REBELS CRUSH DEFENSE LINES OF LOYALISTS

Insurgent Banner Advanced to Village of Vallibona

AMERICAN UNIT SUFFERS LOSSES

Comissar of Washington and Lincoln Battalion Arrives In France with Story

Hendaye, France, April 7. (AP) — Government defenses crumbled before a fresh insurgent march to Spain's east coast today as insurgent red and gold banners fluttered at the village of Vallibona.

This village is 22 miles from the sea coast city of Vinaros. General Franco's armored columns there threatened to outflank the Government's left wing defending Tortosa from positions in near-by mountains.

The insurgents' right wing marched from Morella while fierce counter attacks from reinforced Government units staved off further frontal attacks on Tortosa.

Simultaneous action along the northern Catalan front brought the city of Balaguer under insurgent control.

Perpignan, France, April 7.—(AP)—At the Spanish frontier—a Californian who had acted as political commissar for the Washington and Lincoln battalion of one of the Spanish Government's International brigades reached France today with a story of death among his American comrades.

John G. Honeycombe, 37, of Los Angeles said only a few hundred out of several thousand Americans who had fought since the beginning of the Spanish Civil war as volunteers for the Government were still alive.

Tattered and hungry, Honeycombe crossed the frontier after what he called "the Gandesa collapse," in which 560 Americans of the Washington and Lincoln battalion were caught in General Franco's offensive.

Gandesa fell last Saturday to the insurgents. The Californian said the old Washington battalion was almost wiped out before Belchite, southwest of Zaragoza, where the insurgents' march to the sea started nearly four weeks ago.

Editor Succumbs In Winston-Salem

Winston-Salem, April 7.—(AP)—Henry B. Martin, 58, associate editor of the Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel, died at his home here today after a 10-day illness.

A native of Stokes county, the veteran journalist was for more than 20 years city editor of the Twin-City Sentinel.

Last August he was advanced to the post of associate editor of the combined Journal and Sentinel.

Martin began his newspaper career in 1889 as carrier boy in Winston-Salem. He then worked in the mechanical departments of newspapers at Greensboro and Charlotte.

Several years he edited the Burlington Daily Messenger and in 1903 returned to Winston-Salem.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Negro In Custody For Robbing Store

Lancey Woolard, Negro charged with robbing Reid's Store, Inc. Saturday while he brandished a knife to hold off clerks, was "picked up" in Winston yesterday and returned here.

He is scheduled to be given a preliminary hearing in City police court Saturday morning.

The Negro entered the store, pulled out his knife and proceeded to take a quantity of clothes. Clerks who gathered about him were told to stand back or he would cut them.

Officers were called, but the Negro had made good his escape before they arrived. They declared from the start, however, they expected to get the Negro as his identity was known.

Editor Expected For Visit In This State

Raleigh, April 7.—(AP)—E. F. Arnold, executive secretary of the State Farm Bureau Federation, said today he expected John J. Lacy, editor of "The Nation's Agriculture," to arrive here tonight for a visit to Eastern North Carolina and a speech near Ahoskie at 7:30 tomorrow night.

To Speak Here

Secretary of State Thad Eure (above), who will address the Greenville Kiwanis club Friday evening at 6:30. He will be introduced by Mayor Marvin K. Blount.

TWO CAPTURED AFTER ESCAPE

Lock Assistant Jailer In Room Before Making Break

Two white convicts picked the lock on their compartment door, bolted the door of Assistant Jailer C. A. Bolling's room across the hall and made their escape from the Pitt county jail between midnight and dawn this morning.

The two, being held in jail awaiting trial, were Tom Oakley, said to be facing several charges of forgery and also wanted by Federal officers on counterfeiting charges; and Guy Campbell, being held on three cases of larceny. Campbell also was said to be facing a charge of assault with intent to kill, having shot at a woman who went to investigate when he was stealing her chickens.

The two were taken in custody about noon today on the banks of a canal between Greenville and Ayden, about 100 yards from the highway. They were taken by Chief of Police W. S. Hamilton of Ayden and Deputy Sheriff A. W. Sawyer after they had been advised by members of the Sheriff's office that the two escapees were believed in that section.

Chief Hamilton said two had had stopped to rest and when he walked up on them they readily raised their hands and made no attempt to flee.

Jailer W. G. Leggett said the two evidently used a coat hanger found in the cell this morning to pick the lock on the door to their compartment. The cell doors were not locked.

After gaining their freedom, they went to the room of Assistant Jailer Bolling and bolted it. The men did not enter the room, however, it was believed, as a pistol lying in a chair by the side of the bed was not taken. After locking the door to Bolling's room they went down stairs, prized open a window in the office and jumped out. Tracks by the side of the building showed both to have been barefooted.

Bolling, who did not awaken during the escape, was not freed until cooks going by his door about 6:30 this morning removed the peg which bolted him in his room.

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst said he received a report that two barefooted men, believed to be the escaped convicts, were seen early this morning near his farm. He went to the jail and then began a search for the two.

Jailer Leggett was not at the jail last night, the assistant jailer being the only guard kept on duty all night. Bolling, who was aiding in the search, was quoted as saying he went to bed about midnight and believed the pair escaped about 2 or 3 o'clock.

The U. S. department of commerce estimates there are over 9,200,000 miles of highways in the world.

Payne-Turner Cite Smoak Case In Brief On Appeal

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, April 7.—Lawyers for "Bill" Payne and "Wash" Turner, North Carolina's Bad Men Numbers 1 and 2, obviously aren't superstitious or afraid they'll wish bad luck on themselves.

In the 32-page typewritten brief they have filed with the Supreme Court they cite the recent case of State vs. Smoak, from New Hanover, in their efforts to get a new trial for the admitted killers of State Highway Patrolman Russell Penn. Smoak was executed about a month and a half ago for the pison murder of his young daughter.

The case will be argued orally before the Supreme Court next week, having been advanced on the calendar on the State's motion.

The condemned men's attorney's list in their brief assignments of Error numbered up to 82, and several of them are divided into subsections A, B and so forth. Exceptions taken during the trial of the noted case are numbered up to 88. Counsel signing the brief are J. Walter Haynes and the law firm of Jones, Ward and Jones.

