

Anti-Lynching Bill Put On Shelf By Senate To Take Up Emergency Relief Measure

VOTE ASKED BY PARTY LEADER

Jubilant Senators Regard Bill as Dead for This Session

WAGNER SOUGHT AMEND MOTION

Unsuccessful, However, in Efforts to Provide for Later Consideration of Bill

Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Senate shelved the anti-lynching bill today to take up the $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation measure.

The action, taken on a motion by Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, ended a filibuster which had consumed 29 days of this session.

Jubilant Southerners who had fought the measure, said they regarded the Senate action as assurance the bill would not be brought up again this session.

Before the vote proponents of the bill, headed by Senator Wagner (D-N. Y.) had sought unsuccessfully to amend the motion so as to provide for later consideration of the bill.

The relief measure, previously passed by the House, is designed to increase WPA rolls to a total of 3,500,000 persons.

In asking that the anti-lynching bill be laid aside, Barkley explained that there appeared to him to be no chance of obtaining unanimous consent to limit the anti-lynching bill debate and said he had done all he could to get a vote on it.

He noted also that two motions to invoke cloture, limiting each Senator's arguments to one hour, had been defeated. The vote on laying the bill aside was 58 to 22.

Delayed Payments Bring Complaints To Security Board

Group Of Union Textile Mill Employees at Burlington Latest to Offer Objections

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—Complaints about the workings of Charlie Powell's Unemployment Compensation division continue to increase.

First it was a Lumberton attorney who got checks, admittedly "out of regular order," for mill workers he represented.

Now it's a group of union textile mill employees in Burlington who are proclaiming loudly that their unemployment checks are overdue and that they want them immediately, if not just a bit sooner.

The fact that Mr. Powell's department has already shown that it can be hurried into action by loud yells of outraged wrath is not going to do it a bit of good in dealing with the present and later complaints; because Mr. Powell has already put himself in the position of yielding to pressure.

He contended that the Lumberton checks were not "long overdue," in fact that they were not as far behind as many others, yet the department from his office routine in order to give the Lumberton folks their checks "out of order," as he phrased it.

It was contended by many at the time that Mr. Powell couldn't possibly be right under any set of circumstances. If the checks were "long overdue," as the Lumberton people said, the Powell department was convicted of inefficiency. If the checks were not "long overdue," as Mr. Powell contended, then he should not have permitted himself

Bigger Navy

Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Senator Adams (D-Colo.) said in Washington today that he would support the House bill for a larger navy.

"It may not be absolutely necessary, but it certainly appears advisable that our navy be big enough to protect both our coasts," he told reporters.

Three Big Ballots Offered Workers

Last week was a big week in the "Cash Offer" Campaign. Each member made a determined effort to win the extra cash prize that was offered the best result-getter for the six-day period. Great strides were made by most of the members and the offer was the means of helping many toward the winning goal. It may be said that the race so far is a most even one among many of the members and a sprint on the part of any one of many would change the entire complexion of the line-up.

Free Vote Ballots Three "Protect You" Vote Ballots of 1,000,000 votes each will be awarded to the three candidates having the best credit, respectively, the three largest number of votes for both old and new subscriptions turned in from the beginning of the campaign to and including Saturday, February 26.

FANSHUI BOMBED BY JAP AIRCRAFT

One Plane Shot Down However, and Another Captured when Forced to Land

Shanghai, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Japanese were repulsed today in an attempt to cross the Yellow river just north of Kaifeng, important city on the Lunghai railway line in Northern Honan province.

Japanese forces, which for weeks have been moving southward in a campaign to cut the Lunghai railway, were spreading rapidly to the west into Shanxi province, gradually enclosing Linfeng, provincial capital.

Troops following a branch of the Peiping-Hankow line into the rich coal mining region north of the Yellow river, pushed westward from captured Sinsiang.

Chinese continued to harass Japanese communications behind the lines.

Five Japanese planes bombed Fanshui on the Lunghai railway west of Chengchow, dropping 20 bombs. One plane was shot down. Another bomber was seized by Chinese troops after it was forced down on the south banks of the Yellow river.

EDEN RESIGNS FOREIGN POST

Prime Minister To Confer with Italian Ambassador

HALIFAX NAMED EDEN SUCCESSOR

Special Police Precautions Taken In and Around British House of Commons

London, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain summoned Count Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador, to a conference today in the midst of a grave British government crisis over resignation of Anthony Eden as Foreign Secretary.

The Prime Minister entered into the talk along with Viscount Halifax who has been placed in "temporary" charge of the Foreign Office, succeeding Eden.

Chamberlain went to Buckingham Palace to give King George his account of events leading up to Eden's resignation.

In and around the House of Commons special police precautions were taken to deal with possible demonstrations in the galleries and lobbies when the crisis is debated.

