Hankow, July 12.—(AP)—Bombs from Japanese war planes exploded today close to four United States missionary institutions in Wuchang, just across the Yangtze river from Hankow, but no Americans were injured.

About 200 Chinese were killed or wounded in the raid, carried out by 18 planes which dropped at least 100 bombs.

The mission establishments endangered were Boone University, St. Hilda's school, St. Joseph's hospital and Christian missionary alliance mission.

Canton, July 12.—(AP)—Japanese war planes bombarded this teeming metropolis twice today, scoring seven direct hits on the Wungshang station and causing 52 deaths and injuries to about 200.

The raiders strafed the station area and the residential district near the Sun Yat-Sen memorial this morning. Shortly afterwards the air alarms sounded again, bringing a new wave of panic while rescue squads still were picking up casualties from the first attack.

One large junk with a crew of about 30, was hit directly and disappeared in a shower of debris.

Shanghai, July 12.—(AP)—Japanese bombers raided Chinese positions on the outskirts of Kiukiang today while Chinese defenders were trying to fight to a finish and intending to leave nothing valuable behind, systematically destroyed Kiukiang waterfront property, including American possessions.

CHARGES MADE OF ATTEMPTED TAX EVASIONS

Board Accuses Pierre S. duPont and John J. Raskob MILLION DOLLARS SAID TO BE DUE

Two Accused of Manipulation in Securities in Order Show Paper Losses in '29

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—The U. S. Board of Tax Appeals found today that Pierre S. du Pont and John J. Raskob had attempted to evade more than $1,000,000 of income taxes by "paper transactions" in securities.

The exact amount of additional taxes due on their 1929 incomes was left by the board to be determined later, but attorneys estimated Raskob might be held to owe about $1,000,000 and DuPont about $600,000.

DuPont, a large contributor to Republican campaign funds in 1936 is chairman of the Board of Directors of E. I. DuPont de Nemours company, Raskob was chairman of the Democratic national committee and campaign manager for Alfred Smith in 1928, but turned against Roosevelt and, with Smith, promoted the Liberty League in opposition to Roosevelt.

After the 1929 stock market crash DuPont and Raskob sold about $4,500,000 of securities to each other at prices far below what they had paid for them. Eventually they resold the securities to each other so each wound up with his original holdings. They claimed deductions from their income tax for the losses indicated by the difference between the original value of the securities and the prices at which the securities were sold.

The board said "when summed up, our whole question is one as to whether the transactions considered are such as the statutes as to deductible losses intended and contemplated, or were paper transactions to escape tax liability."

The matter before us here required examination in the light of the ordinary actions and reactions of men, guided by criteria by reasonable human behavior in business transactions.

HEAR CHARGES ON ELECTIONS

State Board Meet Faces Prospects of Explosions

Raleigh, July 12.—(AP)—Counsel for C. B. Deane and W. O. Burgin, Eighth District congressional candidates, clashed frequently here today during the State Election Board's hearing into allegations of irregularities in the second primary July 2.

Pending decisions on the alleged irregularities, the board decided to withhold certification of the vote in the Sixth and Eighth congressional races, as well as solicitor designations in the Sixth and Twenty-first districts.

The board recessed at 12:45 without taking action on the charges and was to meet again at 2:15.

Counsel for Deane, apparently the loser, questioned absentee voting in Davidson county and the failure of Union county election officials to count ballots placed in wrong boxes.

Former Governor Ehringhaus, Burgin's counsel, said he would reply later to irregularities in Davidson. He contended that Union officials were right in not counting wrongly placed ballots. He said it was a 15-year-old custom in the county.

Deane's attorneys said they alleged no fraud in Union, but contended the ballots were misplaced by voters through an "honest mistake" and should be counted.

Rivers Johnson, apparently unsuccessful Sixth District solicitor candidate asked for an order allowing him to see all absentee ballots in his district. He alleged that in Sampson county absentee ballots were destroyed and that several hundred Republicans voted.

J. D. Johnson of Clinton, appearing for Rivers Johnson's opponent, J. Akner Barker, said he wished to protest the vote in Duplin county if the contest in Sampson should change the results.

The Sampson county board is scheduled to hold a hearing Saturday into ohnson's charges. Johnson was told to appear before the State Board in Smithfield July 22, when it will investigate allegations of irregularities in the solicitor race. (Continued on page six)

Hughes Arrives At Omsk At 1 P. M., EST, To Reach Half-Way Point Of Flight

GOOD WEATHER GREET'S FLIERS

John Schaff of West Saugerties, N. Y., decided his radio needed a new aerial. He tossed a wire across the roof of his summer cottage. Mrs. Ella Simon, seeking to help him, caught the wire—and fell dead. Schaff ran to her rescue, stooped to lift her up, also fell dead. Jacqueline Krable, 11, tried to aid both and was killed too. The aerial had fallen across a high tension line carrying 4,400 volts. The three bodies are shown on the death scene.

