RULE ADOPTED FIXING QUOTAS ON PWA FUNDS

Limit Placed on Total To Be Allotted Each State

DESIGNED HELP BACKWARD UNITS

Indicates Some States Already Reached or Approaching Their Quotas

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The Public Works Administration soon will slap a state quota on loans and grants in an effort to equalize participation in its 1938 construction program.

Officials said today this was decided by Howard Gray, acting administrator, when a recapitulation disclosed that the program was 15 days ahead of schedule, its funds two-thirds gone and a relatively large number of states still backward in qualifying for projects.

The quota system, informants said, will be aimed chiefly at slowing down allotments to states which have been exceptionally active until the more backward ones have had opportunity to file a fair share of applications.

Gray and Administrator Ickes, they explained, will be sole judges of a state's fair share of PWA allotments. Their decision will be based on the individual state's population, taxes paid and its nominal position in Federal programs.

While authorities declined to indicate which states may have reached, or are approaching, their quotas, a survey showed that numerous and large allotments have been made to New York, Ohio, California and other states of heavy population.

Officials said the quota would be informal and flexible. They added, however, that if the states which the quota is intended to benefit did not respond by mid-October all remaining funds would be pro-rated to those with applications pending.

Act May Embrace Health Insurance

Indicated President Roosevelt May Mention Health Protection System in Address Tonight

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Federal health insurance may become one of President Roosevelt's proposals for broadening the Social Security program. The President, who will speak tonight on the third anniversary of the Social Security act, already has recommended study looking toward enlarging the program in other respects.

A hint that he might mention a health protection system appeared in a statement by Chairman Altmeyer of the Social Security board. "The question of health protection," Altmeyer said, "is beginning to appear on the horizon. We may one day set up safeguards against the hazard of illness paralleling our present line of defense against the hazards of want during unemployment and of a destitute old age."

The President's brief speech will be broadcast to the nation over all major networks at 9:30 p. m. EST. It will be delivered from the White House.

Few expected it to contain many political references, in as much asides of the President said it would be very general and would not mention names of individuals or states.

Weather For The Week. South Atlantic States: Partly cloudy with temperatures near or above normal. Showers about Tuesday to Thursday, except occasionally all week in Florida.

Stephen Foster was born July 4, 1826.

The Reel was O. K.

T. A. Person was beginning to think L. G. Cooper and D. J. Whichard, Jr., were putting something over on him Saturday while the three were off fishing in the Gulf stream off Morehead City.

The trio went about 30 miles out in Mr. Cooper's boat, the All-Four, with Capt. Charlie Willis at the helm. A big 10-pound hook and he was unable to make much headway pulling the fish in and turned to Mr. Cooper and asked if he hadn't been given a reel that needed oiling. Assured that the reel was O. K., but that the dolphin was putting up a fight, Mr. Person doubted his efforts and made the catch, one of 108 dolphins caught by the trio on the expedition.

Chamber Of Commerce Secretary Due Tonight

Willard T. Kyzer To Direct Local Organization

Willard T. Kyzer, who was recently selected to serve as executive secretary of the reorganized Greenville Chamber of Commerce, was expected to arrive in the city tonight and take up his duties tomorrow morning.

The new secretary met officials of the Greenville association in Raleigh today where they had gone to attend the hearing on the Atlantic Coast Line's petition to abandon several passenger trains, including the one operating daily between Weldon and Kinston.

The Chamber of Commerce was reorganized some time ago, with J. Nat Harrison being named president. A committee was later named to decide on a secretary and Mr. Kyzer was selected.

Mrs. Kyzer will come here directly from Morganton, where he has served as head of that city's organization since November 1, 1932. The new secretary entered Chamber of Commerce work in 1921, serving as secretary in Kinston for approximately five years. While in Kinston he also served as secretary-treasurer of the Kinston 10-county fair and secretary-treasurer of the Kinston baseball club. Leaving Kinston, he went to Salisbury, where he served as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for approximately four years and upon leaving Salisbury was employed as field representative for the United States chamber of Commerce, which position he filled until he went to Morganton.

Mr. Kyzer was graduated from Clemson College in 1913, after which he taught agriculture and allied sciences for three years, leaving that position in 1917 to enter the employ of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

While authorities declined to indicate which states may have reached, or are approaching, their quotas, a survey showed that numerous and large allotments have been made to New York, Ohio, California and other states of heavy population.

Officials said the quota would be informal and flexible. They added, however, that if the states which the quota is intended to benefit did not respond by mid-October all remaining funds would be pro-rated to those with applications pending.

PREPARED FOR OPENING SALE

Improvement Program Completed at Farmers Whse.

With their improvement program completed, the Farmers warehouse, located on West Ninth street, is ready for another successful season and a first sale when the market makes its initial opening for the 1938 marketing season.

One of the major improvements in the renovation program of this well-known tobacco firm was the addition of windows and skylights, providing more lighting facilities. A well-lighted warehouse is considered not only an asset to the warehouseman, but equally is important to the farmer.

C. H. McGowan is proprietor and manager. D. L. Mangum will serve as assistant sales manager. Both men have been associated with the tobacco industry for a number of years, and are well known among the farmers.

Mack Hux and E. L. Dudley will serve as auctioneers for the Farmers warehouse this season. Both are experienced in their particular field of work.

The Farmers warehouse has been completely overhauled during the summer months. The offices have been reconditioned and painted. Other parts of the warehouse have also been enlivened with an extra coat of paint. The warehouse will hold a full day's sale. More parking facilities have been made for the benefit of its customers.

Expect 3,000 At Meet Wednesday

Plans are being made to feed more than 3,000 Farm Bureau members and guests at the Annual Farm Bureau meeting and picnic here Wednesday, August 17th.

The public is invited to hear Edward A. O'Neal, President of the American Farm Bureau, J. B. Hutson, Chief of the Tobacco Section and Assistant A. A. Administration, F. R. Wilcox, Director of Market Adjustment Section, and John W. Goodman, Assistant Director of Extension Service.

YOUTH KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

Funeral Services Held Today for Charles Herbert Wilson

Funeral services for Charles Herbert Wilson, 13, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, of Greenville, were held at the home this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial followed in the family plot in Cherry Hill cemetery.

The services were conducted by Rev. T. M. Grant, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Clarence Patrick, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church.

