

AUDITOR ENDS TESTIMONY IN OUSTER TRIAL

Witness Had Spent Nearly Two Days On Stand

CASE ATTRACTS LITTLE INTEREST

Of Ten Spectators In Court Room This Morning, Several Asleep At Times

Proceedings in the Sheriff Whitehurst ouster petition hearing continued to drag slowly here today with interest in the case apparently considerably on the wane, as evidenced by the dwindling number of spectators in the court room.

Throughout yesterday the spectators numbered 25 to 30 and at one time this morning the number dwindled to 10 a part of whom dozed peacefully in their seats as the hearing progressed.

The testimony of L. R. Ausbon, one of the accountants who aided in the audit of the jail fees book, was completed this morning after he had been on the stand for two days. His testimony dealt with items of boarding prisoners in the jail on which it is alleged the sheriff overcharged the county. The total alleged overcharge amounted to $254.05 and on cross examination Ausbon admitted that there were some errors in the audit which would reduce the total amount. He also admitted that the audit did not include any of the items which defense counsel contended would show that on certain prisoners the sheriff made undercharges instead of overcharges.

Upon completion of Ausbon's cross examination this morning Frank P. Wall, of the firm of Williams and Wall, by whom Ausbon is employed, took the stand. His testimony dealt with the jail fee audit and other audits of the sheriff's office made by his firm. He stated that the audits include jail fees, uncollected costs and fines, and the sale of automobiles ordered by the court to be confiscated and sold, and for which the county treasurer has not received remittances. Before the witness was permitted to submit his evidence on these audits Judge Abdon Dunn of defense counsel made objection to the admission of evidence of the section relating to uncollected costs and fines on the ground that the sheriff was not responsible for this duty until and unless the prisoners had been placed in his custody and proper bills of cost and execution had been issued by clerk of the court to the sheriff. He contended that there was no evidence that such action had been taken regarding the items in the audit and therefore the sheriff was not responsible. His contention was supported by opinions obtained by him from the Attorney General's office. The objection was overruled by Judge Dunn. Judge Dunn presiding, and the defense rested its case.

Immediately following resumption of the hearing after the recess Judge Dunn entered objection to submission of any of the audits as evidence in the hearing on the ground that the hearing was for the purpose of removing the sheriff from office at this time and the audits covered a period ending September 30, 1936 which was prior to the sheriff's beginning his present term of office, and had no bearing upon whether or not the sheriff had failed in the duties of his

LANDON FLAYS 'INTOLERANCE'

Delivers Address Before Inland Daily Press Asso.

Chicago, May 17.—(AP)—All Landon, Republican Presidential candidate in 1936, asserted in a prepared speech today that "none of us of this generation has seen a group so intolerant of the views and beliefs of others as are the so-called New Deal liberals."

"Only a few weeks ago," he told the Inland Daily Press Association, "Senator Minton (D. Ind.) introduced a measure which is a direct threat to the press. Mr. Minton, it seems, would set up a censorship of newspapers and other publications. A great many people are apt to be misled by the apparent fairness of the proposal. The Senator has pointed his bill at those who knowingly publish as facts anything which they know to be false. It would, nevertheless, provide censorship."

"A press operating under such a law would cease to be free. Certainly it could not fairly give both sides of the question if one side happened to represent the views of the Federal government or government officials."

"I can not believe," he averred, "that Congress will even take the Minton bill seriously. The dangerous thing about the measure is that it reflects an attitude now prevalent. Apparently it reflects the new deal attitude today the press of the country and I am afraid it may reflect the President's have, no doubt, encouraged Senator Minton and others."

High School Student Falls From Building

Paul Scott, Greenville high school student, who fell while climbing the wall of the building yesterday afternoon, escaped any serious injury, hospital attaches declared today.

Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Scott, had climbed the wall of the building to the third story and was on his way down when his foot slipped and he fell about the second story. He was rushed to the hospital although he did not appear to be critically injured. X-ray pictures taken today, disclosed the 15-year-old boy suffered no fractures.

He fell shortly after five o'clock, after the principal and teachers had left the building.

N. C. ABC Board Without Power In 'Dry' Counties

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, May 17.—Cutler Moore, chairman of the state liquor board, is no doubt breathing a bit more freely since Attorney General Harry McMillan ruled that there is no legal authority for the state board to try law enforcement officers in such of North Carolina's counties as have not voted for ABC stores and are, therefore, dry, in theory at least.

He is probably quite relieved about the whole thing, for if the A. G.'s ruling had been otherwise, Mr. Moore and his colleagues would have had all the headaches that attend efforts to enforce any sort of liquor control and not only that, but they would have had to do more than a little head scratching to find the necessary wherewithal to finance any enforcement efforts they might make. There isn't the scratch of a pen in the ABC act, or any other providing funds for law enforcement activities by the state board

TRIO HELD FOR KILLING GUARD ESCAPE IN S. C.

Three of Six Who Murdered Guard Flee County Jail

N. C. PATROLMEN JOIN IN SEARCH

Prisoners Open Door to Cell With Key Made from Spoon and Toothpaste Tube

Columbia, S. C., May 17.—(AP)—Three of the six prisoners under death sentence for the fatal shooting of Olin Sanders, penitentiary guard captain, on December 12, escaped from the Richland county jail early today.

The escaped prisoners were: Geo. Wingard, 22, of Columbia; Herbert Moorman, 41, of Detroit; and C. Cranss, 28, of Rochester, N. Y. The other three prisoners are incarcerated at the penitentiary.

Richland county Jailor H. W. Desportes said "as near as I can figure" the escape occurred about 4:15 a. m.

He explained the location of their cells and their escape as follows: The men were in the second story tier of cells and to escape they broke the locks of their individual cells and a heavy chain that reinforced the cell block forced their way through a second block door that led into the block and bent the heavy metal bars that guarded a window.

To get through the second door the men fashioned a key from a spoon wrapped with heavy thread and strips of zinc from a toothpaste tube. The "key" was found in the opened door.

The jailor said the break was the first in 20 years. Asked how it could have happened, he explained that the plumbing fixtures were constantly turned on throughout the night and the running water apparently used to muffle any noise.

Sheriff Alex Hulse said "I believe we will catch them in a short time."

Raleigh, May 17.—(AP)—North Carolina Highway Patrolmen were ordered by radio this morning to be on the lookout for three desperate prisoners who escaped Richland county jail, South Carolina, during the night.

