Administration Bent On Jamming Measure Through

VOTE URGED ON ANTI-LYNCH BILL

Letter from Secretary Hull Says U. S. Has No Agreement Relating to War

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Administration leaders, bent on jamming the received farm bill through the House, encountered delaying tactics today.

R. P. Lambertson (R-Kan) forced a quorum call at the opening of the session when Speaker Bankhead counted less than 200 present. Leaders anticipated other roll calls would be demanded by those in excess of a proposed five-hour limitation on farm bill debate. Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn asserted, however, they expected final action late today or tomorrow despite the cries—chiefly from Republicans—that a "gag" was being applied.

In the Senate Guffey (D-Pa) urged opponents of the anti-lynching bill to permit it to come to a vote so the Supreme court might pass on its constitutionality.

Guffey contended Southern Senators "flatly refuse to allow the American people, even though they be in the majority, to express their will on this all-absorbing subject of lynching."

Before Guffey began his defense of the anti-lynching measure, Chairman Pittman (D-Ne) read to the Senate a letter from Secretary Hull denying the United States had any agreement with Great Britain "relating to war or the possibility of war." Hull also asserted that this country was not bound by any agreement to any power in connection with naval operations.

Other developments: Post Master General Parley announced appointment of R. C. Lawrence as acting postmaster at Lumberton, N. C.

Rep. Warren (D-N. C.) said final details had been agreed upon under an arrangement for the government to take over the restoration of Raleigh on Roanoke Island, N. C.

Warren said the National Park Service shortly would call on the North Carolina Historical Commission for title to the property.

Present buildings at the Fort, which precipitated a controversy between the State Historical Commission and the Park Service will be permitted to remain until funds are available for new construction, Warren said.

State Intangibles Levy Rates Low

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, Feb. 8.—Rates of taxation on intangibles under the new state schedule have been set low in order that there may be a more general and complete disclosure of property of this class, according to Tom Alexander, head of the Intangible Tax division of the Department of Revenue.

Banks deposits need not be listed by the taxpayer unless deposits are in out-of-state banks, as all banks report their deposits and pay the tax from the deposits. The rate of tax on this class is ten cents per one hundred dollars and is based on the average of deposits at four quarterly periods ending December 15th. If the average is less than $100 there is no tax.

Money on hand, as distinguished from money in bank, is taxed at twenty cents per hundred dollars of amounts held on December 31st in excess of $300.

Accounts receivable are taxable at 25 cents per $100 of their face value on December 31st in excess of $300. Current accounts payable may be deducted from the accounts receivable total.

Bonus, notes and 11 other evidences of debt are taxable at 40 cents on the $100 of the fair market value thereof on December 31st in excess of $300. This classification includes all evidences of debt other than accounts receivable.

Every person, firm or corporation acting in a fiduciary capacity is required to report and pay the tax on all intangibles held for the benefit of residents of this state.

A tax of 25 cents per $100 of value as of December 31st is levied on all sums left on deposit with insurance companies, the principal of which is subject to withdrawal at the option of the party or parties entitled to receive it after stipulated notice.

A tax of 30 cents per $100 of fair-market value on December 31st in excess of $300 is levied on shares of stock held by residents of this state in foreign corporations that are not domesticated and paying taxes in the state.

RECTOR HISTORIC CHURCH SLAIN

Dr. Charles H. Lee, 68, rector of historic Christ church on St. Simon's Island, Ga., was killed by an unknown sniper as he sat in his rectory preparing a sermon. Coroner J. D. Baldwin shows a coroner's jury (above) the seat Dr. Lee occupied when a bullet which, according to police authorities was fired from the outside, pierced a window and lodged in the minister's temple, killing him almost instantly. Police Chief L. O. Godwin said another shot was fired from the darkness outside a short time before, and Dr. and Mrs. Lee mistook the discharge for a tire blowout.

Coroner Promises Wage Thorough Investigation

Parishioners Prepare To Bury Slain Clergyman

St. Simon's Island, Ga. Feb. 8.—(AP)—Parishioners of Old Christ church gathered today to bury Dr. Charles Lee as Coroner J. D. Baldwin promised to "get at the bottom" of the rector's slaying "if we have to call every man and woman in St. Simon."

In charge of services for the 71-year-old Episcopal church man, who was killed by a shot from the dark as he sat working over a sermon in the rectory Saturday night, was his superior, the Rt. Rev. Middleton Barnwell of Savannah, Bishop of the Georgia diocese.

The coroner, taking cognizance of the theory of friends of Dr. Lee that the rector might have been killed because of his candid comments on wrong-doings, said he ordered the inquest for Wednesday specifically to "find about all the evil-doings on the island."

He added he was subpoenaing "many, many persons" to appear at the inquest in an attempt to uncover the motive for the slaying and predicted "several arrests" in the interim.

Schools In County Increase Libraries

One of the most outstanding achievements in the Pitt County schools in the past five years is the improvement of instructional supplies, especially libraries, declared D. H. Conley, superintendent of the system, today in discussing the "large increase in the various libraries."

Two years ago the schools had a total of 15,528 volumes, as compared with 25,151 books now, a gain of nearly 10,000 volumes in the comparatively brief period.

It also was considered significant that of the total cost of $6,362.77, local communities had raised $2,892.27, the remainder coming from county funds.

"This fact shows that the various communities still are keenly interested in their schools," declared the County Superintendent.

Norway Sends Aid to Russian Polar Scientists Drifting on Ice Floe Off Coast

Moscow, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The hope of rescuing Russia's four Polar scientists from their drifting ice floe cost 13 lives in the crash of the Soviet dirigible V-6, it was disclosed today.

The V-6 crashed into a mountain in a snow storm Sunday in the Kandalaksha region near the White sea while on a trial flight from Moscow to Murmansk and return.

The trip was preparatory to joining the rescue expeditions to aid the scientists, whose imperiled floe now is about 50 miles off the East coast of Greenland.

Three ice-breaker ships were converging today on the Greenland sea area where the Polar scientists are stranded and a fourth was about to join in the search. The ships had aboard eight planes, variously equipped for open water or with skis for ice landing.

Only three of the crew of 19 escaped unharmed. The commander was among the dead.

The dirigible's flight was uneventful between Moscow and Leningrad and the commander had reported his position at regular intervals until 6:56 P. M. Sunday when radio communications ceased suddenly.

