PEACE REMEDY PROFFERED BY WILLIAM DODD

Proposes Great Britain, France, U. S., Get Together

DECLARES PLAN AS SINGLE HOPE

Former Ambassador to Germany Calls For Cooperation Of Great Democracies

Boston, Oct. 20.—(AP)—William Dodd, former U. S. Ambassador to Germany, today declared "there is only one peace remedy and that is for England, France and the United States to get together."

In a prepared address at the annual meeting and industrial conference of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, Dodd said: "That means a return to the Wilson-Washington point of view: easy trade relations, the payment of debts to one people, forbidding of wars and the redistribution of urban populations."

"That would increase industrial activity among democracies and nearly all the smaller nations would join the cooperative system."

"It would," he added, "ultimately prevent war, for a boycott would be applied to nations that violated their solemn treaty obligations or went to war to seize other nation's territory."

"If democracies, still leading world civilization, are once able to cooperate in economic affairs and offer solid fronts to Hitler and Mussolini," he said "Spain will survive and Latin America will not become Nazi or Fascist. If this can not be done before 1940 or 1942 we shall have a strange civilization, no man allowed to use his tongue, except to eat, and no publisher allowed to print the truth. That would be a sad day for the lovers of liberty."

Retired Publisher Dies In Goldsboro

Goldsboro, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Arthur Rosecrant, 75, retired newspaper publisher, died in his sleep at his home here last night of a heart malady.

The funeral services will be held at 11 a. m., tomorrow from the late home.

Rosecrant was a native of Poland. He worked as reporter in New York before coming here. He published Goldsboro Headlights, a weekly, from 1887 to 1922.

Survivors include his widow and two children.

Two Boys Accused In Western Union Theft

Local police officers cleared up the recent robbery of the local Western Union office today and announced that Eugene Jones and Otha Taylor, local youths, were responsible for the theft.

The office was entered one night last week and $12.42 in cash and 60 cents worth of stamps were stolen.

Jones recently has been charged with being involved in other thefts and Taylor was said to have formerly worked for the Western Union.

Prominent Citizens Ask for Community Chest Again

Support for conducting a community chest again in Greenville this year came today from three of the city's most prominent citizens.

The plan was supported in a letter signed by Marvin Blount, J. H. Walpole and Julian J. White.

The letter follows: "We found the Community Chest to be far superior to the former way of a multiplicity of solicitations. It suited me better to have the one solicitation for the three agencies—Boy Scouts, Thrift Shop, and Salvation Army."

"The amount set as the goal seemed to be raised much more easily than ever before on any of the single campaigns. Donors seemed to be able to figure more nearly how much they wanted to give."

PLANS TO CALL COUNTY MEETS

Community Committeemen for AAA To Be Named

County Agent R. R. Bennett said today that Pitt County will elect community committeemen to serve under the 1939 AAA program next week.

The county agent's announcement followed one by E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State College, Raleigh, that all counties would name committeemen between now and October.

Most of the counties will hold a series of meetings at the end of this week or the first of next week at which nominees will be voted upon. Three men will be named to serve in each community, as well as two alternates.

Floyd explained that one delegate will also be selected at these meetings to attend a county-wide session where the county AAA committee will be elected. As in the communities, the county committee will be composed of three men and two alternates.

Highway Safety, Library, NYA, School Booths Praised

What was officially stated as one of the largest, if not the largest, crowd ever to attend a Pitt county fair jammed the exposition and an equally as large crowd was expected today and tonight.

K. Kerr Scott, State Commissioner of Agriculture attended the local American Legion-sponsored fair today and addressed the crowd.

before the fair is over, the management having announced today that all children, both white and colored, would be admitted to the grounds free Saturday until four o'clock.

Several display booths, not entered for competition, are attracting much favorable comment. Among those winning high praise are the State Highway Safety division booth, one by Sheppard Memorial library and another by the National Youth Administration.

