RELIEF FUNDS INCREASED BY $298,000,000

Committee Finally approves measure providing $3,450,000

MAJOR CHANGES WRITTEN IN ACT

One Would Restrict Use of PWA Funds for Construction of Public Utility Plants

Washington, May 21. (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee added $298,000,000 to the administration's relief bill today and gave final approval to the measure totalling $3,450,000,000.

Major changes made by the committee included: A provision restricting the use of PWA funds for the construction of public utility plants. Provision of $212,000,000 for benefit payments to wheat, cotton and corn producers.

A reduction of $100,000,000 in the billion dollar PWA appropriation. Insertion of a requirement that WPA wage differentials be eliminated in the event uniform labor standards are imposed through enactment of wage-hour legislation.

Chairman Glass (D-Va.), of the Appropriations committee told reporters he was "opposed to the whole bill" and had reserved the right to file a minority report.

Members reported the committee had adopted by a narrow margin a sub-committee recommendation that the PWA be prohibited from financing construction of utility plants which would compete with existing private systems when the latter are subject to any form of public regulation.

Winborne-Grady Contest Begins To Pick Up Speed

By HENRY AVERILL Raleigh, May 21.—The race for Utility Commissioner, featuring Stanley Winborne, defending champion, and Paul D. Grady of Kenly, in the role of challenger, is beginning to pick up speed and interest which promise to make for a bit of political pyrotechnics in the two weeks remaining before the voters will end the controversy at the polls.

RETURNS SHOW SPUD GROWERS FOR PROPOSAL

Marketing Plan Favored by 75 Per Cent Majority

OTHER BUSINESS AT U. S. CAPITAL

Leaders of Defeated CIO-Backed Slate in Pennsylvania Non-Committal on Plans

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—The AAA said today returns indicated approval of a potato marketing agreement for the 13 early and intermediate states by a 75 per cent favorable vote in a grower referendum.

Returns received from 273 of the 291 designated counties in these states showed that of 7,278 growers balloting last week, 5,459 representing 50 per cent of the potato production in these areas, voted for a marketing agreement.

A majority of growers in three states, California, Maryland and South Carolina, here shown by the tabulations to have opposed the agreement. Returns from a fourth state, Georgia, had not been tabulated.

The favorable and unfavorable vote, respectively, by states included: North Carolina, 1,162 and 619; South Carolina, 98 and 100.

Meantime, with one exception, leaders of the defeated CIO-backed faction in Pennsylvania's Democratic primary remained non-committal on what course they would pursue despite apparent White House efforts to unite the party for the November election.

Lower Number of Fatalities For Month Since 1934

Raleigh, May 21.—(AP)—Only 64 persons, the lowest number for April since 1934, were killed in automobile accidents in North Carolina, Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell reported today.

The April number brought to 248 the number of fatalities so far this year, compared with 308 for the same period in 1937. This year's total is the lowest since 1933.

The most dangerous, time and place in April occurred between 6 and 8 p. m. on a straight road in a rural section, the report indicated. There were eight fatal and 82 non-fatal accidents between those hours. Twenty-seven fatal wrecks occurred on a straight road and 41 in the country.

There were only 18 fatal accidents in cities.

Maxwell expressed pleasure over the report, pointing out that there were 2,650 more automobiles in use now than at the same time last year.

Automobiles last month killed 28 pedestrians, five children playing in the streets, nine persons walking on roadways and one drunken motorist.

SMALL STOCKHOLDERS SHOULD WAKE UP

Babson Gives a Basic Reason for His Business Optimism

By ROGER W. BABSON Babson Park, Mass., May 21.—The average small stockholder is a sucker! He puts his money into the securities of companies about which he knows little or nothing. The information he receives is vague, incomplete, and meaningless. He has practically no voice in the company's affairs. Decisions are concentrated in the hands of an inside group of officials, bankers, and lawyers. Small stockholders need a union which would take its place beside the management's "luncheon club" and Labor Local No. 102. These stockholders should make their influence felt.

Says Mr. Blount:

"A Chamber of Commerce will be able to co-ordinate the various local efforts toward establishing Greenville as the leading distributing city of Eastern Carolina," declared J. H. Blount, local department store and fertilizer plant head. "A number of nationally advertised products already have selected Greenville as their distributing branch for this section of North Carolina."

NAMES STAFF FOR CAMPAIGN

Commander Selects Aides for Membership Drive

M. K. Blount, commander in chief of the membership campaign of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, today named his staff for the one-day drive to be started at Noon Wednesday of next week.

Mayor Blount was selected to conduct the campaign by J. Nat Harrison, president of the revived Chamber of Commerce.

Commander-in-chief Blount today issued the following statement: "As Commander-in-Chief of the Membership Campaign of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, it gives me a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction to announce to the public, the personnel of the force who are to serve."

Never in my life have I seen a more wide spread interest shown in any Community movement.

