LATE REPORTS REVEAL GAINS AGAINST JAPS

Belated Announcement Discloses Chinese Advances

GUERRILLA UNITS REGAIN GROUNDS

Operations Force Japanese to Withdraw from 25-Mile Advance North Hwai

Shanghai, March 3.—(AP)—A belated announcement by Japanese themselves disclosed today that swift striking Chinese guerrilla armies have scored heavily against Japanese forces north of Nanking in the last seven days.

Smashing attacks by the guerrilla units, it was disclosed, have cost Japanese many miles of territory they have conquered in weeks of bloody fighting along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

While Japanese invaders from the north moved relentlessly toward the Lunghai railway, Japanese commanders here announced "bitter hostilities" have been in progress for a week at Changping.

Peiping advices were that even in the North Chinese guerrillas menaced communications between Japanese advance columns and supply bases.

Changping is behind the Japanese lines, halfway between Nanking and the Hwai river.

It was apparent from available information that Chinese guerrillas had driven a wedge between Japanese forces at Nanking and three columns to the North.

These guerrilla operations, all within a radius of 20 miles of Nanking and within territory conquered during the Japanese victorious northward drive after Nanking's fall December 13, had forced Japanese to withdraw from a 25-mile advance North of the Hwai.

Farmville Affair Attracting Large Crowds Each Night

The Merchants Exposition being conducted in Farmville this week under the auspices of the American Legion post there is attracting big crowds nightly.

The week of entertainment was officially opened Monday night by Governor Clyde R. Hoey, who was heard by one of the largest crowds ever to gather in a warehouse for a public speaking in this section. The exposition is being held in Knott's warehouse, and the Governor described the building as one of the most beautifully decorated warehouses he had ever seen.

The entertainment program consists of an array of talent and the various features are being received with much enthusiasm.

Tonight will be observed as "surprise night" but the program for tomorrow night calls for the Queen's ball, with Secretary of State Thad Eure honoring the young women who have participated in the advance sale of tickets contest. The State official will crown the winner queen of the exposition, after which Hod Williams and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing until 2 o'clock.

Engineer Dies In Coal Train Wreck

Bluefield, W. Va., March 3.—(AP)—Norfolk and Western Railway officials said a trainman was killed and two others injured in the wreck of a coal train near Iaeger, West Va., early today.

Engineer "Dick" Boyd, about 44 of Honaker, Va., was killed when the locomotive and six cars were derailed. Railway officers here said trainmen attributed the smashup to a rock, which loosened by rain rolled on the track.

The train was loaded with coal from mines in Southwestern West Virginia.

BEES NEVER KNOW WHAT THEY WANT TO EAT

Washington (AP)—Even scientists who know their bees are puzzled by bee diets.

For example, W. J. Nolan, government bee specialist, would like to know why alfalfa, which is a good nectar producer west of the Mississippi, is of only slight importance in the east.

Buckwheat honey, known for its dark color and characteristic flavor, comes from a small area near Lake Erie and Ontario, although buckwheat is grown elsewhere in the country.

Flood Ravaged California Counts At Least 50 Lost

Renew Hunt For Missing TWA Plane

PILOT J. D. GRAVES

Fresno, Calif., March 3.—(AP)—Searching parties, blocked once by flood and darkness renewed their efforts to reach a great mountain scar 60 miles east of here today in hopes of locating an airliner which vanished with nine persons Tuesday night.

A raging river, outgrowth of the storms that engulfed the plane, prevented searchers from reaching the 200-foot scratch in the high Sierras at dusk yesterday to investigate mysterious lights and an undistinguishable white object nearby.

Unprecedented Rainfall Visits Pacific Coast State

FORECAST CALLS FOR MORE RAIN

All Regular Channels of Communication Broken; Area Left Completely Isolated

Los Angeles, March 3.—(AP)—Flood-ravaged Southern California today saw the possibility that more than 50 persons lost their lives in a four-day storm climaxed by an unprecedented rainfall.

Eighteen persons were known to be dead and 18 missing but the number was steadily increased by unconfirmed reports. The exact toll probably never will be known.

