SINGLE SPEECH ON ITINERARY OF PRESIDENT

To Make Only One Formal Address, at Marietta, Ohio

PLANS NUMEROUS INFORMAL TALKS

PWA Official, Meanwhile, Announces Aim to Speed Up All Projects in Program

Washington, June 10.—President Roosevelt said today the only formal speech he now expects to make on his cross-country trip next month would be at Marietta, Ohio.

He indicated, however, he probably would make a number of informal talks.

The trip, which will give Mr. Roosevelt numerous opportunities to express directly or indirectly his favor for Democratic primary senatorial candidates, will be through several states between the national capital and California.

The President gave no indication at his press conference, nor has any White House aide yet indicated, what part Governor A. B. Chandler, who is running against Senator Barkley (D-Ky) candidate for renomination would play in a trip across Kentucky.

Meanwhile, the PWA decided to assign federal inspectors to speed up all projects under the new $1,365,000,000 PWA program.

"PWA is on trail" said Acting Administrator Howard Gray, "and we have adopted this innovation to put over the heaviest schedule of non-federal projects in the shortest time ever allotted for a public works program."

The inspectors, Gray said, will be chosen from experienced PWA engineers and each will be given 10 to 30 projects. They will make sure that applicants (usually municipalities) do not delay in financing 55 per cent of the construction costs, in meeting specifications, and in letting contracts.

These were the main items of delay under the previous PWA program when regional officers handled all contracts between Washington and applicants and Washington headquarters. Officials said the smaller areas of operations would speed up spending which the pending legislation says must be completed by the fall of 1940.

Final Rites Held For Bethel Woman

Bethel—Funeral services for Mrs. W. A. Briley, 53, who died in the Pitt Community hospital Tuesday morning following a critical illness of 10 days with pneumonia were conducted Wednesday afternoon.

The services were held at the home in Bethel, with Rev. M. M. Johnson, Baptist minister, in charge. The following were pallbearers: J. W. Carson, Jesse S. Carson, Wadie T. Carson, J. W. Carson, William Whitehurst, Cecil Reddick, Garland C. Manning and Elisha Robertson.

Mrs. Briley is survived by her husband and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Nina Roebuck, Johnnie and Marland Briley of Stokes, Thurman Briley of Tarboro and Beeton Briley and Mrs. Clyde Weatherbee of Bethel. Two sisters Mrs. Frank M. James of Bethel and Mrs. John W. Williams of Oak City also survive.

Over Six Hundred In Summer School

East Carolina Teachers College opened yesterday for the summer session with a first-day enrollment of over six hundred, the largest summer registration for a number of years.

The enrollment will be increased during the next few days by registration of students who were unable to reach the campus for formal registration day.

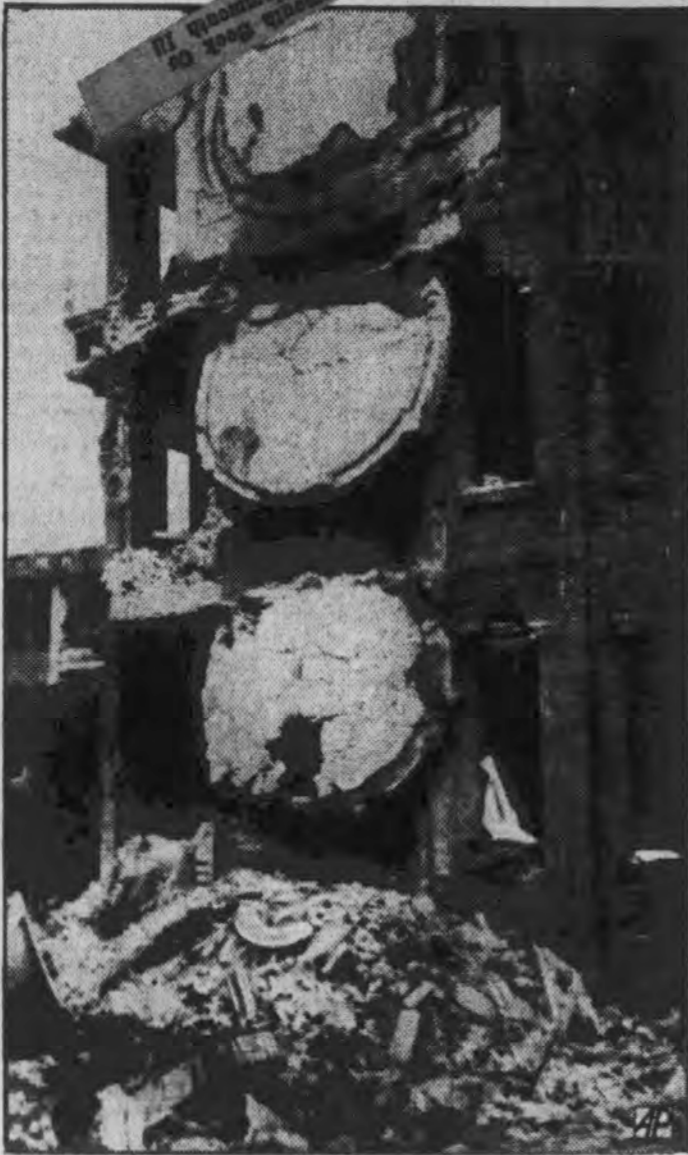

A number of courses in new fields are being offered for the first time this summer, among them two this first term given by Coach J. D. Alexander—Playground Supervision, and Tests and Measurements in Physical Education—and one in Industrial Arts for Elementary Teachers, given by Mr. W. H. McHenry, in charge of Industrial Arts at the College.

Legion Post To Name Officers Next Week

Pitt County Post No. 39 American Legion, will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, June 14, at Respass barbecue place. The dinner meeting is scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock.

J. Hicks Corey, adjutant, is urging all members to be present as officers will be elected for the next year.

THIS WAS A CANTON MANSION

Here is the ruined facade of what once was a fine residence in the Tungshan district of Canton, China. Today it is a monument to Mars, an illustration of what constant bombing of the Japanese has done toward reducing the South China metropolis to a shambles reigned over by death. More than 8,000 persons have been killed or wounded during the current series of aerial attacks. This is one of the first pictures from Canton received in the U. S.

Peiping - Hankow Line Cut By Japanese Forces

Shanghai, June 10 (AP)—Japanese cut the Peiping-Hankow railroad for the first time south of the yellow river today and launched an attack on Chengchow against feeble resistance as their drive inland through the heart of China gained momentum.

Chengchow is the junction of the Peiping-Hankow, main line between Hankow's, China's provisional capital, and the central north, and the east-west Lungtai railroad, the eastern end of which the Japanese already have captured.

Hankow-Chengchow traffic was halted when the Japanese raiding column blew up a bridge south of Chengchow.

Although the Japanese swiftly closing in toward the junction from the sandy plains southeast of the city.