Oslo, Norway, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The government radioed orders to seven men at Norwegian coast stations in East Greenland today to start immediately with dog sleds and provisions over the pack ice in an attempt to rescue the four Russian scientists drifting on an ice floe off the Greenland coast.

Believed Lambeth Retirement Last

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—A survey of the North Carolina House delegation indicated today the decision of Representative Lambeth not to seek re-election ended retirements among the 11-man group unless Representative Doughton decided to quit.

Lambeth's decision brought to three the number of Tar Heel representatives who will not seek re-election to the House. The others are Representatives Hancock and Umstead.

Hancock will oppose Senator R. R. Reynolds for the State's Democratic Senatorial nomination.

Fred Erwin Beal, labor organizer, is shown as he appeared at Lawrence, Mass., while at liberty on bail to await a hearing on efforts to extradite him to North Carolina. STEEL AND CIO HEADS CONFER

Progress is Reported On New Working Agreement

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Progress toward a new working contract between the United States Steel Corporation and the CIO was reported by leaders of the two organizations today after a brief conference.

Emerging from the second of his preliminary talks with representatives of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, Benjamin Fairless, president of "Big Steel," said: "I would say progress is being made."

Philip Murray, chairman of the SWOC, nodded assent. "And not a fight yet," Fairless added jovial.

"No, not a fight yet, Murray agreed. "The conference is continuing," Murray said. "It is adjourned now. We will meet again tomorrow afternoon at 2 P. M."

Negotiation started yesterday on a new contract to replace the one that expired February 28. While technically affecting only employees of the Carnegie, Illinois company, largest affiliate of U. S. steel, any new agreement would become a basis on behalf of big steel's other units' employees.

REBELS FORCE MASS RETREAT OF LOYALISTS

Government Armies Reported Fleeing North of Teruel

NEW TERRITORY TAKEN BY REBELS

Insurgents Describe Fighting as "Veritable Butchery"; Loyals Report "Calm"

Hendaye, France — (At the Spanish Frontier)—Feb. 8.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent officers sent word today that the fourth day of the insurgent mass offensive in the rugged district North of Teruel, had put Government armies in headlong retreat.

Official insurgent dispatches described the fighting as "veritable butchery" of Government troops. Government advices said there was "great calm" in military circles and added that Government forces were retreating desperately.

Yesterday's advances by insurgent General Franco's warriors won them 68 new positions, 25 villages, nearly 400 square miles of territory and relieved partly a threat against the insurgent Eastern communications.

The fighting was along the Eastern fringe of the insurgent salient, pointed at Government communications between Valencia and Madrid. Teruel, 160 miles East of Madrid, was the Southern tip of the salient until it was conquered by Government forces in December.

Airplanes pursued fleeing Government troops, machine gunning thousands along congested roads. The insurgents said in air battle near Teruel, insurgents said they had shot down seven Martin bombers and one Curtiss. "Government sources asserted six insurgent craft had been shot down."

Members of the Government's International brigade weary after a month on the Teruel front, passed through Valencia in the last few days on their way to a rest camp.

NEED SUPPORT CARRY OUT ACT

Cooperation Necessary for Unemployment Program

"To make the North Carolina Unemployment Compensation program work, there must be cooperation from the public," said Adrian J. Newton, of Raleigh, general counsel for the NCUU commission, in his address to the Greenville Rotary club last night at the club building on Rotary avenue.

"It is a hard law to administer because none of us knows much about it," he said. "The difficulties have been greatly increased by the very large number of claims for benefits right on the very first pay period."

The speaker indicated that the unpopularity of the law creating unemployment insurance in the state was expected because it involves the collection of taxes to create the fund for benefit payments. But he justified the passage of the law in the 1936 special session of the Legislature because it would save to the state a large sum of money which otherwise would have been paid out to the Federal government.

The purpose of unemployment benefits is to help mitigate the hazards of unemployment during the periodic depressions, he said. In etching the historical background of unemployment insurance he told of its inception upon the report of a Royal commission in England in 1909, a law making it compulsory in 1911; France's adoption before the World war, general adoption of the idea all over Europe after the war. Then the idea spread to America where it was adopted by Wisconsin in 1932, soon followed by other states, and finally its general adoption all over the United States.

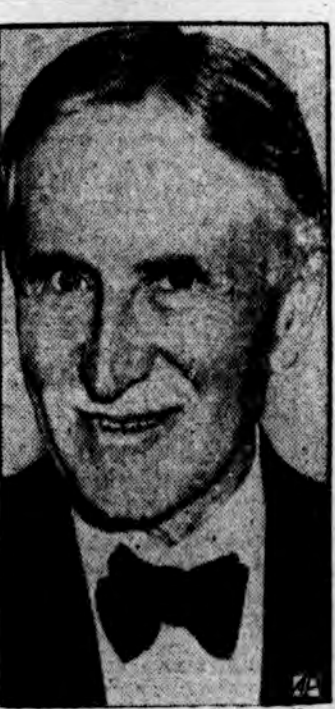

Mr. Newton related the following statistics: Six thousand employers paying in, six hundred and fifty thousand employees covered. Next he indicated the classes of employers that had to participate and those exempted. In conclusion he bespoke the cooperation of the public in helping make the law work successfully.

Also present for the occasion were the following officials stationed in Greenville in connection with the administration of the law in Pitt county: W. G. Cherry, manager of the State Employment Service office; S. T. Cherry, field investigator for the NCUU commission; Charles Fife, claims interviewer for

Columns Thrust Into New Battle Zone Along Railway

CHINESE TRY TO CHECK INVADERS

General Chiang Said Have Arrived to Di- rect Defense South Of Suchow

Shanghai, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Japanese columns thrust into new battle areas today in apparently coordinated drives to render futile the desperate resistance of China's main armies along the vital Lunghai railway.

The new attacks threatened main communications between some 400,000 Chinese troops fighting savagely to hold the Japanese back from Suchow and their bases in the heart of China.

They were aimed from Southeast and Northwest toward a spot 90 miles west of Suchow, and according to Japanese dispatches, threatened to compel a general Chinese retreat westward through the corridor still held by the Chinese along the Lunghai.

Suchow is junction point of the Lunghai and the North South Tientsin-Pukow railway. General Chiang Kai Shek, according to Chinese reports, was in personal command of the Chinese armies, holding long-prepared defense lines protecting Suchow from North and South.

