

CZECHOSLOVAKIA CAPITULATES UNDER PRESSURE

TO BUILD NEW CITY HALL ON FIFTH STREET

Fire Station Also To Be Located on the James Property

SITE PURCHASED BY CITY FATHERS

Hope Expressed That Actual Work Will Begin on Two Buildings by Nov. 1.

Following announcement that the property located on Fifth street, running from Greene to Washington, offered by J. B. James for himself and others, had been purchased for $30,000, Mayor M. K. Blount declared today it was hoped actual work on the new municipal building and central fire station would get under way by November 1.

The next moves, it was explained, will be drawing up in details plans and specifications and securing of government approval. Both projects will be financed partly with PWA grants of 45 per cent. After the bids will be asked and the contract let.

The municipal building is estimated to cost $126,117.02 and the fire station, $44,937.63. Two other city projects were approved by voters at the same time the two buildings were authorized, these being a fire alarm system to cost $17,262.81 and a street department yard, storage garage, etc., to cost $34,182.54. These are the figures upon which the PWA made its grant of 45 per cent. In addition $33,090 was set up for the purchase of land, 45 per cent of the cost also.

Richmond Convict Is Arrested Here

Virginia authorities were expected to come to Greenville today to return Albert Conner, alias Eddie Conner, an escaped convict, to Richmond, Va.

Chief of Police George Clark said that he had been informed by E. M. Youell, superintendent of State prison in Richmond, that Conner escaped from a prison camp about a year and a half ago. He was sentenced to serve eight years for highway robbery.

Chief Clark said that Conner was jailed here after engaging in a fight. His identity was learned through finger prints furnished by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It was explained that Conner was making no effort to fight extradition, and he will be turned over to Virginia authorities when they arrive.

Five Are Injured In Road Accident

Five Bethel residents were injured, neither seriously, when the car in which they were riding, driven by W. O. Grimes, skidded, supposedly due to slippery concrete, and overturned near House Station on the Greenville-Bethel highway yesterday afternoon.

Riding with Grimes was Mrs. Grimes, Mrs. Nannie Coburn, Alice Lee Coburn and W. R. Bullock, Jr. Dr. J. L. Winstead, chief surgeon at Pitt General Hospital, where the passengers were treated, said that Grimes, Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Coburn sustained lacerations. Mrs. Grimes' injuries were to the scalp. Alice Lee Coburn and W. R. Bullock, Jr., received body bruises.

Records Strong Wind In Greenville Today

J. A. Clark, in charge of the local airways station, today revealed that a 20-mile per hour wind was recorded here this morning at nine o'clock.

"This was the strongest wind recorded here since the station was established in June," said Clark.

The strong breeze here was apparently an outgrowth of a windstorm from the Atlantic, which has sent chills through the spines of persons on the Atlantic coast during the past three days.

U.S. RAILROADS FACING STRIKE

Possibility of Nation-Wide Shutdown Has Complications

Washington, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The possibility of a nation-wide railroad strike complicated today the efforts of railroad management and labor to fulfill President Roosevelt's request that they cooperate on legislation to aid the industry.

Representatives of both sides discussed their problems jointly with the chief executive yesterday.

Then they scheduled a meeting today to determine whether the threatened strike against a 15 per cent wage cut would interfere with their following Mr. Roosevelt's proposals.

After mediation efforts failed recently, the carriers decreed the wage cut for October 1. Railroad labor is taking a vote to decide whether to strike. The result, to be announced next Monday, will affect about 900,000 workers.

Other developments: Three government attorneys will leave tomorrow for Valdosta, Ga., where the first test of the 1938 farm act is expected to come before a three-judge Federal District Court on Friday.

Constitutionality of the flue-cured tobacco marketing quota imposed under the act and the penalty tax on successive sales was challenged by Georgia growers.

Senator Reynolds (D-N. C.), told reporters he had recommended to President Roosevelt that George Coan, Jr., of Winston-Salem, N. C., be named a member of the board of the Home Owners Loan Corporation. Coan is now North Carolina.

C., for the annual President's cup regatta which starts tomorrow. Miss Bowers is a student at Arlington Hall School in the national capital.

France And Britain Denounced For Capitulating To Germany

FRANCE AGAIN PRODS CZECHS

Increases Pressure That Small Republic Submit to Demands of Hitler for Dismemberment Of Country in Face Of Threatened Armed Conflict

Paris, Sept. 21.—(AP)—For the fourth time in less than 12 hours France today increased her pressure on the Czechoslovak ally she has abandoned, insisting upon submission to Adolf Hitler's demand for dismemberment of the country.

A source close to the foreign office disclosed Foreign Minister Bonnet had ordered the French minister at Prague to demand Czechoslovakia's official capitulation at the beginning of the afternoon.

Although officials confidently expected Czechoslovakia to submit to the German Führer's desires—now called the Anglo-French plan—they said that a definite response had not been received up to 2 p. m. (8 a. m. EST).

It was indicated that the French minister had renewed Bonnet's insistence, amounting to a threat to condemn Czechoslovakia to complete extinction unless a quick official response was handed over.