Only Three Cases Tried At Session

Only three defendants faced Judge W. A. Darden in city Recorder's court this morning. Heretofore the recorder has been faced with several times that many at each session of court.

Arthur Cherry, Negro, was acquitted on an assault charge, but was convicted of drunkenness and fined $10 and costs of court.

Frank Harrington, convicted of drunkenness, was given a 30-day sentence, suspended upon payment of costs and good behavior.

Willie E. Corey, Negro, was bound over to Superior court under bond of $200 on a charge of larceny of a watch.

Farmers Still Grumbling As Check-Up Is Started

Raleigh, June 10.—As farmers here and there continue to growl and grumble about their cotton, tobacco and other acreage allotments, the checkup of AAA officials on compliance with this year's control laws is in progress this week.

The approximately 2,000 trained experts sent into the field will be called upon to find out whether or not one of the violent threats of the objectors have been carried into action.

So great has been the reaction against allotments that in three counties, at least, the county agents have been put squarely on the well-known spot.

In Franklin the county agent was eased out by the county board of commissioners by the simple expedient of refusal to provide funds with which to pay him. In Vance and Wilson loud charges of favoritism and Hitlerian aims were hurled at the incumbent agents.

EIGHT SERVICE FLIERS KILLED DURING STORM

Huge Army Bomber Believed Struck by Lightning

FALLS TO GROUND ON ILLINOIS FARM

Plane Carrying Three Officers and Five Enlisted Men Enroute to Denver, Colo.

Delavan, Ill., June 10.—(AP)—Eight army air corps men were killed today in the crash of a huge army bomber on the Youle farm, north of here, during a brief, but violent storm.

Miss Laura Youle said she believed the craft was struck by lightning.

"There was an explosion, debris flew in the air and the ship came down about a half mile from our farm house she said, 'It fell in muddy ground, wings and fuselage were badly torn. At least seven bodies were strewn around, wearing unopened parachutes, and one was still in the plane.'"

An army bomber carrying three officers and five enlisted men was missing on a flight from Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., to Denver, Colo. Air corps authorities at Rantoul would not say definitely the crashed plane was the missing bomber, but admitted they had been out of communications with the ship for hours.

Henry Houghton, Delavan undertaker, said all victims were in uniform. The bodies were so badly mangled, he said, he was unable to determine immediately if there "were eight or nine."

The missing bomber left Rantoul at 9:25 a. m. (CST) on what officials said was a "routine flight" to Denver.

The three officers aboard were identified as Capt. Richard Reeves, Lieut. Norman Ives and a man listed only as Langhen.

SATURDAY SET ARGUE MOTION

Defendants To Ask Modification of Restraining Order

A motion to modify an order restraining the Pitt County Board of County Commissioners and the ABC board from making further payments to A. S. Batson or the National Bureau of Investigation, of which he is agent, will be heard by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle in Snow Hill tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The motion, brought by the defendants, had been scheduled for tonight, but by agreement of counsel on both sides it will be heard tomorrow morning.

The hearing set for tomorrow is not on the restraining order, but merely on the motion to modify the order. The restraining order signed by Judge Frizzelle earlier this week temporarily enjoining payment of additional fees to Batson among other things was made returnable before Judge Frizzelle in Snow Hill on June 18.

An attorney for the defense explained the motion to be heard tomorrow by saying it would ask Judge Frizzelle to modify the original order in so far as it tends to run counter with the jurisdiction of the court now hearing the ouster proceedings against Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst.

Conducts Inquest Into Weldon Death

Weldon, June 10.—(AP)—A coroner's jury probed today the death of Karre Strand, a Norwegian whose body was found in a woods near the Roanoke river.

A group of small boys found the body yesterday. Several handkerchiefs were tied around the neck.

The man wore only trousers and a glove. His other clothing, including his overcoat, were in a bundle a few feet away.

A letter of introduction among his effects showed he was a representative of a Norwegian Company and was en route to Plymouth N. C., to install some machinery for a paper container manufacturing company.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Howard said the man apparently had been dead for a week.

Britain, Backed By France, Seeks Drastic Way To End Air Attacks On Shipping

French Foreign Minister Reported To Have Promised British Ambassador His Country Would Cooperate in "Extreme Measures;" Attacks Continue Meanwhile

London, June 10.—(AP)—Britain, fully backed by France and tired of shooting protests into Burgos pigeonholes, concentrated today on finding a drastic, but practicable end of stopping the Spanish Insurgent deadly air raids on Anglo-French shipping.

Georges Bonnet, the French Foreign Minister, was reported to have told Sir Eric Phipps, the British Ambassador in Paris, that France was willing to cooperate with London in "extreme measures" to end the Mediterranean scourge of lead and steel which has sunk or damaged at least 15 neutral ships in two weeks.

Sir Eric was believed to have reported to London Bonnet was outraged by the savage attack yesterday on the French freighter Brisbane at Denia, in which seven persons were killed and eight wounded.

Britishers were exasperated by the series of attacks yesterday.

A lone Insurgent air raider, flying an Italian-made seaplane again bombed Alicante, Denia and the British-owned port of Gandia today, Madrid reported meanwhile.

The British freighter Thorpehall, which was bombed three days ago at Alicante, again was struck and started sinking, stern first.

At Gandia the "phantom" raider, representing his practice of striking about midnight, destroyed the main warehouse of the British-owned port and sank a small Spanish coastal schooner.

At Denia the return to the attack on the French freighter Brisbane and dropped two bombs aboard the crippled ship.

Eastern Carolina Association Adopts Resolution

Kinston, June 10.—The Eastern Carolina Tobacco Warehouse association was on record today as favoring an earlier opening for the Eastern markets.

The association, in session here yesterday afternoon, adopted a resolution recommending that the United States Tobacco association set the opening date for this section not more than two weeks later than the opening of the Border belt markets, provided, however, this does not set the opening of Eastern Carolina markets later than August 23.

Dates for the opening of the various markets will be set by the United States association in annual session at White Sulphur Springs, West Va., June 30-July 2.

J. J. Gibbons of Wilson was named president of the Eastern Carolina association yesterday to succeed E. V. Webb of Kinston. Next year's annual meeting will be held at Wilson. Gibbons was elevated from the vice-presidency. H. P. Foxhall of Rocky Mount was named vice-president.

George L. Wainwright, supervisor of sales of the Wilson market, was named the first full-time secretary of the association.

A resolution providing an average selling rate for baskets of tobacco on the warehouse floor not to exceed 330 baskets per hour, or 2,660 baskets for the regulation sales day of seven hours, was adopted.

A special committee was appointed to submit delegates from the association to the U. S. Tobacco association meeting in Virginia. Those submitted and approved included J. C. Eagles, Wilson; W. E. Morton, Greenville; H. P. Foxhall, Rocky Mount; E. V. Webb, Kinston; Dixon Wallace, Smithfield, and R. H. Knott, Farmville.