Young Wilson died in Pitt General hospital yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, about two hours after a fall from a 22 calibre target pistol he was examining at his home struck him above the eye and lodged in the back of his head. He was rushed to the hospital, but never regained consciousness.

The popular youngster would have been a student in the ninth grade at the Greenville high school this fall. Active in athletics, he played basketball and was a member of the Greenville swimming team. He was a member of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, having joined when he was five years old and attended regularly.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Dr. Frank Wilson, Jr., of Raleigh, Dr. Howard Wilson of Philadelphia and Tom Wilson of Greenville; and two sisters.

Little Girl Injured When Struck By Auto

Little Miss Delphia Satterfield, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Satterfield who live about four miles from Greenville on the Stantonburg road, was struck by a car when she was crossing Evans street Saturday afternoon, but was not seriously injured.

"The little girl was given first aid treatment and then taken to her home. According to police officers she ran in front of a car driven by C. B. Forrest of Greenville, who was down and suffered bruises and scratches, but no serious injuries. Forrest was absolved of blame by policemen who investigated the accident.

FAVOR'BLE VOTE NOW NECESSARY

Citizens to be Called Upon Support Bond Issue to Finance 55 Percent of Cost

Greenville's new $250,000 building improvement program was left entirely up to the voters of the city Saturday when the Public Works Administration approved a grant of $112,275 to finance 45 per cent of the total cost.

The next move will be the calling of a bond election, at which time the voters will decide whether or not the city will issue $137,225 in bonds to purchase sites, erect a new municipal building, a fire station, a street department yard, a fire alarm system, etc.

Under the plan the city will issue bonds to pay for 55 per cent of the work, the remaining 45 per cent to be provided by the PWA as an outright grant.

After the Board of Aldermen pass a resolution calling the election, 30 days must elapse before the election is held. PWA regulations demand prompt action be taken and work on the projects started as soon as possible. A telegram was received by city officials Saturday afternoon from H. T. Cole, regional director, with headquarters in Atlanta, urging that work be started as soon as possible.

The program calls for total expenditures of $249,500. Of this (Continued on page six)

HEALTH OFFICE ISSUES REPORT

Work Carried On By Department in July Reviewed

The major activities of the Pitt County Health Department for the month of July were maternal and infant welfare clinics, venereal disease clinics, cafe and dairy inspections and community sanitation, according to a report drafted by Dr. N. Thomas Ennett health officer, for presentation to the Pitt County Medical Society.

The full report follows: "For the month of July the following contagious diseases were reported: measles, 4 cases; meningococcal meningitis, 1 case; scarlet fever, 1 case; typhoid fever, 2 cases; whooping cough, 6 cases. No diphtheria for July and so far this year, no Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

"The attendance at the venereal disease and maternal and infant welfare clinics is holding up well, considering the time of year. The number of treatments for venereal disease during the month of July was 1,117 and the number of blood Wasserman taken was 188. The attendance at the maternal and infant welfare centers was 62 for the month of July.

"The State Orthopedic Clinic, held every first Friday, served 24 patients in the month of July. "Dairy and cafe inspections show improvement but there remains much room for further improvement. If in government eternal vigilance is the price of liberty so also is eternal vigilance the price of good sanitation in dairy and cafe (Continued on page two)

Woman Hurt When Struck By Bicycle

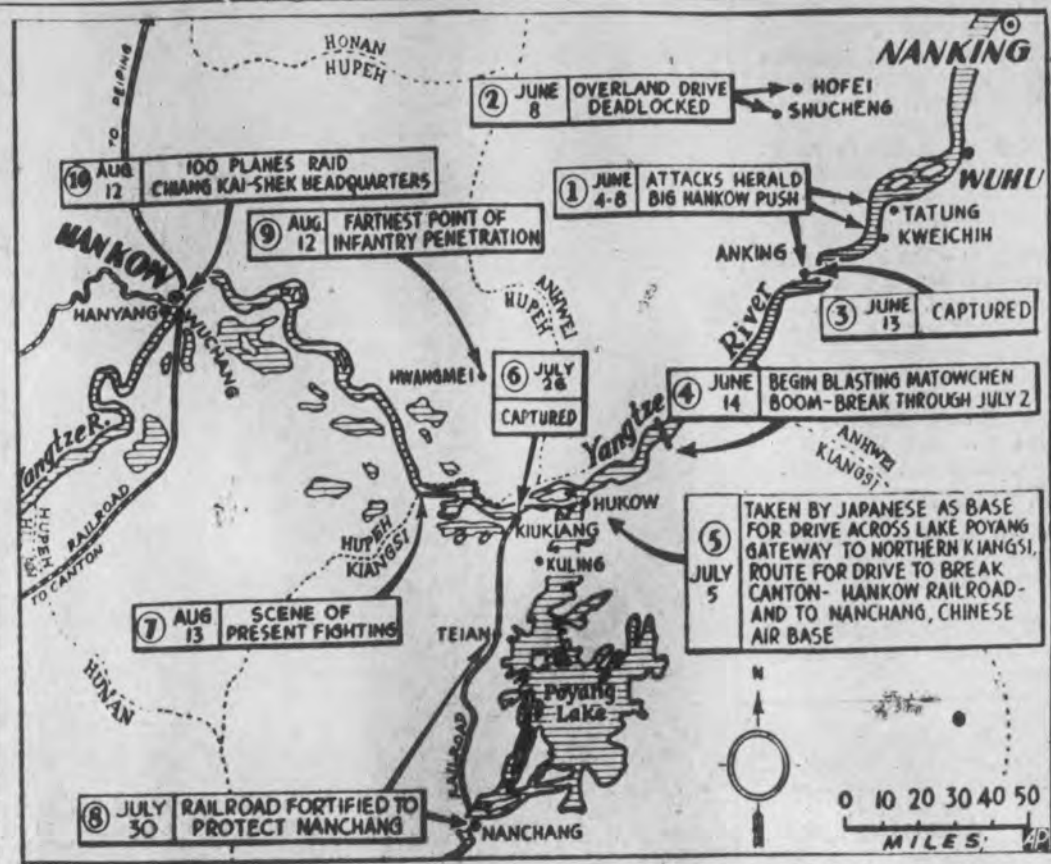

Chief Clark Decries All Such Vehicles Must Have Bells and, at Night, Lights

Following a collision between a pedestrian, Mrs. Mary Langley who lives near Greenville on the Falkland road, and a bicycle being ridden by a grocery boy at Five Points this morning, Chief of Police George Clark said that hereafter all bicycles would have to have bells and, if ridden at night, lights.