With scarcely an exception, Business and Professional men on all sides have offered their services willingly.

The number of different interests represented among the Teams and Battalions of this Organization bears testimony to the fact that all of us are together enlisted for the common purpose of building a better and bigger Greenville.

The membership campaign army is made up as follows: M. K. Blount, Commander-in-Chief; E. Hoover Taft, Aide; Staff: M. O. Minges, General; J. Nat Harrison, Aide.

Officers: J. Key Brown, Druggist; J. H. Blount, Merchant; J. G. Clark, Sinclair Oil; Dai Cox, Gas and Oil; Graham Flanagan, Flanagan Buggy Company; E. G. Flanagan, Flanagan Buggy Company; H. J. Hodges, Merchant.

Czechoslovakia Calls Out Reserve To Bolster Army On Eve of Tense Election

Britain Watches Czech Situation

Viscount Halifax Now At Helm Of Foreign Office

London, May 21.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax hurriedly returned to the foreign office to take the helm of British foreign policy personally in the face of increasingly dangerous German-Czech incidents.

Prime Minister Chamberlain kept in close touch with the dangerous situation, complicated by the frontier killing of two Germans by Czech guards, the calling up of Czech army reserves and reports of sandbag barricades had been put up on Czech roads between Eger and Pilsen.

Berlin dispatches, meanwhile, said the British ambassador, Sir Neville Henderson, asked the German foreign office the second time for assurances that troop movements toward the frontiers Germany wants to expand were only routine training moves.

The British envoy was closeted an hour with German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop.

Sir Neville was assured yesterday by Von Ribbentrop's deputy that Germany's goose-stepping warriors usually are transferred from town to country camps at this season.

British officials displayed concern over the Sudeten German minority's refusal to negotiate with the Czech government unless prior guarantees were received.

An authoritative Czech source in London said it was believed Adolf Hitler, though ambitious to absorb Czechoslovakia's three and a half million Germans, did not plan a military coup against his eastern neighbor this week end.

Hess Triumphant In Oregon Voting

Portland, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—Henry Hess, who claimed New Deal and labor support, picked up a growing and perhaps decisive lead today in his sensational Democratic primary contest with Governor Charles Martin.

Hess took a lead of 3,329 votes over Governor Martin, late returns showed.

Returns from 1,233 precincts of the 1,681 gave Hess 44,879; Martin, 41,549.

The 74-year-old Governor described himself as loyal to President Roosevelt without offering "rubber stamp" endorsement to the administration's program.

Hess, supported by Senator George Norris, Nebraska Independent, and in effect by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes who censured Martin as not a New Dealer "at heart," drew his votes primarily from the lumbering counties.

The bitter race had no direct White House influence. President Roosevelt repeated his hands-off statement yesterday and James Farley, chairman of the Democratic party, took no action.

Lacrosse was played by the Iriquois confederation to train for war.

Most Candidates Appear To Be Against Diversion

Raleigh, May 21.—A survey of legislative candidates in Raleigh for the Democratic state convention—and perhaps a majority of the candidates were here—revealed that a huge majority of them are opposed, in principle at least, to diversion of highway funds raised by gasoline and other automotive taxes to general purposes.

It did not indicate, however, that a huge majority of them are unqualifiedly committed to the proposal to write a Constitutional amendment forever prohibiting the practice of diversion in North Carolina. It did appear, however, that a majority are inclined to favor such an amendment, with only their dislike to cut off forever a possible source of relief in time of financial trouble in the way of a straight-out declaration for an anti-diversion amendment.

Practically all the prospective legislators with whom contact was made on the subject preferred not to be quoted by name, giving as a reason the fact that they would much rather declare themselves to their home-folks either by word or

VOTE TO TEST NAZI STRENGTH

Two Germans Killed by Czech Border Guards Trying To Illegally Cross The Frontier; Sandbag Barricades and Machine Guns Set Up

Praha, Czechoslovakia, May 21.—(AP)—Germany's little neighbor, Czechoslovakia, today called out a reserve class to bolster her 190,000-man army on the eve of tense municipal elections testing political strength of the 3,500,000 Nazi-supported German minority.

Two Germans were killed by Czech border guards as they tried to cross into Germany. Scattered disorders preceded the crucial vote.

The reserve call for part of Czechoslovakia's 1,500,000 trained second line soldiery came as tension mounted throughout the nation, half surrounded by German military might, and in Europe's watchful capitals.

Reports to adjoining Hungary said sandbag barricades had been erected at Czechoslovakia's military gateway, the Pilsen-Eger road, and machine guns set up by troops taking control of strategic points.

Outcome of the Sunday elections might determine the fate of Europe's most pressing problem—the demands of the Sudeten minority, with Adolf Hitler's spoken support, for self-government.

Czech authorities said the two Germans shot to death last night near Eger by Czech border guards were killed when trying to cross into Germany illegally.