The following board of directors was named: W. Z. Morton, Greenville; W. H. Adkins, Robertsonville; W. E. Fenner, Rocky Mount; W. L. House, Tarboro; Dixon Wallace, Smithfield; J. C. Eagles, Wilson; J. Y. Monk, Farmville, and Garland Hodges, Washington.

In 19 weeks of compulsory motor vehicle inspection in New Jersey, 721,000 cars were inspected, and 699,012 obtained safety stickers.

ADMITS ABDUCTION CASH CHILD

Here are two facial studies of Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old truck driver who today confessed the abduction of 5-year-old James Bailey (Skeegie) Cash, Jr., at Princeton, Fla. The confession was announced by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, who personally led searchers who found the child's body early Thursday in a thick-wooded area a few miles from his home. Hoover said McCall also confessed writing the ransom demand and collecting the $10,000 paid by the child's father. The entire ransom was recovered. McCall, is being held in Miami under heavy guard.

Admits Abduction And Slaying Of Cash Child

McCall Recounts how He Abducted Boy While Sleeping

Miami, Fla., June 10.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover announced today Franklin P. McCall had confessed the abduction of 5-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr.

The FBI director said McCall's admission detailed that he stole the boy from his bed while he slept, placing a handkerchief over the child's mouth and another over his eyes, and took the boy to his home, where he found the boy was dead.

McCall had no confederates at any stage of the case, Hoover reported.

McCall said he thought at first the boy was still asleep, Hoover declared, but when he found after about 15 minutes he was dead, he took the child in his arms and ran and walked to a spot in the woods in which he was well acquainted from hunting trips.

There he flung the body into a dense thicket where it was found early yesterday morning.

Having disposed of the body, Hoover continued, McCall returned to his own home to get the first of three ransom notes which he had written in advance.

Then, despite the death of the little victim, he took it to the shack of a Negro, John Emanuel.

Truckers Warned Of New S. C. Law

Lieut. Lester Jones, head of Troop A of the State Highway Patrol, today revealed that a South Carolina law would go into effect Monday, June 13, prohibiting trucks from North Carolina entering that state with excess amounts of gasoline.

The law prohibits any truck from North Carolina and other states from crossing the border with auxiliary gasoline tanks or standard tanks of more than 30 gallons capacity.

Lieut. Jones warned truckers not to take a chance as they will face arrest if caught.

Maxwell Safety Program To Meet Some Opposition

Raleigh, June 10.—The six-point safety program Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell recommended for state action in an address to the North Carolina Safety Conference at Asheville last night is sure to meet opposition on some of its points.

It is also sure to start agitation for some other things, outside the immediate scope of the safety program, such as removal of the State Highway Patrol (which Maxwell recommends should be "largely increased") from the control of Mr. Maxwell's Department and placing it under the State Highway Commission where so many think it belongs.

Other points of discussion which will be raised will be touched upon after the six points stressed by the Revenue commission have been named. They include:

- 1. Examination of all drivers licensed three years ago without any test of their qualifications, with no charge for the examination, which would be educational.
- 2. Mandatory prison terms for those who violate highway laws after having had their licenses revoked.
- 3. Fixing a maximum speed limit of 50 or 55 miles per hour is recommended for any kind of highway, and substantially lower speed limits for curves and other stretches made dangerous by engineering or topographical features.
- 4. Increase in the personnel of the State Highway Patrol in order to provide more adequate enforcement of more positive highway laws.
- 5. Construction of semi-hard surface shoulders on every mile of hard surface with an abrupt edge, Maxwell believes.
- 6. More adequate marking of (Continued on page four)

SHERIFF BEING QUESTIONED BY PROSECUTION

Admits Further Irregularities in Records Of Office

COURT TO RECESS 'TIL MONDAY A.M.

Opinion Expressed by One Attorney Case May be Concluded Late Tuesday

Continuing under cross examination in his own ouster trial, Sheriff Sam Whitehurst yesterday afternoon and this morning made further admissions of irregularities of the books of his office, and in answer to a question if he did not know that the law required him to keep proper books, he replied, "There are a lot of things supposed to be done that we don't do."

The sheriff's cross examination by Woodus Kellum, of the prosecution counsel, had been under way since before noon Wednesday. When the hearing was recessed for lunch at one o'clock today it was not indicated whether the cross examination would be completed this afternoon or continue on Monday.

Judge G. Vernon Cowper said that he would recess at 5 o'clock this afternoon until Monday morning. While in view of the fact there will probably be redirect examination of some witnesses and rebuttal testimony, no one could definitely say when the hearing might come to an end, one member of the petitioners' counsel expressed the belief that the hearing might be ended by late Tuesday afternoon. The hearing has been under way here since Monday, May 31, and is the longest court proceeding ever conducted in this county.

Yesterday afternoon the cross examination continued on details of the sheriff's fees or trust fund account. The sheriff admitted that the account would show an overdraft if all outstanding checks were paid by the bank, and at the same time admitted that he was due some money to the county from the fund.

He repeated, however, that he had asked for a clean audit of the account and stood ready and willing to pay the county whatever he owed whenever he could be shown by such audit how much he owed.

"You admit," queried Kellum, "that you have held back county funds over long periods of time, and now that you are caught, you want to pay?"

The witness replied that about two years ago he told D. R. Hollowell, auditor, that he wanted the fees and trust fund account audited in order that he could settle with the county. "I thought it best to get the whole thing cleaned up all once and make one payment to cover it all," he said.

The questioning regarding the fees and trust fund account continued this morning. The cross-examiner handed the sheriff a check for $483.52 drawn on the sheriff's fees or trust fund account and the sheriff identified it as payment to the county for a bill of cost collected in that amount. He admitted, however, that the bank account of the fund showed no record of a deposit to cover this item. The question by the prosecution was in support of its contention that funds from the trust fund account had been diverted to pay bills of cost to the county.

Shown a check for $150.00 drawn on the trust fund, or sheriff's fees account by the sheriff in his own favor, he said the check was far from feeding prisoners but admitted that check stub for same showed it as a transfer to his personal account. There was no record to indicate that a deposit to cover this item had been made to the trust fund bank account, he said.

Another check, dated February 1928, on the trust funds account (Continued on page six)

Moore Says Tyson Did 'Fine' Thing

John S. Moore, who was assured of one Pitt county's two seats in the State House of Representatives with the announcement yesterday by Wm. S. Tyson that he would not ask for a run-off primary, today described the action of the third high man as "fine."

"I think Mr. Tyson's action in not calling for a second primary is fine," declared the legislator. "It should be considered to his credit at such time as he may choose to run again. Greenville's attitude in the matter showed conclusively that it has no desire to crowd out other sections of the county."

Moore said that he was assured of one Pitt county's two seats in the State House of Representatives with the announcement yesterday by Wm. S. Tyson that he would not ask for a run-off primary, today described the action of the third high man as "fine."

Moore-McBrayer. Shelby, June 10.—A wedding which will be received with cordial interest throughout the state took place here on Wednesday morning, when Miss Dorothy Suttle McBrayer became the bride of Lawrence Holland Moore of Greenville, this state, in a simple ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lander F. McBrayer, on North Lafayette street.

