HULL ASSERTS JAP REPLY NOT SATISFACTORY

Secretary Had Held Japs Violated American Rights

PROTEST CITED MANY INSTANCES

Further Statement Is Withheld by Cabinet Member Until Reply Studied Further

Washington, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Secretary Hull declared today Japan's reply to his note of October 6 was unsatisfactory.

Hull's note had asserted that Japan was violating American rights in China in an extensive series of monopolies, trade restrictions, currency changes and tariff alterations.

The Secretary of State said the Japanese reply received this week was not responsible to the position of this government as set forth in his note of October 6 and to the general position which this country has taken throughout its history with regard to American rights and interests not only in relations with China, but also in relations with all countries.

Hull added he preferred not to comment further until the State Department should have had more time to study the substance and implications of the Japanese note.

Other developments: Alice Lee Jemison, a Seneca Indian, told House investigators that Secretary Ickes, Indian Commissioner John Collier and several officials of the Indian Bureau were members of the Civil Liberties Union or had expressed a belief in its principles.

Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the committee investigating anti-American activities, said numerous witnesses had described as a union as a Communist "front" organization.

Miss Jemison said she was Washington president of the American Indian Federation, an organization of about 3,500 Indians or persons who have inter-married with Indians, said that legislation recommended by the Civil Liberties Union had been approved by Congress.

Administrator Elmer Andrews said the wage-hour administration soon would start prosecuting violators of the fair labor standards act.

He announced at a press conference he had received about 1,200 complaints alleging violations.

Walter Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia, suggested to a Senate committee that one way to get workers back to work was to allow their employers more liberal tax treatment.

He said specifically that companies should be allowed off more for depreciation than present tax minima permits. Industrial plant expansion would follow, he contended, in testimony before a group investigating "incentive taxation," profit sharing systems and related subjects.

Democrats Trying To Restore Peace

New York, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A conference of eastern and southern Democratic committee men which inquired into the reasons for the party's losses in the November 8 election concluded today, and National Chairman James Farley completed plans for similar talks with western leaders in Chicago next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The discussions he had said were aimed in part to "clear up any misunderstandings within the party that may exist"—an apparent reference to dissension that accompanied President Roosevelt's "purge" campaign in the Democratic primaries.

Summing up the conference, L. W. Robert, secretary of the national committee, remarked smilingly: "We wanted to find out where these bricks were thrown from."

Another subject of discussion was the recently launched campaign of Mayor LaGuardia of New York to unite "the Progressives" of the country.

The Golden Leaf Service station on Dickson avenue was robbed sometime between closing time last night and this morning and a large quantity of goods taken, as well as an estimated $22.15 in cash.

Police headquarters reported today that several boxes of cigars, about 10 cartons of cigarettes, three boxes of chewing gum, one flashlight, $10 in nickels, $7 in dimes, $5 in quarters and 15 cents in pennies were taken.

The Point View service station was robbed Sunday night and officers are investigating the theory that both robberies were by the same person or persons. Thus far no arrests have been made in either robbery.

His book describes 15 years in the colony. The French government recently shipped more than 700 offenders to the dreaded islands aboard a prison ship.

SAYS LIBRARY IS NO STORAGE

University Women Hear Librarian For High School

"A library is no longer to be considered as a storage place, but should be recognized as a most progressive and vital force in the community," Mrs. Luther Herring, librarian of the High school told the members of the Greenville American Association of University Women at their regular meeting Monday evening at the Sheppard Memorial Library.

The Sheppard Memorial Library, Mrs. Herring stated, with approximately 8,000 volumes, has an average daily circulation of 236, with a total annual circulation of 79,963.

Appropriately for the close of National Book Week, Local Library Facilities was the topic for the evening. Dr. Dorothy Snyder, the president, presided.

Miss Mamie Jenkins, chairman of the Program committee, and Mrs. Hazel Brown Madry, chairman of the social studies committee, told briefly of program plans for the year. It was decided to hold a next meeting on Monday evening, December 5, at 7:30 in Ragsdale Hall.

Miss Margaret Sammon told briefly of the growth and facilities of the library of East Carolina Teachers College which she described as, a thoroughly "usable library" of over 27,000 volumes.

Mrs. Herring discussed the third library in Greenville, that of the High school. With 600 students she pointed out, the high school library had an average daily circulation of 80, but during National Book Week, the High school circulation for one week reached 697 books.