The government also declared the reserve call did not indicate plans for moving new troops to the border.

Official circles emphasized the measure was taken solely in order to bring troops up to full strength to the object of keeping order in view of recent disturbances.

The reserve call came as President Benes told Czechoslovakia's encircling authoritarian neighbor that the small nation was untrifled in facing the present critical situation.

Re-Dedication At Christian Church

The congregation of the Eighth Street Christian church will observe Re-dedication Sunday tomorrow at the eleven o'clock morning service.

The church has been redecorated and partly refurbished, with new carpet, draperies, etc. So complete have been the alterations and changes that it was decided a service of re-dedication should be held, since it will be more like going into a new building than into one that has been renovated.

Rev. W. A. Ryan announced that instead of the usual request for funds to cover the cost of the improvements that the members and friends of the congregation had been asked to give themselves to this service of worship. No special offerings will be received but a number of persons are expected to come into the fellowship of the local congregation at tomorrow's service. This offering of life rather than one of money is what is being stressed.

Speaks At College.
A talk on Jesus as The Way of Life by the Rev. Malcolm S. Calhoun, pastor of the St. Pauls Presbyterian Church, last night closed the series delivered here by this speaker brought to the college campus this week by the Young Women's Christian Association.

Mr. Calhoun told the students last night that we know that Jesus is not just a way, but is the way of life, because he gives men an ideal to live up to, he brings out the heroic in them, and he saves them from their own weakness and sin.

He had spoken to the group the night before, Thursday night, on "Be still, and know that I am God." At chapel Friday, Mr. Calhoun spoke to the whole student body on "Now unto Him that is able to keep you from falling."

He brought out that Christ not only saves human wrecks but that he keeps men from falling, drawing an analogy between preventive medicine and "preventive" religion.

Mr. Calhoun was brought to the college by the Y. W. C. A. Religious Education Committee, of which Miss Susan Evans of St. Pauls, is chairman.

DIXIE HIGHLIGHTS

THE WHITE HOUSE
ON UPPER BROAD STREET, AUGUSTA, SCENE OF ONE OF THE MOST CRUEL ACTS OF THE REVOLUTION. HERE THE PATRIOTS WERE HUNG BY BRITISH LEADER.

HISTORIC POWDER MILL CHIMNEY
A PART OF THE OLD POWDER FACTORY, NEAR SISLEY MILL, AUGUSTA, WHERE THE CONFEDERACY WAS SUPPLIED WITH POWDER.

One of the most brutal acts on record occurred at the White House in Augusta, Georgia during the Revolution. From the staircase of this old Southern landmark the notorious Tory, Colonel Thomas Brown, had thirteen American soldiers strangled to death so that he could see their agonies from his sick bed, leaving a record of cruelty hardly equalled during the war. Because of outspoken sympathies for the mother country, Brown has previously been tarred and feathered at the outbreak of hostilities. Subsequently, he never lost an opportunity to demand retribution in human life and suffering. During these turbulent times, Augusta was a hot bed of the bitter partisan warfare that swept over Georgia and the Carolinas as patriots and Tories fought and died in its defense.

The mammoth Old Powder Chimney on the Augusta canal is but a remnant of the factory erected in 1861 by Colonel G. W. Rains to supply powder to the armies and navy of the South. During the War Between the States, Augusta was an outstanding supply base for the Confederacy.

Poppy Day Next Saturday.
Saturday, May 28th, was proclaimed "Poppy Day" in Greenville in a proclamation issued today by Mayor M. K. Blount. The proclamation urged all citizens to honor the World War dead and aid the war's living victims by wearing the American Legion and Auxiliary memorial poppy that day. The proclamation reads:

"Whereas, in the World War of 1917-1918, the young men of Greenville gave their service to the defense of the United States in an exalted spirit of patriotism and some were called upon to sacrifice their lives in that service.
"Whereas, many others were called upon to sacrifice health and strength, with resulting suffering and hardships to themselves and families which continue to this day;
"Whereas, the memory of these patriotic sacrifices should ever be kept fresh in the minds of patriotic citizens, while fullest aid should be extended to those still within the reach of human aid;
"And Whereas, the wearing of the Memorial Poppy both honors the dead and aids the disabled and dependents:
"Therefore, I, M. K. Blount, Mayor of the City of Greenville, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 28th, Poppy Day in the City of Greenville, and urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the American Legion and Auxiliary Memorial Poppy."

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
Saturday, May 21, 1898

Personal
J. K. Newton returned to Tarboro this morning.
Rev. J. J. Harper of Smithfield, arrived Friday evening.
C. S. Latham came home Friday evening from Asheville, where he had been attending school.

Notices
Large crowd in town today.
The Methodist Sunday School will have Children's Day exercises tomorrow night.
G. Miller has moved here from Charlottesville, Va., and opened a store in the Bernard building.
Our telegraph service was delayed so long on the way today that we can print but little of it without making the paper too late.
Hope Fire Company will meet in the engine house Monday evening at 8 o'clock sharp for practice.

