perior CourtPLAN INTRODUCE AUDIT REPORTSClerks of Court and Magistrates Put On Stand by Prosecution Today

Proceedings on the petition of individual members of the Board of County Commissioners of Pitt County, to oust Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst from office moved slowly yesterday afternoon and today as the time of the court was taken up with examination of clerks of court from surrounding counties and magistrates from this county and the offering of their records as a basis of evidence to be presented by auditors.

The counsel for the petitioners have advised the court that the audits will reveal that certain commissions have come into the sheriff's hands as a result of execution of papers through his office and that these commissions have not properly been turned over to the county, substantiating the charges in the petition that the sheriff has habitually failed or refused to keep proper records and make proper settlements with the county.

Five clerks of Superior court from various counties have already testified the commissions on the process in question will total approximately $150. Commissioners for the executions of deeds by the sheriff, which it is claimed have also been turned over to the county, will amount to slightly more than $300. The total amount of fees resulting from the service of magistrates' papers will not be revealed until the auditors testify.

The first witness this morning was L. B. Wynne, of Martin county, who testified concerning certain process from this county served through the office of the sheriff of Pitt county during a period of ten years. The amount of commissions involved on the process was approximately $50.

On cross examination Mr. Wynne revealed that in each instance where payment to the sheriff had been by check the check had been endorsed to the order of the treasurer of Pitt county and deposited by him to the credit of the county.

The witness said that the service of papers from his county to Sheriff Whitehurst's office had been excellent and that his resignation as an officer was excellent. R. A. Tyson, H. L. Jenkins, A. E. Denton, J. I. Smith, J. M. Joyner, J. S. Ross and N. A. Clark, all Pitt County magistrates, identified the books kept by them.

On cross examination each of the magistrates stated that they had received efficient service at the hands of the sheriff on the execution of papers emanating from their respective offices.

Following testimony of the magistrates counsel for the petitioners offered the J. P. records as evidence in support of the contention that a portion of the fees as shown by these records had not been turned over to the county by the sheriff. Defense counsel objected to admission of the records until audits of the books had been furnished and the judge so ruled.

Only one witness appeared on the stand yesterday afternoon, the balance of the session being taken up with the presentation of documentary evidence by counsel for the petitioners.

M. D. Owen, clerk of court of Wilson county, testified concerning life process issued in his county during the past several years and served through the office of the sheriff of Pitt county.

On cross examination Owen stated that he had been clerk of court of Wilson county since 1930 and that during that time process sent to the sheriff's office of Pitt county had been handled efficiently.

Counsel for the petitioners presented an exhibit covering twenty-two deeds of execution by the sheriff involving a total of $12,678.00, the sheriff's fees on which are alleged not to have been turned over to the county. The fee of two and one-half per cent on the executions amounts to $316.95.

The counsel for the petitioners also presented as exhibits the affidavits of Mrs. L. C. Wiggins, Alton Smith and Mrs. Mabel Adams, corroborating the testimony these witnesses gave on the stand.

Missouri, Kentucky, Delaware and Maryland declared their neutrality when the 11 southern states seceded from the union.

Camp Polk Land for Dairy Purposes

Raleigh, May 12.—(AP)—Dairy and agricultural leaders from all parts of the state asked Governor Hoey today to give or arrange for transfer to North Carolina State College for dairy purposes of a part of all of the Camp Polk prison farm, four miles from Raleigh.

Cameron Morrison of Charlotte, former Governor and former Senator, outlined the proposal to Governor Hoey and described himself as "a plain dirt farmer since I quit being a politician."

Under the plan part of the prison farm property which fronts on U. S. number one highway between Meredith College and the fair grounds, would immediately be made available to the college.

Hoey told the delegation of some 25 men that he was "personally highly in favor" of the proposal and would take the matter up with the Highway and Public Works Commission next week. A committee also will appear before the commission.

The Governor said some plan would have to be worked out from the economic side to reimburse the Highway Commission, he thought, if it turns over the property listed as valued at $300,000.

SPRINGTIME INFLUX STRAINS ALASKA RELIEF

Juneau, Alaska.—(AP)—Spring has brought Alaska an influx of destitute persons from the states seeking their fortunes.

"The number on relief in the territory is decidedly increased by these arrivals, but there seems no way to stop them," said J. G. Rivers, member of the Alaska Welfare Board.

Teachers Start Campaign
For Restoration Of Pay

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, May 12.—Teachers of North Carolina have begun an active, intensive drive to secure restoration of the state salary scale to its 1929 level.

Indicative of this campaign are questionnaires which are being received by legislative candidates from local teacher groups, by which it is sought to determine the position the candidates intend to take with reference to teachers' salaries. So far as can be learned no questionnaires have been sent out by the state organization of teachers, but the practical identical questionnaires being mailed in different localities make it appear that the inspiration comes from a common source.

In practically every legislature the question of teachers' salaries has been more or less an issue and the coming 1939 General Assembly will be no exception.

It is noticeable that the campaign for increased salaries has been left to the teachers them-

United States Air Force Engages In War Maneuvers

New York, May 12.—(AP)—Thousands of theoretical enemy infantrymen landed by parachutes between midnight and dawn today at two points on the Atlantic seaboard as the war games of the general headquarters air force, assigned to guard the United States from invasion, got under way.

Major General Frank Andrews, commander of the force and head umpire of the great tactical maneuvers, informed the commanders of his three "wings" that the "blacks"—a mythical coalition of European and Asiatic powers—had gained foothold at Kitty Hawk, N. C., and on an island off Maine five miles southwest of Boothbay harbor.

There, he informed his men, the imaginary infantrymen were hard at work establishing landing fields for the hundreds of planes expected to be launched from "black" aircraft carriers with more troops.

Simultaneously the fast-striking enemy theoretically bombed the airports at Providence, R. I., and Boston. The Providence airport was supposedly badly damaged, not only by the bombs, but by the destruction in mid-air of an enemy bomber which, General Andrews asserted, had been shot down by the "blue" defenders directly over the port, crashing in flames among hangars.