In analyzing the reading habits of Greenville, Mrs. Herring showed that a very high percentage of the total circulation from the public library went into communities outside the city of Greenville and suggested that the city could easily become a great regional library center for all of the Greenville trading area if an adequate appropriation could be made by the County Commissioners.

Mrs. W. C. Vincent, Sheppard Memorial librarian, was recognized by the club in appreciation of the splendid work done by the public library here.

In closing, Mrs. Herring urged members to use their influence to help secure the passage of the state Aid Bill for public libraries, slated to come before the next legislature and to secure a more adequate local appropriation for the library.

At the close of the meeting the members examined the Book Week exhibits in the library, made by school children of the county, and the Bookmobile, a library on wheels designed to reach rural communities as a WPA project.

NAZI FEELING REFLECTED BY GERMAN PRESS

Plan to Settle Jews in Tanganyika Bitterly Opposed

AREA A FORMER GERMAN COLONY

Friendly Attitude Toward England After Munich Accord Considerably Changed

Berlin, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The German press recorded Nazi feeling against settlement of German Jews in British Tanganyika, former German East Africa, today as plans developed for continuing the anti-Jewish campaign through the winter.

The continued campaign, although mass arrests have been stopped, centers about Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

He is to address 1,000 of his colleagues at an opera house tonight on how to conduct an anti-Jewish drive, and a newspaper said 1,500 meetings were planned for Berlin alone this winter.

The subjects will be the newspaper said, "Eternal Jew Disturbs Peace of the World" and "one People, One Will, One Aim." The Nazi film "Jewry Without the Mask" will be shown at all meetings.

Authoritative quarters said a strict ban on all Jewish religious services, except marriage and burial rites, was the latest restriction, one which aroused much bitterness.

The absence of official reaction to the British plan for settlement of Jews in Tanganyika, other parts of British Africa, and Guiana was seen as a studied effort while the Nazis await the outcome of Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Paris, where he is to discuss defense and foreign policies with Premier Daladier.

The friendly attitude toward England that prevailed after the Munich accord has changed considerably since the Jewish drive began November 10.

There was talk that Chancellor Hitler would summon the Reichstag to protest against the proposed allotment of former German territory to Jews.

Consider Revival of East N. C. Exposition

In all probability, according to a statement given out by the officials of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce in Kinston, the annual Eastern Carolina Exposition will be revived for 1939.

The last one was held in 1931 but due to the depression at that time the annual event was discontinued, but during the recent months many inquiries have been made to the office in Kinston as to when and where this important Eastern Carolina event will be revived.

At the present time, according to Secretary N. G. Bartlett, some towns in the East are making plans to submit a bid at the Directors meeting in Kinston, November 29th provided it is decided to revive this annual occasion.

MURDER TRIAL NEARING CLOSE

Two Men and Woman Face First Degree Charges

Newton, N. C., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The defense rested shortly before noon today in the trial of three men and a woman charged with first degree murder in the slaying of R. O. Hawn, automobile salesman and former constable, in February, 1936.

Arguments began immediately with numerous attorneys to speak indications were the jury would not get the case before late in the day or early tomorrow.

Final witnesses included C. Mullins, Sarah Coleman, Oscar Adkins of the State Parole office, and others.

Mullins, whose brother Jack owns a resort near Lake Hickory, told the jury Sam Best and Mary Boyd, both of Hickory, went to his brother's place the night of February 17—believed the night when Hawn was killed—and remained there, from about 10:30 p. m. until around 2:30 the following morning. Adkins quoted Mose Brown of Burke county, a defendant, as saying he did not see Hawn at the house the night of February 17, but that Brown was there part of the night.

The state contends that Hawn was beaten at or near the rock house that night, and that his body

OPEN HEARING ON ELECTIONS

State Board Members Hear Arguments Over Contests

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The State Elections board heard oral arguments today on protests against absentee votes in Alexander and Tyrrell counties in the November 8 elections, and had several more hearings set for this afternoon.

Notice of appeals from findings of county boards had come in from Clay, Cherokee, Graham and Ashe counties. More than 50 persons, including Rep. R. L. Doughton of Laurel Springs and D. L. Ward of New Bern, State Democratic Secretary, attended the meeting.

