Chinese accuse Invaders of Bombarding Non-Combatants

COUNTER CLAIMS ISSUED BY JAPS

Nipponese Are Silent About Trend of Battle, But Chinese Report Gains Scored

Shanghai, July 29.—(AP)—Japanese fliers were accused in Chinese reports today of having caused hundreds of civilian deaths during the persistent bombardments of the middle Yangtze river region.

Chinese dispatches from Nanking said Japanese raiders fired 3,000 refugees from the mountain south of Klukiang and dropped bombs on killing "uncounted hundreds."

A Japanese naval communiqué charged that Chinese planes bombed the Japanese hospital ship near Kuzang, although she flew a red cross flag. No mention was made of the damage.

Another report asserted Japanese airmen raided Nanchang, important air base 90 miles south of Klukiang, "gateway to the Hankow region," and dropped 30 bombs that killed or wounded 60 and destroyed many houses.

The past two days, it was said, Japanese planes have continuously raked the Klukiang-Nanchang area with bombs and machine guns and demolished 40 buildings.

The Japanese were silent about the trend of battle on the Klukiang front, but Chinese maintained the situation on the south bank of the Yangtze was "developing favorably."

A Chinese counter offensive was said to have several Japanese lines south of Kluking.

Fears Felt For Safety Of Men Aboard Clipper Overdue At Manila, P. I.

Hears His Doom

Roadhouse Operator Harvey Nelson, 35, here keeps his eyes on Superior Judge M. D. Dickerson as he stands in the courtroom at Waycross, Ga., to hear the sentence of death in the electric chair August 26 for the insurance plot slaying of his 12-year-old son. He said two waitresses, Mary Kent and Vera Mae Fowler "drew matches" to decide who would be executioner; that the latter fired the shot that killed the child.

Pan-American Flying Boat Fails Arrive From Guam

SEARCH STARTED BY AIR AND SEA

Pointed Out That $450,000 Craft Can Stay on Water As Well as Any Boat

Manila, July 29.—(AP)—Fears for the safety of 15 men aboard the Pan-American Airways 26-ton flying clipper were expressed tonight when she failed to arrive or report long after the scheduled landing time here from Guam.

Nine hours after the last radio report from the Clipper army officers expressed belief the $450,000 flying boat was forced down on the Pacific ocean on its 1,600-mile flight.

Aerial search for a widespread search to start at dawn Saturday (4 p. m. EST today) in cooperation with a hunt already started by army and navy ships.

The four motored Clipper's last report was sent at 12:09 p. m. (11:09 p. m. EST last night) she was flying south of her normal course to escape a tropical storm. At that time she was about half through her scheduled 12-hour flight and was bucking 14-mile an hour headwinds at an elevation of 9,000 feet between two cloud banks.

Flying conditions and visibility had been generally good, but the plane had flown through scattered showers.

No reason was advanced as to why she might have been forced down, but it was pointed out that if she had made a safe landing she could stay on the Pacific ocean as well as any boat.

PARENTS SEEK SON'S AFFECTION

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Anderson of Jamestown, N. Y., have begun a seven-week campaign to "win the affection" of their 9-year-old son, Darwin, shown here with them. Grandparents who rear the child seek his custody. A Supreme court judge gave the couple until September 7 to win Darwin's affections pending a ruling.

Babs and Spouse Reach Agreement

London, July 29.—(AP)—A divorce for the former Barbara Hutton, five-and-ten-cents heiress, and her estranged husband, Count Countess Haugwitz-Revell, announced today the couple had reached an agreement for a separation.

The Countess was granted "parental rights" toward Lance, their two-year-old son. They entitle him to make certain final decisions affecting his son's education, religion and career.

The deed of separation already has been signed both by the Count and Countess. It is subject to approval by the Danish Minister of Justice, but would be valid both under Danish and English law.

Countess has adopted her husband's nationality. Thus the Woolworth heiress and the spruce, dignified Danish nobleman she married in Reno, Nevada, May 14, 1935, came to the parting of their ways.

The separation was a far more amicable "agreement to disagree" than had been foreshadowed by the sensational hearings in a Bow street magistrate's court, the guard around their home, and the Count's promise not to see his wife.

Revolt Against Regime Of Dictator Of Greece Brought To Quick End

Uprising on Island of Crete Apparently Crushed

ABSOLUTE QUIET IN OTHER CITIES

Four Hundred Armed Men Take Advantage Weakened Garrison to Stage Coup

Athens, Greece, July 29.—(AP)—A revolt against the regime of General John Metaxas, dictator of Greece, apparently was quickly crushed today.

The Governor of the island of Crete, where the uprising broke out, said Metaxas that order had been restored in Crete, the Crete capital.

All Rebel-held government buildings have been re-occupied by authorities, he reported, and the revolutionists have fled.

Four hundred armed men, reported to be sailors, effected the coup by taking advantage of a weakened garrison at Crete. Most of the troops there had been sent to northern Greece to provide vacation relief for other garrisons.

Premier Metaxas ordered army, navy and air forces to the island. Communication was suspended and ships were not permitted to depart for the island.

The official announcement said: "A group of 400 armed men last night took the city of Crete on the island of Crete, profiting by the temporary diminution of the garrison."