American Millionaire Completes third Leg of Flight After Taking off from Moscow at 5:25 a. m., Only Two Hours After Arriving from Paris

Moscow, July 12.—(AP)—Howard Hughes landed his big silvery monoplane at 9 p. m. tonight (1 p. m. EST) at Omsk, Siberia, approximately half-way point of his round-the-world flight.

Moscow, July 12.—(AP)—Howard Hughes, American millionaire flier, spend across the vast expanse of Soviet Russia tonight toward Omsk, in western Siberia, where he hoped to land on the third leg of his round-the-world speed try.

At 4:45 p. m. (8:46 a. m. EST), officials of the Moscow airport reported that Hughes had already spanned 720 miles, more than half of the 1,280-mile hop to Omsk, and that he hoped to arrive there before 9 p. m. (1 p. m. EST).

The big monoplane crossed the Volga river at Kasan, more than 400 miles from Moscow, a little more than two hours after the take-off. He and his four companions took off in their sleek silver monoplane from Moscow's airport at 5:25 a. m. EST. Two hours and 12 minutes after they had arrived from Paris. They had 6,000 miles of Soviet territory as their heavily loaded plane sped away toward Omsk.

They completed the Paris-Moscow flight of 1,541 miles in seven hours and 46 minutes. The fliers, unshaven and their hair tousled, looked tired as they stepped from the plane, but were in grand humor, signing autographs for fans who crowded around them.

Hughes was so preoccupied with problems of the flight that he apparently did not notice that his shirt tail was out. He wore a brown felt hat and a light gray suit. He eagerly scanned air maps brought out for him by Soviet airport officials, "with the side all offers of food and drink as his companions ate a lunch of fried eggs, cold ham and sauerkraut served with beer and iced water in the airport dining room.

Reports of good weather were received from points along the Siberian route as far as the Bering Straits, separating Russian territory from Alaska. Hughes planned to make his only other Siberian landing, besides Omsk, at Yakutsk, 2100 miles to the east.

15,000 Hear Roosevelt In Rear Platform Talk

Asserts 'We Want Democracy to Work' in Pueblo Speech

Aboard President Roosevelt's Train En Route To San Francisco, July 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that "we want democracy to work."

"That is our chief objective," the President told a crowd estimated by police at more than 15,000, on a brief rear platform address from his special train at Pueblo, Colo.

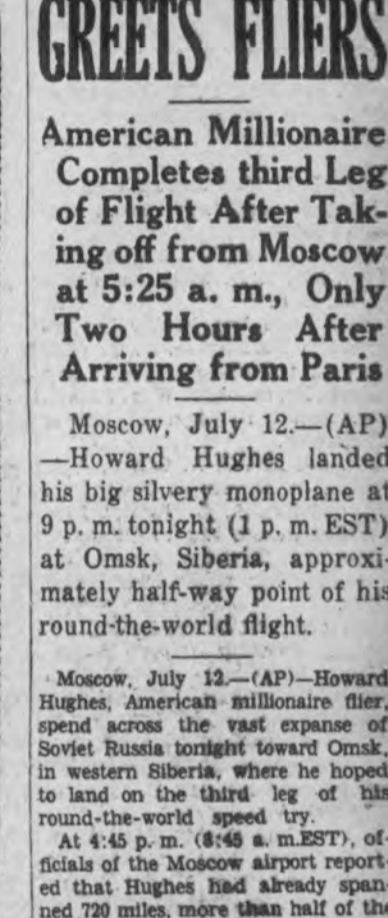

"We don't want to copy other forms of government," he said. "Our's is good enough for us."

The President avoided reference to Colorado's Democratic senatorial primary, making no mention either to Senator Adams or his rival, Judge Benjamin Hilliard.

Mr. Roosevelt devoted much of his Pueblo talk to discussing the government's efforts toward conservation of natural resources, and described the government as "a common meeting ground" for the states in adjustments of their differences, particularly those involving water.

His only mention of a Colorado official came when he said, discussing interstate water problems, "your Governor and I have talked about them."

Froelich, and his two grandchildren of High Point who are due to arrive today to spend some time, but no fried chicken, at least not the six he bought yesterday, will be eaten at the home of Mr. Gaskins.

Little Change Noted In Austria Under Nazi Rule

Vienna, July 12.—(AP)—The casual visitor will find street life in Vienna much the same as before the Nazis took over control. Only there are different uniforms, fewer Jews in the streets and coffee houses. The reichsmark currency has replaced the Austrian schilling Swastikas and small "Aryan" signs in show windows of numerous stores are noticeable.

