JUDGE FRIZZELLE DISSOLVES RESTRAINING ORDER

JAPAN ADVISES FOREIGN SHIPS TO LEAVE ZONE

Navy Serves Warning of Plans to Blast Way Up River

CITY OF HANKOW NEXT OBJECTIVE

British, United States and French Craft Only Vessels in The Yangtze

Shanghai, June 11.—(AP)—The Japanese navy served warning today that it plans to blast its way up the Yangtze river to Hankow, China's provisional capital.

All foreign shipping was advised to evacuate a 200-mile zone between Wuhu and Kukiang, in an effort to prevent possible international complications.

Kukiang is 120 miles down the river from Hankow and Wuhu is 326 miles from the provisional capital.

The only foreign ships now in the Yangtze are British, United States and French gunboats.

About 40 Japanese gunboats and transports were reported up the river from Wuhu, taking part in the new drive.

They were led by the Izumo, flagship of the Japanese fleet in China waters, which led the naval attack on Shanghai last year.

The admiral announced in Tokyo a general drive on Hankow had been launched up the Yangtze and that a marine party had landed and was in action.

Bus Insurance Goes To Stock Company

Raleigh, June 11.—Although the School Commission Thursday recommended splitting fire insurance on its some 4,200 school busses, Dan C. Boney, State Insurance Commissioner, yesterday temporarily placed all fire insurance with the Home Fire Insurance Company of New York, a stock company.

This company quoted a flat rate of 35 cents on the $100 valuation for some $2,000,000 worth of insurance, the Commissioner said. The insurance was temporarily accepted yesterday before noon when the company formerly insuring the busses terminated its contract.

The formal policies may not be issued for some time, Boney added, and the business may still be split with mutuals if they finally met the stock company rate without consideration of dividends.

The Northwestern Mutual Fire Insurance Association offered a 40 cent rate with a promise of 25 per cent dividend at the end of each insurance year, but Commissioner Boney said he could not approve writing insurance for the same class of State property at two different rates.

No State property is insured in mutual companies at the present time, Boney said.

SHERIFF KNEW THIEF BY SIZE OF SHOES

Oklahoma City (AP)—When A. J. Beedo, Gravin county sheriff, arrived to investigate the theft of three cows, he took one look in the pasture and said: "There's only one man in the county with feet as big as that."

So he went to the home of a man who wears size 11 1/2 shoes and the man confessed.

EIGHT KILLED IN CRASH OF HUGE ARMY BOMBER

This mass of wreckage is all that remains of an army bomber that crashed on a farm north of Dele van, Ill., killing its soldier crew of three officers and five enlisted men. The huge plane was making a "routine" flight from Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., to Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado.

OPEN PROBE IN BOMBER CRASH

Army Conducting Inquiry Into Crash of Army Plane

Dele van, Ill., June 11.—(AP)—A bombing plane in which a crew of eight perished yesterday "disintegrated" in the air during the storm.

Major Camblin, headed an army board which began a formal inquiry today at the scene of the crash, a farm meadow two miles northwest of here.

He told a coroner's jury. "There is no doubt the plane disintegrated in the air, either because it was struck by lightning or by stress caused by rough handling by the storm."

The Major said a preliminary investigation failed to disclose any "real evidence" that a bolt of lightning hit the ship, a Douglas B-15 bomber, carrying three officers and five enlisted men. A wing found about 200 yards from the main part of the wreckage was not scathed by lightning, he said.

The broken bodies of the fliers were removed last night to a field at Rantoul, Ill.

Captain Hugo Rush, who, with First Lieut. Samuel Stephenson and Major Camblin, is a member of the board of inquiry said it was unlikely that the crash was caused by "structural failure" of the plane.

Burs Ahead of Season. Snodde Hudson of Grimesland brought a bush of full-grown cockleburrs to Greenville today. The burs do not usually develop until just before frost. Mr. Hudson was the second Pitt county farmer to report finding the cockleburrs this early.

He ascribed the early growth to the mild winter experienced.

Another bush of the full grown burs was brought in here city later in the day by A. G. Warren's "All-Pine" farm on the Bethel highway.

Prison Population Grows Despite Probation System

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, June 11.—North Carolina's prison population continues to increase, despite inauguration of the probation system six months ago—a system which has resulted in 640 persons being made probationers instead of prison inmates.

But for the month of May there was an increase of the state's prison population from 9,728 to 9,749, and increase not nearly so large in percent as in some previous months but an increase just the same.

Making a rough comparison of those serving prison terms with those who have been sentenced to prison but who are not actually serving their time by reason of probation or parole, it is found that there are about four and a half 'in' to every one 'out'; since there are 1,481 paroled prisoners under supervision of the parole commission in addition to the 640 probationers, or 2,121 convicted persons not actually serving their time, as compared with the 9,749 mentioned as being confined in prison camps, central prison or other state institutions.

Sixty-two prisoners (25 in central prison and 37 on the roads) were paroled in May, while paroles of 17 persons who had been on the roads, eight in central prison) were revoked.

Thirty-eight escaped (17 from Central prison, 21 from road camps) while 31 were recaptured (11 Central prison, 20 road prisoners).

Seven prisoners died during the month, four in central prison, three in road camps.

Criticism Aimed at Manufacturers

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today that government's condemnation of the bombing of civilians was directed at American manufacturers of bombing planes, as well as foreign potential encouragement.

Hull's prediction that the State Department's condemnation would discourage airplane sales to those who use bombs indiscriminately was made in reply to a question on whether the United States would condemn the bombings.

Hull said the government's present attitude was of course to maintain that position and to say to everybody in the United States condemned both the bombings and its material encouragement.

SUMMON JURY IN CASH CASE

Called Into Session to Return Formal Verdict

Miami, Fla., June 11.—(AP)—A coroner's jury was called into session again today to return a formal verdict in the death of James Bailey Cash, Jr., whose kidnap slaying was fully solved yesterday by announcement of federal agents of a detailed confession from Franklin P. McCall.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said McCall admitted he alone was responsible for abduction of the Princeton, Fla., child. Previously McCall had told of writing three ransom notes and of collecting $10,000 ransom from the boy's father.