Japanese reports said Chinese had lost more than 7,000 killed in fierce fighting in the last eight days along the Hwai river.

General Chiang was said to have arrived at the front North of Nanking to direct the army holding back the invaders South of Suchow and the troops facing Japanese in Southern Shantung province.

Chinese told also of brisk engagements up the Yangtze river valley at Wuhu and at Hangchow, Southwest of Shanghai on the Chekiang province coast.

County Court Off On Slow Beginning

Very little was accomplished at the morning session of the regular weekly term of County court today only one case being tried.

Libby Porter, charged with driving drunk and also with hit and run driving was convicted of reckless driving and hit and run, but not of drunken driving. Judge Dink James did not immediately pass sentence.

Three Negroes, Eugene Jordan, Woodrow Wilson and John Vines, were given their freedom, at least temporarily, when a nolle pro was taken in a case charging them with assault with a deadly weapon.

As the afternoon session got underway it was indicated a number of cases would be disposed of in short order. Gus Small, Grimesland Negro who proved a good reputation, pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapon and was ordered to pay a $50 fine and costs of the court. A 90-day road sentence was suspended upon provision other terms of the judgment were met.

H. L. Coble of Greensboro bid low on the general contract as $51,872.

Eight bidders sought the heating job. Carolina Heating and Engineering company of Durham bid low at $3,125.

Bieman & Powell of Raleigh bid low at $1,787 for the plumbing work against four other firms.

The Board of Public Buildings and Grounds studied the proposals, saying it would take several days before awarding contracts or rejecting all bids. Appropriation for the work was $60,000.

FAILS TO NAME CIO SUCCESSOR

Federation Council Leaves the Mining Field Open

Miami, Fla., Feb. 8.—(AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor concluded its mid-winter meeting today without any action to set up the Progressive Miners of America as the A. F. of L.'s successor to John Lewis' United Mine Workers Union in the national mining field.

Following the ouster of the U. M. W. and two other Committees for Industrial Organization affiliates, the Federation had been expected to consider an application of the Progressive Miners for extension of their charter, which now is limited to Illinois.

Asked whether action might be taken at the council's next meeting in Washington in April, President William Green said it would "be determined by the logic of the situation" and that he could not say now what might be done.

Green planned to leave here tomorrow for Chicago, where he will address the Founder's Day banquet of the Wisconsin University alumni Friday night.

Hitler Preparing Economic Security

Berlin, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Sources professing to know Reichsbuehrer Adolf Hitler's mind, forecast today a secret domestic policy council parallel to the foreign policy council he created in the shake-up of Reich leadership last Friday.

These sources said Germany wants never again to find herself strong at arms, but weak economically as she was in 1914.

Field Marshall Hermann Goering, number two Nazi and head of Germany's four-year plan for economic self-sufficiency, is charged with the realizing of that ambition. He is determined that Germany be prepared for all eventualities, not only during the four-year economic plan, but also for all time after.

Inducting Walther Funk, the new economics minister, into office yesterday, Goering charged him with responsibility for seeing to fruition of the four-year economic plan.

Victim of Assassin

Hollywood—Groucho Marx is going to wear a mustache—a real one in the Marx trio's next picture, "Room Service."

And Harpo and Chico will appear in more conservative attire, though Harpo will retain his red wig and his wild-eyed insanity.

All of which portends a Big Step for the brothers. For the first time they will attempt characters that have been previously created on the stage by others, for the first time they will appear in a ready-made play that was not fashioned for their own exclusive zany uses.

"If we succeed," says Groucho, the sad-eyed, the soft-voiced, "we'll be opening up an entirely new field for ourselves. If we don't—"

Groucho seriously has his doubts about the piece as a Marxian vehicle, thinks it is worth the gamble for the reward it will bring if happily received.

"We make only one picture, a year, to keep the public from catching on to us," he explains. "When the public catches on to an actor, he may as well fold us. I know—I haven't have caught on to some of our best stars, and they're the ones I don't go out of my way to see on the screen. "Room Service" will be something new for us, and we hope will serve to defer the evil day when the public does catch on."

BUSINESS ACTIVITY

Industrial Index Dips to New 'Recess' Low

NEW YORK—(AP)—Industrial activity during January fell to the lowest level since September, 1935. The Associated Press seasonally adjusted index, charted above, slumped to 73.5 per cent of the 1929-30 average from 76 per cent in December, 1937. This compared with the peak last year of 108.3 per cent, touched in May.

these sessions they elaborate, discuss, suggest innovations. In the heat of creation, they have been known to laugh uproariously, sulk sulkily, or mutter madly.

"We put gags in and we throw gags out. We sometimes throw the writers out, and they roucer—and there are times when we throw ourselves out." Thus Groucho summarizes the technique of conferences. "If you," he says to me with hidden meaning which I think I resent, "should laugh at one of our jokes, we most certainly would throw that one out. But if an audience, laughs—even though we know the gag is terrible—we leave it in. We operate on the idea that the public pays for what it wants, and it's up to us to give it to them. No actor, though some of us think so, is out there to entertain himself. He's there to amuse the public."

Crepe To Paint

As is their custom, the Marxes will take their version of "Room Service" on the road, in tabloid form, to get audience reaction before they start filming. In preparation, Groucho already has begun growing his real mustache. His usual grease-paint lip ornament hides out of place for the character he is to play: "In a real play we can't appear as caricatures or cartoons," he said.

CONFIRMS NEW ATHLETIC PLAN

Superintendent Erwin Announces High School Program

By Editor Bureau
 Raleigh, Feb. 8. The only thing needed to complete an entire new setup for athletics in North Carolina's high schools, announcement of the identity of a Director of Physical Education who will be in complete charge of interscholastic athletics as well as the entire program of physical education from the first grade up.

This announcement will be made in a few days, Clyde Erwin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, said today.

Mr. Erwin's statement confirms in fact a prediction made exclusively by this bureau some weeks ago. Adoption of plans for the new setup, which will go away with the present system of "Conference" competition among high schools, was held up for some time while department of education and budget bureau officials worked out ways and means to set aside the salary needed to secure a first class man for the post of "Chief of State School Athletics."

Head of the physical department's identity could be wrangled out of Mr. Erwin not until the salary which the post will pay be determined.