Large Hall Stones
Mr. J. H. Mills of Black Jack, who was in town today and came in to renew his subscription to The Reflector, tells us that during the hall storm in his section last Sunday, some of the stones that fell were as large as hen eggs. He put one of the stones by the side of an egg to measure it. Fortunately for the crops, only a few of the stones were so large.

Chamber of Commerce
Something that Greenville has badly needed and which The Reflector has long advocated, a Chamber of Commerce, is now secured for the town.

There were a good many of the business men at the court house last night to take part in the organization and the interest manifested shows that they are determined to accomplish something for the town.
Those desiring to become members were invited to enroll and 24 joined. Among the officers elected were Secretary L. I. Moore; Treasurer J. L. Little.

A committee consisting of L. I. Moore, J. G. Moyer and W. F. Harding were appointed to wait upon the business men of the town and invite them all to become members of the Chamber.

Explanatory: The interior department bill has just come out of conference with the Senate, and the House must pass on a number of increases in appropriations which have been added by the Senate.
Cast: Representative Rich of Pennsylvania, who does not like budget increases, and in particular does not like reclamation increases.
Representative Taylor of Colorado.
Vote For J. W. H. Roberts for County Judge

Senatorial Record of Robert Rice Reynolds '32-'38
Prepared by HON. DAVE STRAIN, Field Manager for Reynolds in 1932

What HE PROMISED:
1. In Burlington, North Carolina, on June 25, 1932, he promised: "If I am elected Senator I will be allowed four secretarial posts in my office in Washington, and I pledge to the people of North Carolina that I shall appoint to one of these posts an ex-service man from North Carolina whose duties it shall be to look after the interests of that greatest army of heroes that this world has ever known—our ex-service men."

What HE HAS DONE:
1. He does not have in his office an ex-service man either from North Carolina or from any other State.

2. In Lincolnton, North Carolina, on the afternoon of June 28, 1932, he promised that: "If I am elected to the office of United States Senator I pledge to the people of North Carolina that I will not leave the boundaries of the United States except when called upon to do so on official Government business."

3. In Goldsboro, North Carolina, on June 12, and at numerous other places, he promised that: He would punish Frank R. McNinch for "his traitorous desertion of the Democratic party" and that "I will forever oppose any and all efforts of McNinch to return to the Democratic party," and "I will use what influence I have to prevent him from receiving any recognition or reward at the hands of the Democratic party."

4. In Durham, North Carolina, on June 2, 1932, and in every speech thereafter, he pledged his honor to the good mothers of North Carolina that he "would use every ounce of energy in my body to forever oppose the return of a saloon or an open barroom in our fair land."

5. In Lumberton, North Carolina, and elsewhere, he pledged to the people of North Carolina "that the office of United States Senator does not belong to the man who occupies that office, but belongs to the people of this State, and I pledge to you that if I am elected I shall ever respect that ownership, and such patronage and appointments as might come to me by virtue of my occupancy of that office shall always go to the people of this State."

Says Mr. Taylor:

"From an economic standpoint, as well as from many other, Greenville has the best future of any town in Eastern North Carolina," said Robert R. Taylor, local insurance man. "A strong Chamber of Commerce is needed to co-ordinate the present active forces working for the welfare of the city and the adjoining territory."

radio, chairman of the conference committee, who is asking House action on the increases. He comes from a state which does not oppose reclamation.
And certain other gentlemen.

It Begins
Mr. Rich: "Let me show you what has happened since the bill passed the House of Representatives. On April 19 the budget director sent down additional amounts as follows: for roads in the Indian reservation, $2,000,000; for roads and trails in the national park service, $3,750,000; for the Blue Ridge-Natchez Trace parkway, national park service, $3,000,000. This estimate on the part of the budget director amounted to $8,750,000. Still earlier than that, on April 12, he sent down the budget estimate for more millions. The director of the budget sends down these estimates because of the fact that the members of Con-

Co-operation
Mr. Rich: "Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether it is good policy for the House of Representatives to create an Indian bureau to handle the affairs of the Indians and then appropriate money so that the Indians may hire attorneys to come here to Washington to get the Indian bureau to do things which are contrary to the policy of the present Indian bureau."

Mr. Johnson of Oklahoma: "It is and always has been the policy to permit certain tribes of Indians to employ their own lawyers and spend their own money to have such lawyers appear for them at Washington."
The money was authorized. And so was an annual payment of $750 to the GHA, Ariz., reclamation project, and $1,250,000 for the Colorado-Big Thompson irrigation project, and a plan to put $29,000,000 of oil land earnings in the reclamation fund.

Speaker: "The question is on the motion to concur."
(The motion was agreed to and the clerk reports another amendment and another and another, including and for $5,000 from Indian funds to permit the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians to hire attorneys to represent them before the government in Washington.)

