disciplined troops, to change orders in any detail. They were told to sharpshoot the Malay stockades until Mantusen took to the river; then they're supposed to race along the shore, forming ambush after ambush for the praus. But you see, the Tenyalang didn't know what you were doing at Mantusen's stockade; they think Anthony Forrester is all-powerful here, the same as Mantusen thinks Clyde is. The fact that you reached Mantusen at all shows that they believe I sent you."

"I thought of the flurry of spears that we had come through, up the Siderong. But there was no use in talking about that. Those might have come from the disorganized tribes, not from the Tenyalang. "In that case," I said, "I should think I'd still have a good chance of going back up there after Clyde."

"If you were attacking Mantusen, of course they would help you in every way."

"But I can't attack Mantusen. Nothing is going to get Clyde out of there alive except a complete smash-up of the Dyak blockade."

She spoke slowly and almost tonelessly. "That is something you can't possibly do."

"I'll do it because I've got to do it. Look here—if what you say is true—"

"Well, for the sake of the argument, I'll say that I believe you. Of course I do believe you—partly, at least. Look here, I know you can't pull the tribes off; but if the Tenyalang retire, a whole lot of heart ought to go out of the rest."

I didn't suppose, of course, that she could do much. She had been able to exercise a little authority over the Dyaks at first, on account of Anthony Forrester's reputation among them, and his promise of guns; but that authority would break down as soon as all the gun-charge was delivered. I had no faith in the future of any continuous revolt against the Malays. Those Dyak tribes mistrusted one another too much for that. They would have a fine interchange of village raids before the Malays could get organized again, and by that time Mantusen's kramien—with James Clyde as hostage among them—would have grown tired long ago of waiting for rescue by the Linkang. Whatever was done for Clyde would have to be done at once, even if the best combined efforts of the Linkang and the Avon were clumsy and unpredictable as to their results.

"Impossible!"

"If you control the Tenyalang to any extent at all," I said now, "pull them off."

"You're asking me to try to make a truce?" she asked uncertainly. "Until you can get Clyde out of there?"

"Well, why not? After all, Mantusen has got Clyde. I know he means nothing to you personally. But he's one of our own people, just the same."

"It's impossible!"

"Why?"

"Once the Tenyalang start to draw back the whole thing will go to pieces. We don't have all the tribes in the Balingong radius—we don't have more than a quarter or a third of them. If once the blockade breaks, the hill tribes controlled by the Malays will rise, and our Dyaks will be hunted clear out of existence."

That was true, of course. There were numberless small Dyak tribes on Sumatung, and many of them the Malays could throw against their own people. Almost any tribe was customarily not only willing but eager to join the Malays against any others, simply because the Malays always won.

"Will Paul get the Avon, Monday?"

"I had never talked before. I had to get that yawl. Whenever I tried to think out just how I would do this, I faltered; for I could not believe that there was any way."

In the end I threw aside all plans, willing to twist my argument as it came, holding only the single, unchangeable purpose—

"I had to have that ship."

Green Phantoms Down Goldsboro; Local Girls Lose

Locals Rack Up 8th Greenville Girls Prove Victory to Keep Conference Rating No Match For The Lady 'Quakes'

By BAXTER CLARK

A favored Greenville high quint defeated a fighting team from Goldsboro last night by a score of 18-6. The game was played in the high school auditorium and was the second attraction of a twin-bill between teams of the two schools.

In the first half the local boys scored only two field goals. "Speed" Hollowell of Goldsboro sank the first shot of the game, John Slautes tied the score for the Phantoms by cracking down on a long shot a few seconds later. Tom Parrish led the losers. He made their first and field goal for the local team.

Greenville came back in the second half and began scoring points. In this half Goldsboro made not a single field goal, but made four charity throws good. The Phantoms went on to score six field goals and three out shots to add 15 points to their score of four points made in the first half. Final score, 19-6, favor of Greenville.

Tom Parrish featured for the Phantoms in all around play. He also led the scoring with 9 points. His guarding was also in the upper par as was the entire Greenville quint. They held the visitors to only one field goal for the entire game. John Lautares followed Parrish with six points. Howard Hodges and George Sakas scored two points each to complete the scoring for Greenville.

"Speed" Hollowell led play for the losers. He made their first and only field goal in the early minutes of play. Sam Watson made two free spots for two points and Horace Potter scored one point to complete the visitors scoring.

The game was the eighth conference win for the Phantoms in nine starts. It leaves them in second place in standings. They play the Durham leaders who are undefeated, on next Monday night in Durham.

SMOAK CLINGS TO INNOCENCE

Admits, However, He Is in the 'Dangedest' Mess

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL.