Employed by Britain and France to Gain
Right to Recognize Italy

Geneva, May 12.—(AP)—A despairing appeal by the fallen Emperor of Ethiopia today failed to halt the steam roller tactics by which Britain and France expect to gain freedom to recognize Italy's conquest of his realm.

While the black-garbed Haile Selassie sat at the league council table with bowed head and closed eyes, an aide read his plea, containing a demand that the organization be carried before the whole assembly of the league.

But the council was summoned to reconvene late today when action releasing league members from non-recognition pledges was looked for.

Should the Negus' demand for an assembly hearing succeed it might block Anglo-French plans for recognition, as the assembly contains all members, many of them set against such "realism."

Haile Selassie, too ill to speak, sat at the council table while his representative, Ato Tadezes, read his speech.

After he had listened silently to British and Foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, announce Britain wanted to give even his title to

INTER-RACIAL
GROUP FORMEDOrganization Meeting
Last Night Well Attended

A number of Greenville citizens, both white and colored, last night formed an inter-racial organization with the aim of bringing about a better understanding between the two races.

The organization meeting was held at the Presbyterian church and was called to order by the pastor, Rev. R. C. Grady.

Wyatt Brown was named chairman, Dr. J. A. Battle, colored, vice chairman and J. M. Taft, secretary-treasurer.

Chairman Brown declared last night that the body was not a crusading organization, but one set up to facilitate relations between the two races.

E. G. Flanagan read a paper in which he explained the purpose and aims of the inter-racial organization. He declared that what progress the Negro race had made in this country had been through their own efforts with little assistance from the white population.

Mr. Flanagan, J. H. Rose and M. K. Blount were named to a committee to make a study of providing recreation for colored children. Edna M. Graves, colored, was instructed to investigate the possibilities of securing NYA and WPA aid in providing recreation facilities and playground for Negroes.

Those present for the meeting besides the officers and those appearing on the program included Wyatt Brown, Mrs. Brown, Robert L. Coleman, Mrs. Coleman, K. T. Futrell, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, Mrs. H. R. Rivers and Stator Clark, W. H. Davenport, I. M. Donnell, Rev. J. A. Nimmo, Hannah Hilton Brown, Rev. J. L. King, W. P. Norcott, C. Z. Davis, Rev. J. J. Lang, Rev. N. E. Stator, Dr. C. R. Graves and J. B. Taft.

VARGAS CRUSHES FASCIST REVOLT

With a pistol in his hand, President Getulio Vargas (left) of Brazil personally led defenders of the presidential palace in Rio de Janeiro as government forces crushed a fascist revolt against his authoritarian administration. General Eurico Dutra (right), minister of war, was wounded slightly. An undetermined number of rebels were killed or wounded and hundreds were arrested.

Continues With 500
Already Jailed

Rio de Janeiro, May 12.—(AP)—Brazil's strong man president, G. Vargas, invoked full military and police action today to wipe out forever Fascist Green Shirts, whose three and a half hour rebellion failed because they did not know the government palace was without a garrison within its walls.

Police, with 500 of the rebels already in jail, spread through the city, searched every suspected Fascist home, made more arrests and found evidence the revolt was well planned, but without co-ordinated execution.

They pressed a nation-wide search for the fugitive, P. Salgado, head of the Green Shirts and allegedly the "intellectual leader" of yesterday's abortive uprising. Salgado has been in hiding several months.

The government launched an inquiry and it was expected decrees would be published authorizing summary trial of the captured leaders.

B. Valverde, field commander of the uprising, was in jail.

The rebels made their attack yesterday morning against president Vargas' palace, the residence of the chief of staff of the army and other strategic points, but they lacked the one vital piece of information that could have carried them to at least momentary success.

Alberto de Barros, former charge d'affaires who helped defend the president's palace told about it today.

"I believe the attackers did not know the palace was completely without an internal garrison, otherwise they would have advanced into the palace instead of fighting in the garden," he said.

Hoey Considering Woman
For Liquor Board Place

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, May 12.—Delay in appointment of a member of the State Liquor Board to succeed T. J. Murphy of Greensboro, whose term has expired, is due to the desire of Governor Clyde R. Hoey to name a woman to the post, if persistent and on-their-face reliable reports are really founded in fact.

The Governor isn't saving anything about it, and the whole thing may be nothing more than pale political moonshine — this correspondent isn't giving it out as Gospel truth, at any rate—but it is an interesting angle any way it's looked at.

The mere desire to name a woman however, wouldn't account for the delay, because there's no reason why the Governor should take longer to pick one than to pick a man; but the yarn-spinners have it that he isn't able to make up his mind whether to name Mrs. Mary C. Murphy of Greene county, or Miss Beatrice Cobb of Morganton.

AMENDMENTS TO RELIEF BILL
ARE DEFEATEDHouse Rejects Proposal for State Ad-ministrationCHANGES SOUGHT
BY REPUBLICANSSecretary Ickes, In Meantime, Aims His Views Regarding the Sale of Helium

Washington, May 12.—(AP)—The House beat down today a Republican attempt to turn the administration of relief over to the states. The standing vote was 106 to 39.

Another amendment, to increase from $125,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 the proposed WPA fund for the seven months ending next January 31, was rejected by a standing vote of 61 to 23. It was proposed by the House liberal group.

The first amendment to the $3,054,000,000 lending-spending bill, offered by Rep. Bacon (R-NY), was the minority proposal for decentralization of relief. It proposed to set up bi-partisan boards to handle relief funds and to require states to put up 25 cents for every dollar contributed by the federal government.

Under that arrangement, Bacon said, "more and more relief money would reach the people in actual need."

Republicans said they would make another attempt just before a vote on passage of the bill, to put their program into the measure.

Secretary Ickes suggested, meanwhile, that congressional action probably would be necessary before any helium is sold to Germany.

"If Congress amends the act and makes more lenient the interpretation of the law," the secretary told his press conference, "I would not stand in the way of a sale, but as the law now stands I can only deny the sale on the grounds that competent testimony before Congress shows helium to be of military importance."

Other developments: Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes urged that American lawyers be "vigilant" in seeking the selection of "good judges" to preside over the nation's courts.

The chief justice addressed the American law institute.

