LOCAL SENIORS GET DIPLOMAS

Commencement Ends with Exercises Here Last Night

Emphasizing the fact that the school is the most important community enterprise, Dr. Holland Holton, head of the department of education of Duke University, addressed the graduating class of Greenville high school last night in the Robert H. Wright building.

One hundred eight seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of Greenville high school, were awarded diplomas.

"Since education is an endeavor in which all citizens have a direct interest, it is an enterprise that in a democracy the citizens should support cheerfully. It is a dangerous thing when large groups of our population become weary of contributing to education," declared Dr. Holton.

To the graduates Dr. Holton addressed three important points. First, he encouraged patience with new ideas.

"Liberality of mind is necessary for growth; without it progress never comes." Patience with old ideas the speaker suggested is equally significant for development.

Declaring that self-government is the ultimate aim of effective education, Dr. Holton praised the efforts of the Greenville high school to encourage this process of living.

"Of course, it's the most difficult way. Militarism and iron-bound discipline is much easier, but this does not train the type of citizen we want in America."

"Since government is part of our daily life, student participation in school government is altogether in line with the development of free citizens. And this is what the Greenville schools are making every effort to accomplish."

Awards were made by Superintendent J. H. Rose. To Joe Staton was presented the Bausch and Lomb scientific award for outstanding work in science and for promise of future development.

Baxter Clark was awarded the Dixon athletic trophy for outstanding sportsmanship by vote of the Monogram Club. To Louis Mayo, president of the student council, went the scholarship award presented by the Woman's Club.

SAYS BOMBING OF POPULACE IS BARBARIOUS

Emphatic Reprobation Expressed By Department Aide

RECALLS RECENT AERIAL ATTACKS

Under-Secretary Welles Declares Disapproval of Tactics Previously Stated

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—The United States government expressed today its "emphatic reprobation" of bombings of civilian populations in China and Spain.

Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, after a conference with President Roosevelt, issued a stern statement on behalf of the State Department.

The statement said American public opinion "regards such methods as barbarous."

It recalled that in recent days aerial bombings have caused the deaths of many hundreds of persons in Spain and China.

He mentioned the fact that the United States government has on numerous occasions expressed its disapproval of such action, particularly through statements by Secretary Hull September 28 and March 21.

Welles said today's statement was not taken in conjunction with Great Britain and was not being communicated diplomatically to General Franco or the Japanese government.

The senate approved an additional $300,000,000 for slum clearance, meanwhile.

The authorization was written into the administration's pending bill.

WOULD EXTEND COURT POWERS

Attorney - General Cummings Heard at Asheville

Asheville, June 3—(AP)—Attorney General Homer Cummings suggested extending the rule-making power to criminal procedure today in an address prepared for delivery before the Fourth Circuit Federal Judicial conference.

"In 1934," Cummings said, "the Supreme court, pursuant to an act of the Congress, promulgated rules prescribing practice and procedure with respect to proceedings in criminal cases after verdict x x they have worked well."

"In view of these developments I am led to suggest that the rule-making power be extended to criminal procedure prior to verdict x x if the extension of the rule making power to criminal procedure is a worthwhile reform x x there is no time like the present to begin the study of its possibilities."

Cummings pointed out Federal criminal procedure is governed by a "strange admixture of various statutes and rules of common law" and advocated the creation "under the rules of court, of a uniform, simplified and comprehensive system."

N. C. TO SHARE SEC-EXCHANGE IN ROAD FUND

Allotments Announced; Hospital Site Still Pending

Washington, June 3—(AP)—North Carolina's major share of federal road funds, authorized by Congress to be expended in the 1940 and '41 fiscal years, would be $6,936,000.

These figures were made public by Senator Hayden, (D-Ariz.) co-author of the Hayden-Cartwright Roads appropriations bill, which went to the White House June 1.

Hayden's figures show North Carolina's allocation for regular federal and highways in 1940 would be $2,323,000; for secondary or feeder roads, $349,000 and for grade crossing $497,000.

For the 1941 fiscal year, the state would receive $2,672,000 for regular Federal aid highways, $349,000 for secondary roads and $746,000 for grade crossings.

Also, Colonel George Ijams, chairman of a Veterans Administration sub-committee considering a site for a new veterans' hospital in North Carolina, said it would be "some five or six weeks" before the group could complete its study of proposed locations.

"The sub-committee has been together only once since we went to North Carolina," Col. Ijams said, "and we didn't discuss locations at that time. We merely went over briefs."

"Any reports that a site has been recommended are pure rumors."

FIFTY KILLED IN BOMBING OF CANTON, CHINA

Japanese Warplanes Attack Textile Factory

CHINESE FORCES ARE WEAKENING

Reports From Hankow Admit Situation Becoming Critical as Japs Plan Drive

Hongkong, June 3.—(AP)—Japanese bombing planes killed 50 persons in a Canton textile factory today and caused a great loss of life among house boat dwellers along the Canton river.

The factory was crowded with workers when two bombs struck the building. The attackers also bombed the vicinity of a railway station where many refugees were camped.

The station was not hit, however, and the raiders departed after 55 minutes.

The raid was another of the series that began Saturday in which a total of 1,000 civilians were estimated to have been killed and 1,500 wounded.