The Highway Safety display is in great demand. It came here direct from the State Fair and the local exposition is considered terrifically interesting in securing it. The booth includes a map showing where fatal accidents occurred in the state, county, pictures of bad wrecks, a notice showing fatalities in the police radio receiving set, a traffic signal light, etc. will be at the Rocky Mount fair next week.

Sheppard Memorial library in its citizens of the entire county "To Read." The library is attempting to reach all persons regardless of where they live in the county. Of its 3,919 registered readers, 1,336 live outside Greenville. During September and October 44 readers took out library cards. Of this number 21 live in Greenville and 23 outside the city. The purpose of the booth, declared Mrs. W. C. Vincent, librarian, was to advertise the library and impress the people of the county that the library was available to them at all times.

The NYA booth, which is done in a red, white and blue color scheme, displays the work carried on by the young people of the county. Mrs. L. W. Gaylord is supervisor of NYA work in Pitt county. Honoring the originator of NYA, the booth displays a picture of President Roosevelt.

Although the NYA booth was not eligible for competition with the community exhibits, Mrs. Gaylord entered five articles in general competition and won four prizes, two first and two second.

Mrs. Gaylord explained that NYA would distribute toys, etc. constructed by the young people to children as Christmas time and said that quilted comforts would go to people in need, to be designated by the Welfare department.

In Pitt County there are sixty youths between the ages of 18 and 25 working on various projects. (Continued on page five)

PTA Undertakes Project To Save Children's Sight

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Training school has undertaken a project which is believed will save the vision of a number of children who otherwise would become totally or partly blind.

Under the project all children recommended by the teachers will be given examinations by local eye specialists who have volunteered their services. It was emphasized that only children whose parents are unable to provide the services themselves will be considered. A list of children to be examined will be submitted to the welfare department in order to be certain that only the children who otherwise could not secure the examination and glasses will be treated.

Teachers of the school declare the project affects every student because one child with bad vision impedes the progress of the entire class.

After the children have been examined those found to be in need of glasses will be provided with them—so far as the available funds can be extended. In this connection it was pointed out that the association does not have the funds necessary to carry out the project and an appeal of some kind might be made for donations. Two organizations already have made contributions to the fund.

The cost of the glasses will be held to a minimum, approximately $3.50 per pair. The welfare department is going to secure the glasses at wholesale.

MANY BATTLES SEEM ASSURED FOR CONGRESS

Contests Imminent Regardless Outcome of Elections

OPINIONS VARY ON WAGNER ACT

At Least Half Dozen Issues Already Slated for Probable Consideration

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Members of Congress are certain to some free-for-all legislative battles the next session, regardless of the results of the November elections.

At least a half dozen issues, already slated for consideration, probably will develop vigorous debate and much political maneuvering. On some questions, party lines may be split deeply.

A major argument among several divergent interests is expected to develop over suggested revision of the Wagner Labor act.

Conflicting suggestions are apt to come up from the administrative, anti-administration legislators, business spokesmen the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Similarly numerous proposals to change the social security act are anticipated. Administration lieutenants probably will try to hold any revision within limits approved by the Social Security Board.

Other developments: James Mitchell of Detroit, formerly in charge of welfare activities of a local union of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO affiliate, told House investigators that communists apparently "have a lot of influence on" John L. Lewis.

Testifying before a committee investigating un-American activities, he said communists had "engineered" a sit-down strike in the Murray body plant in Detroit in 1936 and in 1937.

A leading government economist estimated that business improvement since June has reduced unemployment by 1,000,000 men and women.

At Hyde Park sources said President Roosevelt was represented by a senatorial caller as preferring an international agreement to divide up the world markets for different products, like wheat and cotton, over the dumping of such commodities abroad at ridiculously low prices.

Senator Lee (D-Okla.) so defined the President's views before leaving early today for Albany.