An undetermined number of storm spectators was washed into the ocean near Long Beach when the bridge on which they stood collapsed. The number lost was generally estimated at 10, but an appeal to ships at sea to watch for survivors or bodies said 45 were on the bridge at the time.

Unconfirmed reports raised to 15 the number of persons trapped and drowned in their cars when a cloudburst sent the Santa Ana river suddenly rushing over its banks. Originally five were listed as victims in this phase of the widespread disaster.

Moderating conditions, but more rain were forecast today. No immediate hope was seen of Southern California re-establishing normal contact with the outside world. All regular channels of communication, plane, train, phone, telegraph, bus, were broken by the storm. Radio furnished the only outside contact.

At least 10,000 were homeless. Property damage ran into millions of dollars as bridges broke, highways sank, homes collapsed, stores ran brimming and garden and ranch acreages were submerged.

The stricken area extended from Ventura on the North to San Juan Capistrano on the South; from the ocean to the San Bernardino mountains Southern California coastal plains and the desert.

Flooded and washed out traffic arteries and toppled utilities lands lines isolated wide sections.

The meeting is for the purpose of explaining the farm bill which will be voted on by the tobacco growers Saturday, March 12.

The warehousemen declared they desired to urge every landowner and tenant to attend "this most important meeting and vote for the farm bill."

The Warehousemen went on record as endorsing unanimously the farm program the day after it was enacted by Congress.

FORMER SOVIET CHIEF ADMITS TREASON PLOT

Testifies To Turning Forests Over To English Magnate

ANOTHER ADMITS SPYING CHARGES

Confesses Serving For British Intelligence Service on Order Of Higher-Up

Moscow, March 3.—(AP)—Vladimir Ivanhoff, deposed chief of the Soviet timber industry, testified today he plotted to turn Russia's northern forests over to English magnates as compensation for British aid in the overthrow of the Soviet regime.

Testifying at his trial with 20 other defendants charged with treasonable conspiracy, Ivanhoff said since 1935 he had spied for the British intelligence service on orders of the Editor Nikolai Bucharin, the Soviet Rightist center. Bucharin also is on trial.

The lumber concession were to be granted to British firms, Ivanhoff said, under plans drawn by his predecessor, Loboff.

Another defendant, A. P. Rosenholz, as commissioner for foreign trade, sold the lumber to England at a tremendous loss to prove the center had power" the witness testified.

It was a sort of deposit on account.

Ivanoff, chief of the Soviet's highly important timber industry until a few months ago, eagerly told his judges he was a former Tzarist informer who had joined the Bolsheviks as provocateur.

Negro Injured When Struck by Automobile

William Short, Negro of Greenville Route five, suffered a fractured right leg and head injuries when he jumped from a wagon directly in front of an automobile just beyond Respass' place on the Bethel highway this morning.

State Highway Patrolman H. B. Smith, who investigated the accident, said the driver of the car which struck Short, J. L. Etheridge of Hamilton, was not responsible for the accident as the Negro jumped directly in front of the automobile. Both vehicles were traveling toward Greenville.

SEARCH FOR AN INDIAN DEED DELAYS POSTOFFICE

Charleston, Miss. (AP)—Plans for this city's new postoffice were delayed while a search was made for an 1834 deed by which Greenwood LeFlore, Indian chief, transferred the site to Allen Jenkins.

LeFlore had obtained the land a little earlier from the Choctaw Indians at the treaty of Dancing Rabbit creek, the old records indicate.

The present owner said the government was ready to close out for the site and start work on the postoffice as soon as the old deed was located.

Allotments Of Tobacco Limited To Percentage

Die At Crossing

Burgaw, March 3.—(AP)—Two persons were killed near here this morning at 7:30 when a car in which they were riding to work was struck by an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train at a grade crossing.

Charles E. Piner, 45 of Sea Gate was cut in half when the train passed over his body after knocking him from the car which he was driving. Marjorie Butler, about 18, of Burgaw apparently died from head injuries.

Only a Portion of Total Crop Land to Be Allowed

Raleigh, March 3.—(AP)—Tobacco acreage allotments under the 1938 farm program will be limited to a percentage of the crop land on the farm, E. Y. Floyd, State AAA administrative officer, announced today.