The six-man coroner's jury reviewed the spot where it was found examined the boy's body Thursday, several hours earlier and adjourned until 2 p. m. today.

Whether the jury actually could determine how the five-year old kidnap victim died was problematical. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition after lying in the open 13 days.

Hoover said McCall insisted he had not planned to harm the boy. (Continued on page six)

LABOR LEADERS USING BAD STRATEGY

Babson Discusses Model California Labor Union

By ROGER W. BABSON. Chicago, Illinois, June 11.—The present tactics of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are deplorable. While there are many causes for the protracted business recession, one of the biggest is the labor controversy.

The actions of labor leaders are hurting business badly and are doing permanent injury to their own members. I do not understand what these leaders are expecting to accomplish by their current "strategy." It is unpatriotic to foment labor troubles and issue strike orders at this time. Moreover, with millions of Americans out of jobs and eager to work, it seems ridiculous from labor's own standpoint.

Of course, labor troubles are much less in number today than they were a year ago. At that time conditions were almost hopeless. Until recently (Continued on page four)

TREMORS FELT IN WIDE AREA

Great Britain, France and The Netherlands Jarred

London, June 11.—(AP)—Great Britain, Belgium, Northern France and the Netherlands were jarred at noon today by earthquakes that swayed buildings, toppled chimneys and made many millions dizzy for a few seconds.

Damage apparently was minor and no serious casualties were reported. In Belgium, where the shocks were described as severest in the nation's history, a few persons were injured when several flimsy buildings collapsed in the first tremor.

Frightened Belgians streamed from houses and factories in Brussels when the first series came, lasting from 10 to 20 seconds. Roof tiles crashed to the streets and many windows were splintered.

A second, milder tremor came two hours later.

London observers said the quake's epicenter was in the North Sea, some 25 miles northeast of London.

It was felt particularly in the southern provinces of the Netherlands. A wall collapsed in the Hague and a bookcase overturned at the American legation, but none was injured.

London, from "the city," financial district, to the fashionable West End and the peaceful suburbs, were swayed gently.

In France, the shock was limited to the northern sections.

Plan Band Concert Sunday Afternoon

The Greenville's first public band will present its first public concert at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the court house lawn, if the weather permits.

George Gardner, chief of the fire department, and who has taken an active part in getting the band started, said if it rained the concert probably would be presented in the city-county armory.

The band has been organized several months and the members have been holding weekly practices. There are about 20 pieces in the band, which is being conducted by Norman Hanley.

THIRTEEN DIE WHEN TORNADO HITS IN TEXAS

Several Are Missing In Small Village of Clyde

STORM CRIPPLES COMMUNICATIONS

Box Cars Tumbled Along Rails as Wind Splits Train in Path of Storm

Clyde, Texas, June 11.—(AP)—A slowly moving tornado killed 13 persons in this West Texas village of 700 last night, left several missing, injured at least 40 others, and shattered two score houses.

Wary volunteers searched the debris today, fearful that more bodies lay in the wreckage.

Doctors established emergency stations in stores and dressed wounds of the injured, some of whom entered to find the bodies of dead relatives on the floors.

Clyde was isolated several hours when the tornado tore down communications lines, delaying calls for ambulances, doctors, nurses and volunteers from nearby towns.

The Red Cross mobilized its facilities and a detachment of the National Guard set up a rolling kitchen.

Like a huge snake, the storm crept up on the town shortly after dusk. Many saw it coming and scrambled to safety inside storm cellars. Others gambled vainly that their houses would withstand the shock.

The wind split a freight train, tumbling box cars along the rails. At least one transient was killed.

HEALTH OFFICE FILES REPORT

Tuberculosis, Maternal and Venereal Clinics Held

The major activities of the Pitt County Health Department for the month of May, according to a report submitted by Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, health officer, to the Pitt County Medical Society this week, were an early diagnosis state tuberculosis clinic, maternal and infant welfare work, venereal disease clinics and community sanitation.

The report submitted by Dr. Ennett follows.

"The only thing in the contagious disease situation which justifies comment was two cases of typhoid fever, ages three and six years. Neither child had ever been vaccinated against typhoid and both homes were without a sanitary privy."

"In May we had the largest number of patients in the history of the maternal and infant welfare clinics, the number being 84. Likewise the orthopedic clinic showed the largest attendance in the history of that clinic, the number being 42."

"The attendance at the venereal disease clinics continues to hold up. Number of Wassermanns taken in May were 467, and treatments given were 1,093."

"The statistics on the early diagnosis tuberculosis clinic, covering a two weeks' period, May 9-20th, and (Continued on page five)

TRIAL HALTED FOR WEEK-END

Ouster Case To Begin Sixth Week Here Monday A. M.

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst yesterday afternoon completed his fourth day on the witness stand in the ouster proceedings against him brought by members of the board of county commissioners and the fifth week of the hearing ended when court recessed until Monday morning.

Since the hearing was begun on Monday, May 9 there have been twenty-one days of actual hearings, the other time of the five weeks being taken up with the week-end recesses, a three-day recess between presentation of evidence by the prosecution and defense and a two-day recess last week because of the primary.

The sheriff took the witness stand in his own defense last Monday morning and has been under cross examination since noon Wednesday. On cross-examination he has admitted many irregularities in the manner of keeping the records of his office which made it practically impossible to accurately check the transactions of his office during the 11 1/2 years he has been sheriff.

Continuing under cross examination yesterday afternoon the sheriff admitted that he had collected jail fees from both justices of the peace and the county, on 275 jail days represented in one of the schedules of the audit. He also admitted that of 41 items from Justices of the Peace J. I. Smith and H. L. Jenkins, 13 were entered on his records and paid over to the county with no record of the remaining 28 items.

Asked by the cross-examiner why these items, contended by the sheriff in previous testimony to belong to him, had been placed on the county's books and paid over to the county, the sheriff replied that through mistake they got entered on the county fees book.

"Were you so obsessed-minded and habitually negligent in the affairs of the office as to make such mistakes of paying to the county 13 of 42 items that you have contended belong to you?" asked Attorney Kellum of counsel for the petitioners. "Sometimes we were so busy that we naturally made mistakes" replied the sheriff.

