WHENCE CAME THANKSGIVING - The President of the United States and the Governors of the various states usually name the last Thursday in November Thanksgiving Day. In the summer of 1621, the Pilgrim Fathers, after landing at Plymouth had a very poor harvest. Although in great need, after getting the harvest in, they gathered together and thanked God for what He had given them.

Thanksgiving Day was annually recommended by Congress during the Revolutionary War, but was discontinued from 1784 to 1789, when Congress recommended Washington to name a day of Thanksgiving for the adoption of the Constitution. In 1795 President Washington appointed a Thanksgiving Day upon the suppression of insurrection. In 1815 President Madison, upon recommendation from Congress, named a Thanksgiving Day in honor of peace. In 1863 and 1864 President Lincoln named a Thanksgiving Day and recommended that these be held annually. Since then Thanksgiving Day has been an annual event.

OUR THANKSGIVING DAY

When the Golden Gate is in view once more,
When we gaze again on that lovely shore;

When the Eagle gives out with the money we've saved,
When we get the things we've always craved;

When thirty days leave is all our own,
When we see the place we call our home;

When we take our gal stepping with a sock full of pay,
That will be OUR THANKSGIVING DAY.