For a long time there has been a definite and distinct undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the manner in which high school athletics have been governed, with two so-called "Conferences" A and B, each divided into two geographical groups, east and west, listing only a comparatively few of the schools on their roster.

Winners of these so-called "Conference" races have been meeting in Chapel Hill, under supervision of the University's Extension Department, for so-called "State Championships," which have meant rel-

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

BY ALAN LEMAY

SYNOPSIS: Carrying a gun-cargo for Rajah Mantusen, we encounter a Dyak revolt against the Malays on Sumatanga island. Mantusen blames my uncle, James Clyde, and is holding him prisoner until I (Paul Thorne) can bring our fortified ship, the Linkang, up-river to aid the Malays. Christine Forrester, a young English girl, is behind the war, and supplying the Dyak guns. She refuses to call off her sharpshooters so I can rescue Clyde, and even worse, the Linkang cannot cross the bar. I must have her just, the Avon.

hardly hear her words. "I think I know what I am going to do."
 I waited, while for a moment she bit her lips.
 "I'm going to send my brother to Mantusen in the morning," she said.
 "With that first insane proposition?"
 "Yes."
 Preparation
 I DIDN'T argue; there wasn't anything more to say. I went back to my ship, but I knew now what I was going to do.
 Her brother's fever would prob-

Chapter 19
Christine's Answer

"THEN," I told Christine, "there's no hope for Clyde."
 "We must make hope. You must go to Mantusen, and find some way to persuade him to accept my terms. It's the only chance there is."
 "There's one other," I said.
 I told her now what I thought the other chance was—that although the Linkang could not be taken into the river, the Avon perhaps could.
 I explained to her at long length just how I could kedge the Avon up the Siderong perhaps to that second turn which commanded the stockades.
 "Give me my chance," I begged her. "I know the Dyak tribes could take me if they thought they could; but there's a possibility that they'll run from the sound of the heavy guns. There are still enough Malays left to carry the stockades, once I smash down some of the walls."
 I went on with a lot more, talking hard, talking for my life. I fell silent at last because the girl said nothing, so that in the end I simply ran down.
 The mass of orchids behind Christine was swaying a little, making plain how utterly motionless she sat. I noticed now the strange, unsettling quality of her stillness. There was a long silence, and eventually it became unendurable.
 "In the name of heaven, say something!"
 She stood up then, and moved slowly to the rail, her rope-gloved shoes perfectly silent on the deck. She stood looking across at the moon-silvered loom of Sumatanga; and her profile was as quiet as if she had been looking at some sleeping flower garden in the English shires.
 "The ginger crop is heavy this year." Her voice was remote, as if she had been able to move herself miles away. "Whenever there's an off-shore wind you can smell those blossoms."
 Part of me was deeply moved by that frail, valiant defiance of all the unknown fates hovering over Sumatanga. But she had given me my answer, too.
 "You mean, then, you'll do nothing at all to help Clyde?"
 Her words were very quiet. "My father lifted these people into this revolt. He trained them, and encouraged them, and—loved them. Yet you want me to betray them, as completely and as treacherously as any people were ever betrayed."

I was moved by her frail defiance.

The Final Word

I STOOD silent for a little while; then, in desperation, tried one thing more.
 "The Linkang has a cargo," I said. "We don't have any of the usual trade goods; but we have guns—any number of guns. Suppose we offer the Linkang's cargo of arms in place of the Mantusen loot. You seem to know the Dyaks better than I do; but it looks to me as if we might be able to buy them off yet, with all those guns."
 Her voice still had that toneless effect of great distance. "We have guns," she said. "We have all the guns we need."
 I stared at her for a long time. "You speak a civilized language," I said at last. "And you look—well, it can't matter to you how you look to me. And yet you can speak of a mass of vermin-crawling head-hunters—and say 'we'."
 What stopped me then—must have been the sight of her hands clenched upon the rail. There wasn't anything else in her posture to suggest tenseness. But even in that indirect light her knuckles shone very white. I could see the veins along the backs of her hands.
 "There isn't any way we can talk to each other," I finished lamely.
 "No," she said.
 "It's final that you aren't going to do anything to help us?"
 "No," she answered me; I could atly little in view of the fact that many more schools have been out of the Conferences than have ever been in.

Under the new plan the physical education unit of the Division of Instructional Service will have complete control of athletics. It is not certain just what policy the unit will follow with regard to "championships and interscholastic sports, but it is certain that whatever plan is adopted will be all-inclusive, with every school having an equal chance to compete with all others in the same class.

Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, who is head of the Division of Instructional Service, is known to deplore the "over-emphasis" of athletics both in colleges and high schools; but his opposition extends more to "exploitation of individuals" than to competition between schools.

The one thing certain is that there will be no official sanction of posing in high schools if Dr. Highsmith has his way. He is known to be bitterly opposed to scholastic competition in what he terms "the only so-called sport in the world where the sole aim and object is to do physical harm to your oppon-

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Feb. 8.—Oldest member of the Board of Elections in point of service is Adrian Mitchell, Republican from Hertford county. He was named by Governor McLean in 1925 when the board, as presently constituted, came into being, and he has served on it continuously ever since.

And so it was no new thrill to him yesterday when the board was sworn in by Governor Hoey and held the organization meeting at which W. A. Lucas, Wilson Democrat, was named chairman.

Mr. Mitchell, though he has steadfastly held to his political "religion" has always managed to get along well with his colleagues on the election board.

He agrees that during the last ten years there has been less disputation over partisan matters on the board than in almost any state in the Union.

Commissioner of Agriculture W.
Kerr Scott was chairman of the committee for the Agriculture Workers meeting in Atlanta, which drafted resolutions requesting the Federal government to continue for appropriate funds for state and federal cooperative work in Bang's disease control.

The N. C. Commissioner took a prominent part in the Atlanta session, it was reported on his return here.

"I've been hoping that some pho-
Thad Eure at work," remarked
State Treasurer Charlie Johnson while a group of officials were congregated in the Governor's office for the swearing in of the Election Board.

"It couldn't be a movie, it would have to be a 'still,' but I'm remarkably a critic news man who overheard the remark.

"I do not believe any state in the Union has a better utility rate structure than North Carolina," said R. O. Self, chief clerk of the Utility Commission.

He pointed out that every electric utility, every gas company and all three or four minor telephone companies in the state have reduced their rates at least once within the past three years.