Fewer policemen maintain their typical "weiner schnitzel" waistlines. One officer explained that portly policemen were not considered fitting in Prussia. So the Vienna officers were on diet now. Many of them are on diet to reduce in addition they "march off" overweight.

Goose-stepping was said to be another difficulty for short-legged Austrian soldiers. But under Prussian sergeants, success in this art is expected.

New German traffic discipline is something else Viennese must get used to. Special police instructors

PARKING TAG JOKE WORKS BOTH WAYS

Butte, Mont.—(AP)—As a joke, Butte policemen tagged the car of their chief, William Breen, with a ticket when they found it double-parked.

Before the day was over several other policemen who were careless about the traffic laws found themselves with yellow slips and an ultimatum from Chief Breen that there would be no "fixing."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

New York—Prescription for feeling about as big as a freckle on a flea's nose: any trip any time, to the Radio City Music Hall.
In this chromiamed, mirrored vastness the good old Hollywood descriptive "colossal" seems subtle understatement. Without bothering your head or mine with figures, I'd guess that Hollywood's Chinese theater, the Warner Bros. Hollywood, and the Los Angeles Paramount could fit neatly into a small portion of the building, and the auditorium itself, seating 6,500, could take care of the crowds at those three coast houses on any given night.

There is nothing like the Music Hall anywhere else in America, and yet it isn't New York's. It isn't Hollywood's either. It's a sort of American institution—the ultimate in movie houses. It had its beginning, actually, when Thomas A. Edison built his "black Maria" box of a studio over in Jersey; when Carl Laemmle and Adolph Zukor used to stand in front of their little theatres and hawk the customers in to see "The Great Train Robbery," when the first flickers were shown in remodeled livery stables and grocery stores and opry houses in towns and villages from coast to coast.

More Than Movies
The Music Hall is America's temple to the Great God Cinema. It is the Rheims cathedral of film houses, but like that church it never could have been built without the cinematic catacombs era, the period of furtive and often scorned worshipping at lesser shrines.

A movie temple, it gives you more than movies. Much, much more. It has a stage, which is more of the things Busby Berkeley of Hollywood makes happen on his stages might conceivably happen. It has elaborate lighting effects, and a turntable and elevators that make the dearest tricks possible. And it uses them all. It gives a first-run feature, some shorts, and a stage presentation of the kind that Sid Grauman in his stage-show heyday would have liked. This includes invariably a big ballet and the Rockettes—36 pretties who make precision dancing a rite—as the finale. The presentation is done with such serious and loving tenderness, a veritable "Goldwyn touch," that its burlesquing in the current musical hit, "I Married An Angel," would be deplorable if it weren't so funny.

Almost Lost
Backstage, around-stage, under-stage at the Music Hall is a labyrinth of modern theatrical conveniences. The cautious inspector of these air-cooled and wondrous caverns begins to feel like leaving torn bits of paper along his course. Hansel and Gretel fashion, to mark his trail back to the outer world. There are even times when you wonder how in heck your guide is going to find his way out.

Mine, a quite remarkable fellow in my estimation, did with comparative ease, only once losing the trail and for a couple of terrified moments near a scenery dock confessing his forebodings that the two of us might have to rough it there until the searching parties came, or whatever is the Music Hall equivalent of St. Bernard's. This gloomy prospect—for one not an actor cannot live on scenery alone—was, happily, unfulfilled. The last door he tried led us to escape. Remember how Tom Sawyer felt when he and Becky Thatcher crawled out of the cave? It was a little like that with us.

But then my friend had the temerity to suggest extending our tour to include Radio City in its colossal entirety. I limped, could not run, to the nearest exit. Just the way a two-miler would have done if at the end of his grind he were urged to enter the marathon, starting immediately.

ETIQUETTE

By JOAN DURHAM (AP Feature Service Writer)

Is your husband worried over the correct attire for summer weddings?

The cutaway (morning coat) is the accepted apparel for all formal weddings, regardless of the time of year. But there is no reason why exceptions may not be made and still be in good taste, says Marie Coudert Brenning of the Wedding Embassy.
Finances, the locality in which the wedding is to be held and the weather, all work changes in the masculine mind, she points out. Age and station in life are important, too.

Or His Wife
The successful older business man who makes a point (or whose wife makes a point) of always being correct on such matters may insist on wearing a cutaway (or the "director's suit," with a short coat like a dark blue sack coat), and striped trousers. His college-age son, however, will almost always insist on white linen, white gabardine or a blue coat and white flannels in summer. In winter he may even wear a good dark suit.