Arguments and the statement of "Questions Involved" indicate that plea for a new trial is based on the contention that Payne and Turner were tried more on their reputations as Public Enemies and on the long series of crimes they are reputed to have committed after shooting the patrolman than they were upon the allegation that they shot the officer to death on a lonely Buncombe side-road.

Among evidence which they complain was improperly admitted is the testimony of one Estelle Miller to the effect that Turner, while in (Continued on page three)

BLUM REFUSED DECREE POWER BY COMMITTEE

Demands rejected Despite Threat Of Demonstration

FOREIGN AFFAIRS CLAIM INTEREST

Seeks Alliance Of Czech Neighbors In Case of Attack By Nazi Germany

Paris, April 7.—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee, in spite of the threat of a mass demonstration of Leftists, today flatly rejected Premier Leon Blum's demand for dictatorial powers over finance by a 25 to 6 vote.

The left wing of the Premier's own budgetary party carried forward preparations for a huge meeting tonight outside the building housing the Senate, in defiance of the shaky Blum government's ban on the demonstration.

The finance committee's action foreshadowed defeat for the Premier in the senate tomorrow—with the downfall of his cabinet—on his finance bill, for which he won grudging approval of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Aganwhile France is pursuing efforts to get Czechoslovakia neighbors to pledge defense against German Nazi encroachment in the little country, despite the acute domestic situation.

The French plan is for an alliance of Soviet Russia, Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia and France to act if there should be an attack from Nazi Germany—to further the German greed to unite the German peoples, including the 3,500,000 minority in Czechoslovakia. It was presented to the French Ambassadors at Moscow and Warsaw and the ministers to Praha and Bucharest by Foreign Minister Paul-Boncour yesterday, while Premier Blum was winning by only a small margin in the Chamber of Deputies on the first test of his bill which would give him dictatorial control of the nation's finance temporarily.

At the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Pitt County Bar Association Tuesday night at the Proctor Hotel, the members heard a talk by Francis E. Winslow, member of the Rocky Mount Bar and president of the North Carolina Bar Association.

After pointing out the part which the lawyer has played in the social and governmental development of the nation in general and North Carolina in particular, Mr. Winslow went on to consider some of the present day problems confronting the lawyers of North Carolina, climaxing his talk with an indictment of the present system of Justice of the Peace courts in the state, which courts wield exclusive judicial power over the great majority of our people, because of their power an inability to carry their controversies into the higher court. Placing the blame for the evils of the system on the method of appointment and election of Justices of the Peace and the fee system by which they are compensated, Mr. Winslow explained that Justices are now elected by the voters of each county, appointed in large numbers by each legislature and also appointed by the Governor, the Judicial branch of our government of which they are a part having no power to appoint or control them. Regarding the fee system under which all J. P.'s operate, he referred to a decision of the United States Supreme Court wherein it was declared that a defendant has not had a fair and impartial trial when the remuneration of the trial judge before whom he is tried is dependent upon his rendering a verdict of guilty.

Musical Contests To Be Held Here

A district musical contest, preparatory to the state-wide event in Greensboro April 19-22, will be held at the high school building here Saturday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Seven counties are included in the district and will send representatives here for the elimination parties. Counties included besides Pitt are Greene, Beaufort, Bertie, Hyde, Washington and Tyrrell.

Greenville will be entered in several numbers, but will have opposition in only three, as it is in class B, while most of the other schools in the district are in class C.

Schools which already have announced they would participate include Enfield, Swan Quarter, Fountain, Winterville, Ayden, Hookerton, Farmville, Robersonville, Plymouth, Columbia, Aulander, Aurora, Roper and Robersonville. J. H. Rose, Rose, district chairman, said others probably would be represented.

The public is invited to attend the contest.

Redding, Calif. (AP)—Too many cooks didn't spoil the broth when a high tension wire and truck a tree here.

There were eight pilots aboard making a "familiarization flight" over the territory. H. C. Miller, in charge, took over the controls and brought the plane down safely.

DETROIT FOLK TAKE TO FEET BAR MEMBERS HEAR WINSLOW

City's Street Railway System Tied Up By Strike

Detroit, April 7.—(AP)—Upwards of half a million Detroiters who normally use the city's street railway system, sought other means of transportation today as an American Federation of Labor union made effective a strike started because of a dispute over seniority rights.

At the rush hour this morning no street cars were operating and automobile traffic was moving slowly because of the appearance of thousands of additional motor cars on the streets.

But lines were operating under police protection, taxicabs were doing the best business in years and thousands walked or thumbed rides.

The Detroit street railway, a municipal system which also operates the bus lines, announced that all striking employees would be discharged if they were not back on the job at 2 p. m. today.

The weather favored the pedestrians. Contrary to forecasts it was a bright sunny day, although cold.

The strike was called, in a riotous session last night, by the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Car Employees of America (A. F. of L.). The Amalgamated seeks seniority rights covering both street car and bus employees in one line of precedence. Now the bus men operate under a separate seniority plan.

In voting the strike, in a closed meeting, the men shouted down their leaders and others tried to dissuade them. There were several fist fights and one man who opposed the strike action was hit with a chair.

JAPS WORRIED OVER PACIFIC

Concerned Over Influences to be Exercised by U. S.

Tokyo, April 7.—(AP)—Japan feels it "imperative" she maintain command of the Western Pacific and is concerned gravely over the possibility the United States might expand her sphere of influence there, Rear Admiral Noda, admiralty spokesman, said today.

Discussing the speech on foreign policy by Secretary Hull on March 17, and his letter on April 3 to Chairman Walsh of the Senate Naval Committee, opposing a stay-at-home policy for the navy and holding it must be free to defend Americans anywhere, Admiral Noda asserted:

"The fact that Mr. Hull sent a letter at this particular time is of special interest to us. Formerly the United States seemed to regard the mainland coast and Panama as the sole points necessary to defend.

"As late as January 31, Admiral Leahy (chief of United States naval operations), stated a strategic triangle running from the Aleutians to Hawaii, Samoa and Panama was the defense line.