SHORT SHOTS
 By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh May 21—With the voting only two weeks off, of the balloting on June 4 is beginning to come in for a bit of speculation on the part of political prognosticators as well as candidates for statewide office.

The very first mention of figures this correspondent has heard was the statement that Stanley Winborne would get two hundred and seventy-five thousand votes out of four hundred and fifty thousand cast in the Utility Commissioner race. Needless to say, the estimate came from a red-hot Winborne supporter.

The North Carolina record was set in 1936's super-heated first primary, when a total of 516,864 votes were distributed among Hoey, McDonald, Graham and McRae.

In view of the comparatively slow tempo of this spring's battling a 450,000 estimate looks high; though it must be borne in mind that heated Congressional and Judicial races. In addition to many torrid local sweepstakes, will pull voters to the polls who would go fishing so far as the current statewide contests (U. S. Senator and Utility Commissioner) are concerned.

Congressional races in the Sixth and Eighth are made confused and complex by a multiplicity of candidates. It seems certain that there will be first a general scramble in each, then a hot and heavy second primary. That has been the outlook all along, and it wasn't changed a bit by events of the state convention.

To judge from reports heard at the convention, however, the hottest, closest, most-bitterly fought campaign in which there are but two principals is in progress in the Tenth, where Ham Jones of Charlotte is making his third effort to unseat Major Bulwinkle.

The incumbent's vote for Wage and Hour legislation is said to have alienated much of the support he has been in the habit of getting from industrialists, it remains to be seen whether advocacy of the bill will bring him compensatory strength among the textile workers so numerous in his bailiwick.

This correspondent expects to be lucky from now on. State Auditor George Ross Pou has presented him with a rabbit foot—the same kind which brought the former prison head through to victory in his hot race with Baxter Durham in 1936.

Incidentally Mr. Pou was widely accused of propagandizing (or is it propagandering) for Senator Reynolds during the convention—but it was all a mistake.

The Auditor, who is just off crutches, was walking around with a stick which at first bluish closely resembled one of the "Stick to Our Bob" things so much in evidence.

As a matter of fact it was a wonderfully well made stick given Mr. Pou by a convict who made it of four different kinds of wood. The shaft of hickory, the head (shaped like a revolver butt) of cedar, popular and oak.

Man About Manhattan
 By George Tucker

New York—Just battling around, listening to people talk:

George Olsen, at 46th and Fifth ave. "Something will have to be done about telephone operators in New York. In Manhattan they're sarastic, and when you ask for a number they tell you 'It's listed in your directory,' and you have to argue for five minutes before it's given to you. In the Bronx the operators give you the number but they want to make you work; they say 'Will you kindly write this number down, so you will have it.' ... But in Brooklyn—well, they just give you the wrong number and hang up."

Jed Harris, Times Square newsstand, high noon: "Of all the nerve!

Of all the nerve! Can you imagine a waiter telling a customer he shouldn't put cream in his tea? I've been drinking tea with cream for 25 years and furthermore I don't like lemon. Not in tea anyway. I like cream, plenty of cream and I aim to keep having cream!"

Police Officer Number 4621, Chambers Street Ferry: "Well, I think I'll take you to jail.... Pull in closer there.... Where do you think you're going?.... Oh, so you're sorry. Oh, you're sorry, are you? Well, you'll be sorrier than that in about half an hour.... Lemme see your driver's license.... Lemme see that license.... Lemme see...."

Billy Rose, Casa Manana, 11:40 p. m.: "So I said, 'Look here, Joe I'll do it; I'll make that midway buzz like a quail, but I want mine and here are my conditions.... Then I told him my conditions.... As you know, my conditions are always a little bit of impossible, but we'll work something out.... That World's Fair ought to be some baby.... Now, if I had about ten acres.... 'Billy Rose's Ten Acres'.... How's that sound.... Not bad eh? I'll make that midway hum like a quail."

Sheridan Square beachcomber, 3 p. m.: "Tis from County Cork I am and something tells me you're an Englishman. A dime or so Sir. For a cup of coffee for a County Cork man.... 'Tis an Englishman I'm talking to and while there's a vast difference between the Irish and the English, I'm making bold, I am, to ask you for a dime or so, Sir, for a bite, you know!"

Billy the Oysterman: "I, and my father before me, have been opening oysters for 50 years.... I have seen truck loads and ship loads and whole mountains of oysters opened before my eyes.... Yet I have never found a single pearl.... Maybe we don't get the right kind of oysters, or maybe we aren't lucky.... But so long as enough people eat oysters we don't have to worry about pearls."

Dolly Stark, National League umpire: "When I know Hubbell is going to pitch I go home early and get a full night's sleep. He is the toughest pitcher in the league to watch, because that screw ball hops all over the place. It cuts the corners at the last minute, and if he cuts it I want to give it to him.... Yet I don't like to give him anything at the expense of the hitter.... I've lost as much as ten pounds umpiring a Hubbell-pitched game."