President Roosevelt, in a letter read at the same meeting, said this country was reestablishing our legal philosophy to keep pace with the needs of our people and the spirit of our institutions.

'Small Grain Day'
Set For May 20th
At Piedmont FarmVisitors To Have Opportunity Of Inspecting Test Farm and Studying Various Phases

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, May 12.—There will be "no speaking" just a "short talk" at the celebration of Small Grain Day at Piedmont Test Farm, near Statesville, on May 20. It has been announced by Fred E. Miller, director of the State Department of Agriculture Test Farm Division.

D. S. Coltrane, assistant to State Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott, will make the talk with "Better Production" as the subject of his address, as well as the main theme of the entire day.

G. K. Middleton, plant breeding agronomist of the North Carolina Experiment station will be in direct charge, assisted by county agents from the small grain growing counties of the Piedmont.

Visitors for the day will have the opportunity to inspect the entire Piedmont farm, and to make a study of the methods of fertilization and crop rotation employed to increase the production of the small grains.

The Piedmont farm is one of the show places of the Department of Agriculture and on it are demonstrated the latest and most scientific methods of small grain breeding and production.

North Carolina's production of the small grains—wheat, oats, rye and barley—has not been as large or as superior in quality as department officials would like and Small Grain Day is being relied upon to do much to increase interest in better production and breeding of these staple grains.

All of the grains are grown in a great variety of breeds and in many unusually successful ways at the Test Farm.

The "day" will get under way at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Miller said.

The aqueduct, of Rome at the time of the Caesars supplied 320 million gallons of water daily and were 249 miles long.

After the business of the club was dispensed with, at which time the program for the coming year was presented by the program committee, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. J. L. Hassell, who gave a most interesting and entertaining sketch of the life and work of Dorothy Dix.

Mrs. Hassell told how Mrs. Dix started her literary career with a five dollar a week job on a newspaper, later starting her daily column, until now she is one of the highest paid syndicate writers of the day. For 25 years she covered all the big murder trials in the country. Not only her literary ability but her knowledge of human nature and understanding of people and their problems has been responsible for her success.

Mrs. James Little, who has known Mrs. Dix personally, gave some interesting and humorous sidelights on her many and varied experiences. A lively discussion followed by the club members, several of whom had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Dix speak.

This was a most delightful meeting and the last for the club year. As the meeting adjourned, each member expressed a wish for a pleasant summer and a happy reunion next fall.

Plans For Poppy Day.

Twenty-one years ago our loved ones were marching away "to make the world safe for Democracy." With flags flying and bands playing, they paraded the streets of our cities; they were heralded the flower of our country; proudly and loudly the citizens proclaimed that they were their men.

Not many weeks later a surgeon wrote to his wife, "There were the mutilated bodies of the dead on all sides, but the heart wrenched was the sight of the boys left wounded, a dead life staring them in the face."

This month on Memorial Day we honor those who died for their country. On May 28th we serve those "left wounded." Our annual Poppy Day provides funds to ease that "eternal dullness" of time which is all of life left to many of them. Many thousands of them depend upon the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary for that touch of the friendly hand and the sound of the sympathetic voice that arms their hearts with the assurance of kindly interest.

Now is the time to assist the disabled and honor the memory of the deceased by placing the "meaningful little Red Flower" on every lapel on Poppy Day. Teach the public the true significance of poppies—the Memorial Flower of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, then surely they will desire to wear the beautiful symbol of sacrificial service.

King's Daughters Meet.

The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters held their regular meeting at the home of the state president, Mrs. Hortense Moye, with an unusually large attendance.

The president, Mrs. Jones, opened the meeting with the prayer of the Order. She read the motto, and explained the meaning of the silver cross that all true King's Daughters are so proud to wear.

The chaplain, Mrs. Bryan, gave the spiritual reading, followed by a composition of her own on Our Mother and the Mother of Our Lord.

The regular routine of business followed. Minutes and treasurer's report, old and new business, all bills presented and voted paid.

Mrs. Moye then gave a brief report of the South Carolina State convention which she attended last week, she being an honor guest and speaker.

The circle having planned a Mother's Day program, Mrs. Milton White was the first on this program. She read several lovely poems on Mother, two of which she composed and dedicated to her mother, and the most beautiful of all was a song of her own composition "Mother of Mine," the words to the music of "Mother McCreary." Mrs. White gave this part of the program with so much feeling that sometimes we were smiling and others crying.

Following Mrs. White, Miss Helen Phelps very sweetly sang "Mother McCreary" accompanied by Mrs. Hadley, both of which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. W. L. Hall then gave several readings and poems, one very cute one, "I Am Not the Boy My Mother Thinks I Is."

A dozen of Greenville's old ladies were guests of the party, as well as other prospective members.

After adjournment, all were invited into the dining room where punch and wafers were served from a huge punch bowl in a lovely setting. Miss Imogene Riddick assisted the Daughters in serving.

P. T. A. Meeting.

The Training School Parent-Teacher Association held a meeting at the Training school Monday at 7:30 p. m. The first half hour was spent visiting teachers in the various rooms.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Edw. Batchelor, who welcomed the parents and teachers and expressed her appreciation of the splendid work done by the various committees this spring. Also the co-operation of all the grade mothers and teachers.

The treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Young, reported that $32.50 had been realized at the bridge tournament last week, which gives a total of $87.25 to begin next year's work with. The Red Cross kits, sheets for emergency cot and various minor items had been purchased. Mrs. Young expressed her appreciation for the help given by the members, merchants and all who helped her and her finance committee with the tournament. Mrs. Milo Smith, grade mother for Miss Hyman's seventh grade, sold the most tickets.

President L. R. Meadows made a brief but very inspirational and encouraging talk. He touched upon the value of a P. T. A. to a community. He commended upon the changing of educational objectives and special causes for gratitude citizens of Greenville have in their superior school system. He devoted some time to the needs of the Training school and the possibilities of meeting them. He stated that at a recent meeting plans were made to pave the walk from the east entrance of the Training school to the eastern limits of the grounds—and that Mayor Blount, with the help of P. W. A. labor, had promised to help. This was particularly pleasing to his hearers as the Training school is the only graded school on the highway, yet it has never had a sidewalk, but for a short piece at its western entrance. With so many pupils coming from the Eastern development, this is a very dangerous condition. He stated that with the help promised by the city he was sure the walk would be paved soon and ready for use this fall.