Parliamentary circles saw significance in tentative plans for a meeting of Liberal National members, whose leader is Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The meeting with Grandi came as Chamberlain staked British empire prestige on an foreign policy that scrapped Eden for his refusal to yield to Italian and German power politics.

To Further Plans For Training In Business

At a group of merchants which met Friday in the office of the Merchants Association, J. H. Rose advised that money was available from the Federal Department of Education for classes and instruction of people in service—classes of instruction in any phase of retail service wanted can be organized with an instructor.

It was decided to call a meeting on Wednesday night at 7:30 in the library of the high school building, inviting all employees and employers to attend. This will be an open forum and a discussion as to what classes would be desired and the classes will then be formed and instructors selected. B. D. Johnston was elected chairman.

Enough Equipment Stolen to Supply Baseball Team

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst today was investigating a robbery at the Country Club Saturday night, in which enough equipment was taken from a salesman's automobile to supply an entire baseball team.

Four catcher's mitts, nine fielding gloves and seven first baseman's mitts were taken, along with four baseballs, from an automobile owned by Robert Crossland, representative of a house dealing in athletic goods. The baseball supplies were taken while Mr. Crossland was attending a dance at the club. The robber or robbers were believed to have forced a wire cord rack through a crack in the window to unlatch the door of the automobile.

Another robber in the same vicinity was believed by the sheriff to have been committed by the same person or persons. The home of Granville Pitts, Negro, was entered and a quantity of men and women's clothes taken. Both Pitts and his wife were away from home at the time it was robbed, believed to have been before 9 o'clock.

Crop Control Bill Protects Public

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—Under provisions of the new farm act, American consumers will be more certain of continuously abundant food supplies than ever before. E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State College, declared today.

In an effort to safeguard consumers, the act encourages continuous storage of additional reserves of wheat and corn. These two crops are the principal grains on which the public depends for food.

After the storage requirements are filled, the act provides for marketing quotas which will prevent excess marketing of corn and wheat. Before any quota becomes effective, however, it must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting in a quota referendum.

For corn, a normal carryover is approximately 180,000,000 bushels. Acreage allotments under the program will aim at production which allows for about 350,000,000 bushels in storage. Marketing quotas would not go into effect until nearly 440,000,000 bushels were available for storage.

For wheat, the normal carryover is around 100,000,000 bushels. Under the program acreage allotments will aim at production which allows for over 200,000,000 bushels in storage. Marketing quotas could not be clamped on until supplies were 250,000,000 bushels over the average consumption and export figure.

Britain Agreed To Open Negotiations With Italy

Eden and Chamberlain Engage in Verbal Struggle

London, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in an amazing verbal struggle with his retiring Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, told a turbulent House of Commons today that Britain had agreed to start negotiations for a new Anglo-Italian understanding "immediately" in Rome.

Chamberlain declared that for Britain to rebuff Italy's desire for such conversation would bring relations to a point at which "ultimately war between us might become inevitable."

He insisted he had informed the Italian Ambassador, Count Dino Grandi there be no settlement without a solution of the Spanish problem and that any Anglo-Italian agreement would be submitted to the League of Nations.

Eden told the House he had resigned rather than deal with Italy in the face of Premier Mussolini's "rife hostile propaganda" against Britain and his "glorification" of victories in Spain.

"Agreements that are worthwhile are never made on the basis of threat," he cried.

HITLER SILENT ON NEXT MOVE

Demands Return Of War-Lost Colonies in Sunday Speech

ARMED CONFLICT IS THREATENED

Britain Informed She Can Have Peace By Turning Over German Colonies

Berlin, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler gave Europe's uneasy capitals today no hints of his next move as leader of a rearing Germany he declared was "entitled to equal rights" with other powers.

His momentous Reichstag speech yesterday, demanding return of colonies Germany held before the World war and threatening possible armed force to protect German minorities on the Reich's borders, failed to give the answer.

Europe's burning question, "What will Hitler do next?" resounded in foreign capitals with undiminished menace.

Anxiety grew in Prague, where Hitler's indirect reference to German minority in Czechoslovakia was resented as challenging the sovereignty of that state, the home of some 3,000,000 pro-Nazi Germans.

In his three-hour address Hitler touched pointedly on most phases of the Reich's foreign power.

He informed Great Britain that she could have peace with the Reich by turning over colonies she gained from Germany by World war victories.

University Women And Peace Council Get Behind Move

Trade Exhibit Promoting Peace To Be Carried Out Through Cooperation of Merchants

Through the cooperation of the merchants of Greenville, the local chapter of the American Association of University Women and the Greenville Council for Peace Action the week of April 18-25 will be devoted to a trade exhibit carrying out the idea of world interdependence.