Capt. Charles Farmer of the patrol said his office was advised it was now thought the men, all of whom faced death for the slaying of a prison official, had headed north, either on a freight train or in an automobile bearing New York licenses.

More Liquor Sent Into Dry Counties

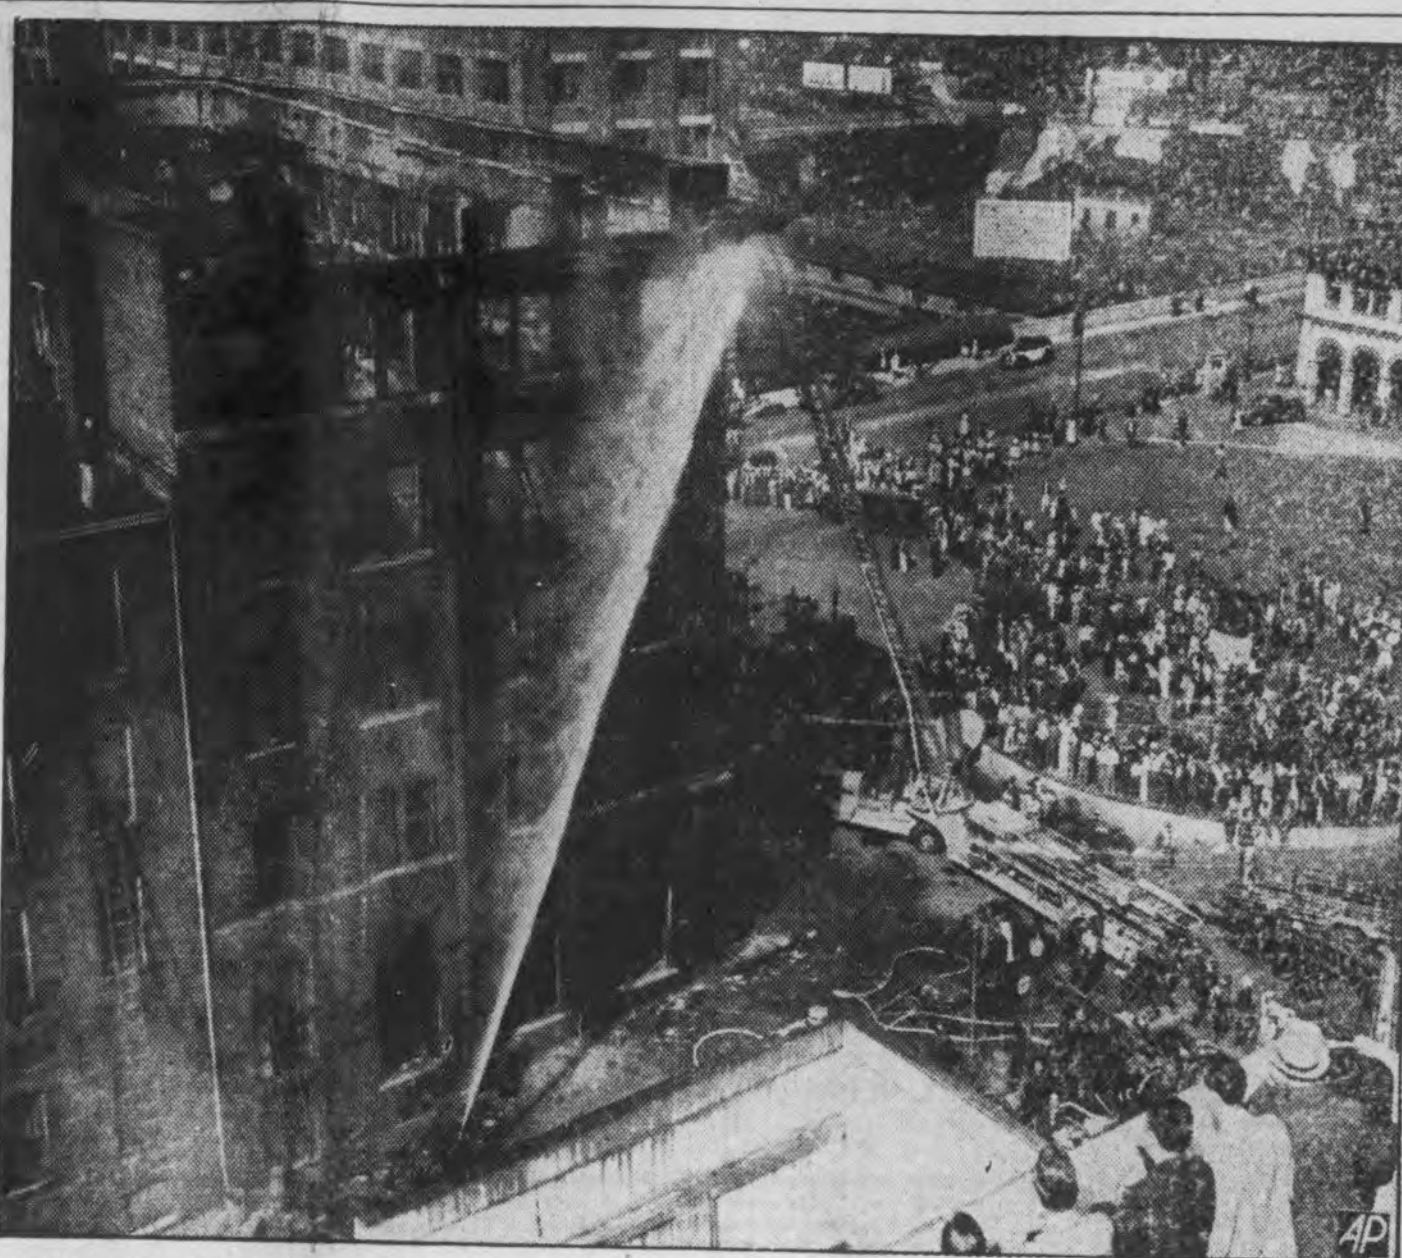

Raleigh, May 17.—(AP)—Chairman Cutler Moore of the State Liquor Board, released a report today showing that one Maryland liquor concern shipped 8,260 cases of whiskey into dry North Carolina counties during April, after sending more than 6,000 cases into the areas in March.

The figures were supplied by William McMechen, investigator of the Federal Alcohol Administration.

Yesterday the attorney general ruled the State Board had no authority to enforce prohibition laws in dry counties. Moore said he had turned over names and addresses given for the purchases of the whiskey to law enforcement officers of the several counties, with the request that they do what they can.

The Tower of Babel, according to Herodotus, was 610 feet high.