WINTER STILL HOLDING GRIP IN LARGE AREA

Severe Storms Turn Calendar Back To Mid-Winter

SNOW HAMPERS HIGHWAY CREWS

April Records Broken In Many Cities As Snow Ranges up To 36 Inches, Michigan

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—Fresh snow blanketed a wide expanse of territory between the Rockies and the Eastern Seaboard today in the wake of a storm that turned the calendar back to mid-winter.

Rain, sleet, dust, hail and tornado winds lashed at sections of the nation which escaped the snow storm.

Heavy wet snowdrifts three and four feet challenged highway crews in the middle west, snow plows opened most principal highways, but many rural lanes still were choked.

The snow-fall broke April records in many cities and was the deepest of the winter in some spots. Counties in southwest Michigan reported 30 to 36 inches of snow.

One death was reported in South Dakota and fears were felt for a man missing in the vicinity of Scottsbluff, Neb., where snow ranged up to a foot in depth. Westington Springs, S. D., reported 17 inches of snow.

Hundreds of telephone and telegraph poles snapped under the weight of snow and ice in Nebraska and Iowa.

About 1,400 city workers and scores of street car and bus company employees tackled Chicago's 9.1 inch snowfall.

Greenville Teams Win Both Debates

Greenville high school debaters today won both divisions in the triangular contests, thereby winning the right to go to Chapel Hill.

The Greenville affirmative team won over Tarboro at Roanoke Rapids, while the negative debaters were victorious over Roanoke Rapids at Tarboro.

Tarboro's affirmative team defeated Roanoke Rapids' negative team here this morning.

This will make the third straight year the Greenville debaters have gone to Chapel Hill and both last year and the year before they went to the semi-finals.

This year's affirmative team is composed of Ruby Grant and Charles Briley, the negative of Louis Mayo and Marjorie Sugg.

Research Project May Locate Here

Faleigh, April 7.—(AP)—Dr. Henry Highsmith announced today that Goldsboro high school has been selected as the site for a special research project of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. Highsmith, chairman of the North Carolina Commission on secondary schools of the association, said similar projects would be launched at two other schools, selected from a list including Charlotte, Asheville, Greenville, Chapel Hill, Roanoke Rapids and Rocky Mount.

Dr. Frank C. Jenkins, director of special studies for the association, will visit the schools under consideration April 13, 14, and 15.

Objections Being Heard On Acreage Allotments

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, April 7.—There are signs and portents that crop control of tobacco and cotton may yet come a cropper at some of the many hurdles which face it.

North Carolina farmers, as well as the rustic folks of all the other cotton and tobacco growing states, gave the principle of control a rousing endorsement in the recent referendum vote on the subject; but when it came time for announcement of the individual quotas there were many and loud howls of pain and anguish.

Just as many folks are highly in favor of prohibition so long as it applies only to the other fellow's liquor, there seem to be numerous farmers who are thoroughgoing controllers as long as it's the other man's crop that is being controlled. Protests have been heard from

Unopposed

D. A. R. Congress, meeting in Washington April 18, will vote on Mrs. Henry M. Robert Jr. (above), unopposed candidate for president general. She's from Annapolis, Md.

CITY SCHOOLS CLOSE JUNE 20

To Have The Largest Graduating Class In History

The Greenville city schools will close their regular nine-months term on June 2, with the largest graduating class in the history of the institution.

J. H. Rose, superintendent, disclosed today that more than 100 students were expected to graduate this year.

The superintendent said the city schools had enjoyed the best attendance in their history, adding that the measles epidemic which cut attendance in several of the counties had not affected the local schools.

No interruptions were necessitated by bad weather this year and the schools have been operated on schedule throughout the session.

"So far the 1937-38 term has been the most successful in our history," observed Mr. Rose.

With the regular session closing on June 2, plans call for summer sessions of the high school and elementary grades to begin on June 8th.

Mr. Rose said a program had not been worked out for the commencement exercises, but added it was possible that an all-local program would be presented.

Mrs. Helen Reason Claimed By Death

Mrs. Helen Owens Reason, 30, died near Fountain yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock after an illness of several years. She was a member of the Aspin Grove Free Will Baptist church. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon by Rev. Jack Tyson, Free Will Baptist Minister of Middlesex. Burial will follow in the Fountain cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Earl Reason and four children, Ruben, Dorothy, James and Mary; two brothers and one sister, Ollen Owens, student at the Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, and Roland Owens of Wilson, and Hazel Owens of Thomasville.

Greenville High Band Continues In Demand

The Greenville high school band yesterday took part in the musical festival in Kinston and from all reports made a good showing.

The band, one of the most popular in the state, is in great demand throughout this section. It has been invited to participate in the tulip festival at Washington, but the fee comes on the same dates as the musical contests in Greensboro and the Washington invitation will have to be refused.

Royal Air Fliers Victims Of Crash

London, April 7.—(AP)—Three Royal Air Force fliers were killed today when their reconnaissance plane exploded and fell into the North Sea.

The Air Ministry identified the plane, which had been the object of a widespread search near Dugdon Light, off the Humber estuary, where it was seen to burst into flames. Searchers found only oil patches and bits of wreckage.

The crash was the 34th in the Royal Air Force since January 1, and raised its death toll to 38 since then.

The plane had been on a night tour in navigation flight and had had radioed "all well."

LOWER HOUSE REFUSES KILL REFORM BILL

Test Was on Amendment to Administration Measure

BILL NOW OPEN TO AMENDMENTS

Roosevelt Declared to Be Contemplating $1,500,000,000 Public Works Program

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—The House refused today to kill the reorganization bill. The teller vote was 191 to 169.

The ballot, a victory for the administration, was on a motion by Representative O'Connor (D-N. Y.), to "strike out the enacting clause"—without which the bill would have been ineffective and meaningless.

The measure was thrown open to amendments immediately afterward. Backers of the bill said the vote was a sure indication the House would pass it eventually, but opponents still had opportunities to try to defeat it after amendments were disposed of.

"This is just one part of the fight," O'Connor told reporters after his proposal lost, "there will not be a reorganization bill."