Mrs. Langley suffered a broken hip and is confined at Pitt General Hospital. She was hit by a bicycle said to have been delivering for Honeycutt's market.

"Hereafter all bicycles will have to have bells or horns on them, as provided by law, or we will pull them out of the streets," declared Chief Clark, adding that if they were operated at night they would be required to have signal bells or horns.

BLOODY TRAIL TO HANKOW LONG AND HARD

Japanese troops hammering their way toward Hankow have found the 600-mile Yangtze river route hard to cover. They've averaged little more than a mile a day—and they're still a hundred miles from Chiang Kai-Shek's capital. The advance to Nanking wasn't so hard, but this map shows how tough the going has been since June.

NEW INCIDENT DELAYS TRUCE

Soviet Govt. Contends Clash Was Barely Averted

Moscow, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The Soviet government indicated today the carrying out of the Changku-feng armistice agreement had been delayed by new border difficulties, which almost resulted in an armed clash shortly after the truce went into effect August 11.

The difficulties first were disclosed in a Soviet communication stating that a new outbreak of fighting on the disputed, Siberian-Korean frontier had been narrowly averted when Japanese troops moved into advanced positions after the truce.

The troops were withdrawn, the announcement said, after Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinov warned that "the U. S. S. R. will consider the armistice violated" if they were permitted to hold their new positions.

While Japanese compliance with this demand relieved dangers of an immediate clash, the Soviet Government was said still to be dissatisfied with the attitude of Japanese military representatives at Changku-feng.

In Tokyo Domi (Japanese news agency) said Soviet Russian troops had violated the truce by constructing dugouts within the "no man's land" agreed upon when the border fighting was ended August 11.

Blames President For Georgia Issue

Sen. George Says Roosevelt Raised Issue of Whether State Capable of Choosing Servants

Waycross, Ga., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Senator Walter F. George said today President Roosevelt's efforts to unseat him made the great issue of the Georgia campaign the question of whether the people of this or any other state are "capable of choosing their own servants."

"We answered that question once when Federal bayonets stood guard over our ballot boxes," he said. He made another reference to the War Between the States with a description of Mr. Roosevelt's Barnswell appearance as "the second march through Georgia."

Senator George termed his conflict with his President and party leader an "uneven contest because we have given to our President enormous powers."

Loyalists Forced To Flee Mountain

Insurgents Report Defenders Driven from Stronghold, Endangering Ebro River Foothold

Handaya, France, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Insurgents reported today that Government defenders were driven from a bayonet point from the Pandos mountains south of Gandesa, endangering the Government's foothold on the west banks of the Ebro river.

Capture by the Insurgents of the mountain range broke the militia-men's stronghold on the city at which they had directed a sudden offensive.

Insurgent dispatches said the Government's army clung to well-fortified hills on the northeastern Catalan front through repeated attacks until one final charge over slopes broke their line.

The Pandos range was captured during the first night of the Government's drive and formed the backbone of its Gandesa sector.

Plane Tragedy

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 15.—Nine persons were killed when an airplane fell into the Rio de Janeiro harbor today shortly after taking off on a flight to northern Brazil.

Five of the victims were passengers and four were members of the crew. Their identities were not immediately available. The transport, operated by the Condor syndicate, crashed near an island in the Rio de Janeiro base.

Cause of the crash was not known. Heavy fog had delayed the take-off for two hours.

WOULD EXTEND INVESTIGATION

A. F. of L. Leader Asks Probe Federal Departments

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—John Frey, American Federation of Labor leader, bluntly suggested today that a House committee investigating anti-American activities direct some of its attention to the Federal government departments.

Frey made that suggestion when Rep. Mason (R-Ill.), a member of the committee, commented on a meeting in Washington tonight as being sponsored by government officials, most of whom have admitted they are members of the League for Peace and Democracy.

This league, Mason told reporters later, is active now in collecting funds for the Loyalists' cause in Spain.

Mason did not name any of the sponsoring officials, but when Frey suggested investigation of government departments, the Illinois member replied "that has already been done and some of these department officials have admitted they are members of the league."

Harry Ward, said Frey, is president, both of the league and the Civil Liberties Union.

Questioned concerning a 14-year-old report of Communist activities in this country prepared by the United Mine Workers and published as a Senate document, Frey reiterated his belief that John L. Lewis, head of the CIO, is not a Communist.

Frey called attention, however, to what he termed a "significant" fact that the first men Lewis selected as his assistant in the CIO included some who had been expelled from the miners' union.

WAGE FIGHT ON ACL PROPOSAL

Affected Towns Oppose Removal Passenger Trains

Raleigh, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A dozen witnesses testified at a Utilities Commission hearing today that proposed removal of three Atlantic Coast Line passenger trains on branches in Eastern North Carolina would harm their communities.

Mayors, chamber of commerce presidents, business men and ministers from Kinston, Washington, Hobbog, Greenville, Ayden and other affected places told what effects they thought removal of the trains would have.

The business men usually said they especially feared that removal of passenger trains would paralyze their business shipments and slow down the results in depreciation of the product.

The railroad president, testifying in this case two weeks ago, said his witnesses here to appear again after the protestants had presented their case.

Lines involved are between Weldon and Kinston; Washington and Parmele, and Plymouth and Tarboro.

J. H. Canady of Kinston, one of the protesting witnesses, told Commissioner Stanley Winborne that he thought the "railroads are trying to kill their business instead of make business."

"Would it not have been better if he had come here and asked us to cooperate and give the railroad more business?" queried Canady.

"I am not trying to tell you how to run your business," Canady said, "but if the branch lines go, your main lines are going, too. Watch what I tell you."

Officers End Search That Began in March

After a hunt that has been underway since March 19, Greenville police last night arrested and jailed Roy Spell, Negro, wanted on a charge of assaulting another Negro with a knife.

It was revealed that Spell severely slashed Ed Barrett with a knife in March and had evaded police since that time. He will probably be given preliminary hearing in the Friday morning session of recorder's court.

SURVEY SHOWS HANKOW DRIVE SLOWED DOWN

Japanese Advances Almost Negligible Since July 26

CHINESE HOLDING DEFENSIVE LINES

Invaders Face Difficult Advance of 85 Miles Despite Loss of Juichang to Japs

Shanghai, Aug. 15.—(AP)

A survey of the Yangtze front showed today that Japanese gains have been almost negligible since the capture of Kiukiang July 26, despite bitter fighting on both sides of the river and heavy aerial bombardments.