The Rev. John W. Suttle, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, using the ring service, in the presence of members of the immediate family and close relatives. The mantle in the living room, before which the bride and bridegroom stood to take the vows, was banked with white flowers, phlox, feverfew, and sweetpeas, against a background of greenery.

The bride wore a semi-tailored frock of Dresden blue crepe, with which she wore a three-quarter length jacket of the same material, a halo turban in a matching shade, and white pigskin accessories. Orchids, worn at her shoulder, completed her costume.

Mrs. Moore, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McBrayer, is a graduate of Meredith College, and since her graduation has taught for several years in the Shelby high school. She has beauty, charm, and intelligence, and is one of the most popular young women in Shelby.

Mr. Moore, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Phillip Moore of Durham, is an independent tobacco buyer. He was reared in Durham but has made his home in Greenville for a number of years.

After the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom and wedding guests went across the street to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lawrence P. Holland, and Mr. Holland, where they and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Wall, Jr., of Lexington, entertained at a coffee. The affair was in celebration both of the present wedding and of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Holland.

After the party, Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a six weeks' honeymoon, which will be spent at Miami Beach, Florida, and in Cuba. They will be at home in Greenville after September 1.

Mrs. Joyner Honored.

The home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson was the pretty scene for a bridge luncheon on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, when Mrs. Jack Edwards entertained for Mrs. B. B. Joyner, recent bride. A pink and white color scheme was emphasized with gladioli and early summer flowers. In the bridge games, Mrs. Graham Flanagan was presented a pottery pitcher for scoring high.

Mrs. B. B. Joyner, honoree, was presented silver in her selected pattern. Miss Ruth Horne, bride-elect of the week, was remembered with pottery, and her house guest, Miss Kathleen Capps, with handkerchiefs.

After the games, an appetizing two-course luncheon was served to the guests and Mrs. H. W. Whedbee, Misses Lelia Higgs and Eleahor Barr.

Mrs. Baker Honors Miss Horne. Mrs. E. L. Baker entertained at a pretty bridge party on Thursday afternoon, honoring Miss Ruth Horne, bride-elect. The Baker home on Eighth street, was profusely decorated with pink gladioli and sweetpeas. Bridge was enjoyed at six tables. At the close of the games, Miss Horne, honor guest, was presented a crystal vase.

Lee Hooker, bride-elect, a hand-painted picture; Mrs. J. M. Barrett, recent bride, a crystal sandwich tray; Mrs. B. B. Joyner, a recent bride, a crystal vase; Miss Mildred Herring, bride-elect, a crystal vase; Miss Kathleen Capps, guest of Miss Horne, handkerchiefs. Mrs. Reid Gaskins made high score and was awarded a double deck of cards.

The table prizes were crystal match holders, and fell to Miss Allice Lee Hooker, Miss Martha Seoville, Miss Ruth Horne, Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Mrs. J. S. Willard, and Mrs. Reynolds May.

The hostess was assisted in serving a tempting salad plate with food tea by her sister, Mrs. Pauline Davis, and her niece, Miss Margaret Davis.

Tommy Pace Celebrates Birthday. On Wednesday afternoon, Master Tommy Pace celebrated his sixth birthday, at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. K. B. Pace, on Summit street. About thirty of his little friends joined in merry games, after which Mrs. Pace served them ices, candies and cookies. Balloons, noise makers and other toys, were given as favors. Little Tommy was the recipient of a number of birthday gifts.

Miss Louise Briley Honored. Miss Margaret Thigpen graciously entertained at a bridge shower on Thursday evening, complimenting Miss Louise Briley, whose approaching marriage to Edward Broughton, Jr., of Dunn, will take place in June. The home was charmingly decorated with quantities of early summer flowers.

At the end of several interesting games, high score prize, bath powder, was awarded Miss Sybil Clark. Low score prize, book-ends, went to Miss Nannie Johnston Rowlett. Miss Briley was presented crystal in her selected pattern. Miss Frances Thigpen of Washington, D. C., was remembered with hose. After the presentation of gifts the hostess served a delicious ice course.

Miss Briley was also presented a basket of many lovely and useful linens.

Their romance began at the Santa Anita race track last winter.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—Perhaps it was because of the contented look on the faces of their customers....

Or maybe they were making so much money they were compelled to look about for new responsibilities....

Nevertheless, such a wave of domesticity has swept over La Conga that now nobody, least of all themselves, knows where it will end.

There were the three owners, Bobby Martyn, Oscar Roche and Miguel Roldan. There was Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl, and there was Dorothy Ross, the press-agent and wife of a New York newspaperman.

So La Conga opened, became a major stop along the carriage trade route, and then things began to happen, in this order:

1. Weary of bachelorhood Bobby Martyn took himself a wife.

2. Then the 2nd associate, Oscar Roche, walked in one night and announced, beaming, that the fence wasn't the only thing running around his house. He had a fine young son.

3. Shortly thereafter Mrs. Ross became the mother of a son, too.

4. Meanwhile, only Miguel Roche remained a bachelor among the three associates. So he convinced Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl, that single status wasn't so good after all.

Down to the City Hall for a license went they, then over to a magistrate's chambers, where they were married.

Verily La Conga, which epitomizes sophisticated after dark entertainment in New York, is knee-deep in rice and rattles.

Cab driver 19482 says: "Sure, business is good, but, likely any thing else, you gotta know how to get it....

No excuse for a man not making a good living, driving a hack.... But you gotta have savvy.... You gotta know when to cruise and when not to cruise.... You gotta know for a fact a man wants a hack, and then you slow down for him....

How do I know?.... Don't ask me.... But that's what I call having hack savvy.... I can always tell when a man is about to make up his mind to get in a hack....

With folks tipping short, I likes the long hauls.... From Times Square to the Bronx.... From Washington Square to the Yankee Stadium.

New Volume

Today The Daily Reflector begins a new volume, the 9th. For three and a half years The Daily has its visitors and this issue makes 1,000 copies that have gone to you. Many people had no idea that a daily paper could go on in Greenville so long. But The Reflector has stuck right on and is going to keep sticking so long as the people go forward with it. We are trying to serve the public well and give them the news, and they know it. We take this occasion to renew thanks to everyone for the patronage given the paper. The Reflector is not all it desires to be, but always puts forward its best effort.

It's them long hauls that pays the freight.... But I hates them Brooklyn tricks.... Man, I hates going to Brooklyn.... Dunno why it is, but I never been there in my life without getting plus lost."

Kicking around: Kay Kyser, the Rocky Mount, N. C. boy comes back to town to the Pennsylvania....

It's the first time I've seen him since Valley Dale, at Columbus, seven years ago, but he looks the same.... I don't suppose he will ever change; same warm grin, same infectious good nature, same old Kay.... He is smarter now, and more successful, but it hasn't changed his ways or his manner.

