PENELL NAMED COMMANDER OF STATE LEGION

Elected at Final Session of Annual Convention

OTHER OFFICERS NAMED FOR YEAR

North Carolina Dept. of Legion to Hold 1939 Convention in Raleigh

Winston-Salem, June 28.—(AP)—The North Carolina Department of the American Legion elected Burgin Penell of Asheville its commander at the final session of the annual convention today.

Raleigh was selected as the 1939 convention city.

Penell succeeds Hector C. Blackwell of Fayetteville.

After electing S. A. Russell of Salisbury first vice commander and R. L. McMillan of Raleigh second vice commander by acclamation, the delegates differed and a contest developed over the election of a third vice commander.

John H. Stephenson of Southern Pines, Dr. R. S. M. Geeshey of Weldon and Herbert Swain of Williamston were nominated for the post. On roll call vote Geeshey received 148, Swain 90 and Stephenson 42.

Swain then moved that the election be made unanimous and Stephenson second the motion.

Louis Ratcliffe of Charlotte was re-elected national committeeman. Stuckney Boyd of Wilson again was named organizer.

The Rev. D. L. Rights of Winston-Salem was elected chaplain; Robert Moseley of Greensboro Judge Advocate and A. R. Newsome of Chapel Hill was re-elected historian.

The even-numbered districts elected officers. The odd ones will elect at the 1939 convention. Among the district elections were:

Second—James McKel of Washington commander, J. D. McNair of Plymouth, vice commander.

Fourth—J. L. Mitchell of Ahoskie commander; H. P. Stephenson of Sevier vice commander; W. L. Daniel of Winston delegate to the national convention.

Sixth—L. P. Gardner of Goldsboro commander, E. D. Pollock of Warsaw vice commander; F. Beeton Bland of Kinston delegate to the national convention.

Complete Session Of County Court

This week's session of county court was completed before the duchess recess. Five cases were heard by Judge Dink James and a note was taken in a case charging Travis Cherry with abandonment.

John Robert Jenkins, Negro, charged with possession of illegal whiskey, was fined $25, costs to be deducted, and given a four months road sentence, suspended upon good behavior for two years.

William H. Person, Negro, was acquitted of a charge of possession of illegal liquor.

Robert Vines, Negro, convicted of abandonment, was given a six months sentence, suspended upon condition defendant make effort to provide adequate support for his children and wife and upon further condition that he report to the county welfare office each week.

Vester Dammal, Negro, was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon and given a six months sentence by the county court, suspended upon payment of a court cost, a $44 hospital bill, a $14 doctor's bill and $24 to the prosecuting witness for time lost from work. The defendant appealed and bond was set at $200.

Myrtle Alice Vincent was convicted of assault, but prayer for judgment was continued and the defendant placed under the supervision of the probation officer for a term of six months.

LAUDER LOOKS FORWARD TO ANOTHER U. S. VISIT

Albuquerque, N. M.—(AP)—Harry Lauder, singing Scotsman, has disclosed in a letter to pupils of Eugene Field school here that he hopes to be spared to make another tour in the U. S. A. and Canada.

The pupils listened recently to a Lauder broadcast from Scotland, then wrote him they enjoyed the program.

Lauder replied immediately, saying: "I certainly appreciate the American appreciation of my songs and work." He added that "good boys make good men, good men always are respected."

There have been 14 weddings in the White House since 1811.

Cash for Cash

With a big broad smile and a broad straw hat, Mrs. Martha Barkley Ryan, 22, of Morganton, went into court in New York and asked for a separation from Basil A. (Pat) Ryan and $15,000 a year alimony. She told the judge she lived with Ryan, grandson and heir of Thomas Fortune Ryan, "a tractation magnate, 'only one night' and the few days she knew him were 'just like a merry-go-round.'" They met at Hickory, where he was serving as a volunteer football coach at a college.

PITT RETAINS TEACHER LIST

Gain One in High School, Lose One in Elementary

County school officials have been advised that one high school teacher would be added next year and one elementary teacher would be lost in the white schools.

Teacher allotments are made by the State School Commission on enrollment and average daily attendance.

Pactolus will lose one elementary teacher, having been four students short of having the number required to maintain an instructor added last year. Fountain will lose a teacher by only seven students. Bell Arthur will gain one elementary teacher and Belvoir will have an additional high school teacher.

The total number will be the same as the past session. The county system will have 58 high school and 136 elementary teachers for the coming session.

The colored schools gained two high school and one elementary teachers. The additional high school teachers will be added at the Pitt Training school at Grimesland and at Ayden. It was not definite where the additional elementary teacher would go.

Last year the combined enrollment in the county system was 14,238. Of this number 7,314 were white students and 6,924 colored. The white schools had a daily average attendance of 6,082 and the colored an average of 5,299.

J. H. Rose, superintendent of the city schools, was not in Greenville today and it was not known what the allotment was for the system.

BELLS ON PIGEONS FRIGHTEEN HAWKS

Dawlish, England (AP)—Major Ralph Rayner has stumbled on to an effective weapon against hawks. He ties bells to his pigeons' legs.

He did it at first so the pigeons could lend a musical background to his garden as they flitted about. Then he discovered that the bells frightened hawks away. Formerly he lost three birds a week; now the hawks give them a wide berth.

Less Than Half Of State Interested In Run-Off

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, June 28.—Two years ago all hundred counties of North Carolina were interested in the primary election of July 4, with three statewide races, as well as many local ones, to be decided. This year voters in 52 of the hundred will not even go to the polls for any purpose whatever.

As a result most of the Firecracker day pyrotechnics this year will be provided by squibs, cannon crackers, Roman candles and skyrockets—not by political goings on.

Only four ballots have been prepared and sent out by the State Board of Elections—two congressional and two local.

Insists Gibraltar Within Range Of Insurgents' Guns

Duchess of Atholl Details Position of Insurgent Arms "Threatening Gibraltar"; To Ask Action of Chamberlain

London, June 28.—(AP)—The Duchess of Atholl today gave details of what she said were guns "threatening Gibraltar" from Insurgent Spain and issued notice she would ask Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the House of Commons tomorrow what he intends to do about them.

The Duchess recently rebelled from conservative ranks and has been a frequent government critic.

The question of such guns, allegedly of German manufacture, has been raised repeatedly during the Spanish Civil war. The Government has taken the position generally that they are not a threat to Gibraltar, Britain's fortress at the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

The Duchess enumerated guns in greater detail than any previous risk. She cited:

More than 20 guns in hills around Insurgent-held Algeiras, including three pieces of more than 10 inches.