The Elections board had planned to certify results of the November 8 voting, but found that it was meeting on the wrong day and postponed action until next Tuesday.

Martin Simpson of Elizabeth City appeared as counsel for R. L. Swain, Democrat, who trailed B. Ray Cohoon, Republican, by six votes in the usually Democratic county of Tyrrell. Simpson contended that the Tyrrell Elections board did not give Swain a proper hearing. He said the board declined to allow Swain to present witnesses, who were present and ready to testify, and that it would not allow presentation of any evidence. The board, Simpson said, proposed to examine Swain's witnesses in an executive meeting. S. S. Woodley also appeared for Swain.

W. L. Whitley of Plymouth appeared for Cohoon, presenting a number of affidavits concerning alleged irregularities.

County Auditor Attacks State Highway Attorney

With a sharp attack on Charles Ross, Highway Commission counsel, for being Pitt county's chief opposition in getting refund for its road building prior to State donations, J. H. Coward, Pitt county Auditor, gave another glance at Pitt county's financial set-up at the Greenville Rotary club last night to a full attendance of members who interrupted from time to time with questions.

As an answer to a question the speaker went more into detail about unpaid taxes in Pitt county, quoting figures to show collections have been good and by being good had helped lower the tax rate.

Pitt county is unique in its handling of ABC stores finances through the County auditor's office, Mr. Coward said. Pitt county has eight stores with Halifax the only other county with an equal number and by citing comparative figures Pitt's costs in handling ABC stores showed up very well.

Next Mr. Coward told of the

SUCCESSES BY CHINESE ARMY ARE REPORTED

Said to Have Advanced Within 3 Miles of Canton

COUNTER MOVES WERE EFFECTIVE

No Details Given Nor are Reports of Gains Confirmed From Other Sources

Shanghai, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Chinese reported today the vanguard of General Chiang Kai-Shek's south China army had advanced to within three miles of Canton, captured by the Japanese a month ago.

No details were given, nor were the reports confirmed from other sources. The Chinese have stated frequently during the last week that their forces were making a successful counter attack in South China, but the Japanese have insisted no fighting except by guerrilla bands.

The Chinese also reported successes in Central China, where they said their armies had halted the Japanese drive on Changsha, Hunan province capital.

They said they had pushed the invaders back across the river 40 miles north of Changsha and that two Chinese columns were advancing toward another point 40 miles farther to the north.

Another Chinese column was reported within three miles of a railroad town half way between Yochow and Hankow.

A Hongkong dispatch quoted British Ambassador, Sir Archibald Kerr who recently talked with Chiang Kai Shek in the interior, as saying he was convinced China's resistance was "undiminished" despite the loss of Hankow and Canton.

Stokes Man Faces Hit and Run Count

James Crandell, service station operator of Stokes, was arrested last night on charges of careless and reckless driving and also hit and run, after he allegedly ran into an automobile driven by Kelley Roe, electrician with the Greenville Water and Light Commission.

The wreck occurred about 8:40 o'clock last night on highway 11, at Fleming's crossroads. Miss Elba Andrews, riding with Roe, was taken to Pitt General hospital suffering lacerations of the chin and knee.

Corporal L. L. Jackson of the State Highway patrol, who investigated the wreck, said Crandell fled the scene after the collision, but was chased by two persons who got his license number. A check with the motor division in Raleigh revealed that the car was registered in the name of Alton Carson. Corporal Jackson went to the home of the owner and was told that the vehicle had been loaned to Crandell, who was located several hours after the collision.

EARTH COVERS TWO HAMLETS

Second Slide Buries All of 45 Dead; In Addition to Many Injured and Several Rescue Workers; 50 Laborers Swept Down River When House Slips Away

Castries, St. Lucia, British West Indies, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A series of rain-loosened avalanches today spread death and destruction in the interior of this island of the Windward group.

A mountainside eight miles long last night buried two hamlets and a number of inhabitants estimated to run into the hundreds.

Rescue workers laboring all night recovered 45 dead and 60 injured, but this morning a new avalanche buried all of the dead again, in addition to many injured and several rescue workers, in a fresh catastrophe.

Shortly after the first avalanche a gang of 50 laborers was swept into a river when a house in which they were sheltered slipped away along with an acre of land. Of the few saved, six died during the night.