Greenies Have Three Home Games in A Row On Tap

AYDEN HERE SUNDAY 3 P. M.

Tarboro Here Monday and Snow Hill Here Tuesday

Beginning Sunday the Greenies will be at home for three consecutive days, providing local fans with what is expected to be good contests on the home field.

After meeting Ayden there this afternoon, Skipper Monk Joyner will pit his Greenies against the Aces here Sunday, will play a rained out game with Tarboro here on Monday and Tuesday will begin a two-game series on the local field.

Saturday—Greenville at Ayden.
 Sunday—Ayden at Greenville.
 Monday—Tarboro at Greenville.
 Tuesday—Snow Hill at Greenville.
 Wednesday—Greenville at Snow Hill.

with the Snow Hill Billies.

The rest of the week's schedule calls for a game with Snow Hill at Snow Hill Wednesday, New Bern here Thursday and the Bears in their park Friday, with Snow Hill again coming here Saturday, followed by a game there next Sunday.

The Greenies, halted in their tilt yesterday by rain before the required five innings had been played, have won 10 and lost the same number for a percentage of .500.

The Greenies are in a tie with New Bern for fourth place. The Bears have won 11 and lost 11.

Tarboro continues unbeaten and leads the league with 13 victories against only seven defeats, three games ahead of the Greenies. The Gold Bugs, in second place with 12 wins and ten defeats, are only one game ahead of the locals. Kinston, with 11 wins, 10 victories is half a game ahead of the locals.

Several teams in the league are bunched so close together only a few games can shift the standings so as to make the line-up altogether different.

New Bern Wins Over Goldsboro Bugs, 5-4

New Bern, May 21.—Rain stopped New Bern's ninth inning rally in yesterday ball game with Goldsboro's Bugs, but that was oked with Doc Smith's boys.

The Bears had a 5-4 lead at the end of eight innings. The Bugs rallied for a pair of runs in the ninth and New Bern was in the midst of a rally of its own when rain stopped play. The Bears put over the tying run and runners were on second and third. The score reverted to the eighth inning, and so the ball game went into the books as a 5-4 New Bern victory.

Yesterday's other scheduled contests in the league were washed out. The Snow Hill-Kinston game was washed out in the fourth with the Billies leading 5-1. At Gettel was after his sixth pitching victory.

The Greenville-Williamston game was washed out in the fourth also with the score knotted at 3-3.

The Greensboro lefty Flora held New Bern's batting average down. The Bears got busy in the sixth and pushed across two runs, and added a trio in the eighth. Radevich relieved Flora during the eighth inning session.

Singles by Jans and Irossi were mixed with a pair of errors in the second, and two Bug runs came in. Irossi's double a free pass, an error, and Flora's single added two more in the fourth.

A single by Pinch-Hitter Stuart Flythe started the Bears on their sixth inning tallying. Burge forced Flythe, but Red Harper and Bruce McCay delivered singles. An error on Parrish's roll filled the bases, and then Flora issued a free ticket to Jordan, forcing in a run.

In the Bears' eighth, McCay singled and Parrish walked, Jordan sacrificed, and the bases were filled when Anderson walked. Radevich relieved Flora. A walk to Stith forced in McCay. Morris hit a high bouncer to short. Parrish scored as the ball was played to second to force Stith—and Anderson just kept on running and scored. Flythe fanned, ending the inning.

The Bugs loaded the bases in the ninth—on singles by Overton and Radevich, and a walk to Dirmann. Alexander's single sent in a pair of runs.

Burge cracked a single to open New Bern's ninth, and he went to third on Harper's single. McCay fanned but Parrish's safe bunt tallied Burge. Manager Doc Smith came in to pinch hit—but the rain beat him to it.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
 Goldsboro 020 200 00-4 8 1
 New Bern 000 002 03-5 7 3
 Batteries—Goldsboro: Flora, Radevich and Overton; New Bern: Jordan and Parrish.

GAME CHECKED IN 3RD FRAME Greenville and Williamston Tied at Three-All

Greenville and Williamston were able to play only three innings yesterday afternoon at Third Street Park before rain called a halt to the contest. The contest was deadlocked at three-all when the game was halted.

Williamston got men on bases in the first and it looked as if they would score, but Don King pulled out of a bad hole and a zero went up on the scoreboard.

In the second inning, however, the Martins made three runs, only one of which should have been scored, this being on a homer. With the bases loaded the hitter grounded to King, who cut the man off at home on a force play and Smith threw to first in plenty of time to catch the runner, but the ball was high, going far over Stowe's head and two men scored.