A number of long-range 5.9 inch guns and several Howitzers "so placed that they could drop shells in Gibraltar, but yet are invisible from the highest point on the rock.

Nine naval type guns of about four inches on Punta Carnero.

At least one 15 inch gun on a high peak almost 21 miles inland.

About 45 guns ranging from six to 15 inches in Spanish Morocco directly opposite Gibraltar.

Mounting indignation over continued bombings of British merchant ships in Spanish ports led some quarters in London to believe Chamberlain's government must face fresh demands to allow the ships to arm in defense.

Earlier hope that a five-day lull in attacks on British ships indicated Insurgent General Franco at last was responding to repeated protests was dashed yesterday by the destruction of two more British merchantmen with the loss of four lives.

Good Prices Necessary If Weed Brings Profit

County Agent Says Much Damage By Rain and Hail

County Agent R. R. Bennett today predicted that farmers would have to get a good price for their tobacco this fall if they realized "anything like the profits they did last year."

Rains and hail recently have caused irreparable damage to the crops in Pitt and surrounding counties. It is estimated that loss by hail alone amounted to $75,000.

Previous rains also had left much tobacco in a serious condition. Downpours the first of last week had their effect on the crop, and through the few days of dry, fair weather the latter part of the week helped to bring out the crop, to days heavy fall "made bad matters worse," to use the words of the county agent.

The county agent explained that much tobacco was on the verge of drowning and when the sun comes out the leaf is liable to wilt. Only a small per cent of the tobacco has been harvested. Some farmers put in barns before the rains started, but the showers prevented others from harvesting the tobacco which was ready.

The prospects for this year are far from as encouraging as was the situation last year, when farmers produced a good quality of leaf and were paid a good price for their product.

The county agent also declared that other crops had been damaged by rain and hail.

Today's rain which started early this morning, was one of the heaviest in some time.

TELESCOPE IN DOOR REVEALS HOME CALLERS

London—(AP)—Housewives can size up a stranger conveniently without being seen themselves through a new gadget recently introduced in England.

The invention, called a lum-visor, consists of a series of lenses built into a metal case. The only part visible outside the door is a hole the size of a nail head which can easily be camouflaged. Inside the door, the called is visible in a three-inch mirror.

Search Broadened For Chicago Heir

Tangled Underbrush at Base of North Sandia Peak Searched for Young Medill McCormick

Albuquerque, N. M. June 28.—(AP)—Searchers moved through the tangled underbrush at the base of North Sandia peak today in a broadened hunt for Medill McCormick, Chicago publishing heir, lost on a climbing expedition.

Virtually abandoning belief that the youth might be lodged on the steep face of the peak, the searchers prepared to scour the brushy terrain below the ledge on which the body of his companion, Richard Whitner, was found last Thursday.

They were working on the theory that young McCormick gained the foot of the peak's sheer with little or no injury, but was killed, lost or severely hurt in the lower country while trying to reach help for his companion.

RINGLING'S WIDOW FAILS TO KEEP 'BIG TOP' UP

Mrs. Charles Ringling, widow of one of the Ringling Brothers, is shown at Scranton, Pa., pleading with striking workers of the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey Circus to compromise their wage differences and let the show go to London. But she pleaded in vain. The strike continued and the show's executives prepared to pack their acres of canvas and head for winter quarters at Sarasota, Fla.

CITY, COUNTY PAY ON DEBTS

Both Local Govt. Subdivisions to Start New Fiscal Year

Both Pitt county and the city of Greenville are starting the new year off with payment of large sums on their debt service.

The county has mailed checks totaling $62,185 to New York banks for payment of principal and interest on bonds.

The city has sent payments amounting to $28,324.20.

Of the $62,185 sent off by the county, $52,000 was for payment on bonds and $10,185 for interest. A $50,000 issue of 1908, bridge bonds, was paid, along with $1,250 interest. The only other county-wide payment made was $2,500 interest on a five per cent interest funding bond. The bridge bonds also carried a five per cent interest rate.

Other county payments follow: Farmville school district, bond $2,000; interest at six per cent, $540; Ayden school district, interest at five and one-half per cent, $2,145; Ayden township road bonds, interest at five per cent, $1,250; Chicod township road bonds, interest at five per cent, $1,250.

J. H. Coward, county auditor, pointed out that total payments since July, 1937, on county-wide bonds only amounted to $306,844.39, with payments on bonds accounting for $188,000 and $118,844.39 for interest. In addition, approximately $50,000 was paid on district debts during the fiscal year.

The last county issue was in 1931. Since January, 1933, the county has paid off $477,000 in principal and $1,209,158.58 in interest, and approximately $125,000 has been paid in district debts.

The county wide debt now is $2,050,000.

The original amount of county-wide bonds issued is $2,701,000, of which $174,000 was paid prior to January 1, 1933. These figures do not cover district obligations.

Of the $28,324.20 paid by the city, $7,000 was on payment of principal on street improvement bonds; $3,000 on gas plant bonds; $2,000 on water bonds and $5,000 on district school bonds. The remainder was for interest.

Orthopedic Clinic At Health Dept. Friday

The Pitt County Health Department today called attention to the regular, monthly State Orthopedic Clinic held every first Friday, from noon until 3 o'clock, p. m., in the Health Department offices, 215 West Third Street, Greenville. The next clinic will be held on Friday July 1st.

This clinic serves not only Pitt county, but Beaufort, Hyde, Pamlico and Carteret as well, and is open to both white and colored. All types of cripples are received into this clinic for examination without cost, and where eligible and when needed, free treatment is given.

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt county Health Officer, requests that where practical all patients bring a note from their family physicians. He extends a special invitation to all physicians and all welfare officers to visit the Clinic.

Brain Fights Cattle Disease

London—(AP)—Britain, warring against disease in livestock, recently opened a $12,000,000 four-year offensive to combat the enemy which yearly takes a toll of $70,000,000 worth of animals.

Nearly 1,000 veterinary surgeons enrolled in a national veterinary service, will be directed from offices in Britain's 78 principal cities and towns.

Tubercular cattle will receive special attention.

Personal Appeal Slated Decide Speakership Race

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, June 28.—Assuming that there is no late dark horse entry by the United Dry Forces or some other group, the race for speakership of the 1939 House will be decided by the personal appeal of the candidates to the Representatives—not by any issue on which they differ.

Some will vote for Libby Ward because they like him, others will choose Victor Bryant because he's their personal favorite; still others will work for Bill Feener because he's their friend. Then there will be a group of ambitious bandwaggers who will wait until the last minute, then plump for the candidate they think will win anyhow.