"The cause and object of the desperate revolt are unknown. General Metaxas ordered military, naval and air forces to Crete. In other cities of Crete absolute quiet prevailed. Other places in Greece also are quiet."

LIGHT DOCKET IN CITY COURT

Usual type of Offenders Face Recorder Here Today

Ten defendants faced Vice Recorder L. S. Skinner in municipal court this morning, on charges involving assault or traffic law violations in most instances.

George House, Negro, was acquitted on an assault charge. Henry Grimes and Emma Dixon, Negroes, were convicted of engaging in disorderly conduct and each was ordered to pay one-half the costs of court.

Jimmie Harris was convicted of operating an automobile while under the influence of whiskey and was given a 90-day sentence, suspended upon payment of $50 and costs. The defendant, whose driving license was ordered revoked for 12 months, appealed to Superior court and bond was set at $300.

Jimmie Harris and Ralph Harris also were tried on charges of careless and reckless driving, but both defendants were acquitted.

Ernest Johnson was freed when a charge of driving drunk was dismissed. Richard Johnson, Negro, was given a 30-day sentence.

To Oppose Bilbo

Mrs. Linda Bilbo, former wife of U. S. Senator Bilbo (The Man Bilbo) of Mississippi, says she plans to oppose him as an independent candidate for the Senate in 1940, using some of the $20,750 she received as divorce settlement to finance the campaign. She is shown at Jackson, Miss.

TO ADVERTISE UNPAID TAXES

Both City and County Make Arrangements For August

Both the county and city next month will advertise property upon which 1937 taxes have not been paid, it was revealed today at the offices of the county auditor and city clerk.

In accordance with the statute, the county will begin advertising property as of the first week in August. The city will begin advertising the following week.

Extra costs will be incurred by property owners who fail to pay their 1937 taxes before the advertisements are inserted. Besides the cost of advertising, other expenses will have to be borne by the citizens.

County Auditor revealed that approximately 82 per cent of the $208,000 on the county's books have been collected, leaving 18 per cent to be collected during this month unless the property is to be advertised.

City Clerk J. O. Duval declared that of the $94,000 on the city's books, approximately $16,000 remains uncollected.

One month after the advertisements appear property upon which the taxes have not been paid will be sold, according to the statutes.

MARINE FLIER DIES IN CRASH NEAR RALEIGH

Parachute Tangles In Tail of Falling Plane

PILOT OF CRAFT REACHES SAFETY

Commanding Officer of Squadron of 12 Planes Unable Account for Crash

Varina, July 29.—(AP)—Sergeant Ernest S. Bowker, a marine flier, was killed in the crash of a marine plane here today, but Pilot Jens C. Aggerbeck, aviation cadet, escaped without injury in a parachute jump.

The plane burned and was a complete loss. Capt. R. S. Rhoades, commanding the squadron of 12 planes enroute from Quantico, Va., to Parris Island, S. C. base, in which Bowker and Aggerbeck were traveling, made the identification.

Earlier the dead man had been tentatively identified as E. F. Kissack of Washington, when a watch bearing that name was found near the body. Eye witnesses told their accounts, using the name Kissack before identification was made positive.

The other planes in the squadron landed at Raleigh, 15 miles from here, and Capt. Rhoades said they would stay there tonight.

He said the cause of the crash was unknown and that Bowker was killed because his parachute became entangled in the tail of the plane as he tried to jump. Bowker had been in the service some time, Capt. Rhoades said. Bowker's home was not known to him, Rhoades said, while Aggerbeck is from Illinois.

Cards For Selling Tobacco Available

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced that any producer with an acreage allotment for tobacco who wishes to sell on the early markets before he receives his marketing card, can notify the county office in writing a day or two before he wishes to market his tobacco and a tentative marketing card will be prepared which he can get by calling at the county agent's office.

The operator should call at the county agent's office in person as he will have to sign for the card. This card will permit him to sell a limited number of pounds per acre and his card for the remainder of his quota will be issued as soon as final calculations can be made.

Negro Tenant Dies In Electric Chair

Columbia, S. C., July 29.—(AP)—L. G. Goodman, Lake City Negro share-cropper, died in the electric chair at the State penitentiary at dawn today for the murder June 10 of Llewellyn Singletary, 28-year-old Lake City plantation owner.

Goodman calmly repeated a part of the 23rd Psalm when asked by Guard Captain C. A. Sullivan for a last statement.

"That's all, I'm ready," the Negro said, and at a signal from Sullivan the switch was thrown sending 10 amperes of electricity through his body for a full minute. He was pronounced dead by Prison Physician L. H. Jennings three minutes and 44 seconds after the first shock.

The condemned man's last minutes were spent in prayer with a chaplain and a Negro preacher. He walked unassisted into the newly-improved and enlarged death chamber, crowded with 50 spectators, and sat down without direction.

Fish In Pasture

Stokes, July 29.—There was very much excitement on the Barnhill's farms near Stokes yesterday. The pasture was covered with water and it was a sight to see Mrs. Clarence Barnhill and Isabelle scaring up the fish and the men would shoot them with rifles.

Clarence Barnhill killed a German carp weighing eight pounds and a quarter, and Leon Barnhill killed one weighing eight pounds and two ounces. There were five fish killed in all which weighed thirty five pounds.