GREAT GRANDSON CARRIES ON

Dr. Baxter Craven, president of Trinity College from 1842 to 1882, would have been particularly interested in Duke University's past commencement for the names of his grandson and great-grandson figured prominently in the program. Great-grandson Baxter Craven, Jr., (left) rising Duke senior, was the chief marshal during the three-day finals; and his father, Rev. J. Baxter Craven, (center) pastor of West Market Methodist church, Greensboro, received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity. Moreover, the Trinity president's own name was prominently spoken as Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper lauded the sturdy way in which he set the foundation of the little college that was to develop into Duke University. Dr. Craven's likeness, taken from a portrait in the university library, is shown at the right.

Miss Lucy James In Pitt Musical Short

Greenville theatre-goers will have their last opportunity to see Miss Lucy James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James of this city, and the other two members of the Symphonettes at the Pitt theatre tonight and tomorrow. Miss James is appearing in a musical short today and Saturday. The Greenville girl has established quite a reputation in the radio field and now has invaded the cinema.

'Mahogany House' To Be Opened to Public Saturday

Tart Furniture Co. of Greenville will officially open its "Mahogany House" to the public tomorrow.

The firm has erected an improved three-room house on its second floor and will attractively display its open stock of furniture of Colonial and twentieth-century type.

The store is featuring open stock providing the public with a choice of any number of pieces in the same style. A person may buy as many or as few pieces as he chooses at a time.

The experiment, which has been tried and found popular in the nation's largest furniture stores, is expected to find favor with furniture buyers in Greenville and its trading territory. The "house" is modern in every respect, with an attractive entrance, walls which harmonize, etc. The display is described as the most attractive in East Carolina.

The innovation will enable a customer to purchase any particular piece of furniture without breaking a set.

The store is featuring Colonial furniture of the eighteenth century in its "Mahogany House" which will be open to the public beginning tomorrow.

FEAR MEASLES TO SHOW GAIN

75,000 Cases Seen for 1939 Under 1928 Precedent

Raleigh, June 10.—If measles, which has been prevalent in epidemic form this year, with 42,935 cases reported through May, follows the precedent set in 1928, there will be something like 75,000 cases in 1939.

But next year's incidence cannot be forecast, it was pointed out by Dr. J. C. Knox, director of the Division of Epidemiology of the State Board of Health. In other words, measles, according to Dr. Knox, is not predictable. The number of cases reported in 1927 was 32,000. The next year the total jumped to 80,543, making 1928 the peak year for all time.

The peak year during the past five-year period, as shown on the chart, was reached in 1934, when 85,764 cases were reported in North Carolina. Then there was a drop. The next year, the number of cases decreased to 10,683, then to 1,395 in 1936 and 7,937 last year. The disease manifests itself in epidemic form early this year, and schools in many sections were closed because of its prevalence. The greatest incidence occurs in children between 6 and 7 years old, Dr. Knox said, and most fatalities occur among children under 5 years old. The rise and fall of chickenpox and whooping cough are not, by any means, coincident with the rise and fall of measles. The all time peak for whooping cough was in 1927, when 19,966 cases were reported, while the chickenpox peak was in 1930, with 6,982 cases reported, the chart shows. With the closing of the schools this year, in May, the incidence of measles took a sharp drop and the epidemic abated.

OCTAGON HOUSE

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quammet. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Pam Frye is innocent as well as agreeable Tim Carr, boarder at the Frye's Octagon House. Marina was married to Tim, unknown to Jack Lorne, and also had played around with wealthy Roddy Strutt. Then the barn is set on fire; Asey, Tim and Pam's father are knocked out, and two troopers disappear. The problem uppermost in Asey's mind is a $50,000 lump of ambergris which Pam found the day of the murder and Aaron Frye hid in the barn. He is convinced that the ambergris was not in the barn when it burned down.

Chapter 31

Tracking The Troopers

"WELL," Doc Cummings asked, "what do you make of things, Asey?"

"I don't, if you want to know the truth," Asey said. "We've got one shrewd an' canny soul who set the barn on fire to set us runnin' around locatin' the ambergris for him. An' we got a violent number—well, I don't know what he's after, unless it's just a series of punchin' bags. Maybe his got broke an' he's huntin' a substitute."

see him this afternoon. After him we go to Roddy. In one sense, I don't want to wait one bit. I've got a feelin' Roddy might try beatin' it, though I don't think he'll dare to. An' on the other hand, I don't think I'd ever get the truth from Roddy unless I got somethin' solid on him first. If I get Brigham's story, I think it'll be worth the wait."

"Brigham," Cummings said. "Oh, yes, I'd forgotten that. So you're going to let Roddy slide?"

"I'm goin' let him sizzle," Asey said, "on the theory that the longer he sizzles, the better it'll be when we do get him. You go see Aaron. Doc, I want to run to the village an' find out how Hanson's comin' on with his trooper hunt."

"Where can those fellows be?"

"I wish I knew!" Asey said. "I wish I knew!"

As he went out on the back porch, Tim Carr drove up in his little coupe. "I've been helping the bloodhounds, but there's no sign of O'Malley and Shorty," he reported. "Hanson is now little better than a psychopath."

"How's the reporters?" Asey asked. "Where are they?"

"Gorging themselves on shore dinners at that roadhouse near the junction. They ought to be lozey and waterlogged for hours to come. I mean, you can eat just so many steamed clams and wash them down with just so much beer be-

I'm blinked as the speedometer swung around the dial.

"But what about the third person, the one who took the ambergris?" Cummings asked. "That's what interests me the most. Who took it, providing they did take it before the barn was burned, and how? Why couldn't the burner have taken it before his burning?"

"Your guess," Asey said, "is every bit as good as mine about the whole business. I don't know, an' I don't know how we're goin' to find out. I just hope I get a crack at this biffer, though, before this is over with. I got a sock to repay, I want to meet up with that violent one."

Cummings laughed. "Speaking of violence, you should have seen Earl Jennings over at the hospital this morning. He was being mad with Chase, the traffic cop. There's a man that's sore at that mural—" "Chase, you mean?"

"No, Jennings. He's a big husk, and Lorne put him in as Industry Mending the Leaking Pipes of Civilization. Jennings is taking it as a personal affront, and an insult to his business. Particularly as an insult to his business—"

"Are you talking about Jennings?" Pam passing through the hall stopped long enough to stick her head in the door. "I thought so. He was simply enraged—I think myself that's why he did such a rotten job on the plumbing over at the cottage, as a sort of revenge. You know, that bathroom overflows copiously and hideously."

"An' no one," Asey said sincerely, "could think of a much worse revenge than that. It occurs to me that Lorne ain't goin' to have an easy time gettin' his vine an' figtree repaired."

"Not to speak of his grocery bill," Pam said. "His credit is nil—look, I'm going to yank some carrots and things for dinner. I'll be in the garden if you want me."

fore—what's the matter with you?"

"Timothy, my son," Asey said "crawl back into your little low backed car. I just had a brait wave."