Dr. Meadows spoke of the need of painting the building inside and out, for improving the equipment and library facilities, and finally for an addition of two more units to the building as soon as appropriations are made by the state. All these things would come, he was sure, through cooperation of college and community. He pledged his efforts in their behalf.

Supt. Rose then illustrated with apt story of his boyhood two facts, viz., when the going is hardest we can carry on, and it sometimes takes years to judge properly the worth of our efforts.

He graphically described the 36 acres recently purchased by the city, stating that it is one of the prettiest spots near Greenville. Part of it will be an ideal baseball park for younger children—and a recreation park. The rest used as it is for picnic grounds and Cub and Boy Scout activities. Only one acre is too swampy to be used much until it is drained. As soon as the baseball park and recreation park in West Greenville is completed, work will be on this park. It is already very accessible to South Greenville citizens via 14th street, and as soon as a small bridge is built near the intersection of Tenth and Maple streets, the East Greenville citizens will be able to get to it in a few minutes.

Mrs. Batchelor stated that the program committee was already making plans for next year and would welcome any suggestions by parents or teachers so that the P. T.

A would be most helpful and worthwhile next year, and would be able to help secure the many much needed objectives.—Reported.

CADILLAC MAKES GOOD
SALES FOR FIRST QUARTER

Detroit, May 12—Cadillac was the only make of automobile during the first three months of year, it is believed, to better its retail sales volume over the similar period of 1937. General sales Manager D. E. Ahrens announced today.

"Total delivery reports, now available for the first quarter," said Mr. Ahrens, "disclose 3,112 Cadillacs were sold. This is a 31-2 per cent increase above last year and the best showing of any make, regardless of price class."

Cadillac's gains this year have not been due to any one line. Rather, Mr. Ahrens declared, a strong combination of five lines of cars are responsible. Cadillacs blanket the quality field from $1,700 up. He continued:

"The immediate success of the sixty series stamp it as a popular advance in motor car design, but the sales achievement of this car is only partially accountable for our improvement."

"Orders for the new Cadillac Sixteen, for instance, are already six times as great as sales for all of the preceding model."

Sales increases have added further to Cadillac's percentage of the high priced car market. More than half of all cars retailed above the $2,000 mark during the first three months of the year were Cadillacs.

Revival of Religion
Is Imminent

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles given us by publication by Rev. Lowell F. Sodeman, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, Greenville, by way of preparation for a series of revival meetings in this church May 16-27.)

In the first of this series of articles under the above title we tried to show that there is definite cause for encouragement among Christians today in the return of a genuine revival of real religion—the religion of Jesus Christ. People are hungry for it, national and world background, favors it, and evidences are that it has had a good beginning.

We quote from the writings of Mr. Campbell, State Mission Secretary for Texas: "There is more talk about, more writing on, more praying for a revival than this generation has known. Coupled with these encouragements is the fact that there is more concert of action, more concentration, more compassion, more consecration of effort being put forth than we have seen before. Our State, Texas, had a state-wide simultaneous evangelistic movement last year, when more than 70,000 people were converted."

The following facts are presented to strengthen the statement that a revival is imminent: Within one week's time the following notices were received by Mr. Campbell:

"Sunday, February 24, twenty people united with the Cliff Temple Baptist Church, Dallas, at the regular services; thirteen joined the First Baptist Church, Dallas, and that in the absence of the pastor; fifteen joined the Forney Avenue Baptist Church, Dallas. That same day a two weeks' revival closed at Hillcrest Church in the same city, with 118 additions, 81 of whom were for baptism. The same Sunday found the Fourth Street Church, Big Spring, and the First Church, Atlanta, Texas, at the close of the first week of revival meeting. The first named church had 62 additions, 51 for baptism. The other had 70 additions during the first week. The Sunday before that a meeting in McAlester, Oklahoma, with 261 additions. During February there were 52 additions to the Park View Church, Houston, at the regular services." Such facts and figures testify strongly to the power of the Gospel.

RED OAK NEWS

Red Oak Club Tour.

The Red Oak Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the form of a tour.

The meeting was called to order in the club house for a brief business session by the vice-president, Mrs. H. H. May. After adjourning from this, the hostesses, Mesdames C. W. Bright, N. O. Hodges and W. S. May, served delicious cake and drinks.

We then started the tour, stopping first at the home of Mrs. Thurman Page. We found there innumerable improvements but noted most her side lawn and screening of the barnyard view.

Our next stop was at the Garrett home on the Greenville-Ayden highway. There we saw a spacious home graced with a lovely setting of natural scenery, as well as a beautiful and artistic plan of ornamental shrubs and flowers.

We next visited Sandy Knoll, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, the mother and father of our president, Mrs. B. L. Tyson. We found it very interesting to observe the accomplishments of Mrs. Jenkins and especially since they have been made in such a short length of time. We found many along outer lines as well as the part she is playing in "leaving her bit of the world more beautiful." Since we were making a home beautification tour, we noted most the improvement along those lines.

We found a number of shrubs well used and walks and drives well planned and bordered. Her screening was also worthy of mention. Behind her screening was a very attractive and convenient service area making it possible to carry on her work more easily and much more happily. The outdoor living room was very inviting, with its many blooming shrubs and flowers; also a new fish pool that had just been completed.

After leaving Sandy Knoll we came back to Mrs. Dal's on Greenville-Ayden highway. There we saw a very pretty lawn with an attractive outdoor living room to the side.

We planned to visit Mrs. H. H. May's home, but due to the delay in leaving we found it too late to finish the tour.

The variety of plans and improvements that we observed made the afternoon a very helpful and inspiring one to those who are planning to start or complete their home beautification plans.

POOR GRADE OF COWS SHIPPED

Farmers are Warned Against Mail Order Purchases

Raleigh, May 12.—For the second time in six months, L. I. Case, extension animal husbandman at State College, warned farmers today against mail order purchases of cattle from unknown mid-western dealers.

