MASON NAMES SYMPATHIZERS OF COMMUNISM

Calls Names of Eight Officials in Federal Government

CHARGES MADE DURING HEARING

First of Eight to Comment Declares Records Show League Not Communistic

Washington, Aug. 17. (AP)—Representative Mason (R-Ill.), a member of the House committee investigating subversive activities, named eight government officials today as "acknowledged members" of the American League for Peace and Democracy which, he said, had connections with the Communist party.

The officials named were Harry Lambertson, assistant Rural Electrification Administrator; Dallas Smythe of the Central Statistical Board; Fred Slixo, head of the Forest Service; Robert Marshall, an official of the Public Lands Service of the Agriculture Department; Oscar Chapman, assistant Secretary of the Interior; John Carmody, Rural Electrification Administrator; Mary Anderson, director of the Women's Bureau; and Alice Barrows, in the office of Education.

Mason made his charge during testimony by H. L. Challaux, American Legion official, concerning Communist activities in the United States.

Smythe, who said he was vice-president of the American League for Democracy and Peace, was the first of the eight named to comment on Challaux's statements.

"It is a matter of common knowledge," he said, "that our organization is not communistic and our records are always available for proof."

Meanwhile, addition of Senator Tydings (D-Md.) and Representative O'Connor (D-N. Y.) to President Roosevelt's personal "purple list" left Capitol politicians wondering whether he would renounce other anti-administration congressmen.

Inquest Is Set In Slaying In Wayne

Goldboro, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Coroner C. R. Robinson ordered today an inquest at 10 a. m. tomorrow into the death of Charles Daniels, 37-year-old New Hope township farmer, last night of a gunshot wound.

Sheriff Paul Garrison said Mrs. Daniels had admitted the shooting.

He quoted her as saying she fired the shotgun at close range, "because I was afraid of him."

Garrison said Mrs. Daniels had been released pending the inquest.

He said Daniels was under $600 bail on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Daniels.

No Serious Injuries In Collision Of Autos

An automobile driven by Miss Woodard Allen of Greenville and another motor vehicle operated by J. R. Bunn of Henderson were involved in a collision at the intersection of Fourth and Washington streets this morning around 7:45 o'clock.

Chief of Police George Clark said that both drivers escaped unhurt, and that Miss Allen's car was more badly damaged than Bunn's. Since the accident is still being investigated, no charges have been brought against either driver.

Showers Expected Bring Relief From Heat Wave

Heavy Toll Already Claimed by Sweltering Heat

By The Associated Press

The heat wave that has taken a heavy toll and brought discomfort to millions abated slightly today and the prospect of scattered showers augured relief for part of the sun-baked eastern seaboard.

In Pennsylvania nine deaths resulted from the weather in the last three days; Washington, D. C. had 18 hospitalizations prostrations yesterday and dozens of others were given first aid by ambulance drivers; Baltimore counted six prostrations; but the sweltering heat also had some whimsical aspects.

Weather bureau employees in Washington had a partial holiday yesterday because of the weather, along with thousands of government clerks.

Talk Of Discontinuing 'Lost Colony' Next Year

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 17.—Whether to establish the pageant "Lost Colony" at Roanoke Island on a permanent basis with a view to making it an American counterpart of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, has not yet been definitely determined, according to word from D. Bradford Peering, executive director and moving spirit of the pageant.

As a result sponsors of the event are warning those desiring to see a presentation of Paul Green's great opus that there are certain to be only fifteen more performances, the last scheduled for September 6.

In considering future of the pageant, one of the decisive points is likely to be the unexpectedly large attendance at the 25 performances of the "Lost Colony" which have been presented during the season and a half of its "run". According to Mr. Peering more than 30,000 have attended, for an average of well above 1,000 for each showing. Whatever the fate of the Green "Lost Colony"—and it is now almost as much a mystery as was that of the colonists—it was written to dramatize one thing is certain, Mr. Peering, playwright Green and his associates have utterly confounded carping sceptics who last year were inclined to scoff at these men as "visionaries". These critics contended it would be impossible to make a success of a full length historical pageant, to be presented largely by amateurs on one of the most obscure and little known spots of the country.

But "Lost Colony" has been a success and its success has transformed Roanoke Island to the point where it is not today either obscure or little known. Advocates of intensive advertising (Continued on page six)

REBEL ACTION ENDS HOPE FOR BRITISH PLAN

Insurgents Cast Their Lots With Italy and Germany

FOREIGN TROOPS TO STAY IN SPAIN

Although Franco's Answer to Britain Held Secret, Informants See No Hope

Paris, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Spanish Insurgents were reported today definitely to have cast their lot with Italy and Germany, perhaps thereby ending hopes of Great Britain and France to withdraw foreign volunteers from the Civil war.