Jesse H. Haddock Claimed By Death

Jesse H. Haddock, 65, of Winterville, R. F. D., died a 5 o'clock this morning following several weeks of critical illness. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow by Rev. Walter Nobles, Winterville minister. Burial will follow in the cemetery near the home.

Mr. Haddock was born, reared and spent his entire life at the home on the Old New Bern road, near Rose Hill Free Will Baptist church, of which he had been a member for a number of years. He was a farmer and well known in the southern section of Pitt county.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. William Ann Haddock; one son, Joe D. Haddock of the home place; two daughters, Miss Grace Haddock of the home and Mrs. Robert Haddock of near the home; one sister, Mrs. Sude Bright of Roanoke Rapids; and one brother, F. A. Haddock of near the home place.

IF YOU WANT TO GET IN TROUBLE, JUST TRY YOUR HAND AT GIVING MONEY

Oklahoma City (AP)—Don Hoover, executive secretary of the Oklahoma City Dairy Council, almost went to jail for trying to give away money.

He was assigned by the council to give 600 one dollar bills to 600 housewives. His job was to call at homes, inquire if the lady of the house had a bottle of buttermilk in the ice box and if she did to hand her a $1 bill. The idea was to stimulate buttermilk sales.

Hoover reported that a number of housewives rejected the dollar with the statement "there must be a catch to it," but one slammed the door in his face.

When Hoover was several houses away, the police radio patrol car drew up at the curb and two officers stepped out to question him. The woman down the street had reported there was "a crazy man on my porch."

The population of Hawaii on June 30 of this year was placed at 411,485 or an increase of 14,770 over the previous year.

Increased Indications Of Better Chinese Defense

Japs, However, Drive Forward In Efforts To Reach Canton

Hongkong, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Japanese troops drove forward today in their hurried efforts to reach Canton, but there were mounting indications that the Chinese defense at last was asserting itself.

A Japanese "mosquito" fleet of armed motor boats was reported skirting the South China coast to add a river assault to the overland drive. The invaders were seeking to advance from a point 50 miles east of Canton and from another place a few miles north of the first point.

From these points, however, the Japanese face what was regarded as the main line of defense protecting the city. These fortifications, prepared over a period of three years, include well-placed machine gun nests and an inter-laced trench system.

Fully 120,000 province troops manned this defense line, which Japan must crack or outflank in their drive to reach Canton by November 3, 22nd anniversary of the proclamation of Emperor Hirohito as crown prince of Japan.

The situation had its dangers for fast moving Japanese columns, which have penetrated 80 miles into the interior since the South China offensive started October 12.

Swiftly striking Japanese forces were reported today to be threatening the next line of Hankow defenses in another drive.

CALL MADE BY PARTY LEADER

Dr. Paul Jones Calls For Attendance At District Rally

Dr. Paul E. Jones of Farmville, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, today called upon party officials and other interested Democrats to attend the Congressional Rally to be held in Williamston Tuesday of next week.

The meeting is scheduled to get under way at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. Jones declared it was important that the vice-chairman, secretary and the full county Executive committee, members of the Congressional, Judicial and State Senatorial Executive committees attend the meeting. Also, he said, the President and other officials of the Young Democratic club, the Democratic members of the County Board of Elections, and all interested persons are urged to attend.

High party officials will be at the meeting. R. Gregg Cherry, of Gastonia, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee, will be present, as will Congressman Lindsay C. Warren.

Dr. Jones revealed that he had received a letter from State Chairman Cherry urging that a large delegation from Pitt county attend the party rally.

CZECHS CLAIM LINE CROSSED

Disorders Provoked in Northern Bohemian Area When Patrol Protests Against Occupation of Town by Sudeten German Free Corps

Prague, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The general staff reported today six persons were killed during disorders provoked yesterday by Sudeten Germans in two separated districts.

It said four persons died during rifle attacks by Sudeten German Free Corps members on a Czech military patrol in a place in northern Bohemia.