Continuous rains of the past three weeks apparently had loosened tons of earth which caused the disaster.

There were reports, however, that the landslide might be of volcanic origin, since the meteorological station of neighboring Martinique issued a warning Saturday that disturbances could be expected Monday or Tuesday.

Some witnesses declared the steep mountain sides, considered among the most beautiful of the West Indies, were not slipping, but were cracking open with loud detonations each time a new landslide was started.

Commission Men Forced To Handle Stock Yards

Striking Handlers Watch White Collared Men at Work

Chicago, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Striking stock handlers watched white-collared commission men take over their jobs today in the sprawling Chicago stockyards.

The CIO handlers' strike not only halted trading in livestock, but also posed the problem of caring for more than 50,000 head of cattle, sheep and hogs in the pens.

Commission men, ordinarily engaged in buying and selling, undertook to feed, water and drive the livestock to the packing houses.

Under an agreement between the packing house union and the Chicago Livestock Exchange all animals must be cleared from pens by 5 p. m. today. The exchange said it would accept no additional shipments until the dispute is settled.

Middle West livestock centers were notified yesterday to halt shipments, but an estimated 25,000 head of livestock were already en route to the yards. After today shippers will send livestock at their own risk, the exchange said.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Helpful hints: Lemons soaked ten minutes in warm water will yield more juice than unsoaked lemons. To clean out a burnt pan, add one teaspoon of soda to each cup of water needed to fill the pan, cover and simmer twenty minutes. If some egg yolks get into whites while you're separating them, remove them with a piece of the shell. To keep a bowl steady while using a beater or mixer, set it on a cloth on the table.

If you want to make an inexpensive but effective lamp shade for the hobby or recreation room here is a suggestion: Cover heavy drapping paper with linsed oil. When well soaked in, place the shade and fit it over a wire frame, holding it in place with pins or paper clips.

The New Band
Since the new band received instruments a week or so ago, it has been decided to get enough additional instruments to increase the band to twenty pieces. An orchestra of ten pieces will be organized so that the band will be able to furnish music for any occasion.

From the men who compose the band and the way they are going in to practicing it is safe to say that Greenville is going to have one of the best bands and orchestras to be found in the state.

Further Mr. Coward answered Ross' accusations of Pitt of extravagance in highways with comparative figures to show that Pitt built roads more cheaply than the State—$7,000 per mile cheaper. The State spent $496,000 to build 14.3 miles, where the county spent $406,000 to build 14.4 miles from Bruce to Cox's Mill. Also Mr. Ross was accused by Coward of charging incorrectly items to Pitt's record and thus distorting the picture.

In concluding his remarks about the Highway debt problem, Mr. Coward exhorted his hearers to do something about getting the money out of the State because all that is gotten will have to be fought for every inch of the way. "On the basis of the treatment of Pitt county's claim, our Highway system is the greatest 'spoils system' in our state," Mr. Coward declared.

Visiting Rotarians last night were Frank W. Cox, H. Walton White, Robert H. Hackler, John C. Rodman, Jr., and T. W. Grissom, all of Washington, N. C., and guests of the club were: Edward Evans, George Wilkerson and Tom Wilkerson of Greenville.

E. G. Wilkerson was in charge of the program and John Winstead, club president, presided.

He said that no votes were challenged "until the count was over" and contended that each absentee vote for Cohoon was regular in every manner, except for four, which the county board threw out. He termed the contest "frivolous." No decisions were rendered, pending completion of arguments in all the appeals.

Prospector Hunts Ore At Night.
Lovelsock, Nev.—(AP)—A will of the wisp prospector, who prowls over the mountains at night in search of tungsten ore, has set old timers talking. But when you catch up with him there's nothing very mysterious about his activity—he's just a former Stanford engineering student putting science to use in prospecting. John Heizer carries an ultraviolet ray apparatus with him, says that tungsten ore is fluorescent and will glow when the ray falls on it. Barren rock gives no reaction. He says the ray has been used with good results in the big Nevada-Massachusetts tungsten mine, of which his father is manager.

HALF OF CARDS ALREADY SOLD

Officials Say Christmas Greeting Going Fast

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Nov. 22—With 80,000 of North Carolina's first "official" Christmas cards already sold—or more than half of the total number available—Garland McPherson of Rocky Mount, chairman of the Christmas Card Committee, today predicted that the entire issue of 150,000 greeting cards would be sold by December 1.