LEAF AVERAGE TOPS 25 CENTS

Crowded Warehouses And Bocked Sales Reported

Valdosta, Ga.—July 29.—(AP)—Buyers paid nearly $1,000,000 to growers in the first six tobacco markets to report on total sales in the opening of bright leaf auctions. An average price well above 25 cents was recorded. There are 15 Georgia markets.

Crowded warehouses and blocked sales marked resumption of the auctions today.

Moultrie reported 649,364 pounds sold for what Sales Supervisor Walter Applewhite said was an average of 27.41, nearly two cents above last year's opening price. About 2,000,000 pounds of leaf remained on the warehouse floors.

Tifton sales amount to 837,002 pounds for an average of 27.43. Prices ranged from four to 40 cents. Valdosta's sales, supervisor T. Almond, said 722,788 pounds sold at an average of 25.74.

Hazlehurst sold 328,808 pounds for a 26.55 average, government agents reported. The range was six to 36 cents. One warehouse already was filled for Monday's sales and blocked sales continued for the (Continued on page six)

LINT BAGGING IS SUGGESTED

AAA To Lend Financial Aid to Substitute for Jute

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—The AAA announced today financial support of a program to increase cotton consumption by substituting cotton bagging for jute as covering cotton bales.

F. R. Wilcox, marketing division director, outlined a program calling for manufacture, with aid of government subsidies, of enough cotton bagging to cover 1,000,000 bales of cotton.

The AAA said the program followed repeated recommendations by the cotton industry that cotton bagging be given a trial as a jute substitute. It estimated the normal cotton crop would require about 75,000,000 yards of cotton bagging which in turn would divert 135,000 bales of cotton from the market.

The AAA said manufacturers would be asked to sell cotton bagging to producers, gins and oil mills in approved sections at a price of not more than 45 cents for six yards, enough to cover one bale. (Continued on page six)

CONFER HONOR ON LOCAL MAN

A. B. Ellington Presented Jewel by Local Pythians

At the regular meeting of Tar River Lodge No. 93, Knights of Pythias on Thursday night, the local Pythians, with a number of visitors, honored A. B. Ellington, beloved local Pythian, by presenting him with a 50-year Veterans Jewel. The meeting was presided over by Supreme Representative S. O. Worthington and the presentation was made by Richard L. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, of Wilmington.

In a few well chosen words, Mr. Meares portrayed the life of Mr. Ellington as a Knight of Pythias, praising his work and commending him on being one of the few Pythians to receive the coveted jewel.

Mr. Ellington, who has been a member of the Knights of Pythias since 1878, having joined Naomi Lodge in Petersburg, Va. in that year, was the recipient of many messages of congratulations and good will during the past week.

A number of out of town Pythians were present for the occasion. Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, I. Weisner Farmer of Clayton, gave a short talk on conditions at the Home and discussed the history of the order. Walter Hewlett, member of the board of trustees of the Home, gave a very interesting report on improved conditions at the home.

One of the most interesting features of the meeting was a discussion by George J. Woodard, local Pythian and one of the three charter members of the local lodge now living in Greenville. He reviewed the institution of Tar River Lodge in 1897 and gave some interesting remarks about the work and growth of the lodge.

DEATH CLAIMS J. S. MANNING

Former N.C. Supreme Court Justice Dies Suddenly

Raleigh, July 29.—(AP)—James S. Manning, former Attorney General of North Carolina and former associate Justice of the State Supreme court, died at his home here early today. He was 79 years old.

Manning was Attorney General from 1916 to 1925, when he started practice of law here with a son, John Hall Manning. Before entering public office he had practiced in Durham for many years.

He was a native of Pittsboro and attended the University of North Carolina. Funeral arrangements were delayed because of the inability of members of the family and friends to locate Colonel Manning, who left by motor yesterday for the National Guard maneuvers in Mississippi.

Col. Manning was not traveling with the regular troop movement and had not left his proposed itinerary here.

The former Justice, friends said, was preparing to retire when the attack occurred. He fell in the bath room. His wife, who heard the noise found him dead.

He apparently had been in his usual health and worked at his office yesterday.

He was a native of Pittsboro and attended the University of North Carolina.

Man About Manhattan

By Corey Tucker

New York—I hope Jed Harris doesn't weaken on his decision not to send any second companies of "Our Town" on the road. That wouldn't be fair. That wouldn't be right and proper. Because "Our Town" isn't like any play you ever saw. You could take "Strange Interlude" or "Idiot's Delight," or even "Reunion in Vienna," three top-flight plays, and build a dozen companies, each as good as the original.

But you couldn't do that with "Our Town." Not and make it add up the way it does now. I don't know why this is so. But it is so. It just wouldn't be the same play unless you had the same cast that is in there now, that has been in there since the opening night performance months ago.

Jed says he isn't even thinking of second companies. Not now, at least. When "Our Town" goes on the road he wants the country to see the same play that New York has been looking at all these weeks and months.

And in making this decision he is kissing good bye to a wad of money. It would be a simple task to whip three companies together simultaneously, send one South one through the central states, and one to the coast. The bookings are his. There is an endless chain of theaters in every state asking for it. He could make a quick turnover, cover the road, and dissolve his companies.

But you wouldn't really be seeing "Our Town." Not really. Not unless Frank Craven was there to shuffle out, with a wad of gun in the side of his jaw, to tell you what it was all about. Not unless Jay Fassett was there to play Dr. Gibbs, and Martha Scott was the little bride, or wouldn't really be having "Our Town" unless Frank Craven's boy, John, was there to play the part of George, or Philip Coolidge the choirmaster, or Tom Ross the editor.