"And we've been able to do it right here around the table," said Mr. Self. "Only the telephone companies have gone into court and even in that case we reached a compromise agreement."

There is the old story of Nero following while Rome burned. Then there is Judge Meekins and the slot machine injunction. It seems the distinguished federal jurist needs further light to determine whether or not the Silent Salesman is an entirely lawful vending machine or an instrument for gambling. He has held up his decision while rival counsel prepare written briefs.

Recently a representative of the slots told your correspondent: "If they's just let us operate for thirty days, we don't give a damn what Judge Meekins does."
It seems he'll get that long, at least.

"I was particularly impressed with the Alabama convention to surround farmers with the type of fertilizer best to use on their soil," said Louis E. Wilson, publications head of the Department of Agriculture on his return from the Alabama session of Agricultural Workers.

"They seem to have put it over in great style," he added. "In North Carolina about 42 per cent of all fertilizer sold is of the 3-8-2 type, and yet this 3-8-2 fertilizer is not recommended for any soil or for raising any kind of crop whatever.
We need a fertilizer of higher nitrate and potash content than that."

The term "Bowlerlike" meaning to center or cut out, comes from a squeamish editor named Bowler who flourished in the early 19th century.

High-heeled shoes are much more expensive to keep than lowheeled shoes. The heels have to be replaced more often.

It's Odd But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

New York—It's only a little more than a year since anatomically known physician was cut off the air for using the correct name of what Americans for generations had called a "social disease."

What has happened since in the expansion of this disease is another sign of fast-changing times.

The highlight of the change has just appeared in an editorial of the Medical Times.

Issue postage stamps—the editorial suggests—bearing the picture of Wassermann.

The suggestion is credited to Einar Lyngskip, accountant of the Edison system in New York. Lyng-skip originated a Christmas seal for the 1937-38 season which bore the characters S O S. One of the S's stood for the once unmention-able social disease.

If Uncle Sam saw the new seal it is not reported that his postal inspectors objected.

The original Christmas seal was the idea of another Einar. Einar Hobboel, Danish postal clerk, is credited with this classic of the tu-bererculosis campaign in 1903.

CORN CHAMP

Mitch Snelson, 17-year-old 4-H Club member of Buncombe county, grew nine times as much corn on one acre of land in 1937 as did the average North Carolina farmer.

As a result, he has been declared winner of the 4-H corn growing contest and presented with a four-year scholarship to State College, said L. R. Harrill, State 4-H Club leader.

Young Snelson's record shows that he produced 178 bushels of corn on a measured acre of land at a total cost of $45.75, or 25.7 cents a bushel. Labor, fertilizer, seed, and rent accounted for his expenses.
Valuing the corn at 75 cents a bushel, he made a profit of $87.75 on the enterprise.

The prize-winning corn was grown on land which had just produced a heavy egumulous cover crop. The record was conducted under the supervision of A. W. Nesbitt, former farm agent of Buncombe county, Harrill said.

The scholarship was awarded by the Barrett company.

A FARMERETTE FRESH FROM GAY NEW YORK

A farmerette by avocation is Judith Bregman, one of 47 students from Lincoln High School in New York City who are learning something about life in the rural South on a farm near Clarksville, Ga. They are spending awhile on a farm owned by Dr. Morris R. Mitchell of New College, Columbia University. Among Judith's chores was the task of driving a yoke of steers, and she seems to like it.

1,000 Tobacco Farmers Bank on His Judgment

John L. Pinnix—Independent Warehouseman—is one of many tobacco experts who prefer Luckies...

IN THE warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely
Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too.

"At every market I've ever attended," says Mr.
Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has bought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered.
That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago."

Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts —auctioneers, buyers, and ware-housemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Cotton Farmers Finding Standardization Profitable

Raleigh, Feb. 8.—One-variety cotton communities are on the increase in North Carolina as farmers are finding standardization profitable.

Last year growers in 13 one-variety communities pocketed $195,000 extra as a result of increased yields and premiums for quality, according to J. A. Shanklin, Federal Bureau of Plant Industry representative located at State College.

The average extra cash return is estimated at $5 an acre.

The one-variety community plan has spread rapidly over the main Cotton Belt since 1931, Shanklin said.

In carrying out the plan, all cotton growers in a community agree to plant a single variety selected for its adaptability and quality.

Then they keep in mind the idea of maintaining standardized production for marketing advantages, keeping seed supplies pure by preventing mixtures at the gin, and maintaining fiber qualities by careful ginning.

In the main Cotton Belt, excluding New Mexico, Arizona and California, there were 781 such projects last year from which cotton growers earned $8,500,000 in extra cash returns. One of the reasons why the lint sold at a premium was that it ranged from 1 inch to 1-16 inches in staple length.

These figures were compiled by C. B. Doyle, who has charge of the one-variety community work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In estimating the extra cash return of $5 an acre, Doyle took the minimum figure reported from the various States. These estimates ranged from $5 to $8 an acre.

The following real estate transfers were recorded in the offices of the Pitt County Register of Deeds during the past week:

Control Bill Hits At Scrap Tobacco

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Feb. 8.—Sales of "scrap" tobacco, against which a long and bitter fight has been waged in North Carolina for years, will be practically impossible under terms of the current crop control bill which Congress is expected to enact into law before the end of this week, according to E. F. Arnold, secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Arnold told this bureau that the bill, without naming scrap tobacco in any section, will strike an effective blow at its sale here or elsewhere.

The club which is expected to produce the lethal effect is cleverly concealed in the provision which subjects all tobacco sold in excess of allotments or "goals" to a tax of "fifty percentum of the sales price or three cents per pound, whichever is the greater."

The "three cent" part, Mr. Arnold says, kills scrap sales quite as effectively as if they were specifically and definitely barred by the bill in fact much more effectively since there would be more than a little question as to the Constitutionality of such a provision.

Inasmuch as scrap tobacco brings on an average something like two cents a pound, it appears obvious that nobody is going to sell any when it will cost him three cents on each pound for which he receives two.

Thus the farmer who has an allotment of, say, 10,000 pounds is going to sell all his better grade tobacco before putting any scrap on the market. If he has enough to make up his quota, he naturally will sell no scrap; but if he hasn't quite raised his quota he still isn't going to put his scrap on the market because there will be plenty of neighbors who have more than their quota and who will be glad to pay him more than 2 cents per pound (all he could get from the scrap even without paying a tax).