A Japanese column which struck southward from Kiukiang along the Nanchang railway 20 days ago has advanced only 12 miles and is now engaged with strongly entrenched Chinese troops in the hills near Shaochen.

Another Japanese force operating south of the Yangtze has advanced 25 miles from Kiukiang, but is meeting desperate resistance.

Japanese army reports said the fall of Juichang was imminent, but military observers pointed out that capture of the town still would leave the invaders a difficult advance of 85 miles to their goal, the Canton-Hankow railway, which they hope to cut south of the provisional capital.

On the north banks of the river the Japanese have spent the past 12 days fighting off repeated Chinese counter attacks without advancing a mile nearer Hankow.

Latest Chinese dispatches from the front said Hwangmel, 20 miles north of Kiukiang, had changed hands twice and that heavy fighting was in progress there.

Charges Aired In Municipal Court

Negro Given 12 Month Jail Sentence Following Conviction Of Possession of Illegal Liquor

Nabbed last night by Greenville police on a charge of illegal possession of liquor after officers found two and a half gallons of bootleg liquor at his home, James Allen, Greenville Negro, was given a 12-months, road sentence in the regular Monday morning session of recorder's court.

Linwood Richardson and Thomas Phillips, Negroes, were adjudged guilty in a case charging them with engaging in riotous and disorderly conduct and assault.

James Davis, Negro, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, was bound over to Superior Court under a $100 required bond.

John Hamilton, Negro, convicted on a larceny charge, was sentenced to serve 30 days on the roads.

Charley Beecham, white, charged with being drunk and disorderly was adjudged guilty. He was taxed with the costs of the court.

Willie Oakley, Rufus Stepps, white, convicted on a charge of engaging in riotous and disorderly conduct and assaulting each other, were taxed with the costs of the court, and each was ordered to pay $20 as a reimbursement for smashing the window of the store belonging to the prosecuting witness or serve 30 days on the roads.

A 30-day sentence in the county home was meted out to Dick Harper, Negro, after being convicted on a charge of drunkenness.

William Burce, Negro, was bound over to Superior Court under a $100 required bond after probable cause was found in the case charging him with secret assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Sweet Peace

On Friday evening the final steps were taken to bring about a state of peace between the United States and Spain. In Washington the official representatives of both governments gathered and signed the protocol, the French Ambassador having full authority to act for Spain. Below are the conditions set forth in this document and proceedings which followed.

1. That Spain will relinquish all claim of sovereignty over the title to Cuba.
2. That Porto Rico and other Spanish islands in the West Indies and an island in the Landrones, to be selected by the United States, shall be ceded to the latter.
3. That the United States will occupy and hold the city, bay, and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace, which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines.
4. That Cuba, Porto Rico and other Spanish Islands in the West Indies shall be immediately evacuated and that commissioners to be appointed within ten days shall within 30 days from the signing of the protocol, meet in Havana and San Juan respectively to arrange and execute the details of evacuation.
5. That the United States and Spain will each appoint more than five commissioners to negotiate and conclude a treaty of peace. The commissioners are to meet at Paris not later than the first of October.
6. On the signing of the protocol hostilities will be suspended and notice to that effect will be given as soon as possible to each of the various military and naval commanders.

As soon as the peace protocol was signed the President sent for Secretaries Alger and Long and General Corbin and directed that orders should be sent forthwith to the military and naval commanders to cease hostilities.

President McKinley then issued a proclamation announcing the suspension of hostilities and the signing of the protocol.

Mr. Arnold C. Tadlock announces the marriage of his daughter Louise to Mr. Robert Lynn Davis on Sunday, August fourteenth, Nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, Emporia, Virginia

At Home: Farmville, North Carolina

The marriage of Miss Louise Tadlock to Robert Lynn Davis of Farmville, in Emporia, Va., yesterday came as a distinct surprise to friends and relatives in this community.

Mrs. Davis is the daughter of Arnold C. Tadlock, prominent business man of this city, and Mrs. Louis S. Harrison of Greenville. She is a graduate of the Greenville city schools. Following graduation from the city schools she attended W. C. U. N. C., in Greensboro and received her A.B. degree from East Carolina Teachers College in March, 1938. Mrs. Davis is a well known and popular member of the younger set of this city.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lang Davis, II, of Farmville. He is a graduate of the Atlanta, Ga., city schools and attended U. S. B. For the past three years he has been connected with the J. Y. Monk Tobacco Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be at home in Farmville after August 25.

Madry-Browne

Saturday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. B. Spilman on Fifth street, Miss Hazel Brown became the bride of Claude Jarratte Madry.

The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen Gardner, rector of Saint Peter's Episcopal Church, Washington, N. C. The ring used was worn by the bride's maternal grandmother.

For her wedding the bride was gowned in a Lejong model of aquamarine wool trimmed with silver buttons and untrimmed toque. A white orchid completed the bridal attire. There were no attendants, the bride and groom entering together.

Mrs. Madry is the daughter of R. E. Browne, Sr., and the late Mrs. Sally Simpson Browne of Rock Hill, S. C. She is a graduate of Winthrop College, later returning to that institution to receive her M.A. degree. Mrs. Madry has also studied at Salem College and the University of North Carolina. At present she is connected with the Welfare Department of Pitt county.

Mr. Madry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Madry of Scotland Neck. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and later took special training at King's Business College in Greensboro. Mr. Madry is now a member of the staff of the Unemployment Compensation Commission in Greenville.

Following a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Madry will be at home in Greenville.

Christian Science Church. "Soul" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, August 14.

The golden text was from Psalms 143:7, "Hear me speedily, O Lord, cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust; cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He only is my rock and my salvation; he is my defence; I shall not be moved." (Ps. 62:5, 6).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human thought has adulterated the meaning of the word soul through the hypothesis that soul is both an evil and a good intelligence, resident in matter. The proper use of the word soul can always be gained by substituting the word God, where the deity meaning is required. In other cases, use the word sense, and you will have the scientific signification."

"Peace" Henrietta was not sure what it was but she knew it was very important. If one wanted it, Grandfather had told her once, one must not hit back when fate hit hard, but must allow the hammer-strokes to batter out a hollow place inside one into which peace, like cool water, could flow.