Havas, the French news agency which faithfully translates the views of the foreign office, said: "It seems that the Prague chiefs, while taking into account the gravity of the German threat at their frontier, still hesitate to take the engagement which has been demanded of them."

Earlier a foreign office spokesman said the "first information reaching official circles is that Czechoslovakia's response is affirmative."

Wels, Czechoslovakia (at the German frontier)—A night raiding force of the Sudeten-Germans' "free corps" early today attacked the Czechoslovakia customs house at Wels, three miles from Ezer, seriously wounding one Czechoslovakia soldier.

At least one of the raiders was believed wounded. At daylight Czechoslovakia found one German rifle and some civilian hats at the scene of the raid. They said at least 35 of the "free corps" took part in the attack, in which some 15 shots were exchanged.

A detachment of 40 Czechoslovakia soldiers armed with hand grenades arrived here two hours after the clash.

A "Free corps" camp is reported located 10 miles from here.

DUCE DEMANDS AGAIN STATED

Asks that Solution of Czech Crisis Include All Minorities

Treviso, Italy, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini in his fourth speech this week on the critical European situation re-emphasized his demand that the solution of the crisis in Czechoslovakia be limited to the Sudeten Germans but be "integral."

He advocated that the rights of the Hungarians, Slovaks, Polish, Rumanian and Rumanian minorities in Czechoslovakia also be satisfied.

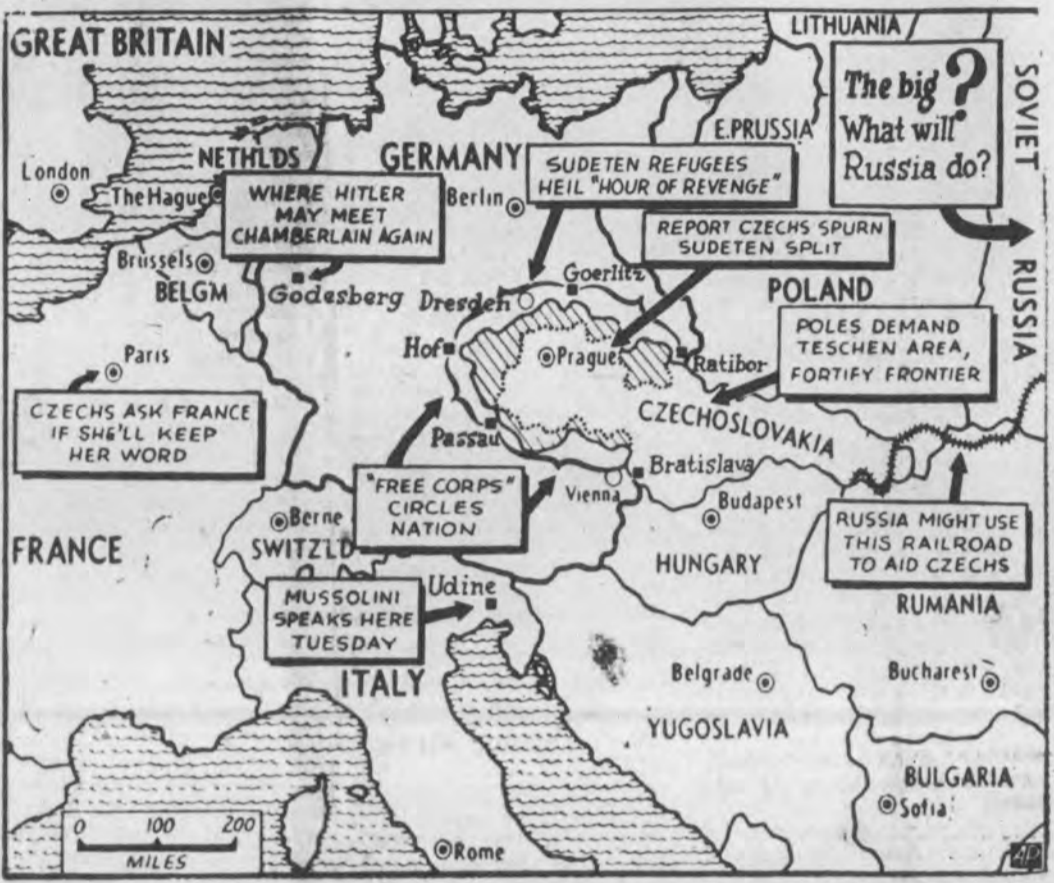

"If Czechoslovakia is facing a situation which we may call delicate it was because—we say—having in mind that a solution has been reached—not merely Czechoslovakia but Czech-German-Magyar-Polish-Rutheno-Slovakia." Duce asserted as the crowd roared with delight at his rally.

"I insist that since this problem has been faced we must settle it in integral fashion" Mussolini continued.

"At this moment the British Prime Minister, who took the political initiative is directing the ship of peace into port."

Duce made this Treviso speech as he neared the close of his tour of the Venetian provinces.