And so, thinks Mr. Arnold, the control bill has accomplished by indirection what farmers' organizations have been trying vainly for years to accomplish directly.

Biggest Week Is Being Predicted

The time is brief but the possibilities are unlimited. Between now and Saturday night, club members may gather enough votes to decide the winning of the best award in the gigantic prize list.

The majority of the members are planning to make this week a record breaker, inasmuch as they have been informed by the Campaign department that Extra Votes for $30.00 subscription clubs will be withdrawn after this week, and they will have lost the opportunity to secure such a great vote for their subscriptions.

The Way To Victory
"The $30.00 Club way" is the way to success as the best Extra Votes for $30.00 subscriptions are on at the beginning of the race. This is done to protect the early workers from some one making a "Sprint" at the end of the race and depriving them of a prize that they have been striving valiantly for. The object of the "Cash Offer" Campaign is to reward the real workers and those who put their "shoulders to the wheel" so to speak, and help make the big campaign a success early in the race will be the ones whose work will be protected throughout the race and whose efforts will be fruit most bountifully.

Big Week
All indications point to a big week and emphasize the fact that those who are in the race to succeed in winning the $600.00 or the $1,000.00 prize should be fully realizing the importance of putting forth Herculean efforts right now. The members are beginning to take their possibilities seriously. Subscriptions secured this week and turned in under the final $30.00 Club offer will materially enhance the possibilities of winning a big award.

Those who have been working half-heartedly are beginning to "see the light," and are making up for lost time by taking every possible advantage of the Extra Vote Offer this week. Splendid encouragement is being received from over the entire Campaign map and enthusiasm reigns supreme.

The Big Extra Vote Offer
The Extra Vote Offer this week is the stepping stone to success in the truest sense of the word. 255-000 Extra Votes will be allowed upon each $30.00 subscription club. Building subscription lists now will lead to winning the $600.00 and the more $30.00 subscription clubs you build this week, the surer are your possibilities of the best award.

Durham Defeats Locals To Hold Conference Lead

SECOND LOSS FOR GREENIES

Durham Rallies In Last Minutes To Win 30-16

By BAXTER CLARK
The Durham Bulldogs, undefeated leaders in the Eastern Class A basketball conference, defeated the Greenville high school Phantoms in Durham last night by a score of 30 to 16.

The game was played in the Duke University gymnasium. Around 1,500 persons attended the game, which decided the leadership of the conference.

The game was close until the final minutes of play, when George Loftis scored 6 points in 3 minutes. The locals grabbed an early lead of 6-3, but the Bulldogs overtook them and went on to gain a 12-6 advantage before the first period was over. In the next quarter of play the Phantoms came back to get six points to Durham's 3. Half score 15-12, favor of Durham.

In the next half the teams played evenly until the last few minutes of the game. When the final quarter began the Bulldogs were leading by a score of 18 to 14. In this period the Bulldogs spurred to victory, making 12 points to Greenville's 2. Final score, 30-16.

Bobby Ganitt led the winners with 10 points. His height enabled him to score the majority of these. Geo. Loftis was next for Durham with 7 points. Another Loftis boy, Cedric, scored 4 points. Reuben Whitfield scored 6 points for the Durham quint.

The Phantoms played a good brand of ball, but were handicapped in the early moments of play by the loss of Captain Dubose Simpson, who was put out for committing four fouls. The Greenville boys were also outclassed because of the height of the Bulldogs.

Tom Parrish, local guard, scored 12 points to lead the Phantoms. He was also good on defense, holding his man scoreless. Richard Gaylord played a bang-up game for the Greensies. Parrish, Hodges and Gaylord were the main factors of the locals' play.

PIRATES FACE SEMI-PRO FIVE

College to Engage Red Raiders From Bethel Tonight

The Pirates of E. C. T. C. have a busy week ahead of them. Tonight they play the unusually strong Bethel Red Raiders, one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the state. Boley Farley, Reynolds May and Rupert Deal pace the visitors. On Friday night, Belmont Abbey comes into the Pirates' camp for their annual game. The Abbey lads are unusually strong this year and have one of the fastest teams ever to represent that school. Houdek, forward, and Courtner, guard, are leading scorers. Both are football letter men and the fans will likely see action in big quantities. Saturday night Coach Virgil Yow brings his strong High Point Collegians here for a game. The Pirates are exceedingly anxious to win this game, largely as a matter of revenge for the terrific laceration he cannot be lifted from the floor when he doesn't want to be. He is described as one of the world's unsolved mysteries.

Tourney

Entries to the East Carolina Invitational High School Basketball Tournament are pouring in. Several strong teams have mailed their entries and this year's tourney will be the biggest in the history of the event. Coach Alexander is planning an effective organization to take care of the numerous visitors for the four days' activities. Kenansville and Conway seem to be the favorites for the boys' teams, while Green Hope has the edge for the girls' teams.

The basis of Chinese social organization is a closely knit and highly organized family.

There is actually such a thing as a bookworm. It is a grub which feeds on the paper in books.

The High Pointers gave them a rough game in the season.

In a game marked by much roughness and speedy play Coach Alexander's exers won over Campbell College at Buie's Creek Saturday night.

The Campbell boys led most of the way by a narrow margin, but despite a tendency for unusual roughness and considerable bad passing, the Pirates put on a last minute rally to win, 39-37. Seven members of the Pirate squad took part in the fray.

JUNIOR HIGHS MEET DURHAM

Game to be Called in Local Gym at 7:30 O'clock

The local junior high school basketball team will meet the Durham junior high school team tonight in the high school gym at 7:30.

The Durham juniors come to Greenville with an enviable record, having won all six games played this season. They have defeated Raleigh twice, Greensboro twice, Wilson once and Goldsboro once. Their team is composed of players that are both tall and fast, which insures the "Baby Phantoms" of Greenville a busy evening.

Coach Herman Dally has not announced any definite starting lineup for Greenville, but it will probably be as follows: Burney Warren, and Larry James at forward, John Collins at center, John Horne and J. B. Kittrell at guard. Snag Clark and Charles Wilson are also slated to see considerable playing. "Baby Phantoms" have been showing steady improvement, having won their last two games, and should give the Durham boys a good game.