If a farm's total crop land is 25 acres or more, only 28 per cent of the crop land can be planted in flue-cured tobacco, he said. If the crop land is four acres or less a 45 per centage may be planted.

Percentage of acreage between 4 and 25 are: 12 to 24 acres, 30 per cent; 11 acres, 31 per cent; 10 acres, 33 per cent; nine acres, 35 per cent; eight acres, 37 per cent; seven acres, 39 per cent; six acres, 41 per cent; five acres, 43, and four acres, 45 per cent.

Under another limitation, flue growers whose base acreages are less than 3.5 will receive allotments averaging 90 per cent of their bases; those with bases of 3.5 to 5 will receive allotments averaging from 90 to 70 per cent of bases, on a sliding scale; those with bases of more than 5 will receive allotment averaging 70 per cent.

WPA EXPECTED AID PROPOSAL

Agency may Pay Half Cost Of Athletic Field Here

Possibility of the WPA bearing half the cost of the proposed Greenville athletic field and recreation park, contingent upon the results of a bond election set for March 28, is considered favorable by several persons behind the movement following conferences with officials of the Federal Administration here this week.

Lee Wallace, WPA Administrator for the Wilmington district, and B. A. Waldenmaier, in charge of the Williamston district, have been here and discussed the proposed with members of the committee appointed to work with WPA officials.

Mayor M. K. Blount declared today that he was hopeful of securing WPA approval of the project, which includes an athletic field, grand stand, tennis courts, etc., and that half the total cost of the proposal would be borne by the Federal agency.

It was pointed out that most of the labor, except that for construction of the stadium, would be what is classed as "common labor" and that much of this is available in the community at this time of the year.

Dynamite Slayers Sentenced To Die

Elizabethtown, Tenn., March 3.—(AP)—White Tollett, 26, and Church Lester, 44, Pikeville, Tenn., were convicted today and sentenced to the electric chair for the dynamite death of three little girls.

Two co-defendants, Lee Walker and Ulysses Walling, also of Pikeville, were convicted and sentenced to 21 years imprisonment. Crave Tollett, a brother of White, was acquitted by the jury, which received the case last night.

Walling and Walker had confessed parts in the January 7 dynamite of the home of Harmon Good, 35. Good was not in the house but his three young daughters were killed and Mrs. Good badly hurt.

Crave Tollett was charged with being an accessory before the fact, while the others were accused of first degree murder.

Crave Tollett, the State charged in its final argument, was the "brains" of an abortive plot to kill Good, who faces trial April 11 for the 1936 slaying of Arnold Tollett, brother of White and Crave Tollett.

DEBATE WAXES WARM ON NEW TAX REVISION

Democratic Assertion Balances Republican Statement

REP. DOUGHTON FIRST TO SPEAK

House Naval Committee Approves $1,113,546,000 Naval Expansion Program

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—A Democratic assertion that the new tax bill would encourage business, balanced today a Republican statement that the measure would put obstacles in the way of recovery.

Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.) of the Ways and Means Committee, opening debate on the measure said: "I am certain if the bill is enacted into law that our revenue system would be vastly improved as to equity and certainty. The tax burden will be more fairly distributed and business will be stimulated and encouraged."

But Representative Treadway of Massachusetts, senior Republican of the committee, countered:

"The Democratic majority are fooling themselves when they try to tell the country that a measure carrying so many obstacles to business recovery as are combined in the present bill, will be accepted by the business community as a signal to resume normal operations."

Treadway added the only good argument for the legislation was it was preferable to the present law.

The measure would, among other things, modify the undistributed profits and capital gains levies, which a large number of business men have protested were hurting commerce.

Before the House met, its Naval committee approved a $1,113,546,000 expansion program for the Navy—a recommendation of President Roosevelt.

Both Senate and House heard demands for a TVA investigation.

Chairman LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.), meanwhile told the Senate Civil Liberties Committee that the National Association of Manufacturers had distributed "one-sided information" about the Wagner Labor Act.

State Engineers Look With Favor On Local Projects

Mayor M. K. Blount revealed today that two engineers of the State Highway and Public Works have recently visited Greenville and looked over two certain possible improvements.