O'Connor's motion was intended to force a showdown on the legislation before any amendments could be offered.

A high administration official said meantime that President Roosevelt contemplates recommending to Congress a $1,500,000,000 public works program in a new recovery drive to end the recession, restore employment and revitalize the nation's business.

At the same time the White House announced Harry Hopkins, administrator, and Aubrey Williams, deputy administrator, of the WPA would confer with the President during the day on work relief.

Williams has said a much greater emergency relief fund would be needed soon if the government was to care for the new thousands of unemployed, born of the recession.

Other developments: Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) opened debate on the tax revision bill with an assertion that it would "go far toward removing some of the fear that exists in the country."

Harrison said the bill, vastly changed by the Senate Finance Committee after it was approved by the House, would "restore some of the confidence that some of the people have lost in their government."

The AAA announced plans for experimental farm programs this year in nine "test tube" counties.

The AAA said the program for Pulaski county, Ark., Guilford, N. C., and Upsher county, West Va., "were in the process of development."

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far: Loving someone else, aristocratic Judith Goodloe marries Reuben Oliver, self-made man and outsider, for his money, only to discover that his fortune is lost. With different backgrounds, different codes, a clash is inevitable. Judith will stick to her marriage, even face poverty, but she refuses to help Reuben make a fresh start with the money he has already given her family.

It was a brave letter. She gave it to Reuben to read. He read it very slowly. "A couple of maid-garden—a horse—just the everyday necessities of a small house." Again he felt a tender pity for her.

They left New York in the muck of a November afternoon. Judith wore the blue suit she had worn on her wedding trip. Reuben spent three of his all too scarce dollars for gardenias. He was very proud of her as they followed their expensive pigskin bags to the train's shed.

This publicity was an added liability. It made starting over again harder. Made him a joke back in Warder, Oklahoma, the only place where he could hope to borrow.

There was no longer an reason for him to remain in New York; didn't know where to go when he got out—But the thing that really kept him befogged by doubt was the difference between Judith's ethics and his own. He felt her criticism of his every move. Was filled with a strange confusion. Perhaps had he been more used to women and their ways or if he had not loved her so completely—

He found her brooding over the papers when he reached the hotel room—"Oliver, Oil Operator—" "I don't care," defiantly. "I'm not ashamed." She managed a laugh. "It's something to move from the society column and achieve the first page."

Reuben's eyes said plainly: "I told you so!"

Too Deep For Tears
JUDITH'S eyes were two blurred, dimmed pools of deep blue. Gradually, and by supreme effort she conjured before them a long strip of boxwood that stretched and grew until it crowded out the yellowish papered walls and covered them with spicy greenness. Nearly 2,000 miles away such a hedge grew—in safety. Remembering, she found courage to say evenly: "Bring the bags, Reuben, and let's see what's upstairs."

Upstairs were two slope-roofed rooms, smaller and meaner than any the servants slept in at home. A frame cubby hole jutted out from the back one, which was a streaked tin tub that had once been white. The spigots dripped dimly.

Judith slammed the door upon it savagely. She hung her silver fox on one of the hooks that stretched in a row across the wall in place of a closet.

Reuben unstrapped the bag. "I'm going up to that restaurant we saw near the station and bring back our supper." He refrained from looking at her.

"Fine!" She hoped her voice didn't hint of that. If she could keep them back until he went—

When the narrow door creaked behind him she found her misery and rebellion too deep for tears. The stained walls closed in and smothered her. Dust. Mould. Cobwebs—

All around her were boxes and packing cases—silver, china, glass, mahogany, satinwood, Sheffield, linen, etchings—Gran's idea of what was absolutely necessary to a small house.

Dazedly Judith looked at them—tangible proof that she had not died and gone to some weird hell. This was still earth and life as some people lived it.

"I won't open those things, I won't. I'll send them back—go back with them—"

The green hedge arose wraith-like—this time she didn't have to conjure it—and closed around her tighter than iron chains. A bargain was a bargain.

When Reuben came back, carrying a satchel filled with warm, nourishing food he found her washed, brushed, and wearing her most sensible frock. She helped him lay out the things on boxes—ham, baked potatoes, fresh bread, slaw, coffee and half a dozen ruddy cheeked apples.

"I feel better already," Judith bit into an apple. She thought: "If I loved him, I could laugh at this." She laughed anyhow.

Her cheerfulness warmed him like fire and exhilarated him like old wine. He could make more money—plenty of it!

"Let's open some of these packing cases," Judith suggested when they had finished eating. "We need pillows, blankets, sheets—"

"I'll have to borrow a hammer from our next door neighbor. Here's hoping he's a friendly chap!" Reuben opened the door. Air, raw, damp, cold rushed in. "And this," thought Judith piling soiled dishes into the satchel and covering them with red striped towel, "is marriage!"

Social Calendar

THURSDAY
7:30 p. m.—Memorial Baptist choir will meet for practice at the church.

FRIDAY
6:30 p. m.—The Kiwanis Club will hold its regular bi-monthly supper meeting.

8:00 p. m.—The T. E. L. Class of the Immanuel Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. E. F. Tucker. Mrs. C. B. Rice will be assistant hostess.

Quilting Party.
At the home of Mrs. Jasper Boyd, Tuesday afternoon, the neighborhood ladies gathered, each bringing her thimble to quilt. After working very faithfully, Mrs. Boyd served sandwiches, Coca-Colas, ice cream and cake. Then they finished the quilt. The guests were: Mrs. Jennie Hardee, Mrs. Addie Edwards, Mrs. Herman Sutton, Mrs. Thomas Elix, Mrs. Elizabeth Heath, Mrs. Tuck Mills, Mrs. Jarvis Campbell, Mrs. Oscar Hardee, Mrs. G. D. Stokes, Mrs. W. K. Stokes.

Mrs. Boyd's quilting was one of the many that the ladies have quilted this spring. We had a nice time, always asking who will have the next quilting party—Reported.