BRITISH NAVAL ADVISOR QUILTS

Shake-up in Plane-Making Machinery is Extended

London — May 17. (AP)—The shake-up of Britain's war plane-making machine widened today with the resignation of Lord Weir, unofficial advisor to the government on aircraft expansion since 1935.

Lord Weir announced he was following the action of Viscount Selkirk, who resigned yesterday as air secretary, but declined further statement.

As ex-officio member of the Air Council, Lord Weir had worked in close collaboration with Viscount Swinton, who was president of the Council.

He was managing director of an engineering firm and director of a chemical industry and international nickel company of Canada and of two banks.

The coupled resignations seemed to foreshadow stringent steps to ward co-ordination of supplies and production, aimed at a goal of 3,500 first line planes by 1940.

Up to now critics of the air program have leveled much of their fire at alleged lack of co-ordination of "shadow factory" production. These factories are additions to existing plants, built at government expense to make various plane parts.

At the same time, the Union of Engineering and Ship Building Workers arranged to meet with employers May 25 to talk of ways of meeting labor demands for an arms speed-up.

Bids Are Received By Highway Body

Raleigh, May 17.—(AP)—Nella L. Tear of Durham and Kiker and Youngs of Reidsville bid low at $215,356.55 today for roadway work and structures on the new 16.28 miles stretch of highway from just north of Concord to near Charlotte.

The Highway and Public Works Commission opened bids on thirteen projects estimated to cost around $1,030,000. Tomorrow commission members will canvass the bids and, if low proposals are approved, will send them to Washington for federal okay.

Projects, locations and descriptions and low bidders included:

1011—Beaufort county, grading and structures on 13.58 miles of route 99 from route 264 to 5.3 miles east of route 97; roadway, F. J. McGuire, Washington, $51,290.60; structures, O. L. Shackelford, Kingston, $14,660.24.

1477—Hertford county, overhead crossing just south of Ahoskie, roadway, Coastal Construction Co., Florence, S. C., $27,491.40; structures, W. L. Cobb Construction Co., Decatur, Ga., $15,614.50.

LONDON SUBWAY CRASH KILLS SEVEN PERSONS

London, May 17.—(AP)—At least seven persons were killed and scores were injured today in a rear-end crash between two crowded subway trains and a wild panic in the underground tunnel under Victoria embankment.

The wreck was the worst in the history of London subway.

Some of the victims were trapped for hours in the wreckage after an east-bound train smashed into the rear of another between the Busy Temple and Charing Cross station.

Forty firemen and policemen worked two and a half hours to extricate four passengers from the big red first and third class coaches.

Passengers told of the jarring impact of the crash followed by blinding showers of sparks in the pitch black tunnel.

Screaming women and blood-spattered victims jostled in the darkness in a mad fight to escape through the splintered windows.

Charing Cross station, in the heart of London, was turned into an emergency hospital.

The noted Norman Birkett, who was the then Wallace Warfield Simpson's divorce lawyer, struggled out of one coach.

Minister Relates Need For Revival

"Lack of interest in a revival is not a mark of culture but a mark of irreligion," said Rev. J. Lester Lane in a forceful message last night, the first of a series of messages this Baptist pastor from Greer, S. C., will preach during the revival services at Memorial Baptist Church.

Speaking on the subject, "Why We Need a Revival," Rev. Mr. Lane pointed out first that many Christians need a revival. We have lost the radiance, the rapture, the blessedness of our experience of joy in finding Christ, he said. The Christian needs to climb to a spiritual altitude in which he may recover this radiance and rapture, and lose the annoying, destructive elements that have come in.

In the second place our churches need a revival, said the speaker. The pitiable plight of the church was mentioned, namely that it is ignored by many. "I would rather have a man criticize me, fight me, or do anything other than to ignore me," he said. It was said of the early church, these first Christians, "Who are these that turn the world upside down?" The church today needs to recover this power.

The only possible way to recovery is through obedience to and acceptance of the Word of God. The church today is better equipped than it ever has been, it has better trained leaders and preachers, it has a more cultured membership, it has the men of business influence and wealth in its membership. Why then should it be powerless and ignored?

In the last place, a revival is needed, said Rev. Mr. Lane, because of the joy of winning the lost to Christ. "The greatest here-and-now Christian joy today," he said, "is their belief that men without Christ are lost. The greatest joy of Christian experience is found in soul-winning. No one has truly touched the great deep of Christian living who has won a soul to Christ."

A large attendance was reported for this first service. Tonight's message by Rev. Lane will be "The Marks of a Disciple."

The town of St. Pierre, Martinique island, was completely destroyed by volcanic eruption in 1902.

Court Is Held In Grand Jury Room

Judge Dink James today conducted County court in the grand jury room, the regular court room being occupied with the ouster hearing brought against the sheriff by the county commissioners.

Clara Bell Staton, Negro, was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon upon Ollie Gibbs, also a Negro, and was given a six months sentence, suspended upon condition she pay a $30 hospital bill, $50 for the use of Ollie Gibbs for personal injuries and pay the costs of court. Unable to pay the sums, she was sent to the County home to work during her term.

Clyde Ellison, Negro, was acquitted of a charge of liquor for sale.

Jesse Daniels, Negro, pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor for sale and was given a 6 months sentence, suspended upon good behavior. The defendant was ordered to appear in the court every first Tuesday and show by two reputable witnesses that he has observed the terms of the judgment.

Jesse Wilkes, Negro, pleaded guilty to larceny and was given a 90-day road sentence.

Clyde Ellison, Negro, was acquitted of a charge of larceny.

Will Seek Labor Plank In Democratic Platform

Reflector Bureau

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, May 17.—Labor, through the state organization of the American Federation of Labor, is going to ask insertion of a plank in the state Democratic convention—though just what that plank will demand is the secret of C. A. Fink of Salisbury, president of the State Federation.

Decision to ask for a Labor plank was reached after consultation and conference between federation officials and friendly advisers in official circles. From this it can safely be inferred that the plank to be offered will not be extreme or radical, but will be more of a "middle of the road" affair.

At the last session of the General Assembly, labor sought ratification of the Child Labor amendment; a shorter work week for all employees, and in particular for women; and a statute with teeth raising the child labor age in the state.

The amendment was turned down

NINE ON BOARD MISSING PLANE

Mercy Ships Sent In Search Of Giant Transport

Los Angeles, May 17.—(AP)—James Neelan, heading a search for a Lockheed plane missing with nine persons aboard, reported to the sheriff's office here today two of his men had sighted the big transport south of Palmdale, in the Rock Creek area. Neelan said the men merely reported they had seen the plane. He did not know whether it was wrecked.