Greenville made two in the second on a walk, hit batsman and long double by Miller. The locals knotted the count in their half of the third. Thompson hit to center field for a pretty double and went to third when the ball got away from the fielder. Riley poled out a long one to left, but he wind cut off its distance and it was caught, after the fielder had juggled it and came very near letting the ball get away from him. Thompson came in on the throw in.

In the first of the fourth with two men out—the bottom dropped out—leaving the Greenies with another rained out contest to play.

PILOT JOYNER RELEASES TWO

Moser and Layton Go; New Infielder Signed

Skipper Monk Joyner of the Greenies yesterday afternoon released two members of the team and announced the signing of a new infielder.

One of the two to be released was Homer (Lefty) Moser, who came here from Kinston the early part of last season. Last year he won seven and lost ten games.

The other Greenie to be let out was James Layton, outfielder, who hails from Kings Mountain.

James A. Mullins has signed with the Greenies to bolster the infield. It was not definitely stated which position he would play.

Birch Douglas, generally considered the best first baseman in the league last year, is scheduled to arrive here on June 10 to join the Greenies' staff. At present Douglas is teaching and coaching at a prep school in Richmond, Va.

OCTAGON HOUSE

The Story So Far: Unscrupulous Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quano-met, is murdered by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Pam Frye appeals to Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, telling him she found $50,000 worth of ambergris which Marina tried to claim, and hid it after discovering the murder. Pam disappears from Asey's house because an unknown person, who smokes Turkish tobacco, is trailing her to learn the whereabouts of the ambergris. Asey discovers that agreeable Tim Carr, a boarder at the Frye's Octagon house, is left handed, smokes Turkish tobacco, and hated Marina in New York; wealthy Roddy Strutz smashed a new plane in the square; and gabby Nettie Hobbs is swearing Pam is the murderer.

Chapter 14 Asey in Disguise

Asey walked back to the kitchen door and yelled for Jennie. "Where's Syl's truck?" "That old thing? Down in the back garden. He was gettin' loam." "He won't need it today if he's quohoggin'." Asey said, "I'm goin' to take it. An' where's my old paintin' overalls an' coat?" "Asey Mayo," Jennie said in desperation, "you can't wear them in public! They're all torn, so torn I didn't even mend 'em." "Jennie," Asey said, "you roust out my paintin' overalls, an' my coat. An' that cap." "Not the cap! Oh, Asey, you can't go out wearin' that cap! It make you look like Uncle Corny!" Asey shouted. Uncle Corny, one of the family's blackes sheep, had died in the drunkards' home.

"Go long, Jennie," he said. "I'm supposedly not workin' on this case—an' don't you dare tell a soul I am, hear me? Less you want Pam Frye in jail! An' if I go in my car, with my everyday clothes, they'll bother the life out of me." "You're goin' to disguise yourself!" Jennie said. "Oh, I see, I didn't understand."

"I'm goin' disguised as Uncle Corny," Asey told her with a grin, "an' if you don't hustle, I'll get real pros, like a bottle of gin for my hip pocket. I sort of think that people won't pay much attention to me, in that outfit, an' with Syl's truck."

When he reappeared in ten minutes, Jennie freely admitted that she had never seen the like in all her born days, never.

"Look here, woman," Asey picked up a cap from the table, "this suit the one I mean. This is my nice clean new one. I want the old dirty one that says in red letters I USE PILVY'S PAINT—DO YOU?"

"Asey, please!"

"Asey roared in his quarterdeck bellow until Jennie, to stop the noise, reluctantly produced it.

"I'll make you look just like a convict, with that funny visor. You use Pilvy's Paint—you know right well that you do no such thing!"

Asey laughed. "Then that makes it more of a disguise than meets the eye, don't it? Anyone that knows me knows I don't use Pilvy's Paint, an'—oh, let it pass," he added hurriedly, noticing her expression of bewilderment. "Let it pass."

Jennie eyed the Colt he inserted in a shoulder holster under his painting coat. "If you was settin' out to see anyone but Nettie Hobbs," she remarked, "I'd say for you to leave that thing behind. But she deserves a gun poked at her! What're you waitin' for, why'n't you get started?"

"Sore About the Mural!"

"GLASSES," Asey said. "Isn't there an old pair with gold rims around somewhere? They belonged to someone or other. You find 'em while I get me the rest of my trappin'—"

"Not a gin bottle!" Jennie said anxiously.

"Nops, just some paint an' brushes. What would you say was the predominant color in Quano-met, white an' green?"

"An' yellow. Lots of yellow."

"I forgot 'em," Asey said, "entirely. Well, if they need paintin', it'll have to be with the punkin' I got left over from the kitchen floor. I ain't got any yellow—"

Jennie protested later when he put on the old glasses she had found in the sewing machine drawer.

"Now," she said, "you look like a deacon. An' if you try to drive Syl's truck with 'em on, Asey, you'll kill yourself. They was Aunt Phrone's, an' she got 'em from a mail order house with a test-your-own-eyes card, an' the only time she wore 'em, she walked plumb into the sign!"