This decision was reached at a meeting held last Thursday afternoon in Sheppard Memorial Library and attended by twenty or more citizens of the community, representing—for the most part—local organizations connected with the Greenville Council for Peace Action. The Rev. W. A. Ryan, president of the council, presided, introducing Mrs. D. M. Clark of the A. A. U. W., who in turn introduced Mrs. Ed Hillman of New Bern.

Mrs. Hillman, brought to Greenville for the purpose of stimulating interest in the project, gave an able presentation of the purpose and benefits of such an international trade exhibit as she was proposing, culled from her previous experience with such projects and her knowledge of other exhibits which have been held in increasing number throughout the country in recent years.

Notice, Subscribers

During our subscription campaign we have not dropped any expired names from our mailing list because we wanted to give our subscribers the opportunity of renewing through their favorite constant.

We find, however, that some of our readers have failed to appreciate the extension of this courtesy and it will be necessary for us to drop all expired subscriptions from our list after Wednesday of this week.

We do not want to lose a single one of our readers, but it is necessary that our entire list be on a paid-in-advance basis preparatory to making our March 1 report.

Please check the label on your paper and unless the expiration date is beyond 2-23-38 renew your paper by Wednesday to avoid being dropped from the list. You can make payment to any of our correspondents or direct to this office. If you pay direct to this office and wish one of the correspondents to have credit for it, be sure and specify same when you make payment. By all means make payment before Wednesday so as not to miss a single issue.

Soph-Senior Dance.

For the Sophomore-Senior dance at the college Saturday night the Sophomore Class, the hosts and hostesses, had transformed the Robert H. Wright building into a striking winter scene, with an aurora borealis as the keynote of the scene.

Over five hundred crowded the building, laughing, talking, dancing, and enjoying the refreshments, punch and wafers.

Among the guests, besides several hundred of college age, were President and Mrs. L. R. Meadows, the class advisors, Miss Katherine Holtzclaw and Dr. R. J. Slay, Mrs. Slay, and a number of members of the faculty, some of whom served as chaperons.

The decorations carried out the theme of the dance "Winter Set." Behind the orchestra, which sat on the stage, was a striking representation of the "Northern Lights"—the central point in the decorative scheme. Snow-covered pine marked the edge of the dance floor. Rows of icicles hung from overhead, and a row of icicles, with snow men on a blue background, adorned the balcony.

From tables on either side of the building, punch and wafers were served throughout the evening, under the supervision of Misses Mary Parker Johnson and Patsy McIntyre, sophomores.

Clifton Britton, president of the Sophomore class, served as master of ceremonies, assisted by Miss Ida Parrior Davis.

Replacing the usual floor show was a grand march, led by Miss Prue Newby and Harvey Deal, in which nearly everyone participated.

The dance was planned by Clifton Britton and the executive council of the Sophomore class, aided by R. C. Deal and Miss Helen Spangler. Besides the council, a large number of students served as chairmen of the committees, ably assisted by the other 225 class members.

4-H Clubs
The 4-H clubs of Bell Arthur, Falkland, Pachtolus, Red Oak, Stokes, and Bethel held their meetings last week. "Planting the Home Grounds" has been the subject used by the boys and girls in their joint meetings. Mrs. Connell Garrenton and Mrs. McWhorter gave the program on "Planting the Home Grounds" in the Junior Club at Bethel. They were very much enjoyed. The girls have started "Care of the Bedroom." Each girl is to care for her room six weeks before school is out. Mothers of 4-H girls are urged to acquaint themselves with the 4-H program and permit the girls to help with the tasks. These girls really want to help their mothers as well as themselves, and they must have a chance to learn.

Health Examinations
Next month the annual 4-H health examinations will begin. A member from the County Health Department will accompany us and health record books will be filled in. In order to be ready for these meetings each 4-H member should do all possible to have good posture and a clean body. Care of the teeth, eating as we should and good grooming play very important parts. Are you living up to your club pledge?

Stokes H. D. Club
The Stokes Home Demonstration Club met Monday afternoon at the school building. The date for the regular meetings was changed to the second Monday of each month, at 2:30 p. m., as this seemed more convenient for the members.

Pierce H. D. Club
The Pierce Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the club building. They are still receiving money from the bank that closed with part of their club funds several years ago. A substantial check was received last week. Mrs. R. R. McGlohon is a new member.

S. J. H. D. Club
The S. J. Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. W. Fleming.

Choral Club
The Home Demonstration Choral Club held its second meeting at Sheppard Memorial Library Friday night. It was even better than the first. Don't miss this opportunity to enjoy singing with your club friends.

Book Reviews
Members of Miss Holtzclaw's class at E. C. T. C. will give book reviews in the home demonstration clubs beginning this week.