Count Is Willing Face Accusations

Reliable Source Says Husband of Barbara Hutton Will Go To London to Appear in Court

London, June 28.—(AP)—Reliable sources said today that Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow would come to London to face allegations of his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, that she wrote her letters she considered threatening.

It was understood the count's attorney, Norman Birkett, would see a magistrate tomorrow or Thursday to fix a date for a hearing of the case.

The Woolworth heiress obtained a summons against her husband last week after she received letters which she believed were threatening.

PLAN DEVISED PAY COUNTIES

Highway Commission To Consider Individual Claims

Raleigh, June 28.—(AP)—Chairman Frank L. Dunlap said today the members of the Highway and Public Works commission had reached an agreement on the method to be followed in considering claims of various counties for millions of dollars in payments for roads.

The details were not revealed. Several years ago counties lodged claims aggregating around $80,000,000 with a special commission appointed to investigate the contentions that counties were due reimbursements for funds expended on roads now taken over by the state.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tillet of Wanchese, operators of the Oregon Inlet ferry, held a conference this afternoon with D. Collins Barnes, a member of the commission, on the possibility of reducing charges at the ferry.

City And County Decide on Holiday

Although it had been generally understood, definite announcements were made yesterday afternoon by city and county officials that offices of the two governments would be closed Monday, July Fourth.

The board of directors of the Merchants Association had previously announced that stores would be closed on the holiday.

The holiday coming on Monday provides employees an extended respite from work and many are planning to go to the seashore, fishing or visiting friends or relatives.

For those who remain home, however, there will be plenty to do. The Greenville baseball team will meet Ayden here Monday morning and the two teams will meet there Monday afternoon. Local theatre managers have booked good shows for those who wish to see a movie.

BRITISH REARMAMENT IS ANCIENT HISTORY

London—(AP)—A moment's speed up? Just an old British custom. You're hearing a lot about it now but actually King Charles II practiced it nearly 300 years ago.

Finding it urgently necessary in 1684 to improve his navy for the coming war with the Dutch, he toured the ports, speaking encouragement to the shipbuilders.

He borrowed $500,000, put another three and a half million with it—and re-quipped his whole fleet for less than half the cost of one modern battleship.

"I don't care who does what," he said, "but the legislature should earmark appropriations for specific purposes and should not make appropriations for dual control. In general work of regulation and inspection should be left to the Department, education and research work to the Extension service."

CHINESE FLIER PLUNGES SHIP ONTO JAP BOAT

Vessel Sunk by Heroic Act of Dare-to-Die Aviator

JAPS MEANTIME CONTINUE RAIDS

Operations in Strife Confined Chiefly To Aerial Attacks In South China

Shanghai, June 28.—(AP)—A "dare-to-die" Chinese flier was said today to have sunk a Japanese gunboat in the Yangtze river by deliberately plunging his burning bomb-laden plane to the vessel's deck.

Chinese air force officers said the occurred at Anking, 215 miles down the river from Hankow, China's provisional capital, in air attacks that damaged at least three Japanese gunboats and destroyed six Japanese war planes.

The Chinese pilot, they said, dived heading to the gunboat's deck when Japanese anti-aircraft fire set his plane aflame.

The officers proudly called the deed another case of a "Chinese flier heroically sacrificing his life at terrific cost to the Jap."

A Chinese bomber was shot down west of Anking, Japanese reported. They said its crew escaped by parachute and was not located.

Japanese planes carried out new bombing raids on Nanchang, an important Chinese air base.

Most Japanese operations were confined to aerial attacks over South China.

N. C. Farm Bureau States Six-Point Legislative Plan

Program Summed Up by E. F. Arnold, Executive Secretary of Association for Farmers

Raleigh, June 28.—The North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation will center its attention on a six-point program for the 1939 General Assembly, E. F. Arnold, its secretary, told this bureau today.

He summed up the program as:

(1) A law providing for $5.00 automobile and farm-to-market truck license plates.

(2) An act authorizing cooperative hail and storm insurance on growing crops.

(3) Building all-weather farm-to-market roads with North Carolina limestone, screenings to be pulverized and sold to farms at cost.

(4) Coordination of existing agricultural State and Federal agencies so as to prevent duplication and overlapping of duties and dual administration of fundamental agencies.

(5) Adequate appropriations for agricultural extension work, vocational agriculture and research work.

(6) Revision of state feed, fertilizer and seed laws.

Mr. Arnold said his organization in demanding $5 auto plates does not advocate smaller revenues. He use on highway construction and maintenance. His argument is that cost of license plates should be only enough to cover identification and administrative costs, which increased revenues, if necessary to continue highway program would come from gasoline and other similar taxes.

In advocating prevention of duplication and overlapping of agencies, he said the Bureau does not mean to intimate disfavor of any particular agency now functioning. He pointed out, however, that there are many points at which the State Department of Agriculture and the State College Extension Service overlap and often clash.

"I don't care who does what," he said, "but the legislature should earmark appropriations for specific purposes and should not make appropriations for dual control. In general work of regulation and inspection should be left to the Department, education and research work to the Extension service."

Fire At Ayden
About three o'clock Sunday morning a house belonging to Mr. R. H. Garris at Ayden was destroyed by fire. When first discovered the fire was burning on the inside of the building all around the chimney. It was a two story building that had just been completed but not occupied.

Oh, For More Trains
Measured by hours necessary to make the trip, Greenville is twice as far from Asheville as some of our neighboring towns. For instance, the trip from Asheville to Kingston is made in 12 hours, while it requires 16 hours more (27 hours in all) to reach Greenville, only 28 miles further. Coming in the other way, Tarboro can be reached in 14 hours with an extra 13 hours to get from there to get from there to Greenville, 26 miles further. This town certainly ought to have more trains.

Hart-Robertson.
Wendell, June 28.—On Saturday evening, June 25, at 8:30 o'clock in the Bethany Baptist Church, Miss Pauline Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Robertson, became the bride of Durward Glenn Hart of Greenville, N. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Edward Hart of Ayden.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Douglas M. Branch, pastor of the bride. The church was decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli, fern, ivy, and tall seven-branched candelabra bearing lighted candles.

The wedding music was rendered by Miss Peggy Green of Millbrook, and Mrs. Glenn Lassiter of Raleigh, vocalist.