While Insurgent General Franco's answer to the British plan for sending foreign fighters home from Spain remained a secret, Insurgent informants in Paris predicted its terms may mean the end of the cherished non-intervention scheme designed to halt "Europe's little World War."

The Spanish Barcelona government on July 23 accepted the plan, which provides for a census of the volunteers and then proportionately withdrawals from each side.

Insurgent sources here expressed the belief the Insurgent note given to Britain's representative yesterday would raise so many technical objections to the London plan that the reply might as well be an out-and-out "no."

The Spanish government meanwhile came out of a ministerial crisis apparently stronger than before, with Premier Negrin firmly in control of all factors and pledged to fight the conflict to the end.

Model Shoe Store Prepares To Open

The G. R. Kinney Company, Inc. will open one of the most modern shoe stores in Eastern Carolina at 430 Evans street within a few days, it was announced by officials today.

The building is undergoing extensive alterations and the most modernistic fixtures are being installed. The front as well as the outside is being made over to present an up-to-date store.

F. S. Cooper already is here, supervising the work. Mr. Cooper comes to Greenville from Petersburg, Va. O. W. Grubb, who comes here from Richmond, Va., will be assistant manager.

Official figures were not available on the 15 Georgia markets for this week, but sales on any one market would have pushed the season total above the previous high record. That was the $17,670,000 sold paid for the 1936 crop when $4,295,126 pounds moved from south Georgia farmers through the warehouses.

The Georgia markets had less than $100,000 to go to equal that record and no single market showed sales last week of less than $200,000.

ASKS CORRIGAN TO VISIT STATE

"Wrong-Way" Flier Sent Invitation by Gov. Hoey

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Governor Hoey telegraphed Douglas Corrigan today inviting the famous flier to visit Kill Devil Hill, the birthplace of aviation, and the site of the first English settlement in America whose leaders, perhaps, "had compass trouble" which resulted in the disappearance of the "lost colony."

The governor sent the invitation to Corrigan at Buffalo, N. Y.

"I extend most cordial invitation to visit this State," said Hoey, "especially Kitty Hawk and Kill Devil Hill, the birthplace of aviation in America, where the Wright brothers made their first right-way flight, also Roanoke Island, where Sir Walter Raleigh's colonists from England established first settlement in North Carolina 351 years ago. This colony later disappeared and has gone down in history as the 'lost colony.' Perhaps its leaders had compass trouble similar to yours and you can help us find out where they went on their 'wrong-way' trip.

"You can be assured that a genuine hospitable welcome awaits you in North Carolina, and that we will do everything possible to prevent your having any further compass trouble."

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Douglas Corrigan, "the wrong-way flier," landed at municipal airport here at 11:50 a. m. EDT, today en route from Albany to Buffalo.

A huge civic reception awaited Corrigan as he landed after being accompanied over the city by a plane escort.

Visitors to the Yellowstone Park have ridden 85,246 miles on horseback during the 1938 season.

Hull's Appeal For Peace Evokes Enthusiasm Among British, French Officials

DISPLEASURE IS FELT IN ROME

State Department Head's Warning To All Governments To "Be On Guard Against Certain Dangerous Developments Which Imperil Them" Arouses Varied Reaction

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Secretary Hull's appeal to the world to "turn the tide of lawlessness" through economic and moral reconstruction aroused enthusiasm today among British and French officials, worried over recurring war threats.

A spokesman for the French foreign office said in Paris: "The speech shows that the leaders of America's foreign policy are alive to the dangers in Europe."

Britain welcomed the address, broadcast internationally last night, as raising a danger sign against German ambitions in central Europe.

Dispatches from Rome on the other hand, told of mounting fascist displeasure over the speech, which was not distributed to Italian papers by the semi-official news agency, Stefani.

The State Department head warned all governments to "be on guard against certain dangerous developments which imperil them."

London, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The press of Europe's democracies today saw U. S. Secretary Hull's appeal for peace as a warning to dictatorships, as acknowledging that America can not hold herself aloof from world happenings and extending "moral authority" of his countrymen in a "war of principles."

There generally was praise for the secretary's radio speech last night, both in newspaper editorials and in the private comment of officials.

Tokyo, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The foreign office spokesman in comment on Secretary Hull's peace speech said today "Mr. Hull is an idealist and this was a repetition of his idealistic diplomacy, which contains nothing not included in recent pronouncements."