Shanghai, June 3—(AP)—China's army appeared to be weakening again today before continuous artillery and aviation attacks on the Central China front, where Japanese are driving toward Kaifeng and Chengchow, preparatory to a gigantic offensive south along the Peiping-Hankow railway against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

Chinese reports from Hankow admitted the situation was becoming critical at Hankow station along the Hankow railway and a key city in the Chengchow drive.

Foreign military observers reported evidence the Chinese were running short of heavy munitions.

CLAIM VICTORY IN STATE RACE

Both Winborne and Grady Make Optimistic Forecasts

Raleigh, June 3—(AP)—Stanley Winborne claimed he would win Democratic renomination as utilities commissioner tomorrow by a margin of at least 150,000 votes, while his opponent, Paul Grady, contended he would whip Winborne by 60,000.

"Enthusiastic supporters of a new public utility order for North Carolina report to my headquarters," Grady said in a statement issued at Smithfield, "that the Paul Grady straight from the shoulder attack on the private power monopoly as defended by my opponent, will sweep Mr. Winborne and his reactionary power theories from office."

"Reports from all over the state are very satisfactory," said Winborne in a statement issued here. "I believe the discussion of issues in this campaign has clarified many things the public has not heretofore understood and I believe the public has not been convinced that utility rates in North Carolina are reasonable and lower than in most states."

"We have a general agenda of unfinished business," he said, "but it is not the method, but the joint approach which is the important thing."

Douglas said he felt this was the first real meeting of minds between Martin and other members of the new governing regime of the Exchange and federal officials.

They were arranged in the church auditorium in groups and made a very pretty picture as one entered the church.

Another exhibition at the library is that of Mrs. B. L. Tyson, also of Red Oak, who is exhibiting vegetables she has grown. The following poem was written by her sister, Miss Pattie Jenkins, and accompanied the exhibit at a recent flower show:

A vegetable puzzle
You'll all agree,
Can you solve it?
Count and see.

A cabbage head
The largest of all,
And three little cucumbers
O! how small.
But don't you worry,
They'll get there in a hurry.

There are some yellow wax beans,
And beets as rosy as you've ever seen.

Now here are onions with a very strong scent,
They nearly made the other vegetables went.

Some little crooked-neck yellow squash,
Cooked with onions, they're good by gosh!

Lettus, turnip salad and garden peas,
These three will be sure to please.

There is a tomato, as green as can be,
Tho' it will soon turn red,
Just wait and see.

Some collard leaves
So crisp and green,
When boiled with ham
Are fit for a queen.

There are even some little cherries
To keep company with the huckleberries.

Plums and Irish potatoes,
The list completes.
A vegetable variety
That's hard to beat.

P.S.—Pattie is a poet
And doesn't know it.

RACES ON FOR COUNTY POSTS

Local Contests Claim Major Attention in Primary

Reflector Bureau.
 Raleigh, June 3.—All members of the 1933 Legislature (except those lucky enough to have escaped intra-party opposition) and most county offices in North Carolina will be nominated by Democrats and Republicans in tomorrow's primary.

In a few instances large fields will be reduced to two for run-off races in July.

In contrast to the situation which existed two years ago there are no statewide races or issues which are lapsing over into the legislative and local field—on the contrary much of the vote which is cast tomorrow will be accounted for by the keenness of these lesser contests. So instead of the state races getting voters to the polls the situation will be exactly the reverse.

Likewise there is no outstanding issue such as the sales tax which enters into all, or at least a big majority of the Assembly contests. The nearest approach to such an issue is the perennial liquor question, which will play quite a part in a number of races—particularly in the Piedmont and west. In Rowan, for instance, two men are running for the House on an avowed "Dry" platform and in Iredell famed Zeb Vance Turlington is opposing incumbent Representative Con C. Johnston with a statewide referendum as his main platform plank.

Elsewhere along the line issues are almost entirely local. Such statewide measures as a Constitutional amendment prohibiting diversion of highway funds, exemption of homesteads up to $1,000, and, to an extremely limited extent, the sales tax, will play a part in a number of counties and Senatorial districts—but in the main the personalities of candidates will play the decisive role.

Author OF THE WEEK

GWEN BRISTOW has prepared a new view of the South in "The Handsome Road," and made it seem both truthful and beautiful. This is the story of a battle between a po' white trash girl and an aristocrat who also is lovely, and it is all the more acid because the aristocrat is unaware for a long time that a battle is in progress.

DUKE'S SPEAKERS, AND WHERE THEY SPEAK

The above layout shows the principal speakers on Duke University's centennial commencement program, beginning tomorrow, and the buildings in which they will be heard. From right to left, in the insets, are Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper; Dr. Norman Vincent Peale of New York; Dr. Felix Morley of Washington, D. C.; and President William P. Few.

Secretary Roper will speak Saturday at a luncheon of trustees and alumni officers, to be held in the Union, the building in the foreground. Dr. Morley will deliver the commencement address on Monday in Page auditorium, shown in the center, and Dr. Peale and President Few will speak on Sunday in the chapel.

The interesting background photograph, reproduced here for the first time, was taken at a novel angle several days ago by a campus photographer who climbed to the top of Crowell tower to make the shot.