These Christmas cards, each bearing a North Carolina scene on the front, were printed and are being sold by the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Department of Conservation and Development.

Several large department stores have placed orders for the cards and one large merchandising organization sent one of its buyers all the way from New York to Rocky Mount to see the cards and place an order. New York buyers have already placed orders for 30,000 of these cards for stores in North Carolina and orders for thousands of additional cards are being received every week as a result of sales made by members of Junior Chamber of Commerce in every section of the state, McPherson said. Only the original press run of 150,000 cards will be printed this year, with the result that those who delay in ordering these cards are likely not to get them, McPherson indicated.

Six different cards—four in color and two in black and white—make up the 1938 set. Each contains an actual photograph of a typical North Carolina scene tipped on the front, with an appropriate Christmas greeting on the inside page. All are engraved on high-grade paper.

Gratified by the spontaneous reception given to the greeting cards this year by the people of the state, McPherson said the Junior Chamber of Commerce would probably present a larger variety of North Carolina greeting cards next year.

How's Your Health?
Diet for the New York Academy of Medicine
By Leo Goldston, M.D.
ON ANESTHESIA

Two greatest blessings which the scientists of the last century conferred on mankind are anesthesia and asepsis. Modern surgery is inconceivable without either of these.

From the patient's point of view anesthesia means freedom from pain. For the surgeon anesthesia provides relaxed muscles, thus enabling him to operate with the least difficulty. Picturing how surgeons operated in the days before anesthesia, our sympathies must be divided between the writhing pain-wracked patient, and the surgeon who was obliged to operate under such trying circumstances. Little wonder that in those days operations were either of a minor character, or were performed only a last resort.

To whom, however, do we owe the blessing of anesthesia? The Bostonians say to William Thomas Green Morton, but not all of the world agrees with this.

Jacob Bigelow of Boston, writing in 1870 to Sir James Young Simpson of Edinburgh, stated, "as far as we know he (Morton) is the only man without whom anesthetic inhalation might have remained unknown to the present day."

It is, however, impossible to accept Bigelow's judgment. In 1800 Sir Humphrey Davy experimented upon himself with nitrous oxide (laughing gas) and his experiences prompted him to say that "it may probably be used with advantage in surgical operations."

In 1844 Horace Wells, a dentist in Hartford, Conn., used nitrous oxide in dental operations. Unfortunately one of Wells' patients died while under anesthesia, and this so affected Wells that he gave up practice and later put an end to his own life.

Washington—It is easy to gain the impression that the government is staffed with bright-eyed young men from the colleges, economists from who knows where, and mental mastodons rescued from the swamps of sordid business.

But, as the ancient lay would have it, 'tain't necessarily so.
Cast an eye about Washington and you discover the halls of government alive with dozens and hundreds of minor and major officials who won their spurs in state and city government and were promoted into federal service partly for the better pay and the greater glory.

Secretaries From the Banks

Secretary of War Woodring is a former governor of Kansas and Secretary of Labor Perkins first grew famous as head of the New York state labor department.
Secretary Morgenthau's experience as New York state conservation commissioner might better have fitted him for secretary of the interior than secretary of the treasury, but he is at the latter job now.

Harry Hopkins, super-cabinet member, was director of the New York state relief administration before he came to the federal government to undertake more spending than ever was entrusted to one man in the history of the country.

The New Wage-Hour Man

Elmer F. Andrews, who succeeded Secretary Perkins in the New York labor department, now is Wage-Hour administrator. His deputy, Paul Sifton, was deputy New York state industrial commissioner. Dr. Thomas Parran, chief of the bureau of public health,

New York state health commis-

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, Nov. 22—Prosperity is still just around the corner—but the corner has been found. It's down in Moore county on Highway 22 and by turning it one can locate what is now left of once-thriving Prosperity.

Today it is consists of a ramshackle, dilapidated, abandoned postoffice building—looking for all the world like one of the structures built by Chick Sale's Specialist.

Nearby is the abandoned farm of the late John Brown, last postmaster at Prosperity, and just a whop and a holler down the road is the home of Susan Anne Sewell who has lived there for the past 35 years.

Still it's the only Prosperity to be found in the United States. (For what see Postoffice Guides, Rand McNally Atlases, and other geographical works.)