In several cases advertisements and postcard announcements from various individuals in the mid-west have quoted prices on white-faced stocker and feeder cattle at as low as 41-2 cents a pound.

Case recited one recent example of three farmers who were attracted by the low prices. The representative whom they sent finally purchased some cattle at $30 each. When the animals arrived in North Carolina and were weighed, it was found that the buyers had paid almost 12 cents a pound. Besides being poor in quality, the cattle were weak and emaciated.

About ten years ago, cattle racketeering hit somewhat of a record in several mid-western states. Cattle operators there advertised in papers throughout the south, offering animals at amazingly low prices.

In some cases where buyers went to see the cattle, they were shown good animals and shipped something inferior. After several years, the Department of Justice secured evidence enough to convict some of the operators of this racket.

If growers know of reliable dealers in the mid-west, they take practically no chance when ordering, but if the dealer is unknown, they run a great risk in making mail order purchases.

"My advice to prospective buyers is to wait until next fall when cattle will be cheaper," Case said. "Quite a large number of surplus steers as well as heifers are sold in our mountain counties at that time."

OCTAGON HOUSE

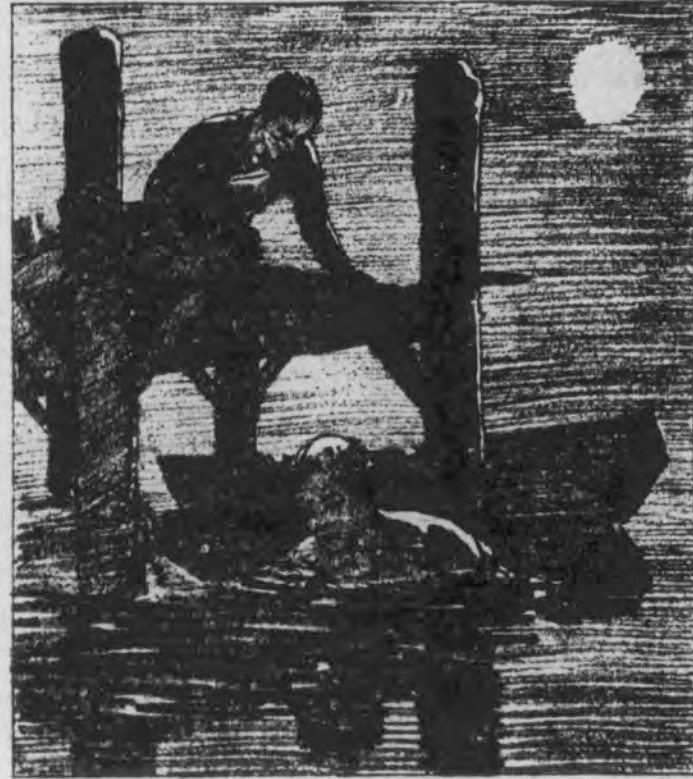

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Quammet is aroused when its citizens are caricatured in the post office mural. The next night the artist's wife, unscrupulous Marina Lorne, is murdered with her sister's knife. Pamela Frye appeals to Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, telling him she found $50,000 worth of ambergris which Marina tried to claim, and hid it after discovering Marina dead in the garage. Because Asey indicates that someone near them, smoking Turkish tobacco, is listening, Pam announces a false hiding-place for the ambergris. As soon as the mysterious listener creeps into the woods, police cars arrive.

Chapter Six

"YOU can't get up the path, now—Pam; will you take a duck-in? Till we see what they're—" "Asey!" It was Hanson, the police lieutenant, who yelled. "Up to," Asey finished swiftly. "Get in the water, keep under the wharf, out of sight. Can you?" "I'll try it. Take this," she passed over a slip of paper that he knew was the agreement Marina had written on the ambergris sharing. "Quick—"

"Get under the wharf—out of sight. Quick!"

She slid over the wharf and into the water as Hanson yelled again. "Asey! Asey Mayo! For heaven's sake, why can't he—Asey!"

"Hello!" Asey said, blinking as a flashlight hit him full in the face. "Tryin' to blind me, Hanson, or bust my ear drums?"

"Asey," Hanson said, "we've got some new business for you. Dull as ditchwater it's been since you've been gone, and now you're back. Things happen. It's a nice murder. Marina Lorne, she's the wife of that artist that did the Quammet mural, she's been stabbed out in her garage. One of old man Frye's daughters—lives in the Octagon House, you know? Well, it's the other daughter's knife, and they hated each other like poison, and Jack Lorne says it's the other daughter's been jealous of him and his wife, and Nettie Hobbs was over at Octagon House tonight, and she says this other daughter, Pam, was nervous as a witch, almost out of her mind. And—"

"In other words," Asey interrupted, "Pam Frye killed her sister Marina Lorne."

"Yeah. She beat it when Lorne accused her. It's a cinch. Nettie saw her go to the garage around nine, someone else saw her come out. It's all plain as daylight."

"Then why," Asey said, "tear over here to tell me about it, Hanson? Why—"

'Crack-Brained Outfit'

"BECAUSE," the stocky figure of Dr. Cummings, Asey's own doctor, the district medical examiner, loomed in the path, "because I made him, Asey, that's why! Because I made him. Listen to me. I'll stake my life that Marina Lorne was stabbed by a left handed person. Got that? Well, I know Pam Frye. She's right handed. And she busted her left arm last winter. And furthermore, I don't care if Nettie Hobbs saw Pam Frye kill her sister, I wouldn't believe it. Do you hear me?"

"Most everyone," Asey said said gently, "from here to Provincetown heard you, Doc."

"Damn it," Cummings stamped onto the wharf, "damn it, I don't care if I wake up the whole bloody town, I don't care if I wake up the whole bloody Cape! I'm mad, I'm so mad I can't talk. I'm so mad that words dry up within me. I'm speechless. I'm speechless with violent and uncontrollable rage!" For ten minutes Dr. Cummings proceeded to enlarge on the extent of his speechlessness and the violence and fury of his anger. Underneath the wharf, in water up to her armpits, Pam Frye writhed in silent laughter. Dr. Cummings' chronic attacks of speechlessness had intrigued her through messes, mumps, whooping cough, appendicitis, a broken arm, and a large variety of assorted stomach aches, contusions and abrasions.