Local Youth Charged With Bicycle Thefts

Chief of Police George Clark said today that Willie James Evans 14-year-old Greenville youth, arrested last night charged with the theft of two bicycles, would be turned over to local juvenile authorities.

The police chief said that Evans stole a bicycle belonging to the son of R. C. Stokes, Jr., and another belonging to the son of Mrs. J. W. Cook. He said that one of the bicycles was sold at Hudson's Cross Roads for $10, and that the youth paid $1 as a transportation fee back to the city. The other bicycle was sold for $5, Chief Clark said.

South Georgia Markets Prepare To End Season

Waycross, Ga., Aug. 17.—(AP)—A number of South Georgia bright leaf tobacco markets prepared to end the 1938 auction season today, but already the dollar value of crop had reached an all-time high, with the official tabulation showing that $17,646,495.84 was paid growers through the first 12 days of sales.

The 15 auction centers handled a total of $2,650,535 pounds of leaf during the 12 days, but this volume did not approach the 1936 record of 103,305,159 pounds. The 1936 crop sold for only $10,767,000, however, a figure that the 1938 sales had exceeded in the first seven days of auction.

Official figures were not available on the 15 Georgia markets for this week, but sales on any one market would have pushed the season total above the previous high record. That was the $17,670,000 sold paid for the 1936 crop when $4,295,126 pounds moved from south Georgia farmers through the warehouses.

The Georgia markets had less than $100,000 to go to equal that record and no single market showed sales last week of less than $200,000.

Child Loses Big Toe In Unusual Accident

Henry Thomas Evans, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans of Greenville, Route 2, recently lost the big toe of his right foot when it was crushed by an iron cot.

The child's father said today that the accident occurred at a tobacco barn when the child attempted to fold the cot.

Non-Cash Crop Sections State's Most Prosperous

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 17.—North Carolina's crop prospects are the "best ever" in Piedmont and Mountain sections, Frank Parker, United States Department of Agriculture crop statistician on duty with the State Department of Agriculture, said today upon his return from a crop-reporting and observing tour which took into practically half the state.

"The most prosperous and optimistic farmers in North Carolina are those who live in the non-cash crop areas," he added. "They have better homes, better kept and their farms are far more productive than those in the cash crop areas where cotton or tobacco are the principal, often the only crops."

"Cash crops are a curse to the state," he concluded.

Mr. Parker said that throughout the Piedmont and mountain sections practically every crop is in tip top shape and that abundant yields of grain and all kinds of crops are easy to forecast.

Even the fruit crops, particularly apples, which were presumably badly damaged in the spring are coming along in fine shape and the fruit yield will certainly exceed early expectations, he said.

Mr. Parker has not made the same detailed survey of the east as that from which he just returned, but said he knows enough about conditions in that section to cite cotton as the weakest crop in the state from practically every viewpoint—yield, condition and prospective price.

The western burley tobacco crop of this season is in excellent condition, he said, citing one farm in Allegheny county on which a yield of from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds to the acre is forecast. The average burley crop is about 900 pounds per acre, he added.

COIN DISAPPEARED— BUT NOT AS PLANNED

Rice Lake, Wis.—(AP)—Bill Brooten stood before the filling station saking for a half-dollar so he could demonstrate a "good trick."

Someone loaned him the coin, whereupon Bill put it into his mouth, waved his hands mysteriously, said "pocus-pocus" and then stood pop-eyed.

The coin was supposed to vanish but not the way Bill's hocus-pocus made it go.

Hospital X-rays showed the half dollar lying in Bill's stomach.

One hundred and fifty members of the Higgs family gathered at the old Country Club at Rocky Mount last week for their seventh annual reunion. The association is composed of descendants of Jacob Higgs I, and Sarah Bishop Higgs, who were married in Halifax county, N. C., in 1790.

This branch of the Higgs family is descended from Nicholas Higgs who married Mary Barton in 1558 in South Stoke, England. Their early American ancestor, John Higgs, married in Surrey county, Va., in 1690. His descendant, John Higgs, married Judith Harrell in Bertie county, in 1750. They were the parents of Jacob Higgs, I.

Mrs. Hammer Winstead of Rocky Mount, Mrs. Kate Conroy Sherrod of Enfield, Mrs. Mary Pope Whitfield of Weldon, and Mrs. S. M. Pittman of Scotland Neck, welcomed the kinsfolk on arrival.

At noon a bountiful barbecue luncheon was served. During this time plantation melodies were rendered by a talented string band.