Duke Cagers Meet Davidson Tonight

Durham, Feb. 8—Duke's "never a dull moment" basketball bouncers will play a return game with Davidson Wildcats in Duke gym tonight.

Freshmen teams of the two schools will play a preliminary at 7:15 o'clock with the varsity encounter scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

It will be Davidson's first appearance in this section this season and the Wildcats will offer the finest team to represent the school in years. They turned in an easy 49-27 victory over the Blue Devils in the previous meeting as Ned Iverson and Jim Cowan, the Wildcats' two outstanding stars, hit the hoop for a total of 25 points.

The unpredictable Blue Devils were in their usual form last week. After handing N. C. State's brilliant team a 42-28 lacing, they went North to lose to St. John's of Brooklyn 44-28 and to Army 40-20. The boys who figure out the games thought the Blue Devils would lose to State and St. John's and beat Army but the "Never a Dull Moment" boys crossed up things again.

HUMAN ICEBERG WILL APPEAR HERE ON WHITE CHEVROLET PROGRAM

An unusual and startling program will be presented by White Chevrolet Co. on Wednesday, February 9, beginning at 8 p. m. Don Ramon, nationally known as the "Human Iceberg" and "Tascott" will lead the program to be presented by the local Chevrolet dealer at the high school auditorium.

Don Ramon will be frozen alive in a solid block of ice in an attempt to better his own present world record of 33 minutes. The late Harry Houdini was the first to create this spectacular and sensational act by setting a world record in 1927 of 7 minutes and 46 seconds. Since that time Don Ramon has set a new world record of 33 minutes.

The "Human Iceberg" will be placed in his tomb of ice in full view of the public and dressed only in a swim suit. He will remain there as long as his physical stamina and mental courage will permit. Also appearing on the program will be "Tascott," "Tascott," a little man of 425 pounds.

SCOUTING IDEA FOUNDED 1910

Youths' Organization Celebrates 28th Anniversary

Cake and candles may be the popular conception of a birthday party, but for Boy Scouts who have begun a week's festivities in celebration of the 28th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

From a welter of demonstrations, talks and meetings emerges one birthday week activity typical of the boys who make up more than a million membership of the Boy Scouts of America. It is a "Good Turn" — a nationwide "Good Turn" to the men and women of America which, Boy Scouts hope, will "bring home" lessons in safety in such dramatic manner that they will be less thoughtless, careless and ignorant in the myriad small things they do... or don't do... which breed accidents.

The Scout "Good Turn" will not be done with a beating of drums or amidst the cheers of spectators, but inconspicuously in neighborhood business districts where Scouts will stage "living" demonstrations of fundamental safety practices upon the sidewalks, in store windows, lobbies and other spots where Mr. and Mrs. America congregate.

This simple but effective "Good Turn" is reminiscent of another Boy Scout act which resulted in bringing the Scouting idea to America more than 28 years ago. This "Good Turn" took place in London when an unknown English lad helped an American lost in a dense fog to discover an address. When the boy refused the customary tip for his services with the statement, "Scouts don't take any money for 'Good Turns'", the surprised American, Mr. W. D. Boyce of Chicago, decided to investigate further with the result that he met Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World. As an outcome of this meeting, Boyce brought back the idea which was developed with minor changes into the program of the Boy Scouts of America, incorporated February 8, 1910, in Washington, D. C., and granted a Federal Charter by Congress on June 21, 1916.

Since that date 28 years ago, more than 7,500,000 boys and men from Alaska to the Canal Zone and from Main to the Philippines have participated in the characteristic citizenship training program of camping, crafts and woodsmanship of the Boy Scouts of America.

CURFEW DIDN'T RING FOR CELEBRANTS at birthday balls held in Washington, D. C., as well as in other cities of the nation, to raise funds for the national infantile paralysis foundation, with political, diplomatic, social, stage and screen worlds represented among the guest lists. Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) and Mrs. Brice Claret, daughter of Senator William Gibbs McAdoo of California, attended one of the several Washington parties.

By Preston Grover

Washington—Notes a-roaming. Painless prosperity note: Representative Matthew A. Dunn, Pennsylvania Democrat, has introduced a bill "to provide $85,000,000.000 which shall be expended within a period of 10 years to furnish employment and to end poverty in the United States and its possessions. How would he raise the money?" Mr. Dunn has that solved. His bill provides that "the President shall be authorized to appoint a committee of at least five members... to devise ways and means to secure the money to carry out the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the committee to obtain the said money from sources which will work the least hardship on the taxpayers of our country."

Brown Harris, pastor of the Foundary Methodist Church in Washington, said as part of his prayer in the House: "Save us in days like those from a spineless neutrality which blinds us to the eternal distinctions between right and wrong."

Buffalo note: Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, has decided to remove the buffalo from the nickel and substitute Thomas Jefferson. A contest is in progress for the Jefferson design. Says Mrs. Ross: "I never thought the design on the nickels now in use was attractive, because the buffalo is too big—takes up too much room on the coin."

Business-at-sea note: Representative Umstead of North Carolina, who piloted the naval appropriations bill through the House, says navy men lack the business training to fit them for big operations such as managing naval yards. Navy men are efficient, he said, but "have never had an opportunity to know the necessity of meeting a payroll... Somewhere, somehow in our defense establishments it is my deliberate judgment that there ought to be real experienced businessmen who at least can give their experience and ability to the services engaged in national defense, spending large sums of money for that purpose. This is another instance without a remedy. I have none to suggest. I raise the question, however... and whether you agree with me or not, I think there are plenty of places where a real businessman could save the United States government hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars—and I do not mean to confine that statement to the branches of national defense. I think it is largely true of all departments of our government."

Tough luck note: Representative Sumner of Texas laments that

WATER-TASTERS LIVE FROM NOSE TO MOUTH

Philadelphia —(AP)—Two Philadelphians depend on their noses for a large part of their income. Samuel Crawford and Thomas Kinlow are Philadelphia's official sniffer—and testers—of its drinking water.

Both have developed their senses of smell and taste to a high degree of efficiency during nearly 10 years as employees of the Bureau of Water.

Each morning they examine samples taken from the city's three central pumping stations. If they find the water isn't as it should be, they hold fast to the river to see which factory is to blame. That seldom happens, however, for most companies co-operate.

ENGLISH GARAGEMEN BOOST PRICE OF AIR

London —(AP)—The air is no longer free in some parts of England. A number of garagemen have decided to charge 12 cents every time they have to inflate a motorist's tires.