A communique said the mayor of that northern Bohemian place became the fifth victim when he was killed after the battle was over.

The sixth person reported killed was a farmer. The general staff announced he was working in his field when a German soldier fired on him.

It said the trouble in northern Bohemia started when the Czech patrol, protesting against occupation of the village, visited the German commander and urged him to withdraw his troops.

The Czechs declared the Germans had overstepped the new frontier line in taking the place.

During military conferences residents began taking down swastika banners which had been hung in windows prior to the entrance of the German troops.

Members of the Free Corps, the general staff asserted, hurried to a neighboring village and returned with a detachment of Sudeten custom guards and opened fire on the Czechs.

One Czech soldier and three Czech policemen fell with the first volley. The mayor was killed later because, it was charged, he was carrying firearms.

Election of a successor to Edouard Beneš as president of Czechoslovakia, meanwhile, was postponed indefinitely today, pending the conclusion of negotiations on the minority problems and establishment of the new frontiers.

Kills Self After Slaying Own Wife

Burlington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Coroner R. M. Troxler reported that Irene Evans, middle-aged Burlington woman was fatally wounded today by her estranged husband, Dorso Evans, Burlington ice man, who then shot himself to death with a borrowed pistol. The shooting took place in Belmont, mill village on the edge of Burlington.

Troxler said that both victims died before ambulances reached the scene of the shooting.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS USED LOTS OF INK

Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo. (AP)—Tourists who crossed Fall River Pass this summer used 1-2 quarts of ink and wore out 26 pen points in registering at the pass museum.

Raymond Gregg, park naturalist, said 22,536 persons signed the museum register, but that they were only about one-fifth of the persons who visited the place.

HOEY MAY END ELECTION ROW

Moves to Insure Democratic Nominee in Eighth District

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Governor Hoey moved today as titular head of the Democratic party to insure a Democratic nominee for Congress in the Eighth District by compromise, which probably would mean withdrawal by C. B. Deane of Rockingham and W. O. Burgin of Lexington from the long-contested battle.

There was a growing sentiment among political leaders here that Rep. Walter Lambeth, who had announced his retirement, might be the nominee chosen by the Eighth District committee.

Lambeth, it was understood, had no desire to return to Congress, in line with his announcement of retirement, but would likely take the nomination in the interest of the party.

Governor Hoey declined to reveal just what he was doing, but said there might be positive action during the day. The Chief Executive acted after Chairman W. A. Lucas of the State Elections Board told him this morning that he did not think it would be possible to determine judicially and legally a nominee in time for his name to be placed on the ballot.

Deane and Burgin have been contending for the nomination before the State Board of Elections, in Wake Superior court, and twice before the State Supreme court, since the July 2nd primary.

ANCIENT 'FLOOR' BOTHERS OIL DRILLERS

Washington Court House Ohio. (AP)—A "wooden floor" of logs buried at great depths by ancient glaciers has been giving oil drillers considerable trouble in Fayette county.

One log 20 inches in diameter was struck at the 55-foot depth between difficult hardpan deposits. The drillers had to resharpen drills repeatedly to get through.

SCHOOLS SEEK GREATER FUND

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—Budget requests for $55,233,156.86 for operation of the public schools, including provision for a five per cent salary increase for teachers, shot requests for state departments for the 1939-41 biennium to a record high at $144,956,000 today.

This biennium the schools are getting $49,362,106 and general appropriations are $122,137,094, including highway money.

The Advisory Budget Commission virtually concluded its oral hearings when it took up the school requests, which were presented in three forms so as to show needs on the present salary basis, needs with a five per cent raise, and needs with pay cut put at the 1929 pre-depression level.

The commission will start work tomorrow on a report for the 1939 legislature.

There was a minor difference between estimates of the school commission, which handles school matters, and the Department of Public Instruction, which is the professional end. The department estimate ran $1,000 up for 1939 and $38,000 up for 1940-41.