"What you're drivin' at, Doc," Asey stemmed the apparently endless flow of words, "is that you don't think that Pam Frye killed her sister, an' Hanson thinks she did."

"In a nutshell, yes. It's a physical impossibility, Asey. At least it's impossible for Pam. I'll swear she couldn't have struck a left handed blow with that force. She has a strong right arm, and she's very right handed. And besides, it's a psychological impossibility. I know Pam Frye. I know she couldn't kill anyone. And God knows," Cummings added wrathfully, "if anyone ever presented two people with adequate motives for murder, Marina presented 'em to Pam and Aaron Frye! Asey, what I want you to do is come over to Quammet and convince this crackbrained, underhanded outfit which laughingly calls itself the police, that Pam Frye did not kill

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

State College, Pa.—Scientists who make interesting speeches deserve medals for courage.

Dr. Frank C.W. Whitmore, dean of the school of chemistry, Pennsylvania State college, was brave enough to mention synthetic chewing gum in a recent talk. This kind of gum never saw anything from chicle plants or any other kind of tree. It is made from courmarone, a resin that comes from benzene.

Dr. Whitmore's audience smiled when it heard about this new chew. He mentioned it as one example of hundreds of new organic chemicals. He named others, more prosaic. The gum was, so to speak, the spice of the program.

Newspapers reported the gum. They omitted the hundreds of other products. The omission was or lack of space. But Dr. Whitmore's friends in the scientific world did not stop to investigate why.

"They sat down and wrote gibes to Dr. Whitmore. They told him Coast."

about, when they met him. He was taken for a ride, the one kind of ride a scientist dreads most, the gidding of his colleagues.

Yet Dr. Whitmore still puts the interesting things in his speeches about chemistry.

SOMEBODY IS LYING

The following editorial from this morning's News and Observer regarding the present hearing in Pitt County Superior Court, needs no comment but a loud "Amen, Brother:"

"Whatever may be the truth or justice involved in the charges and countercharges being made in the hearing before Judge G. Vernon Cowper in Pitt Superior Court on ouster proceedings against Sheriff S. A. White-hurst, it is obvious that a good deal of lying is being done in the case on both sides. Men are swearing that other men have sworn to lies.
Of course not all of them have lied. But, equally certain, not all of them have told the truth. There is no other name for such lying than perjury. And there is no crime more dangerous to justice in North Carolina than such willful and deliberate perversions of the truth as persons on both sides of this controversy have imputed to persons on the other.

"Whatever may be the findings of fact in this controversy, it provides an excellent opportunity for striking at that perjury which too often in the courts deliberately undertakes to distort the truth and to mislead the judges and the juries who are seeking it. Not all the men who are charging each other with falsehood in this case can be telling the truth.
In general terms the court must decide who is lying. It should not only decide in this proceeding, it should make its decision specific by calling for the indictment of all those who have lied under oath in an effort to prevent the court from discovering the truth.

"No charges or countercharges made in this ouster proceeding are so serious as the charge of perjury which obviously lies properly against some of those who are telling different facts in this case. Their crime is destructive not only of the truth in this hearing but also of the general respect for truth which must prevail in all our courts unless falsehood is to prevail and justice be denied.

"A good stiff jail sentence for a false witness in this case would be a valuable example in North Carolina today. The lie is the most serious sin of which man is capable. It is blasphemy against all faith and the deliberate murder of the truth upon which the safety of society depends. There is altogether too much lying in our courts by men sworn to tell the truth. It is time that it be severely dealt with and this case provides an excellent opportunity."

SHORT SHOTS
By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, May 12—Those who are confident that the Drys are going to control both branches of the 1939 General Assembly had better get out paper and pencil, take a set of Senatorial candidates and do a bit of checking up. After that, they won't be so confident.

In point is cited the case of former State Senator S. Gumer Sparger. A day or so ago, Mr. Sparger, Tom Bost the Greensboro News' veteran news hawk and your correspondent chatted for a brief spell in the Sir Walter lobby.
The subject turned, as happens in many conversations these days to wet-dry battle in North Carolina. Mr. Sparger saw the outlook, even in the Senate, as very somber indeed for the advocates of the present county option system of AB
C stores.

Your correspondent made the off-hand statement that the ABC boys would have a minimum of 20 absolutely safe Senators, with much better than an even chance to pick up from six to eight others—certainly enough to block a state referendum. Senator Sparger disagreed and dared the correspondent to prove it.

And so we got out the list, wenover it district by district and arrived at the conclusion that not less than 22 Senators are certain to be wet, while there is at least an even chance in the case of four others—which would make 26 without counting those who can be won over by trading and log rolling.

Here's how it figures out: Certain wets are J. J. Hughes and W.
I. Halstead, First; W. N. Rodman and D. B. Pearing, Second; C. W.
Spruill, Third; W. G. Clark and either Dr. T. W. M. Long or Julian Allsbrook, Fourth; Whoever comes from the Fifth, A. B. Corey or J. C. Lanier; W. L. Lumpkin and J. C. Eagles, Sixth; any two of the three candidates from the Seventh; both Senators from the Eighth; Harris, Ninth; Bunni Frink
Tenth; L. Y. Ballentine, Thirteenth;
the winner in Durham; J. W. Um-stead, Sixteenth; T. J. Gold, Seventeenth; eighth Kelly Bennett or R.
B. Morphew, Thirty-third; R. H.
Gibbs, Fourteenth.

The wets have an even chance in Columbus, Harnett, Moore and Mecklenburg, where Senators are chosen this year.

A Raleigh Times newsboy thought up a good line to yell as ballyhoo for his sales the day the Brazilians upped and started a nice little civil war.

"Read all about the big revolution—and it ain't Spanish," he kept shouting.

Those folks who wonder who no arrests have been announced as a result of the expose of big liquor purchases by individuals in dry counties just don't know their rules of evidence.