One of those being considered is the extension of Watauga street to the Falkland highway 43 at the western edge of the city, cross the new fair ground property and enter Watauga street into Dickinson avenue.

It was pointed out that this proposed highway would enable traffic to be routed direct to and from "Tobacco Town" without having to go all the way through residential sections of the city and thereby relieve the congestion of the western edge of the city.

Another proposal calls for widening of the Tar River dam to 35 feet, with sidewalks and also widening the highway beyond the dam to the Stokes road to a width of 20 feet. The stretch now is only 18 feet.

Mayor Blount quoted the engineers as expressing favor as to each of the proposals and added he hoped these improvements would be made in the near future.

Rates Reduced By Carolina Company

Raleigh, March 3.—(AP)—The Utilities Commission announced today the Carolina Power and Light Company had reduced rates for municipalities which buy power at wholesale for retail sale.

Utilities Commissioner Stanley Winborne said the rates would save municipalities at least $36,000 a year. If municipalities enter into a 10-year term contract they will get a further reduction of three per cent discount on each monthly bill. If all enter into term contracts the total reduction would be $45,000 a year.

The average rate, effective immediately, he said, will be cut from 1.47 to 1.425 cents a kilowatt hour.

Primary Outlook Bright For Wets

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL.
Raleigh, March 3.—It's a long time until the primary election in May and a much longer time before the General Assembly assembles next January, but as far as can be predicted at so early a date the wet—or county control, as they prefer to be called—forces seem reasonably well situated as far as control of the next State Senate is concerned.

The 27 control counties are by far a minority when it comes to the House, as they provide only 35 of the 120 members, but they are so grouped and this year's rotation agreements are such as to make it almost a certainty that these units will send not less than 20 Senators

Sights And Sounds

Hollywood—Unreal parade: Ray Bolger, the rubber-legged dancing comedian, is becoming a cutting-room star. He's out of "The Girl of the Golden West" since the sneak preview because they figured his dance stopped the story. He was almost omitted from "Rosalie" too. But there's a boy who's going to click big when he gets the part—if the part stays in. Mary Astor tells about the curious but probably natural reaction of a movie-bred child to her first glimpse of a stage performance. She took daughter Marylyn to see the Ballet Russe. The little girl exclaimed excitedly as the first curtain rose: "Oh, Mamma—they look like real people!" Wonder what Claire Trevor was thinking at the preview of Annabella's first Hollywood picture? Because Annabella looks like Trevor—with a French accent.

Improves Quickly

Ariene Whelan a few years ago a beauty shop girl and manicurist, all but had the role of Scarlett O'Hara but Selznick would not give it unless Zanuck sold her contract, which Zanuck wouldn't. Ariene's first picture is "Kidnapped"—and she's been improving so much that they're re-shooting the earlier sequences so her work will match her later dramatic stride.

Al Werker, directing this number, is a rarity among directors. He does all kinds of films, taking on an "epic" like "The House of Rothschild," then turning to a lowly "B" and doing the same kind of job. Just does what he's given to do, whether it's super-super, or just colossal, or just a quickie.

W. S. VanDyke is another. At least he's a little fed up on "epics" at present, what with "Marie Antoinette." "Epics," said he, "are just a lot of grief." Meaning, he said, the wigs and the costumes. With so many wigs, and so much elaborate apparel, there's constant repair work to hold things up. And being held up is not one of the colonel's pleasures.

Flue-Cured Quotas

FLUE-CURED MARKETING QUOTA FOR 1938 ANNOUNCED

As a means of keeping supply in line with demand at fair prices to farmers, the new farm act provides marketing quotas for flue-cured tobacco in years when the total supply is above the reserve supply level. E. Y. Fievd, AAA executive officer at State College, explained that the reserve supply is a normal year's domestic consumption and exports plus a normal carryover plus five per cent. As the present total supply of flue-cured tobacco 1,733,000,000 pounds, is above the reserve supply level, 1,681,000,000, a marketing quota of 705,000,000 pounds has been announced. This quota will apply to all flue-cured tobacco marketed from the 1938 crop if two-thirds or more of the tobacco farmers voting in the referendum March 12 want it. When a quota is in effect, a penalty will be imposed on tobacco marketed in excess of the quota for the farm. This penalty will be 50 per cent of the sale price, or 3 cents a pound, whichever is higher.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)

New York—Rumor, looking for a Julie Verne victim, has picked on Einstein.