THE WAR-WORRIED FACE OF EUROPE TODAY

The labels on this map show recent developments in the European crisis over Czechoslovakia. Russia's attitude remained the big question mark, although unconfirmed reports reaching London intimated the Soviets had promised to help the Czechs if their country is attacked. Meanwhile Great Britain and France pursued their plans to induce Czechoslovakia to surrender the Sudeten German territory to Hitler. The shaded areas between the Czech frontier and the dotted line represents the territory that would be annexed by Germany if the proposal goes through.

THREE ESCAPE AT PITT CAMP

Jacobs Thinks Trio Was Picked Up By Waiting Auto

Law enforcement officers stationed in Pitt county continued their efforts today to apprehend three white convicts who "walked off" from the Pitt prison camp last night around 7:30 o'clock.

F. W. Jacobs, camp superintendent, said the escapees were Rancy Guinn, 38, serving a sentence of five years or more; Henry Millwood, 35, sentenced to serve from 3 to 5 years on a hit-and-run charge, and Richard Dowde, 32, who had served 21-2 years of a 10-year term.

It was pointed out that each of the escapees were sent to Pitt county from the Caledonia Farm. They were replacements for Negro prisoners previously confined to the Pitt penal institution.

Immediately after the escape was detected, officers began an extensive search throughout Pitt county, but their efforts to find a trace of the convicts proved futile. Jacobs said that some of the men worked all night and were still hunting today.

Jacobs advanced the theory that last night's escapees had received some outside help. This conclusion was reached after searchers had spread a dragnet around railroads, highways and other possible cutlets for the prisoners. "I believe someone picked them up in a waiting automobile," declared Jacobs.

Last night's escapees established the third prison camp break in as many weeks in Pitt county and sent.

DEATH CLAIMS C. T. WOOLLEN

Had Been Comptroller of University of N. C. for Years

Chapel Hill, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Charles Thomas Woollen, comptroller of the Greater University of North Carolina, died of a heart attack at 8:30 a. m. today.

He had been comported with the university at Chapel Hill for 38 years.

Born in Guilford county in November, 1878, Woollen would have been 60 years of age this November.

From his freshman year at the university until his death, "Mr. Charlie," as he was known to literally thousands of North Carolinians, had labored for the institution and helped guide its greatest period of growth.

The word of his death spread quickly and brought expressions of regret and shock from university officials here, from Governor Hoen at Raleigh and others prominent in the state.

STORM PASSES OFF CAROLINA

Wilmington, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A tropical hurricane swept up the Atlantic off the North Carolina coast today, causing high tides and carrying a threat to ocean shipping in its path, but apparently causing no damage of importance.

The United States weather bureau at Washington reported at 9 a. m. that the storm center then was 75 miles east of Cape Hatteras and moving rapidly north-north-eastward.

Storm warnings were ordered up as far north as Eastport, Me. They already are flying from Wilmington to Cape Hatteras. Small craft were advised to take precautions as the disturbance was attended by gales over a wide area and winds of hurricane force near the center.

Paul Hess, weather bureau head here, said the storm passed northward 200 miles east of Wilmington about 2:30 a. m. High tides and heavy seas were the only effects noted in this vicinity.

Elizabeth City reported one street was blocked late yesterday as the

BOARD BACKED BY HIGH COURT

See Decision as Clear-Cut Victory For State Body

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court handed down an opinion remanding the Deane-Burgin case involving the eighth district congressional nomination "until final returns have been received by the State Board of Elections from the county boards in Richmond and Davidson counties, and to await the result of these returns."

One high legal authority said the decision was a "clear-cut victory" for the State Board of Elections "as to its contentions as to law" and that unless Davidson and Richmond county boards should later by further investigation change their returns, it should finally result in the nomination of C. B. Deane.

The authority asked not to be quoted by name, but said the opinion was a "clean sweep" for the state board's position that under its general supervisory powers it could require county boards to submit "legal returns."

The appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

RUSSIA READY TO AID CZECHS

Maxim Litvinoff Flatly States Soviet War Department Ready to Take Joint Action But Indicates No Action To Be Taken Unless Others Participate

Geneva, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's foreign commissar, today accused France and Great Britain of capitulating to Adolf Hitler's demand, and disclosed they had ignored Russia's offer of military help to protect Czechoslovakia.

The foreign commissar in a scathing denunciation of League of Nations powers, said Russia stood ready to back up any collective action in defense of Czechoslovakia with arms and men.

In what he left unsaid, however, assembly delegates saw a statement that unless France fights for Czechoslovakia under the terms of the French-Czechoslovakia agreement Soviet Russia would do nothing to help Prague.

He accused Britain and France of avoiding a "problematical" war today in return for a certain and large-scale war tomorrow.

Addressing the League of Nations assembly, Russia's spokesman said the price the two eastern democracies were considering paying to prevent war over Czechoslovakia was "satisfying the appetites of the insatiable aggressors by the destruction and mutilation of sovereign states."

Litvinoff declared flatly: "Our war department is ready immediately to participate in conference with representatives of the French and Czechoslovakia war departments in order to discuss measures appropriate to the moment."