The cross examination also included the examination of approximately 50 vouchers covering payments to the sheriff for transporting prisoners to Raleigh and transporting persons to the Negro asylum in Goldsboro. In many instances the mileage on these items varied and the sheriff was asked why he had approved these items and collected from the county when they were incorrect. He explained that in most instances the information contained on the bills was put there by the deputy who had made the trip or by some member of his office staff and that as a matter of routine he approved these bills without close examination. He explained that in some instances the difference in mileage to Raleigh was accounted for in the route it was necessary to travel. In one instance he declared that he was taking a prisoner to Raleigh for safekeeping, and in order to avoid a mob he had traveled from Greenville by way of Washington, Williamston and Rocky Mount to go to Raleigh.

William Harvey (1578-1657) is credited with the discovery of circulation of the blood.

Girls Keep Gobs' Cap. Auckland, N. Z. (AP)—When the American cruiser Louisville reached here after its Australian visit, the distinctive sailors' caps in her stores were all but exhausted, and many a gob had only one to his name. It seems the girls in Australia took such a fancy to them that they begged, borrowed—or sometimes simply snatched—them away from the American seamen.

Biggest Corn Cargo. Superior, Wis. (AP)—When the Canadian Steamship company grain carrier LeMoine loaded a corn cargo of 500,000 bushels here recently, a new record for the Great Lakes was claimed. The cargo, weighing 14,000 tons and destined for export, was estimated to be the equivalent of a 12,500 acre crop.

Weather For The Week. South Atlantic States: Occasional afternoon thundershowers in Florida, showers at beginning of the week in the Carolinas and Georgia, and possibly again in latter part; normal temperatures, except slightly cooler in extreme north portion.

It also was brought out at the hearing that counsel for the petitioners in the restraining order were in error in making charges that the county commissioners overcharged for their services. Counsel explained that since the petition was filed it had been discovered that a legislative act of 1911 fixed the compensation of members of the board at $3 per day and mileage.

The petition had contended that the commissioners overcharged for their services and asked that they be required to return the excess fees to the county funds.

Hearing of the temporary injunction was originally scheduled for next Saturday, June 18.

The petition was presented last Monday night by S. O. Worthington, in behalf of L. R. Whitchard, G. L. Forbes, E. J. Mills, L. T. Pierce, Jesse Mills, Blount Edwards, R. E. Belcher and C. D. Langston.

The action was brought against B. M. Lewis, L. W. Cherry, Roy T. Cox, D. T. House, Jr., and F. M. Kilpatrick, individually, and as county commissioners of Pitt county, and C. O. H. Horne, J. R. Harvey and C. A. Tyson, comprising the ABC board of Pitt county.

Third, C. Wayland Spruill who as Bertie's Representative voted wet last time.

Fifth, A. B. Corey, back from Pitt after a lapse of a term, and sure to vote for control in accordance with his county's stand.

Sixth, W. L. Lumpkin, wet as a Franklin House member in 1937, and incumbent J. C. Egles.

Wets Appear Certain Of Control Of 1939 Senate

Raleigh, June 11.—County Control forces appear absolutely certain to control the 1939 State Senate and thereby repulse whatever efforts are made by the United Dry Forces to overturn the present system of county option by means of a statewide referendum.

This seemed probable even before the primary voting, and now that the returns are in, the certainty appears even more certain, and that's a good logic even if not good grammar.

At the risk of mis-branding a Senator or two—and your correspondent makes no claim to the infallibility of his ratings—here are twenty-five members (half the total) who will almost surely vote against any drastic change in the present setup.

Mrs. Horne, mother of the bride, wore pale blue chiffon with a shoulder corsage of Roosevelt roses. Mrs. Moffett, mother of the groom, wore white chiffon with Roosevelt roses.

Mrs. Mason Yates, sister of the bride, as dame-of-honor, wore a beautifully embroidered dress of white marquisette with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of delphinium and larkspur tied with blue ribbon.

The bride, in white, entered with her father. Her dress of triple sheer was beautifully made with inserts of val silk lace. Matching lace crowned her veil of illusion. She carried a white satin Prayer Book showered with valley lilies.

The groom was attended by his father, Mr. Robert Edward Byrnes Moffett of Madison, as best man.

While the vows were being spoken, Mrs. Tyson softly played "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell.

Mrs. Moffett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Horne of Greenville. Since graduation from East Carolina Teachers College in 1935, she has been a member of the Madison high school faculty. She carried the announcement of her engagement. She has been honor guest of a number of outstanding social functions.

Clarendon, Tex. (AP)—D. P. Wadsworth, railroad agent, thinks a stray cat that came to his house has earned a home, so he is taking the animal home.

The cat came to the Wadsworth house six weeks ago and the railroad agent didn't want him and took him out to the prairie and left him.

A few days later the cat came back.

Wadsworth shipped him to another county where he was released. Thirty days later the cat meowed at the Wadsworth door.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
Saturday, June 11, 1896

Personal
J. G. Moyer returned Friday evening from Cary and Raleigh.
E. L. Knott of Oxford is visiting the family of J. S. Jenkins.

Notices
Have you listed your taxes? Whortleberries are very plentiful. The warm weather makes crops talk.

This kind of weather creates a longing for a whiff of sea breezes. Concert in Germania Hall Monday and Tuesday nights for the benefit of the Christian Church.

Greenville is quite a town for house excursions. Several have been taking their turn down Dickinson avenue.

The Box Sent
This morning the ladies sent off a big box to our soldiers in camp at Raleigh. You can imagine the pleasure the boys will have upon opening the box and especially when they begin to enjoy its contents.

Lettuce
This morning the Reflector received a basket of very fine lettuce that was sent up by Editor Busler from Winterville. The card that came along with the basket said that the lettuce was raised from "Skinner's Free Seed." Friend Busler showed himself a pretty good hand at growing them.

Top baked sliced ham with a mixture of one cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of powdered cloves, two teaspoons of dry mustard and half a cup of vinegar. Spread the mixture on top of the ham just before you put it in the oven.