This is a typical group of sentences from "The City of Bells," by Elizabeth Goudge. Have you read it? This one and a later novel, "Towers in the Mist," by the same author are both in Sheppard Memorial Library.

LASSES WHITE TO SHOW HERE UNDER CANVAS

An unexpected incident that threatened the nation-wide tour of the famous Honey Boy Evans Minstrels of New York many years ago plummeted "Lasses" White, today's No. 1 minstrel man, into the front ranks.

Mr. Evans, the star of his show, was suddenly stricken ill as the minstrel's performance was scheduled to begin in one of the country's largest cities. Consternation reigned among the troupe, confronted with a problem that threatened to ruin it.

"Peace" Henrietta was not sure what it was but she knew it was very important. If one wanted it, Grandfather had told her once, one must not hit back when fate hit hard, but must allow the hammer-strokes to batter out a hollow place inside one into which peace, like cool water, could flow.

This is a typical group of sentences from "The City of Bells," by Elizabeth Goudge. Have you read it? This one and a later novel, "Towers in the Mist," by the same author are both in Sheppard Memorial Library.

LASSES WHITE TO SHOW HERE UNDER CANVAS

An unexpected incident that threatened the nation-wide tour of the famous Honey Boy Evans Minstrels of New York many years ago plummeted "Lasses" White, today's No. 1 minstrel man, into the front ranks.

JIMMY REPLIES TO MAGAZINE

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, here is shown at Eastport, Me., replying over a national radio hookup to an article in a weekly magazine (The Saturday Evening Post) which estimated his annual insurance business earnings as between $250,000 and $2,000,000. Roosevelt said his per annum income never had exceeded $50,000.

Only one case of sickness was experienced in Battery A, according to First Lieutenant William S. Tyson who explained that the food was satisfactory and that the water supply, although limited, was sufficient. He pointed out that the men gained wonderful experience in the maneuvers and were impressed with the scenic beauty of the territory covered enroute to DeSoto National Park. "They were most impressed by the superiority of North Carolina over other States," he said.

Capt. L. A. Brock headed Battery A during the encampment, with the efficient assistance of First Lieutenant Tyson and Second Lieutenants J. H. Moye and J. E. Waldrop.

Battery A, composed of 64 men and four officers, has eight trucks, four large gun, complete telephone system covering a five-mile area, and fire control instruments shooting a maximum distance of seven to eight miles. Firing is done under highly mathematical procedure.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICE ISSUES MONTHLY REPORT

The community sanitation program, or privy program is meeting with fair success, though we are still hoping for your active cooperation—that is using your professional influence with the landlord in getting him to provide a sanitary privy for the home of each one of his tenants. As you know a sanitary privy will tend to prevent not only typhoid fever but hookworm and diarrhea, and enteritis as well, and while vaccination against typhoid fever has been successful it cannot wholly take the place of sanitation. In other words we can never hope to eradicate typhoid fever as long as many of the rural people have no privy at all or simply a privy in name.

During the past month a number of proposed local malaria drainage projects have been brought to the attention of the health officer. These projects vary in size all the way from the hand labor project to the floating dredge project. In this connection I wish to say that the State Board of Health, through its malaria division, has requested the Pitt County Health Department make a malaria blood survey in the Pitt county public schools this fall. The health officer is in sympathy with this survey and trusts that this proposed survey meets with the approval of this society.

Archie Lumden, myself, Hugo's friend.

Chapter Seven
Jean-Francois

THE next morning as I was eating breakfast on the terrace, Hugo came towards me. An unlit pipe between his teeth, his face somber.

"The police chief wants us down at the town hall at noon," he went on. "I've just been talking to him on the phone. The examining magistrate arrived from Grasse at some unearthly hour this morning. Now he proposes to put us all through the hoop."

He broke off to pack some tobacco into his pipe. "I don't think we need worry about the inquiry," he added rather dubiously, "so long as we stick to the truth and nothing but the truth, but not quite the whole truth—which means that I'm still not mentioning the message O'Donnell left for me. I know the French police. They're devilish sharp, but they're suspicious by nature and still more suspicious by cultivated habit of thought, as witness their Code Napoleon, which considers a man guilty until he can prove himself innocent. If I mentioned Pat's message, I should have to tell them the contents of it, and the desperately urgent—counting on you bit would at once make them smell something fishy." He paused to apply a match to his pipe. "I've warned Penelope to keep her mouth shut about the message," said he, "and there the matter ends until I've discovered what poor Pat meant by it."

I stared at him. "Am I to take it from that, that you're proposing to carry out an independent investigation into O'Donnell's death?" "Just that," he agreed grimly. "As far as the local authorities are aware, O'Donnell was a bond salesman, presumably on a vacation, but I'm taking a run in the car this afternoon across the Italian frontier. I know a fellow in New York who is a close friend of Pat's and I'll send him a cable from Ventimiglia, reporting his death. He'll know what to do about it. If Pat was over here on business, it's probable his firm will send someone over to investigate and finish off the job; but it'll be a matter of ten days before he can arrive, and meanwhile the scent'll be cold. I intend to carry on myself in the meantime, though I'll be working pretty much in the dark. Archie—"

"He swung round on me suddenly. "Are you dead set on finishing your yachting trip? I'd be uncommonly glad if you'd stay on here to give me a hand. After all, you took that girl's death to heart, and I've a strong feeling the two crimes are connected."

"Good man!" said he, and held out a muscular hand. "Shake on it!" He broke off sharply, gave a sudden, particulate howl of rage and swung his legs over the balustrade. Next instant from the lower terrace came sounds closely resembling a dog-fight. I disentangled myself from my breakfast table and in two strides was at the marble rail, peering over. For a moment all I could see were two struggling bodies, one in red and black, the other in dimmy gray rolling over and over at the foot of a gnarled and ancient olive tree; but as I looked they disentangled themselves and Hugo got to his feet, dragging with him by the coat-collar a crumpled figure.