Before hearing the school matters, the commission was appealed to by T. W. Davis and Murray Allen and R. T. Joyner of Raleigh, attorneys, who said they represented all railroads in North Carolina, to reduce franchise taxes on railroads.

ey, and the Department of Public Instruction, which is the professional end. The department estimate ran $1,000 up for 1939 and $38,000 up for 1940-41.

FAIR EXHIBITS WORTH SEEING

If you have not been out to the Pitt County Fair we urge you to do so, not just to support the American Legion Posts who are sponsoring the fair, but because it will be your loss if you do not see the wonderful exhibits being shown.

According to all those who have seen them the exhibits are by far the best that have ever been shown at a fair in this city and show clearly what can be accomplished by Pitt County citizens especially our farmers.
Of course there are free acts, fireworks and the midway for your entertainment but even if you are not interested in these phases of the fair it will still be worth your while to see the exhibits.

Pitt County needs to get away from one-crop farming and produce more of its own supplies and the exhibits at the fair reveal that this can be done on the farms of Pitt County. A visit to the fair will prove worthwhile for you.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 20—Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell strolled into the office of State Senator John D. Larkins, head of the committee for Four-year Terms for Sheriffs.

A moment later another gentleman dropped by. The Commissioner and the newcomer shook hands.
"My name is Maxwell—Mortimer Maxwell," said the arrival.

"So's mine," replied the Revenue Head. "Hum, I believe you even look like a Maxwell," he added.

Mortimer stared long at Allen
J. Ten—

"I know I'm ugly, but I really didn't think I was that bad."

Glancing through "Accident Facts," a publication of the National Safety Council, your correspondent was struck by the fact that the world's record for most accident-less miles driven by any commercial "fleet" of motor vehicles is held by the Panhandle Refining company, of Wichita Falls, Texas, whose gasoline trucks drove 2,934,810 miles without an accident of any sort.

It was contrary to the general impression that the big gas trucks are perhaps the most frequent subjects for accidents.

It's still next to impossible to talk to more than a half dozen state employees without hearing at least one of them grumble about "assessments." There is, undoubtedly, a very strong under-current of dissatisfaction with the Democratic State Chairman's action in setting departmental quotas based on "pay rolls."

Nathan H. Yelton, director of Old Age Assistance program in N.
C. is responsible for this one.

In a certain county there is an outcast recipient of old age assistance who has been known on more than one occasion to visit the ABC store and spend a large part of his check for the stuff that sometimes cheers and always inebriates.

Finally one of the county welfare board thought it his bounden duty to point out to the old fellow the error of his ways. So the officious official walked over to the veteran's house where he found his man, sitting in the room with his wife, herself more than 70.

As gently as possible the visitor remonstrated with the pensioner, pointing out the disastrous consequences of his over-bibulousness.
Finally the old chap rose dogder-ingly to his feet, pointed a waver-ing cane in the direction of his wife and quavered.

"Now, Mr. Superintendent, I know you'll understand how it is with me. You see that woman over there—well, the only time she looks pretty to me is when I'm drinking."

If anyone doubts that there's going to be a real fight in the 1939 General Assembly over who shall get intangible tax revenues—state or counties, listen to what John L.
Skinner, secretary of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners, told his organization recently.

"We need to go down to the legislature at the next session and convince those birds down there that Porsyth county cannot stand the loss of $110,000 in revenue. Let us figure around $10,000 per county. You will see just what the counties of North Carolina will lose in this recent tax reform amendment, that we knew was damn foolishness when it was passed. Excuse me, ladies, but that just the truth, as I see it, nothing more or less."

Little Doubt About Outcome of Any of Saturday's Tilts

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL.
Raleigh, Oct. 20—Gasoline tax collections in North Carolina this week end are likely to take a sharp drop as football-mad fans get a chance to catch their breaths and take a Saturday off from dashing madly over the state to see their favorites in action.