The story spread in France and England, "Einstein," its printed version reads, "is planning a daring experiment of descending into the deepest parts of the Pacific shortly in a special apparatus he already has constructed. The scientist hopes with stones and other materials he will find there to obtain data for a new book on the history of the world." Einstein's associates here said they were sure no geological work was contemplated and they suggested the submarine device might have been invented earlier in Einstein's career. The story apparently arose from recent interest of geologists in the bottom of the ocean. Interest was inspired by the fact that a new device enables them to drill fair-sized cores out of the sea bottom a mile or more down. With these rocks they are trying to solve the origin of submarine caverns. The canyons are like those made by surface rivers. Another possible source of the rumors is Otis Barton's projected diproth. This is to be a bathysphere or steel ball, on wheels, to go down one mile, and be rolled along for some scientific sight-seeing. The deepest parts of the Pacific are miles below anything man can now reach. Mt. Everest, in one of those Pacific "deeps," would be far submerged.

NEGRO TEAMS DEFEAT AYDEN

Colored High School Wins Double-Header Over Foe

A large crowd saw the local Negro high school eke out wins in a double-header over Ayden last night. This was the second time of the season for such a victory, Kinston high school being stopped on January 28th by a more impressive crowd.

There was never more than three points lead throughout the game for the girls. At the first period the score was tied at 3-all, and at the half they were still deadlocked at 5-all.

The third period ended with Greenville 41 and Ayden 9. During the fourth period Greenville girls were held to three points and the visitors made four. Girls' score: Greenville 14, Ayden 13.

The local boys took a four-point lead in the first five minutes of the game but were holding only an 8-7 lead at the end of the first period. Both teams displayed an unusual defensive game in the second period and the score was deadlocked at the half, 12-all.

The locals kept up the fight and at the end of the third period they held the long end of a 17-14 count.

During the fourth quarter both teams started shooting from long range. With two minutes to go the score was 23-all. Daniels made a crypt shot for the locals, while Wilkins, a local guard, drew a foul for holding Clark Clark made good the charity shot at the final whistle.

Final score: Greenville 25, Ayden 24.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York. — Lines written in dejection, near Madison avenue.

The story's going around that Libby Holman won't grant interviews unless she's allowed to read proof before publication. It's only partly true. Miss Holman will grant interviews to those whom she's certain she can trust with a promise not to make any references to her young son. And the Holman roof blows off if there's any romantic linking of her name with young men-about-town.

Does it annoy you for strangers to read your newspaper over your shoulder? In New York they quarrel with you if it isn't open at the right place. They say, "Pardon me a minute while I see Anita." No kidding. The newsreel theatres show everything but news reels. Nothing angers me more than my hat blowing off. They will have to get me a new typewriter soon if they want these columns on time. As it is now, I'm practically setting this by hand. Only two whole days before insurance is due. Hmmm. The coffee here is getting no better.

Why doesn't the theatre refuse to seat people who come late? Today I saw an actor walking down Broadway with tassels on his shoes. Gray tassels. This town seems to have a monopoly on being sloppily nasty when it rains. Everybody ought to go to a nightclub now and then, maybe once a year. But no oftener. If you want to know why, take a look at those who go there every night.

Glad to see Donald Cook back on Broadway. When I knew him the first name was spelled Donne. He used to be top man in a stock company out in Ohio, and a very good one. His co-star was Edith King, and now both of them are back in New York, she with the Lunts in "Amphitryon 38," he with Alec Woolcott, etc. in "Wine of Choice." Well, swell.

Wallace Ford's blast against N. Y. press agents brought a call to this department. Ford doesn't like p. a.'s here. He thinks they are strangling the theatres with ineptness. "Will you read these press books, please, and see whether Mr. Ford has received any publicity?" Sure, but that was Ford's opinion, not mine. I just printed it, with quotes. I know, but you will glance through these, please? I glance thru them. There is certainly enough publicity on Mr. Ford to cover a house.