This and such other service as filling radiators and topping up batteries are performed free by most filling stations which depend on road will for much of their business.

when he was young and hearty and working his way through school he could eat anything but did not get the chance. Now he has money to buy what he wants to eat but has to watch his diet.

We must let you know that Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi was not always a mere senator. At one point in his life he was a stevedore. On Friday night, April 17, 1886, the Crystal Springs high school gave a "concert programme, admission 25 cents." The second number on the program was: "Comis Solo—'Duckfoot Sue'—Patton Harrison, vocal." He refuses now to sing "Duckfoot Sue."

200 CITY FOLKS, RESETTLED BY U. S.— TURN INTO MIGHTY SLICK FARMERS

MAKING THE FARM PAY Here's Poultryman J. D. Pittman (left), of Pine Mountain Valley, going over plans with the settlement manager, W. Tapley Bennett.

Hamilton, Ga.—A promise of a different kind of farming, in the South—a kind that not only brings a good living but also regular cash profits—is emerging from a 12,000-acre settlement in the red hills of Georgia.

It is coming from community farm industries built around 200 families who are finding a new life on land the Federal Relief administration bought four years ago for $11 an acre.

Hard hit by the depression, the families were prone to hopeful when they settled on the 16- to 36-acre farms in Pine Mountain Valley. But now their pantries are full and their produce is selling.

From Ships to Chickens Pierce Thomason, a former shipyard worker, for instance, cleared $8,000 last season on his farm. He expects $12,000 this year—a 33 1-3 per cent return on a $3,500 investment in land, livestock, buildings, and equipment sold him on a long term payment plan.

Allen Meeks made $40 from poultry in one month and paid more than $300 last year on his indebtedness. E. W. Brannon, who used to operate a string of filling stations, is raising so much food that his wife can hardly decide what to cook.

E. J. Snodgrass a former food and drug salesman, never had put harness on a mule two years ago—he had to watch somebody else do it before he knew where to begin. Yet he cleared $300 the first year.

The story behind all this is the story of the Pine Mountain Valley corporation, of which Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state WPA administrator, is president.

Poultry Means Cash Settlers don't waste any time on door-to-door peddling. They take their produce to the corporation's warehouse for careful grading, uniform packing and marketing in bulk.

Poultry has been their No. 1 money-maker. It brought more than $38,000 to the valley in three months last season. W. Tapley Bennett, manager of the settlement, expects $75,000 this year, $35,000 of it clear profit.

A corporation poultry plant is making $5,000 a year over expenses. It represents an outlay of more than $15,000.

Dairying is second in the list of profit producers. Truck and vegetable growing come third. Cotton, the mainstay of many hard-pressed Dixie farmers, is a poor fourth.

Bennett, a former county farm agent says: "I am convinced that a farm development with as much as 2,500 acres of reasonably good land can, with wise management, be made to pay greater dividends than almost any other industry you might select. It takes a lot of planning and business ability, but it can be done."

Soil Is Improved The first step in Pine Mountain Valley's success, he says, was terracing the worn-out fields with modern machinery and laying out the farms for efficient use of the different land types.

Soil-building crops—mainly vetch, Austrian peas and crimson clover in the winter and field peas, soy beans and velvet beans in the summer—have doubled the land's productivity. There is not let-up in this direction and farmers see not any limit to the benefits.

BE WARY OF VALENTINE'S DAY, MSTER: GALS AREN'T WAITING FOR LEAP YEAR

(By The AP feature Service) VALENTINE'S for 1938 are clipped and modern, but they tell the old, old story just the same. Extravagant sentiment and effusive messages are gone, but the "I Love You" idea runs through them, though often in a slang.

You can't do away with hearts in the decorations. You won't find so many bright red ones this year, though. They're likely to be in shades of blue or grey—even orchid! Sometimes they're outlined with gold or silver, or veiled with metallic mesh in deference to the modern mood.

Notable among this year's valentines is the increasing number of cards for exchange between husband and wife. There are the more serious expressions of affection embellished with designs of artistic merit, or gaily casual cards with spiritily sketches.

Particularly striking is the number of cards for girls to send to their boy friends. They're not waiting for Leap Year. Some of them are amusing suggestions of romantic regard, others are in the frank spirit of warm affection.

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Steels led the stock market on a recovery sortie today and favorites regained fractions to more than two points of recently lost ground. There were quiet profit realizing intervals and quotations were down moderately from the best near the fourth hour. Rail bonds were inclined to edge forward, but other commodity loans were uneven.

REG CARRINGTON ASKS COMMANDER ELLSBERG:

"Can you tell a Real Difference between Camels and other cigarettes?"

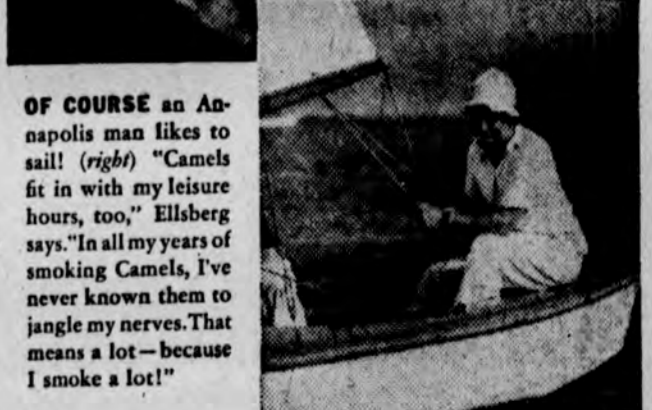

CLUB-ROOM CONVERSATION (above) so often swings around to cigarettes. Commander Ellsberg says: "That famous saying, 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel' expresses how enthusiastic I am about Camels myself"

"Yes—absolutely!" says Commander Edward Ellsberg. And millions of other steady smokers agree that there is a distinct difference in Camels. That's why Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in the world.

A MAN OF ACTION! (right) Commander Ellsberg shares under-sea danger with his men. He says: "The last thing a diver does before going down—and the first thing he does after coming up—is to smoke a Camel."

OF COURSE an Annapolis man likes to sail! (right) "Camels fit in with my leisure hours, too," Ellsberg says. "In all my years of smoking Camels, I've never known them to jangle my nerves. That means a lot—because I smoke a lot!"