Los Angeles — May 17.—(AP)—Mercy planes mobilized in a giant aerial search today for a new $80,000 Lockheed transport, feared crashed with nine persons on a fog-shrouded peak of the Sierra Madre range near Los Angeles.

The transport, flying to St. Paul for delivery to Northwest Airlines, took off from Union Air terminal at 1:40 p. m. (4:30 p. m. EST) and was last heard from a few minutes later above rugged Mint Canyon.

Among those aboard were Fred Whittemore, St. Paul, Northwest Airlines vice president and copilot.

Henry Salisbury, St. Paul, Northwest Airlines official, his wife and two children.

Nearly two dozen planes were mobilized by the sheriff's aero squadron and commercial airlines promised additional aid for an intensive hunt.

Weather reports of ceilings as low as 2,000 feet in the mountain area minimized hopes for early discovery of the missing ship.

Sheriff's captain Claude Morgan, president Robert Gross of Lockheed and Joseph Marriott, Bureau of Air Commerce inspector, organized the search.

Membership in the British Order of Merit is limited to 24 persons.

WOULD PERMIT STATES HANDLE RELIEF FUNDS

Proposal Offered In Senate by Vandenberg

FEDERAL GRANTS WOULD BE MADE

Author Says Measure Would take Government Out of Relief Business

Washington, May 17.—

(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), proposed legislation today to return administration of all relief activities to the states under a system of federal grants-in-aid.

The Michigan Senator introduced his program as a substitute for a section of the administration's spending-lending bill which deals with direct appropriations for work relief.

He said he would propose also that Congress strike all "pump priming" from the bill.

The result of his proposal, Vandenberg said, "would be to take the federal government out of the relief business except on the basis of grants-in-aid" and restore "home rule responsibility."

Under Vandenberg's substitute a "non partisan" federal board would allocate federal funds to state boards for expenditures under individual systems chosen by the states.

The states would be required to match federal funds by at least 25 per cent.

Instead of appropriating $1,250,000,000 for seven months operation of WPA, Vandenberg would provide $2,160,000,000 for allocation to the states over the entire fiscal year beginning July 1.

Tobacco Poundage Statement Issued

J. Con Lanier, former tobacco expert with the AAA, today made the following explanatory statement regarding poundage quotas for tobacco farmers:

"Yesterday in Washington I conferred with Mr. J. B. Hutson and other officials of the Department of Agriculture in reference to poundage allotments for individual farmers. The Tobacco Compulsory Control law requires that each farm be given an allotment of tobacco in terms of pounds. I was assured by Mr. Hutson that the law would be followed, and that the allotments will be made prior to the selling season."

"It was stated that these poundage allotments will be made by a new committee, composed of three farmers within a county. Under the law this committee will be elected by the tobacco growers of the county."

"In addition, a review committee will be appointed by the secretary of agriculture to hear complaints and to make adjustments. This review committee will be composed of three growers from an adjoining county."

"In this way, growers who are dissatisfied with their poundage allotments will have an opportunity to present their case before an impartial committee from another county."

"The acreage allotments" which have been made up to this time, are a part of the Voluntary Soil Conservation Program, and were not made under any provisions of the Compulsory Control Law. I am convinced that the application of the provisions of the Compulsory Law relating to pounds will be generally satisfactory to the growers who voted so overwhelmingly for it."

Alleged Murderer Arrested In State

Lumberton, May 17.—(AP)—Hural Policeman D. M. Barker said today a man he picked up here for investigation told him he was wanted in Pittsburgh, Pa., for the slaying of George O'Brien there about five years ago. The man gave his name as Arthur Harris, 27, of Montgomery county, N. C., and his occupation as a sawmill worker, Barker said.

The officer quoted his prisoner as saying also he participated with Bill Payne and others in the robbery of the bank at Candler last year. Payne and Wash Turner are now in State prison in Raleigh, under death sentence for the killing of a highway patrolman.

Barker said Harris told him he killed O'Brien when the latter reached for a pistol after they had quarreled over some whiskey.

Harris said, Barker related, that a $500 reward was outstanding for the arrest of O'Brien's slayer.

Though the play is not a musical the high school band will play several selections preceding and following the performance and between acts.

The "Tom Thumb Wedding" which was presented at Red Oak last Thursday night, was an overwhelming success from the beginning to the end.

John Kirby Allen related the story of Tom Thumb, after which all the guests began to arrive. The King and Queen were the first to arrive with their ten attendants.

After they were seated upon a throne the attendants formed into a rose drill and ended with a song, "The Cutest Kids in Town." They were dressed in pink and white crepe paper dresses, trimmed with real roses.

The guests who were greeted with the most Oh's and Ah's upon their arrival were Shirley Temple, the Dionne Quintuplets, Little Miss America, Snow White and Rose-red, two little fairies, a little ice maiden, Sunbonnet Sally, Little Bo-Peep and Little Boy Blue, Jack and Jill.

The guests who were greeted with a great deal of enthusiasm were President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor and Mrs. Hoey, and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The guests who were greeted with screams of laughter were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Tripp, Mr. Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tyson, Mr. Ben Jolly and Mrs. Lizzie Vandford, and Old Black Joe.

Tom Thumb's mother and father were the next to arrive. The mother was lovely in a blue taffeta evening gown with a shoulderette of pink sweetpeas. Tom Thumb's brother and sister were the next to arrive.

Little Miss Mimi Tripp sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and Master Jarvis Tripp, who was so tiny that one could hardly see him, sang in a wee little voice "Rainbow On De Ribbon," and John Kirby Allen sang "The One Rose."

When Old Black Joe entered, Louis Dupree played very sweetly, "Old Black Joe" on his violin.

Franklin Tally as the preacher, couldn't be beaten. There were six tiny flower girls who were just as sweet as they could be. Vivian Allen, as the maid of honor, was lovely in a blue taffeta evening gown with a corsage of pink sweetpeas.

Charlie Buck, who was all dressed up in a white suit, carried the ring on a blue satin pillow.

The six bridesmaids were gowned in long evening dresses and carried arm bouquets of larkspur, roses and daisies tied with blue ribbons. The groomsmen wore full dress suits.

The bride, Jean Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jones, was just too cute for words. She wore a little long white taffeta wedding gown and carried an arm bouquet of tiny white roses and fern, tied with white ribbon. She entered on the arm of her father, who was dressed in full evening clothes.