The point is that apparel must be consistent. Timothy College, Jr., for instance, shouldn't wear gloves, a black bow or a white pique tie or spats—just to dress up his outfit. Those accessories belong to the strictly formal attire. Mixing them is absolutely incorrect.

The Right Way
Strictly speaking, the correct wedding attire for masculine guests is: For informal, daytime weddings (held before 6 o'clock): black or oxford gray cutaway; gray-striped trousers; white plain or pleated bosom shirt; top hat; wing or turned-down collar; gray suede or white buckskin gloves; black calf or patent-tipped oxfords with, perhaps, spats of line or box cloth to match the gloves. For autumn or winter wear, the single or double-breasted waistcoat nearly always matches the cutaway, while in spring or summer it may be white, gray or buff linen.

For formal, evening weddings (held after 6 o'clock): tails (full dress); trousers to match—with a silk or satin stripe on the side seams; a shirt with a starched bosom, plain white linen or pique, one or two studs to show; wing collar; white bow tie of plain or figured pique; white single or double breasted vest; white patent hat; white kid gloves, patent leather, calfskin shoes—plain oxfords or pumps; one or two white pearl or white enamel studs to show.

Dark And Light
Although the bridegroom wears a cutaway because the formality of his bride's dress may demand it at a formal garden wedding—or even at an informal daytime wedding at church, home or in a hotel—the men guests may wear dark coats and white trousers and white linen or gabardine in summer. The bridegroom may make himself more comfortable by adding a white linen waistcoat, white buckskin gloves and white sailcloth spats instead of the heavier accessories.

Warning: If a Tuxedo is substituted for the full-dress suit for the formal evening wedding—because many of the men do not have cutaways—they should be instructed to wear a black tie. White ties are never worn with Tuxedos.

Bank Gives $200 To Ayden Library

The First National Bank of Ayden has made a contribution of $25 to the Ayden Public Library to be used in the purchase of new books.

Fifteen new books were ordered this week by Mrs. Helen Turnage and Mrs. Lloyd Tingle, members of the Library Commission. They will be placed in the library immediately upon their arrival on the rental basis of ten cents per week.

The Library Commission has expressed its appreciation to the First National Bank for this donation. The Commission has set out to work with a new heart, and many things are expected to develop in the way of enlarging the facilities of the library within the next few weeks.

It has been the policy of the Library in the past to purchase a few new books with the rental monies and the money collected for overdue books. Where a borrower has kept out books longer than a specified period of time, usually two weeks, the borrower has paid a small fine. The overdue borrowers have thus helped to buy new books as well as helped to finance the incidental expenses of the library.

Following the fine spirit of cooperation and of aid to the library as shown by the First National Bank it is expected that there will be other contributors to the library in the near future. There has been some consideration given by several of our citizens to the establishing of a memorial shelf to some friend or relative who is deceased.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Greer

Washington—It may be there are members of Congress singled out for political execution by the President's "purge" board, but you could never find them among those remaining away from the President's "Save the Liberals" train.

Cheer Up, Young Grads As the President tours the country we are glad to note at least one sign that life is hopeful for the ambitious. Whitman College at Walla Walla, Washington, sends a letter to inform us that one of its 1937 graduates, brilliant and persistent, has become a top-flight radio announcer, and so young, too.

Our forte is not radio announcers but Bill Fifeled of Dear Old Whitman wanted to be one. So he plugged away at a payless job on a local station while he was in school, meantime gobbling up all the records for oratory and declamation.

He also kept his summers open for tryouts at a Chicago station and was turned down as often as a Horatio Alger hero. But now he is broadcasting from MBBW, Chicago, where he is featured as the youngest, big-time announcer in the U. S.

The man who supplies us this information is Victor Shawe, who writes some of the top-flight western stories published not in the "pulpwoods" but in the good-priced smooth paper periodicals.

"I send you this dope," he says "it is an old friend of ours, else he wouldn't say dope," "believing it may prove of value to the hundreds of thousands of young men who can't find a job."

It Would Be Something One of the novelties that could come out of this summer's campaigning is for a father and son to be elected to the Senate from two different states.

Benjamin C. Hilliard, Colorado State Supreme Court Justice, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the Senate against Senator Adams. Just on the sunny side of the Rockies from Colorado, in Nevada, Albert Hilliard, son of Justice Hilliard, is running for the Democratic nomination against Senator Pat McCarran.

Both the Hilliards are hot for President Roosevelt, while both Senators Adams and McCarran once were looked upon as possible subjects of the "purge," although such noises about them have died out in late days.

Overheard at the Willard Hotel coffee shop:

"You can say all you want about this Tommy Corcoran but that boy is going to be remembered a long time. After all, Alexander Hamilton was only the Tommy Corcoran of his day—the guy with the fast brains that Washington used."