Single Case Tried During Afternoon

Only one case was tried at the afternoon session of County court yesterday, this ending in a verdict of not guilty. Several cases were removed from the docket when Solicitor Charles Whedbee took a nolle pro in a number that had been pending for several months.

In the only case tried after the luncheon recess, Fesley Manning was acquitted of a charge of driving a car during the period his driving license was revoked. The charge, brought by someone other than an officer, took up much of the afternoon session.

A nolle pro was taken in each of the following cases: Frizzelle Haddock, driving careless and reckless; Daniel Adams, Jr., assault with a deadly weapon; James Battle, assault with a deadly weapon; Ocy Morning and Mary Elizabeth Butler, living together although not married; Willie Suggs, assault; and Joe Ray, driving careless and reckless.

Wrecks Yesterday Result In Charges

Charges of careless and reckless driving were preferred as an outgrowth of several minor traffic accidents in Greenville yesterday.

Joe Taft, Negro, was charged with operating a motor vehicle in a careless and reckless manner when the automobile which he was driving struck another car driven by Mrs. Arthur Gurganus. Only slight damage was done and no one was injured. Officers Wooten and Page investigated.

A white youth who gave his name as Carl White and Lawrence White, a Negro, were involved in an auto collision yesterday afternoon. Officers Wooten and Page also investigated this accident and booked both drivers on reckless driving charges. Neither operator was injured.

Lawrence White, Negro, was charged with careless and reckless driving after he struck two of three automobiles near the circus grounds yesterday afternoon. No one was injured and only slight damage was done.

CZECH CROWDS DISSATISFIED WITH DECISION

Authorities Worried Over Reaction Of Populace

CRRIES INDICATE WAR PREFERRED

Decision to Meet Hitler's Terms Comes After Three Days of Fateful Discussions

Prague, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Czechoslovak government announced officially at 7:25 p. m. (1:25 p. m. EST), today its acceptance of the British-French plan for meeting the peace terms of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

The decision came at the end of three days of fateful discussions of the proposals agreed upon by British and French leaders in London as a price for maintaining peace in Europe.

The news of the capitulation came to Czechs by radio broadcasts carried through loudspeakers in the crowded streets of Prague.

Earlier the propaganda minister had disclosed informally that Czechoslovakia had accepted the plan.

An official of the ministry said at 6:15 p. m. the government had yielded to the pressure of London and Paris.

The British and French legations were notified of this decision in notes delivered late this afternoon.

Crowds in the main streets were in an excited mood and the authorities were worried about the reaction of the Czechs to the definite news.

Lands In County Jail After 'Going on Tear'

Henry Hathaway, about 20 years old, of Belvoir, is being held in Pitt county jail after having caused a one-man riot at Pollard's store at Fleming's crossroads yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff B. W. King and Ruel Tyson were called after Hathaway is alleged to have attacked a stranger who drove up to the store to purchase gas. The officers said that Hathaway asked the man for a quarter and, being refused, cursed the man and then attacked him. When the store owner attempted to interfere, he, too, was said to have been cursed by Hathaway. The officers said the man resisted arrest when they attempted to take him in custody.

Buys New Automobile But Cannot Drive It

A Farmville resident submitted to a barrage of questions before License Examiner A. J. McLeod of the State Highway Patrol today.

When the questioning had been completed, McLeod felt the applicant did not answer the questions adequately enough to secure a driver's license and told him to return for another examination in 30 days.

"Well, I'll declare," said the applicant, "I have a brand new automobile and can't drive it."

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—About 30 years ago the United States had a share in freezing Germany out of expansion in Morocco, and well informed opinion here is that the position of this country now plays a tremendous part in Europe's calculations on the German-Czechoslovakian affair.

Did England, for instance, harden her attitude toward Hitler before taking a precautionary sniff at the breeze blowing from America?

America's present part is altogether unofficial, in contrast with Theodore Roosevelt's participation in the Morocco affair.

It is considered certain here that the German government, as well as the British, Czechs, Russians and French, gives much consideration to the part the U. S. would play in event Europe should be plunged into war.

Primarily these countries may simply set up a series of questions to which there can be no answers, since the official position of the country is a sort of watchful neutrality.

Europe Looks To U. S.
But the sentimental as well as the official position of the country with regard to aggressive nations is well known. At present it obviously is not friendly toward a Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

We have a neutrality act prohibiting shipments of arms to belligerent nations. That section of the law supposedly is mandatory upon the President. But another important section is discretionary. Under it the President is at liberty to permit American ships to carry food and certain raw materials to warring nations. In event of war and an effective British blockade of German ports, would the President permit American ships to pour needed supplies into French and English ports? England already has made known publicly it hopes for revision of the neutrality act to make certain it can tap the American market in an emergency.

Again, it is felt certain here that foreign offices are asking questions about possible changes, both in American sentiment and American legislation.

The Lesson of 1914.
The role America plays in the present Czechoslovakian affair is considered far greater than the meager part it had prior to the outbreak of the World war in 1914. Quantities of diplomatic correspondence as well as comment of diplomatic officials here discloses that European nations paid little attention in 1914 to any part of the U. S. might lay in the World war. Only after the nations, much to their seeming surprise, discovered that the war was likely to last years and years instead of a few months, did they start tapping the U. S. reservoir of resources.