After dinner, Miss Lelia Higgs of Greenville, presided over a short family session. An invocation was made by Rev. Clarence Patrick of Greenville. The secretary's report of the last reunion was read by Mrs. George P. Hadley of Greenville. Miss Lelia Higgs gave a most interesting account of her recent tour of England, where she visited cousins in Kent, Cornwall and on Guernsey Island.

It's Individuality That Makes Campus Chic

Something individual in campus clothes is this frock of brown and white shepherd's checked wool topped by a waistcoat whose trimly buttoned front is of brown corduroy. The collar is corduroy, too.

By ADELAIDE KERR
(AP Fashion Editor)
College girls! Do you want a few credits in chic?
Then be a little "different."

Wear a gold rope necklace with your sweater instead of that string of pearls that half the country's college girls select. Discard that long-suffering peasant kerchief tied under your chin for a bright cep squashed over your curls. Mix your colors with a sure, but daring hand. And see what a dirndl can do for you.

As to the more serious side, campus clothes this year are, as always, casual. Skirts and sweaters still get the largest vote at eastern schools. The skirts, of mixture, monotone or plaid wools, may be pleated or plain, while the sweaters are nearly always crew-necked. There's a chance for individuality in contrasting the colors of the two and adding a tweed jacket, wool socks and a long wool scarf to harmonize.

Reversible coats are practical for campus wear. This year's editions are generally squared models made of tweed or camel's hair on one side and gabardine on the other.

The off-the-campus wardrobe generally includes another coat of black, brown, dark green or wine-colored wool, cut on a fitted silhouette and simply furled with some such pelt as beaver, mink or nutria.

Dresses should include one simple wool look and several dark crepe ones to be worn with sparkling clips or a "clunky" glittering necklace to weed-end teas and dances.

One simply tailored suit, whose fitted jacket has a rather high throat line, is almost a "must" for the college girl, since it can be worn for traveling and week-end jaunts.

Evening frocks, which complete her wardrobe, have wide swishing skirts this year. They come in white, black, green, russet and blue satins, tulle, chiffons and velvets and are often topped by jackets to match.

Parents cannot do a better day's work than to take their child to the dentist and to the doctor before he starts to school to see whether or not he is in the shape for the school year ahead. Not to do so will be merely an oversight—it will be neglect, carelessness, failure, which are so often rewarded with sorrow and regret.

Fortunately, a few days remain in which this much needed work can be done. In fact, it is important enough to do at any time even after school has begun. The child who starts out on a new school year with all physical defects corrected, with good teeth, a healthful mouth, good vision and hearing, proper weight and vaccinated against diphtheria, typhoid and smallpox, will be less likely to contract colds, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases, and more likely to find pleasure in his work as well as ease in making his grades.

foot and stayed on it practically all the way. She hadn't been in Hollywood three days before she had tangled with the studio make-up man. Ernie Westmore was doing the usual experimental work on her hairdress but it ended in a Simon-pure tantrum. This is sometimes known as Asserting One's Importance.

She hadn't been around long, either, before workers began noticing an odd circumstance. Before she came, the word from the east was that this little French girl knew how to talk English. In Hollywood she didn't. There were times when she could scarcely understand this funny new language—when studio workers wanted some cooperation. And yet they do say that in the business office, when she was talking turkey, she hadn't any trouble making herself clear.

There was always a lot of talk about Simone's illnesses during production. They had to rush Claudette Colbert into "Under Two Flags" when Simone broke down. June Lang took her place in another picture with Warner Baxter. And "Josette" was held up for days while Simone, in the hospital, was "endearing herself" to all the nurses with her temper tantrums. There were some unkind cynics who insisted Simone did her collapsing when the going got toughest, but all I know is that she was really ill. I know it, though a lot of people had doubts.

"Girls' Dormitory," her first must have been a headache to all concerned. After the final scene, the usually patient Irving Cummings gave a lecture—a lecture to Simone in presence of an assorted cast and crew. He told her off. When she squawked to the bosses and they called Cummings on the carpet, he told her off again—for the bosses. But the peace treaty was signed in time for the preview, at which Cummings and Simone appeared together.

On "Ladies in Love," the tales from the set made us all rather sorry for Simone. It seems Connie Bennett, Janet Gaynor and Loretta Young wasted no love on Simone.

And from the first Simone's relations with would-be interviewers were strained. It was studio policy to make her "hard to see" but I'm afraid it was Simone herself who made her hard to like. And then one day Simone wanted to be Friends Again. She gave a Party for the Press—four to six. Around five she withdrew, those who went reported, and with her went the refreshments. Simone wanted to be alone. After that her privacy was rarely disturbed.