All members of the State's "Big Five" are scheduled—in fact there are two civil war battles slated—but, barring upsets so unexpected as to be near-miracles there isn't enough doubt about the outcome of any game to start any real safaris moving along our highways.

At Davidson, North Carolina's Tar Heels will have a chance to relax in their so-called contest with Gene McEver's dull-clawed Cats. About four touchdowns is a fair estimate of the Heels' superiority on the basis of season's play—and that's conservative.

At Winston-Salem, as they dedicate the Bowman Gray Stadium, Duke's Blue Devils will have to keep a weather eye peeled for Wake Forest's twinkie-toed backs, but all of the omens and portents point to a Methodist victory over the Baptists, and with plenty to spare. Of all the melées involving Big Five squads, however, here is the best chance for a fire and brimstone affair. Peahead Walker and his men haven't forgotten that sixty-something to nothing massacre or last year and they will be gunning for Wallace Wade's men. At that, and conceding Wake's strength, the main issue is whether the Foresters will be able to put the first smirch on Duke's un-scored on escutcheon.

Here in Raleigh, the Staete Wolfpack, apparently a good team except when overawed by University of North Carolina jerseys, rates so far ahead of Furman's blown-out Hurricane that not even Homecoming Day ballyhoo has been able to rouse any enthusiasm. Yet they do say that the South Carolina team is better than its record, and may spring a real surprise.

another CCC worker, taken there for treatment, was serious, and that of still another was fair.
District Attorney Edwin Tompkins said his investigation was designed to establish "the truth of falsity" of reports he heard that the CCC boys had been rushed into the flaming inferno without proper supervision and that four fires had broken out within an eight-mile area entered by the doomed men under what he termed "most unusual coincidences."
CCC officials, who launched their own investigation, refusing to discuss the situation officially, said Mooney was in the technical service of the department of forest and waters.

which consists of youth community services, construction and renovation of buildings, home-making, general nursing and clerical work performed largely in the offices of Welfare agencies. Our creed is not only to help the youth find a job but also to help him get joy out of living.

Among the many types of outstanding work that has been accomplished by these inexperienced workers, is the home making project in Arden. These girls have made men's and women's outing pajamas for tuberculars at Sanatorium, dresses, layettes made for the Pitt County Welfare Department, to distribute among the needy sheets, pillow cases and mattress covers for the hieconomy home. For train value these girls are being taught to make rugs, mats and hats. Then too, the colored youths have assisted at the Ayden Community House in preparing and serving suppers twice a week for the Rotarians. These youths are taught to set a table, arrange flowers etc. We hope this will be beneficial training for them in domestic service.

The art department of the local high school has a booth at the exposition in which it features paintings, crayon drawings and recent copies of the school publication, Green Lights.

CHEST SOUGHT BY LOCAL MEN

agencies and prevent duplication of projects or carelessness in the drawing of budgets is a distinct advantage over enthusiastic supporters going before the community for all they can raise.

"Thus being aware of the ease with which the Community Chest goal was realized, being aware of the less bother to donors, being aware of the absence of duplication got by more co-operation, being aware of economies affected by greater care in drawing the various budgets, I for one heartily favor the Community Chest and look forward to last year's trial and success being repeated as a proven and improved idea for taking care of the social problems handled by charity in our community.

"In conclusion may we suggest that the Community Chest should expand its program this year and provide a fund for taking care of direct relief which our community will surely be called upon for this winter. Everyone will be sure it is judiciously spent if the Board of Directors of the Community Chest direct its expenditure.

"We are sure the whole community shares your sentiments as expressed in your worthwhile editorial about the Community Chest in Tuesday night's Daily Reflector."

PLANS TO CALL COUNTY MEETS

committees will serve the duration of the 1938 program and will assume their duties as soon as they have been selected. Their first job will be to help the county committee in determining acreage allotments, goals, normal yields, and other information necessary under next year's program.