Little Tom Thumb has never been impersonated any better than he was at this wedding. Little Amos Ray Evans, who isn't much bigger than a good-sized thumb, was the groom. He had on a full dress suit and entered with his best man, Julius Robert Valnright.

When the groom was told to answer "I will" in the ceremony he clasped his hands together two or three times, and turned around and laughed at the audience.

It was the most enjoyable affair ever given at the church. People from Snow Hill, Seven Springs, Stokes, Arthur, Winterville, and many from Greenville were present. Numbers of people left because there wasn't standing room anywhere. We have had numbers of requests to repeat it and so next Wednesday night, Little Tom Thumb and Little Jennie June will be married again at Red Oak Church and you are invited to be present. The wedding will start at eight o'clock.

FIRE TRUCK MUST STOP FOR LONDON LIGHTS

London (AP)—Fire engines and ambulances do not have the right of way at traffic lights. A justice ruled recently in awarding $17,000 damages to a man who was injured when a car in which he was riding collided with a fire truck.

If the light turns red, they must wait like other vehicles, he said. "In this case there would have been a couple of seconds lost; and no more."

Man About Manhattan

"You columnists must get weary of writing and rewriting the same names all the time. I read one of your chums yesterday and it was filled with the same names you were using six years ago."

Whoa, now, let's, as Al Smith has been known to observe, take a look at the record. I'll admit that some names are as prominent today as they were a half dozen or ten years ago, but you wouldn't recognize many names if you came to New York after being away, say, five or six years.

Most columns in tabloid form today includes these names: Bennett Cerf, publisher; Will Geer, actor; Jack Cole, Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Tonio Selwart, Miriam Hopkins, Madeleine Carroll, George Abbott, Sherman Billingsley, Gregory

OIL MAN SLAIN IN BAR ROOM

Isaiah Leebore (right), oil opera once known as the "mystery man" in Michigan politics, was shot to death in a bar room at Clare, Mich. He is seen playing with his dog shortly before the shooting. Jack Livingstone (left), his former associate, was jailed in connection with the slaying.

Taylor, Ben Cutler, Sam Byrd, Merle Oberon, Bruce McFarlane, Lillian Gish, Jackie Cooper, Billy Rose, Jack Dempsey, Ray Kinney, Wallace Ford, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, James Arton, Gertrude Lawrence, Ina Claire, George S. Kaufman, Cole Porter, George M. Cohan, Julie Haydon, John O'Hara, Ernest Hemingway, Jon Whitcomb, Jack White, and Dorothy Stone.

Now let us examine a typical Broadway column of ten years ago. Here we find mention of: Jimmy Walker, Tex Guinan, Joyce Hawley, the Earl Carroll show girl who bathed in a tub of "wine," Faith Bacon, Harry Richman, Larry Fay, Belle Livingston, Helen Morgan, Mary Nolan and Bobby Story.

Bobbie, now dead, was known as London's most beautiful barmaid, and she came to New York for a theatrical career that promised much but gave little fulfillment. Jimmy Walker is occasionally in the columns now, but ten years ago he was a daily fixture.

Probably the most publicized woman of her time was Tex Guinan, and right behind her was Faith Bacon, who was among the first of the famous strip dancers. There were others of course, but most of them were married, moved to Hollywood, died, or retired to obscurity.

A pleasant exception, by the way, is Helen Morgan, now a featured headliner at the Casa Manana, where Billy Rose has brought back vaudeville. In the old days, Helen was supreme as a nightclub queen. She owned one of the most notable speakies of the dry era, which was smashed to splinters by dry raiders. After that raid somebody strolled through the wreckage to where Helen had been sitting, and under it they found a broken champagne bottle, a ring and a rosary—stuff for a poet.

So names, like the times, do change, although the change is so gradual as to be imperceptible. It wasn't so long ago, it seems, that everybody was talking about Larry Fay's club, and the gay crowds that gathered there after dark. But when you check up you realize that this belongs to the past and that Larry has been dead for more than four years.

OCTAGON HOUSE

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So far: Unscrupulous Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quammet, is murdered by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, conceals himself in the garage, someone who smokes Turkish tobacco was eavesdropping on Pam's story to learn the whereabouts of the ambergris; agreeable Tim Carr, boarder at the Frye's Octagon House, smokes Turkish tobacco, is left handed and hated Marina in New York; paddy Aunt Nettie Hobbs saw Pam running out of the garage; and police are combing Octagon House for Pam.

Chapter 10

Another Mystery

Asey felt sure Pam must have hidden the ambergris in the cellar. It was lucky Tim had kept the police from moving the coal.

"They thought," Tim went on, "she was under the briquets. I tried to point out the impossibility of anyone's hiding in a coal bin, and then pulling the coal over 'em, but they took a lot of convincing. This is my first actual contact with the police, you know, and it amazes me to find that they think the way they do in movies and books."

"She's gone!"

Mrs. Carr and Emma joined the hunt. It was Emma, shying and hissing at something that fluttered in the underbrush, who found the only trace of Pam.

In Danger

"HER handkerchief," Asey said, picking it up. "Least, it's mine. One I tossed on the pile of clothes I gave her tonight. It's the last clean one of that batch of monogrammed handkerchiefs."

"What does it all mean?" Mrs. Carr demanded. "Did someone take her away? Did she just go?"

Asey shrugged. Presumably she was in that bedroom taking a nap. That's what her note said. I locked her in because it seemed to me I'd been awful careless. I was in the room now if she got out. If she wasn't, worried she go, and what she leave that note for? It don't seem possible she'd go romping off without telling me—she knows perfectly well that she's in danger.

"But the police don't know she's here," Timothy said. "They're all over Quammet, combing and scouring vicinities."

"The danger," Asey said, "ain't from the police. She must have understood—we didn't talk about it, but I thought she knew. I know she knew. And this note!"

"Gran," Tim said, "have you got that receipt she gave you for the board money? She wrote it out all very formally. You might compare the writing on this receipt with that on the note. Perhaps someone else wrote the note."

Mrs. Carr finally produced the receipt from the depths of her capacious pocketbook. Asey marveled as he invariably did, at the amount of miscellaneous objects that a woman could pack into a handbag of given dimensions. Mrs. Carr's was unusual only in that it contained besides the usual truck and quantity of puppy biscuit and three chewed catnip mice.

"Emma's," she explained. "We always carry cans of evaporated milk, and paper cups in the car for her, too."

"Gran," Timothy said, "give him the receipt."