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—Edgar Leroy Smoak looked death in the face and without blinking an eye or spilling one tiny speck of tobacco from a cigarette he was rolling asserted his innocence of poisoning his high school student daughter, Annie Thelma Smoak.

His counsel, William L. Farmer, had just warned him in most solemn tones that he had but two weeks to live. Your correspondent sat by, watching the doomed man's reactions.

"As certain as anything human is certain, you're going to walk into the gas chamber two weeks from today and meet the Great Judge who can't be fooled by pretenses," said Mr. Farmer. "If you have anything to say, you ought to say it now."

Smoak looked at your correspondent with keen gray eyes that never flickered and said evenly and earnestly:

"My heart is right with God. From my heart, I'm not guilty of murder, and if I go into the gas chamber I will go for the laws of North Carolina and not for any murder. I never harmed anyone in my life."

Previously the gaunt New Hanover man had greeted his counsel: "Bill, I'm sure glad to see you," and had added to your correspondent:

"From what that newspaper says,

The girls' team of Greenville High lost their first game in four starts to the Goldsboro sextet last night by a score of 16-9. The local girls are now batting 500 in their wins and losses for the season.

Little scoring was done in the first half. Frances Clark of the locals scored the first field goal of the evening. Goldsboro overtook this short lead and were never seriously threatened any more. The score at the half was 6-2 in favor of the visitors.

The winners gained a good lead in the third quarter and at this time had the locals 9-2. Greenville started a rally with Frances Clark making 4 points, but Goldsboro quickly made two field goals to sew up the ball game.

Joy Flanagan made one point for the losers in the final minutes of play. Final score, 16-8, favor of Goldsboro.

Ercell Adams led scoring for the Goldsboro girls by making 7 points. Rachel Sutton made 5 points and Hortense Liles 4 points to complete their scoring. Marjorie Wooten, Doris Elks and Doris Flowers featured on defense for the winners.

Captain Frances Clark led the locals with 5 points. Her good all-around play was the feature for the Phantom sextet. Joy Flanagan made one charity throw good for 1 point. Dorothy Merritt and Jane Harris featured defensively for Greenville.

X-RAY PENETRATES SECRET OF INDIAN LUCK PIECE

Colorado Springs, Colo.—AP.—Dr. W. F. Drea of Colorado College has discovered a way to "eat his cake" and keep it too.

He wanted to know what was inside an Indian fetish kept by a southwestern Colorado tribe as a "good luck" charm for deer hunts, and yet he didn't want to destroy the relic.

The fetish, Dr. Drea was told by old time Indians, was made of tissues from the heart of deer, tightly wrapped in layers. The Indians did not know what was inside this particular fetish.

"I'm in a mess. Ain't that the dangedest mess you ever heard of?"

He had been brought into the interviewing room from "Death Row" at State's prison, for his first contact with his counsel or newspaper men since the Supreme court sustained his conviction Wednesday.

In a half hour's interview Mr. Farmer and your correspondent repeatedly stressed the fact that there is little chance of earthly help for the prisoner. Throughout the conversation he displayed not the slightest sign of nervousness. Frequently he smiled, and it wasn't the twisted smile of lost nerves. He may be guilty—the law has said he is; but he shows no concern.

Rose Stradner and James Stewart remonore in "The Last Gangster," with Edward G. Robinson, coming Fri-Sat to the Pitt.

1. That the County Commissioners have been paying the National Bureau of Investigation $40.00 per day, from tax money, since October 20th, 1937, under a contract, reputedly to continue such payments so long as, in the opinion of A. S. Batson, his services are needed in the County?
2. That A. S. Batson is the National Bureau of Investigation and is known by the Commissioners to be a man who has been convicted for making and selling whiskey numbers of times and is a man of reputedly bad character?
3. That such men as Josh Taylor, Thomas E. Beaman and many others with long criminal records have composed the force employed by Batson and to whom the tax money has been paid?
4. That $2600.00 of tax money has already been paid out under the above contract, that more is now due, and there is apparently no end in view?
5. That the County has a Solicitor, the District a Solicitor and a County Attorney is regularly on the pay roll, yet $150.00 of tax money was spent for private prosecution in County Court at one sitting?
6. That the County Commissioners are holding secret meetings as if they are afraid for the public to know what they are doing, which meetings are not advertised as provided by law and are not legal?
7. That many other things involving expenditure of the tax money are going on not here mentioned?