Opposition To Super-Navy Mounting
The hearings on the administration's program have continued during the past week. Upon the conclusion of Admiral Leahy's testimony on February 8th, peace groups opposing the measure, led by the National Council for Prevention of War, presented their objections to the legislation. In addition to the peace organizations, several notable figures, including Dr. Charles A. Beard, world famous historian; Bruce Bliven, editor of "The New Republic"; Major General William C. Rivers, USA, Retired, appeared in opposition to the super-navy program. Supporters of the bill are anxious to close the hearings without further delay. However, those who are fighting the bill are lining up a large number of witnesses, including many members of Congress, to testify before the committee.

Spring Accessories Include Spiders and Such

You may wear your heart on your sleeve, a spider in your lapel or your bag on your shoulder this spring. It promises to be a season when accessories are of great importance and the new ones make some of the most intriguing costume accents we have had in years.

The jeweled accent idea—a single telling splash—seems to be bigger than ever. There is a new gold metal heart, pierced with a jeweled dart, that can be worn on the upper sleeve or clipped to a neckline. Clips of gold leaves, gold-tipped wood scrolls or colored bead blossoms designed in the eighteenth century manner are also smart.

Lapel Amusement
Lapel accents are bold and brilliant. Gold parrots with bright-feathered tails, jeweled spiders, animals and birds and such amusing tricks as an enameled hand holding a gem-studded rose appear among them.

Some of the smartest bags seen in years have come to town. A leading designer has concentrated on practicality as well as chic and the results are bags which are as commodious as they are smart.

One is a clever square bag, with outside as well as inside pockets, and a long handle which can be swung over the shoulder binocular-fashion. Another is a deep envelope, two feet long, lined with pockets for everything from lipstick to passport, which folds over twice and fits comfortably under the arm. A third is a pouch with a cane frame which opens into a flat hexagon and does away with all that frantic fishing in the dark for change and keys.

Tricks With Bags
Gleaming leathers such as calf-skin, alligator and pin-seal make the smartest ones, which have come to town in such colors as warm chardron (henna rust), hide-tan, cornflower blue and roseberry as well as the perennial black and navy blue. The trick this year is to choose a bag in one of the new colors, and repeat its hue in gloves or hat.

Colored gloves (more restrained than two years ago) are decidedly part of the spring picture. The favorites are colorful blues, chardrons, and natural chambray.

SALISBURY TO MEET DURHAM

Basketball Championship To Be Decided Next Week

Chapel Hill, Feb. 21.—With 21 victories between them, the undefeated Durham and Salisbury teams are expected to meet here next week for the North Carolina Class A high school basketball championship.

By virtue of two victories over Charlotte's threatening Wildcats, Salisbury actually has earned the right to represent the West in the final game. Durham, playing three games this week, needs only one victory to clinch the Eastern Class A title. Only chance of a tie is for Durham to lose all three games and Greenville's second place entry to win its remaining game with Fayetteville. But there are 1,000 to 1 odds that won't happen.

Both Class A and B teams will bring their schedules to a close this week. Class A schedule: Eastern: Tuesday—Durham at Wilmington, Fayetteville at Rocky Mount, and Raleigh at Wilson; Wednesday—Durham at Goldsboro; Friday—Raleigh at Durham, Greenville at Fayetteville, Goldsboro at Wilson, and Rocky Mount at Wilmington; Western: Friday—Charlotte at Winston-Salem and High Point at Greensboro.

Seven of the starting number of approximately 80 Class D teams have found their way to the semifinal round. The district champs in the East are Conway first; Beulahville second; Apex, third; and Deep River, fourth. Conway and Beulahville will class Monday night at Wilson, while Apex and Deep River will entangle Tuesday night at Fuquay Springs. The winners will play Friday or Saturday with the actual date determined by the outcome of the contests.

The Western B champs are Pilot Mountain, first; Mocksville, second; and Paw Creek, third. The schedules for the Western B teams have not yet been arranged.

Class A results last week—Eastern: Wilson 22, Raleigh 13; Durham 31, Greenville 18; Goldsboro 24, Wilmington 17; Rocky Mount 14, Fayetteville 12; Durham 46, Fayetteville 14; Greenville 32, Raleigh 10; Wilson 21, Fayetteville 13; Rocky Mount 33, Goldsboro 17, and Wilson 38, Wilmington 25.

Western—Salisbury 22, Charlotte 19; High Point 36, Greensboro 27; Salisbury 29, Charlotte 24; Gastonia 30, Greensboro 29; and High Point 28, Winston-Salem 23.

The final Class A and B games will be run off in the form of a double-header here Tuesday night, March 1. Both games will be played in the Tin Can with the A game to begin at 8 o'clock and the B contest to follow at 9.