The bride entered the church with her maternal uncle, Ratcher H. Watkins of Durham, who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was fashioned of white duchess satin made Empire style with V-shaped neckline and long train. Her long tulle veil was attached to a cap of pleated tulle with a band of orange blossoms at the back with clusters over the ears and a coronet of pearls across the head. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, valley lilies and baby's breath. Her only ornament was an old fashioned locket, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Robertson, as maid of honor, and by Mrs. Ratcher H. Watkins of Durham, as matron of honor. Their dresses were fashioned identically of pink silk net over taffet with very wide circular skirts, deep square necklines and puffed sleeves. They wore halo hats and veils in matching shades and carried arm bouquets of garden flowers tied with big bows of aqua satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jo Elaine Robertson, youngest sister of the bride, Miss Blanche Hart, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ruth Robertson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jane Blalock. Misses Jo Elaine and Ruth Robertson wore dresses of aqua blue net over taffet fashioned with full skirts, tight bodices, and squared necklines. They carried arm bouquets of garden flowers tied with big bows of pink satin ribbon. Misses Blanche Hart and Jane Blalock wore dresses of peach net over taffeta fashioned identically with the other maids and carried arm bouquets of garden flowers tied with aqua ribbon. They all wore halo hats and veils to match their gowns.

The two flower girls, little Betty Sue Peebles, cousin of the bride, and Ann Hardy of Snow Hill, cousin of the bridegroom, wore dresses of aqua net over taffet and carried baskets of rose petals. In their hair they wore coronets of pink flowers.

The ring bearer, little Charles Davis, attired in a suit of white sat, carried the ring on a pillow.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Raymond Hart, as best man, and the ushers were Dwight Mattox, Lawrence Watkins, Walter Robertson of Wendell, and William Bullock of Ayden.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride changed to a going away suit of navy blue crepe with white and white accessories. At her shoulder, she wore a corsage of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Hart received her education from Campbell College and East Carolina Teachers College. For the past several years she has been a member of the Millbrook school faculty.

Mr. Hart attended the University of North Carolina and at present is connected with the Ormond Wholesale Company of Greenville.

Mary Nelson Smith Family Has Reunion

Members, descendants, and connections of the Mary Nelson Smith Family gathered at St. Luke's church for service and communion Sunday morning in the chancel were the rector, Rev. W. H. R. Jackson, Rev. Harvey A. Cox, and Rev. C. P. Smith; and the service was conducted by Mr. Cox, who was the celebrant at the Holy Communion, assisted by Mr. Jackson. The sermon was by Mr. Smith, whose text was from St. Matthew 5:17. The church was filled to capacity and after the service the members repaired to the home of Mrs. B. T. Cox, where they enjoyed a delightful dinner in the grove. Following this reports on the Mary Nelson Memorial Fund, a fund for providing scholarships for the education of ministerial students of Eastern North Carolina, were made by Mr. Wm. E. Cox, Jr., who represented his father, Rev. Wm. E. Cox of Southern Pines, a grandson of Mrs. Mary Nelson Smith, absent because of illness. The report showed that during the last 16 years, when this movement was inaugurated, $4,642.79 of the $5,000 goal had been received and only $357.21 had yet to be raised. This sum was then and there paid or promised, thereby finishing the campaign for this Foundation.

In due time this will be turned over to Bishop Thomas C. Darsi of the Diocese of East Carolina to be used by his successors for the same purpose, the income from which shall afford college or seminary education for future students of the Episcopal Ministry.

Following this Mrs. Olivia Cox McCormac, of Durham, read a report from her brother, Rev. Wm. E. Cox, regarding "Our Family Genealogy," a book on the genealogy of the Smith, Nelson, and other interrelated families. This is an octavo volume of 118 pages compiled by Rev. Wm. E. Cox and Mrs. Olivia Cox McCormac, with the help of genealogists and other members of the family. The research work in this volume has called for study of the records of immigrants and colonists from various countries of Europe, particularly from England, Scotland, Ireland, and Switzerland. Mrs. Mary Nelson Smith is the focal point around which cluster the ancestors and progeny detailed in eight chapters of the book. Interrelated with the Smith and Nelson families are the Johnson, Roach, Little, Cox, Dawson, Wooten, and Chapman families. The Nelson ancestry is of noble lineage from the county of Kent, England. The family may feel a very proper pride in the publication of this document, which will be treasured by the descendants in the years to come.

Enthusiasm and interest aroused at this meeting around the table was heightened by the reports read and by addresses from the Honorable F. C. Harding of Greenville, the Revs. Harvey Cox, N. C. Duncan, Claudius F. Smith and others. Here they were from all sections of North Carolina, from Maryland, Virginia, South Carolina, and Florida. The renewal of friendship, the recognition of character development and executive ability among those who assembled for the first time in many years, the presence of so many beautiful children of the happy families present, the happy laughter, repartee, and general exchange of affectionate greetings, made this notable gathering one long to be remembered. All present pronounced it the greatest day in the history of their comings together.

Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. R. W. Dunn was hostess at bridge Friday afternoon, honoring Mrs. W. D. Copeland of Durham, a house guest.

The home was decorated with gladioli and other summer flowers.

After the tallies were distributed by little Peggy Ann Dunn, the guests were served iced coca colas.

Upon completion of several progressions of bridge prizes were awarded. Mrs. Robert Whichard, winner of high, was given a cigarette set. Mrs. G. B. Rice was given an ice bowl for low score. Table prizes—vases—were won by Mrs. Jack Armstrong and Mrs. Leslie Briley. Mrs. Copeland was given a shiny piece of pottery, and Mrs. Armstrong, a recent bride, was remembered with a vase.

The hostess than served a salad course, with a color scheme of red and green.

"Blount-Stancill"

On Saturday afternoon, June 25, at six o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Blount celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with a delightful outdoor buffet supper. Greeting the guests at the door were Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Sugg. The receiving line in the front hall and living room was composed of as many of the original wedding party as could be gotten together: Mr. and Mrs. Blount, bride and groom of twenty-five years ago; Layton Blount, former best man; Layton Julian Warren of Tarboro, maid of honor; Mrs. W. R. Percival of Washington, name of honor; Mrs. Nunn Everett of Robersonville, and Mrs. George Ross of Raleigh, bridesmaids; Ruth Stancill of Raleigh and Willie West of Williamson, groomsmen, and little Miss Hildah Slaughter Powell of Goldsboro, whose mother was a former bridesmaid, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rivers.