Judge Frank Wooten held the office for two terms; Judge Lewis Cooper held the office for two terms; Judge Darden held the office for two terms; Judge Bill Whedbee held the office for two terms. The present Judge, Dink James, is now holding the office his third term. This is the first time any County Court Judge has held the office for more than two terms.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—So awesome is the picture of 16 super-power radio stations dominating the air that the Federal Communications Commission has shunted aside any immediate solution of the problem and may meet it by indirection.

Weeks ago 16 radio stations asked to go on the air with 500,000 watts power, 10 times as powerful as the largest commercial station now in operation—although WLW at Cincinnati has hit that high level experimentally for some time.

Almost at once there were backstage repercussions on Capitol Hill among those members of Congress who think federal operation is the ultimate solution of the radio problem. Needless to say the number of members advocating such control is not large, but one told us privately that he would be pinning for government ownership of superpower permits was granted.

Hearing at Hand
The 16 requests for super-power are still pending before the commission, but an agreement was brought about to postpone action upon them until the commission could hear from all other operators as well as public agencies interested in radio operation.

That hearing, ordered to begin on June 8, looks good to last at least 10 days. While the 16 requests for super-power are not directly involved in the hearing, the commission left itself an opening by which it could handle them without acting directly on each application.

Among the subjects for discussion at the hearing is the regulation which at present fixes 50,000 watts as the largest allowable commercial station power. One source pointed out that the commission might vote to retain the 50,000 watt limit, and so indirectly liquidate all the superpower applications except two requesting operation on an experimental basis. These are WLW at Cincinnati and WHO at Des Moines, which as yet has no license at all.

Siting It Up
A three-phase problem faces the commission. It is:
1. Engineering—Super-power stations raise international difficulties by cranking into wave bands used for foreign stations, especially in Canada and Mexico. Small stations in the United States complain also that big stations "blanket them out."

2. Economic—If the commission should grant a few super-power licenses, would these stations gobble up all the advertising, thus choking out the smaller stations sufficiently to result in monopoly?

3. Social and Political—Should one owner be given control of such a "voice" as is represented in the potential nationwide spread of a 500,000 watt super-power station?

Accusations that the commission already is permitting an approach to monopoly in sanctioning chain systems such as National Broadcasting Company, Mutual and Clobbia have raised trend spots on the commission skin.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—One of the most colorful characters ever turned out by Greenwich Village has approached this correspondence with an unbelievable request. "Please," he asked us, "please do not mention my name in your column again, for a while at least."

Well, that's an unbelievable request in this town, where everybody is in a mad scramble for publicity. People in New York, especially if they are in the entertainment business, just don't make requests like that.

"Of course, Joe," I said (Joe isn't really his name) "if you say so, you'll get no mention here. But this astounds me. I don't want to pry into any secrets, but if it isn't getting too personal..."

He drew a deep breath. "Gee, thanks," he said with such evident satisfaction that I was more intrigued than ever. "You'll save me a lot of explaining. Remember that story you wrote about me several weeks ago? Well a girl I used to know several years ago read it in a Pennsylvania newspaper. And she's been writing me letters every day. She wants to visit me when she comes to New York. She wants me to visit her out there. She's a nice kid, but well, she gets sort of goofy at times, and I don't like goofy women. She's written me five letters since that column came out."

And that is what the trouble was ... An old romance, on her part at least. One morning she picked up the paper... and read about an old flame... And probably she remembered some idyllic summer in Manhattan... and she has been burning the mails with letters to Joe.

Joe is now married and very happy so. It is his theory that by-ones should be by-gones, that the dead past should remain very, very dead. He wants no part of the glamorous Yesterdays (if they were glamorous) and, most of all, he wants no mention of his name in this column. For a while, anyway.

Okay, pal.... Far be it from us to thwart true love.... Say the word and we'll write another column about it's being a mistake in the first place.... Anything you say.

Interesting in many ways are the new murals at the Jewish Hospital in Brooklyn, done by Albert Cuggal, whose brother is the famous maestro and caricaturist at the Waldorf-Astoria. Albert is the younger brother, a Spaniard who lives in 72nd street. Half his time is spent wandering old roads and sitting at stone tables in the arches of Spanish masonry in Old Spain.
The other half is spent to work here and painting, while seeing America. As for those new murals, they're on a theme which annually grows dearer to adolescent and adult hearts, namely, Mother Goose Snow White, Alice in Wonderland, Pinocchio, Three Little Pigs, and Finally Red Riding Hood.... They're worth a trip out there to see.

Ben Marden's Rivers is situated on the exact cliff overlooking the Hudson river where Pearl White used to take those dazzling leaps while making blood-curdling serials.

Says He Intended To Sign Advertisement

J. L. Outlaw, mayor of Grimesland, inserted an advertisement in The Daily Reflector yesterday in the form of an open letter to the county commissioners, declared today he had no intentions to conceal his identity as the writer.

for the last five years enjoyed the world's grandest vacation. He has charged that Reynolds is receiving financial aid from the C. I. O. and that senior Senator Josiah W. Bailey and his partisans are supporting the incumbent.

DEMOCRATS VOTE SATURDAY TO END PRIMARY CAMPAIGN

(Continued from page one) so few and far between has to be almost undiscoversible. Hancock has termed Reynolds a "counterfeiter statesman" and "a playboy who has

In the last few days inkings of state administration support for Hancock have been noted in the fact that Major L. P. McLendon of Greensboro has taken the air for the Oxford man, while former Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus has openly bestowed his blessing. On the whole, however, a whole church full of mice, not only blind but dumb, couldn't be any quieter than the state organization leaders have been.