No, you wouldn't. And so remember those names. And when you see the play, if those names aren't in the cast, you ought to write Jed Harris a letter. You ought to write him at his office in the Empire Theater building, on Broadway, New York. And give him a letter. Because that's what he ought to get if he doesn't hold this company intact and send it out on the road, so that when your town see "Our Town" you'll see the best there is.

I won't tell you what "Our Town" is about, because it is too heart-breakingly honest, too beautifully simple, too awfully close to something inside of you to try to justify it in cold type. But I will tell you this: I envy Thornton Wilder for having written it. If I were a playwright and could be the author of any play in New York this year I would unhesitatingly choose "Our Town." I think I would be prouder of it than any "best-seller" ever written, and I can honestly say that I can not think of any compliment higher than to have someone point you out and say, "There goes the man who wrote 'Our Town.'"

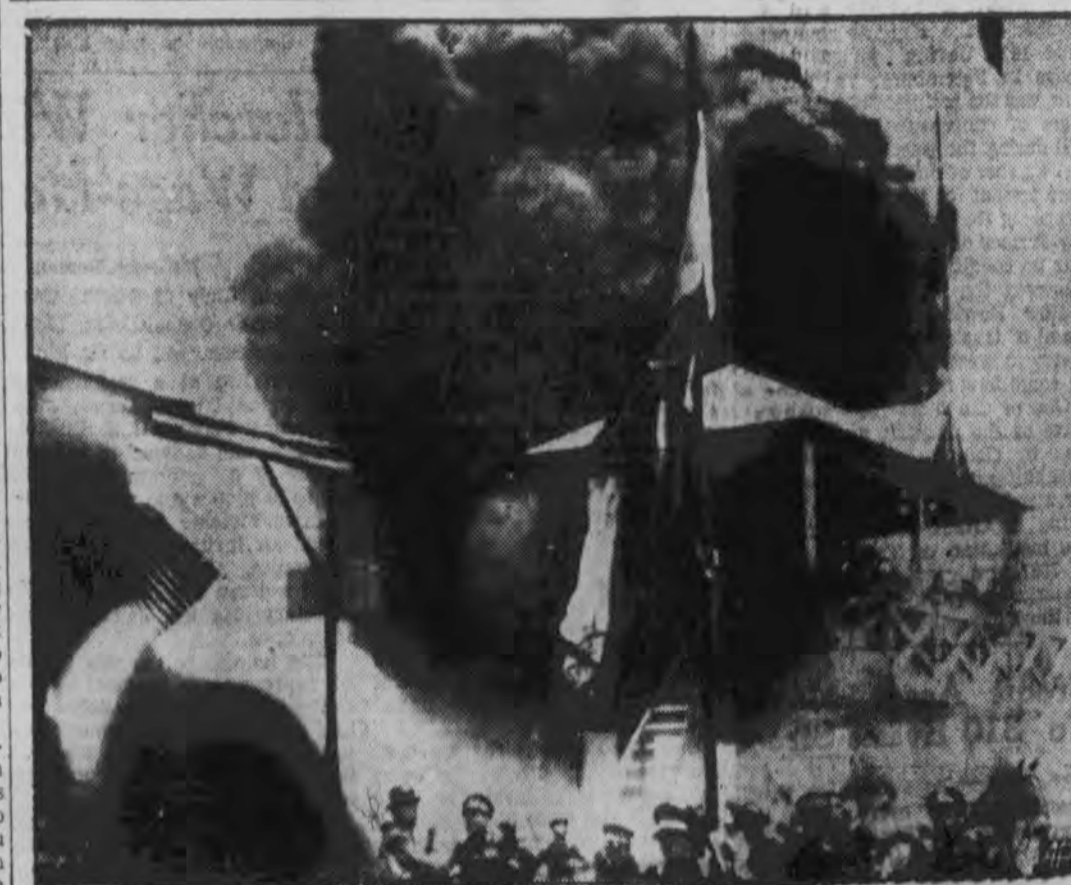

I love the theater and I have a good time in it all winter. But when summer comes I stay away, because summer to my way of thinking is no time for drama. But last night I went back to the Morosca, in 45th street, for another look. It was like dipping you; hands into a cooling lotion and burying your face in new heather.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY NELSON C. WAT

The Story So Far
A plot is on foot to smash the Rafter T, and "Blue" Ankrom takes a job there to help lovely Lee Trone.

A voice gasped behind him. "What's happened to the water-gobblers?"

Cutting Words

WHEN Ankrom finally faced Lee his face was calm. "Get it over with," he said.

"Don't touch me!" Lee's voice was thick with emotion.

SHE had killed Kelton Dren! The impact of that revelation struck Ankrom far harder than her whip had done.

MAN ON LEDGE LEAPS 17 FLOORS TO DEATH

After spending ten hours on a 17th floor ledge of the Hotel Gotham on New York's Fifth Avenue, a man identified as John Ward completed his long delayed suicide by stepping off his precarious perch and crashing to his death on the pavement below.