Guests were ushered from the living room into the sun room by Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White. Also in the sun room were Mrs. J. H. Rose, Mrs. Kate York of Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Stancill of Tarboro and Mrs. Ruth Stancill of Raleigh. M.O. Blount, Sr., greeted guests at the door leading onto the back terrace. Mr. and Mrs. Will Hooker ushered them to tables on the lawn where a buffet supper was served. Those assisting in serving a delectable supper followed by an ice course, were: Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Blount, Misses Anne Redwine and Dora Coates, Mrs. P. L. Blount, Mrs. M. O. Blount, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Burke Stancill, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hillman, Misses Jean and Myra Blount, Marcia Warren and Annabelle Stancill.

Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley, sang "I Love You Truly." Following the song, Mrs. Hadley played the wedding march and Jean Blount, attired in her mother's wedding dress, walked among the guests. Throughout the evening music was provided by Billy Tolson at the piano. Approximately one hundred guests attended this most enjoyable affair.

Kinston Eagles Nose Out Greenies; Rained Out Today

LOCALS LOSE BY LONE RUN

Kinston's Three-Run 5th Inning Proves Too Much for Greenville

The old John Delaney luck held out yesterday.

In case you are not familiar with the Greenville hurler's record, he has lost more hard luck games this year than all the rest of the local staff combined.

The locals lost a one-run-margin game to the Kinston Eagles yesterday.

Tuesday—Tarboro at Greenville.
Wednesday—Greenville at Tarboro.
Thursday—Goldsboro at Greenville.
Friday—Greenville at Goldsboro.

terday, 4-3. It was the fifth such loss (one-run-margin) in the last seven.

Delaney, who pitched the entire game, allowed 11 hits, but seven of them were definitely in the "fluke" class. A fan who knows baseball says four or five of these hits could be classed as fielders' choice. John walked only two and retired seven batters via the strike-out route.

Greenville scored one run in the first and one in the third before Kinston was able to tally. The Eagles made their first tally in the fourth and added three more in the fifth to take a 4-2 lead which the Greenies were never able to overcome, although one was added in the seventh.

Morris led at bat for the Greenies with three for four, one of which was a double. Douglass also got a two-base hit for his only safe blow of the day. Simpson and Heavener each got two singles, while Christopher and Daniels, the latter pinch-hitting for Delaney in the ninth, got one each.

The Greenies threw a bad scare into the Eagles in the ninth when Daniels, first up, doubled to deep center. Simpson was all set to lay down a bunt but the pitch was wide and Daniels, who got a good lead toward third, stumbled and fell as he tried to get back to second. He was tagged out, thus shutting off what might have been the tying run.

The Greenies played errorless ball while he Eagles were making three bobbles.

Yesterday's contest was a play-off game rained out recently which was called at the end of the fourth because of rain with the Greenies leading 6-0.

Ayden's New Skipper Wins Game in Ninth

Ayden, June 28—Frank Rodgers, who reported Sunday night, began his new job with Ayden in grand style Monday by hitting a three-run homer in the ninth to give the Aces a 6-5 victory over New Bern.

The Bruins scored two runs in the fourth and fifth innings to lead, 4-0, before the Aces could get going. However, the locals' four hits and a walk scored three runs in the sixth. Carnahan walked and Gasaway hit a double. Rodgers' fly to center scored Carnahan and Tatum doubled to score Gasaway. Lozier singled, and Jirak's single scored Tatum.

New Bern appeared to have the game on ice when Second-sacker Anderson, first up in the seventh, peled a homer over the left-field screen.

Water and Lite eked out a 7-6 victory over the Auto Dealers yesterday afternoon, while Blount-Harvey went on a scoring spree to defeat the cellarite Professional Men 23-1.

The only tally the professional men was able to make was in the seventh inning when Dr. Barrett hit a circuit blow. The department store men meanwhile, were piling up runs in every inning. Matthews led at bat for the winners, driving in eight runs on a homer, two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate.

The Water and Light-Auto Dealers contest was altogether different. Both teams played along on even terms. Water and Light scored three in the sixth to take the lead and it looked as if the ball game was won. But the Auto Dealers were not to be defeated in such a manner. They came back in their half of the seventh to make an equal number of runs and tie the count at six-all. The home team, Water and Light, pushed over one in the last half of the seventh to earn the victory.

Parker with three for four starred at bat for the winners, while Will Small was making pretty catches in the field. Moseley, with four for four, and Murphy, with three for three, were the heavy hitters for the Auto Dealers.

Martins Turn In Win over Snow Hill Billies

Williamston, June 28.—Harry (Red) Swain of Williamston bested Snow Hill's Ceril Longest in a 12-inning pitchers' duel Monday and the Martins won, 3-2.

The locals used two of their four hits to win in the 12th. Bowen hit a two-bagger; Lakotas and Wilcox walked. Swain hit into a double play—Bowen being thrown out at the plate. Howard Bearp, hitless in five previous attempts, singled to score Lakotas with the winning run.

While yielding seven hits, Swain struck out 10 batters. Longest fanned seven, and Longest walked six batters; Swain, one.

Tony Maisano of Snow Hill was the only hitter to connect more than once—he got two singles in five tries.

Goldsboro, June 28—Snake Henry's Serpents pounded two Goldsboro pitchers for 18 hits yesterday, as the Tarboro boys won, 11-4.

Little Solly Myers was the big gun in the Tarboro attack. He collected a homer, double and two singles in four trips for a perfect day. He batted in four of the runs for his club.

Each team used two hurlers. O'Kronley started on the mound for the Bugs, but was pounded for five hits in the first and perked in favor of Nicholas, who yielded thirteen hits the rest of the game.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Groner

Washington—There is such down right opposition among some of the "elder statesmen" to the administration's foreign policy that the attempt made to get the Senate to endorse even is criticism of civilian bombing was all but snuffed under.

Few in the Senate doubted that Chairman Pittman of the Senate foreign relations committee was working in close cooperation with the State Department when he introduced a resolution proposing to "approve of the sentiments expressed by the Secretary of State" in denouncing bombing of civilian populations.

To Secretary Hull it would have been valuable as lending senatorial weight to his recognized efforts to bring aggressor nations to heel. Two Senate elder statesmen, Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California, opposed the first draft of the resolution on two grounds: first, that it endorsed a "foreign meddling" resture of the State Department, and second, that it called for a Senate study of "what action may be taken by the Congress tending toward the cessation of the practice of bombing civilian populations."

They Condemned It

The first draft of 150 words was trimmed to 60 words after the two Senators had a go at it in the foreign relations committee. All reference to the State Department was knocked out and before debate finished even the proposed "Study" of bombing problems was eliminated, leaving a mere 15-word condemnation of civilian bombing.

Johnson denounced the proposed study as an effort to have the Senate draw conclusions about the war in the Orient. With that, he said, "we would be on the way to the war."