How to Draw a Croud as a June Bride

So you're thinking of getting married this June? Lots of people are, but only a few of the weddings will make much of a splash. If you want yours to attract some real attention, you might stage it like this:

ON HORSEBACK To be yoked, this Virginia couple climbed into saddles. Everybody else was on horseback, too, except the minister. Rose B. Wallace and George M. Van Horn were the principals.

IN A POOL Some people are very cautious about marriage, but J. F. Gutrick and Katie Wilson of Los Angeles, plunged right in with driving helmets on. The minister looks on as they embrace.

IN WHALE'S MOUTH The whale was on exhibition, and so were Betty Gentry and J. R. Henderson when they thought up this stunt at Long Beach, Calif. This is the wedding rehearsal.

IN A LAKE This one wasn't so far-fetched, because Merlin Andrews met Elsie Hagner in the weir. He saved her from drowning. Everybody wore bathing suits except the minister.

Reply To Article -By- County Commissioners

The people of Pitt County, including the present Board of Commissioners are hereby advised that the "citizen" did not sign his name, not because of fear of the consequences or lack of courage, but because of a misunderstanding between the undersigned and the Publisher of the newspaper.

With respect to Mr. Batson and his employment by the Board, it makes no difference to the citizenship of Pitt County which should have been sufficient for the Commissioners to immediately dispense with his services.

The Commissioners cite figures for the months of April, 1937 and 1938, with respect to the liquor sales. Why do they fail and refuse to advise the people of Pitt County about the liquor sales from the beginning of the system in the County?

It is gratifying to note from the second statement of the Commissioners that they now give credit to the citizens of Pitt County for the progress made rather than taking all the credit for themselves as they apparently did in their first article.

Payments by the Board for debt services and other obligations of the County, are, or should be a matter of public record, and in this connection will the Commissioners advise the people of Pitt County if the surplus is now as great as it was when they took office, excluding the amounts received from added sources of revenue during their term?

The Commissioners refer to the writer of this article as a Deputy Sheriff under S. A. Whitehurst, which shows conclusively that their actions are based upon political motives in an effort to get out from under a load which is becoming unbearably heavy to them; and with respect to the true sentiment of the Grimesland citizenship and the citizenship of Pitt County generally, the Commissioners are hereby referred to the results of the Democratic Primary to be held on June 4th.

The article so bitterly complained of by the Commissioners was not published for the political use of Sheriff Whitehurst; neither was he consulted with reference to the preparation and publication of said article. Sheriff Whitehurst is not in need of assistance from me as an individual; the character and reputation proved by him during two full days of Court hearing is sufficient answer to the veiled insinuations and political barbs hurled at him by the Board in a spirit of envy.

The Commissioners claim that they have no political interest in this matter; if not, why should they accuse the writer of the article complained of on political grounds, for it was merely in reply to their article theretofore published by the Commissioners in an effort to obtain information about the matters therein referred to.

In conclusion, if the Commissioners have given no facts which have not already been presented to the Court they should acquaint themselves with the testimony before rushing into public print. A minor investigation will disclose that the actions complained of against the Sheriff, and recited in the second paragraph of the Commissioners' answer are not supported by the evidence produced in the trial, for the auditor, a witness for the petitioners in the proceeding, testified under oath that the Sheriff had accounted to the Treasurer of Pitt County for every bill of cost collected by him; and all other matters in said paragraph are now the subject of trial in a Court of competent jurisdiction on questions of law and fact; the proper tribunal for the determination of such matters, and not proper to be tried in newspaper columns on EX PARTE statements of the County Commissioners, who are the moving parties in the proceeding and who have not yet had the courage to go on the stand in a case brought by them and verified by the present Chairmen of the Board of County Commissioners as a citizen and tax payer.

J. L. OUTLAW, Grimesland, N. C., June 3, 1938.

by a full term's service. Both candidates are outwardly and apparently sincerely confident. Practically every experienced political commentator and observer in the state predicts a victory for Reynolds; most of them giving not more than a dozen of the state's hundred counties.

In the Utility Commissioner's race, incumbent Stanley Winborne has been vigorously attacked by his opponent Paul D. Grady of Kenly as a "representative of the utilities, instead of the people." The former State Senate president pro tem has promised he would lower utility rates if elected and has advocated a state-conducted appraisal of utility values.

Winborne has stood on the record he has made during eight years in office and has pointed to the great savings he says have been made for the consumers of the state. He has charged Grady with conducting a campaign of "misrepresentation and distortion of fact."

Senator Grady two years ago polled more than 208,000 votes in the second primary for lieutenant governor and is so well known throughout the state as to be a really formidable rival for the Commissioner. Winborne, on the other hand, is believed to have the support, though it's been none too vocal, of the state administration, and he is expected to benefit accordingly.

Lack of general public knowledge of the issues involved and of the candidates themselves has made forecasting of this race a matter of extreme difficulty; but such indications as there are lead to a rather general belief that Winborne will be renominated, though not by anything approaching a landslide majority.

Four of the State's eleven sitting Congressmen have no opposition—Lindsay Warren, Harold D. Cooley, J. Bayard Clark and R. L. Doughton.

Three incumbents have chosen not to run for renomination—Walter Lambeth, William Umstead and Hancock, who gave up his Fifth District seat to try conclusions with Senator Reynolds.