GENERAL VIEW WHERE SUICIDE LEAP TOOK PLACE

Indicated by an "X" is the approximate spot where a man identified as John Ward, in earlier photo, crashed to the sidewalk after leaping from his 17th floor perch in a suicide which was contemplated before the street directly below the ledge on which Ward had spent 10 hours in contemplating before jumping was cleared of curious bystanders by police. This picture, showing New York's Hotel Gotham from which Ward plunged, was taken a few hours before the Gotham plunge.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—At least one group of politicians would not like to see President Roosevelt run for a third term. They are the men with their own eyes on 1940.

For the President to run for a third term would break the hearts of more ambitious political aspirants than could be mended with all the patronage in America.

Right now the people who want to be the Democratic nominee in 1940 extend from McNutt in Manila to Barkley in Paducah, with branch lines running excitedly in all directions to gather in the others.

And what might happen to them
if President Roosevelt continued in office until 1944?

Take Mr. McNutt as an example.
He is in his forties at present and would age some by 1944. But Mr.
McNutt and his friends have been pointing him toward 1940 with such persistence that it would be hard to delay the climax of his boom until 1944. Besides, he might have to come to the United States to hunt
a new job to keep himself in the limelight. It takes an awful lot of limelight to reach Manila.

As Good As New

The jobs open to an aspiring presidential candidate are limited.
Mr. McNutt might spill off the time with a term as Indiana, but he already has been governor. He has one advantage over many another candidate, that he really is young enough to be available six years hence. If the President chose to put him in cold storage by appointing him to a cabinet post, he could be taken out in 1944 almost as good as new, and probably still smiling.

The same might be true of Senator Clark of Missouri, who also is young enough to wait. In fact, six years of additional age might not hurt more than one or two of the present possibilities.

They include Senator Barkley of Kentucky and Governor Happy
Candler of the same state. Senator Byrd of Virginia, Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Senator O'Mahoney
of Wyoming, Secretary Wallace of Agriculture, Mayor LaGuardia of New York, Secretary Ickes of the Interior, Administrator Harry Hopkins of WPA, Vice President Garner, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, whose state organization already is torching for him, Robert Jackson, solicitor general, and perhaps some more senators and more cabinet
members and more governors.

Enter The Dark Horse

Numerical age and political age
are marked off on different calendars. Years of languishing in wait for 1944 could do any number of things. Foremost possibility is that within that time the lightning might strike some newcomer unknown today.

It would be worse still for the hopes of these Democratic lads if the days of the New Deal should be numbered by 1944.

Moreover, dozens of congressional independents who have no thought of the presidency are hankering for a President a trifle less popular.
Rolling along with Roosevelt is great is a congressman is 100 per cent with him, but far less than fun if he is not.

One certainty, demonstrated anew
by his transcontinental tour, is that the President has masses of support.
Many observers here, however, are convinced that if Mr. Roosevelt doesn't like the way the New Deal is working in 1940 he will be ready to captain it until 1944.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, July 29—There has been absolutely no official confirmation from any source, but repeated reports and rumors bob up that neither W. O. Burgin of Davidson nor B. Deane of Richmond will be the Democratic nominee for Congress come this November.

This correspondent has been unable to find anybody willing to take even the slightest responsibility for these reports and they are passed along merely for whatever they may or may not be worth.

It may be that back of the rumors is the thought that it might be expedient to solve the whole Eighth district row by tossing both Burgin and Deane out on their ears and putting up a third person, untouched by the charges and countercharges of political corruption and connivance.

The story is that when the State Board of Elections finally certifies
the nominee, the winner will immediately resign, thus leaving selection of a candidate to the Democratic Congressional committee in the Eighth.

No matter how the actual decision goes, there's going to be some interesting reading in the State Election Board's finding of facts and conclusions about the Eighth District contest—as well as about the runarounds in Fourth and Sixth Judicial, where solicitorial nominations are challenged.

Chairman W. A. Lucas and his four associates aren't sweating day after day just for the fun of it—nor yet for the $350 per day paid them by the state. The board "ain't a-saying" what it's doing, but it's a reasonably good guess that the election board in every county of the Eighth where there's any kind of contest, is going to have its returns dumped back in its lap for some sort of revision.

The political grapevine brings the report that organized opposition to Major A. L. Fletcher, state labor Commissioner, will make its appearance many months ahead of the 1940 primary in which the Major must again be a candidate of he desires to succeed himself.

"I freely reported that already the plain-spoken Major has been sent word from influential financial quarters that he "talks too much Labor."

In short, prospects are that some candidate, financed and backed to the limit by "Big Business" will take the field against Fletcher in the next race.

However there may or may not be
—as to 1940 primary opposition—
the Major is absolutely certain to run into all sorts of opposition next January when his proposal for a state Wage-Hour bill along the lines of the recently passed Federal measure hits the General Assembly.

To judge from the probable legislative lineup indicated by the primaries of June and July, there will be tremendous conservative strength in both Houses, with only a scattering of liberal labor advocates here and there in the crowd.

Whatever Major Fletcher succeeds in prying loose from the Assembly will be hard won and well-deserved.

Tax receipts for July still lag
far, far behind those for the same month last year. Through the twentieth, sales tax revenues for the current fiscal period were more than 15 per cent off; beverage levies were yielding about 16 per cent less; and the grand total for the revenue division was just about the same fix. Officials still think it's too early, however, for any definite trend to be established.