Old Clothing Needed.
If, during your spring cleaning, you come across any discarded spring clothing of any kind or description, please donate it to the Thrift Shop, as they are sadly in need of clothing of all kinds. The present demand is more than they have been able to fill. Either bring your articles to the Thrift Shop, second story, Guaranty Bank and Trust Co., Dickinson avenue, or call 1029-J and a motor messenger will call for them.

Meeting of Eleventh District U.D.C.
The Eleventh District of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held a meeting in the Baptist Church at Rocky Mount, April 5th, with the Bethel Heroes Chapter hostesses. This district comprises the chapters of Tarboro, Wilson, Middlesex, Spring Hope, Rocky Mount, Farmville and Greenville.

The address of welcome was made by Mrs. W. D. Joyner of the hostess chapter. This was responded to by Mrs. Robert D. Rouse.

The morning session was featured by an address by Mrs. John H. Anderson of Raleigh, division president of U. D. C. She was introduced by Mrs. W. B. Herring, district director.

Scelma Bryan Herring, little daughter of the director, was presented to the district by Mrs. Anderson. The little girl is the mascot of the eleventh district.

Mrs. W. B. Herring presented the guests of the meeting. These were: Mrs. J. F. Hayden of High Point, leader of the Children of the Confederacy; Mrs. Quentin Gregory of Halifax, historian; Mrs. Garland Daniels, Greensboro, treasurer; Mrs. R. R. Copeland of Ahsokie, registrar; Mrs. J. W. Parker of Farmville, radio chairman; Mrs. C. K. Proctor of Oxford, past registrar; Mrs. Walter Woodard and Mrs. J. E. Woodard of Wilson, past presidents.

After the reports of the chapter were heard, the Powell Banner was again presented to the John W. Durham Chapter of Wilson, for securing the largest number of new members during the past year.

Mrs. Helene Williamson and Mrs. C. A. Griffin rendered beautiful solos during the day.

Mrs. H. P. Foxhall conducted an appropriate memorial service before lunch. Tributes were paid to the late Mrs. Myrtle Dall Rouse and Mrs. J. R. Newton, Farmville; Mrs. W. J. Harris, Wilson; Mrs. Theo. Fountain, Mrs. John W. Moore, Mrs. Lillie Beatty, Tarboro; and Mrs. Yettie Bullock, Rocky Mount.

The luncheon was served in the basement of the church, where the business session was held.—Reported.

Shanghai (AP)—A series of mass weddings are being arranged by Chinese charity organizations to accommodate the love-lorn in Shanghai's refugee camps.

The weddings are to be held monthly and will require no cash outlay since the necessary Chinese wedding costume will be loaned the couples by local shops.

Contrasting strangely with his padded, denim overalls, the wedding costume for the refugee groom will include a silk gown and a fedora hat.

Three events mark Easter Sunday in most families: Going to church, joining the fashion parade and meeting for the family dinner.

The problem of which crouch to attend sometimes arises in the case of engaged couples.

Generally a man goes to his wife's church unless his interest in his own is unusually strong, says the Rev. A. Paul Wright, pastor of the Second Reformed church in Tarrytown, N. Y. Consequently, a young man often attends the church of which his fiancée is a member.

If both have an equal interest in their respective churches, the couple may go to one church on Christmas and the other on Easter.

Corage And Collection
It has become customary for the mother of the family to receive an Easter corsage to wear to church. That's just one of those moieties which further binds family devotions. Shoulder corsages are usually worn on the left shoulder with the flowers up.

Nearly all churches take up an extra collection of offering on Easter. And many families consider their Easter contributions as important an expression of appreciation as those made at Christmas.

What To Wear
How about hats in church? "I've afraid Easter hats aren't designed with the church in mind," Mr. Wright remarks. "There's not much we can do about that—since custom has it the woman must wear her hat. The man, of course, takes off his hat and his gloves."

Morning clothes are worn by men only at the most formal city churches. Otherwise the whole family just "dresses up" for the occasion.

If the services are in a large city church, however, the man wears a cutaway coat, striped trousers, lightweight gray gloves, a gray, veal-a-topper, gray spats, a coat tie and wine collar.

ON EXOTIC SIDE, costume worn by Dorette Woodward, a well-known English model, to the first night of "Idiot's Delight" in London was topped with page-boy bob.

Lecture On China.
Rev. E. F. Tatum, returned missionary to China, delivered a very interesting lecture in the Baptist Church last night. He began by telling his audience of his journey to the heathen country, relating many interesting and laughable occurrences. He then described the people and their habits of living. His first experience in coming in contact with the Chinese was very interestingly described. It is evident from what Mr. Tatum said, that China not only needs the gospel in order to die right, but the gospel is needed to reform their living habits.

School Officials Not Alarmed Over Measles Epidemic
Authorities Declare Schools to Lose Few or No Teachers Because of Lower Attendance

Raleigh, April 6.—There is practically no danger that North Carolina's school will lose teachers because of the prevalence of measles in the state, Lloyd Griffin, secretary of the School Commission, said today.

"There is absolutely nothing in the situation to get excited about," he said. "There is no chance of teacher allotments being seriously affected because there are a few more measles cases than in previous years."

Some apprehensive principals and teachers have called or written the Commission contending that they might be forced to close their schools in order to forestall such a drop in average attendance that the 1939 teacher allotment might be less than that for the current year.

These principals are getting excited without sufficient cause, Griffin said.

He pointed out that the teachers are allotted on a basis of average attendance over an eight months period, and that absence of children with measles, even with the disease a bit more prevalent than usual, will be almost negligible in its effect on the whole year's showing.

Diseases such as measles run in cycles, he said, and if it wasn't measles it would probably be some thing else which is keeping children out of school.

Even when his attention was called to the fact that State Board of Health reports show that more than five times as many reportable diseases of all kinds are being listed weekly this year than in the corresponding periods of last year, the School Commission secretary refused to get worked up about the matter. He continued to maintain that the situation is about the same as in other years and that there is nothing for principals or teachers to worry about in the matter of 1939 teacher allotments.

He did not say so—in fact he maintained that the rigid allotment rules will be enforced; but there are indications that in special instances they may be relaxed.