Four others have more or less formidable opposition. In the Second Troy Barnes of Wilson is challenging Judge John Kerr, sitting member; but late reports give the challenger little chance.

In the Tenth, veteran Congressman A. L. Blumwinkle has his hands very full with the third effort of Charlotte's Hamilton C. Jones to oust him from the classic halls of Congress. The Major is said to have lost much of his textile magnate support by reason of his advocacy of Wage-Hour legislation, but to have gained recompensing votes among the textile workers.

In the Eleventh, R. L. Whitmore, seeking to displace incumbent Zeb Weaver, isn't conceded much of a chance by those who ought to know in the Fifth, National Committeeman Lon Folger has a wide edge over two opponents; while in the Sixth and Eighth, the multiplicity of candidates (eight in the sixth, five in the eighth) has so scrambled matters as to make any prediction an out and out bit of guess-work.

Greenies Clip Goldsboro Bugs, 6-2, in 10-Inning Game

BOBO'S HOMER IN 10TH WINS

Locals Tally Four Runs in Extra Inning; New Outfielder in Lineup Yesterday

Lloyd Bobo, Greenville hurler, hit and pitched the Greenies to a 6-4 ten-inning victory over Clarence Rogers' Goldsboro Bugs in the Wayne county capital yesterday afternoon.

Bobo homered with one on in the tenth to break the deadlock and then held the Bugs scoreless in their half of the extra frame.

Ralph Simpson of Melrose, Mass., who joined the team yesterday, got off to a good start. He clouted a homer in the third with one on to score the first runs of the game.

Friday—Goldsboro at Greenville.
Saturday—Greenville at Tarboro.
Sunday—Tarboro at Greenville.
Tuesday—Kinston at Greenville.

Birch Douglass, who joined the locals Wednesday at first base, also made a good showing. Birch hit two for five.

Goldsboro scored their runs in the fifth and the game rocked along with neither team able to tally before the Greenies made their two on Bobo's homer and added two more for good measure in the same extra inning.

The batting strength of the Greenies apparently has been materially increased within the past week.

It was Greenville's ability to hit homers and hit when hits meant runs which gave them the victory. A check of the box shows that each team collected nine hits. Bobo issued five passes and Kunis, Bug hurler three; Bobo struck out two and Kunis a like number.

Each club made one miscue. The Greenies were scheduled to meet Goldsboro at Third Street Park this afternoon, but at this writing the weather man seems to have two strikes on the old ball game.

Snow Hill Has Field Day, Expense Aces

Ayden, June 2.—Snow Hill blasted 15 hits off Manager Bill Herring and scored a 17-5 victory over Ayden yesterday.

The Billies scored three runs on three hits in the first frame, but the Aces came back in their half to tally four runs at the expense of Pitchers Pucci and Druce.

After that madcap inning it was not much of a ball game—for two good reasons: Cecil Longest took over the mound for Snow Hill and allowed only two hits in eight innings. He fanned eight. While Cecil was mastering the Aces, his mates collected a dozen hits and 14 runs. The attack included two homers by Catcher Joe Bistoff and one each by Charlie Gadd, Walter Rabb and Harry Soufas.

The sixth was the Billies' big inning. They scored six runs as the result of two wild pitches, three errors, and Gadd's homer with two on.

Tony Maisano set the pace in the Snow Hill attack with a homer and two singles in five tries.

Jiggs Gassaway of the Aces hit for the circuit in the ninth, with nobody on base. This was the 16th straight game in which Jiggs has hit safely. He also had a single yesterday.

Snow Hill collected fifteen hits off Herring, while Ayden collected only five off Pucci, Druce and Longest.

The Aces made six miscues. Score by innings: R. H. E. Snow Hill 301 046 030—17 Ayden 400 000 001—5 Batteries—Snow Hill: Pucci, Druce, Longest and Bistoff; Ayden: Herring and Pucci.

Black Jack Farmer Produces Big Turnip

W. A. Venters, Black Jack farmer brought a purple-top turnip weighing 11 pounds to Greenville today and left it in the window of The Reflector business office for the skeptical to see themselves.

Mr. Venters said the patch which produced the turnip was sowed in February and added that he had plenty of large ones, but the eleven pounder was the largest.

Skipper Better

Manager Monk Joyner of the Greenies, who has been suffering with an injured knee, is showing marked improvement, but it probably will be Tuesday or Wednesday of next week before he will be able to take over the reins of the team.

The skipper has left the hospital, where he went for observation but is confined to his home.

Vincent Smith, first string catcher for the Greenies, who also is out with an injured knee is expected to be kept out of the line-up even longer than Joyner. Don King is acting as manager during the absence of Joyner, and Pratt is doing the catching while Smith is out.

Another Game Won On Homer in Tenth

New Bern, June 3.—Charlie Bowen homered over the right field wall yesterday on Berry's first pitch in the tenth inning to provide Williamston with a 4-3 victory over New Bern in a 10-inning game yesterday.

This same Charlie Bowen had helped the Martins pull into a tie in the regular distance. He singled with one away in the eighth advanced on an infield out, stayed put as Marshall beat out an infield hit, and went the rest of the way when Berry issued walks to Rhinehart and Wry. This tally knotted things at 3-3, and Stanley then grounded out.