Sea Hunt

"YOU'VE had something," Tim agreed. "This rosy glow—look you don't think you know where the troopers went to, do you?"

"I don't know where they went to," Asey said, "but I bet you $10 I know where t'ey are now—let me drive, d'you mind? I'm in sort of a hurry, like. Waterlogged. That's the answer, Waterlogged Hang on, Timothy."

The coupe backed down the driveway at a speed that made Timothy blink behind his glasses. Before they reached the corner, he was gripping the door strap with both hands.

"The right rear tire," Tim remarked in what he hoped was a conversational tone, "is quite old and very eccentric."

"Is it?" Asey said. "Handies nice, for a little car, don't she? We had one at the Porter testin' grounds, an' it run circles around our sixteen. If only they'd stand up—"

"That's exactly my point about the rear tire," Tim interrupted quickly. "If only it'd stand up when you go over fifty-five. But no matter what tubes you put in, it always seems to blow—"

"Don't seem to be blowin' now," Asey said.

Tim watched the speedometer needle swing around the dial. At least, he thought, if the tire stood up, he could truthfully report to his grandmother that those last figures were not the fakes they had always imagined.

"What about the troopers?" he asked, suddenly remembering that the speed of the car and the stamens of the rear tire were not, after all, the principal issues.

"Oh," Asey said, "you gimme the idea when you talked about the reporters bein' waterlogged. I just occurs to me that we done a lot of land searchin', but we sort of ignored the water. Pretty silly of me not to think of it before. There's so much water around."

"So we're going to sea hunt, are we?" Timothy sounded very dubious.

We have come early especially to get seats far in the rear and center for the sake of much abused eyes. We don't propose to sit off to the side, where the actors look like horses, or down front, where the actors look like giants swimming in our tears. So we go to bat, we call in the management, and we get seats from which we suffer only the pains inflicted by that particular . . .

If not, then like Garbo, we tank we go home. But we haven't had to go home—yet. The secret is (I hate to admit) not our powers of persuasion, our personal charm, or force in intimidating managers. It is Circulation. The studios want us to see their picture—even if they have to give us good seats.

At some of the previews your correspondent is equally embarrassed by being treated as a Sacred Cow. A Sacred Cow is one whose appearance in the theater lobby is greeted by two upraised fingers. As Rob Wagner put it once, you are a one-finger critic or a two-finger critic. According to the number of fingers raised at your approach, in signal to the usher, you are seated. To be a Sacred Cow you must, first have large circulation either by newspaper, magazine, or air waves. You should preferably appear in a Los Angeles, Chicago, or New York newspaper. The advantage is being an S. C. is simply that you get a fair impression of the picture, an advantage withheld from many shrewder, far better critics.

For whom, then, are these choice seats reserved at our Press Preview? For such able, conscientious, widely-read reporters as—I men-

Washington Daybook

Washington—There is just a possibility that when the Supreme Court reopens next fall Justice Black may be leading his colleagues into a reversal of one of its most important decisions of the session just closed.

It has to do with radio tubes, talking pictures, "patent pools" and monopoly. Now don't get frightened.
Court cases are fun if you escape being led down a dark alley by a deceptive whereas or a sly certiorari.
On one of the last decision days before the court recessed for the summer it decided a case that loomed big on the financial pages but didn't show up often on front pages.
Here's the lay of the land:

In the years from 1912 to 1916, Western Electric, a subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, bought several basic radio tube patents. The tubes weren't a striking success at first but the idea was right and experiments ultimately brought them around. Radio developed, along with loud speaker systems and talking pictures, and Western Electric truly had something.

Patent laws have been enacted to protect such developments. If a company wants to keep its patents all to itself, it can. If it wants to permit their use under strict lease, it can, but if it sells them outright across the counter—well, there is where the Supreme Court comes in.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Sold—But Not Entirely
Western Electric intended to make money from sales of tubes. (There's one or more in millions of homes.)
But it wanted to hold for itself and its allied companies the right to use them in talking picture machines and certain other commercial fields.

So each dealer selling Western Electric tubes had to agree to sell them only to amateurs or for use in home receiving sets.

But a company known as General Talking Pictures Corporation decided this was stretching a patent monopoly too far. It went to a dealer licensed to sell Western Electric tubes for amateur and home use and bought many of them. Disregarding the restrictions for use noted on each tube, it installed them in its talking picture projectors and sold them on the general market.

That was exactly what Western Electric didn't want. A lawsuit followed. Western Electric contended that General Talking Pictures was bound by the terms of the sale and could not use the tubes in commercial sets, but only for amateur and home purposes. Federal courts agreed with Western Electric right up to the Supreme Court, which also agreed—except Justice Black.

Justice Black wrote a dissenting opinion which stated that the Supreme Court had enormously broadened the patent monopoly by permitting patent owners to restrict the uses to which their patents could be put even after they had been sold to others.

There's Be A Rehearing
Moreover, Black said, Western Electric, General Electric and Radio Corporation of America are operating a "patent pool" by which each allows the others to use all patents under an agreement by which each leaves a certain field of operations to the others.

He insisted that Congress, in enacting the patent laws, never intended to put machinery in the hands of such a "pool" to sell their patented products broadcast and yet tell the purchaser how he could use them and how not.

General Talking Pictures, pressing its arguments along the same line, appealed for a rehearing. The Supreme Court might seldom grants
one. But on the last day of its session it nevertheless granted a rehearing. That will come next fall.

Of course, the court doesn't reverse itself every time it grants a rehearing, but by any means. But let's six back now and wait.

Trouble Spots

(By The AP Feature Service)

CENTRAL Europe today is what it has been for centuries—an international sore spot. That hasn't changed. These maps show fundamental situations behind the spot new a of recurrent crises in that region.

Note that it is inhabited by many racial groups as well as nationalities. (Recent war scares have been attributed largely to Hitler's ambition to "protect" German populations outside the Reich.)

The people in the dense population centers to the northwest are concerned primarily with manufacturing and mining. In more open areas east and south, agriculture ranks first.

To German's necessity for selling manufactured goods and for obtaining raw materials like foodstuffs and iron, many diplomatic moves can be traced.
As the maps indicate, Germany has coal but Europe's principal iron deposits lie over the line in France, and oil is in its so utheastern regions.

Italy, also a manufacturer, lacks most of the necessary materials.

Topography governs the movement not only of trade goods but of armies. Over the plains of the north, few natural barriers impose obstacles. In the south, mountains obstruct frontiers, and passes take on great importance. Militarists as well as industrialists have their eyes on the passes indicated.

State Nurserymen To Attend Course

Raleigh, June 10.—In answer to many requests the Department of Horticulture at State College will conduct the first annual Nursery-man's Short Course at State College June 16-18.

M. E. Gardner, head of the department, explained that since the interests of nurserymen are so varied an all-inclusive program has been arranged.

Registration will be held Wednesday, June 16, from 4 to 6 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m. Actual work begins the following morning, with all meetings scheduled in the college
Y.M.C.A. building.