New, let's run through the show calendar. Hmmm. There are 41 plays on the boards, and 13 are solid hits, counting the musicals. A hit is one which plays to capacity or near capacity every performance. The man who asked me to look at Ford's publicity has three of these hits, includ-

"Four years ago I started using tobacco fertilizer containing 8% POTASH and top-dressing with NV SULPHATE OF POTASH at the first working," says FRANK GALLOWAY. "Since then I have not sold any tobacco under $400.00 per acre nor fallen below a yield of 1200 pounds. Potash doesn't grow tobacco wild but gives it better body and better quality which means increased weight. The extra potash also reduces disease."

THE most profitable development in bright tobacco production in recent years has been the tremendous increase in the use of potash. Thousands of farmers have found that it pays to give their tobacco many times more potash than it received in the past. That's why such mixtures as 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER have become so popular.

Your fertilizer man knows that potash is the quality-producing element in tobacco fertilizer—that tobacco is a potash-loving crop, removing from the soil more potash than both nitrogen and phosphoric acid combined. He can supply you with 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER for use at planting and NV SULPHATE OF POTASH for top-dressing. Use More Potash This Year! IT PAYS!

The Tobacco Research Committee now recommends fertilizer containing at least 6% POTASH to be used at the rate of 800 to 1,200 pounds per acre plus a side-dressing of potash equal to 120 to 240 pounds of SULPHATE OF POTASH per acre, the side-dressing to be applied within 20 days after transplanting.

When you buy potash in mixed fertilizers or straight potash it pays to make sure you get genuine NV POTASH

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, March 3.—I was really very much interested in running for Congress until I noticed how many of the men who are there now have decided they don't want to stay, joked G. W. Coan, Jr., state WPA administrator, when asked if he is going to file for the Fifth District seat.

"That's a closed book, so far as I'm concerned," he added in more serious vein.

Mr. Coan, with two WPA engineers had just been in to see Governor Hoy for an "informal" conference regarding work on secondary roads of the state with WPA funds.

Ernest Gardner, 1937 Representative from Cleveland who is temporarily engaged over in North Wilkesboro, dropped in to see Governor Hoy Wednesday. He told your correspondent the Democrats are determined to elect a full ticket in Wilkes, tradition Republican stronghold, this fall. Last time they broke the G. O. P. stranglehold to the extent of electing the sheriff and two of the county's three commissioners.

H. P. Crowell, president of the state-owned A and N. C. Railroad, was in Raleigh Wednesday. He was closeted with the Governor for quite a spell, but the chief executive said there wasn't any news in the call.

Mention was made the other day of geography as affecting political races. Look at the Sixth Judicial district situation Duplin seems a bit greedy in putting candidates in the field for both Judge (Henry L. Stevens) and Solicitor (Rivers Johnson) and is likely to find itself whipsawed between Sampson, which is offering Abner Barker for solicitor, and Lenoir, with J. A. Powers for judge.

Can't you picture them right now swapping Sampson votes for Powers in exchange for Lenoir ballots for Barker?

Biggest boomerang we've heard of in some time sailed back and smacked Alabama dry square between the eyes.

Hoping to make an impressive showing just before the state primaries, drys called a liquor store election in Houston county (Dothan) which they had previously carried against repeal.

Result, Houston went for stores by 3 to 2 (2,700 to 1,800, approximately).

So far the drys have been canvassing enough not to call any elections in North Carolina, even where they feel themselves strongest.

What's happened to Perry (as we recall it) Blind, the New Bern man—press wire reports had it, sold his oil lands for ten million dollars recently?

Was it all bananas old?

Not strictly in our line perhaps, but still interesting to say the least. A recent survey showed that 91 per cent of moving picture patrons find commercial advertising on the screen objectionable.

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

BY ALAN LEMAY

SYNOPSIS: Our unexpressed love for a young English girl has kept my uncle, James Clyde, and myself (Paul Thorne) in tropical Balingong through a Dyak revolt and Malay defeat. Christine Forrester, visioning a great empire here, has made Clyde rajah. Famine strikes, and war threatens with the predatory Malays. The last outrage means an open break with Rentongen, the sultan's representative.