"Here you are," Mrs. Carr passed it to Asey. "Now, where's the note?"

"In the living room. They compared the handwriting."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—The ad in the "Personals" was intriguing. "See Hollywood night life accompanied by the film stars of yesterday," it invited.

So I called the number—and I met Cherie Ray. Cherie's a hearty blonde with an office on Hollywood Boulevard. The sign offers "professional escorts" and "professional listening," and if the telephone's repeated ringing means anything Cherie is doing a good business.

Cherie got the idea two years ago when she came down from San Francisco for a visit, bringing her nicest clothes, and didn't see anything of Hollywood because she didn't know anybody. A woman traveling alone couldn't just page an escort out of thin air, so Cherie went home. In Egypt, a friend told her, a woman could always find a reliable, presentable guide, perfectly safe, and on the up-and-up. So Cherie came back, and went into business.

It might strike you as a business fraught with potential dynamite, this supplying of "dates" for lone-some visitors and residents.

Employs 126 Persons

"It isn't," said Cherie. "I know people. I can size up a customer in a minute. If there's anything funny in the air, I catch it. Then all escorts are busy, and it's no

ONE OF FEW TO ESCAPE FIRE

E. K. Guiley (right), one of the few persons to escape without injury, is shown telling Fire Chief Parker how he and his wife fled down a fire escape as flames roared through the Terminal hotel in Atlanta, Ga. Twenty-seven persons are known to have lost their lives and 13 others were taken to hospitals.

The retired vaudeville and stock actress gives part-time employment to 49 men, ages 21 to 60, and 77 women, ages 21 to 50. Her basic requirement in selecting "escorts" is college background. Refinement, personality, and character are others, equally essential. She has college boys, film extras, stenographers, a young doctor or two, a lawyer, and a couple of titles on her list. Tennis players, golfers, motorists, horseback riders, fillers-in-at-bridge, guides to see the sights are called for as often as evening escorts. The regular fee is $10, for evening dress $15. This is split 50-50, the customer paying the freight of the "date."

Those "stars of yesterday?" "We have a few, but I'm not at liberty to give their names," Cherie says. "Don't want to embarrass them."

Cherie knows of similar agencies in San Francisco, New York and Detroit, thinks every city should have one.

Also A 'Listener'

"I believe I've prevented quite a few divorces with this work," she says. "How? Well, a convention is in town. The wife comes along with the husband. He's having a swell time, banquets, parties, meetings. She's sitting in her hotel room, fuming. They go back home, and what fun's she had? She can't forget it, won't let him forget it. Presto, divorce! But if she calls me, then she has a swell time too. Goes places and sees things. Both happy, see?"

The need for escorts is confined to no age. A recent customer was a 78-year-old woman who frowned on drinking and smoking, but wanted to dance. This one, Cherie avers, turned down a 60-year-old escort—because he was "too old!" She took a 50.

"Professional listening" is more or less a sideline—Cherie does it, $3 an hour, $2 a half hour.

"That's a real service, too," she says. "People come to me just to get things off their chest. There was a movie director in the other day—wanted to air his troubles, couldn't do it at home because his wife told him to keep his work at the studio. Well, I listen sympathetically, and I think it helps. No, I never give advice unless it's asked, and then—oh, very tactfully."

EMPLOY SILOS TO SAVE CROPS

Many Farmers Using Means of Preserving Feed Stuff

Raleigh, May 16—Many farmers who have suffered losses when trying to cure early crops of grasses and legumes for hay now find that the silo is a good means for preserving these crops for winter feeding.

Losses in curing other thick-stemmed, slow-curing crops later in the season are also great. Such crops as clover, alfalfa, soybeans, timothy, Sudan grass, and even small grains such as oats can be kept well in silos, said John A. Arey, a State College.

But these crops must not be put in the silo while the moisture content is too high. A high moisture content causes bad odors to develop, and often the excess moisture leeches out, carrying with it valuable nutrients.

The U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry has pointed out two ways in which these objectionable features may be eliminated:

The surest and easiest way is to reduce the moisture content of the crop by letting it wilt in the field from two to three hours on a good drying day, longer on a cloudy day. However, the crops should not be wilted until they are too dry.

Another way to improve the silage is to add molasses. This improves the flavor and keeping qualities of the silage.

All hay crops to be ensiled should be chopped finely (one fourth inch if possible) and thoroughly packed during the process of filling the silo. Weighting the top around the walls is advisable. Walls and doors must be air-tight.

In making hay silage, it is of utmost importance that the air be forced out and kept out.

LOOKS THE SITUATION OVER!

"I've never favored one particular cigarette, Mr. Picard. I can see you do though. Do you find Camels different?"

Picard's game seems effortless. He's a long driver—in a tight spot, a heady strategist. "A cigarette, too, has to be sized up from a lot of angles," he says.

FAMOUS GOLFERS—men who need iron nerves and steady hands for that winning stroke—and millions of other people under the strain of everyday life—all appreciate this fact: Camels suit your cigarette taste from every angle. Naturally, CAMELS SET YOU RIGHT! There's a world of enjoyment in a cigarette like that. Smoke Camels yourself. See why they are so different. And note particularly the greater pleasure and contentment you experience from Camels' costlier tobacco!

Camels are distinctly different from other cigarettes, Mr. Stahl—and they're different in many ways. The longer I smoke Camels, the more I appreciate their natural smoothness and mildness—the real mildness that's easy on the throat. Camels never tire my taste. Camels agree with me—from all angles. You know, I hear so many top-flight golfers praise them. Camels never get on your nerves, and Camels set you right!

TOBACCO PLANTERS SAY:

"We smoke Camels because we know tobacco"

At auctions, Marvin Holloman, well-known planter, sees Camel buyers pay top prices for the finer grades of his crops. Mr. Holloman says: "At auctions the Camel buyers pay more and take the real choice lots of tobacco. That's why we tobacco planters, who know tobacco quality inside and out, make Camel our cigarette. Then we're sure we're smoking finer, COSTLIER tobaccos, and they sure make a big difference!"

"I'm a tobacco planter," says Mr. T. Strickland, who sold his highest grade tobacco to Camels. "Last year those Camel buyers bought up the finest lots of my tobacco. And they sure bid up to get them. There's a big difference in those expensive Camels tobaccos—so I smoke Camels myself. And there's your reason why most planters I know smoke Camels."