Col. J. W. Hixon, State College administrator, said that he will welcome the delegates to the institution and Dr. I. O. Schaub will extend greetings from the School of Agriculture of which he is dean.

One of the features of the program will be a plant clinic scheduled for the last day of the program. Professor Gardner is asking that all nurserymen bring specimens to the clinic, so that specialists may diagnose the trouble.

Among the subjects to be taken up at the short course are soil sterilization and composting, the control of chewing insects, root-diseases of nursery stock, color photography as an aid in advertising, foliage diseases and soil testing.

State College faculty members, Experiment Station workers, and U. S. Department of Agriculture representatives will discuss the subjects.

A registration fee of $2 is being charged. Room and board may be had at the college for a nominal amount, Professor Gardner said.

SIX MINUTES A DAY TO KEEP YOUNG!

Marvelous home beauty treatment that costs you nothing extra!

What fools women are to let their complexions get dry, lifeless, coming-looking. For there's nothing spells death to romance so surely as
"Middle-Age" Skin!

Besides, it's so easy to stay young! Just try this simple home beauty treatment that really costs you nothing but six minutes a day!

Every night and morning, wash your face thoroughly with Palmolive Soap.

For, unlike other well-known soaps, Palmolive is made with Olive Oil. That's why it's so good for dry, flaking skin. Its gentle lather leaves complexions soft and smooth... radiant!

And because it is made with Olive Oil,
Palmolive has a natural, olive-green color.
No artificial coloring.

So try the easy Palmolive way to beauty. Let this pure, gentle soap that's made from a secret blend of Olive and Palm Oils make your complexion softer, smoother... alive with beauty!

Greenies Lose Double-Header To Williamston's Martins

JINX FOLLOWS JOHN DELANEY

Hurls Two-Hitter and Loses First Game; Errors Costly

John Delaney, who has displayed some fine brand of pitching for Greenville this season, only to lose the games on errors on the part of his team mates or their inability to score yesterday afternoon lost another heart-breaker.

Delaney held Williamston to two hits in the first game of a double-header, but lost the game, 4-1. Greenville also dropped the nightcap, 3-1.

Both the two hits secured off Delaney in the first game aided in the scoring. The first run was the result of two errors. Another tally came in the first on a single by Marshall. The Martins were held scoreless than until the ninth when Stanley singled, advanced on a passed ball and scored when Lakotas' sacrifice was fumbled. Lakotas scored when Riley erred. Ignasiak's hard blow to right field.

Greenville scored its single tally in the fourth inning on a single by Simpson, a passed ball and a single by Riley.

In the nightcap Williamston scored one in the second and two in the fifth. In the second frame the Martins scored on a single, an error and another single. In the fifth Swain singled to bring in Rhinehardt, who had tripped. Swain was advanced on Stanley's sacrifice and came home on Lakotas' infield hit and Bobo's error.

Greenville scored its lone tally of the second game in the fourth inning on Simpson's single, a sacrifice, a hit batsman and an infield out.

Yesterday's two losses came as a severe blow to Greenville. Before yesterday's contests they were close in the running for a position in the first division group.

Serps Take Couple From the Ayden Aces

Tarboro, June 10.—A pair of left-handers with tongue-twisting names—Sieminski and Zschau—hurled victories for Tarboro in a doubleheader with Ayden yesterday. Scores were 3-0 and 5-2.

Duke Sieminski hurled three-hit ball and had the better of Manager Bill Herring of the Aces in the opener, a contest reeled off in an hour and twenty minutes. Frankie Ware's sixth-inning homer, following a single by Vick, brought the first scoring of the day and sewed up one hit until the sixth. The Aces' hits off Sieminski came in the second, third and fourth.

In the nightcap, Ware again helped along by hitting a homer. He opened the fifth with a round-tripper. Zschau (just sneeze) yielded four hits in the seven-inning affair.

The combination of Sieminski and Zschau proved entirely too much for Jiggs Gasaway, ace hitter of the Aces. He drew a horse-collar for seven turns—and his consecutive game hitting streak was ended at 21 when he failed to connect in the opener.

Ware, with two for three, and Campbell, with a double and a triple for two, topped the second-game hitting list. Kravitz's double and a homer gave the Aces two runs in the first inning of the nightcap—their only tallies of the day.

Bruin Hurler Whiffs 18 of Eagle Batters

New Bern, June 10.—Durdan Archer of the Bruins struck out 16 batters yesterday afternoon as New Bern defeated Kinston, 7-1.

Archer's collection of strikeouts set a new high for season's play in the Coastal Plain. Kratzer, Wright and Barrow were three-time victims of the former Oglethorpe university star's strikeout ball; Stringfellow and Hurley each went down twice.

Roth hit a pair of homers for the Bruins. His first tallied Black, who had singled, in the opening inning. The other came in the fifth—Knowles singled, and Roth homered on the next pitch.

Yesterday's game marked the third start for Archer, a boy who goes in for mixing rather than for speed. In his previous starts he went over Greenville and lost to Snow Hill—he fanned seven in each game.

JOHNNY KEEPS HIS SHIRT ON!

Johnny Allen (right), fiery Cleveland pitcher who grew up in Mills Home, Baptist orphanage at Thomsville, N. C., is shown leaving the box in high dudgeon after the umpire told him to change his shirt or quit pitching during the Indians' game with the Boston Red Sox in Boston. Red Sox Manager Joe Cronin had protested Johnny's torn sleeve (see right arm) was confusing Boston batters. "I'll pitch with this shirt on or I won't pitch," retorted Johnny as he left the field. Manager Oscar Vitt promptly fined him $250. That's Lyn Lary escorting Allen.

Much Interest In Wrestling Bouts

Promoter Jim Johnson said today he was pleased with the interest that has been shown in his wrestling and boxing show which will be presented in the city armory Monday night. The show will start promptly at 8:30. The doors to the armory will open at 7 o'clock. Ladies will be admitted free with one paid admission.

Wrestling shows have proven popular with the ladies of other cities, and the manager of the local show promises to have the entire proceedings conducted in an orderly and genteel manner.

The boxers and wrestlers are in fine condition and are prepared to put on a fine show.

Goldbugs Got Hits; Billies Got the Game

Snow Hill, June 10.—Goldboro collected more hits than Snow Hill yesterday, but the Bills wound up on the short end of a 7-2 score.

The Goldbugs made 11 hits off the hurling of Druce, but they went scoreless until the ninth.

Snow Hill did all of its scoring in the first four frames at the expense of Reakamp, starting Bug hurler. O'Kronee, Reakamp's successor, hurled shut-out and two-hit ball in a 5-2-5 inning turn. The local made seven hits off Reakamp.

The Billies won with four runs in the second. Soufas' single, and error on Tony Malsano's bouncer, and Rabb's single accounted for half of those tallies. The others came on Mewborn's double, a walk to Harbin and Taylor's double.