How's Your Health?

Edited for the New York Academy
of Medicine

By Jago Goldstein, M.D.

The Public And Cancer

Dr. James Ewing, Director of Memorial Hospital, New York, recently cited the public's discouragement because cancer research has not provided knowledge of practical value to the cancer patient, and has not furnished a cure for disseminated cancer. Dr. Ewing is recognized as one of the outstanding authorities in cancer research.

"It is extremely disappointing,"
he said, "to those who have witnessed this era of research to have practical results for the human being suffering from cancer.

"Yet during this same period
there have been revolutionary advances in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer which have vastly improved the outlook for the cancer patient.

"These advances have come from the labors of a great number of pathologists, physicians, surgeons, radiologists, and technicians, who have worked faithfully to meet the flood of solvable problems that arise in the wards of the cancer hospital, and which differ in each for most cancer. They have drawn constantly for aid on laboratory research and on the various pure and applied sciences. But in general these men have been content to be hewers of wood and drawers of water.

"The most important source or aid in cancer treatment has undoubtedly come from the discovery of radium and x-rays and the science of radiology. But highly important has been the widened knowledge of the different forms of neoplastic (new growth) disease and their natural history and complications; and the greater specialization and better organization of cancer service.

"As an example of this progress
one may point to the five-year cure rate for tongue cancer, which in the best clinics in the past 25 years has risen from 10 per cent to 26 per cent of all cures.

Even more significant has been the elimination of several dangerous and ineffective operations in favor of radiation which is comparatively free from morbidity and mortality.

"The importance of radiation as a palliative for advanced cancer can hardly be overestimated. It is not too much to say that radiation treatment of cancer is the outstanding contribution of medicine
to humanity in the present gen-tury."

Santa May Hire His Deer From U. S.

(By The AP Feature Service)
Nome, Alaska—Santa Claus may find his Yuletide jaunts under federal regulation soon, for the government is preparing to take over the reindeer business.

A commission appointed by Congress is in the Far North to survey
the vast reindeer herds of the arctic with a view to government purchase of all deer not owned by natives.

The industry's size is uncertain,
because of native unconcern over definite figures and because of interruptive roundups on the sparsely settled ranges. Estimates of total reindeer in Alaska ranged from 400-000 to 1,500,000.

Action of Congress in buying deer

cold storage and butchering plants may depend upon the commission's recommendation. Eskimo and government leaders said the purchase would aid natives in maintaining food and clothing supplies, so Congress enacted the purchase bill last year and authorized but did not appropriate $2,000,000. If the deer were bought, private companies would go out of business.

Reindeer—actually domesticated
caribou—first were brought to Alaska from Siberia in 1891. Later Lapps were brought here to teach the Alaskans reindeer husbandry.

The industry is plagued by natural hazards and handicapped by discrimination of natives to accept a pastoral life.

Greenies Penalized 17 Games; Ten Taken From Bugs

VIOLATIONS OF THE CLASS RULE

On Part of Goldsboro and Greenville Alleged by Eure

J. B. Eure of Ayden, president of the Coastal Plain League of Baseball clubs, yesterday announced that the Goldsboro and Greenville clubs had been found guilty of violations of the league's "class rules," and the official order 15 games won by Greenville and 10 won by Goldsboro awarded to opposition clubs. In addition, Greenville lost two other games—awarded to it when Ayden and Kinston were convicted some weeks ago of violating the class rules.

Only change in positions in the standings resulting from yesterday's forfeitures was Greenville's drop into the cellar, replacing Ayden. Chief beneficiaries of the forfeitures were Tarboro's league-leading club, which picked up 5 games at Greenville's expense and two at Goldsboro's. New Bern, in second place, got two games from each of the violators. As a result Tarboro's lead over New Bern jumped from a mere half-game—which was the difference yesterday morning—to five and a half games.

Greenville's violation of the class rules covered two periods—May 16 through June 7 and June 18 through July 16. Goldsboro's troubles also continued over two periods—April 26 through May 16 and June 2 through June 14.

The Division
Greenville's forfeitures were: Tarboro, 5 games; Kinston 2; Williamston 2; New Bern 1; Goldsboro 1; Ayden 3; Snow Hill 1. The Greenies also had to "give back" one game to Ayden and one to Kinston—contests taken from those clubs when they were convicted of violating the rules. Thus, the Greenies were penalized a total of 17 games.

Five clubs benefited, to the extent of two games apiece, as a result of the forfeitures ordered against Goldsboro. The beneficiaries were Snow Hill, Tarboro, Greenville, New Bern and Williamston.

Eure's order left in status quo games won by Greenville or Goldsboro over Ayden or Kinston during the time the latter two clubs were not within the rules. Both Greenville and Goldsboro ran into trouble because of charging as rookies players with previous professional experience in leagues other than the Coastal Plain. Later checks against the baseball guides showed these players unable to qualify as rookies.

Goldboro Protest

W. L. Rowlings, president of the Goldsboro club, announced in Goldsboro last night that his club plans to protest President Eure's ruling against the Bugs "until we are accorded a hearing and proved to be guilty of violating the rules." "Our belief is that we did not violate the rules, and our records are the reason for this belief," said Mr. Rowlings. "We have asked for a hearing—and have tried tonight to get in touch with Mr. Eure, but couldn't get him—and we shall insist upon our rights to a hearing and an opportunity to study the records on which he bases his decision. Our first information of the order of forfeiture against us came in a wire from Mr. Eure this afternoon."