CHISELER COMPLAINS THAT SAND BLASTING IS RUINING HIS ART

Chicago—(AP)—The president of a national stone cutter's union—who wouldn't chisel even a little publicity by permitting use of his name—complains that sand blasting machinery has played havoc with the ancient hand-art of carving tombstones.

"Modern methods have ruined us," he says. "Twenty-five years ago we had 35,000 members in our union. Today we have 5,000 and even they are not carving fancy angels and doves on the stones any more."

"People want things fast and plain today and sand blasting gives it to them that way. All workmen have to do is outline a name with rubber composition, turn on the blaster and the job is done in a few minutes."

"That's all right but I'll lay you 10 to 1 they didn't cut out this Venus d' Milo with a sand blaster, did they?"

Each question counts 20; each part of a two-part question, 10. A score of 60 is fair; 80, good.

- 1. This man was recently questioned before a joint legislative committee in New York about Communist activity. What is his name? His title? 2. What is France's latest decree to combat its spy wave? 3. Why will the Republicans have a new leader in the House of Representatives in the next Congress? 4. What happened to Almeria, Spain, recently suggested as a neutral port, on May 31, 1937? 5. The United States will have two world's fairs in 1939. True or false?

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, July 12.—Announcement recently that the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce will this year abandon sponsorship of its annual State Fair Motorcade and Booster Tour has so far passed almost without comment; but behind the scenes it has created something of a furor and has completely upset the peace of mind of quite a number of people—no further away from the Chamber of Commerce office than the Agriculture Department building up by the Capitol.

Fact of the matter is that more than one member of Kerr Scott's departmental employees are busily engaged in sleuthing out the whys and wherefores of the Chamber of Commerce move, which apparently came right out of a clear sky so far as D. of A. folks were concerned.

Many of the Raleigh merchants and business concerns who have participated in past tours are likewise known to be considerably concerned about the matter. These business men and houses feel that to stop the 15-year-old custom of ballyhooing the Fair by a motorcade and tour is to lose a lot of valuable advertising not only for the Fair, but for the city of Raleigh.

There are sub rosa reports that his advocacy of the Fair and tour and "cade and his connection with it had something to do with the resignation" of Howard Branch, who has within the last year been succeeded as head of the C. of C. but what group or clique in the Chamber opposes the tour (which cost the Chamber of Commerce as an organization exactly nothing) is a matter of speculation.

At all events there is likely to be something of a show down in regard to the tour within a very short time; as Fair officials, while they aren't saying a word publicly, are known to feel that discontinuance of the tour is a direct slap at them and the present management.

Utility Commissioner Stanley Winborne is in Buffalo, N. Y., attending an I.C.C. hearing on the petition of Southeastern Governors for revision of numerous commodity rates so as to do away with differentials against North Carolina and other Southern states.

Only railroad in North Carolina to come within the category of "Eastern" for rate purposes is the Norfolk and Western, which has petitioned the Utility Commission to allow it to charge two and a half cents a mile for its coach fares in order to put its intrastate rates on the same footing as its interstate. The I.C.C. recently granted "Eastern" roads permission to increase their coach rates from two to two and a half cents.

Only lines in the state over which the N. and W. operates passenger service are south from Virginia into Winston-Salem and Durham.

Dr. H. P. Prytherch, director of the U. S. Biological Laboratory on Piver's Island, near Beaufort, is trying to work out a method of getting rid of starfish which injure oysters; because, he says, the starfish are the worst enemies of all of oysters and oystermen, though happily they are not very numerous in North Carolina.

It seems that the starfish administer an "anesthetic" to the oyster to induce it to open up its shell and allow itself to be taken into the stomach of the fish. The process is an unusual one, and goes like this:

News I. Q. Answers

- 1. Earl Browder, General Secretary, Communist party of the U. S. 2. The death penalty for certain forms of espionage, just as in wartime. 3. Because Rep. Bertrand M. Snell, minority leader, has announced his retirement after 24 years in Congress. 4. It was bombarded by a massed German fleet after Loyalist aviators had bombed the pocket battleship Deutschland. 5. True, in New York and San Francisco.

according to the expert Dr. Plyther: "When a starfish finds a cluster of oysters, he wraps himself around it, with his star-like legs clutching the base of the cluster and the underside of his body, where his stomach is located, next to the tip of the oyster. The starfish then exudes a fluid which has the effect of anaesthetizing the oyster so that the main muscle will relax and the shell open. After that, the starfish pushes his stomach out of his own body, into the oyster shell and around the oyster, leaving it there until he has digested it completely. Then he repeats the process on another oyster."