Class A standings:

Eastern
Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Durham	11	0	1.000
Greenville	10	3	.777
Rocky Mount	8	4	.667
Fayetteville	7	5	.583

Fight Tonight

Joe Williams, top, is scheduled to see action tonight in college competition for the second time when ETC meets Louisburg College here. Williams won his first fight by a knockout and is one of the most popular miltmen on the college team. Shown below is David Breece, whose home is in Raleigh. Breece fights in the 145-pound class while Williams is in the 155-pound class.

OFFER BOXING HERE TONIGHT

Seven Bouts on Schedule for Local College Tonight

Seven bouts are on tap for the boxing bout to be staged tonight between the East Carolina Teachers College scrappers and the Louisburg Trojans, which will be staged at the Campus Building of the College, with the first bout starting at 8 o'clock.

According to word coming from Coach Jimmy Johnson's camp the E. C. T. C. leather slingers are in tip top shape and will give fans a real treat. The two feature fights on tonight's card will be in the 145-pound division, which will feature David Breece, and in the 155-pound class which will feature Joe Williams, Greenville boy. This will mark Breece's third fight in as many bouts and he has been victorious in the past two against the Duke freshmen and the Atlantic Christian College miltmen. The opponents for these two main bouts have as yet been unnamed by Louisburg.

Other E. C. T. C. fighters taking part in the meet tonight are as follows: 135-pound division—Herbert Wilkerson. 135-pound division—Pete Perkins. 145-pound division—Jew Ayers. 165-pound division—Sidney Moore. 165-pound division—Kenneth Gurnell.

Washington—Best available explanation in these parts for the "escape clause" in the contract between John L. Lewis and "Big Steel" is that CIO leader had to leave the steel company a way out in event of a price war with "Little Steel."

Now to go back a year. It was in the spring of 1937 when Lewis flabbergasted the industrial and labor world by coming out with a wage and bargaining agreement with United States (Big) Steel. It never had been done before and even while the secret conferences were in progress "Big Steel" officials were declaring they never would surrender to Union bargaining.

"Little Steel," represented by such units as Eugene Grac's Bethlehem Steel, and Tom Girdler's boys hard in preparation for the game with the boys from Bules Creek and says he expects his squad to be in full strength for the game.

Republic Steel, said little publicly out it is well known that officials of "Little Steel" swore fluently in private. They felt "Big Steel" had staged a fast first act.

"Little Steel's Claims" "Little Steel" has disadvantages in competition with "Big Steel" the major one of which is location. The various companies known as "Little Steel" are for the most part located inland, lacking cheap water routes to bring in their ore and for shipping out finished steel. But they manage to survive very well.

The reason is, they claim that their workers are super-skilled and loyal. The argument is advanced that if "Little Steel" permitted its labor forces to unionize, efficiency would drop and it would thus lose its principal advantage over "Big Steel." Perhaps the issue is debatable but that is "Little Steel's" position. Barely was the contract with "Big Steel" signed last winter than CIO began its bloody battle to unionize "Little Steel," which ended in defeat. "Little Steel" increased wages, but signed no contract. To "Little Steel" it looked like a plot.

Now comes the time for "Big Steel" to renew its contract with Lewis. Administration spokesmen have urged industry to cut prices without cutting wages. Industry protests the idea is hazardous, if not impossible, since labor is a major cost item.

Yet it is evident that some place along the line industry will make an effort to break the log-jam by cutting prices. Perhaps the cut will start in steel. That is the situation facing Lewis and United States Steel when they began discussing renewal secretly in New York.

One Company Cut

They did not tell what happened at the conference but it is obvious that U. S. Steel was in a position to ask: "If we sign a year's contract with CIO and our competitors begin cutting prices, where do we get off? They can cut wages if they have to because they are not under contract. If we sign a tight contract, we cannot cut."

And just then the point was demonstrated when one unit of "Little Steel" cut the price of cold-rolled steel much used by automobile manufacturers. It was a solar-plexus blow to any hopes Lewis may have had of signing up U. S. Steel to a tight year's contract.

Whether or not it was intended by "Little Steel" as such, it could be locked upon as a cutting return for the punishment Lewis' CIO administered last summer to "Little Steel" during the strike.

Within a few hours after the price cutting was announced, Lewis announced the signing of a new contract with United States Steel which permitted either side to terminate the contract on 20 days' notice. Thus U. S. Steel was in a position to match the price cut and follow it with a wage cut if necessary.

Thirty-Five Teams Enter Basketball Tourney Here

TO START PLAY ON WEDNESDAY

Third Annual Tournament to be Held at Local College

By BERT MOYE

Thirty-five high school basketball teams, representing both boys' and girls' teams in twenty-six towns throughout eastern North Carolina, will participate in the 3rd annual invitational tournament to be sponsored by East Carolina Teachers' College beginning Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and ending Saturday night, according to Coach Joe D. Alexander, athletic director of the college, and who will be in charge of the tournament. The number of teams represented this year is the largest number to enter the tournament since it was begun three years ago.