Wait until your refrigerator deserts are half frozen before you add fruits. Otherwise the fruit is likely to freeze into hard, ice-like pieces.

Apples and rhubarb are tasty mixed together. Combine equal portions and cook as for a regular sauce. Add a little lemon juice to improve the flavor.

Clean the piano keys by rubbing them with alcohol applied on a soft cloth.

tainment provided for all those attending.

"Entertainment features already arranged for the two-day meeting include a dance on both nights of the convention, an elaborate banquet, golf, bridge and theater parties, scenic drive to Grandfather mountain, tea for the ladies at Graystone Tower, admissions to "The famous Blowing Rock" and other amusement and recreational features all of which will be complimentary to those registering at the convention."

"This occasion constitutes North Carolina's leading retail event," continued Mr. Dowell, "for it presents to retail merchants an opportunity which is enjoyed but once a year—that of gathering in a state-wide forum for the purpose of considering and untiedly acting upon their common problems."

"The Lenoir and Boone merchants associations are acting as joint hosts for the Blowing Rock convention and these associations have united with the North Carolina Merchants Association in extending a cordial invitation to all merchants of the state to attend the convention, hear the helpful addresses, participate in the deliberations, profit by its constructive ideas, and enjoy the fine entertainment and good-fellowship of the occasion."

Mayview Manor which is located on the mountainside of Mayview Park, a mile from the business section of Blowing Rock, has been designated as headquarters for the convention.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Do cut-worms wreak havoc in your garden? Try this: Moisten a quart of bran with a cup of cold water. Add a teaspoon each of molasses and Paris green. Sprinkle some of the mixture around the plants just before dark. When you store the surplus, be sure to mark "Poison" on the container and keep it out of reach of the children.

Mix equal parts of linseed oil and turpentine to make an effective and economical furniture polish. Wipe the mixture with a soft cloth. Wipe the furniture dry and polish with a clean wool cloth.

Try home-made mustard for ham sandwiches. Mix two tablespoons of powdered mustard with two teaspoons of sugar. Add one tablespoon of vinegar and two teaspoons of boiling water. Mix well.

To remove wine stains from table linens cover the stained area with cold water and salt. When it has dried, rinse it in cold water and launder the linen in the usual way.

Hurry-up dessert suggestion: Toast sponge or angel food cake slices. Spread them with preserved fruit or jam. Surround several with bananas, berries or oranges. If you have a supply of shredded coconut on hand toast some of that and sprinkle a little over the top of each dessert.

Top baked sliced ham with a mixture of one cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of powdered cloves, two teaspoons of dry mustard and half a cup of vinegar. Spread the mixture on top of the ham just before you put it in the oven.

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, June 11—Finance and Appropriation committees, the groups which to all practical intents and purposes frame all the state's taxing and spending laws, will have new chairmen in both House and Senate in 1939; in addition not one of these committees can possibly have a many as half repeating members.

In the Senate there will be new chairmen for the very good and sufficient reason that neither 1937 chairman (E. V. Webb of Finance and James A. Bell of Appropriations) will be a member; while over in the House both 1939 chairmen (Victor Bryant of Finance and Libby Ward of Appropriations) are candidates for the Speakership and it is unlikely that either, if and when successful, would name the other—though this possibility is not so remote in view of the fact that the Durham and Craven legislators are still good friends despite their clashing ambitions.

W. B. Rodman, Jr., Beaufort county's very able Senator, is extremely likely to get Finance in the upper house; while Pat Taylor of Anson is a possible selection for Appropriations. In neither case, however, is there any certainty. Harris Newman of New Hanover was in line for a good past, but ran into too much to handle in the way of primary opposition from Emmett Bellamy and as a result will have to take his legislative sinning out by this bureau a day or so ago before complete informa-

The measles epidemic in North Carolina seems to be distinctly on the wane. Week ended June 4 report of Division of Epidemiology showed only 948 cases as compared with 1,404 the week before. That school's out the disease will die out quickly.

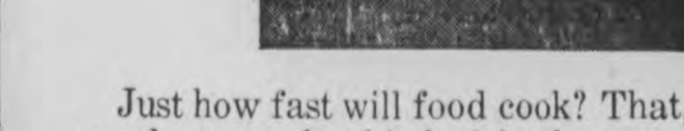

Latest—and this time very reliable—information is to the tenor and effect that the Unemployment Commission has no idea of moving its headquarters from Raleigh. It now has virtually accepted a proposition to move into a building erected specially for it here. This may have broken before this is read so imminent and impending is the decision.

DENMARK MAY FORTIFY STRAIT VOTES DEFENSE FUND
Copenhagen (AP)—Denmark has turned away from its old belief that "the best defense is no defense." The reason is Nazi Germany.

The dominant social democratic party has decided to vote $3,000,000 kroner ($1,000,000) for defense.

But this is only a start. Denmark and Sweden together may fortify both sides of the Oresund, the strait that separates them.

Washington Daybook

Washington - Just about every year somebody comes out with a tabulation to show that Americans are living on the fat of the land because they have 1700 telephones for every one they have in Afghanistan or Tibet and as many as all the rest of the world put together.

Telephones are always computed per capita. This gives the United States a whopping edge for the latest tabulation coming to us indicates there are 18,433,400 telephones in this country. That is about one for every seven persons, more or less—that is, more or less persons, not more or less telephones.

Now 18,433,400 telephones is a lot of numbers to call and it is the proud but honest boast of the telephone company that any one of these telephones can telephone any one of the other 18,433,399 at almost any time of the day or night.

But when a party is hunting a telephone while stranded on a dark country road it is no pleasure to know that one out of every seven has it. He wants to know how many there are per square mile of dark countryside and what his chances are of finding one. That, statistically, is different.

The same tabulation by which we were informed that the United States has 18,433,400 telephones (it is even more by now, we were cautioned, also informed us that England had 2,791,597 and Japan 1,197,129.

That is far fewer telephones than in the United States—per person. But on a square mile basis it leaves the United States far less happy.