A Little Investigating
IT WAS a young lad, hardly more than a boy, with a sallow, handsome face, long, sloe-like eyes, and a mop of ruffled black hair, and to my surprise he made no effort to struggle against the rough-house he was going through, but hung limp in Hugo's hands, making what appeared to be deprecating and conciliatory noises. "Pardon, monsieur," he gasped. "I beg of you to let me go! I apologize for the intrusion." Hugo snorted with disgust. "Another of these French reporters," he observed. "I couldn't get in at the front and comes snooping round over the wall to see what he could eavesdrop." He swung back on the lad, raising a menacing fist. "Be off with you now," he said warningly. "And make it snappy if you want to keep a whole snout to your pants." The lad looked from one to the other of us appealingly. "But, monsieur," he implored, "one little word is all I ask—one small photograph, and he stooped, agile

Stenographers have worked over time preparing transcripts of records and recording findings of the board. Counsel for Burgin has filed an 18-page typewritten complaint and has obtained a temporary restraining order against certification of Deane as the nominee. But when all the trimmings have been pulled off, the whole controversy boils down to this: Did the State Board of Elections have the legal authority to go behind the returns as certified originally by the county boards and, after an investigation, compel the county boards to change results to accord with the state board's findings as to the legality or illegality of specific votes? The Board claims it has, counsel for Burgin claims it hasn't. If it does, Dean's it; if it doesn't, Burgin's. The Atlantic Cable was laid in 1866. Washington - Nothing irritates the State Department so much as the spats-and-cocktail aroma about its career service.

Naturally there are few plow-hands among the career diplomats. By the nature of their jobs they travel with "nice people." But the number of choice spots in the service is equalled by the pest holes to which the Department has to send its men.

A cruise through the tropics looks well enough on travel posters but a four-year stay at a sweltering consular post like as not will fill a man's liver full of equatorial worms and his blood with malaria.

Trouble is that the tea table stories are the kind which get to congressmen, often of a rustic turn of mind. That plays havoc with the reputation of being the most pinched-up of any major nation in financing its foreign staff.

Death By Violence Secretary Hull recently pointed out that tropical malaria had brought down another career man, adding to the 65 who already have died or been killed on duty.

The recent death of John J. O'Keefe, vice consul and clerk in charge of the consulate at Buena-ventura, Columbia, deserves more notice than it has received. Hull wrote, "particularly in view of articles which appear in the press from time to time and which represent the foreign service as composed exclusively of persons of the be-spatted and stuffed-shirt variety."

Within the last year Theodor Marriner, consular general, was killed at Beirut, Syria, by an enraged applicant for a passport.

Earlier still, Robert W. Imbrie was assassinated at Teheran, Persia. Imbrie had had a large portion of the tougher variety of foreign service before that. He was the first representative of the U. S. to Kemal's Turkish Nationalist government at the desert city of Ankara.

Imbrie went to Ankara with his bride of a few weeks and maintained the consulate for several months in the Asian equivalent of a railroad caboose. After his transfer to Teheran, Persia, as consular representative, Imbrie and a companion were attacked in the streets by a fanatic mob. Badly injured, he was taken to a hospital but the mob followed, broke in and hacked him to death, July 18, 1924. Four days later Mrs. Imbrie also was injured in an attack.

Texas Takes It Indemnity was demanded for Imbrie's death. The sum of $60,000 was paid by Persia to the Treasury for Mrs. Imbrie and $110,000 was paid also as expense of a cruiser in returning the body to the U. S.

Later, Congress awarded Mrs. Imbrie $30,000 from the $110,000 as compensation for her own injuries. The State Department had recommended use of the cruiser expense money to finance Persian students in the U. S. but Congress declined and the balance remains in the Treasury. Even for hardy souls the life of the foreign service office in the tropics often is a harrowing one. Walter Foote, consular general at Batavia, Java, lately hove into the Department to report that during his six-year stay in the Dutch East Indies he had typhoid repeatedly, malaria at least once each year and sometimes diphtheria, amoebic and bacterial dysentery repeatedly, and no end of annoyance from vicious leeches. But he is a stout Texan and survived while two of his aides had to be transferred or perish. But said you should see the man sweat. He is a tropic waterfowl.

Texas has almost a world monopoly on helium gas and sulphur.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Aug. 15.—At the close of the extra session, State Senators W. B. Rodman, Jr., of Beaufort county, and H. P. Taylor from Anson, were still leading probabilities to head the Senate's two most important committees for the 1939 session.

In view of the leading part he played on that group in 1937, Rodman seems likely to get the Finance post, with Taylor being assigned Appropriations.

Neither E. V. Webb, Finance, nor James A. Bell, Appropriations chairman of 1937, will be back, neither standing for renomination in the primary voting.

Likewise there was nothing to disturb those who hold the opinion that W. Erskine Smith of Stanley, will be president pro-tem of the 1939 Senate.

On the other side of the Capitol building nothing can be predicted about the various chairmanships, as the Speakership fight which will determine them hasn't yet been settled.

One prediction which was freely made is that members of the 1937 Finance Committee who return in 1939 will vote for their 1937 chairman, Victor Bryant, for Speaker, while members of the Appropriations group will do the same for Libby Ward, their 1937 chief.

One exception can be forecast, however, Bill Fenner, third Speaker-candidate, was a member of Finance.

The extra session indicated definitely two issues which will be fought out in the 1939 regular assembly—election law reform and a "power lobby" fight on a new Revenue Bond Act.

Advocates of outright repeal of the absentee ballot law were stopped in their tracks by the "gap" rule adopted early last week. Opponents of the so-called "power interests" were forced to swallow a modified "certificate of convenience and necessity" clause in the 1939 Revenue Bond Act.

Both these groups will be in there swinging in 1939, with the chances strongly against any real, bona fide success for either.

Reasons for the last paragraph are that the Administration isn't going to exert itself either for election reform or against the power people.

Sober as they is a westerner, born and bred in the western tradition of stealing from Republicans in elections, and its an imperceptible step from there to stealing from fellow Democrats. Not that the Governor himself would do either, but he just can't work up any really righteous indignation when "over-zealous" partisans do.

Likewise, the governor is fundamentally on the same side of the fence as the power interests. He is innately conservative, and is at the bottom exactly typical of what is now termed a "reactionary."

Neither absentee repeaters nor anti-power folks are going to get the slightest encouragement from him, and what he says is just about going to be the law so far as the 1939 General Assembly is concerned.

In short the absentee ballot has been used by the so-called Administration to suppress so-called "liberals" in North Carolina and with the Administration securely in the saddle, repeal of the absentee law is too much like suicide to be expected.