Here is a classic suit for the college girl—a cardigan jacket and skirt of gray tweed flecked with cherry and white and worn with a sweater knit of cherry-splashed gray wool to match.

GIVES ADVICE FOR CHILDREN

Tells Parents How to Prepare Students for School

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—The importance of getting children "ready" for school was emphasized by Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, assistant director of health education, State Board of Health, when she declared:

"In a few weeks nearly 900,000 children will be trekking back to school in North Carolina. This should be a thrilling picture—boys and girls aglow with health, full of energy and the happy spirit of care-free youth marching back to take up their books. But will it be? Will these boys and girls be found ready for school after a summer's vacation? Will they be mentally and physically alert, handicapped by no defect or disease, eager to be back at their desks, or will they be found marching back listless, tired, anemic, dreading the tasks ahead?"

"This will depend largely on their physical fitness, or whether or not their vacations have been restful, pleasant and invigorating, and whether or not their bodies have been checked over and put in good condition."

"Last spring thousands of children went through the pre-school clinics and were examined physically to determine whether or not they were in shape to enter school this fall. Their parents were advised as to the conditions found and were urged to have any and all defects remedied by school time. These were the beginners. They will likely be the best group in school from a health point of view, this fall, that is, if their parents took seriously the findings of the clinic examination and made the corrections as advised."

"A group that will probably be less prepared will be the boys and girls who have not had a school examination recently and whose parents have not taken the pains to have them looked over by a dentist or physicians. They may be returning, but in what condition? They may be swallowing poison every day from diseased tonsils, decayed and abscessed teeth, gum boils, or they may be anemic, underweight, overweight, or on the borderline of some disease."

"Parents cannot do a better day's work than to take their child to the dentist and to the doctor before he starts to school to see whether or not he is in the shape for the school year ahead. Not to do so will be merely an oversight—it will be neglect, carelessness, failure, which are so often rewarded with sorrow and regret."

Fortunately, a few days remain in which this much needed work can be done. In fact, it is important enough to do at any time even after school has begun. The child who starts out on a new school year with all physical defects corrected, with good teeth, a healthful mouth, good vision and hearing, proper weight and vaccinated against diphtheria, typhoid and smallpox, will be less likely to contract colds, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases, and more likely to find pleasure in his work as well as ease in making his grades."

She hadn't been around long, either, before workers began noticing an odd circumstance. Before she came, the word from the east was that this little French girl knew how to talk English. In Hollywood she didn't. There were times when she could scarcely understand this funny new language—when studio workers wanted some cooperation. And yet they do say that in the business office, when she was talking turkey, she hadn't any trouble making herself clear.

There was always a lot of talk about Simone's illnesses during production. They had to rush Claudette Colbert into "Under Two Flags" when Simone broke down. June Lang took her place in another picture with Warner Baxter. And "Josette" was held up for days while Simone, in the hospital, was "endearing herself" to all the nurses with her temper tantrums. There were some unkind cynics who insisted Simone did her collapsing when the going got toughest, but all I know is that she was really ill. I know it, though a lot of people had doubts.

"Girls' Dormitory," her first must have been a headache to all concerned. After the final scene, the usually patient Irving Cummings gave a lecture—a lecture to Simone in presence of an assorted cast and crew. He told her off. When she squawked to the bosses and they called Cummings on the carpet, he told her off again—for the bosses. But the peace treaty was signed in time for the preview, at which Cummings and Simone appeared together.

On "Ladies in Love," the tales from the set made us all rather sorry for Simone. It seems Connie Bennett, Janet Gaynor and Loretta Young wasted no love on Simone.

And from the first Simone's relations with would-be interviewers were strained. It was studio policy to make her "hard to see" but I'm afraid it was Simone herself who made her hard to like. And then one day Simone wanted to be Friends Again. She gave a Party for the Press—four to six. Around five she withdrew, those who went reported, and with her went the refreshments. Simone wanted to be alone. After that her privacy was rarely disturbed.

The Baby Rule: Pink For Girls; Blue For Boys

THE BABY RULE . . . SPOON
By JOAN DURHAM
AP Feature Service Writer
Pink is for girls and blue for boys.

That's an old baby custom. Still, if mother prefers pink for her boys clothes or blue for her girl's there's no reason she should not get it. There's no reason, either, if she has furnished her nursery in blue and a baby daughter arrives, that she should not continue her chosen color scheme.

A number of questions arise when the new baby comes. Announcements, for one thing.