BIG GAME DOWNED WITH AUTOMOBILES

Butte, Mont.—(AP)—Frank Wakeley of Butte, driving near Hegegen dam, struck an elk amidships, ruining the front end of his automobile and placing the elk out of commission permanently.

A mile farther along the road another motorist rammed a moose. Two legs were broken and a game warden had to shoot the animal.

One drawback in using an automobile as a lethal weapon is that, instead of getting the big game, the hunter has to give it to the State Game Department. The meat is sent to charitable institutions.

Kinston Club Penalized 8 Games For Breaking Rule

LEAGUE PREXY MAKES RULING

Shakeup in Standings Places Eagles in 3rd Place Below Bears; Ayden Club Reported to Have Made Similar Mistake and Stands to Lose Winnings of a Month

Acting upon the recent protest of the New Bern baseball club that the Kinston club illegally played one more class man that permitted under league rules, President J. B. Eure of the Coastal Plain Baseball League was reported today to have honored the protest and to have sent notification to officials of all clubs that Kinston has been penalized eight games won during the period complained of, which were to be credited to percentages of clubs as follows:

Tarboro, Greenville, Snow Hill and Ayden, one game each; Goldsboro and New Bern, two games each.

President Eure's ruling leaves the clubs now in the following order of percentage standings:

Tarboro, 40 won, 28 lost; New Bern, 36 won, 31 lost; Kinston, 34 won, 31 lost; Snow Hill, 34 won, 32 lost; Williamston, 33 won, 32 lost; Goldsboro, 32 won, 33 lost; Greenville, 29 won, 37 lost; Ayden, 28 won, 40 lost.

According to a Kinston source, the management of that club discovered its mistake of playing too many class men before any protest was made, and notified President Eure. New Bern's protest came later. Kinston officials were represented as being willing to forfeit the games won while the illegal player was on the club's roster.

It is also reported from Kinston that a protest has or will be filed against the New Bern club for violating the player list rule, allegedly effected a few weeks ago while Manager Doc Smith had himself placed on the suspended list and "directed" his team from the players' bench, or elsewhere.

The Ayden club, likewise, is reported to have mistakenly violated the "class men" restriction, and to have notified President Eure as soon as the mistake was discovered. If and when formal protest is made it is likely that Ayden will be penalized all games the club won between the opening of the season and May 23.

Hurley Holds Snakes As Eagles Pound Win

Tarboro, July 12.—Ed Hurley let Tarboro down with 10 well-seated hits Monday, and Kinston's Eagles won the game, 8-1.

Pitcher Hurley had things well under control all the way, but his mates wanted to leave nothing undone and pounded Robinson and Sieminski for a total of 14 hits.

After scoring one run in the 2nd inning, the visitors won in the third with another tally. Tarboro scored in the third, with another tally. Tarboro scored in the fourth for its only run.

Four singles and an error gave Kinston three runs in the sixth, and Hurley made it five in that big inning by slapping out a homer with Wright on base.

The Kinston batting stars were: Patton, with four for five, Crouch with three for five, Lowery was the only player to get two hits for Tarboro—he hit a double and a single.

Manager-Catcher Tommy West of the Eagles left the game in the fourth after arguing with Umpire King over a matter of called strikes.

"Tomorrow is 'Red-Head Day' in Tarboro, and all red-haired fans will be admitted free to the Tarboro-Snow Hill game.

Aces Lose Another; Martins Get 3-1 Tilt

Williamston, July 12.—George Bowen broke up a perfect pitchers due Monday afternoon with a two-run homer in the sixth to give the Martins a 3-1 victory over Ayden.

Until the sixth, only one run had been scored. Williamston combined Dutch Stanley's single with Steve Lakotas' triple for a run in the second inning. Eddie Ignasiak hit a single and scored on Bowen's homer.

The Aces tallied in the eighth. Jiggs Gasaway singled, moved up on Rodgers' walk and went to third when Herring hit into a double-play. Jiggs scampered home on Lakotas' bat throw to first.

Red Swain, local hurler who featured on one end of the pitching argument, pitched eight-hit ball, while Rhodes set the Martins down with only six.

Bowen featured at bat and Ignasiak took top honors afield.

Rookie Aces Pace Reds' Drive To Capture National's Flag

(By The AP Feature Service)
CINCINNATI — Never in the long history of the major leagues has a last place team won the pennant the following season. But the Cincinnati Reds may do it this year.

Last season the Reds finished five and a half games behind seventh place and a full 40 games astern the flag-winning Giants. This Spring few of the experts could see much improvement and the Rhinelanders again were consigned to the second position.

But Deacon William McKechnie was to work. He took some of those green rookies under his wing and began to perform those miracles for which he has become almost famous. He kept an eye on the trading marts and snapped up some veterans for his shaky joints. And the Reds began to climb rapidly.