Entered in the tournament this year are twenty boys' teams and fifteen girls' teams. Among those entered are the winners and runners-up in both the boys' and girls' division of last year, namely the Green Hope and Dunn girls' teams, which played in the final game last year with the Green Hope girls winning by the close score of 32-25, and the LaFayette and Bethel boys teams, which was won by LaFayette last year by the score of 31-14. All four teams are strong favorites in this year's play by virtue of the outstanding records achieved thus far in high school competition.

The schedule, released by Coach Alexander, chairman of the committee in charge of the tournament, provides for the first game to be played at 2 p. m. Wednesday, February 23, with Lucama and Deep Run girls' teams opening the tournament.

All games this year will be played at the Campus building of the college and play will be continuous when started. Members of the varsity basketball squads of the colleges will act as officials at the games and students of the college will act as scorekeepers and hosts to the many hundreds of high school players, coaches and students who will follow their respective teams playing in the tournament. Due to the many counties which the tournament covers, which is approximately 18 eastern counties, there is expected to be hundreds of basketball fans in attendance during the four days of play.

According to the schedule released by Coach Alexander, the preliminary games in both boys and girls division will be run off Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, with the semi-final play for the girls' division to be staged Friday night in a twin-bill affair, and the finals taking place Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. The semi-finals in the boys' division will get underway two two games on Saturday morning beginning at 11 o'clock with the final game in this division being played at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

The complete schedule for the four days of the tournament, together with the time and names of the teams, is as follows:

CAROLINA CLASSES PLAN REUNION FOR COMMENCEMENT

Chapel Hill, Feb. 21—Officers of 11 classes of the University of N. C. which will hold reunions at commencement in June have been invited to come here March 24 and 25 to lay plans for the reunions, according to J. Maryon Saunders, Alumni Secretary.

George Stephens, Asheville alumnus and president of the General Alumni Association, will preside at a luncheon at the Carolina Inn, March 24 at which the reunion committee, composed of the officers of the reuniting classes will formulate plans.

The classes holding reunions include the 50-year class of 1988, and the 25-year class of 1913. Others are classes of 1901, 1902, 1904, 1920, 1922, 1923 and last year's class of 1937.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

Nevada City, Calif.—After all these years, geologists have discovered that Nature, too, watered her steaks—at least her gold steaks.

For hot water, says Dr. W. D. Johnston, Jr., of the U. S. geological survey, was the source of the gold-bearing quartz veins.

The veins lie between faces of the rocks where millions of years ago they were fractured. Some of these fractures are a few inches wide at some points, 40 feet at others.

Their slope, and the way they must have been filled, says Dr. Johnston, indicates that rising, hot waters brought up the quartz, the gold and the other minerals now forming the veins. This idea is at variance with a general belief of geologists that quartz veins and their gold were produced on the spot by reactions going on within the rocks.

Dr. Johnston tramped through many miles of underground workings to obtain evidence for the hot-water theory of the origin of gold veins. His idea is that the water did not make the gold, but carried the particles.

WINTER SESSION STATE YM-YWCA CABINET TO CONVENE

Chapel Hill, Feb. 21.—The University of North Carolina YM-YWCA will be host of 125 visiting students February 27 when the winter quarter session of the State YM-YWCA cabinet convenes here.

The cabinet is composed of officers in the YMCA and YWCA of all North Carolina colleges.

The morning session will be held in Graham Memorial hall, where a buffet luncheon will be served before members go immediately to the Presbyterian church for the afternoon session.

Speakers will include Dr. Arthur Raper, Carolina alumnus, and Dr. A. D. Bettel of Oulford College.

There are approximately 1,000 extras registered at Central Casting in Hollywood.

TWIN BILL AT ETC TUESDAY

Both Boys and Girls to Meet Campbell's Court Teams

The boys team will meet the Campbell's Court boys in the first game starting at 7:00 o'clock.

The girls team will meet the lady Campbell's in the second game of the double bill starting at 8 o'clock. This will be the first meeting of the girls team but should be a good game as there is great rivalry between the two schools.

The boys game should be a thriller as the Pirates defeated the Campbellites by only two points in their last meeting in a game that was considered rough and marked by lots of fouling on both teams. This is the kind of game that spectators always enjoy seeing.

Raleigh, Feb. 21—It seems quite likely Oscar Barker of Durham and John Caffey of Greensboro become leading contenders for the Sixth District seat in Congress. We may expect to see organization of rival cheering sections and a really frenzied version of the traditional Duke-Carolina feuding.

For Oscar is a product of the hallowed halls of Durham's best-known institution of higher learning, while John was graduated after a period of years among the tall trees and in the classic corridors of the State's pride and joy over at Chapel Hill.