After a brief interlude in Syl's potato patch, during which the truck barely escaped overturning, Asey came to the conclusion that perhaps Jennie was right about the glasses. Regrettably, he put them in his pocket for future use.

He called by his friend the state policeman, on duty at the Quano-met four corners, without even getting a second glance. Quano-met's Main Street ignored him, except for two slick haired and sunburned salesmen, who made loud inquiries about the price of hay.

Heated Voices

THEY spent the next quarter hour putting on an act that charmed the tourist trade. Finally, after promising never to ignore another stop signal, Asey took his paint cans and brushes out of the rear of the truck, and joined the crowd that swarmed the streets.

The space in front of Nettie Hobbs's home was teeming with people. Obviously the Woman's Exchange was doing a land office business. Asey edged his way to the windows and stared.

There were fancy calico pan holders, crocheted tulle bags aprons of every style and color—all apparently designed for the oversize figure. Asey thought. Any one of them would have made a fine pup tent. There were huge quantities of luncheon sets, embroidered dish towels, beribboned cushions bristling with pink and lines of doll-like door stops made from milk bottles. There were pies, cakes, rolls, dishes of home-made fudge. There was a jar— it was almost a tank—of pickle limes. And the tourist trade was buying just left and right.

"Now I wonder," Asey murmured, "I wonder if maybe the ladies ain't pullin' a fast one."

It was the wife of the minister with the wart, who darted out to talk to a woman standing near Asey, who confirmed his suspicions that the ladies were augmenting Nettie's stock with church fair material.

"Jane, you've got to help! The Baptists have more aprons—got 'em from Minnie. And a quilt from the Methodist Chapel. And tell Sally to hurry up those quohog ash trays she's decoratin'—we're getting fifty cents apiece for them. I've got all the children at the shore getting shells—they're paying ten cents apiece just for undecorated ones! And for mercy's sakes, ask Harry where you get pickle limes! We're sellin' those in there for a quarter each. We—what? Oh, Nettie can't remember where she got the pie. She's had 'em for years, she says. Jane, you hurry up—we can rebuild every church in town and repave Main Street—if only we can find things to sell!"

"Where's Nettie?" the other woman asked. "What's she got to say about this sellin'?"

"I don't know, and I don't care," the minister's wife returned. "All she's thinkin' of is the money she's gettin' for articles and statements. She doesn't give a fig for the churches! She's out but now, talking to someone—more reporters, I shouldn't wonder!"

Asey edged his way out of the crowd and along the sidewalk to the narrow alley that separated the Exchange from Red Men's Hall. Swinging his paint cans, he marched up the alley and through the gate into the yard at the rear.

Voices—heated voices—issued from the open window in the all.

"The whole thing's absurd, and you know it's absurd, an' you know you're lyin' like a bloody trooper!" The woman who was speaking accented her words with a good hearty thump on something that resounded emphatically.

"What! It was Nettie Hobbs whose voice rose to a shrill scream. "What do you mean? I saw Pam Frye kill her. I tell you, I saw it with my own eyes."

There have been electric power rate reductions which have saved North Carolinians more than $23,000,000. In the last year alone, they cite, the savings have amounted to more than $9,000,000.

This, it is contended, didn't "just happen." It was brought about by the tact and diplomacy of Commissioner Winborne and by the fact that the utilities knew he meant busness and would go to the mat with them if they refused to grant the reductions he proposed.

The telephone case is cited to support this contention. When the companies would not voluntarily accept the Winborne-proposed cut in tolls, the Utility Commissioner ordered them to do so. When the phone folks went to court, Winborne showed he was ready to fight it out, whereupon the company backed water, accepted very substantial cuts and would go to the mat with them if they refused to grant the reductions he proposed.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York—May 21—(AP)—Traders ignored "good news" in today's stock market and sold leading issues down fractions to around two points. The fact that fairly constructive overnight items failed to stimulate buying at the opening shelled sentiment appreciably and rally attempts met with scant success during the remainder of the session. Offerings were comparatively light throughout the brief proceedings, however, with transfers approximating 300,000 shares. Bonds were uneven.

Passage of L'Follette-Bulwinkle Bill Significant

Raleigh, May 21—(AP)—Passage of the LaFollette-Bulwinkle Bill by both branches of Congress means that the moral as well as the financial support of the greatest country on earth has been thrown behind the war on Public Enemy No. 1 in the realm of disease, said Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, upon his return from Asheville, where he went to address the Civitan club.

"I consider this the greatest piece of public health legislation ever enacted," he continued, "and North Carolina should be proud of the successful efforts of Major A. L. Bulwinkle, veteran Congressman from the Tenth District, from the moment this movement was launched, Major Bulwinkle played a masterful hand and I believe this achievement on his part will constitute an important page in the history of war on the most insidious disease ever known to mankind.