Chapter 39 Rentongen's Revenge

I SAID at last, "I suppose I'd better go bring in those Malays."
"Yes," he said, "yes, of course."
I turned away, tightening my belt and getting ready to go out into the roar of falling water, but he stopped me. "Wait! It's no good. No use doing that."

"Sir," I said, "if we let this thing pass, we'll never regain the face we'll lose."
"I know that," he agreed. "But the root is somewhere else. I'm going to end this, Paul, one way or the other. Go bring in Rentongen."

I got Rentongen. It was hard to bring him alone; he was almost never separated from five to six ugly-faced krismen, whom he liked to have dog his every step. But I took him a little aside, and advised him that he perhaps would not like to have anyone else with us to hear what the Rajah Clyde had to say. He gave me the most evil stare I have ever seen, but he came, and he came alone.

I was surprised at what James Clyde did then. For a long time the Malays had learned to depend upon the fact that in the white man's code of justice an accusation must always be supported by water-tight proof, else nothing can be done. And they had readily learned to take advantage of that, by intimidation of witnesses and other ways, until justice was impossible to get. I suppose that I myself had become accustomed to think of the necessity of proof as an obstacle which could not be overcome.

But this time all that was brushed aside. Clyde did not even tell Rentongen what he was angry about, though of course Rentongen knew.

"Shah Bandar Rentongen," Clyde said, "I have had enough. From this moment you are no longer Shah Bandar. I hereby banish you from Balingong forever; and all your property is confiscated in the name of the Raj. Go back and tell your sultan you have failed."

At this unbelievable audacity, Rentongen seemed stunned. He stared at Clyde, and his mouth opened to protest.

"Be silent," my uncle told him without raising his voice. "You and all your household will be out of here before sundown. You will take with you in your praus your kris and the clothes you wear. Nothing more."

"And if I do not go?"
"I have given you a chance to leave with dignity," Clyde said. "If you do not care for it, go to your Imam and prepare yourself to die fighting; because I will surely hunt you down."

Rentongen stood with his hands on his hips, staring at Clyde; and there was such a savage blaze of hate in his eyes that I was certain he would leap upon my uncle.

Behind me eight of the 12 Tenyalang I still had in Balingong were seated cross-legged in a row. Without any sound these now stood up. Their rifles were in the crooks of their elbows, muzzles high, as they had been taught; and the muzzles of those rifles were quivering like the shimmer of heat. Yet I do not think that they were afraid; eager, rather, their animal eyes upon the Shah Bandar's blue-turbaned head.

The Worst Spot

RENTONGEN did not glance at them, but undoubtedly he was very much aware that they were there. If his hand had dropped to the hilt of his kris he would certainly have gone down, shot apart by the eight guns. Clyde and the Malay chief faced each other many minutes in this way.

Rentongen turned at last and left us without a single word; and though I believed then that he would surely fight, perhaps raising an attack against us which we would hardly be able to withstand, this did not occur. An hour before sundown, Rentongen's praus took to the river silently, and well within his allotted time he was on the open sea.

When Rentongen was gone I immediately prepared for what we knew was ahead. Not for one moment did we fall into the fallacy of thinking that Rentongen might return to Saremba, empty-handed and humiliated, to his sultan. Regardless of the rainy deluge we would have war now, and have it quick.

I sent the fastest praus I could command, and the fastest jungle runners, to recall certain of the Tenyalang to my own command.

likely to send a man who will vote for control and the wets have hopes that J. R. Williamson, who voted with them in the House last time, will pull through in Columbus, even though that county went overwhelmingly against stores for itself.

The wets have an excellent chance to pick up two votes in the Twelfth that they didn't get in 1937, when Randolph and Hoke had the seats filled by Henry Ingram and Ryan McBryde. This time Harnett, where there is strong control sentiment, and Moore, which has stores at Pinehurst and Southern Pines, will elect.

The Eleventh probably will return a dry—certainly if Senator W. S. Britt, of Lumberton, is a candidate for re-election. Robeson is historically dry and will likely remain so.