Senator Clark of Missouri, who joined the two "elders" when the bill was debated, called it "smug hypocrisy" to condemn bombing at the same time the country continues to permit bombs, planes and war materials to be shipped to the "certain Oriental nations" responsible for the bombings.

Critics argue that in the same hour the administration deals harshly with dictator nations with one hand it makes palliative gestures toward them with the other. The State Department and its defenders refuse to accept any such interpretation of the policy, and only recently a careful analysis by skilled observers indicated the department's policy is designed to "keep the aggressor nations guessing."

Airing In Order

Secretary Hull has not concealed his view that the United States make its weight felt in international affairs.

The Borah-Johnson camp, with emphatic power in the Congress argues that any policy which commits the country to one side or another of any international question is a policy leading to war. Isolation from foreign complexities is their view of the best way for the United States to encourage peace. One critic says the country is already so committed to following British policy that the State Department "bows each morning to London as devoutly as the Arabs bow to Mecca." Again Secretary Hull has an answer for that. He asserts that confidence of Britain and American policy is merely "parallel" action and not action together by agreement or compact. One thing increasingly evident is that if the European and Japanese-Chinese issues continue acute the two views will have a big airing in the new Congress.

The first advertisement printed in a newspaper appeared in the "Impartial Intelligencer" of London in 1648, announcing a reward for the return of two stolen horses.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, June 28—Jarry Clark and Homer Myers were convicted in Guilford county Sunday morning of second degree murder, whereupon, newspaper accounts say, Judge E. C. Bivens of Mt. Airy, immediately sentenced each of the convicted men to 30 years at hard labor, stipulating that they wear stripes.

Assuming the correctness of the dispatch, it is apparent to all familiar with the criminal laws and procedure of North Carolina that the judge either doesn't know the limitations on his sentencing powers or he was venting a bit of spleen when he made the stipulation about stripes. Probably he thought the pair should have been convicted of first degree murder.

According to all the advice your correspondent has been able to get on the subject—including that of a justice of the Supreme Court—there is no power in any North Carolina judge either to "stipulate" or otherwise require that convicts wear stripes. That's a matter under control of the prison division, subject to general rules and regulations laid down by the legislature.

Judge Bivens, incidentally, was defeated for nomination in the June 4 primary.

One of the neatest bit of Biblical paraphrase which has come to our attention in a long time was that Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy in dismissing the appeal of the State Bar in the case of John M. Brittain, an attorney whom the court below had held could not be disbarred by the Bar for acts committed prior to the law bringing the Bar into existence. Judge Stacy cut the Gordian knot by disbaring Brittain as a matter of justice and an inherent right of the court, and, accordingly, dismissed the whole appeal.

"What profiteth it a lawyer if he win his whole case, yet lose his license," he remarked.

And for biting repartee, Justice A. F. Seawell tells a prime story which he vows actually occurred in an eastern court.

The judge, an old man long past the prime of life, was sentencing a young fellow to a term of 30 years. The crime had been a heinous one and the judge was filled with virtuous indignation. He was making it as tough for the prisoner as he could.

The judge pointed out to the prisoner that when he got out he would be an old man; that even forests then growing would likely have been cut down; that, in short, he would emerge into an entirely different world.

"Look around you," he climaxed, "when you come out from behind the bars the faces of those you now see here will be entirely changed, some of them will be no more, others will be creased and wrinkled with age—"

Here the prisoner smiled broadly and broke in upon the judge's description of his awful doom.

"Well, thank God, I won't have your damned old mug to worry me, anyway, you'll be dead and in Hell long ago. That's something to be thankful for."

There are half a dozen species of poisonous snakes in North Carolina, according to Harry T. Davis, director of the State Museum—three kinds of rattlesnakes, two of moccasins and one of coral snake.

Recent election fraud investigations have convinced many who have been howling loudest for revision and purification of election laws, that what is needed even more urgently is honesty in the administration of those already on the books.

There has been some talk that these investigations are giving impetus to a movement for abolition of primaries, but the only concrete action since June 4 has been in exactly the other direction. Caldwell Democrats, in convention assembled, instructed their legislative nominee to get the county back under the primary law, from which it is now exempt.

Each question counts 20; each part of a two-part question, 10. A score of 60 is fair; 80, good.

- 1. Who is this CIO lawyer who crossed verbal lances with Mayor Hague in a federal court? 2. Were five ex-policemen tried for kidnaping in a Tampa, Fla., forging case (a) found guilty, (b) acquitted, or (c) remanded for new trial? 3. What is meant when Congress adjourns "sine die"? 4. Under the Anglo-Italian pact, Italian "volunteers" have been withdrawn from Spain. True or false? 5. What is the Sanjak of Alexandretta? Why is it in the news?

OCTAGON HOUSE BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

Chapter 46

'They've Got Him Cold'

"I S'POSE you could find someone I'll like to sit, an' go through the entire population of this town an' the surroundin' countryside," Asey went on, "an' find out where every man, chick an' child was from around seven-fifteen—that's about when Carveth first lost track of Roddy. Thought he'd just gone out on the terrace. Anyway, from seven-fifteen, on for the next half or three-quarters of an hour. An' even if you narrowed it down to seven-thirty to eight, you'd still have a lot of ground to cover."

"Seven-thirty to eight," Mrs. Carr said reflectively. "Dear me, how hard it is to remember things, even six hours later. Let's see—I was up trying to amuse Aaron, and getting radio programs for him on that strange battery set. Tim went with me to get her car—she left it up town last night, you know, and they did all sorts of things to it, in that riot. Poured beer into the crank case, or the gas tank, or something. Pam was making jelly—"

Sure Of Two Things

Asey nodded. Translated, it meant that Marina had something on Roddy that would force him into staging the ambergis holdup on herself and Pam.

"And what," Pam asked, "has gone and happened now?"

went to in getting them, she wasn't going to have them go to waste—isn't New England amazing. Asey? It makes me feel I'm so plastic, and useless, and futile, and ineffective. I probably am. Anyway, Pam made jelly. I suppose it at least had the virtue of taking her mind off things—and particularly the ambergis. I do feel so badly about that!"

"So," Asey said, "do I. That's another item on my list. I got to find that."

"Find it? But my dear man, it was burned up—Pam said it was!"

"Wait," Asey said. "I think I hear the dog—it should be him. He was comin' right over from Roddy's."

Cummings came into the kitchen. "They didn't even think of Jennings, Asey," he said. "They pulled a fast one. And the hell of it is, they've got him cold. On ice."