A Combination Card
The generally-accepted announcement is the combination of the Mr. and Mrs. card and the baby card.

The Mr. and Mrs. card, which is usually slightly larger than the average Mrs. Card, bears the names of both parents in the center. In the lower right-hand corner may be engraved the street, town and state address.

On the baby's card, which is about half the size of the Mr. and Mrs. card, usually appears the baby's name—in the center. In the lower right corner is engraved the date of birth. No other information goes on the card.

The two cards usually are tied together by a bow of white, blue or pink ribbon, so that both the parents' and the baby's name show.

Many baby cards having blank spaces into which the baby's name and birth date may be written are now on the market. Although their use is frowned on by many of the so-called socially correct, there is no reason why they may not be used, since doing so often saves time lost in putting through an engraving order.

Under ordinary circumstances announcements are usually sent from Mr. and Mrs. to Mr. and Mrs.

For The Newspaper
It is perfectly proper for the parents of the new baby to send an announcement to the society editor of the local newspaper. The editor will use it or not, as he sees fit.

Information sent to a newspaper should be brief and to the point. It may read something like this: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of 100 Any Street are the parents of a son, John, Jr., born Saturday, September 10, at the Greenville Hospital in this city. The baby is the couple's first child. Mrs. Smith is the former Jane Debutante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Debutante of 22 Holiday Street."

Although local custom sometimes decrees otherwise, it is generally considered proper to send birth announcement only to intimate friends of the parents. A small gift is almost mandatory upon reception of an announcement. It should be sent as soon as possible—and may be followed by a visit to the baby and mother when the two are able to receive visitors.

Greenies Win Again, 9-2; Billies Refuse Play At Night

LOCALS STILL ON WIN SPREE

Rube's Boys take Williamston for a Ride This Time; Only 2 1-2 Games Behind Billies

Freddie Caligiuri turned in another victory for his Greenville teammates yesterday, this time the Williamston Martins being the victims, and Larry Wade, a seasonal nemesis of the locals, getting credit for the loss.

It was a thriller for the first six innings, with first one team ahead and then the other. But in the sixth, after the Martins had tied the count at 2-all, the Greenies unleashed a furious hitting and running attack that netted them three runs. Not satisfied with this margin, Rube Wilson's boys went after Wade in earnest in the seventh, combining a barrage of hits with nifty base running, coupled with visitors' miscues, to add four more tallies. Wade retired in favor of Manager Charlie Wry of the Martins, who allowed but one hit in 1-3 innings.

In the seventh inning Gracie Allen and Birch Douglass put on the delayed steal act which was successful, Douglass taking second and Allen sliding safely across the home plate.

Shiway, in left for the visitors, provided the fielding features of the afternoon. On two occasions he reached over the pickets in left and robbed Simpson of home runs. On the first catch Shiway fell over the palings and slightly injured himself.

Top batters for the Greenies were Manager Wilson and Allen, the former with three for five and the latter three for four. Every member of the Greenies club hit safely.

Goldbugs Beat Bears in 1st Loop Night Tilt

Goldsboro, Aug. 17.—Goldsboro defeated New Bern, 6-5, last night in the first night game in a Coastal Plain League park.

A crowd of around 3,000 turned out for the game. A couple of left-handers were the opposing pitchers—and they also were the cause of a free-for-all among players. The cause of it all was that the opposing pitchers apparently were trying to use each other as targets for pitched balls. The rumpus started while Flora was at bat.

Flora struck out 15 batters—and walked 11. Burgess struck out nine and walked five.

Only casualty was Big Henry Winston, Goldsboro pitcher, who suffered a broken nose when he attempted to break up a squabble between Manager Mule Shirley of the Goldbugs and Bull Hamons, New Bern pitcher. When Winston intervened, the fighting really started. Fans swarmed on the field, and the police were called to break up the fist-throwing.

Relief Hurler Stops Billies; Eagles Win

Kinston, Aug. 17.—Great relief pitching by Jim McMullan featured Kinston's 8-3 victory over Snow Hill yesterday.

McMullan came to Lefty Muhlbein's rescue with one out in the first inning. Jim yielded only two hits the rest of the way.

The Billies' runs off Muhlbein came on Mewborn's double, Stirewalt's triple, and an error. They made only one tally during McMullan's reign—Joynes scratched a single in the seventh and scored on Bistrot's triple.

McMullan contributed a double and a single in scoring innings. Sharing honors with McMullan was diminutive Claude Wright, who hit two triples and two singles, scored four runs and drove in two.