John T. Bone, who cultivates some of North Carolina's choicest leaf tobacco, remarks on the sale of his last crop: "Yes sir! I saw my best lots go for Camel cigarettes, and you can bet those Camel buyers paid top prices for them. It's no wonder I smoke the cigarette made of finer, more expensive tobaccos—Camels! Most planters smoke Camels too, for smokers who grow tobacco know tobacco."

Greenies Nose Out Goldsboro, 5-4; Move Into 3rd Place

HARDEN HOLDS BUGS IN CHECK

Locals Get Second Consecutive Victory After Losing Spree

The Greenies yesterday defeated Goldsboro's Gold Bugs, 5-4, to go into third place in Coastal Plain League standings, paced only by the Serpents and Bugs.

The two-hour game was filled with thrills as the Greenies tallied four times in the third inning to take the lead after Goldsboro had made two in the first and one in the second. To even things up, however, the Bugs came back in their half of the fourth. The deciding run came in the seventh when Joyner scored his second run. He was sent home by Thompson's double.

In the third Layton, first man up, walked, was out at second on a fielder's choice when Stowe reached first; Baker singled; Stowe scored.

On a wild pitch and an error at third base, Joyner and Korba then singled to score Baker and Thompson's double drove in Joyner and Korba.

Hitting honors for Greenville went to Thompson, who with three for four, drove in three of the locals' five runs.

It was the second consecutive win for the Greenies after having gone down in defeat five times straight and being rained out Friday and Saturday. Manager Joyner has revamped his team considerably since the locals hit a losing streak and the shake-up appears to be showing results. Johnny Korba, formerly of the New Bern Bears, joined the locals yesterday at third base and made two hits for five tries. He handled his only assist perfectly.

Harden, Greenie pitcher, tightened down after the fourth and set the Bugs down scoreless, after his rather shaky start. Kepler was the losing pitcher. He was reached for eleven safeties, walked three and struck out two. Harden walked one, struck out two and was reached for nine safeties, one of which was a home run by Overton, Bug backstop.

The idle Tarboro Serpents wriggled into first place yesterday due to Goldsboro's defeat by the locals. Goldsboro and Tarboro were tied for the league top prior to yesterday's game.

Bears Make 7 Errors, Martins easy Winners

New Bern, May 17.—Williamston did not make but five hits today, but the New Bern Bears' seven errors played a large role and the Martins came off on the long end of a 10-7 score.

The Martins scored a pair of runs in the first as a result of a single, a walk and a double steal. A brace of runs were chalked up in the fourth on two walks and a single and a three-base hit.

But it was in the fourth that the victors got a whole lot with very little. Rhinehart was safe at first on an error by Morris, and Stanley was safe on a fielder's choice. Rhinehart went to third on a wild throw, Marshall walked, and Ignasiak forced home Rhinehart. Villepiepe walked to score Stanley, and Lakotas walked to score Marshall.

Price relieved Flythe, but he issued a free pass to Lakotas. Ignasiak scored when Brown forced Lakotas at second, and Villepiepe came home on a double steal.

New Bern collected twelve hits off Fields and Baird, Martin flingers. Marshall of the Martins and Burge of the Bears hit circuit clouts. Score by innings: R. H. E. Williamston, 200 101 420-10 5 1 New Bern, 031 001 110-7 12 7 Batteries—Williamston: Fields, Baird and Marshall; New Bern: Flythe, Price, Berry and Parrish.

Soufas' Homer Gives Billies Win Over Aces

Ayden, May 17.—Harry Soufas hit a home run in the ninth inning to score Bistoff and give the Billies of Snow Hill a 12-6 victory over the Ayden Aces, here yesterday.

The game was a hitting parade all the way with both the Billies and Aces fattening their batting averages at the expense of six pitchers. Circirelle, who worked 7 1-3 innings for the victory. However, Bertram was called on to halt a belated rally by the Aces in the ninth.

KORBA SIGNED BY LOCAL CLUB

Regarded as One of Best Infielders in League

John Korba, regarded as one of the best infielders in the league, yesterday afternoon donned a Greenville uniform and played third base.

Korba was secured from the New Bern Bears and is expected to bolster materially the Greenies. "Swamp" Norwood was suspended to make room for Korba, who is at home at any position on the infield. Korba started out in organized baseball with the Tiffin club of the Ohio State League in 1936. During his first year he led all infielders with a percentage of .922. He also made good at bat, ending the year with an average of .320.

Because of his good showing with the Detroit Tiger farm, Korba last year was moved up to the Charleston club of the Middle Atlantic league and was transferred from short to third base. When he came to New Bern he was placed at second base, and although he proved successful there, he is expected to make an even better job at third. The new Greenie hails from Houston, Pa., where he starred in high school baseball, football and track. It looks like he will have little trouble in professional ball.

FATHER TIME hasn't taken edge off Boston Red Sox pitching master Lefty Grove who shows the horseshoe grasp that helped him become recently the sixth major league twirler to strike out 2,000 men. The "Old Master" is 35.

Large Crowd Expected to Turn Out to Witness Greenville-Kinston Game and Antics of Baseball's Most Famous Clown at Third St. Park

A treat is in store for baseball fans of Greenville and surrounding communities tomorrow afternoon when Al Schacht, the world's greatest baseball comedian, will bring his antics to Third Street Park.

The Greenies will play Kinston's Eagles. The festivities are scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock and indications are that the standings will be filled as crowds are expected here from Coastal Plain towns not playing at home and from a number of surrounding towns. Kinston is expected to send a large delegation here, both to see the famous comedian and to back their Eagles.

Al will "work" before game time, putting on one or two acts, clowning with the umpires and players during practice. He probably will broadcast one inning over the loud speaker, mixing wit and nonsense with baseball to the amusement of the fans.

The famous Al, who was forced to give up playing and resort to baseball comedy because of an injury, also probably will devote part of his attention to the fans, probably joining them in the stands.

And don't be surprised wherever he goes or whatever he does. He has even been known to push the regular third base coach out of the box and do the coaching himself.

The baseball clown started making tours of minor leagues last year and with much success, being hailed wherever he went. Greenville will be one of his first appearances of the second season and he will not appear at any other Coastal Plain league park this year.

Box office records are expected to be shattered tomorrow. Club officials are expecting at least 1,500 fans to attend and local fans are urged to attend early.

FILMS SAILORS LIKE STUDIED BY COWARD London, (AP)—Noel Coward has a new job.

The versatile writer left here recently on a tour of the principal Mediterranean ports to find out for the Admiralty film committee the type of films preferred by the sailors of the Mediterranean fleet.