The Outraged Husband

DR. CUMMINGS was bitterly disappointed with Asey's reactions to his bombshell of news.

The man didn't seem at all disconcerted. He didn't ask who, or how. He just nodded interstedly and pulled out that damned pipe.

"Well," the doctor said finally, "say something!"

"I'm thinkin'!" Asey returned. "Lorne must of got back from Roddy's about seven-thirty-five, or seven-forty. Just in time for Jennings to spank him. Who saw him?"

"The Hepplewhites," Cummings sounded very annoyed. "They have the place next to Roddy's—you know? Yes, probably you do know, probably you have dinner with them on alternate Tuesdays. Asey, how do you get to know things, anyway?"

"An' the Hepplewhites seen Lorne?"

"They did, and so did their aged grandmother. She watched him edge through the woods—"

"Didn't she," Asey interrupted, "say 'slink'?"

Cummings drew a long breath. "Sometimes, Asey, you infuriate me to the point of utter speechlessness. Anyway, the Hepplewhites reported when they heard about Roddy. Someone else saw his car parked by the lane."

"Lorne has an alibi for Marina's death," Asey said.

"Yes, but Hanson's figured it all out. Roddy killed Marina. Hanson's been working on that angle all along, it seems. After the news of Roddy leaked out, Nettie Hobbs crashed through and filled in the blank spaces."

"Asey grinned. "After," he said, "the gold mine give out. Uh-huh. Wonder how she'll explain her speed in cashin' that check, an' the delay in tellin' about it. Prob'ly she'll bring in her pasture, an' how it dawned on her that Roddy didn't want to buy it, he was just payin' hush money. I see. So Roddy killed Marina, an' Lorne's the outraged husband."

"You haven't heard it all," Cummings said. "On Friday night, Marina went to a party. It began before that artist left, the one she was going to pose for when he came back. Marina'd got this posing job, and she was tickled to death, and did more than her share of drinking—I said she'd been drinking a lot, after I looked at her later that night. And Roddy breezed into this party a little after eight. Didn't stay more than half an hour, but while he was there, he and Marina had a fight. She wanted him to do something for her, and he said he wouldn't, and she said he would, and that he'd better, or words to that effect—I'm just giving you the barest outline."

whether he wanted to or not. He was convinced that a holdup had been Marina's plan.

"Marina left around nine-thirty," the doctor said, "and Hanson figured that Roddy came back over here to the garage, waited till she came, and got her. There you are. They say that Roddy was sore at her taking that posing job, and that he'd found out she was playing around with someone else—Hanson has it all worked out. Plenty of motive, plenty of opportunity—Roddy didn't like Pam, so he used her knife. It all figures out very nicely."

"What's Hanson's notion of the plane crash?"

"Just like yours. He's been over and talked with that pilot, too!"

"And what," Pam said, as she came into the kitchen, "has gone and happened now? Something his. I can tell by your faces."

She blinked when Mrs. Carr told her.

PERSONAL APPEAL SLATED

DECIDE SPEAKERSHIP RACE

ed of the YDC presidency only after a very spirited pre-convention campaign in which he was hotly opposed by Miss Mae Oliver, who comes from Sanford. This fight was ended only when Mae was "taken care of" with a nice job in the probation setup.

Now for the final link, according to those who spread the story: Miss Oliver was Libby Ward's righthand "man" as clerk of Appropriations Committee in the 1937 House. She also has been Libby's assistant in his duties as secretary of the Democratic State Committee.

Wherefore, the story goes, Allen is carrying over his resentment against Miss Oliver to the extent of working against Ward—a story which seems a bit far fetched to those who know the young Wake county representative, but one which has at least the earmarks of plausibility.

A much more reasonable explanation of the divergent positions of the youngsters from the capital can be found in the list of committees of the 1937 House, but this isn't nearly so spectacular and, accordingly doesn't draw half the attention.

Allen was a member of Finance, of which Bryant was chairman. Hatch served on Appropriations, which was headed by Ward.

But the point of it all is that the 1939 House members will vote for Speakership on a basis of their personal preferences or personal dislikes—not because of any principle involved.

The only semblance of an issue (aside from personalities of the contenders) yet raised is the question of geography and North Carolina assumed preference for a rotation of offices between East and West. It is being vigorously urged by both Ward and Finner supporters that the Speakership go West last time; that Bryant, being from Durham, is a westerner, and accordingly either the Nash or the Craven candidate should be selected at this time.

Prior to the June 4 primary there was a strong disposition on the part of political to keep a wary and weather eye on the Drys, as it seemed that the liquor issue might be a paramount one in 1939. Since then, however, it has been apparent that the State Senate is so tightly sewed up by the County Optioners that there is likely to be no more than a pro forma and half-hearted effort at a state-wide referendum. Therefore, the Drys have no particular use for the Speakership and the possibility is remote that they will put up a candidate of their own on a wet-dry issue. Even if they did now, their chance of success would be slim as too many of the prospective members are already pledged to one of the three avowed aspirants—all of whom are controllers.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 28—(AP)—Stocks jogged over an irregular terrain in today's market.

Selected specialties managed to work higher by a point or so and a few were up more, but minor declines were plentiful at the close.

Dealing dragged in comparison to the speedy performance of last week. At three periods of activity generally found leaders pushing upwards.

Transfers were around 1,200,000 shares.

New York Cotton

New York, June 28—(AP)—Cotton futures opened one higher to four lower. July contracts were in good demand, despite 518 notices. There was scattered liquidation of later months.

July and October both advanced from 8.71 to 8.78 and shortly after the first half hour the list was holding within a point or two of the best and at net advances of three to five points.

By midday July was selling at 8.72 with the market net unchanged to four points higher.

Futures closed one higher to three lower. Spot steady, middling 8.82.

FINE PROVIDED FOR EMPLOYER

Required by Law To Furnish Information on Wages

Raleigh, June 27—"Any employing unit or any officer or agent of an employing unit who willfully fails or refuses to furnish any report required hereunder shall be punished by a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $200, or by imprisonment for not longer than 60 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment," says Section 16 (b) of the North Carolina Unemployment Compensation Act.

"This provision is to be rigidly enforced against employers who have failed to make the quarterly reports due on the wages earned in each of the four quarters of last year, even if we have to invoke the full penalty provided by law," said Chairman G. G. Powell, of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. "Many unemployed workers are now being deprived of their weekly unemployment benefits because covered employers failed to report these earnings, as required, by the end of the month following the quarter for which the report is due," said Chairman Powell.