Closed For Holiday

England has an area of 94,272 square miles, about the same as one of our hotly contested mid-western states. And when you spread 2,791,597 telephones in such an area it means one telephone every little way, not to mention the pub on the corner. All in all, it measures 285 telephones per square mile, which is something better than we could calculate for the United States.

Japan has 261,832 square miles to be covered by its 1,179,129 telephones or 45 telephones per square mile.

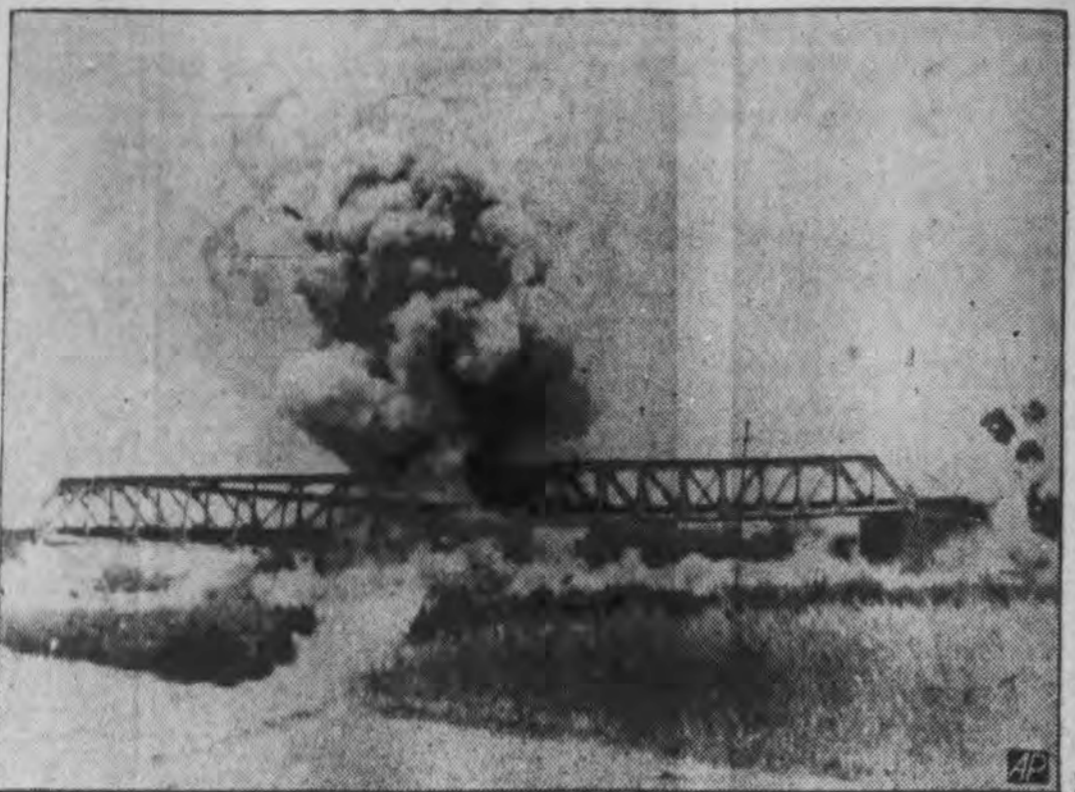

Now the United States has to cover 3,026,789 square miles with its 18,000,000 odd phones, or six to the square mile. Moreover, it is no comfort to the standard vacationist to know that he may find them in clusters of two or three in a house or even six on one desk.

What he wants is one telephone, with a telephone book hung on a string nearby containing the number of the nearest garage. And the chances are when he gets the call through—which will be prompt enough if it is possible—he will find the garage closed for the night and not opening tomorrow, because of the holiday.

The Senator's Night Gown At this point we will record evidence of some old fashioned non-conformity in Congress in the person of Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan. On a recent date he wrote to the Hotel Olds in Lansing, saying:

"Gentlemen: When I was in Lansing April 24, I left some laundry and said I would call for it. I forgot it when in Lansing last Saturday for a couple of hours. Would you please mail it to me 262 Senate Office Building here, (Washington). I also left a white night gown in the room. If your maid picked it up would you send it also. Old fashioned night gowns are such a rarity in these pajama days that the loss is more serious than the intrinsic value. I suppose I am one of the few left who cling to this old fashioned luxury, but since I wear pants all day, I like a change at night." He got it. It was sent him by mail, C. O. D., 80 cents.

IT'S ODD: But It's Science By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor Cambridge, Mass.—Dr. Fred L. Whipple of Harvard Observatory, has measured the density of the air 70 miles above sea level. It is so rare up there, that a thickness of sea level air equal to a calling card, would expand to a thickness of one mile. In figures, this density is one-millionth that of sea level air. Dr. Whipple was not guessing. He took photographs of meteors, on plates which showed their speeds through the air at the 70-mile level. The air up there slowed down the meteors.

This drag reduced their speed at the rate of one mile a second in one second. Dr. Whipple knew from the photographic plates the approximate size of the meteors. So he was able to figure the density of air needed to slow the shooting stars by the amount observed. His results are told in "The Telescope." His work also "suggests" something about the temperatures up to 70 miles. One suggestion is that at 40 miles up the air is at the boiling point of water. Other scientists have made this same deduction.

Whippets were originally bred for rabbiting, but now are mainly used for racing. The mining industry furnishes nearly 90 per cent of the exports of Chile.

OCTAGON HOUSE BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Assey Mo'vo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office must have aroused suspicion. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife, but Pam Frye is innocent, as well as Tim Carr who was once married to Marina. Then the barn is burned, and Assey, Tim, and Pam's father are knocked out. The problem confronting Assey is a $50,000 lump of ambergris which Pam found the day of the murder and Aaron Frye hid in the barn. Assey is convinced the fire was set by someone who is after the ambergris, and that the lump was not in the barn when it burned. With Tim, Assey is now looking for two missing troopers.

Chapter 32 Dune Island

WITHOUT apparently decreasing speed, Assey turned off on a sand road. Tim averted his eyes from the ruts. It was simpler not to look ahead, in this particular case, he thought.

"Er—you intend to use the coupe, do you?" he inquired. "To sea hunt, I mean?"