The mere fact that "Robert Taylor of Charlotte," (even if the police could find him outside the Tarboro Serpents Win From Greenville Greenies, 2-1

LOCALS HELD TO THREE HITS

Delaney Hurls Well But Loses First Tilt in Four Starts

Monk Joyner's Greenies yesterday afternoon, lost their fourth straight game when Snake Henry's Serpents took a 2-1 decision in one of the shortest games of the season. The contest, played in Tarboro, lasted only one hour and 36 minutes. Sieminski, Tarboro hurler, allowed the Greenies only three hits, two of which were made by Swamp Norwood. The local's single tally came in the sixth when Thompson, who had walked, came in when Norwood's single got away from Campbell in centerfield.

It was three men up and three men down for six of the nine innings for Greenville yesterday. Tarboro scored one run each in the fifth and sixth. The first tally was scored when Dick, who had walked, came in on Myers' triple. It was the first hit of the game and broke up one of the prettiest hurler's duels of the season.

In the sixth the Serpents scored the winning run when Campbell singled, Davis beat out a bunt, and Maynard reached first when Delaney fell trying to field his bunt, and Manager Henry fled out, Campbell coming home on the throw.

Following the two crucial series with New Bern and Tarboro, the Greenies face Goldsboro today and tomorrow. The Bugs and Snakes are tied for the league lead, with Greenville in fourth place, one game behind New Bern.

Flora Fans Ten Men To Win From Eagles

Goldsboro, May 12.—Lefty Flora had his strike-out ball working yesterday as ten Kinston batsmen went out via the whiff route. The Goldsboro southpaw allowed only six hits.

The Bugs were able to garner only six hits off Henry Muhlenbein, another southpaw, but they made half of their figure in the scoring.

Chet Jans' triple and Alexander's single scored one in the Bugs' first frame.

The other Goldsboro tallies were made in the sixth. Two walks and Balla's single scored one run, and the other came in on a balk.

The Eagles tallied a singleton in the seventh, and their other run was made when Claude Wright hit for the circuit in the ninth.

E.C.T.C. Pirates Meet Naval Base on Friday

Coach Boley Farley's E. C. T. C. baseball team's final series opens with the U. S. Naval Base of Norfolk as opponents Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The E. C. T. C. Pirates boast one of the finest records of any college baseball team in the state and are out to keep their state intact. The Teachers have won sixteen games in eighteen starts and feature one of the best balanced teams in the state. Ed Wells is definitely one of the line-up with a severe ankle injury which has kept him from mound duty for the past three weeks. Either Kelly Martin or Bill Holland will open against the Naval Base bats, in tomorrow's game. Bill Holland, is leading the team in batting as well as contributing an undefeated season's record on the mound. Galloping Bill Shelton has gotten back to form and will make the infield intact, after an absence of three weeks with an infected hand. Shelton is a fine fielder and adds much defensive strength with the bat. Earl Smith is holding second honors in batting and is playing a fine game at third base.

Martins Flying High; Beat Ace Two in Row

Ayden, May 12.—Williamson's Martins flew out of the cellar yesterday. The Williamson nine made 22 hits in routing Ayden's Aces, 16-3 to sweep a two-game series.

Dutch Stanley with two doubles and two singles paced the winners; Eddie Ignasiak hit three doubles and a single; Bill Rhinehart hit a double and two singles. Also included in the Martins' collection of hits yesterday were two home runs—by Villepique with one on the fourth; by Marshall, with the sacks deserted in the sixth.

Jack Gasaway and Bill Herring, both with a pair of hits for four tries, were the only Aces who could do much against the flinging of Stroud Fields. Gasaway homered in the eighth.

Fields held the Aces to a half-dozen hits but issued six walks. He fanned seven.

Pirates To Lose Only Two Men

Big Jim Johnson and Francis Perbee, outfielders, are the only men to graduate from this year's successful East Carolina Teachers College Baseball team that boasts sixteen victories in eighteen starts. Both lads are very versatile and take part in two or more sports. Perbee has lettered in football, basketball and basketball and has taken an active part in all campus activities. He hails from New Bern. Jimmie Johnson has lettered in four sports and is recognized as one of the best athletes in this section. He has lettered in football, basketball, baseball and boxing. Both lads plan to enter the teaching profession as coaches.

GHS TIED FOR CELLAR PLACE

Highs Defeated 6 to 5 By Wilmington Yesterday

By WALTER TUCKER
The Greenville High team dropped into a tie for the class A cellar when they helped the Wilmington Wildcats defeat their selves 6-5 here yesterday. It was the Phantoms' last game of the season.

The game was listless and both teams showed up bad. Greenville made seven errors and figured in the scoring of five Wilmington's six runs. Greenville earned all of their runs. Wayland Tucker, Greenville hurler, allowed eight hits, struck out one man, and walked three. Chesshire was rather enatie, though effective in every inning except the eighth. He was touched for seven hits, walked ten men, and struck out eight.

Greenville gave the Wildcats two runs in the first. Edwards hit through short. McKeithan and Chesshire grounded out. Davis was on by an error. Edwards stole third. Edwards stole third. Woodcock stole home and Davis stole third. Davis stole home a bit later. Smith fled out to right field.

The Greenies scored one in the home half of the first on a walk, two stolen bases by McGowan and singles by Taylor and Futrell.

Wilmington scored three runs in the fourth on three errors, two stolen bases, and two singles. They tallied their final and winning run in the eighth on a walk, three stolen bases, and two singles.

The Phantoms seriously threatened to tie up the game in the last half of the eighth frame. Taylor grounded out, Futrell singled through third and stole second. Williams walked. Both men stole a base. Nobles was walked. Parrish singled to drive in two runs. Gaylord grounded out. Tucker singled to center field, scoring Nobles and Parrish. Tucker then stole both second and third bases. With two out and Tucker on third with the tying run, Chesshire fanned Babcock.

Smith, batting two for three and scoring two runs, led Wilmington. Bill Taylor and Charles Futrell, each with two for four, led the Phantoms.