A check of the records shows that for the first quarter of 1937, there are 517 delinquent employers; for the second quarter, 201 delinquents; for the third quarter 184 delinquents, and for the fourth quarter, 199 delinquents. For the first quarter of 1938 for which reports were due April 30, it was found that 639 employers were delinquent.

Compared with other large cities on the China coast, the British colony of Hong Kong is almost free of crime. Only 263 criminal cases were heard in the courts of the colony last year. In Shanghai, the average in the foreign concessions alone is 2,000 monthly.

IT'S ODD, But It's Science

New York—The Book of Genesis records that before the flood "there were giants in the land."

Science thinks it has found some of them in Palestine. If science is right, then modern man is more gigantic, a more splendid physical specimen.

Sir Arthur Keith sketches the scientific story in the British journal, Nature. He refers to the bones of men and women who lived 50,000 to 100,000 years ago in Palestine. He quotes Genesis on giants and says: "The fossil people we are now dealing with are almost worthy of such a name. The men were tall; four of them range in height from five feet eight inches to five feet eleven."

American studies of college men and women indicate that height and size are a matter of food. With the diets available long ago, these old Palestinians might truly rate as giants.

At any rate they were modern man's equals in several respects. Their brains were equal in size to ours, says Sir Arthur. There were less convolutions in their gray matter. But they could talk.

They were straight-legged. Chests showed they were long-winded. Sir Arthur infers they were good runners.

In Britain, 63.3 out of every 100 families had a license to use a radio at the end of 1937.

Colored News

Vacation Bible School.
A Daily Vacation Bible school for colored children will be held in the Fleming street high school beginning next Tuesday, July 5th, and will continue for three weeks. It is under the auspices of the joint missionary societies of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches. The school will be conducted by Thelma Moore who had a very successful school last summer. She has just returned from attending the colored conference at Winston-Salem.

As many as will like to take part in the farm tour, please meet at 8 o'clock at the County Agent's office. Those who have cars will please take those a long who are without a car. If you have no way to go be here at 8 o'clock and we will provide a way. After viewing the crops in the Paction section, the tour will proceed upper Pitt, and from there to Haddock and Vennas Cross road. There a farmer's picnic will be awaiting our coming, all are invited to come and take a prospective view of the crops generally in Pitt county.

I am very sorry to see the use of so many turning plows turning this raining weather. I feel sure you are doing all you can to hide the heavy growth of grass caused by the recent rain, but at the same time we are advising the farmers to not put a turning plow in the field to wrap up grass, because the turning plow turns millions of minute corn roots up to the sun.

It must be remembered that when corn is two feet tall the roots are three and four feet long, and if they are cut from the parent body the foliage perishes for lack of food. Therefore the grass is more desirable in the corn field than the turning plow.

Corn crop generally has been slightly damaged up to date by heavy rain fall, yet we need not be discouraged it still looks promising.

D. D. DUPREE,
Negro County Agent.

UNDER THE BIG TOP

THANKS FOR THE CAMEL, NOW, MISS CONCELLO, HOW ARE CHANCES FOR A STORY ON YOUR BIGGEST THRILL AS A STUNT ARTIST?

OH, NO, LADIES FIRST, TONY, TELL HIM ABOUT YOUR FIRST TRIPLE SOMERSAULT IN THE AIR

WELL, YOU SEE, NO WOMAN, TO MY KNOWLEDGE, HAD EVER EXECUTED A TRIPLE, MID-AIR SOMERSAULT. I'LL NEVER FORGET THE FIRST TIME I TRIED IT UNDER THE BIG TOP...

...BUT AS I WHIRLED OFF INTO SPACE... ONCE... TWICE... FOR A SPLIT-SECOND I PRACTICALLY LOST CONSCIOUSNESS...

...BECAUSE THIS STUNT REQUIRES GREATLY INCREASED SPEED, I HAD TO DEPEND ALMOST ENTIRELY ON AUTOMATIC TIMING...

...THREE TIMES... AND... I MADE IT! MY TIMING WAS PERFECT, AND ANOTHER "BEST PERFORMANCE" LEFT ME THRILLED AND SAFE!

...BY FAST THINKING AND MOVING, I GOT THE UPPER HAND. BEFORE I LEFT THE CAGE, EVERY LION WAS BACK IN PLACE.

"I HAD ALMOST COMPLETED MY ACT WITH 25 LIONS, WHEN SPARKY AND ANOTHER MALE WENT FOR EACH OTHER..."

"TRYING TO BREAK IT UP, I WAS KNOCKED DOWN AND SPARKY TURNED ON ME, HE LOOKED AS BIG AS AN ELEPHANT FROM WHERE I WAS SPRANKED. THINGS LOOKED PRETTY BAD, BUT..."

WELL, IT'S HARD TO SAY WHICH OF YOU HAS THE TOUGHEST JOB, BUT IT'S EASY TO SEE YOU BOTH NEED HEALTHY NERVES!

WELL, WE ARGUE ABOUT WHOSE JOB IS THE HARDEST, BUT WE SURE AGREE THAT WE CAN'T RISK SHAKY NERVES.

AND YOU CAN BET THAT'S A BIG REASON WHY WE BOTH SMOKE CAMELS. THEY NEVER BOTHER OUR NERVES!

CAMELS SURE SET ME RIGHT—FROM EVERY ANGLE. AFTER A TURN IN THE BIG CAGE, I NEEDED A LIFT IN ENERGY AND I GET IT FROM A CAMEL. I FIND CAMELS AID MY DIGESTION TOO. I'VE SMOKE CAMELS FOR 16 YEARS. HAVE ONE, TONY?

YOU BET, TERRELL, THERE'S A BIG DIFFERENCE BETWEEN CAMELS AND OTHER KINDS—IN MILDNESS, IN TASTE, IN THE FEELING OF CONTENTMENT THEY GIVE—IN SO MANY WAYS!

"WE KNOW TOBACCO BECAUSE WE GROW IT—WE SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE WE KNOW TOBACCO"—TOBACCO PLANTERS SAY

You have to know tobacco to raise the fine grades planter Joe Brewer grows every crop. He says: "Last year my best lots went to Camel. I smoke Camels. Most planters I know do. They know the finer tobaccos that go into Camels."

Calvin Wiggins, experienced planter, specializing in raising quality tobaccos, says: "The best of my last crop was taken by Camel. They paid top prices. Most growers smoke Camels—we know they're made of costlier tobaccos."

"For a better cigarette, I always say smoke finer tobaccos," says Lee Mason, who grows the finer grades he speaks of—he's grown them for years. "I've seen the choicer tobaccos go to Camel many times. That's why I smoke Camels."