Anderson's infield hit and Swamp Norwood's homer gave the Bears a pair of runs in the first inning. A walk, an error, and an infield out brought the last New Bern tally in the third.

The Bears threatened in the tenth. Stith opened with a single, and advanced on Tex Thornton's sacrifice. Dallas Thornton was sent in to run for Stith, who had injured his right leg. Anderson walked. Norwood hit a hard one near second—Best, fielded the ball, but his throw to catcher at second was too late to get Anderson. Thornton, trying to come home on the play, was caught at the plate for the final out.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Williamston 011 000 010 1-4 9 1 New Bern 201 000 000 0-3 13 2 Batteries—Williamston: Svitil, Wry and Marshall; New Bern: Berry and Thornton.

Kinston Cuts Serps' Lead To Two Games

Tarboro, June 3.—Kinston's Eagles showed no respect yesterday for a trio of Tarboro hurlers, and the result was a 7-4 victory for the runner-up Eagles over the league-leading locals. The result cut Tarboro's margin over Kinston to only two games.

Tommy West's boys collected 13 base knocks. They got away to a three-run lead, against Lefty Robinson in the first frame when Sid Stringfellow tripled, Wyrostek was walked and Bill Southworth homered over the left-field wall.

The Serpents came back with two in the home half. Frankie Ware hit an inside-the-park homer. Singles by Soup Campbell, Hank Lehman and Maynard brought the other tally. That was as close as Tarboro came to the Eagles, who stayed ahead all the way.

Kinston sewed up things in the fourth. Barrow, safe on an error, scored on Skipper Tommy West's three base knock. Stringfellow's grounder was used to catch West at home. Stringfellow stole second, scored on Wyrostek's single. Hurley hurried the route for the victorious Eagles.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Kinston 300 200 110-7 13 1 Tarboro 200 010 010-4 11 1 Batteries—Kinston: Hurley and West; Tarboro: Robinson, Malone, Sieminski and Diek.

A Final Message to the Democratic Voters of the Fifth Judicial District

On the eve of the Democratic Primary, I am addressing this message to each and everyone of the hundreds of loyal Democrats whom I have seen and talked with during the past several weeks, assuring them that I am greatly appreciative of the influence and support given me during that period, and to let each one of those who have assured me of their vote June 4th, that I am confident through their efforts in my behalf that I will be elected to the office to which I aspire.

To those whom I have not had the pleasure of contacting and talking with during the primary I am placing my candidacy before them and asking them, if they are not otherwise pledged, to cast their vote for me as their Solicitor.

I am reiterating the promises I have made all during the campaign—that if elected, I will fulfill the duties of the office at all times to the very best of my ability, showing favors to none but handling the work in a fair and impartial manner and endeavoring to serve the People as a whole, instead of serving a few individuals.

Again assuring you of my deepest gratitude for the reception and favors accorded me during the campaign and assuring you that I feel confident that the vote Saturday, June 4th will fulfill the expectations of my friends and myself, I remain,

Respectfully,
JOHN HILL PAYLOR
Candidate for Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District

Film Orientals Are Usually Occidental

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — Anyone aspiring to oriental stardom in Hollywood movies had better sell the stork to drop him off in Sweden, Hungary, Los Angeles, Rumania or the place where Austria used to be.

Hollywood hasn't a real orient-born star since Sessue Hayakawa returned to his Japanese homeland, apparently to stay. Keye Luke, who is Charlie Chan's No. 1 son in Hollywood, was born in China but reared in America and he's practically as American as your next-door neighbor. Anna May Wong is Chinese—but born in Los Angeles.

Hollywood's best known orientals of the moment are:

Peter Lorre

Edward G. Robinson
"Hatchet Man" Of Rumania

Loretta Young

Paul Muni

OCTAGON HOUSE

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating yesterday's murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quanonnet. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife and Pam Frye is suspected. Pam disappears after hiding $50,000 worth of ambergris she found. Asey knows someone is after the ambergris and he is trying to locate it. Then Jack Lorne discovers he was never married to Marina because she was already married to Tim Carr, boarder at Octagon House. Marina was also playing around with Roddy Strutt whose plane conveniently crashed the night before. Pam's father, Tim and two troopers have been in the woods behind the house quite awhile when the barn catches fire. Jack and Peggy Boone, an artist, urge Asey to do something, but he calmly watches the barn burn to the ground.

Chapter 25
Knocked Out
ONCE in the deepening shadow of the pines, Asey dropped his mantle of carefree indifference. He had not actually seen anyone lurking around, but he felt sure that someone was lurking. There had to be.

Someone had fired the barn, all right, and Asey was the first to admit that it was an excellent piece of work. Not just a complete bit of demolishing, either.

Asey stopped short. "Be back," he said briefly.

Someone had done a neat bit of thinking. There was no better way for someone to find out where Pam's ambergris was than to start a fire in the general vicinity, and then sit back and watch to see who ran where.

And that person, Asey thought, would never know how he personally suffered, sitting there on the porch and spinning yarns, while he fairly itched to be hunting the Octagon House from attic to cellar.

The woods were thicker than he had supposed existed any more, what with all the reforesting and deforesting that had taken place in the neighboring towns. The air was damp, and the tops of the tall pines cut out what twilight there was left. Not the sort of place, definitely, where Asey would care to meet up with those two muscle-bound servants that belonged to Roddy Strutt.