There are no answers to be obtained here as to what the U. S. would do in event of a big European war simply because the answer it not known. Some suspects that, as England reiterates, it would be hard to determine how widely the conflagration might spread. Others insist that the burnt nation avoids the fire and that the U. S. was adequately burned in the World war, to no great purpose.

One thing is certain, future European and present Asiatic wars already have cost the country plenty. Remember our expanding army? and the last congress' billion dollar navy bill.

ing, and skill must be brought into play to convince the sufferer that his pain is imaginary.

If a patient believes that his arm or his heart hurts, that pain exists by virtue of the patient's belief.

To put the matter another way, even if a person is terribly afraid of something that does not exist, his fear is still a reality. His physical reactions, his pallor, tremor, sweat, and other signs of anxiety, visibly bear witness to his emotional condition.

The physician who is called on to relieve pain or fear must determine how well grounded these complaints are and must treat them accordingly. "Imaginary" pain, if treated along the lines employed in dealing with a pain of organic origin, may be aggravated rather than relieved.

The unwarranted fear and the imagined pain are symptoms pointing to an underlying morbid emotional condition—and not the symptoms but the underlying morbid condition must be treated.

An individual who is confronted by the need to make some vital decision, and who is unwilling or unable to do what is necessary, may find escape from his dilemma in an imaginary malady, say heart disease.

Such a patient may complain of heart pains, shortness of breath, and palpitation. Should the physician accept his complaints at their face value and proceed to treat him as if he did have heart disease. The condition is likely to become fixed. The patient may be made a permanent invalid by the addition of a physical disability to the already present emotional or psychological disability. There is a precious saying among medical men to the effect that "it is far easier to rub a disease into a limb than to rub it out of the limb." This places a great responsibility upon the examining physician. It is no easy matter to differentiate between imaginary pain and that due to organic or functional disease.

THE CLAUDE MORN

By MAX GALTMARSH

The Characters
 Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.
 Archie Lumsden, myself, Hugo's friend.
 Otilie Will, beautiful American waitress.

Yesterday: Geiss murders Henrietta Adams, and Otilie and I are locked in the secret room. There we find the gun that killed O'Donnell.

Chapter 39 A Girl Vanishes

I TOOK another look at the inert body on the floor. Beside it was a woman's handbag, and at sight of it I knew in a flash just what kind of a fool I had been.

I snatched it up and tore it open. There were keys there, as I had known there would be; the big latchkey of the Château la Vague, the Yale of Geiss's front door, and a smaller, queerly shaped bit of metal that I knew, without telling would unlock our prison door and set us free.

I whooped with joy like a schoolboy and raced down the room to the farther door.

"Come on, Otilie!" I yelled, and as she came, I fitted the key into the little hole and heard the welcome sound of the wards turning. One minute later we were dragging open the garden gate, staring into an outer world that we had hardly dared hope to see again.

The sun was high in the heavens. I rubbed my knuckles across my heavy lids, and as I did so, heard a familiar voice. "May I ask," said Hugo dryly, "if this has been an all-night party?"

"I merely sleeping off the effects?"

"The girl had been clinging, half-dead, to my arm, but at the sound of his voice she wrenched herself free and, running to him, flung herself on his breast, twining her arms round his neck."

"It's you!" she sobbed. "I knew you'd come, but oh, I've been so frightened! Hugo, I was so terribly frightened!"

He put his arms about her, awkwardly, like a man who is half afraid, and then suddenly strained her to him and pressed his lips to her hair.

"Dearest," he said, very low. "Dearest, you're safe now. You're with me."

I stood there with my hands in my pockets, feeling slightly resentful, for, when all was said and done, it was I that had done the dirty work, and he was getting the thanks. But after a minute, he raised his head and grinned at me in a shamefaced way.

"Sorry, old man," he said. "Unaccustomed as I am to public love-making, I forgot all about you for the moment!"

"Don't mind me!" I retorted bitterly. "Carry on as long as you like—but when you're through, it might be as well to get Otilie back to the hotel. Dunning must be throwing hysterics by now."

He looked suddenly conscience-stricken. "You're absolutely right!" he declared. "Actually, it's past eight already. Otilie, my dear, we'll have to get a move on, but first, tell me how you got here and what you've been doing. If I hadn't run into Fleuriot and heard that the last he'd seen of Archie was when he turned in a purposeful way up this street, I might have been searching for you till doomsday. As it was, I was just pondering the best way of breaking into the villa."

"Fleuriot?" I echoed, startled. "What had he been up to, I wonder?"

"I don't know," said he, "but his car was inches thick with dust, and he looked as if he hadn't slept for a week. He asked me to tell you, though, that he would be calling your bluff shortly, whatever that may mean."

"Well," I said, "I'm ready when he is—but taking it by and large, we've certainly had a full night. Otilie and I. We both had the same idea of breaking into Geiss's villa and we met on his balcony. Following that, we witnessed Geiss murdering Henrietta Adams and we've been locked in with her corpse for the rest of the night, but we did at least locate the missing gun."