Famed Gardens Of Wilmington To Be Opened This Week

Public to be Permitted to Visit Two of South's Most Noted Estates on Friday and Saturday

Raleigh, April 6.—Two of the South's most noted estates will be open to the public this Friday and Saturday, the Department of Conservation and Development has been informed by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

The two, noted for their magnificent azalea gardens, are Airlie, between Wilmington and Wrightsville, and the Orton Plantation, in Brunswick county, some 18 miles south of Wilmington on the banks of the Cape Fear.

Airlie will be open this year only on these two days, but the Orton Plantation and its gardens will be included in the notable New Hanover and Brunswick beauty spots on the Garden Club tour, April 9 to 13.

The azaleas of these two estates are regarded as among the most beautiful in the entire South. More and more people visit them each year. The estates are also noted for their lovely camellias and japonicas.

Orton Plantations are interesting from an historical standpoint, as the present mansion house dates from 1725 and is one of the few remaining pre-Revolutionary mansions still standing and in use. It is the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurence Sprunt, of Wilmington. The walkways are bordered with hundreds of thousands of azaleas while other thousands are in many beds dotting the grounds.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

For the purpose of vaccinating dogs in Greenville Township against rabies, I will be at the following places from 10:30 a. m., until 3 p. m.:

Monday, April 11—Sally Branch School House on Belvoir road.

Tuesday, April 12—Mayo's old store, near convict camp.

Wednesday, April 13—Eureka Lumber Co. camp on Bethel highway.

Thursday, April 14—House Station, Bethel highway.

Friday, April 15—Barnhill colored school house, near Arthur Barnhill's.

Monday, April 18—Ed Laughinghouse store on old Pactolus road.

Tuesday, April 19—J. E. Jones service station, Pactolus road.

Wednesday, April 20—Fleming's Crossroads, Falkland road.

Thursday, April 21—Gus Forbes' service station, Falkland road.

WOMEN OF N. C. TO GO TO MEET

State to Send Delegates to London Farm Session

Raleigh, April 7—North Carolina will send delegates to the triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World in London next year, Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, assistant director of Extension at State College, announced today.

The association, which numbers among its membership women from every part of the world, holds a meeting every three years. In 1936, year of the last meeting, North Carolina sent 680 farm women to the convention, which was held in Washington.

Primary purpose of these gatherings, Mrs. McKimmon said, is the exchange of ideas, and the establishing of acquaintances from other lands.

Because of the uniqueness of these meetings, they have attracted world-wide attention. As a London bulletin described the Washington meeting: "...It splashed into the world's press, both urban and rural, and convinced the public that a new force had arisen in international affairs."

Credit for North Carolina's large delegation to the session in the nation's capital was due largely to the efforts of the 78 home demonstration agents scattered throughout the State, Mrs. McKimmon said. With 680 women present, this State furnished about one-tenth of the total delegates.

At the present time, the number and names of North Carolina delegates to the London conference next year have not been determined. The women who attend will be from the membership of the 35,000 women enrolled in home demonstration club work in this state, Mrs. McKimmon pointed out.

Colored News

Colored Civic League.

The Colored Civic League of this city has been very active for the past few weeks. New officers have been elected and several meetings have been held for the purpose of discussing means of encouraging the colored citizens to become more active in civic affairs. The bond issue and city court were discussed along with other matters. Every Sunday afternoon from 5:30 to 6:30, an Open Forum is held and all citizens are invited. Last Sunday the discussion was led by the Health Committee. Professor G. G. Mabry discussed the effect of flies and the means of preventing the spreading of diseases by these damaging creatures. Rev. Joseph May discussed the effect of undistilled, polluted or bad water upon our health. He offered several suggestions relative to the elimination of the menace of bad water. Miss Rich discussed the effect and prevention of spit-borne diseases and urged the citizens to begin a drive to help decrease such effects.

R. E. Johnson discussed the various ways of obtaining literature and assistance that furnishes information that is helpful in protecting our community against all diseases. He distributed some of the reading matter. Mrs. Hannah B. Brown, local health nurse and chairman of the committee, made some very interesting and helpful remarks concerning the health work and the many things the citizens can do to assist in the work. Dr. J. A. Battle also discussed and answered questions pertaining to the fighting of these diseases.

The program for the next few weeks will be as follows: Next Sunday at YAMEZ Church, "Illiteracy As It Affects the Health," continued; "Illiteracy As It Affects Our Christianity," "Education," "Society," "Economic" and general existence will be discussed in order, one topic each Sunday at places to be named each week. The motto of the Colored Civic League is a "Bigger and Better Greenville." We appreciate the attendance and advice from all citizens.

PAYNE-TURNER CITE SMOAK CASE IN BRIEF ON APPEAL

(Continued from page one) hiding from the law, once said that he "wanted to take his ex-wife to the Eastern part of the state; that he wanted to strip her and let the mosquitoes bite her for two or three days and then beat her to death."

"We can conceive of no law that would permit this evidence," the brief argues. "It could not be argued that the prisoners could have a fair trial under an indictment charging them with murder, in view of this kind of evidence. Nothing could have been more prejudicial than for the court to have admitted evidence to the effect that one of the prisoners; on another occasion and a different time, wanted to torture his ex-wife to death in order to get rid of her."

Objection is also vigorously made to admission of details of the minutest sort concerning an encounter of Turner and Bolen Bird with New Hanover officers and of the alleged kidnaping of a Brunswick county man. The court admitted these statements for the purpose of "showing flight." Defense counsel contended that inasmuch as flight is admitted there was no occasion to admit details of these other crimes except to prejudice the minds of the jury against the defendants.

Stipulated objection is also taken to the admission of testimony by a convict guard that Turner, four years before the killing of Penn, once said he had no use for officers and that if he ever got out and behind a 45 "it would then be on."

Other objections are urged to admission and identification of articles found in the car when the defendants were taken by Federal G-Men at Sanford.

"No one could contend that the articles were used in connection with the homicide or had anything to do with it, but, of course, the only purpose was to have the jury draw the inference that they were trying bank robbers and thieves and to directly put their character in issue without directly offering themselves as witnesses. We cannot conceive of evidence being more prejudicial than this line."