Elliott Too Much For Aces; Serps Win 10-2

Tarboro, Aug. 17.—Ace Elliott contributed fine pitching and hitting to lead the Serpents to a 10-2 win over Ayden yesterday.

Elliott held the leasers to seven hits. He hit a homer and a double, and drove in four runs.

Mike Briscese, Tarboro shortstop, was the day's fielding star.

Tarboro made eight runs in the first three innings, chasing Brax Rhodes in the third. Russell Gurth did a good job as relief hurler.

DAIRY SCORES FIRST VICTORY

Goes in Semi-Finals Lead Over Transportation-Nehi

Greenville's "little world series" saw two phases of semi-final play in the softball circuit fade into the background yesterday afternoon when two scheduled contests were cut short on account of darkness.

Blount-Harvey's entry and the Water and Light boys' Tubbys Evans displayed topnotchery at bat and afield for the Water and Light unit. Jack Tripp and Pittman paced the Blount-Harvey team.

The other softball contest, played in the college park, was also halted after six innings of play, but Carolina Dairy-Postoffice were in front 14-3 over Transportation-Nehi.

Jackson did the hurling for the losers. Unable to make his pitching tactics effective, his opponents reached him for 14 hits and as many runs. Harvey, tossing for the milk men and stamper, gave up only eight safeties. Transportation-Nehi made six errors as compared with two charged against the winners.

In this afternoon's play, Transportation-Nehi will engage Carolina Dairy-Postoffice at the Third Street Stadium. Blount-Harvey and Water and Light will seek new laurels at the College park. Six o'clock is starting time for both contests.

Man About Manhattan

New Orleans—Among the interesting people I have had the privilege of meeting and being with in New Orleans have been Mr. Seymour Weiss, whom Billy Rose describes as "the most influential gentleman in Louisiana and by all odds the nicest," Mr. John McKay, general manager of the dock board of the Port of New Orleans, and Mr. James J. A. Fortier, curator at the Cabildo, ancient seat of Spanish rule in America and now the Louisiana state museum.

I am especially indebted to these gentlemen for it was through them that I have been able to see all the things I wanted to see and do the things I wanted to do.

I was interested, of course in the modern developments in New Orleans as well as French town and Jackson Square, and Mr. Weiss very graciously placed a car at my disposal, so that I had the benefit of a chauffeur and guide who took me everywhere and explained anything that I wanted to know.

And I wanted to see one of the big banana boats from the tropics unload, and Mr. McKay took me down where the S.S. Toleda was disgorging thousands of bunches of the fruit.

Mr. McKay had three years experience in the tropics with bananas before he became general manager of the dock board in New Orleans, and if there is anything about bananas he doesn't understand it can't be very important. As the cargo poured from the ship he explained the whole history of banana culture as we know it today, and I was astounded to learn, for instance, that the banana belongs to the lily family. It grows from within.

Most of the bananas consumed in the country are swung from boats by Negro labor right here in New Orleans. At least five ships a week every week in the year are warped into their berths along the docks, and it is no feat at all for 50,000 bunches, to be unloaded in six or seven hours.

Having glimpsed the municipal developments and become an authority on banana culture I went over to the Cabildo and talked all morning with Mr. Fortier, who is an enthusiastic and at times militant champion of Louisiana's place in world history. The Cabildo is a "must" on the list of any visitor to New Orleans, for there is where the formal transfer of Louisiana from the French to the United States took place. There you will find the Death

Muncie, Ind.—Arthur Shuttleworth, general contractor, noticed a shoe box lying in the gutter but did not pick it up. "Boy, I'm sure glad to get this back. I've been searching for it the last half hour."

SLANG HELPS TO MAKE TEXTBOOKS POPULAR

Milwaukee, Wis.—(AP)—Milwaukee high school seniors and principals like their new civics books because they use slang.

Students now can read chapters on municipal governments being corrupted by "political bosses" and how public employees are forced to "kick in" with contributions to hold jobs with " racketeers" in the "political machines."

Polar Bear Drowns

Chicago—(AP)—Silver, a six-year old, 500-pound polar bear at Lincoln Park Zoo, was drowned in his own pool because he swallowed a rubber ball someone threw to him. The ball lodged in the bear's stomach and caused convulsions which sent Silver dashing against the bars of his enclosure. He stunned himself, fell into the pool and drowned.

EXPECT LOWER INTEREST RATE

Building Bond Issue Likely to Set New Low Mark

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—The State's soon-to-be-sold $4,620,000 bond issue will probably set a new record for low interest rates, both Governor Clyde R. Hoey said today.