Wake and Chatham chose the Thirteenth district Senators this time. Even if Senator L. Y. Barentine is beaten for re-election (Something that may well happen because of his blocking of Raleigh's bid for a share of liquor store profits) Wake will almost certainly send a wet, and there is more than an even chance that Chatham will likewise elect a controller (it's Representative W. D. Siler voted for control in 1937).

The Fourteenth was wet before and will likely be so again. In the Fifteenth the dries will lose Senator J. W. Noel, of Person because Granville gets the Senator this time. Here the wets have another chance to pick up a vote.

The Sixteenth will send at least one wet (from Durham) and there's far more than an even chance that the Orange Senator will vote the same way.

In the Seventeenth, the wets are likely to lose a vote. Last time both Tom Gold of Guilford and Benton Stacy of Rockingham were for control. Gold will probably come back and vote the same way, but Stacy now has a state job and his county has beaten liquor control for itself. Here is a good chance for the dries.

The wets can't lose anything in the Eighteenth, because both Senators were dry before and Senator L. A. Martin of Davidson was the dry floor leader; so any change there will help them and they may

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Stocks generally skated backwards on thin ice in today's market. While speed was lacking from the start, volume was a bit larger than yesterday. Selling dried up in the second hour and extreme declines of fractions to a point or more were reduced or canceled in many cases near the fourth period. Bonds and commodities were uneven.

RENEW HUNT FOR MISSING TWA PLANE

(Continued From Page One) The Fresno county sheriff's office said it had what it believed authentic reports that the plane set off a flare which lighted up the area near the scar about 9:40 Tuesday night. This was 10 minutes after the wife of a power company official reported she heard a plane at about 500 feet altitude in that vicinity. The land party search was ordered to start at dawn. Search directors here began mobilization of 22 planes to scan the rugged snow-packed mountain where the Transcontinental & Western luxury ship disappeared.

WIFE-BEATER LASHED AT THE WHIPPING POST

Stripped to his waist and strapped to the whipping post in Baltimore jail, Clyde Miller, 37-year-old printer, is shown receiving 20 lashes with a cat-o-nine tails in the hands of Sheriff Joseph C. Deegan as punishment for beating his wife. He was taken to the jail hospital after the whipping but authorities said he was not injured seriously. (Copyright 1933 by New York Daily News.)

CHILD PERISHES IN COLLAPSE OF HOME

Leonard Randall, 6, perished and his mother, Mrs. Joseph Randall, was reported buried in debris when their hillside home, caught in the grip of a thundering landslide at Los Angeles, crashed into another residence (upper right) and collapsed. The landslide was precipitated by heavy rainfall; and scores of persons were reported dead or missing as floodwaters marooned parts of Los Angeles and nearby communities. Here firemen hose away mud and debris hunting for possible victims of the Randall home collapse.

Unemployment Compensation Commission Revealed to Have 544 Persons Administering Act

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, March 3.—The North Carolina Unemployment Commission had 544 persons on its February payroll which totalled $58,041.45 for the month, according to figures supplied this bureau by Mike Dunnagan, publicity man for the commission. These 544 employees during that same month enabled the commission to send out approximately 49,000 checks to unemployed eligible for benefits.

Of the employees, Dunnagan said that about 125 are temporary and will be dispensed with at the expiration of the present "emergency" which has thrown the commission behind something more than a week in getting out checks due the unemployed, and which has brought more than a little criticism on Charles G. Powell, chairman of the commission. The commission has about 180 employees in the field, Dunnagan said, with the remaining 364 (about in Raleigh, about 259 of them being on the commission's permanent staff. According to the Dunnagan figures the average worker for the commission is paid $106.69 per month. The publicly representative said that the scale of pay for the commission is exactly that set for other state offices—a stenographer of the U. C. C., for example, drawing exactly the same as a stenographer of similar experience working in any of the offices for which the bureau of personnel determines the salaries. All employees are paid, however, not by the State but with Federal funds. Checks to individual workers are drawn by state officials, but at the beginning of each budget period the Federal government pays into the State treasury money enough to meet the U. C. C. payroll. Another point which Dunnagan emphasized, and which he said seems to be generally misunderstood is that the employees do not contribute one cent to the funds from which Unemployment Compensation is paid. The entire fund comes from the tax on employers.