Objection was made, too, to practically all the judge's charge to the jury, which it is contended, took away the prisoners' contention that they acted in self-defense after being shot at by the officer.

CORNELL TEAM COMES TO UNC

Carolina Undeclared in Three Games of 1938 Season

Chapel Hill, April 7.—North Carolina's varsity baseball team, undefeated in three games this season, meets Cornell, its second inter-sectional opponent of the week, here Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock on Emerson Field.

The Tar Heels' three game record shows victories over Richmond 10-2, Dartmouth 4-1 and N. C. State 6-5. Coach Bunn Hearn's charges got their first real scare against N. C. State at Raeford Tuesday, trailing 3-2 going into the ninth they capitalized on three errors to shove over four runs and then checked a two-run rally of the Techs in the last half of the ninth.

Carolina fielded well in both the Dartmouth and State games, but showed noticeable weakness in hitting. They collected only seven hits against the Indians and just six against the Techs.

The Carolina-Cornell game Friday matches the wisdom and cunning of coach and pupil. The coach is Bunn Hearn of Carolina. The pupil is Jim Tutum, head tutor of the Northerners. Tutum played under Hearn in 1933 and 1935. He was a star flier on the 1933 team which won the Conference title and 20 of 21 games.

Carolina and Cornell were scheduled to meet here last season but the contest was cancelled due to rain. The teams are meeting for the first time in several years.

Henry (Bud) Hudson, who turned in superlative three and two-hit performances against Richmond and Dartmouth, respectively, will likely be on the mound for the Tar Heels Friday.

Al (Hostile) Hostak Loses One Of His 68 Fights, Eyes Middleweight Crown

By FRANK GORRIE

Seattle (AP)—If the Steeles, Apostolls and Corbetts don't hurry and end their argument over who would look best wearing the middleweight boxing crown, a young upstart by the name of Al (Hostile) Hostak is apt to butt in and grab the championship bonnet.

Outside of getting his name listed as the No. 2 contender in the last rankings of the National Boxing Association, Hostak is unknown to the country at large—but will be remembered for some time by such ring performers as Babe Risko, Tony Fisher, Young Terry, Allen Matthews, "Irish" Bob Turner, Otto Blackwell and Swede Berglund.

Hostak didn't get very well acquainted with these fellows, however, for he knocked them all out along with a flock of other middleweights during the last year.

Al is 23 years old, born in Minneapolis. He has been boxing six years through the featherweight, lightweight, welterweight and middleweight divisions.

Other Side Of Tracks

He hails from the other side of the tracks in Seattle—the suburb of Georgetown. One day after school a few years ago he walked into the gym of Eddie Marino's boxing emporium and said:

"I want to be a fighter."

Since then he has been under the tutelage of Marino, who won the lightweight title of Canada from Billy Lander of Calgary in 1909 and the weight crown at Sand Point, Idaho—and lost.

Hostak has had 68 fights. He has lost—one. That was to Jimmy Best of Tacoma, Wash., when he was a welterweight. Later Al got even with Jimmy.

Al has never been knocked off his lineup will consist of George Stirrweiss, ss; Burke Craver, 2b; George Nethercutt, c; Tom Burnette, cf; Harold Bisette, 1b; Poy Grubb, 3b; Frank Cox, rf; and Don Gillam, lf.

Al Hostak He's Kayoed His Last 11 Foes

He has had 18 middleweight scraps and knocked out his last 11 opponents. These include former champion Babe Risko, Tony Fisher, and Allen Matthews, three boys, Steele, the present title holder, was unable to put away.

"I Can Beat Steele" Hostak claims he knows how to beat Steele (he has seen the champ in action many times) and may get a chance to prove it if Promoter Nate Druzman of Seattle is successful in his endeavors to match the boys here this summer.

Hostak scales between 155 and 158 pounds. He hits with the power of a heavyweight. Some of his friends consider his right-cross the most terrific thing in boxing, but Al contends he hits harder with his left.

"At least I've knocked out more of 'em with my left," he says.

DUKE TO MEET MAJOR LEAGUE

For Stars of University Return With Athletics

Durham, April 7.—Duke University's major league baseballers "come back home" tomorrow to play against the college outfit for which they once starred.

An event unparalleled in the history of baseball will be the appearance in Duke park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock of five former Blue Devils in the starting lineup for the Philadelphia Athletics. Another record will be set in that the five ex-Duke stars will be stationed at every post in the infield.

Duke representatives with the A's also an All-Southern basketball player at the institution: Chubby Dean, pitcher. Mt. Airy boy who starred at Oak Ridge before coming to Duke; who will be at first base for the game: Wayne Ambler, second baseman, captain and leading hitter on Duke's 1937 Southern Conference championship nine; Hans Wagner, catcher on the same team with Ambler; Ace Parker, shortstop, a Duke star in 1935 and 1936 and an All-American halfback in football in 1936.

Parker and Werber are on the books as two of the greatest athletes in the history of the university. Parker was an all-round star and one of the most popular men ever to attend the institution. Werber plays two sports and was a sensation in both of them.

In addition to the Duke alumni angle, there are other connections between the two teams. Connie Mack, veteran manager of the A's, once had Coach Jack Coombs of Duke as his star pupil. Ira Thomas, scout for the A's, caught Coombs when the Duke mentor was hurling for Philadelphia.

Connie Mack Jr., official with the A's, is an alumnus of Duke and played basketball and baseball here.

Dayton Dean, Duke business manager of Athletics, is a brother of Chubby Dean of the A's and was a star second baseman himself on the same team as Werber. Dean and Werber formed one of the fastest keystone combinations in Duke's illustrious baseball history.

Ambler, Wagner and Parker were teammates of the older boys on the Duke nine this season.

It will be a great day for Coach Jack Coombs and Duke alumni and a crowd of 5,000 is expected by Duke officials to see the contest, offering as it does something never before seen in baseball history. The seating capacity of Duke's big ball park has been enlarged to accommodate the throng.

The Sports Editor Who Would Try Anything—Once!

La Crosse, Wis. (AP)—Bill Scanlan, the young Irishman who is sports editor of the La Crosse Tribune, will try anything once.