It will be Blue Devil against Tar Heel once again, and whenever that sort of a thing bobs up, it's time to take to the storm cellar.

The sheriff's office in 25 counties of the state now have State Highway Patrol radio set receivers, and in four of them all sheriff's cars are equipped.

The four in which all cars can receive patrol broadcasts are Pitt, Wake, Rowan and Iredell. The counties in which the sheriff's office is equipped are Stanly, Moore, Moore, Sampson, Bladen, Cumberland, Wayne, Alamance, Vance, Henderson, Scotland, Davidson, Hart, Lenoir, McDowell, Chatham, Hoke, Lee, Cleveland, Johnston, Greene, Alexander, Montgomery, Anson, Columbus and Montain.

The Veterans Service Division of the Department of Labor, with headquarters in Charlotte under direction of Jack P. Lang, secured a total of $9,748.89 in compensation for North Carolina veterans during January. Hospitalizations were secured for 13 veterans. Of a total of 325 cases handled, 58 were new cases Mr. Lang reported.

The stork kept flying around North Carolina in January and there was no "recession" in the number of births, according to Dr. R. T. Simpson, director of the Vital Statistics Bureau of the State Board of Health. The men with the reaper, however, was also busier in January of this year than he was in January 1937.

There were 6,395 births last month compared with 6,103 a year ago. Deaths were 1,698 in January, 1938, from 2,786 in the corresponding month of last year.

North Carolina will get 684,000 pounds of Florida oranges for distribution to persons on the relief rolls, according to A. E. Langston, Director of Community Distribution, North Carolina State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

Inasmuch as this column seems statistically inclined it might as well be etched that North Carolina's prison population goes to the extent of 30 during January, according to the report of the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

At the beginning of the month there were 9,346 convicts, at the end 9,378. Meanwhile there were 1,505 "received from courts," 26 recaptured, 9 brought back because paroles were revoked, and 4 transferred from other institutions.

Expiration of term released 1,428; 42 were paroled, 20 took it on the lam, 5 died, 14 were freed on court order and 7 were transferred to other institutions.

And just to continue with the figures, there are now just 308 days until Christmas. You'll have to figure out how many of them are shopping days.

Farmer May Have To Turn Chemist To Produce Tomorrow's 'Pill Meals'

(This is the third of five articles in which Alexander R. George, after talking with researchers who are charting tomorrow's world, pictures life in 1963 as it shapes up in the laboratories and one of the drafting boards of 1938.)

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE (AP Feature Service Writer)

THE prophets of a synthetic age, taking a long-range look at the future in foods, are predicting that:

- 1. Chemically-produced food-stuffs and factory-synthesized foods may turn the farmer into a chemist. 2. Many households will be buying single-packaged, pre-fabricated meals. 3. Increased doctoring of soil, plants and food-producing animals to vitimize and improve quality of foods. 4. Foods now unknown or little used will become the most popular because of their reputed therapeutic value. Striking precedents: The spinach and lettuce booms, the once-lowly liver's leap to popularity and to the high-price bracket. 5. Breakfast and luncheon in pellets and dinner in a capsule will be available for emergency use.

Growing popularity today of partly-prepared and ready-to-serve food combinations indicates that food stores of tomorrow will do a big business in packaged meals. A housewife will order meal No. 2, for example. The clerk will hand her a package containing pork chops, mashed potatoes, gravy and apple-sauce. She'll store it in her refrigerator until time for a quick warm-up for dinner.

Soils today are heated electrically and seeds are X-ray treated to tone up vegetable quality. Violet rays are turned on chickens to produce more and better eggs, and on cows for more and better milk.

Poultry specialists are developing streamlined turkeys to fit modern small ovens. We have patented frozen lamb chops, patented mushrooms and asparagus soups. Vitaminized bread is spread with ultra violet-rayed butter. In the northeastern states some people are using milk-weed like asparagus food-stuffs is now a laboratory accomplishment. University of California scientists have achieved a large production of tomatoes in a small space by growth in chemically-treated water.

These experimenters caution that the commercial water culture method is in a preliminary stage of development and should still be viewed conservatively.

Nevertheless, the possibility of large-scale chemical production of foods is a potential nightmare to the millions who get a livelihood from our gigantic food producing, processing and distributing business. Forerunner of "pill meals" is the highly concentrated foods now available as emergency rations. However, it's a safe bet that Americans of 1963 still will look on a capesized dinner as a pretty scary substitute for a sizzling steak, a buttery baked potato, a succulent salad and a slab of "mother's apple pie."

The present trend to eating away from home is expected to continue, particularly in large cities. But offsetting that is the rapid spread of cookery knowledge, combined with magic utensils that are taking the drudgery out of kitchen work. Americans today do not eat as much meat per capita as did the gastronomic giants of the bronze era, but we still are a meat-eating people.