Any farmer who participated in and cooperated with the 1938 agricultural conservation program will be eligible to vote at the community meetings.

Committeemen will be nominated from the floor at the community meetings and voted upon through written ballots.

"Since so much of the success of the farm program depends on the community committeemen," Floyd declared, "it will be necessary that the voters use direction in the selection of this man. He must be the type of man who will not let personal feelings influence his decision in the determining of quotas and other work connected with the program.

"Every eligible grower should take this opportunity to attend these meetings and help in the selection of his committeemen."

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PAROLE
Notice is hereby given that E. E. Eubanks, who was convicted on September 6, 1938, in the Pitt County Recorder's Court, on a charge of possessing whiskey for the purpose of sale, and sentenced to serve a term under the supervision of the State Highway Commission, is making application to the Pardon Commission of North Carolina for parole. All persons who oppose the granting of said parole are requested to immediately file protest with said Pardon Commission.

ECTC PIRATES HEADING WEST

Leave Tomorrow For Contest With West Carolina Teachers

Coaches Alexander and Gilbert are leaving Friday morning for Cullowhee for the annual game with West Carolina Teachers College.

The Pirate coaches are enthusiastic over the improvement made by their proteges in the last ten days. They are showing more progressiveness and scrap, and realize that they have got to hustle to beat the Cata-mounts. The local boys have an inexperienced group, many of them having played their first game at the beginning of the present season, but they have developed a progressive fighting attitude and are playing improved ball as was evidenced in the intra-squad game and in today's tough scrimmage session.

The coaches are well satisfied with the blocking by Floyd Hinton and the hustling and play of Earl Smith.

Norman Mayo is showing steady improvement in the center position and is expected to start Saturday's game against West Carolina Teachers. Mayo, backfield man, weighs 180 pounds and plays a hard, aggressive game. He has a lot of stamina and strength, and should add much to the Pirate lineup.

Bill Shelton is devoting considerable time to polishing his passing and kicking attack and played a fine piece of ball in the scrimmages of the past week.

Lester Ridenhour is coming along in fine shape, having completely recovered from a severe cold.

Brown and Moge, who have gained the inside edge on the guard positions, will have plenty of competition in Frazzelle and Rogers.

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The stock market continued to work under wraps today, but selected issues managed to put on a mild recovery jog.

Offerings were light at the start, although sufficient to give the list a ragged appearance until buyers began to nibble at a few steels, motors, utilities, rails and a handful of specialties. Moderate losses, however, were plentiful near the fourth hour.

French Picture At Pitt Theatre

'Carnival in Flanders,' the French movie that had its premiere in New York some time ago, will be shown at the Pitt Friday morning at 10 o'clock, for only one performance.

Critics, as well as important members of the industry and thousands of movie goers, have been unanimous in pointing out that here is the first picture whose dialogue is in a language other than English, that has a universal appeal and that offers superb entertainment, not only to those who understand the French language, but to those millions and millions of movie patrons who never patronize anything except English language films, due to lack of foreign languages.

In her Daily News Review, Wanda Hale said: "You don't have to understand one word of the film's language to get its delicious flavor. Go and tell your friends." Frank Nugent of the New York Times in full accord with his opinion, said: "It speaks a universal language. Even without the many English subtitles, it would be clearly understood."

During its long New York run, a check up of patrons has proved conclusively that the majority of people who have witnessed "Carnival in Flanders" have absolutely no knowledge of the French language and are movie patrons who ordinarily attend nothing but showings of American films in the English language.

There are several reasons for this. One is the highly entertaining and completely clarifying set of superimposed English subtitles. Another is the superb artistry of the cast, whose histrionic genius make the import of their every action clear to those who speak French and those who do not. But most important of all, the magnificence of the production, the human qualities of the story unfolded, the delicious flavor of the comedy situations, the tenderness of the romantic interludes offer screen entertainment seldom equaled by any picture ever made in any language.