Officials of the Greenville club had nothing to give out today on President Eure's decision.

Earlier Forfeitures

Yesterday's forfeiture order was the second by President Eure this season. On July 16 he ordered that eight games be taken from Kinston and eight from Ayden because of violations of the class rules. That difficulty dropped the Eagles from top place.

Word came from Kinston yesterday that officials of the Eagles were filing with the league a "charge of violation of the league rules by New Bern, Goldsboro and Greenville clubs" and were "demanding that these clubs forfeit one, four and four games, respectively." The charge against New Bern according to the Kinston message, is that on May 22 the Bears used an "unlimited class" man "when the club already had the quota of three 'unlimited class men.' It also is charged that the pitcher involved "did not sign until the next day." Coastal Plain rules permit each club to carry three "unlimited class" men. The rest must be rookies—players who have performed only in the Coastal Plain or in not more than 10 games in any other professional league. An "unlimited class" man is a player who has been in more than 10 games in professional leagues of ranking above Class C.

The heaviest man and heaviest woman will receive season passes to all Ayden home games.

RAIN HALTS IT, MARTINS WIN

Yesterday's Contest Broken Up in Fifth, Score 3-2

Williamston, July 29.—Rainfall shortened yesterday's Williamston-Greenville game—but not before Bob Shipway committed a bit of thievery to mark up the deciding run in a 3-2 battle.

Shipway's weather eye told him that it wouldn't be long before rain would end the game, so he stole home. And rain ended play soon after the home half of the fifth with two away.

The Martins' first run in the opening inning, resulted from two hits, a walk and a fly. The other score came on Eddie Ignasiak's third-inning homer.

Greenville scored in the fifth by combining two doubles, a single and a free ticket.

Bill Averette, Williamston pitcher, hurled one-hit ball until the fifth. He fanned three and walked two. The locals made six hits off Don King, who fanned six and walked three.

Top hitter of the day was Howard (Muscles) Earp, Williamston's shortstop. He hit safely on two of three trips.

The fielding feature was Ace Vilpeque's catch of Lowery's long drive in the second inning.

A PRINCETON pitcher, Joseph MacElroy Mann, pitched the first no-hit, no-run game on record against Yale in 1875. Mann had a sore finger in an 1874 game, let the ball roll off, noticed his curve, became the first hurler to develop it, and got his no-hitter.

"It's A Hot-And-Cold Club," Says Gabby; His Shot In The Arm Seems To Help Cubs

By AURELIUS KINSEY
AP Feature Service Writer

Chicago—A "hypo shot" into a "hot-and-cold club" was the first thing Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett thought about when he replaced Charley Grimm as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

The mere suggestion seemed to work because the Cubs trotted onto the diamond with their new manager and beat Brooklyn 5-2 in the first of a double-header and held the Dodgers to a 1-0 win in the second. A few days later they swept a 3-game series with the Giants.

All that seemed to strengthen some of Hartnett's views, aired shortly after P. K. Wrigley announced his appointment.

"It's a hot-and-cold club," Gabby said. "And all I can hope for is that we can inject a hypo which will keep them hot all the time."

Then Hartnett hinted that the shot in the arm might jolt some of the boys.

"I don't expect to ask for anything too high," he declared. "But those guys have got to produce for me—and I mean produce. They've got to come through. I don't intend to ask anything outside of the ordinary. But I'm going to be tough."

"We'll have the same disciplinary rules," he continued. "Midnight curfew and so on. The only change will be that I'll stay up one hour later every night figuring out what pitchers I'll use."

He expects to ease up along other lines, however.

"The only thing I'm going to change is morning practice," he said. "No more of that. Those who weren't in the regular lineup used to have to come out at 10:30 while the regulars came out at 11:30. From now on everybody will come out at 12:45 or 1 o'clock. It's too late in the season for morning practice."

Gabby was nicknamed that because he wasn't Gabby at all. It was at Catalina Island, Calif., back in 1922, when Hartnett first went to the Cubs' camp that someone kidded him because he seldom opened his mouth. They dubbed him "Gabby" and he's been so ever since.

"From the time they started calling me Gabby I decided I might as well be that way," he said. So now if Hartnett has an opinion to air he airs it aptly.

Charlie Grimm is out as manager and he walked out saying that "if Hartnett can't get a winner out of them I don't know who I believe."

Gabby is in and he went in saying, "It fulfills an ambition I've had ever since I reached the big leagues. I'm as happy as a kid with a new toy."

And—in the background—stands the silent figure of Tony Lazzeri, who was purchased from the New York Yanks last winter to be the Cubs' coach, strategist and utility second-baseman. Rumor had it that the taciturn Italian baseball veteran hoped to boss the big league club some day.

Tony may, some day, but today it's the roaring Irishman, Gabby Hartnett, who is boss.

Herring Shuts Out The Tarboro Serps 6 to 0

Ayden, July 29.—Bill Herring set Tarboro down with six scattered hits as Ayden turned back the Serpents, 6-0, yesterday. It was the Aces' first victory in four starts during an 11-day period.