Consumption of cereals has declined in the last 25 years. We don't eat as much bread and butter as we did but we drink more milk. Ice cream and candy consumption keeps gaining while the craze for salads shows no sign of abating. We are becoming more and more a coffee-drinking nation, but our per capita consumption of tea has declined considerably.

Two recent developments, which give promise of further expansion are the popularity of fruit and vegetable juices and the quick freezing of vegetables, meats and fruits to preserve full flavor.

An appreciative group of farmers and their wives at the call of the Negro County Agent met at Simpson School to listen to some interesting methods which, if adopted, will be profitable to the farmers.

Attracting quite a bit of attention at the beginning of the meeting was the history of the 4-H club given by Traver Banks. Mr. R. R. Bennett, county agent spoke to the group of farmers in a helpful way. He first praised the club for the splendid work done, and especially Traves for the fine way in which he outlined the work done in the past year.

The club was so pleased with the words of encouragement coming from Mr. Bennett that the age woken expression was shown on their faces "the club must go on." To the farmers Mr. Bennett explained the soil conservation program in brief. He also advised the farmers in order to hold up prices they must hold down production. The principal O. R. Wilfield and his teachers gave several numbers in songs. They also did a good part in making the farmers and visitors feel at home.

More than half of the 1,313 S. O. 8. and police messages broadcast in 1937 by the BBO were successful. There are about 2,000,000 letters in the world.

RALEIGH LAST WEEK

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 21—A double execution at state's prison, Friday's big farm mass meeting, and the lack of noticeable political developments marked Valentine Day week here in the state capital.

The double execution was more than commonly important in that it marked the first execution in the state (at least since the function of killing convicted criminals was taken away from the counties and assigned to the state's officials) of a white man for killing a Negro. Milford Eason, Wayne county, paid the penalty for the murder of Jim Williams, an aged and respected Negro, who Eason thought had a large sum of money.

In view of the Congressional situation where Southern Senators are outstanding that the South is fully capable of taking care of its own politics, the Eason execution was doubly important in that it gave the Southern bloc concrete proof that there is no discrimination against Negroes in the administration of justice, in North Carolina at least. If Governor Clyde R. Hoey had yielded to strong pressure and commuted the Eason sentence there isn't the slightest doubt that advocates of the anti-lynching bill would have made great capital out of his action.

They would have charged that it furnished strong evidence that federal intervention in the administration of the law is needed in the South. The other execution (of Edgar Leroy Smoak) closed the books on a case which attained nation-wide prominence by reason of its unusual atrocity and cold-bloodedness. Smoak was convicted of poisoning his 18-year-old daughter; and evidence at his trial indicated the probability that he had previously disposed of two wives by the strychnine route. He protested his innocence to the very end, however.

Friday's farm meeting at which Senator James P. Pope of Idaho and Assistant AAA Administrator J. B. Hutson explained the new crop control bill, proved that North Carolina's farmers are in deadly earnest in their concern over the future. Both speakers declared the new bill will go far toward solving the farm problem, though both admitted it is not perfection. They were heard intently by some 5,000 Tar Heels who sat through a session of nearly three hours.

The meeting was not the most demonstrative in the world and there were few prolonged outbursts of applause or approval; but it seemed clear that the sentiment of the meeting was overwhelmingly in favor of the control.

APPROVE PLAN FOR DIVERSION

Peanut Oil Soon To Flow in Capital City of Chowan

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 21—Edenton always has lots of peanuts. Soon there is going to be plenty of peanut oil in the Chowan capital.

The marketing division of the State Department of Agriculture has just been advised by C. C. Holland, manager of the Peanut Stabilization Co-operative of Edenton that the Secretary of Agriculture has approved diversion (and conversion) into oil of 260 tons of peanuts in warehouses there.

Objective of the diversion is to reduce the quantity of edible "gooders" on the market, with a view to maintaining prices at a level where there will be a profit for the grower.

A large percentage of the peanut growers contended unsuccessfully to have their crop included in the crop control bill just passed by Congress, but the effort failed when Federal Department of Agriculture said that the goober growers would be better off outside.

According to E. F. Arnold, secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, efforts will be made to secure passage of independent legislation providing for crop control. A recent meeting of peanut farmers from a dozen North Carolina and many Virginia counties called on the Federal Department to show them where they would be "better off" outside the control bill.

At the same time that the state Department of Agriculture was advised of the authority to divert the Edenton peanuts, it learned that approximately 600 tons at Wilmington 300 tons at Goldsboro and 400 tons at Weinston, of the 4,400 tons previously authorized to be diverted, have already been crushed. The crushing was carefully policed to see that the nuts were actually crushed and not allowed to re-enter the edible market. All peanuts accepted by the co-operative were inspected for grade and class by licensed representatives of the Department of Agriculture.