I Love You A Lot

THE Carlton terrace was empty when we arrived. As we halted just inside the door, Hugo turned to the girl and gently unlinked her arm.

"Sweet," he said, "we're too dirty and disheveled to go through another day without cleaning up, but there's obviously nothing wrong so far, or Dunning would be in evidence. Will you let him know you're safe, and tell him we'll be back as soon as we've had a bath and shave? After that I want you to promise not to stir from your room until I give you leave."

She looked at him, and for a moment I saw a flat refusal trembling on her lips; then slowly her expression softened, and a second time she reached up and kissed him softly. "You're a medieval relic, my precious," she murmured, "but you're terribly sweet, and I love you quite a lot."

"Hugo," I said, as we turned down the ramp to the deserted Croisette, "are you going to marry that girl?"

"If she'll have me," he answered self-consciously.

"She'll have you all right," I retorted, and added gloomily, "in more ways than you think!"

COURT TO HEAR UNUSUAL CASE

Warren County Negro Attempts to Secure Third Trial

Reflector Bureau.
 Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Among the 18 civil and three criminal appeals to be heard by the state Supreme court at this week's sessions, which began this morning, is the somewhat unusual appeal of Ted Terrell from a 25 to 30 year sentence for second degree murder, imposed by Judge Clawson L. Williams in Warren county superior court.

It is the second time the Terrell case has come before the court on appeal, and the defendant is no doubt hoping that if he wins the third trial he will have better luck than followed his first successful appeal. On his first trial he was sentenced to twenty to twenty-five years, on his second it was raised five years on both minimum and maximum ends.

Terrell shot and killed one Andrew Knight at "Bad Eye's Place," a filling station near Norlina in Warren county. The state contends that Terrell, after having been badly cut by Knight in an altercation, left the scene, went off, broke into a house to secure a shotgun, returned and killed in revenge. The defendant admits he got the gun, but insists he returned to the station where he lived because he had nowhere else to go and shot only when Knight advanced upon him in a threatening manner. Knight, testimony showed, was a big man weighing some 200 pounds. Terrell weighs about 140.

One of the principal, and perhaps the most unusual grounds for seeking a third trial is that when the defendant appeared for his second trial he was at liberty on bond. Judge Williams summarily and in the presence of the jury ordered him committed to jail without privilege of bond. This, it is contended, was equivalent to an expression of opinion that the defendant was guilty.

Profusely illustrated, it features outdoor scenes and activity in North Carolina at this season, includes sections on the state's parks and forests, historical buildings, hunting and fishing, golfing, riding and other tourist attractions.

Four pages of the new booklet are printed in full color with plates made from natural color photographs.

The cover is a harvest scene in orange shades and blue, with a background of purple hills and fleecy clouds.

The book was prepared by the news bureau of the Advertising Division. It will go to prospective visitors who respond to the advertisements running in out-of-state publications, and will also be distributed through various travel agencies.

Pirates Getting Primed for Stiff Football Schedule

East Carolina Teachers College football season got under way this week and Coach Gilbert and Alexander are most enthusiastic over the prospects.

All old men are back with the exception of Kelly Martin, Felix Cecot, and Robert Pittman. Among the new comers are Melvin Wagoner, 190 pound tackle of Derby Line, Vermont.

The end candidates present a number of very fine prospects among the new comers in the persons of Floyd Hinton, 175 pound six foot husky from Rocky Mount, and Milton Zelen, former Raleigh High School Star and a clever ball handler.

Three boys are working trying to fill Felix Cecot's shoes at center. John Kaplac has the edge on the other two candidates in experience but has plenty of tough competition in Bob James from Bethel. James is a hard working hustler and is willing to get the experience. The third candidate for the center position is Astor Fowler. Fowler is a heavy lad in experience and may eventually be shifted to the backfield because of his speed.

Coach Gilbert and Alexander are working as a number one in the backfield post Bill Dudash at quarterback, Earl Smith and Bill Shelton at halfback, and Lex Ridenhour at the fullback position; number two backfield post Norman Mayo at fullback, Adrian Brown at halfback, Bernard Jenkins at halfback, and John D. Bridgers at quarterback.

The tackle berth finds four husky new comers scrapping Rockfellow Vanders and Ralph Elliott, reserves on last year's squad, for a place. Woodrow Long, Tarboro, 202 pound, six foot and two inch giant, Eugene Carson, 180 pounder, who is fast on his feet and who is showing an unusual snap in the game, together with Mel Wagoner are affording the competition.

There is a likelihood of several changes being made within the next few days and the coaches and boys are experimenting to get the best possible team with the material available.

Coach Alexander expressed much enthusiasm in speaking of this year's prospect over last year's despite the fact that he is confronted with a much stiffer schedule than ever played by the Pirate squad.

Football Doings

Coaches Alexander and Gilbert of East Carolina Teachers College are making loafing most embarrassing for the boys. Every device at the coaches disposal is used to push the loafing lads.

In the first practice in college football big Woodrow Long proved even to the most sceptical that he was the fighting stock.