Assey grinned. "Oh, I know," Tim said hastily "I know you're a director of Porter's automobile factory, and you're a pioneer automobilist—somehow I'd rather have liked to see you in goggles and a dust coat, scorching along at eleven and a half—yes, Assey, I'm sure you know cars, and you seem to have a way with fate. But this is a city car. It can't swim. Not the least bit. Sissy, I know, but there you are. How do you organize a sea hunt, by the way? What does one do? Stand on the beach and squint to leeward, or something?"

"You know the woods back of Octagon House," Assey began. "Know them?" Tim said. "My dear man, Robinson Crusoe never knew his damn island the way I know those woods. I can truthfully say that, after last night, I know every nook and cranny, every last bit of poison ivy, I know it by heart. What about the woods?"

"Eventually," Assey said, "the woods come to the river. We didn't hunt that far. A salt river, it is, an' it runs off Wherry Pond. That's a salt pond."

Timothy stuck his head out the window and watched the wheels squashing gummyly through the bog. "O'Malley an' Shorty," Assey said, "met up with the biffer. Our pal, our shrewdly was too shrewd to be seen, an' I don't know about the other feller. I'm sure it was the biffer, an' I sort o' feel the cops must of got biffed. Cops ain't never so interested in a chase as they are in a chase where they got biffed, person'ly. A good smack seems to sort of inspire 'em. I think O'Malley an' Shorty chased our pal the biffer through the woods, an' along to the river, an' then I think they took to a boat."

"All in the same boat?" Tim asked. "You must," Assey said, "have been an awful irritatin' boy, when young." "It's my mathematical mind, Tim said. "I have to put every item in its place. The biffer took to a boat in the river, and the cops took to another, and followed. That right?"

"I think so," Assey said. "You make things so simple and brief," Timothy said. "Like a news reel, no 'I'm not ever notice the simplicity and clarity of the news reels? Say some dictator says something that shakes the world and sets international crises going left and right. This Means War. Civilization on Precipice. And just as you think about laying in a lot of canned milk and pemmican, then you go to the movies and see the news reel of the dictator making his statement, and it's just a man waving his arms around at a lot of heads. Simplicity itself—am I boring you?"

"Had much radio experience?" Assey asked drily. "No, it's just my fluent way," Tim said. "It's—why do we stop?" "This is where we get out an' walk. Take off your shoes."

Down The River TIMOTHY looked at the sedge grass, half submerged in the water, and the shells, and the stones with barnacles that were scattered along the shore. "I suppose," Tim said, "you really do expect me to take off my shoes, too, and tramp bravely in my bare feet? No, I had some brief experience with that grass and those barnacles the day we came. My shoes stay on."

"Then head 'em the right way," Assey said. "We're going 'round the point." "Where are we?" Tim asked. "Roughly, I mean, and where are we bound?"

"We're on the river," Assey said. "Ocean's to the right, beyond the pond an' the channel. The old Indian's around the bend. It ain't been used since they built that nice new alphabet wharf up in the cove, but I know Pam keeps her boats here. She said so. Prob'ly others do, too. If you wanted to fly straight like a crow, you'd be able to shoot back to Octagon House over the tree tops, an' the swamp. We circled around an' got here a lot quicker than we could of on foot. We're also nearer where we want to get to than if we started from the town wharf."

"I see," Tim said. "It was that swamp where I got in before, I knew it, during our man hunt. Now, what about the troopers?" "I think," Assey said, "they went down the river, followin' the biffer, an' then I think they got across the small end of the pond an' into the channel current. An' then I think the tide intervened an' took 'em out to sea. At least, as far as Dune Island."

"And what do we do?" "Oh, we take a boat an' investigate," Assey said casually. "Here—here are Pam's, see 'em? The Fryin' Pam I, II, and III. One sailboat an' two sharpies. Chained an' locked to the moorin's, out—uh-huh. There's two other boats that belong here, see? They belong here an' here."

"The muscles on Carr's neck and shoulders," Timothy continued imperturbably, "stood out like those of some ancient Greek athlete about to meet his lion. Row, my boy, for dear old Quoanomet."

LABOR LEADERS ARE USING BAD STRATEGY

(Continued From Page One) the sharp drop in business had made labor leaders watch their step more closely. Lately, however, the "big shots" to revive interest in wanting memberships, have stirred up more rows. The automobile, the 'irs, and the shipping industries have been plagued by new outbreaks. At the same time, building, railroad, and steel workers have held wages at their unreasonable peaks of a year ago. As a result unions are hurting business and are ruining themselves in the eyes of public opinion.

Unions Turning Into Rackets In attacking union leadership, I am not decrying the principle of collective bargaining. All practical business leaders and professional people are solidly behind this principle. Employees must be protected in their right to discuss their work, their hours, and their pay with their employers without fear or losing their jobs. The truth is, however, that the labor union movement in America is turning into a racket. The unions' methods, their rules, and regulations, their dues—in fact their whole set-up—is not too far a cry from simple gangsterism.

For that reason many employees who would like to belong to a union hesitate to do so. They do not want to become identified with either of the major unions and their tainted reputations. They are afraid to join these unions and be bossed and shoved around by a bunch of pug-nuglies. They do not want to give up their rights to personal liberty and to free speech. They do, however, want the protection that collective action should give them. In many concerns throughout the country there have been very bitter campaigns on the following question: Should the employees form their own independent union or should they join up with one of the two existing unions?

Unions California Union The most interesting case of this kind is that of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. After the Wagner Act had been upheld by the Supreme Court last year, the employees of this company decided that they should form their own independent union before they fell into the clutches of outside unions. Both the CIO and AFOU made strong drives to force the new group into one or the other of their existing unions. A secret ballot election was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board. The employees voted by a wide majority to keep their union independent.

I cite this case because the independent union was organized on a far different basis than most company and trade unions. For instance, this union was incorporated under the laws of California as a non-profit organization. It is, therefore, legally responsible, to carry out any agreement it makes. Incorporation of unions has long been regarded by employers as essential to industrial peace. It, however, has been fought tooth-and-nail by union leaders because the financial affairs of corporations must be kept open to public inspection. Hence, acceptance of such responsibility by the P. G. and E. workers is a milestone in labor organization.