You must not let the word village make you think this a PWA project. It is the idea of George P. Mossman, who founded the original village ten years ago. Lani village, I imagine, is what might be called the last stronghold of real Hawaiian culture. It is encircled by a high wall and every day a cross-section of life as lived by Hawaiians 200 years ago is reached. There are grass huts for the men and grass huts for the women. The native dances, the language the customs are taught and preserved. There is a heiau (temple), and an imu (underground oven) where pigs are roasted. Guides take you from point to point, lecturing on a picturesque form of living that has practically disappeared. It is Mossman's idea to preserve this culture through education.

Your Uncle Sam Is 'Mine Host' Now With Million Dollar Mountain Lodge

Corridor, stairway and bedroom show massive construction, hand-wrought decorations.

By SAM JACKSON (AP Feature Service Writer)

Portland, Oregon - Timberline Lodge, set amid the perpetual snows of Mount Hood, is open for business, and the host is that old fellow behind the white goatee—your Uncle Sam.

It is the government's first venture into the hotel business, the big hostilities in the national parks having been built by private capital. Portland businessmen will tell you, however, that this is one federal intrusion into industry they don't resent. For years they have been trying to get a hotel worthy of Mount Hood's scenic grandeur, and when they saw a chance to finance it through the WPA they put up $20,000 of their own money for surveys and general "missionary" work.

Uncle Sam finally got interested, and came in with a cool million dollars. That million put 400 men to work at Timberline and 100 other persons, largely women, at work in Portland, making furnishings. WPA folk here like to contrast the result of their labors with the murals and sculptures their artistic WPA colleagues have produced at other places.

Timberline Lodge is 6,000 feet above sea level—right when the trees stop—and above it the central massif of Mount Hood towers to 11,253 feet.

The lodge contains 62 bedrooms, accommodating 120 guests, and dormitories with double-decker bunks for that many more.

Not Self-Liquidating Timberline may show an operating profit, but it is not expected to be self-liquidating on its million-dollar cost. Its sponsors say that this financial failure is its artistic glory.

Researchers, artists, designers and artisans lingered long on its details. Rugs, draperies and upholsteries are originally designed and hand woven. Hinges, grilles and latches are of wrought iron. Some furniture is rough-hewn, some hand carved. Stair posts and lintels are of carved, selected woods.

The dining room and coffee shop already are crowded to capacity on week-ends.

Owner: Forest Service. Timberline is the property of the U. S. Forest Service, which has created a federal recreation area around it, and on the opposite side of Mount Hood an eternal "primitive area." Its actual operation is by a corporation formed by Portland hotel men for the purpose, whose profits and policy are subject to Forest Service regulation.

Sixty-two miles from Portland's business center, Timberline offers its visitors skiing and tobogganing the year round, in addition to the usual attractions of a mountain resort.

Greenies Take Pair Of Tilts from Bugs over Week-end

DELANEY GETS SHUT-OUT WIN

Wilson Hurls 7-1 Victory as Locals Close in on Fourth Place Billies

Greenville's Greenies continued their winning ways over the week-end in an attempt to overtake the Snow Hill Billies, who have fourth place in Coastal Plain League standings.

On Saturday afternoon Johnny Delaney turned in a 2-hit job for a 4-0 victory over the Gold Bugs.

The locals made three of their runs early. Allen, first up in the second inning, was issued a free ticket to first. Vincent Smith then singled. Delaney's sacrifice advanced the runners, and Allen tallied on Birch Douglass' double. A wild pitch permitted Smith to tally, and Douglass came home when Mulvihill errored on Simpsons rap.

Goldie Lowery's fifth-inning circuit clout accounted for the other run.

Hahn singled in the second for Goldboro's first hit. Overton hit a double in the sixth, and advanced to third on a passed ball.

Goldboro, Aug. 15.—A five-run sixth inning was the big item in Greenville's 7-1 victory over Goldboro Sunday.

Manager Rube Wilson pitched for the Greenies, and was boss of the Bugs throughout. The lone Goldboro run came in the ninth by a mixture of two clean hits and another hit ball which must be credited as a hit but which was one of those freak plays that once in a while creep into a game. Balla and Kepler were safe on bingles. Pawlock attempted put on the hit and run play and hit a roller down third base line which Jenkins fielded and threw to first. The ball hit Pawlock on the neck, rolling away from the bag. Balla scored. The next three batters were easy outs.

Overton and Balla for the Bugs were best at bat for the locals, the former with two for three and the latter two for four. Douglass, Jenkins, Lowery and Allen for the visitors each hit two for five, and Daniels two for four. Simpson was the only Greenie who failed to hit safely.

Wilson struck out six and hurled five-hit ball until the ninth.

SERIES STARTS IN CITY TODAY

Softball Championship Contests Begin At 6:00 P. M.

Four top teams in Greenville's twilight softball league will light the fuse to the powder keg of championship honors this afternoon 6 o'clock when the first of two series begins at the Third street stadium and college park.

Transportation-Nehi, playing under the Schagnessy system holding a top-place rung in the softball circuit, will engage Carolina Dairy, clinching a fourth-place berth. The Water and Light aggregation, runners up, will match playing tactics with the Blount-Harvey unit, placed third.

This afternoon's softball doings will find the Water and Light and Blount-Harvey hopefuls at the college park. The Transportation-Nehi players, at the same time, will be engaging the Carolina Dairy at the Third Street Stadium. The two teams will play on each diamond every other day until the best three out of five games are won.

After winners of the first series are determined, the visitors will participate in the best five out of seven for championship laurels.

A top berth in softball standings has been clinched by Transportation-Nehi practically all season. Water and Light came from second only a half-dozen points behind the leaders. Hovering around the top most if the season was the Blount-Harvey softballers. In order to garner a fourth place position, Carolina Dairy had to nose over the Auto Dealers.

Reviving near the close of the season, the Furniture Dealers coasted away from the Professional Men, trapped in the cellar. After this they eased by the Carolina Sales and ended in sixth place. Carolina Sales was seventh.

Serpents Take Both Week-End Contests From The Martins

Williamston, Aug. 14.—Fine relief pitching by Eddie Malone enabled Tarboro to take an 8-6 win over Williamston Saturday.

Malone, who replaced Robinson at the start of the locals' fifth, yielded only three hits. He was the winning pitcher.

The Serpents rallied in the 7th for three runs—and victory. Maynard tripled and scored on Black's double. Hits by Campbell and Myers, mixed with an error, brought two more runs. Larry Wade then came to the rescue of Red Swain and the relief hurler retired the side.