Much of the work of the first five sessions has been devoted to seeking a center and a powerful fullback. None of the candidates for the center berth are experienced in that position.

Bernard Jenkins of Williamsport, and Bill Murner of Hopewell, Va., have tied for the honor of lightest men on the football squad, each tipping the scales at a scant 140 pounds. Rockfellow Vanders of Arden, is the undisputable holder of the heavy weight on the squad with 229 pounds to his credit.

Pirate mentors lost no time in putting the boys to work on fundamentals as the men had been warned to report in good condition the first practice session found backing and tackling in order.

Three candidates of the Pirate football squad found the work too hard and have turned in their uniforms already.

Charles Ebbet, one of Coach Alexander's hopefuls for a backfield post was incapacitated for football service in an automobile accident near Marion, S. C., Sunday. He suffered five broken ribs and broke a collar bone in the mishap.

MOUNT VERNON'S GUARD HAZY ABOUT POTOMAC

Alexandria, Va. (AP)—William J. Permar, who has answered three or four million questions about Mount Vernon during 35 years as a guard at Washington's home, had to ask a few questions about the place himself the other day.

The occasion was the 82-year-old guard's first airplane ride. The pilot pointed over the side of the plane and told Mr. Permar he was looking down at Mount Vernon.

"If that's Mount Vernon," said doing in from of it, I never saw Permar, "then what's that creek that before?"

"That's the Potomac river," replied the pilot.

Eleven persons met death and 100 persons were injured, many critically, when two sister trains of the Southern Pacific Railroad crashed head-on near Niland, Calif. Nearly all the passengers were asleep at the time of the collision, and darkness heightened the confusion and hysteria of the survivors.

To Seek Legislation For Control Over Roadsides

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Legislation providing an adequate basis of authority for effective control of roadside uses will be sought by the Governor's Committee on Roadside Control and Improvement, under recommendations submitted to the committee today by its work sub-committee.

Chief among the objectives will be amendments to the sanitary inspection laws, in order to give health authorities adequate authority over all tourist homes, cabin and trailer camps, service stations and wayside stands.

Recommendations of the work sub-committee were embodied in a twelve page, mimeographed report submitted to the entire committee at a meeting begun here early this afternoon.

A series of ten recommendations, covering a wide field, and 14 "suggestions for a work program" were included in the report.

It was recommended that the Governor's committee continue to serve as the central organization for roadside work with additional members being appointed in order to secure representation for all cooperating groups. The work committee also urged that immediate steps be taken to inaugurate a state-wide campaign of publicity and education on the purposes of the legislative program and work for the enactment of laws by the next General Assembly.

1. Roadside work, for the present at least, should largely be confined to the more important and heavily traveled highways, the committee felt, though the minor roadways should not be altogether neglected.
2. In its suggestions for a program of work the sub-committee proposed a 14-point plan, among which were:
  1. Enactment of legislation giving fundamental control of roadsides and adjacent areas, on the principal of zoning, giving authority for inspections, supervisions, fees and penalties.
  2. Support for continuation of work now being done by the State Highway Commission on Highway Beautification and Landscaping.
  3. Consideration of a policy which would include clearing, grading, finishing of slopes and similar

4. Preparation and publication of plans for development of highway rights-of-way.
5. Consideration of the question of adequacy of traffic signs.
6. Improvement of Service stations and garages in cooperation with oil companies and station operators.
7. Improvement of tourist facilities, with special regard to control of the registration of guests, sanitary inspections, police supervision.
8. Improvement of wayside stands for the sale of farm products.
9. Improvement of rural homes and surroundings.
10. General improvement campaigns with statewide, county-wide or community contests and awards.
11. Regulations of signs and billboards, including surveys of billboards with oil companies and station operators.
12. Elimination of used-car dumps and public dumps within sight of highways. Control of "boneyards."
13. Erection of additional markers or signs for tourist interest, historical markers, landmarks, gardens, scenic and recreational at-

FOUND TREE GREW BETTER ON A JUNK HEAP

LaFayette, Ind. (AP)—Peeved 4 years ago because a peach tree died while growing under apparently ideal conditions, Earl H. Walters put a peach seedling into soil filled with tin cans and iron junk.

ATHLETIC UNIT IS COMPLETED

Conference Adopted Last Spring Perfect-ed Last Night

An athletic organization, known as the Eastern North Carolina Athletic Conference, organized here last spring, was perfected at a meeting conducted at Respass' place last night.

When the nucleus of the conference was formed in the spring, C. A. Davis of Roanoke Rapids, was elected president; Gene Booth of Kinston, vice-president; and Burt Johnson of Goldsboro, secretary-treasurer. Each of these men was retained for these positions last night.

Cities and towns represented in the conference are Greenville, Roanoke Rapids, Washington, Kinston, Goldsboro, Elizabeth City and Edenton. It is expected that Tarboro will eventually join the conference, in that a number of athletic contests have already been scheduled with schools already in the conference.