Ideal Type Of Union There are no labor bosses connected with this California union. It is run entirely by the employee members and an attorney of their own choosing. There are no salaries, no initiation fees, no special assessments, no political contributions. Dues are fifty cents a month compared with $1 to as high as $5 a month in the CIO and AFOU. The

Greenies Meet Snow Hill Monday; Changes Club Roster

LOCALS HOPE TO SHAKE JINX

Of Next Five Games, Four Are Carded With Ayden

The Greenies will meet Snow Hill here Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was announced today. The game will be one which was rained out Tuesday, May 24.

Several changes have been made in the roster of the local club during the past week.

On Monday, Floyd Baumbarner of Belmont, was signed, only to be released on Thursday.

Ben Singleton, local boy, was signed as a pitcher on Wednesday. He started in a game with Kinston, but was released on Thursday.

J. Marion Johnson of Colquitt, Ga., an infielder, was signed Thursday. The player has been holding down shortstop at Ayden before joining the club.

Alexander Daniels, catcher and third baseman, was purchased from the Goldsboro club. He hails from Wilkesbarre, Pa., and has been holding down the catching since joining the club.

George Pratt was released with the signing of Daniels. Pratt has been with the local club since the start of the season as relief catcher and has been filling that position since Smith was injured recently. He hails from Colerain.

Also released this week was George "Tommy" Thompson, who was with the club last year and made a good record. Thompson, however, has not been going so good this year. It was understood that he will go to the western part of the state. His home is in Kenosha, Wis.

Hubert Price, a pitcher from Chicago, was signed last week but was released following Thursday's game.

Yesterday the local club signed John N. Benninghoff, Jr., of Jenkinstown, Pa., a pitcher.

Bull Hamons Blanks Eagles with 2-Hit Ball

Kinston, June 11.—Lowell (Bull) Hamons held Kinston to two hits a single in the seventh and a double in the ninth—today as New Bern won over the Eagles, 1-0.

Hamons needed such stellar hurling to get the nod over Henry Muhlenbeim. Except for the second inning—the Bears scored in what verse on Phil Morris' double and Red Harper's single—the Kinston lefthander held the Bears in check, thanks in part to superb fielding by his mates.

A single by Floyd Patton in the seventh was Kinston's first safety of the day. Billy Southworth doubled in the ninth.

After New Bern had scored in the second inning, the fans sat back and wondered just how long Hamons would be able to hurl hitless ball. The answer came in the third inning when Muhlenbeim's error was topped off by a sensational shoe-string catch by Billy Southworth—the effort tied Billy into a knot and had him rocking and rolling all over centerfield, but he held to the ball.

Score by innings: R. H. E. New Bern . . . 0 10 0 0 0—1 7 2 Kinston . . . 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 1 Hamons and Thornton; Muhlenbeim and West.

T. G. Campbell Opens Service Station Here

T. G. Campbell has announced the opening of a service station and garage on Dickinson avenue at the intersection of the Ayden and Farmville highways.

The station will operate as Campbell's Service Station and will carry a complete line of Gulf products. The garage is fully equipped for general repairs.

HEALTH OFFICE FILES REPORT

(Continued from page one) conducted by Dr. G. C. Godwin, the Pitt County Health Department cooperating, are as follows: Pleuro-pneumonia examinations 367; total tuberculin tested, only 225; total X-rays 21; active cases, old (previously diagnosed), 25; new cases, 12. Total attendance at the clinic was 592. The total attendance at last year's clinic was 320; in other words, the attendance at this year's clinic was 270 greater than last year's clinic. This success could not have been possible without the fine cooperation given the health office by the physicians of the county.

"With proper apologies for making this reference, I wish to say that following his return to the Sanatorium, Dr. Godwin wrote the Health Department, and in commenting on the Pitt county clinic stated:

"I can truthfully say our clinic there takes No. 1 position in efficiency and courtesy, when it is compared with the other clinics held in the state."

DIXIE HIGHLIGHTS

SAM HOUSTON WON THE INDEPENDENCE OF TEXAS IN 18 MINUTES!

Facing tremendous odds, the courageous Texans under the leadership of SAM HOUSTON, gambled and won their independence from Mexico in just 18 minutes. This was the momentous battle of San Jacinto in 1836. Greatly outnumbered, but supremely confident, the indomitable Houston, who was born near Lexington, Virginia, in 1793, ordered the bridges behind him to be destroyed so that retreat would be cut off. The Texan loss was but 6 killed and 25 wounded, while 630 Mexicans were killed, 208 wounded and about 700 were made prisoners.

The ELF OWL, found in the Southwest, has the distinction of being the smallest of all American owls. This interesting little bird generally makes its home in the deserted holes of woodpeckers bored into the pulpy shaft of a giant cactus. Its food is largely composed of insects found in the desert.

Shirley to Pilot Bugs; Billies Winner Friday

Goldsboro, June 11.—Ernest (Mule) Shirley, one-time major league player is to report Sunday to take over the job of managing Goldsboro's entry in the Coastal Plain League.

Directors of the club elected and a veteran of a number of pro Shirley, former Carolina athlete leagues, following the resignation of Clarence Roper as pilot. In his role as pilot of the locals, Shirley will be competing against his home town of Snow Hill, also a member of the league.

Chester Jans, second-baseman, will be in charge of the Bugs until Shirley reports.

The Bugs dropped a 10-7 decision to Snow Hill in yesterday afternoon's game. Five home runs, three by the visitors, featured the game.

The Billies bunched five hits two walks to score four runs in the second inning. They tallied in four other innings.

Joe Bistrot homered in the Billies' fourth, and Harry Soufas and Tony Maisano turned the trick in the seventh.

The Bugs' home runs were hit by Relief Pitcher Pete Kunis, in the sixth, and Burt Watson in the seventh.

The batting leaders were Snow Hill's Soufas and Goldsboro's Buck Overton, each with three for five. Score by innings: R. H. E. Snow Hill . . . 0 4 1 0 10 15 1 Goldsboro . . . 2 0 1 0 3 0 7 13 3 Cherry, Beriette, Clerdale and Bistrot, Flora, Kunis and Overton.