Coward has been attached to the Royal Naval volunteer reserve for many years and has regularly participated in naval exercises.

TODAY'S GAMES Caro. Dairy-Post Office vs. Fur. Dealers-Guaranty Bank (Third St. Park.)

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS Trans-Nehi-Ins. 18, Lawyers-Doctors-Ct. House 3. Auto Dealers 8, Caro. Sales-Firemen 7.

STANDINGS. W. L. Pct. Trans-Nehi-Ins. 4 0 1.000 Carolina Dairy-P.O. 3 0 1.000 Blount-Harvey 3 1 .750 Water and Light 2 2 .500 Caro. Sales-Firemen 2 3 .400 Auto Dealers 2 3 .400 Fur-D-Guaranty 0 3 .000 Law-Drs.-Ct.House 0 4 .000

While the Transportation-Nehi-Insurance softball team was having little difficulty in winning an 18-3 decision over the Lawyers-Doctors-Court House crew, the Auto Dealers came from behind to eke out an 8-7 victory over Carolina Sales-Firemen.

Trailing by five runs, the Auto Dealers came to bat in the fifth and made five tallies to knot the count on clean hits and walks. The Carolina Sales-Firemen struggling hard for victory, made it seven in their half of the seventh inning to catch up with the two scored by the auto men in the sixth. Coming to bat in the last half of the seventh with the score tied, the Blount-Harvey and White Chevrolet dealers added the final and winning run.

The Transportation-Nehi-Insurance team coasted to victory over the tied-for-cellar professional men, who have to win their first game of the season. The win put the Transportation-Nehi-Insurance team in the lead with four victories and no more trailed by Carolina Sales-Firemen with three wins and no defeat. The score of the Carolina Sales-Firemen team, however, electrified yesterday when Donalds May was assigned to the club.

The highest bidder at said sale will be required to make a ten per cent deposit pending confirmation of this Court, as required by law. This May 12, 1938.

Greensboro Takes Class A Ball Honor

Chapel Hill, May 17.—Greensboro High School's baseball team walloped Raleigh, 11-4, on Emerson Field here yesterday afternoon to take the State Class A baseball crown before some 1,500 fans.

Big Bob Apple, whirlwind pitcher, and his hard-hitting mates were just too much for the Capital City lads, who earned the right to play for the title by winning the Eastern Class A crown.

Big Bob, whose fireball delivery and peculiar, jerky windup attracted notice of fans, pitched the route, fanned seven and yielded only seven hits.

(Continued from page one) advocating a quick start of government spending, asked federal agencies to enumerate projects which could be undertaken as soon as the legislation is enacted.

Meantime, the decision of Governor Olin Johnston of South Carolina to run for the Senate furnished new evidence that the Roosevelt administration is trying actively to send to Congress more southern supporters of the President's policies.

Also, the President asked Congress for an additional appropriation of $70,672,497 for the Treasury, and $10,144,492 for the Interior departments.

He asked also for another $200,000 for the Justice Department for the enforcement of anti-trust laws for the next fiscal year.

Judge Cowper overruled the exception on the ground that actions of the sheriff in former terms might tend to support a charge of habitual neglect of certain duties and that he would permit submission of evidence as a basis for evidence that actions of the sheriff during his former terms of office had contributed to the present term. The defense entered an exception to the ruling. At this point in the proceedings Wall's testimony was halted in order that Clerk of Court J. Frank Harrington might testify regarding certain records of his office as they pertained to the sheriff's office. Clerk Harrington was still on the stand when court was recessed for the noon hour.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 17.—(AP)—The trend was indecisive in today's stock market, but real selling pressure was again lacking in virtually all departments.

The list slipped at the start. Mild support appeared later. Near the final hour, however, minor declines were plentiful.

Bonds were a bit tickly. Transfers approximated 500,000 shares.

EASTERN N. C. MEETINGS SET

Series of Special Forestry Gatherings Scheduled

Raleigh, May 17.—A series of four special forestry meetings to be held in Eastern North Carolina was announced today by R. W. Graeber, extension forester at State College.

The meetings are being sponsored jointly by the N. C. Forestry Association, the state forester, and the State College extension service, with the co-operation of local Chambers of Commerce, lumbermen, pulp wood operators, loggers, farmers, and others.

The purpose of these meetings, Graeber said, is to create and promote a greater interest in the protection, management, and use of forest lands and forest resources of Eastern North Carolina.

Particular stress will be laid on a program of integrated or balanced utilization of timber resources in a manner that will maintain industries and a balanced economical situation in each community.

The meetings, to be held at Elizabeth City, May 24; New Bern, May 25; Wilmington, May 26; and Fayetteville, May 27, will begin at 10 o'clock and will last through 4 p.m.

The Elizabeth City meeting will be for farmers in Bertie, Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Northampton, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Tyrrell, and Washington Counties.

The New Bern meeting will be for farmers in Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Greene, Hyde, Jones, Martin, Pamlico, Pitt and Wayne counties.

The Wilmington meeting will be for farmers in Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, Duplin, New Hanover, Onslow and Pender Counties.

The Fayetteville meeting will be for farmers in Cumberland, Harnett, Hoke, Lee, Moore, Richmond, Robeson, Sampson, and Scotland Counties.

The schedule of the program for the meetings to be attended by farmers from this section is as follows: P. R. Camp, president of the N. C. Forestry Association, will preside over the meeting to be held in the court house at New Bern, starting at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

R. W. Graeber, of State College, secretary of the Forestry Association, will explain the plan and purpose of the meeting.

The findings of a forest survey in Eastern North Carolina, and their significance on the methods of cutting pine lands, will be discussed by a representative of the Appalachian Forest Experiment Station.

"Cutting Practices Suggested for Old Field Pine" will be the subject of a talk by Prof. William Maughan of Duke University. Dr. J. V. Holmann, head of the State College forestry department, will discuss "Applying Forestry Education in Our Forest Management Program."

"The Forest Industries of Eastern North Carolina and the Need for Integrated Utilization," will be explained by A. E. Wackerman, industrial forester from Norfolk.

J. S. Holmes, state forester, will open the afternoon session with a talk on "Protecting North Carolina Woodlands." R. W. Graeber will point out the place of farm woodlands in the forestry program.

G. H. Lentz, of the U. S. Forest Service will speak on pulpwood cutting and its place in the forestry program, while N. T. Barron, of the North Carolina Pulp Company will talk on pulpwood cutting from the view point of the operator.

Farmers attending the meeting will be given opportunity to ask questions and express their opinions about various phases of forestry.