It's one of the world's real mysteries how anyone was ever optimistic enough to name the place Prosperity. Susan Anne Sewell says the settlement must be at least a century old, since its origin was already forgotten by the oldest settlers when she moved there 35 years ago.

She remembers Brown's store and several prosperous farms. Now all have passed away, around the corner of the dusty road, and the sign on the Postoffice, "Prosperity" seems to jeer mockingly at the cheerful pioneer who first put it there.

Visitors to New Bern can see the first Americaner's chair ever used in America. It's a garrote, which strangled its victims. It was found in the remaining wing of Royal Governor Tryon's palace.

Those who live on "wash-boardy" roads may not like them particularly, but perhaps they can gain some comfort from Chairman Frank Dunlap, of the State Highway Commission.

"When a complaining citizen tells me very vigorously that the road he lives on is wash-boardy, I always ask him if it is so all the way, said he. "Usually the answer is 'Yes, every foot of it.' Then I know his road is at least passable, because wash-boardy roads always are. It's the smooth ones just give way and get so muddy they have no bottom."

Superintendent of School Clyde
A. Erwin, fresh from traveling almost all over the state, told Mr.
Dunlap that he has never seen the roads of the state in as generally good condition.

The Highway chairman swelled with visible pride, but seemed slightly deflated when a caustic news put in:
"The weather's been the best you've seen for many months, too, isn't it Dr. Erwin?"

A recent issue of "Life" picture magazine, displays the 1939 automobile tags of all the state's—and the District of Columbia—in natural colors.

Incidentally it shows the number of cars per inhabitant in each state with North Carolina ranking 42nd, with one auto to every 7.7 persons.
Below this state are Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. California stands first with one car to every 2.8 people.

once was Massachusetts' commissioner of labor and industries.

Winifred Overholser, once state commissioner of mental diseases, to head St. Elizabeth's (veterans' commissioner, formerly was Kansas' highway director. His special assistant, Bertha Wetherpaid women in Washington, served several years as Kansas State accountant—as a Republican.

PHANTOMS TOP OFF FOR GAME

Light Drills Held In Preparation for Tilt With Washington

By "SMUT" BURKS Only light drills were held today by the G. H. S. Flying Phantoms in final preparation for tomorrow's game with the Pam-Pack of Washington High school. The game will be played in Washington and will be the final chapter of the locals' schedule.

There has been a keen rivalry between the two schools for many years and tomorrow's game will be no exception. The Pack has beaten the Phantoms in their last six encounters and the G-Men will be out to end this supremacy. Last year the Washingtonians invaded the Greensies' home grounds and handed a heavily-favored Phantom aggregation a humiliating 33-0 defeat.

Pirates To Play Norfolk Saturday

DUKE TO FACE 'DREAM' BACKS

Pitt's Famous Backfield To Be Intact Against Devils

Durham, Nov. 22—Pitt's "dream" backfield—intact once again after an injury siege that affected two of the principal members—will take a shot at Duke's uncrossed goal line in Duke stadium Saturday afternoon, and there are many of the football faithful, including the Panthers, themselves, who believe the Pitt quartet will accomplish what eight other Blue Devil opponents have been unable to do.

The "dream backfield," or Coach Jack Sutherland's delight, is composed of All-America Marshall Goldberg, Harold Stebbins, John Chikernoe, and Dick Cassano. The quartet was going great guns this fall—had led the Panthers to six successive triumphs—until Goldberg and Stebbins got hurt.

Then, with Goldberg on the sidelines after the first 16 minutes of the game and Stebbins ailing, Pitt was upset by Carnegie Tech in a thrilling 20-10 battle that saw an inspired Tech outfit haul down the Panthers from their place atop the national gridiron heap.

Goldberg couldn't play against Nebraska at Lincoln two weeks ago, although Stebbins was back in action, but the combination was back together again last Saturday against Penn State, and the dream boys warmed up impressively for their tussle with the "Seven Iron Dukes" by romping away to a 26-0 victory.

Against this versatile set of backfield performers, Duke will pit a well-knit forward wall that has held Blue Devil opponents to a net gain of 362 yards through the line in addition to keeping the Duke goal line unscathed.