The Martins' big inning was the fourth. Hits by Ignasiak and Wilcox, plus two errors, brought two runs. Steve Lakotas then hit a two-run homer.

Score by innings: R H E
Tarboro 102 001 301-8 13 2
Williamston 010 400 001-6 9 1

Tarboro, Aug. 15.—Benny Bullcock's triple in the ninth, scoring Lehman from first, broke up Sunday afternoon's Tarboro-Williamston ball game and gave the Serpents a 4-3 triumph for a clean sweep of the week-end series.

Eddie Malone, doing a relief turn, gained his second win over the Martins in two days.

Buster Cassell, Tarboro starter, pitched eight innings. The Serpents tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth when Maynard hit one over the fence.

Mike Briscese and Waynard featured afield.

Steve Lakotas of the Martins injured his left foot when he collided with Lehman at third base in the ninth inning.

Score by innings: R H E
Williamston 010 200 000-3 11 1
Tarboro 001 001 011-4 8 1

Eagles and Bears In Even Split of Their Week-End Affrays

Kinston, Aug. 14.—Pitcher Jimmy McMullan's double and Duane Katzner's single gave the Eagles a 6-3 win over New Bern in a 13-inning battle Saturday.

McMullan's pitching opponent was Bill Hamons.

The Bears went scoreless after the fifth; Kingston failed to tally until the seventh.

Kingston caught up with a three-run outburst in the eighth. Glisson's double sent in two runs and put the Eagles even at 5-5.

New Bern threatened in the 12th. Burgess reached second when his rap got away from Patton and Wyrostek threw wild in an effort to get the runner at second. Mack sacrificed. Thornton hit to short and Burgess was caught at the plate. Manager Doc Smith of New Bern put up a squawk but he quieted when Umpire Chewing indicated he's have to silence or else he'd thumb the New Bern pilot out of the park.

Score by innings: R H E

New Bern, Aug. 15.—Leonard (Bulpen) Berry held Kinston to four hits as New Bern took a 3-1 victory Sunday afternoon.

Berry won over Eddie Nowak in a mound battle. Only 31 batters faced the New Bern hurler, and Kinston run came on an 8th-inning homer by Sid Stringfellow. The blow cleared the fence in left-center.

Anderson's single and Norwood's double gave the Bears a run in the first. Burge's triple and Harper's single brought one in the seventh. The other tally, made in the eighth, resulted from Roth's double, an intentional pass to Burge and Harper's single.

Farmers' Day

Goldboro, Aug. 15.—All farmers living near Goldboro will be admitted free to today's Goldboro-Williamston Coastal Plain League game here.

The advertising committee of the Goldboro tobacco market is joining with the ball club in Monday's 'Farmers Day' program.

Ayden Wins Double-Header From Billies, Lost Saturday Game

Snow Hill, Aug. 14.—Snow Hill's Billies spotted Ayden a 5-1 lead Saturday, then came back to register a 7-5 win.

The Aces reached Cecil Longest for a singleton in the second and put over four runs in the third. A triple by Milton Jirak featured the four-run spurge, and a great play by Walter Rabb brought the inning to an end and checked what apparently appeared due to be a parade.

After the Aces had chased over four runs, they had runners on first and second with one away. Manager Frank Rodgers slashed a line-drive toward left-center—Shortstop Walter Rabb leaped into the air, halted the ball with the fingers of his gloved hand and made the catch. Rabb then tagged second for a double play.

The Billies caught up in the 6th inning. A double by Rabb drove in a run, and Pitcher Longest then singled, scoring Rabb with the run which made the count 6-6.

Snow Hill added singletons in the seventh and eighth. The eleventh-inning score, the winning run, resulted from Sturwell's single. Taylor's sacrifice and Malsano's single. Fielding stars of the day were Casaway, Sturwell and Rabb.

Two For Herring
Ayden, Aug. 15.—Bill Herring, former Wake Forest College athlete, Sunday afternoon demonstrated that the pitching "iron man" act isn't a thing of the past.

Herring hurled both games for Ayden as the Aces gained 8-7 and 5-0 victories over Snow Hill.

The nightcap triumph was easy, but the Aces had to work hard to get the decision in the curtain-raiser. It was a ding-dong battle all the way—but Manager Frank Rodgers saw to it that the game ended right for Ayden by hitting a two-run homer in the ninth inning.

The game-winning homer was Rodgers' second of the afternoon—and he hit No. 3 in the second game, in which the Aces collected four sound-trippers.

Herring contributed a homer to aid his first triumph. He hit at the right time, too—the blow, in the eighth inning, lifted them into a 6-6 tie. Snow Hill went ahead with a run in the ninth. With one away in the home half, Jiggs Casaway hit a single—and then Rodgers broke up the game. Manager Frank's first homer with one on, featured Ayden's four-run second inning.

Milton Jirak, first Ayden batter in the second game, hit a homer. This, it turned out, was enough margin for Herring to get his second victory of the day and his 16th of the season. Painter, Bler-shen and Rodgers hit homes in this game.

Jirak and Carnahan featured afield.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Aug. 15—(AP)—After six consecutive declining sessions, the stock market today dug in for a sleepy rally that at the best lifted leaders fractions to more than two points. Lack of volume on the comeback, however, was a handicap to recovery sentiment and profit taking in the final hour reduced or cancelled top marks in many cases. Transfers were around 800,000 shares, the smallest turnover on more than two weeks.

CONGRESSMEN SHOWN COMMUNISTIC POSTERS

John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor official, who testified at Washington before the House committee investigating un-American activities that the Committee for Industrial Organization is being-combed with members of the Communist party, also submitted a number of Communist posters for study. Here Frey (left) points out a poster depicting a close relationship between Nazi Germany and the Pope to Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) Frey declared the charge of Communist activity was not an attack against the CIO in general.

NEGRO FIREMEN ATTEND CONVENTION IN WILSON

The colored division of the Greenville fire department left this afternoon to attend the State Firemen's convention to be held in Wilson beginning Tuesday and will last through Friday.

There will be a special course given during this convention on how to fight fire the modern way.

This department won the championship belt last year by winning the 100-yard reel and hose race in 18 seconds. They go to Wilson with a strong determination of bringing the belt back to Greenville.

The parade will be held on Wednesday and all the races will take place on Thursday, beginning at 10 o'clock.