"The bond market is extremely favorable just now, the State's general credit is as good as it has ever been, perhaps even better, and through this combination of circumstances there's a very good chance that we will be able to sell these bonds at the most favorable interest rate the state has ever obtained," he told this bureau's correspondent.

Proceeds of the issue will be used to match PWA grants in a building program for State institutions authorized by last week's extra session of the General Assembly.

In order to set a new low interest mark, the bonds must sell at a rate below 2.70 per cent, the rate at which North Carolina disposed of $3,304,000 in July 1935. These bonds were general funding and improvement bonds, bearing nominal interest rates of three and a half per cent.

On one other occasion, it was learned at the treasurer's office, the state disposed of some short term obligations at even lower interest rate—two and a half per cent—but the 2.70 rate is the lowest ever obtained on maturity bonds comparable to those soon to be issued.

Governor Hoey is confident the new bonds will be issued and sold quite rapidly, and also that there will be little difficulty in getting approval from PWA of the state's applications for matching grants. Machinery to insure this was set in motion even before the extra session.

DEATH ENDS AUTOMOBILE HEIR'S HONEYMOON

Death brought to a tragic end the honeymoon of Daniel G. Dodge and his bride of 13 days, shown together at the time of their wedding. Dodge, 21-year-old heir to a $9,000,000 Michigan motor fortune, drowned in Georgian Bay, Ontario, Canada, after being injured in a dynamite explosion while being driven to a hospital in a speedboat. He either jumped into the water or fell out. Mrs. Dodge, the former Laurine Macdonald, was seriously injured in the blast. (Day Te Winburn photo from Associated Press.)

COSSACK PASTIME IS FATAL TO GUN-TWIRLERS

Aavenna, O.—(AP)—Cossack luck does not seem to click very well with Americans. Grady Greer of Cuyahoga Falls, O., and Henry Malott of Atwater are dead as result of their pistol-twirling stunts.

The men heard that Russian Cossacks liked to gamble with death by loading one bullet into a five-chambered revolver, twirl the cylinder and pull the trigger with the muzzle pressed against their heads.

It was a five to one chance that the hammer would fall on an empty chamber but that was not the case with Malott and Greer who tried it for the benefit of friends.

The new marketing program was explained by Mr. Hutson who added that much incorrect information had been circulated regarding the marketing quotas. He declared that part of the criticism was possibly justified, but added the program was being worked out as quickly as possible and farmers would get their individual allotments at the earliest possible date.

Assertions that large growers were carrying "all of the load" are only partly true, he said, in that the program applies proportionately to all.

The AAA official urged the farmers to "think through" their problems and educate those providing "lip service." He contended that some of those talking against the program are doing so for selfish motives.

A resolution commencing the services of Mr. Winslow was introduced by A. T. Holland of Chowan county, and unanimously passed. The resolution declared that Mr. Winslow has given liberally of his time, energy and thought in the promotion of the Bureau to the end that farmers everywhere might obtain better prices for their produce and better markets.

N. C. HAS FIRST RABIES DEATH

Only Such Fatality Since May, 1937, Reported in July

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—July brought the first rabies death North Carolina has had since May 1937, and only the sixth in the last 31 months according to statistics released by Dr. R. T. Stimpson, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Board of Health.

This despite recurrent "mad dog" scares which have from time to time sent whole communities into shivers of apprehension and which have led to wholesale slaughter of dogs in many sections.

In the 31 months since and including January, 1936, there were no rabies deaths at all in 25 months. In each of six months—June, July, September and December, 1936; May 1937; and last month there was one death from rabies.

Last month set a record for the past 31 months, however, in deaths from another much-dreaded, but comparatively rare, cause—tetanus (lockjaw) when seven victims were listed.

Nearest approach to this figures was in November of 1937 when there were half a dozen victims. Only six of the last 31 months have been completely free of tetanus deaths—February and March, 1936; February, March and September, 1937; and January 1938.

In the seven months of this year there have already been more lockjaw deaths than in the whole of 1937, the count being 23 to 21. During 1936 there were 25 deaths reported from tetanus.

Last month there was one death from another cause (typhus) so rare as not to be included on the mimeographed cause of death sheet which the State Board of Health issues each month.

Incidentally, deaths from maul cases increased slightly in July over the corresponding month of last year, 2,635 to 2,598.

Educates By Radio. West Vancouver—(AP)—Education by way of the air waves will be brought to students of the West Vancouver high school when they return to classes next fall. Loudspeakers in three classrooms are linked with a microphone in the office of the principal, through which he can address the students as they pick up regular radio programs.