Behind that line, Duke's none-too-potent offense has been able to function and to win ball games. But with the task of stopping Goldberg and his assistants as well as battling a Pitt line every bit as powerful as Duke's, it would appear that the cards might be stacked against the men of Wallace Wade in effort to close out an undefeated and untied season on Saturday.

WFC-DAVIDSON TILT THURSDAY

To Be Plenty of Personal Duels in Game At Charlotte

Wake Forest, Nov. 22—There'll be plenty of personal duels for the fans to witness Thursday in the Wake Forest-Davidson game in Charlotte. And, too, besides those drawing powers, there'll be more than the usual amount of thrilling moments in one game, for the spectators.

The gridiron feud between the Wildcats and Deacons is one of ancient existence—even older than the one between the Yokums and the Serages. It is a very "pekyolar" feud, too, because just when one or the other seems to have the stage set right for a "kill," something spectacular intervenes to save the day for the victim.

Coach Gene McEber of Davidson and Coach Peashead Walker of Wake Forest are a pair of sly and clever coaches. Both have worked hard with their charges, preparing for their annual battle, and have not overlooked the smallest detail. They haven't left a thing undone that might possibly turn the victory tide their way. But the worst part of it all is, they have no idea what part of their plannings will be blasted into smithereens.

Wake Forest has in Captain Wirtz, a fine performer to pit against Davidson's Bill Davis. They are rival quarterbacks and are performing against each other the second time. Last year Wirtz scored two of his team's three touchdowns in its 19-7 victory, and David tallied the lone 'Cat score. They were the two stars of that battle without doubt, and they again loom as the leading rival contenders.

But the Wildcats have a hard runner in Tubby Hand to pit against Davidson's Bill Davis. They are rival quarterbacks and are performing against each other the second time. Last year Wirtz scored two of his team's three touchdowns in its 19-7 victory, and David tallied the lone 'Cat score. They were the two stars of that battle without doubt, and they again loom as the leading rival contenders.

Although most of the students at East Carolina Teachers College will not be on hand for Saturday's game, a number of local citizens are expected to witness the game. It is a known fact that doctors and newspaper men will see the game. Contrary to belief, the physicians will not be on hand to treat the wounds of the injured, but merely to witness the contest. Coach Alexander has sent all of the county physicians a pass to the game.

Saturday's game will be the last of the season for the Pirates, and kickoff time, as usual, will be at 2 o'clock. Probably the only game being played in North Carolina Saturday that will parallel the local game will be the Duke-Pitt affair.

Roseville, Calif.—(AP)—Turkeys spend their early lives in tents, under the methods of Mrs. William Doyle, an experienced grower. Mrs. Doyle substituted tents for the wooden brooders customarily used and got excellent results.

Contest is Scheduled To Begin Here at 2 o'Clock

One of the toughest practice periods experienced this year by those fighting Pirates of East Carolina Teachers College was launched by Coach J. D. Alexander this afternoon as a preliminary to the tough and anticipated Saturday when the locals encounter the Norfolk Naval Base gridiron contingent.

Norfolk's hope for a victory rests in the weight of her men. Their heaviest player tips the scales at 238 pounds, while their lightest man weighs only 180 pounds. Contrasting the weight of the Middies with that of the Pirates, things look rather tough for the locals, in that the line average of the Pirates is about ten pounds less than the weight of Norfolk's lightest man.

Despite the gloom that comes on the heels of such an outlook, the Pirates have one decided advantage over their opponents. This advantage is in age. The Middies are somewhat aged, while members of the Pirate aggregation are rather young individuals. Besides not having to resort to the liniment bottle, the Pirates have also built up an abundant amount of playing skill in the games in which they have participated this season.

One particular change being made in Saturday's lineup will be found in the backfield division. Coach Alexander is going to shift Jack Mays, Jr., a guard, to the backfield "midget," as Jack is known to his mates, has plenty of weight and has shown his ability to play in the backfield. In case you've forgotten, Jack was a mainstay on the Greenville high school football team last season.

Greenville colored highs boast of having the fastest backfield in Eastern Carolina, with a line that is well above par. Washington boasts of a strong forward wall and the best scoring team that has been produced there in many moons.

These two players will be playing their last game of high school football: George Mays, co-captain, a 19-second player, who will have charge of the backfield; Tom Foreman at left end, who will have charge of the line. These players vow to send the Beaufort county team back home with a good spanking.