Auto Dealers scored a 10 to 2 victory over Carolina Dairy yesterday afternoon to drop the dairymen out of second place, leaving Trans-Portation-Nehi trailing the league leading Blount-Harvey team.

The Auto Dealers got busy and had little trouble in defeating the dairy team.

The other game of the afternoon, however, proved more spectacular. The two trailing teams met and Furniture Dealers won over the Professional men, 10-7. The furniture men won in the seventh when Leon Dunn broke up a seven-all tie by bringing in three runs with a homer.

Snakes Make Clean Of Series With Aces

Ayden, June 11.—Tarboro's Pat Malone and Ayden's John Yent, Tarboro cast-off, hooked up in an old-fashioned pitchers' battle here yesterday, and Malone came off with the long end of a 4-3 decision.

Tarboro scored one run in the first as the result of singles by Vick and Ware. Maynard's walk and Myer's infield out. But the Aces matched this tally in their half—Schuerholz doubled, Carnahan beat out an infield bunt, and Jives Gasaway singled.

But the Serpents went ahead in the third when Maynard hit a homer over the left-field wall.

The Aces came back in the fourth to score two runs and take a 3-2 lead. Kravitz walked, Purcell beat out an infield hit. Myers erred in retrieving the ball, and Kravitz scampered to third. Yent's sacrifice scored Kravitz and Purcell scored on Myer's second out.

Tarboro scored two runs in the fifth and went ahead for keeps—Ware doubled, Campbell singled, and Maynard doubled.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Tarboro . . . 1 0 2 0 0—4 10 3 Ayden 1 0 0 0 0—3 7 0 Malone and Dick; Yent and Purcell.

WETS APPEAR CERTAIN OF CONTROL OF 1939 SENATE

 Eighth: J. B. Benton, exact position unknown but classed for control because from Johnston, which has ABC stores, and Edgar H. Bain Wayne incumbent, who voted wet last time and will probably stick to his guns despite the fact his county refused stores by a small margin.

Ninth: Emmett Bellamy—he's from Wilmington which is "nuf said."

Tenth: S. Bunn Frink, voted for New Hanover and Pasquotank bills in 1935, if your correspondent is rightly informed; so will probably vote for control again.

Twelfth: Fred Thomas who voted for ABC as Harnett's 1937 House member. M. G. Boyette of Moore is a likely control supporter in view of his county's stores at Pinehurst and Southern Pines, but no exact information of his position is available.

Thirteenth: Incumbent E. Y. Balfour of Wake.

Fourteenth: Frank H. Gibbs of Warren, so classed on information and belief.

Sixteenth: J. W. Umstead of Orange, and whichever wins the runoff between J. H. Warren, of Caswell and George Mumford of Durham.

Seventeenth: T. J. Gold, repeating from Guilford.

Twentieth: Joe Blythe of Mecklenburg.

Thirty-third: R. B. (Jack) Morphew of Graham.

Even the most casual glance at that lineup indicates the clear division of the state's liquor sentiment along geographical lines. Twentyone of the twenty five listed as likely to back the county option plan are from the first fifteen districts—all in the east. Getting into the Piedmont and West, controllers in the Senate are few and far between.

As for the House lineup for 1939 an analysis would be of unusual difficulty in view of the fact that there are so few repeaters with records already made; but apparently it won't make a particle of difference how the House feels on the subject as the Senate holds a veto power, and that's all the controllers need this time, in contrast to their necessity for a majority in both houses last time in order to put over an affirmative program.

So if Cale F. Burgess and the other dry leaders can wangle a state wide referendum out of the 1939 General Assembly, they will well deserve crowns and laurels for great achievement.

frown on all future sales of American planes that could be used for bombing purposes, or whether manufacturers would be encouraged to "pick their customers."

Meanwhile, Southern members of a joint congressional committee approved all but minor details of a compromise on wage-hour legislation, paving the way for the committee to finish work on the bill by nightfall.

Other members of the group previously had indicated they would support the compromise, which provided for flexibility in minimum wages above 30 cents an hour.

Congress' tardiness in completing wage-hour and other important legislation caused leaders to abandon hope of adjourning Tuesday night. They set a goal of merely winding up some time next week.

Also, President Roosevelt invited Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) to the White House for luncheon tomorrow.

NO PROVISION FOR NEW VOTE

Board Without Authority Call New Election in 8th

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 11.—Major Edney Ridge, one of the eight Sixth District congressional candidates in last Saturday's primary, will get no new vote in High Point, or anywhere else, Raymond C. Maxwell, secretary of the State Board of Elections, points out.

Not that the Board would deny the Major's petition in advance of a hearing on its merits, if there were any possibility of granting his request under any set of circumstances; but according to Mr. Maxwell neither the State Board of Elections nor any other agency has the authority to order a new vote for any reason whatever.

"And I am surely glad the Board hasn't any such authority," said the secretary. "If it did every constable candidate from Gum Swamp in the extreme West, to Alligator in the East would be asking for another chance to get nominated."

Mr. Maxwell indicated that the board can do almost anything short of ordering another poll, even to the extent of throwing out practically all the votes cast but he insisted that it would have to declare someone the victor, or at least would have to name the two high candidates entitled to either a runoff primary.

Requested for his opinion by the Guilford Board of Elections, Mr. Maxwell advised that all charges made in connection with the primary be investigated fully and publicly.

"It seems that grave breaches of the election laws have been charged," he said, "and these charges should be probed to the very bottom in order that there be no cry of whitewashing."

He pointed out that a different result of the first primary (in which Lewis Leake of High Point, and Oscar Barker of Durham, were first and second on the face of the returns), might be given by either the state or by the county board, despite the fact the returns have already been certified. These returns may be had back by the Guilford board for revision, if it requests such action, or they may be sent back on initiative of the state board.

Gillette was the winner last week in Iowa's Democratic senatorial primary over Representative Otha Wearin, who had the endorsement from Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, and James Roosevelt, the President's son-secretary.