They're right up there in the pennant race now, and, although most observers figure the Giants and the Cubs are strong enough to outlast 'em, the Reds still have a better than good opportunity to win the banner.

Wild Dutchman
McKechnie took over a young Dutchman who'd been passed by Brooklyn and Boston because of his wildness, and taught him control. The youngster had plenty of stuff and a fiery fast ball. He's heading for the league's strike-out record. McKechnie urged him to toss everything overhead, straightened out a few other kinks in his pitching delivery and suddenly the boy began winning.

Within a week's time in June he wrote baseball history by pitching two straight no-hit, no-run games. As the July campaign began he led a string of nine straight triumphs. Brooklyn and Boston now wish they'd seen what McKechnie saw in Johnny Vander Meer.

The New York clubs couldn't see a young husky from the Bronx but McKechnie stuck Frank McCormick on first base and he's one of the league's best hitters. McCormick's team mate at Syracuse last season, Harry Craft, plays center field for the Reds. Willard Hershberger, a catcher the Yankees let get away from their Newark farm, has been a valuable replacement for Ernie Lombardi.

Trade Biggest Aids
The Cubs let the Reds have Linus Frey and he used the second base slot when the Reds traded Alex Kampouris to the Giants for heavy-hitting outfielder Wally Berger. McKechnie picked up outfielder Allan Coffey, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, from Minneapolis; took pitcher Jim Weaver from the St. Louis Browns and got pitcher Bucky Walters from the Phillies in a swap. And he's got himself a fine ball club.

McKechnie's patient handling has made Paul Derringer a fine pitcher again and Deacon Bill thinks young Whitey Moore, a rookie from Syracuse, may become as good a pitcher as Vander Meer. Lefty Grissom, the ace of last year's club, has been out with injuries. When Lefty and Whitey hit their strides, those Reds may whiz by fast.

There was evidence of an actor's theatrical imagination. They were wooden, and the paint already was beginning to chip off. I am told Meredith purchased them at some theatrical house where props for dramas and pageants are sold.

It may interest you to know that the game of croquet has taken a strange hold on the imagination of a lot of people in this section of the country. Leagues have been formed and courts are in all the parks and playground centers. Herbert Bayard Swope is said to be a fanatic on the subject, and so is Alexander Willcott. Swope even has a court that is flood-lighted, so he can play the game at night, and he defies anyone to call it a sissy's game.

A tragic story is that one about Don Quinn, the radio writer. He and his wife planned for years a new home overlooking the Bay in San Francisco. And they began work on it. Finally it was completed, and then, after dreaming and hoping for so much, they realized their wishes and started out to drive to San Francisco the other day. It was to be their first summer in their new home. But hardly had they got on the road when—like that—came the screech of brakes applied too late, the grind of gears, the crash. Don is now in a hospital in Chicago. His wife is dead.

Not long ago I happened to be driving by the place and was interested to find two cannons mounted in front of the house. This, I thought, if they were genuine Continental cannon, was a magnificent step towards rehabilitating Lafayette's old headquarters. And, so I got out of the car and walked over to have a good look at them.

But they weren't real, and their

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—Burgess Meredith, about whom so many kind things have been written in the past, is figuring unhappily in the news at the moment. The young man who has been tagged as "The Hamlet of 1940" is facing divorce proceedings from his pretty wife, and already I hear his home at Stony Point, in the High Top country of Palisades, is up for sale.

There is quite a history to this house aside from the poses that were written about it when Meredith and his bride bought it a couple of years ago. Originally it was a farm house used by Lafayette as his headquarters during the Revolutionary war. It commands the rugged terrain on which the battle of Stony Point was fought.

Not long ago I happened to be driving by the place and was interested to find two cannons mounted in front of the house. This, I thought, if they were genuine Continental cannon, was a magnificent step towards rehabilitating Lafayette's old headquarters. And, so I got out of the car and walked over to have a good look at them.

The league-leading Transportation-Nehi softball team added another victory yesterday at the expense of the celvite Professional Men. The game was won on a forfeit, the Professional Men having only two players on the field at the time of play. Unable to play a regulation game, the players divided and played a practice game. Carolina Sales stepped out to defeat the Auto Dealers in the other game of the afternoon, winning the contest 14-5. Lynch was most effective at bat for the winners and helped to pile up the big lead.

DIZZY WILL TRY PITCH SHORTLY

Cub Owner Tired Of Delay in Conditioning of Dean

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean—sore arm or no sore arm—ordered today to return to duty as a starting pitcher for the Chicago Cubs.

Owner Phil K. Wrigley, tired of fiddling around with varied treatments while the team's pennant prospects burned, announced he directed Dean to "be ready to pitch within a week."