The new conference is a revival of the former Northeastern Conference, which dissolved several years ago. Rules of the new conference are based on those of the North Carolina Athletic Association and are expected to eliminate uncertainty as regards athletic contests, which has prevailed since the former conference faded from existence.

One of the major accomplishments at last night's session was to iron out gaps in football schedules for conference members. Basketball schedules for the ensuing season were also mapped.

J. H. Rose, superintendent of the local city schools, announced at the meeting that golf and tennis teams will be organized for the sports curricula of the high school this year.

Persons in attendance included superintendents, principals and the coaches of schools in the conference. Inclement weather kept Elizabeth City representatives from attending.

The football schedule for this high school for the 1938 season is as follows:

- Sept. 20, Plymouth at Greenville;
- Oct. 7, Tarboro at Greenville;
- Oct. 14, Rich Square at Greenville;
- Oct. 21, Greenville at Roanoke Rapids;
- Oct. 28, Greenville at Kinston;
- Nov. 4, Ayden at Greenville;
- Nov. 11, Greenville at Goldsboro;
- Nov. 18, New Bern at Greenville;
- Nov. 23, Greenville at Washington.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 21—(AP)—Wall street found the stock market's sensitivity to European news a bit dull today and reports the Czech government had accepted the British-French proposals excited only a short-lived buying flurry. However, relief at what appeared to have been a narrow escape from an immediate large scale war in Europe still found expression in a leaning toward the buying side. Near the finish most stocks retained gains of fractions to around a point after yielding part of their winnings in a noisy forenoon flurry of buying, touched off by financial ticker flashes that the Czechs had capitulated. Transactions approximated 1,050,000 shares.

is to be paid out of PWA funds. Although it has been tentatively decided as yet, Mayor Blount declared that sentiment appeared to be in favor of placing the municipal building on the corner of Washington and Fifth streets and the fire station at the corner of Greene and Fifth streets. The mayor explained that the aldermen considered three sites at length before making their final decision on a location for the city hall, these being the Flanagan property on Evans street, the House property on West Third street and the site purchased. He declared that of these three the land purchased was the cheapest per front footage. In discussing the advantages of the James property, he declared that, both buildings could be located on the lot, thus requiring only one heating plant, one janitor service and said it would prove beneficial in cases of fires, when both firemen and policemen are called to duty. Expressing the belief that the two buildings should be located near each other, the mayor said it was a rare thing to be able to purchase a site so strategically located and large enough for two buildings of the nature planned.

There is a possibility that the highway on Greene street will be widened. The State Highway and Public Works Commission already has agreed to widen the river dam and road from the bridge to the Stokes road and Mayor Blount said it was possible the commission would extend the project and widen the street south of the bridge to Dickinson avenue. The widening project is being held up until after the heavy traffic during the tobacco auction season is over. The site purchased was offered for $35,000. The aldermen in executive session Monday night voted to offer $30,000 for the property these terms having been met late yesterday afternoon.

preme Court by the state elections board which certified that Deane, of Rockingham, had a majority of 23 votes over W. O. Burgin of Lexington, in the run-off primary of July 2. It was from a decision by Superior Court Judge W. C. Harris, sustaining a contention of Burgin that the state board was without power to go behind the face of returns certified to it by the various county boards. The court held that the returns accepted by the state board from Richmond and Davidson counties had not been made in accordance with the law. The Richmond returns, it set forth, were ostensibly certified by two members of the county board without the formality of a regular meeting. This return, the record said, gave Dean 16 additional votes. The Davidson returns, it continued, were taken to Raleigh by two over their protests 162 votes for Burgin and six for Deane were voided by order of the state board.

STORM PASSES OFF CAROLINA

result of an abnormally high tide, but said the water had receded today. Clear weather and light winds prevailed there. Manteo, near Elizabeth City, was without power for several hours after a number of power poles had been blown down. Mail boats and ferries remained in port there as a measure of safety. Boats were made secure at Morehead City. Many small crafts sought shelter in creeks and other protected water. Weather Bureau Chief J. J. Murphy said at Norfolk the disturbance would skirt the Virginia coast at least 200 miles at sea unless its directions change, but officials at the Norfolk Navy yard and air stations ordered buildings and dry docks strengthened against possible wind and water damage. The Jacksonville weather bureau said tides along the Carolina coast had reached abnormal heights in advance of the hurricane.

that the republic faced loss of considerable territory. In the streets there were shouts of "rather war," and "we want a dictatorship." A crowd estimated at more than 5,000 persons staged noisy demonstrations in the main thoroughfares of the capital. They cried: "Long live the army," and "Long live Czechoslovakia." Thousands of persons crowded into the entrances of buildings and in windows of hotels and business establishments to cheer the marchers. Taxicabs bearing Czech army officers were applauded by marchers and spectators. The line of demonstrators grew longer with each block and the crowds in the streets increased rapidly. The propaganda minister's disclosure came after it had been announced officially that Foreign Minister Krofta would receive the British and French envoys this afternoon. Reinforced Czech police lined the thoroughfares for any signs of outbreak or violence.

Thousands of persons crowded into the entrances of buildings and in windows of hotels and business establishments to cheer the marchers.