To get a working background in sports, Bill has played football, basketball, hockey, baseball and miscellaneous other games with varying personal success.

All of which is introductory to Bill's latest study, the wrestling industry. George Sauer, one of the seven athletic Sauer brothers which include Ray Steele, has been producing wrestling operettas at La Crosse and has been initiating Bill into the mysteries of the art.

Sauer told Bill it was possible to put a man to sleep with a jiu jitsu trick. Bill was skeptical.

"Do you want me to show you how?" Sauer asked.

"Sure," said Bill. His fellow news-

BUT CAN'T YOU SEE — IT'S ONLY A GAME!!

Begin Practice

The first regular practice of the Greenville baseball team was held under the watchful eye of Manager Monk Joyner at Third Street school yesterday afternoon with about 15 players working out.

Most of those who joined in the limbering up exercises were pitchers and catchers. Since yesterday a number of other players have come in, but because of the rain today's practice was called off. The players are scheduled to resume their preliminary work, however, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will continue on the field for several hours.

men in the city room gathered around to watch the show.

Sauer took Bill's head in his hands, applied mysterious finger-holds, and jerked. (Don't try it if you don't know how.) Bill's eyes closed, his mouth sagged, and he began to snore softly, completely "out on his feet."

The demonstration was a success. Sauer gave Bill a couple of clips on the jaw, and Bill woke up. He didn't tell the blows, nor did he believe he had been asleep.

But expressions on the faces of those present assured Bill that something unusual had happened to him.

Now you can cure your TOBACCO CORRECTLY WITH LESS WORK... AT LOWER COST.

HERE ARE THE UNITS

Without a doubt the additional price you will get from your tobacco will soon pay for a unit.

The Buckeye Rite-Heat Tobacco Curing System is built by an organization with years and years of experience in building and selling of heating equipment to the farmer and planter. The unit has only four parts, eliminates all floor space, does away with constant washing of burners and replacement of wicks. It is so simple to operate that it requires practically no attention.

With all of its advantages, it is the lowest cost unit available today, and will cure your crop at lower cost than any other system. Don't take a chance of spoiling another crop through improper curing. We have a demonstration unit on display and will gladly show you its many benefits without obligation.

CAFE RATINGS ARE RELEASED

(Continued from page one) March against nine C's for the previous report. None closed in March, six closed in the previous report. Total number of eating places inspected previously was 33 while this number had been reduced to 26 for March. Mr. Welch stated that while it was gratifying to note a general improvement in the rating of cafes, at the same time he felt that there was much room for improvement. He also commented on the fact that certain managers had put in expensive equipment but were using unsanitary methods of preparing food. He pointed out that one manager had put in the most modern equipment available and still attained only a low B grade simply because his methods were at fault. He expressed appreciation for the fine cooperation some of the managers were giving him and stated that he felt confident the eating places in Greenville would show improvement from month to month. He also gives the warning that as warm weather approaches it will be necessary that extra precaution be taken to preserve food and protect it from contamination by flies.

JAPS WORRIED OVER PACIFIC

(Continued from page one) opposition to any such theoretical frontier. Hence, it appears America is advancing her sphere rapidly westward. Japan can not but watch with gravest concern. Norway ranks first and Japan second as the source of supply of fishing tackle imported by the United States. Canada is the largest market for fishing tackle exports from this country.

Two Freed In Death Of N. C. Pedestrian

Murphy, April 7—(AP)—Red Joines and Homer Ballard of Kannapolis were acquitted in Superior court today of charges of manslaughter and hit and run driving in connection with the death of a pedestrian near Andrews last fall. The jury brought in its verdict after deliberating about an hour and a half. Lester Hooper of Kannapolis, who testified he was asleep in an automobile in which Joines and Ballard also were riding at the time of the alleged mishap, was the state's own witness. A jury was selected yesterday and trial of the case before Judge J. H. Clement of Winston-Salem required only a short time today.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, April 7—(AP)—Getting a foothold on recovery proved a difficult job for the stock market today and leading issues tilted slightly forward and backward at frequent intervals. Dealings were even slower than in yesterday's crawling session and near the fourth hour prices were a shade either way. Boids traveled an uneven route on the whole.

Injunction Sought By Young Refused

New York, April 7—(AP)—Federal Judge Albert C. Cox today denied the petition of Robert R. Young for an injunction restraining Guaranty Trust Company, third largest bank in the United States from voting controlling stock in Chesapeake corporation, which it holds as trustee, at a special stockholders meeting in Baltimore tomorrow.

The decision was a set back in Young's fight with powerful Wall Street banking interests for control of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, most profitable remnant of the former $2,000,000,000 Van Swearingen rail empire.

Chesapeake corporation was the middle holding company of the Van Swearingen corporation set-up and controls the railroad. Nominal control of Chesapeake corporation rests with Allegheny corporation, top holding company of which Young purchased control with a small cash outlay last fall. The controlling Chesapeake stock however is pledged as collateral in Guaranty's hands for Allegheny bonds.

High School Students To Attend NCS Fair

The Science and Museum clubs of the Greenville high school have accepted invitations to attend the annual Engineers' fair at N. C. State college tomorrow. J. H. Rose, superintendent of the city schools, said today a large number of the two classes were planning to attend the affair.

'INADEQUATE' said Berlin about peace plans of Czech Premier Milan Hodza.

Railroad Presents Further Evidence

Raleigh, April 7—(AP)—The Norfolk-Southern Railroad company presented further testimony today showing it had lost money on passenger train operations as a series of hearings before the Utilities Commission neared an end. The railroad requested permission in an unprecedented move to abandon all passenger operations except between Norfolk and Raleigh and no opposition developed. City schools, said today a large number of the two classes were planning to attend the affair.

Utilities Commissioner Stanley Winborne said he had noticed the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad, operated by a state-controlled corporation, would oppose abandonment of service between New Bern and Marsden. The A. & N. C. Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk-Southern now all use jointly the union station at New Bern. Winborne said the commission would issue its order in the case quickly and indicated all unopposed requests would be granted.