Dean, out of duty for more than two months, told his boss he was "ready to go."

Manager Charley Grimm said Dean would take the mound again within the stipulated time "if his arm is better, and I think it will be."

The decision was reached at a conference attended by Wrigley, Grimm and Dean.

Grimm reported the latest X-ray picture of Dean's arm showed some improvement, he added.

"He's down to 109 pounds and in perfect physical condition. There's no reason why he can't get in there and win. He'll lob 'em over for the rest of the week and a week from today he may pitch."

"Dir might have a sore arm for two years, and he won't hurt in any more."

Dean, credited with three 1938 victories, has been idle since May 4. Meanwhile the Cubs dropped to fourth place.

"We didn't need Dean during the first part of the season but we do now," Wrigley stated, "and I'm going to put him to work. He has enthusiasm, and he's anxious to get going."

Grimm opined Dean's arm would improve with arvic and predicted he would win 10 more games.

N.C. Peach Season In Full Swing In Sand Hills Section

Advertisers of State's Beauties and Advantages Urging Visit to Area During Next Two Weeks

Raleigh, July 12.—Advertisers of North Carolina's beauties and advantages are advising all and sundry to visit the Sandhills section this week or next, so as to get a good view of the each season in full swing in that section. Those who have not seen the picking, grading gold they have a great treat in store for them by such a visit.
The State's 2,500,000 bushel each crop, most of which grows in a region once considered too barren for cultivation, is now moving from the Sandhills to the tables of the world.
Sold trainloads, as well as thousands of truck loads are moving every day from orchards in the vicinity of Southern Pines, Aberdeen, Carrington and Hamlet.

Quality and flavor of this year's crop are said to be better than usual, but as much as the crop seems larger than last year it appears that prices will not be quite as good as in 1937, though the market season hasn't been on long enough to establish just what will be the prevailing prices.
Growers in the Sandhills have thinned their crop more carefully than ever in order to get better quality, with the result that their peaches, long known for their distinctive flavor, are expected to be in greater demand than ever.
Commercial growers are expected to ship at least 1,250,000 bushels this season. The remainder of the crop will be sold and canned locally.

The 1937 crop amounted to about 1,984 bushels, and was limited almost exclusively to the commercial peach growing section of the Sandhills, according to the U. S. Crop Reporting Service. This crop brought growers approximately $3,075,000.

15,000 HEAR ROOSEVELT IN REAR PLATFORM TALK

Adams' rival for the senatorial nomination, Judge Hilliard notified the presidential party last night he was called to Kansas by the illness of a brother.

To Provide Lessons In Swimming at Pool

Beginning today and continuing for the next ten days, exclusive of Sunday's, swimming lessons for those desiring to learn to swim will be given at the local pool.
The classes will be conducted each morning from nine until ten o'clock by Wayland Tucker and George Lautares, experienced swimmers and life-savers. There will be a nominal fee for the course.
Any further information may be secured from H. A. McDougle, manager of the pool.

LITTLE CHANGE NOTED IN AUSTRIA UNDER NAZI RULE

remark in saloons and coffee houses.
The general opinion of neutral observers seems to be that Austrians, if called to the polls today, would by a great majority vote again for Hitler, despite numerous unpopular measures which the Nazi rule has introduced.
Despite all the innovations, the Viennese have not lost their good-natured spirit. They do not hesitate to hit back with jokes which sometimes should not be told too loudly.
Example: By a new city law, dogs in Vienna will be permitted on the street without muzzles. Why? Because the muzzles are needed for the people now.

Another one: There are no gas masks in Germany which would fit Austrians because, since Anschluss, Austrian faces are getting longer every day.

LOCOMOTIVE TO BECOME STATUE IN CITY PARK

Colorado Springs, Colo.—(AP)—Colorado Springs plans an unveiling ceremony for a locomotive. One of the famed narrow gauge models that used to pull the gold from Colorado gold mines to smelters has been given to the city by the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad.
It will be placed on a concrete pedestal in one of the city parks.

Reported His Escape

Darwin, Australia.—(AP)—In jail here awaiting trial for maliciously damaging government property, a man escaped, borrowed 50 cents from a constable, bought himself drinks and gave himself up. He was then freed.

Chicken Lays Whopper.

Selbyville, Ind.—(AP)—A buff rock chicken owned by Mrs. Roscoe Neibert laid a seven-ounce egg.

Hikes 20 Miles For $15.
Newland, N. C.—(AP)—Frank Jones, 68-year-old Beech Mountain farmer, arose at 5 a. m., and walked 20 miles to get his $15 agricultural adjustment program check from the county farm agent's office here. He planned to return home afoot the same day, but the county agent gave him a lift.