He stopped for a moment to tie a shoestring, and for the first time it occurred to him that he was being trailed. He couldn't hear anyone—the carpet of pine needles was too thick to carry the sound of footsteps—but he knew. He could almost feel the presence of someone behind him.

"Ho-hum," he said aloud, and started back the way he had come. He couldn't see anyone hiding in the dense growth.

And then suddenly someone to his left started to run. Asey set off in pursuit.

Within 10 yards, he knew that he would never catch the figure that twisted and turned and sidestepped so nimbly ahead of him. It wasn't so much a question of speed. It was the combination of the slippery pine needles and his leather soled shoes. Those were the things that would lick him.

When he changed to his painting clothes, he'd climbed into an old pair of work shoes from the back shed. Each shoe weighed five pounds, he decided as he stumbled along, and the soles were so dry and brittle that they might have been made of wood.

"Where's Everybody?"
GRABBING at a tree to save himself from a fall, Asey yanked the shoes off, and then dashed to catch up with the figure ahead. An unexpected patch of blackberry vines made him wince and wish that he had kept the old clodhoppers on. But he was gaining on the figure. If he could keep up, he'd get the fellow before he reached the edge of the clearing.

wait. Hide and seek in the woods or fun for the boarders! Come to Octagon House. No modern improvements, but plenty of old-fashioned action.

"Bad Mans"
BUT after sitting and waiting for nearly a quarter of an hour, Tim marched off toward where Asey had disappeared. He found Asey, too. Lying under a pine.

He blinked as Timothy leaned over him, and put a hand toward the lump that was beginning to rise on his forehead.

"So you got tagged too, did you?" Tim said. "I didn't even understand you were in the game."

"Neither did I," Asey said. "My my!"

"It's best not to open your eyes right away," Tim advised. "I speak with authority. Too many things move too much. Asey, who is this stranger with homicidal tendencies? I don't like him."

"I didn't see him," Asey said. "but he's a near relation to Joe Louis. Did you catch sight of the lad?"

"I had a glimpse of someone," Tim said, "shortly after you left. I suppose it was our pal. Look when you feel up to it, we'd better seek out the bush where Aaron's probably stretched out. Or did you happen to find him?"

Asey sat up. "Aaron? Look, what's been going on here, anyway?"

"There are bad mans in the woods," Tim told him, as he lighted a cigarette. "They hit folks over the head. I don't quite understand the game, Asey. Aaron wandered away from Gran and me, just the way he kept wandering at that clambake. I went after him. I heard him call me. That's all I can tell you. En route to the noise, I got tagged. Then you peered at me—d'you know you were quintuplets? You were. And then I came here and found you. I think," he rubbed his forehead reflectively, "that the curtain has been lowered to denote a lapse of considerable time. It wasn't nearly as dark as this, when I got biffed. Look, we'll have to find Aaron before this trickle of grey light disappears. He ought to be in the vicinity. Let's scour."

But Aaron was not in the vicinity, nor could they find any trace of him.

Huge Wheat Crop Harvest Starting; Maps Tell Story

By The A. P. Feature Service
The United States' wheat harvest, just getting under way, is expected to be the second largest on record. The May estimate of the Department of Agriculture put the winter wheat yield at 754,000,000 bushels. Record-setting 1932 yielded 825,000,000 bushels. Last year, 685,102,000. Here's the situation:

1—Most of the wheat grown in the U. S. is produced in the areas indicated by shading. The heavier shading indicates those sections where wheat acreage is greatest. The acreage for both winter wheat (sown in the fall) and spring wheat (sown in the spring) is shown. Winter wheat is about three-fourths of the crop.

2—Harvest time for winter wheat is at hand. It starts in the South in early June and moves north. Here are the main harvesting belts with the dates when there's work for reapers.

3—Crops in most of the wheat states are expected to be better this year than last. Plus and minus signs indicate the expected percentage of increase or decrease in each state. The figures are based on Department of Agriculture estimates for winter wheat production.

ANSWER -By The- County Commissioners

To The CITIZEN Who Would NOT SIGN His Name

The members of the Board of County Commissioners, at personal sacrifice, have endeavored to discharge their full duty.

When facts were presented to the Board showing that the Sheriff of Pitt County served over a period of years summonses issuing from other counties to the Sheriff of Pitt County, collected fees for such services, but did not report them to the County; collected court costs due the County, but did not report the same to the County; served both civil and criminal papers, issuing out of Magistrates' Courts, both in and out of the County; collected fees for same and did not report them to the County; collected fees for homestead allotments and did not report the same to the County; sold land under execution and did not report the 2 1/2% commission to the County; collected turnkey fees and did not report the same to the County; collected jail fees when prisoners were not in jail, the Board of Commissioners were impelled, under their oath, to pursue the course which would best protect the interest of the people of Pitt County.

When the A. B. C. Board began the under-cover campaign last August it had on hand for enforcement purposes $2,139.14. After paying the cost of the under-cover work to date, on account of increase of sales of nearly twice of what they were before August of last year, the enforcement fund now amounts to more than four times what it did last August. The profits from the sale of A. B. C. Board whiskey, which were required by statute to be set aside for enforcement purposes, have paid the cost of the enforcement campaign. This fund has been built up at the expense of those who buy A. B. C. Board whiskey and not at the expense of any tax payer.