Bill's change of pace had the Tarboro boys horse-colored, and in no inning did he experience any trouble. Only three of the Snakes reached Bill for hits—Black, Ware, and Dick connecting for two hits apiece.

The Aces scored one in the first inning. Biershenk walked, moved up on Rogers' out, and came home on Casaway's single.

The locals tallied twice in the third. Purcell singled and was forced at second by Herring. Singles by Biershenk and Rogers scored Herring and Morris' single brought in Biershenk.

Ayden topped off its scoring with three runs in the eighth. Biershenk homered over the left field screen. Rodgers walked and went to third on Morris' double. Casaway's single scored both runners.

Biershenk, with a homer and a single in three tries, paced the locals.

Ed Malone went the route for Tarboro and was touched for nine hits.

Billies Lead League in Double-Play Killings

New Bern, July 29.—Peahead Walker's Snow Hill Billies rate ace-high in the Coastal Plain when it comes to pulling double-plays. Figures compiled by League Statistician McDaniel, for games through July 26 show that the Billies have committed 70 of the 462 extra "killings" seen in the loop this season.

Most fans will be surprised to know that New Bern is in second place, with 61. The Bruins, more noted for their slugging than fielding, nosed out Snake Henry's Serpents, who have an even 60.

Greenville can claim no less than 59, despite a frequently juggled infield. Goldsboro is close behind with 57. Following in order are Kinston 54, Williamston 51, Ayden 50.

There's a big reason for Kinston's low place in the standings. The Eagles are handicapped at home by playing on a new infield that is yet to be conditioned fully. Even the fine playing of Sidney Stringfellow and Claude Wright suffers as a result.

CHIEF COUNSEL STAKE WINNER

Tarboro Colt Gets 1st Money in Agawam, Mass., Race

Agawam, Mass., July 29.—Chief Counsel, black colt owned by Ben Mayo of Tarboro N. C., took first money in the American Stakes for three-year-old pacers, here yesterday.

Out of the running in the first heat, the North Carolina horse was first in each of the two remaining heats. The race, secondary feature on today's Grand Circuit program, had a purse of $2,327.50.

Arietan was second to Chief Counsel in the summary of the American Stakes. Out of in the first heat, Arietan, driven by Berry, ran 2-2. Gilt Hanover, driven by Lacey, was 3-4-3. Apollo, driven by Erskine, was 4-3-5. Time: 2:06 3-4; 2:06 1-2; 2:05 1-4.

Nibbler Hanover won the day's feature race, the American Stake for two-year-old trotters. The son of Calumet Church, with Harry Whitney driving, won both heats. Peter Astra, driven by Parshall, was 2-5; Lyrmitie, 6-2; Mack Bell 4-3; and the time was 2:07, 2:07. The purse was $4,485.58.

Old-Time Cattle Range May Rise From West's Scorched Wheat Lands

WHEAT, OVERGRAZING AND DROUGHT MADE THIS LAST ROUND-UP

Colorado Cowboys Ride Again On 'Green Pastures'

By ROBERT E. GEIGER (AP Feature Service Writer)
Briggsdale, Colo. — Cowboys are riding again over the scorched wheat lands near here. And with a little more rain and a little more time, federal soil experts say, north-eastern Colorado's dust bowl may be converted into a grass-covered cattle domain—as in the old days. Already the fences and the houses of dust-discouraged dry land farmers have been uprooted from more than a quarter million acres. A barbed wire fence hems in the area, and the wheat fields have gone to weeds.

Eventually the government hopes to turn more than a million of the region's unirrigated acres into a pasture so gigantic that it will bring back the old-fashioned round-ups. Before the droughts of recent years began to wither crops and bring dust storms, 150 families were trying to make a living on the quarter million acres, mainly by raising an occasional bumper wheat or bean crop.

When disaster struck, the government offered to resettle some of the families and to buy the worst of the farms. About 100 families sold to the government. Says A. E. Hyde, project manager: "The government is helping those families that remain to acquire about 2,500 acres each. This will permit them to go into the livestock business, the purpose for which this land is best suited."

In addition to the deeded land, each family is offered grazing leases in the 100,000 acre pasture which the government has created.

Ray Casten, typical of the farmers near here, tells this story: "We came out in 1905 and you never saw such country. Grass was belly-deep on the cattle. We wanted to be ranchers, not farmers."

"But the country settled up right quick after we came. First thing we knew, farmers were busting the sod and making big money out of beans and wheat. So we tried it."

During those first few years, Casten recalls, there were good crops.

WIND MOVES MORE SOIL THAN MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

Goodwell, Colo.—(AP)—If all the floods of the Mississippi river and tributaries during the past 1,000 years were rolled into one, they would carry away 850,000,000 tons of topsoil.

But dust bowl winds do that much damage in one bad year of dust storms.

The figures are those of soil experts of the Panhandle A&M College experiment station here. Last year the dust bowl had 117 major storms. This year there were fewer. The average from 1933 to 1937 was 68.

THOSE BEEZ DON'T TOLERATE INTRUDERS

Neenah, Wis.—(AP)—That bees kill and then embalm mice, snakes or other invaders of their hives was discovered here by E. E. Lamper, amateur beekeeper.

Lamper found by experimentation that when a live mouse or snake was placed in a hive a swarm of bees descended upon it and stung it to death. Then, unable to remove it, the bees embalmed it by covering it with wax to prevent contamination.