THE AUTOGRAPH OF BUTTON GWINNETT, SIGNER OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE FROM GEORGIA, HAS BROUGHT FABULOUS PRICES

By a strange paradox, BUTTON GWINNETT, famous Georgia patriot, died without enough money to pay his debts yet his autograph became the most valuable in the world! The facts that he was a signer of the Declaration of Independence and killed in a duel together with the scarcity of his signature were all contributing factors in bringing this about. In 1924 one of his 36 autographs sold at public auction for $14,000. According to the book "Famous American Duels," Gwinnett's autograph has commanded as high as $50,000 to set an all time record. Gwinnett was killed in a duel with Gen. Lachlan McIntosh in May, 1777. It is not known where he is buried and his descendants are apparently extinct. He was one of the most steadfast of patriots being an ardent supporter of independence. The COCKLE, which inhabits our southern shores, has a very effective yet awkward mode of locomotion. By thrusting out its large and powerful foot to its full extent, it lifts itself with a sudden twisting motion. Thus it is enabled to jump several inches at a time. Few bivalves in the world excel it in size.

WARNING MADE AGAINST DRUG

Mrs. J. H. Highsmith Tells Of Evils Of Marihuana

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—A solemn warning against "marihuana" is sounded by Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, assistant director of health education, State Board of Health.

As the result of a special study on the evils of the weed which, when smoked, makes perverts and demons out of its victims, Mrs. Highsmith says:

"Marihuana is a new world term for an old world drug whose ancient history is black with crime and insanity. It was introduced only a few years ago into the border country of the United States by Mexican laborers. Today it is known to have spread to every state in the union, and the number of marihuana addicts is now estimated to be more than 100,000, the majority of whom are of high school and college age.

"Marihuana, or marihuana, is the Mexican name for the dried flowers and leaves of the commercial hemp plant, cannabis sativa. In Asia the plant is known as cannabis indica, or Indian hemp, and the narcotic derived from it is called hashish. The English word 'assassin' is derived from the Arabic 'hashishin', or 'hemp eaters,' an oriental religious and military society noted for its violence and crimes committed under the influence of hashish. Orientals long ago learned that hashish produced the proper mental and emotional state for committing crimes of the most heinous nature.

"Marihuana circulates in the United States usually in the form of cigarettes under a variety of local names, such as reefer, greefas, mutahs, muggles, miggles, love weed, giggle weed, joy-smoke and the like. It is peddled out especially to high school boys and girls by vagabond and dope peddlers. It is made alluring to youth by a whispered secret that it is a cigarette with a new thrill, a 'real kick,' with no harmful after-effects. Its introduction into the United States was preceded by a whispering campaign which represented it as able to perform miracles, to produce great physical and mental strength, and to sharpen one's wits and social gifts.

"In this country the effects of the drug are obtained almost entirely by smoking the dried leaves and flowers of the plant. It has been found being sold not only in high school and college communities, but across refreshment counters, in second rate dance halls, low amusement places, barbecue stands and some filling stations. Marihuana dens have been found in some of the larger cities, and many of these were visited by high school boys and girls in search of a new sensation.

"The effect of the marihuana drug differs with the individual. No one can predict what the reaction in any case will be. On the immature brain of the young, it acts as an almost overpowering stimulant. Its continued use undoubtedly results in general instability, mental weakness and finally in insanity. 'floating' is the term given to marihuana intoxication. In this condition the person's ego becomes greatly magnified, and nothing appears impossible. All sense of time, place, conscience or consequence is lost. Marihuana victims suffer hallucinations which often take the form of a persecution complex, with violent murders, maybe of father, mother or best friend, as the result.

"A. J. Anslinger, U. S. Commissioner of Narcotics, says: 'Marihuana is contributing to an alarming wave of sex crimes. How many murders, suicides, robberies, criminal assaults, holdups, burglaries and maniacal insanity are caused each year by marihuana can only be conjectured. The sweeping march of its addiction has been so insidious that it thrives in numerous communities and is only found out by the commitment of a heinous crime.'

"To bring the traffic in this drug under control, says Mr. Anslinger, means a job of unceasing watchfulness on the part of the police, parents, school officials, public health officials and all welfare workers. It means education thru the schools, the home and the press. It means also cooperation on the part of all good citizens in securing the strict enforcement of State and Federal Narcotic Laws.

"Fortunately North Carolina has a State law for the control of marihuana, but not until last summer when Congressman R. L. Doughton introduced and secured the passage of a law by Congress did we have a Federal law. One without the other was ineffective, while both it is believed, will be able to curb the traffic in the marihuana drug.

BOTTLE GOES PLACES BEFORE IT'S HEARD FROM

Harbor Springs, Mich.—(AP)—Lee Gregory and his sister, Winifred, wish the United States geodetic survey would explain this one to them. Last June 12, Lee and his sister wrote their names and addresses on some cards and sealed them in three bottles which they tossed into Little Traverse bay. Recently Lee received a letter from John C. Osinach, Hanover, N. H., stating he had found one of the bottles on the banks of the Connecticut river near Hanover. Lee would like to know how the bottle crossed the Great lakes and the St. Lawrence river, the Atlantic coast and Long Island sound—if it really did.