At the meeting of the Law and Order League, held on Nov. 18th, 1937, Mr. Cutlar Moore, Chairman of the State A. B. C. Board, made the statement that he had caused a secret survey to be made of conditions in Pitt County during May of 1937, and that he found conditions so bad that he told the A. B. C. Board to put on an under-cover campaign and he with the Governor of the State, recommended A. S. Batson for the work. Mr. Moore also stated that unless the Pitt County A. B. C. Board spent its enforcement funds for enforcement purposes only, he would put in office a Board who would do so.

In addition to the recommendations of the Governor and Mr. Moore, Mr. Batson was also strongly recommended by a large number of outstanding citizens including the following: The present Clerk of Court of New Hanover County. The present Mayor of the City of Wilmington. The present Chief of Police of the City of Wilmington. The immediate Ex-Chief of Police of the City of Wilmington. The present District Solicitor of the 8th District. Both of the present candidates for Judge of the 8th District.

Liquor sales by the A. B. C. stores since the enforcement campaign began have consistently averaged nearly double those for a like period before the enforcement campaign. However, the comparison asked for, for the months of April, 1937 and 1938, are herewith given: Sales for April, 1937, $18,682.65, and sales for April, 1938, $29,265.10.

With respect to our claim for accomplishments, we make no claim other than what the facts show. The good citizens of the County along with those men who served with us during the period in question, made these accomplishments possible.

The reference to debt reduction stated plainly that it referred only to County Wide operations. No reference was made nor was any credit taken for more than $150,000 reduction in District Debts during the 5 1/2 year period. Neither was any reference made to the increase in District debts of $114,710.68, every penny of which was advanced from the County Treasury. So far as we know, this is the first time the County has been in position to finance the cost of school buildings for Districts who could not finance themselves. It is indeed strange that this action would be challenged from Grimesland who received a new building for 45% of its cost because of funds advanced by this Board from the County Treasury, whereas not a single complaint has been received from those Districts which did not participate in the building program and who have had to finance in full the cost of their school buildings. We do not feel that this statement made by J. L. Outlaw, who has served as a Deputy Sheriff under S. A. Whitehurst for years, reflects the true sentiment of the Grimesland citizenship.

Mr. Outlaw further shows his unfairness and disregard of facts for political purposes when he insinuates that the tax payers through the Board of Commissioners are not supporting school libraries and vocational training with particular reference to the Grimesland school. The facts are: Of the total County Budget for schools (for which a 7-cent tax rate is levied), of $49,469.40, 45%, or $22,429.00, is appropriated for vocational training and libraries. The school budget provides for 3 vocational teachers to be paid entirely from funds of Pitt County tax payers, and one of these taught home economics in the Grimesland school.

We regret that it is necessary to hastily reply to this article which D. J. Whichard states was presented to the Daily Reflector for publication by J. L. Outlaw. The article indicates clearly that it was published primarily for the political use of Sheriff Whitehurst and the Board was attacked for this purpose. This requires statements which necessarily deal with facts which we had preferred that the people receive from the evidence as presented to the Court. With respect to Sheriff Whitehurst, we have given no facts which have not already been presented to the Court.

He has kept his campaign pledges to support the policies and programs of the Democratic Party. He has supported all humane legislation designed to improve the living and working conditions of all classes. He believes strongly in the high purpose of the ROOSEVELT Administration. He is known as one of the hardest workers and busiest Senators at the Capitol.

He has voted on all important matters. He has never straddled or side-stepped an issue.

He is considerate, courageous and courteous.

Senator Reynolds is in the forefront in championing the cause of labor, protecting the farmer, aiding the masses and safeguarding the rights of business and industry.

He has been particularly active in handling the affairs of our veterans of all American Wars.

He opposes any foreign entanglements that might lead this nation into another World War.

Senator Reynolds ranks high on four important Senate Committees, namely: Banking and Currency—Military Affairs—Territories and Insular Affairs—and District of Columbia.

He has whole-heartedly co-operated with State, County, City and Chambers of Commerce officials for the advancement of North Carolina.

His secretary, Wesley M. McDonald, was on the secretarial staff of the late United States Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina for 12 years and later served with United States Senator Cameron Morrison. His 18 years' association with the people of North Carolina and his experience and training in Washington enable him to render valuable service to all the people of the State.

More people daily visit Senator Reynolds' office at the Capitol than that of any other Senator; his volume of mail (hundreds of letters daily) is one of the heaviest in the Senate, and his incoming telephone calls daily climb into the hundreds.

His love for his State inspired him to deliver hundreds of addresses before patriotic and fraternal Societies throughout the Nation, pointing out North Carolina's industrial and business opportunities, its scenic attractions and describing its historical shrines.

Senator Reynolds is popular with his colleagues and with Governmental Department officials. He has made great strides. His unbounded energy for work, his ability to speedily absorb complicated matters, his keen interest in his constituents, his loyalty and devotion to his State and his radiant personality have made him a National figure.

HE HAS STOOD BY THE PRESIDENT.

A VOTE FOR REYNOLDS IS A VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT.

To know Senator Reynolds is to admire him. YOUR VOTE WILL BE APPRECIATED. GO FORWARD WITH REYNOLDS.

Sincerely yours, Bob R. Reynolds, U.S. Senator May 1938.