Catcher Joe Bistoff of the Billies homered in the third.

Rorace (Horse) Mewborn, Snow Hill second-sacker, hit a double and a single, to extend to 22 the number of consecutive games in which he has hit safely.

SENATORS SIGN BILL HOLLAND

And Athletics Get Pitcher Dave Smith Of Duke U.

Two more North Carolina collegians have been signed by major league baseball clubs.

Dave Smith, Duke University pitching ace for the past three years, is to leave his Whiteville home today to report to Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics of the American League.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators of the American, last night announced that his club had signed Lefty Bill Holland, star hurler for East Carolina Teachers' College. Griffith said that Holland "probably would be optioned to Charlotte of the Piedmont League."

Holland, Fuquay Springs product, started in semi-pro circles—as well as for E. C. T. C.—during recent seasons. He is a southpaw and a strikeout artist.

Smith also has performed in semi-pro circles, and with great success. He's a righthander, with lots of stuff.

With the acquisition of Smith, Connie Mack has five former Duke athletes on his Philadelphia pay roll. The others are Wayne Ambler, Bill Werber, Ace Parker and Chubby Dean.

Bill Hollana hurried for the Greenies in the Coastal Plain semi-pro league a few years ago.

Dave Smith, Chubby Dean, Ace Parker and Wayne Ambler all were Greenville stars during semi-pro Coastal Plain league days.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 10.—(AP)—The stock market lost its rallying urge today and leaders reverted to the apathetic chuffing which has marked proceedings in the past weeks.

The list got off to a fairly active and firm start, but light profit-taking soon halted rising inclinations and small initial advances were cancelled or converted into minor losses.

The day's turnover was around 400,000 shares.

EHEHRIF BEING QUESTIONED BY PROSECUTION

drawn in favor of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, the sheriff admitted was for his own personal use. He admitted that his records disclosed no deposit in the bank account to cover this item and that total deposits to the account during the month of February had been but $370.25. He contended, however, that he had sufficient funds of his own already in the account to cover the item.

A check for $315.00 dated August 7, 1929, drawn in favor of the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank, the sheriff also admitted was his own personal use and that there was no record of deposit of money to cover this specific item. Another check for $505.70 drawn in favor of the same parties had already been admitted by the sheriff to have been for his own personal use and not that of the county.

Having his attention called to the fact that the sheriff's fees and trust fund book shows the first entry as May 25, 1934, the sheriff was asked if the book had been kept correctly to cover every item since that time. "I don't know," he replied. "I don't always keep the books."

"Did you state in your testimony that you had filed itemized statements of county fees and sheriff's fees accounts and bills of costs each month with the county commissioners?" asked Kellum.

"I think I did," the sheriff replied, "or rather I filed a report of the standing of the accounts of my office with the commissioners and the itemized statement with the auditor."

"Did you file a sworn itemized report on any of these accounts with the Board of Commissioners each first Monday?" Kellum asked.

"The reports to the commissioners were not itemized and not sworn to," was the reply. "I was following instructions as I thought they applied to my office," the sheriff said.

"If you had kept books, you could have furnished an itemized statement?" asked Kellum.

"Yes," replied the sheriff.

"Did you ever file in itemized statement with the board?" asked Kellum.

"No," replied the sheriff.

Shown 14 reports of totals of his office filed with the board of commissioners between March, 1935, and July, 1937, the sheriff identified them as his reports.

"You stated a few minutes ago that you filed a report on both your sheriff's fees as well as your county fees and bills of cost books, and yet you stated that no county auditor or other auditor had ever seen your sheriff's fees or trust fund book until it was examined by Hollowell?" asked Kellum.

"That is correct," was the reply.

"Did you state that you were familiar with the Salary Act of 1927?" asked Kellum.

"Yes," answered the sheriff.

"Then you are familiar with the clause that says the sheriff shall be allowed nothing in addition for the performance of the duties of his office, and with a similar clause of the 1921 Act?" asked Kellum.

The sheriff replied that he was familiar with the law.

"And you now claim that you are entitled to all fees for serving process issuing from counties other than Pitt County?" asked the questioner.

"Yes," replied the sheriff.

"Does that not increase your salary?" asked Kellum.

"It increases the compensation of the office," the sheriff said.

"You claim all fees from magistrate courts both in and out of Pitt county that come through your office, all of which enures to your benefit?" asked Kellum.

"Yes, sir. They increase the compensation of the office but also the expenses. Out of them I pay the gas and expense of the deputies for trips outside of the county," the sheriff said.

"You claim all the jail fees and turnkey fees, that increases your salary, doesn't it?" said Kellum.

"Yes," it increases the compensation of the office," he replied.

"The jail and turnkey fees collected by you will exceed $4,200, will they not?" Kellum asked.

"Yes, if they are figured out," the sheriff replied.

"You testified yesterday that prisoners fees paid directly to you will exceed $3,742, didn't you?" asked Kellum.

"Yes," replied the sheriff, "but that was a separate contract as jailer and did not apply to the sheriff's office."

Under further questioning the sheriff admitted that during his term of office he had served papers from various magistrates in this and other counties, and many process from other counties, and that with the exception of a few such items as appear on his process book there are no records of the fees collected.

"Did you have to make an income tax report?" Kellum asked.

"No, I didn't come under that bracket," said the sheriff. "I made inquiry but found that I did not have to make one."

"Could you have made a correct report, not knowing how many fees you had collected?" asked the questioner.

"I suppose so. After deducting the expenses the extra fees would have made but little difference in the taxable income," he replied.

Shown five checks from Martin county, four of which were paid to Pitt County through endorsement by the sheriff, the sheriff admitted that unless the items appeared on his fees book they were paid to the county for purposes other than the process which they were supposed to cover.

Just prior to the midday recess, the sheriff was asked if he had not collected from both the justices of the peace and the county for 294 jail days covered in one schedule of the audit. The recess was taken while the sheriff was checking the schedule against the jail fees record book preparatory to answering the question.

ADMITS ABDUCTION AND SLAYING OF CASH CHILD

Disguising his voice, McCall tried to persuade the Negro to take it to James Bailey Cash, Sr. When Emanuel became frightened and fled, McCall placed it under his door.

Earlier, State's attorney George Worley said McCall may be charged with both the murder and the kidnaping of young Cash.

Although then no formal charges had been entered against the young truck driver, Worley said he would present evidence to a special grand jury Monday in which it might indict McCall for the two crimes, both capital cases in this state.

city, were meeting heavy Chinese fire, it was believed the defenders were merely fighting a rear guard action.

Most of the Chinese forces were said to have withdrawn to the south first to defend arsenals in the path of Japan's westward offensive and, secondly, to make their stand in more mountainous country where Japan's highly mechanized forces would have less advantage.

No word was received of Dr. Sanford Ayres of Atlanta, Ga., who last was reported forced to move his hospital from Chengchow to a Catholic mission six miles outside because of incessant Japanese air attacks. With Dr. Ayres were two British colleagues.