Base runners had a field day yesterday. Wilmington stole ten bases, stealing home twice, and the Greenies swiped fourteen. Parrish and Tucker of Greenville and Edwards of Wilmington each stole three bases a piece.

Snow Hill Licks Bears Gettel Again the Hero

New Bern, May 12.—Snow Hill's Billies had to use a trio of pitchers in taming New Bern's Bears yesterday, but the trio performed the trick. Snow Hill won, 7-4.

Last of Snow Hill's hurlers called into action was Allan Gettel, the club's ace. Clacelle walked Royal and Thornton with one away in the ninth, and then Gettel came in the rescue—he fanned Hauta, Vick fled out.

Doc Mathis hit for the circuit in Snow Hill's first frame, and Phil Morris duplicated in the Bears' half. The clubs ended five innings in a 2-2 deadlock.

Harbin's single and safe bunts by Mathis and Oadd filled the bases in the sixth, and Joe Bistoff emptied them with a triple. That blow won the game.

Ambroski, Snow Hill's starting pitcher, was pulled in the seventh after he had walked Knowles and Rudisill with one away. Clacelle walked Royal. Pinch-hitter Doc Smith popped out, and then the Bears put on a triple steal—it worked, with Knowles scoring. Hauta grounded out.

HEY, MIKE, WE AIN'T PLAYING BASEBALL YOU KNOW!

THE "HAND MASHIE" (a "shot" made by picking up the golf ball and tossing it toward the hole) is not mentioned in old histories of golf. But some oldtime players of doubtful character used their feet to send the ball from the rough.

Before you pay above $1000 for a motor car—LOOK AT LaSalle!

BROWN-WOOD
635 DICKINSON AVENUE
GREENVILLE, N. C.

MOST PEOPLE WILL AGREE that the motorist who pays the price of a LaSalle ought to get a LaSalle.

Yet, many do not. They make an expenditure which entitles them to Cadillac quality, Cadillac safety and Cadillac prestige—but fail to secure them.

This is undoubtedly due to a misunderstanding as to the cost of a new LaSalle.

Because LaSalle's reputation is so fine, they think the price must be high.

However, this is not the case. There are actually eleven motor car manufacturers who have models costing more than a new LaSalle V-8.

Before you invest—investigate. If you expect to spend above $1,000 for your next car—come in and look at LaSalle.

Washington—This may be a bit tough going but it is full of juristic vitamins that your lawyer friends will be discussing months and years hence.

The Supreme Court has just upset a 96-year old rule of law and held that federal courts, in deciding cases involving "unwritten" or common law, must abide by the common law as it is interpreted in the state where the case arises. This is the importance of state courts accentuated by no less an authority than the Supreme Court.

Harry J. Thompkins of Hughes-town, Pa., passed the suit that resulted in the historic decision. He was walking on a path along the Erie railroad tracks when a train passed. An open door hit him. The railroad contended that according to Pennsylvania common law a man walking "alone" a railroad track is little better than a trespasser even if the path is an old one (Walking "across" might be different). The railroad contended that Pennsylvania common law prevented Thompkins recovering damages unless the railroad wantonly injured him.

But Thompkins did not sue in state court. He was able to sue in federal court because the railroad was incorporated in New York, not in Pennsylvania, where the accident occurred.

The New Rule

The first federal court declined to accept the Pennsylvania state court precedent and held instead that no law or precedent stood in the way of Thompkins collecting the $30,000 the jury awarded. The Supreme Court reversed that decision and held the Pennsylvania state court precedent should guide the federal court.

Federal courts always have held that they must abide by state court interpretations of "written" state law, but ever since a decision in 1842 they have followed their own interpretations of what should be the common law. The Thompkins case represented a complete change of attitude.

Several years ago the Brown and Yellow Taxicab Company had a contract with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad for the exclusive privilege of handling passengers at Bowling Green, Ky., railroad station. While there was no specific Kentucky statute prohibiting this, the state courts had held that as a matter of "general or common law" such exclusively contracts violated a section of the state constitution against monopoly.

The Old Rule

In game Black and White Taxicab Company and began cutting in on the Brown and Yellow cab business at the station.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—I was standing in front of the Graybar building, biting my lip and wondering what I would write about today, when an advertising executive of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. came by.

It was Harry North, a former editor of Black Mask, a magazine devoted to horror stories. His current hobbies include raising monkeys at Westport, Conn., and collecting old lamps. It is Harry's theory that most monkeys die in North America because people kill them with kindness. They keep them in hot houses in the belief that they are duplicating the African climate. This, Harry feels, is unwise. His method is to immunize the monkeys to cold, so that when winter comes they can go out into zero weather, if they want to, with perfect safety.

It seems, however, that the rearing of simians has its complexities. Twice Harry has been compeled to perform Caesarian operations. But there is one feat he can point to that has not been duplicated by anybody. He is the only man in this country, so I am informed, who has successfully raised three generations of monkeys on a northern farm.

As for his lamps, there is an old barn and a house on his place at Westport which are filled with curious, ancient old lanterns and lamps. They represent, when you get down to it, the whole history of lighting. Some men collect stamps, some old neckties, others who like to collect old lamps, too.

Expatriates returning from the slum of the Coliseum report that Count Rossi, the Italian beverage and speedboat king, is building two 12-hira whizets for a series of four gold cup races—one to be held at Venice, another in Germany, the third at Detroit, and the last, the President's race, at Washington, D. C.

The slim, convivial Italian was over here last summer with a couple of fast craft which he named for two mountains in captured Ethiopia. I talked with him briefly and he was enthusiastic about racing in America. It is his opinion that horseracing, football and baseball combined are not half so interesting as a roaring motorboat skimming a lake surface at, say 60 miles an hour.

Vastly interested in these go. cup races is Mrs. John M. L. Rutherford, of Sands Point and Miami, who is unquestionably the best woman driver in America. Her husband, Jack Rutherford, has a surprise: suicide boat, (e pedo, and the idea was to drive the launch, loaded with explosives, into the side of enemy warships. Rutherford picked his up for $1,500. When you consider that 12-litre racing boats cost between $20,000 and $30,000, you begin to appreciate that broad, satisfied smile on Rutherford's face.
